- (b) whether the Government have received a report regarding this lathi charge and instituted an enquiry into this matter if not, why not?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) On the morning of the 19th May, 1937, a large number of persons, including the students on strike and several outsiders, made an attempt to enter forcibly the premises of the Khalsa College and later resorted to picketing for the purpose of obstructing non-resident students who wanted to attend the College. The picketers closed the entrance to the College completely, refused to pay any heed to the repeated requests of the Principal and the officer in charge of the small police guard to permit non-resident students to enter the College, and assumed a very defiant attitude. Eventually at the request of the Principal, the police cleared a passage to the College by using the minimum force necessary for the purpose. It was in these circumstances that some of the students received minor injuries. No indiscriminate lathi charge was made by the police. Mr. G. Durrant was the Superintendent of Police at the time and Mr. A. J. V. Saunders, Deputy Superintendent of Police, was in charge of the police guard.

(b) Yes. On the facts stated in (a) Government were satisfied that no special enquiry into the matter was called for.

Sardar Lal Singh : Was this so-called lathi charge indulged under the instructions of the Principal or by the Police of its own accord?

Premier : The Principal requested the Police to clear up the passage.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I ask the Honourable the Premier whether he is prepared to lay on the table the report of the enquiry instituted into this question?

Premier : No, Sir.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I ask the Honourable the Premier the reason why he is not prepared to do so?

Premier : Because it is not in my possession.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I ask him whether, as head of the department which is being questioned, the document cannot come into his possession?

Premier : It can, but I do not think it is necessary in view of my answer to the question placed on the table of the House.

Diwan Chaman Lall : I did not quite catch what the Honourable Premier said.

Premier : I can get the document, but in view of the answer given to this question by me in this House, I do not consider it necessary that it should be laid on the table.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Is the Honourable the Premier prepared to institute an impartial enquiry into this question?

Premier : No further enquiry is contemplated.

Diwan Chaman Lal : Is the Honourable the Premier prepared to regard this matter as fit enough for an independent enquiry ?

Premier : I consider the matter as closed.

*164. Cancelled.

WHITE AND BLACK LISTS MAINTAINED BY GOVERNMENT.

*165. Malik Barkat Ali : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the considerations on which newspapers are taken on the white or the black list of the newspaper ;
- (b) whether circulation of the newspaper alone is the consideration for Government's decision in the matter or whether other considerations, for example the policy pursued by the paper, are also taken into account ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) and (b). No Black list is maintained. What is maintained is a list of newspapers and periodicals approved by Government as media for official notices and advertisements. The principal considerations which govern the preparation of the list are—

- (1) the period for which a newspaper has been in existence ;
- (2) its circulation ; and
- (3) public interest.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to define " public interest " in this respect ?

Premier : I am afraid it is a very wide question the honourable member has asked.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : I will narrow down my question. What are the considerations really which lead to the inclusion or exclusion of certain papers from the white lists ?

Premier : I have given the three main considerations.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : The third one is not understandable.

Premier : As I have said already, it is a very wide question. I can give him one consideration, and that is that the paper which circulates in a particular part of the province to which a case relates, naturally would get preference so that the people thereabout may know what the court desires.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Is the Honourable the Premier aware that the most widely circulated papers are not on the white list ?

Premier : I have no such information.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will he kindly collect facts on that question ?

Premier : If the honourable member gives me notice.

WHITE LISTS MAINTAINED BY GOVERNMENT.

166. Malik Barkat Ali: Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the white list approved by Government is sent for information to Heads of Departments;
- (b) whether the Heads of Departments forward this white lists, sent to them by Government, intact to their subordinates or whether they prepare another white list out of that list and send that list so prepared by them to their subordinates?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan: (a) Yes.

(b) The Heads of Departments generally circulate to their subordinates the list approved by Government. The High Court, however, circulates a separate list of its own which is based on the Government list.

PRIMARY SCHOOLS IN ILAQA BEIT.

167. Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan: Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of primary schools in ilaga Beit in the Ludhiana district;
- (b) the number and the names of places in the said ilaga where primary schools were at some time opened and where these schools have now been closed, and also the number and the names of places in ilaga Beit where primary schools have now been opened;
- (c) whether the Honourable Minister intends to push the scheme of spreading education in this ilaga at an early date?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye:

(a) 15 Primary schools.

8 branch schools.

- (b) 1. District Board Primary, Punjgarain .. Closed,—vide District Board resolution No. 37, dated 26th July, 1935.
2. District Board Primary, Nurpur Jhugian. Ditto.
3. District Board Primary, Malakpur Beit Ditto.
4. District Board Primary, Marewal .. Ditto.
5. District Board Primary, Kaka Dhaura Ditto.
6. Branch School, Dhanasu .. Ditto.
7. Branch School, Abbu Pura .. Closed,—vide District Board resolution No. 41, dated 16th February 1935.

1. District Board Primary, Panjgarain .. Reopened in 1936.
2. District Board Primary, Nutpur Jhan- Ditto.
gian.
3. District Board Primary Branch School, Malak- Ditto. pur Beit.

(c) The matter will be brought to the notice of the Divisional Inspector of Schools, Jullundur division, and the District Board, Ludhiana.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Is not the number of primary schools inadequate, and does the Honourable Minister intend to issue instructions to the District Board, Ludhiana ?

Minister : Government cannot issue any instructions in this matter, only the attention of the District Board can be drawn to it.

DISTRICT MAGISTRATE AND SUPERINTENDENT, POLICE, LUDHIANA.

168. Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of occasions on which the present District Magistrate and the Superintendent, Police, Ludhiana, encamped together at one and the same place during their tour ;
- (b) the object of their joint visits to any particular place in the district ;
- (c) whether Government require these officers to keep a regular record of their tour programme and the work done by them during their tours in the district ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) On about sixteen occasions during the last twelve months.

(b) If the honourable member will mention the particular place or places to which he refers, I will endeavour to answer his question. District officers are expected to visit every part of their districts, so far as it is possible for them to do so.

(c) There is no rule making it obligatory for Deputy Commissioners and Superintendents of Police to maintain a diary showing the work done by them on tour, but they are required to submit periodical returns showing the amount of touring and in the case of police officers the inspections done by them.

Sardar Gopal Singh : Do not the Government appreciate these joint visits ?

Premier : It is left to the discretion of the local officers.

ANTI-CORRUPTION, LEAGUE, LUDHIANA.

169. Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether any anti-corruption league was formed in Ludhiana by the present District Magistrate and the Superintendent, Police ; if so, when ;
- (b) the names of the members of the anti-corruption league ;

[Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan.]

- (c) the number of complaints received by it ;
 (d) any enquiries made by the anti-corruption league with the result of those enquiries ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) No.
 (b), (c) and (d) Do not arise.

CONSTRUCTIONS IN BAGH RAMANAND, AMRITSAR.

170. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that suspension orders were issued by the Deputy Commissioner, Amritsar, prohibiting constructions in Bagh Ramanand, Amritsar ;
 (b) the date of this order ;
 (c) whether he is aware of the fact that some of the residents of Amritsar who had purchased land in Bagh Ramanand had to bear heavy losses on account of the suspension order which issued very late ;
 (d) if so, what action he proposes to take to redress this grievance ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hyat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes.

(b) 26th October 1936.

(c) A few persons who bought plots have laid the foundations of their houses and to that extent have suffered loss.

(d) The remedy lies in the hands of the Municipal Committee which has to put up a proper building scheme to Government for sanction under section 192 of the Punjab Municipal Act, 1911.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : On what date did the Municipality permit by way of a resolution the building on these areas ?

Minister : I am afraid I cannot give the date without proper notice.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Is the Honourable Minister aware of the fact that the Deputy Commissioner called upon the proprietors of this area to deposit a certain amount of money as on payment of that amount they would be allowed to build.

Minister : I have no information on that subject. There is a big depression and no building can be erected before the depression is filled up. There can be no drainage either under the present circumstances.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : When did the Commissioner ask the Municipal Committee to submit a building scheme of this area ?

Minister : I have no information on that subject, but can enquire if notice is given.

REMISSION OF REVENUE IN SERAI KHURJA, DISTRICT GURGAON.

171. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether he has received a representation from the peasants of village Sarai Khurja, Talsil Ballabgarh, District Gurgaon, about the condition of crops there and praying remission of revenue thereon ;

(b) if so, what Government propose to do in the matter ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Yes.

(b) It has been decided not to collect anything out of the suspended land revenue demand of this village and to remit Rs. 186 out of the demand for kharif 1932.

DAMAGE TO RABI CROPS IN HOSHIARPUR DISTRICT.

172. Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) the extent to which the rabi crops for this year have been damaged in the Hoshiarpur district ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that this year the gram crop in the Hoshiarpur district has been totally damaged ;
- (c) the amount of remission granted in that district in regard to wheat and gram crops ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) The honourable member's attention is invited to the answer given to part (b) of question No. 53¹.

(b) No.

(c) Rs. 591.

TACCAVI LOANS.

173. Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state the amount of taccavi loans that have been recently granted to the zamindars in the various districts of the Punjab ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : The honourable member's question is vague and unless the period for which information is asked for is definitely stated it is not possible to give an answer.

DAMAGE TO MANGO CROP IN MUZAFFARGARH DISTRICT.

174. Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the mango crop in Bhutapur and Jalwahan villages, district Muzaffargarh, has been totally damaged ; if so, the amount of remission proposed to be granted to cultivators of the said villages ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : The reply to the first part of the question is no ; the second does not, therefore, arise.

COMPLAINTS AGAINST WATER SUPPLY.

175. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state whether he has received a representation, dated the 20th May, 1937, re complaints against water supply from the residents of chak Nos. 137, 138, 139 and 140-G. B., tahsil Samundri, district Lyallpur, through Sardar Sant Singh, Secretary, Zamindars Committee, if so, what action Government propose to take in the matter?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : Reply to the first part is in the affirmative. As regards the second part, the matter is still under investigation, but temporary relief has been given for the current crop.

SARDAR ATMA SINGH, PRESIDENT, MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, SHEIKHUPURA.

176. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether his attention has been drawn to the remarks passed by Lala Sant Ram, Special Magistrate, against a sub-inspector of police in the case of Sardar Atma Singh, President, Sheikhpura Municipality; if so, what action does Government propose to take against the police officer concerned?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : The answer to the first part of the question is in the affirmative. It is understood that Sardar Atma Singh has since applied to the magistrate under section 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, praying him to make a complaint against the sub-inspector under section 211 and other sections of the Indian Penal Code. The matter is thus sub judice, and the honourable member will not expect me to answer questions regarding it.

ZAMINDARS OF AMBALA DIVISION IN PUNJAB EDUCATIONAL SERVICE.

177. Chaudhri Sumer Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state—

- (a) the number, if any, of the Muslim zamindars of the Ambala Division employed at present in the Punjab Educational Service;
- (b) if no Muslim zamindar of the Ambala Division is at present employed in the Punjab Educational Service, reasons for the same;
- (c) the number of Hindu zamindars of the Ambala Division at present employed in the Punjab Educational Service.
- (d) if no Hindu zamindar of the Ambala Division is at present employed in the Punjab Educational Service, the reasons for the same?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) Two.

(b) Does not arise.

(c) One.

(d) Does not arise.

Chaudhri Sumer Singh : Will he please give the particulars as regards (c) ?

Minister : I am not in a position to give particulars, but my definite information is that one zamindar is at present employed.

Chaudhri Sumer Singh : I think he is not a zamindar.

Minister : Then the honourable member is giving information, he is not seeking information.

DEBTS DUE TO CO-OPERATIVE BANKS.

178. Chaudhri Sumer Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Development be pleased to state whether any measures are being adopted by the Government to relieve the poor people of the extreme burden of the heavy debts due to co-operative banks in the province; if not, why not ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : The honourable member's attention is invited to the reply given to part (b) of question No. *81¹ in the present session of the Assembly.

EXODUS TO SIMLA.

179. Chaudhri Sumer Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Finance please state the average expenditure incurred annually during the last five years by the Government on account of exodus to Simla ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : On an average for the last five years the annual expenditure on the move of officers and establishment required to accompany Government to Simla was Rs. 1,30,552.

REPRESENTATIONS FROM THE PUNJAB SHAREHOLDERS ASSOCIATION.

180. Diwan Chaman Lal : Will the Honourable Minister for Development be pleased to state—

- (a) whether he has recently received any representations from the Punjab Shareholders' Association ;
- (b) what action, if any, has been taken by the Government on these representations ;
- (c) whether he has obtained legal opinion regarding the applicability of the Gambling Act (iii) of 1867 to corporations, firms or individuals dealing in stocks and shares in a forward business ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a) Yes.

(b) The matter is under examination.

(c) No.

UNSTARRED QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

PERMISSIONS REGARDING CONSTRUCTIONS GRANTED BY THE MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, BHIWANI.

96. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state the number of cases—

- (a) in which the present Municipal Committee of Bhiwani granted permissions regarding constructions which contravened the entries in the town map ;
- (b) in which the Deputy Commissioner ordered the Committee to alter its decisions and to fight the cases in civil court ;
- (c) in which the decision of the courts was according to the view taken by the Deputy Commissioner?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) 38.

(b) None.

(c) In ten cases the Deputy Commissioner disagreed with the decisions of the Municipal Committee and consequently civil suits in respect of these were defended. Out of these only three have been decided ; one was compromised and in two the decisions were against the view taken by the Deputy Commissioner.

LITIGATION IN MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, BHIWANI.

97. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state the amount of expenditure, if any, which the present Municipal Committee of Bhiwani has incurred for the litigation which the Committee had to undertake under the orders of the Deputy Commissioner in respect of cases in which those orders were found to be wrong in the light of the decisions of the courts ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : The honourable member's attention is invited to the answer given to question No. 96 (above).

In the three decided cases the expenditure incurred is Rs. 143-2-8.

MEMBERSHIP OF MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, BHIWANI.

98. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the Municipal Committee of Bhiwani by its resolution No. 9 of 29th May, 1936, had requested the Government to increase the strength of its membership from 16 to 25 in view of the population and importance of the Bhiwani town ;
- (b) the date on which the resolution of the Committee was forwarded to the Government by the Deputy Commissioner with the decision which the Government has taken in the matter?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes.

(b) 1st August, 1936. Government did not agree to the proposal.

RURAL RECONSTRUCTION.

99. Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Development be pleased to state—

- (a) the year in which the department of Rural Reconstruction was started in the Punjab by the Government and at whose instance it was started ;
- (b) the number of officers and the strength of the subordinate staff employed in this department and the total expenditure so far expended on it with the sources of income from which this expenditure is met ;
- (c) whether any grant of land; inam, jagir, title or special promotions have been awarded to the workers or helpers of this department ; if so, a statement showing detailed information in this behalf may be laid on the table of the House?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a) There is no department of rural reconstruction. A Commissioner, Rural Reconstruction, was appointed in October, 1933. The honourable member's attention is invited to a Press communiqué, dated the 24th February, 1934. Although the appointment was made by Government at their own instance the suggestion was also made when a deputation of the leading zamindars of the province waited upon His Excellency the Governor in August 1933. They urged, among other schemes, that an officer be placed on special duty to organize the work of rural reconstruction.

(b) A statement is laid on the table. The cost is met from the general revenue of the province.

(c) No.

Statement showing the number of officers and the strength of the subordinate staff employed in the office of the Commissioner, Rural Reconstruction and the total expenditure incurred so far.

UNTRAINED TEACHERS IN THE MUNICIPAL BOARD PRIMARY SCHOOLS.

100. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of municipalities in the province who have in the staff employed by them for their primary schools more than one-fifth untrained teachers on 31st March, 1937 ;
- (b) whether Government intends to take some action in the matter of the appointment of trained teachers through District Inspectors of Schools in consultation with whom the appointments of teachers are made for the Board Schools?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : I regret that the answer to this question is not yet ready.

STANDARD OF EDUCATION IN MEDICINE FOR HAKIMS, VAIDS, ETC.

101. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state—

- (a) whether there are any educational qualifications prescribed, the attainment of which may be necessary before one could practise any system of medicine other than the allopathic as daily recognised medical practitioners ;
- (b) if so, whether the Government propose to prescribe some standard of education in medicine for hakims, homœopathics or vaids?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) No.

(b) There is no intention of doing so at present.

BOYS OF SCHOOL-GOING AGE IN SCHOOLS IN RURAL AND URBAN AREAS.

102. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state community-wise :—

- (a) the percentages of boys of school-going age enrolled on 31st March, 1937 in such recognised schools in the rural and urban areas of the province as enforce free and compulsory primary education ;
- (b) whether Government proposes to take action to raise these percentages ; if so, what?

The Honourable Mian Adbul Haye : I regret that the answer to this question is not yet ready.

BUILDINGS OWNED AND RENTED BY THE MUNICIPALITIES OF THE PROVINCE FOR PRIMARY SCHOOLS.

103. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be please to state—

- (a) the number of school buildings owned and rented respectively for primary schools at present by various municipalities in the Punjab ;

(b) whether these buildings are inspected and recommended by Public Health Officers as fit for habitation by school children ;

(c) if so, in how many cases action was taken during the last financial year by various municipalities on reports to the contrary?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : I regret that the answer to this question is not yet ready.

RULES FOR ISSUE AND RETURN OF MUNICIPALITY AND DISTRICT BOARD LIBRARY BOOKS.

104. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state—

(a) the number of municipalities and district boards on 31st March, 1937, having libraries recognised and aided by the Government ;

(b) the number of those among the libraries mentioned in (a) above which have rules and regulations for the issue and return of books?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : I regret that the answer to this question is not yet ready.

MONEY SUITS AND DEBT CONCILIATION BOARDS.

105. Khan Sahib Chaudhri Fazal Din : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to give the number of money suits, parties to which belonged to the rural areas, that were filed separately in the financial year 1934-35 and 1936-37 in the courts situated within the jurisdiction of the various Debt Conciliation boards?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat Khan : This information could not be collected without an expenditure of time and labour out of all proportion to the results to be secured.

PROPERTY INVESTED BY GOVERNMENT SERVANTS WITH THE OFFICIAL TRUSTEE OR ADMINISTRATOR GENERAL OF WILLS AND ESTATES.

106. Rai Sahib Lala Atma Ram : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) the approximate value of property and money invested respectively by Government servants and others with the Official Trustee or Administrator-General of Wills and Estates in the Punjab during each of the last five years ;

(b) Whether Government propose to take such action as they may deem necessary in the matter of giving wider publicity of his functions in the Punjab?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a)—

| | Rs. |
|--------------|----------|
| 1932 | 1,44,000 |
| 1933 | 2,06,000 |
| 1934 | 2,27,000 |
| 1935 | 2,04,000 |
| 1936 | 3,37,000 |

The figures for 1934 include a sum of Rs. 30,000 invested by a Government servant. In no other case were funds or property deposited by Government servants.

(b) Between 1924 and 1934 it was the practice to publish notices periodically in the newspapers, advertising the facilities offered by the Official Trustee's office. This practice was discontinued in 1935 as the amount of business brought by the advertisements did not appear to be commensurate with the expenditure.

CONSOLIDATION OF HOLDINGS IN VILLAGES.

107. Rai Sahib Lala Atma Ram : Will the Honourable Minister for Development be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of villages in the province in which consolidation of holdings has been effected so far through the agency of the Co-operative Department, Punjab, or otherwise;
- (b) the number of villages among those mentioned in (a) in which arrangements have been made for the reservation of suitable pasture grounds and village roads, respectively?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a) 1,462.

- (b) (i) 110 (pasture grounds).
- (ii) 502 (village roads).

PASTURE LANDS.

108. Rai Sahib Lala Atma Ram : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that old pasture grounds are now being utilized for purposes other than they were meant for in several villages in the various districts of the province causing scarcity of food for cattle;
- (b) if so, whether the Government proposes to take any action in the matter?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Government is not aware of it.

(b) Does not arise. The honourable member's attention is, however, invited to the answer given to question No. 145* in February, 1927.

DEDICATED BULLS.

109. Rai Sahib Lala Atma Ram : Will the Honourable Minister for Development be pleased to state the number of dedicated bulls approved and branded by the Veterinary Department during the last six months ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : 822 privately owned bulls were approved by the Civil Veterinary Department for breeding purposes in the province during the half year from October 1st, 1936 to March 31st, 1937.

PEDIGREE BULLS.

110. Rai Sahib Lala Atma Ram : Will the Honourable Minister for Development be pleased to state the number of Veterinary Hospitals in which pedigree bulls are at present being maintained by local bodies and charitably minded persons, respectively?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : No pedigree bulls are being maintained in Veterinary Hospitals either by local bodies or by charitably minded persons.

PASTURE GROUNDS MAINTAINED BY DISTRICT BOARDS AND MUNICIPALITIES.

111. Rai Sahib Lala Atma Ram : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state the names of municipalities and district boards which are maintaining at present their own pasture grounds or those donated by charitably-minded persons within their jurisdictions ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : Only the Municipal Committees of Sirsa and Dharamsala are maintaining their own pasture grounds. In Dalhousie Municipality pasturing is allowed in certain Government forests under the control of the Municipal Committee.

ESSAY COMPETITIONS HELD BY THE COMMISSIONER, RURAL RECONSTRUCTION.

112. Rai Sahib Lala Atma Ram : Will the Honourable Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) the names of Vernaculars in which essay competitions were held by the Commissioner, Rural Reconstruction, Punjab, during the last 18 months ;

(b) the number of prize winners therein community-wise (Hindus, Muslims, Christians and Sikhs)?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a) Urdu, Hindi and Punjabi.

| | | | | | |
|-----|-----------------|----|----|----|------|
| (b) | (i) Hindus | .. | .. | .. | 10 |
| | (ii) Muslims | .. | .. | .. | 82 |
| | (iii) Sikhs | .. | .. | .. | 7 |
| | (iv) Christians | .. | .. | .. | Nil. |

DETERMINATION OF THE SENIORITY OF GOVERNMENT SERVANTS.

113. Rai Sahib Lala Atma Ram : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that in some departments of Government seniority of Government servants is determined by the dates of their confirmation and in others by the dates of their appointment ;
- (b) if so, whether Government proposes to bring about uniformity of practice in the matter of determining the seniority of Government servants?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Yes.

(b) Government considered this question some few years ago but found it impracticable to introduce a uniform rule because methods of recruitment vary considerably in different services.

UNEMPLOYMENT AND RETENTION OF OLD GOVERNMENT SERVANTS IN SERVICE.

114. Rai Sahib Lala Atma Ram : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is fact that normally the retiring age for Government servants is 55 years ;
- (b) whether it is also a fact that in some departments of the Punjab Government persons above 55 years of age are still in service?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : I regret that the answer to this question is not yet ready.

PERSONAL FILES OF GOVERNMENT SERVANTS.

115. Rai Sahib Lala Atma Ram : Will the Honourable Premier kindly state—

- (a) whether in some departments of the Government personal files of Government servants are shown to them while in others they are not shown to them ;
- (b) if so, whether Government propose to adopt a uniform practice in the matter?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Yes.

(b) The question whether it is feasible to have a uniform practice in the various departments is being examined by Government.

ELECTIVE SUBJECT FOR F. A.

116. Rai Sahib Lala Atma Ram : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that Economics, an elective subject for the intermediate examination, is not taught in the F. A. classes of any of the Government colleges in the Punjab ;
- (b) whether Geography was approved as an elective subject for F. A. some years after Economics ;
- (c) whether Geography has been introduced in several of the Government colleges in the F. A. classes ;

- (d) if so, why arrangements have not been made for the teaching of Economics in the intermediate department of Government colleges in the Punjab?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) to (c) Yes ;

(d) Financial considerations prevent Government from making provision for the teaching of all elective subjects in Government colleges. Further Economics being a subject which requires a sound foundation knowledge of history, geography and mathematics it is academically unsound to introduce it at the intermediate stage.

ADMISSION OF MEMBERS OF DEPRESSED CLASSES INTO SENIOR VERNAacular AND JUNIOR VERNACULAR CLASSES.

117. Rai Sahib Lala Atma Ram : Will the Honourable Minister for Education please state—

- (a) the number of Hindus, Sikhs, Christians, members of depressed classes and Muslims recommended by each of the Divisional Inspectors of Schools for admission to the Senior Vernacular and Junior Vernacular classes this year ;
- (b) the number of Hindus, Sikhs, Christians, members of depressed classes and Muslims admitted by the head masters of each of the three Normal Schools in the province?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : I regret that the answer to this question is not yet ready.

COMMUNAL REPRESENTATION AMONG BOYS ADMITTED TO THE NORMAL SCHOOLS.

118. Rai Sahib Lala Atma Ram : Will the Honourable Minister for Education kindly state—

- (a) the number of Normal Schools for boys in the Punjab ;
- (b) the number of head masters of these schools, community-wise and the number community-wise of students admitted in these schools in 1986 and 1987?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : I regret that the answer to this question is not yet ready.

PRINCIPLES OF PROMOTIONS TO THE POSTS OF SENIOR CLERKS AND ASSISTANTS IN THE PUNJAB CIVIL SECRETARIAT.

119. Rai Sahib Lala Atam Ram : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the principles of promotions to the posts of senior clerks and Assistants in the Punjab Civil Secretariat ;
- (b) whether these principles are followed by the other departments ;
- (c) if not, whether Government proposes to direct that the rules of promotion shall be the same for the clerical service in all the departments of the Punjab Government?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) The honourable member is referred to rules 6 (1) (b) (2) and 7 (3) of the Punjab Civil Secretariat Rules, a copy of which is placed on the table. All promotions are made strictly by 'selection.' The educational qualification for the posts of Senior clerk and Assistant is a 'Degree' and the practice in the Civil Secretariat has been to give accelerated promotion to graduates.

(b) and (c) Each office has its own rules and the educational and other qualifications required for various posts are not necessarily the same. Consequently the need for uniformity does not arise.

Extracts from the Punjab Civil Secretariat Rules.

6. (1) No person shall be appointed to the service unless in the case of appointment to the post of—

(b) Assistant and Senior or Junior translator, he is a graduate of a recognised university, or has passed the European High School or Senior Oxford or Cambridge Local examination ;

(2) No person who is not already in Government service shall be appointed to the post of Senior Clerk unless he is a graduate of a recognised university or has passed the European High School or Senior Oxford or Cambridge local examination.

7. (3) Appointment to any post by the promotion of officials already in the service or by the transfer of officials employed in Government departments other than the Civil Secretariat shall be made strictly by selection, and no official shall have any claim to such appointment as of right.

DISTRICT INSPECTORS OF SCHOOLS AND SENIOR ANGLO-VERNACULAR AND B.T. HINDU AGRICULTURISTS.

120. Rai Sahib Lala Atma Ram : Will the Honourable Minister for Education kindly state—

(a) the number of Senior-Anglo Vernacular and B. T. Hindu agriculturists on the waiting list maintained by each of the Divisional Inspectors of Schools in the province ;

(b) the number of Hindu agriculturists appointed as teachers in Government Schools and as Assistant District Inspector of Schools in the province during the last three years ;

(c) the number of Hindu non-agriculturists appointed to the posts mentioned in (b) above ;

(d) what steps Government proposes to take to improve the representation of Hindu agriculturists in the subordinate educational service?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) I regret that the answer to this part of the question is not ready.

(b) Eight.

(c) Fourteen.

(d) The Government is already doing its best to improve the representation of agriculturists in the S. E. S.

CONCESSION TO AUCTION PURCHASERS IN THE NILI BAR COLONY.

121. Sardar Ajit Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether he is aware of the fact that under the orders of the Government the forfeited lands of the auction purchasers in the Nili Bar Colony were re-allotted to some of them and not to all of the purchasers to the extent to which they were entitled according to the amount actually paid by them;

- (b) if so, what action is proposed to be taken to redress the grievances of those who were similarly entitled to such re-allotment but were deprived of this concession?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Yes. Under the conditions of sale if a purchaser make default in payment of any sums due, the sale is liable to be rescinded and land resumed. This was done in the case of defaulting auction purchasers in the Colony. In order, however to mitigate the hardship involved in confiscations on a large scale during the period of depression, Government decided, as an act of grace, to re-grant the area actually paid for on account of the principal up to the nearest killa. The concession was subject inter alia to one important condition that the land originally purchased must not have been re-sold or re-allotted permanently.

There were some purchasers who came under the latter class of cases.

- (b) None.

EMPLOYEES IN THE IRRIGATION DEPARTMENT.

122. Sayad Mubarak Ali Shah : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of employees in the Irrigation Department throughout the province who were retrenched during the years 1929-34 ;
- (b) the proportion of various communities among the retrenched hands above mentioned?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : The information is not available and its collection would involve an expenditure of time and labour out of all proportion to the value of the information when collected.

RECRUITMENT IN CONNECTION WITH HAVELI PROJECT SCHEME.

123. Sayad Mubarak Ali Shah : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of men recruited communitywise in connection with the Haveli Project Scheme since April 1937 ;
- (b) whether the principle of communal representation was observed in this recruitment?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) The number of men recruited community-wise in connection with the Haveli Project since April 1937 is as below :—

| Class of Establishments. | | | | Muslims | Hindus. | Sikhs. |
|--------------------------|----|----|----|---------|---------|--------|
| Subordinates | .. | .. | .. | 4 | 2 | 1 |
| Draftsmen | .. | .. | .. | 2 | 1 | 1 |
| Clerks | .. | .. | .. | 8 | 4 | 2 |
| Total | | | | 14 | 7 | 4 |

- (b) Yes.

CONTRACTORS FOR THE HAVELI PROJECT.

124. Sayad Mubarik Ali Shah : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of contractors community-wise who gave tenders for the contracts recently given in connexion with the Haveli Project ;
- (b) the names and the communities of the contractors to whom these contracts have been given ;
- (c) the actual terms offered by the contractors to whom these contracts have been given ;
- (d) the lowest and the highest terms offered by contractors in this connexion?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia :

Contract for Brick Burning at Trimmu.

- (a) Hindus 44
- Muhammadans 5
- Sikhs 13
- (b) Malak Ram and Karam Chand, Hindus.
- (c) Rates offered by these Contractors were—

VOTERS BELONGING TO BURIA IN THE AMBALA DISTRICT.

125. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that Buria in the Ambala district was announced as one of the polling stations for the Rural General Constituency for election to the Punjab Legislative Assembly and that votes were to be recorded on 23rd January, 1987 ;

- (b) whether it is a fact that the voters belonging to Buria were about 150 in number ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that no arrangements were made for polling at Buria on 23rd January, 1937 ;
- (d) whether voters belonging to Buria had to go to Dadupur at a distance of about six miles to record their votes on 26th January, 1937 ; if so, the reasons for the same?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Yes.

(b) The voters of the Rural General Constituency residing in Buria were 150 in number.

(c) No.

(d) The General voters of Buria were assigned to the polling station at Dadupur Chhaoni, which is only about four miles from Buria, and their polling day was January 26th. Administrative reasons such as those of geography and the numbers of voters of the various communities in the area made it desirable that all the General voters of Kharwan Zail, in which Buria is situated, should be polled at Dadupur Chhaoni on January 26th, and that the polling stations at Buria should be reserved for voters of other areas and constituencies on January 23rd.

DEMANDS FOR GRANTS.

Finance Minister (The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal) : I have to intimate that the Government's Demands for grants are made on the recommendations of His Excellency the Governor.

LAND REVENUE.

Finance Minister (The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal) : I beg to move—

That a sum not exceeding Rs. 40,00,600 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1938, in respect of Land Revenue.

Mr. Speaker : Motion moved—

That a sum not exceeding Rs. 40,00,600 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1938, in respect of Land Revenue.

Point of order re Order of Reduction motions.

Diwan Chaman Lal : May I with your permission raise for the benefit of honourable members on this side of the House a point which might clarify the procedure that is likely to be adopted. I would request you to be kind enough to give your ruling in regard to the point that I am about to raise before you. The procedure, as I take it, in the central legislature is that when a bigger reduction is moved, that takes precedence over the lesser reduction in any particular grant. I am fortified in my view in regard to this matter by reference to May's Parliamentary Practice and Procedure, pages 533 and 534 of the latest edition. At the top of page 534 it is stated that after a question has been proposed from the Chair—the procedure in the committee of supply and the House of Commons is that the proposition does not come from the Honourable Minister, but comes from the Chair—for the reduction of the whole vote no motion shall be made for omitting or reducing any item, meaning that when there is a reduction of the whole vote proposed other items do not take precedence. Other reductions proposed do not take precedence of the entire item being omitted. For instance, it is tantamount to saying that when the honourable member is demanding a grant of Rs. 40,00,600, if a reduction is moved practically to the extent of Rs. 40,00,599, then this reduction ought to take precedence over any other reduction proposed to be moved. In this view I am still further fortified by a later statement in May's Parliamentary Procedure on the same page (page 534) where the question of greater and lesser sums is specifically discussed. That statement is as follows—

When two or more amendments upon the same grant are at the same time, tendered to the committee, the Chairman puts first the amendment which proposes the largest reduction and then, if that be not accepted, the lesser amendments.

In view of this specific statement in May's Parliamentary Procedure I request you, Mr. Speaker, to be kind enough to give a ruling as to whether the larger reduction proposed by amendments is to be taken up first and the lesser reductions later. For instance, in the demand for Rs. 40,00,600, if a reduction is proposed of an amount of Rs. 40,00,599, whether that should not take precedence over lesser reductions proposed in particular items.

Mr. Speaker : Before I give my ruling I would like to know whether the honourable member has any other point to raise.

Diwan Chaman Lal : The second point I wish to raise is this. The Leader of the House asked us to be kind enough to agree to a convention being created on the floor of the House—

Mr. Speaker : That point will be taken up later.

Diwan Chaman Lal : Very well, Sir.

Mr. Speaker : Does that point relate to the order in which motions should be arranged ?

Diwan Chaman Lal : That is in regard to the latitude to be allowed in regard to discussion.

Mr. Speaker : That is a separate matter.

Sardar Hari Singh : I have another point of order to raise. My point of order relates not to the order in which the items are to be taken up. It relates to the order in which the demands are to be taken up.

Mr. Speaker : Let us first dispose of one point of order. Apparently the honourable member has not read May's Parliamentary Practice very carefully. He is confusing two things which I venture to explain. The first point is whether the whole or total demand should be taken up first or, if there are any amendments to the several items of the demand, they should be taken up first. The rule that a bigger reduction should be taken up first and then the next smaller reduction and so on applies to reductions proposed to total grants as well as to the motions for reducing the several items of each total grant. The Parliamentary Practice on this point is perfectly clear and that has also been the practice of this House for the past seventeen years. I invite the attention of the House to page 242 of Campion's book, where it is clearly stated—

“ Amendments to items are taken before amendments to a vote as a whole, and when the question for reducing the vote as a whole has been proposed, it is not in order to move an amendment to an item”.

Rule 3) (4) of the Punjab Legislative Council ran as follows :—

“ No motion shall be made for the reduction of a grant as a whole until all motions for the omission or reduction of definite items within that grant have been discussed.”

Perhaps the honourable member is misinterpreting the word ‘ proposed ’ in the 1st sentence at the top of page 534 of May's book. It means ‘ proposed ’ from the Chair for the final decision of the House. It does not mean ‘ proposed from the Chair for the purpose of discussion.’ May I further draw the honourable member's attention to page 533 of May's Parliamentary Practice? The relevant passage runs as follows :—

“ The form of amendment hitherto considered is to obtain a reduction of the total grant proposed from the Chair. Following the like method of procedure, a motion for a grant can be dealt with in detail by proposals to omit or to reduce the items of expenditure which compose the grant, in the manner prescribed by the following rules.....”

“ That when a motion is made, in committee of supply, to omit or reduce any item of a vote, a question shall be proposed from the Chair for omitting or reducing such item accordingly; and members shall speak to such question only, until it has been disposed of.”

“ That when several motions are offered, they shall be taken in the order in which the items to which they relate appear in the printed estimates.”

“ That after a question has been proposed from the Chair for omitting or reducing any item, no motion shall be made, or debate allowed upon any preceding item.”

Here also the expression ‘ proposed ’ means proposed for decision or vote of the House. Then follows the most important rule—

The last rule on page 534 is—

“ That after a question has been proposed from the Chair for a reduction of the whole vote, no motion shall be made for omitting or reducing any item.”

Diwan Chaman Lall : Please refer to the last 4 lines on the same page.

Mr. Speaker : Yes, I will read them out—

“ When two or more amendments upon the same grant are, at the same time, tendered to the committee, the chairman puts first the amendment which proposes the largest reduction, and then, if that be not accepted, the lesser amendments.”

That is exactly my view. When the whole grant is taken up, after the disposal of items, the order will be that the largest reduction will be taken first, lesser next and so on. That order will be followed when the whole grant is taken up. Just now we have to take up motions for the reduction and omission of the various items of the total grant.

Points of order re discussion of policy of Government when considering a demand and the order in which demands are to be taken up for discussion.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Mr. Speaker, with your permission—and now that you have given your ruling and we are bound by that—may I raise a second point of order which I reserved when I was raising the first? The reason of my raising the second point of order is not only the convention that existed in the Central Legislature, a convention which was created, I believe, in the year 1924, when the President of the Central Legislature, Sir Fredrick Whyte, ruled that it was better to act by the spirit of the Legislature rather than the strict rule of law and permitted on the first grant, namely Excise, a general discussion on the policy of the Government without confining the members to discussing details of that particular grant with the proviso that although the practical reduction of the grant was also moved, he would not allow repetition of the general discussion on other grants, after having completed the discussion of the Customs. The reason why I desire to raise this matter is not only because of the convention existing in the Central Legislature which, by the way, existed in spite of the fact that the Finance Bill is presented to the Legislature enabling members to discuss to an unlimited extent the general policy of the Government when the Finance Bill is presented, but my reason for raising this matter, is this. We have had a budget which affects the destiny of 23 millions of people and it is a tragedy that the members of this House are unable to discuss in detail that budget from the point of view of general policy financial, economic, constitutional and political, except for a limited period of 10 minutes, in some cases 15 minutes and in most cases 5 minutes. I do submit that it is not possible to do justice to the budget, presented by the Honourable Finance Minister or the policy of the Government within the short space of speeches of 10 minutes and no other opportunity exists for honourable members on this side of the House on the budget to discuss the general policy, financial, economic, constitutional and political. Therefore, I submit, Sir, before you that you might be pleased to ask the Honourable Leader of the House if he is not unwilling that this convention might be created for this specific purpose, until, we are in a position to bring in a Finance Bill thereby giving an opportunity to the members of this House, to discuss the entire policy of the Government at length.

Premier : Sir, I would have been delighted to accommodate my honourable friend opposite, but before I come to that particular point, may I say that the House had 3 full days in which it discussed the general policy of the Government and not only the honourable member himself, but several other members spoke not only for 10 minutes, but even for 30 or 40 minutes. The honourable Leader of the Opposition, who naturally is the proper person to lead an attack against the Government policy, was given unlimited time—30 or 40 minutes. Therefore, I submit that the charge that sufficient time was not given to this House is not a sound one. With regard to the particular request which the honourable member has made, I would have been delighted to accommodate him, but I am afraid that it would not be right for this House to follow the convention which was set up by an irresponsible House, the Legislative Assembly. As you know that Government is not responsible to the Legislature or anybody outside.

Sardar Hari Singh : Let us follow the example of the Mother of Parliaments.

Premier : I am afraid the honourable member does not know his brief. As a matter of fact, we have been following the Parliamentary convention and I shall be only too glad, if there are no constitutional defects, to allow or rather introduce the budget in the shape of a Finance Bill from next year, if it is possible to do so. But, I must request the honourable members opposite that just for a doubtful temporary convenience they should not overlook the fact that we should try to follow the Parliamentary practice as far as possible and not the practice of the Central Legislature or any other House, which is not a responsible body. We should try to follow the practice and authority of the free House of Commons and not that of any other body, least of all, any irresponsible body. As you are aware, I consulted the Honourable Leader of the Opposition and suggested to him that he could choose to take up any demand in the budget so that we may make a beginning from that demand and begin next year from the demand where we leave this year. That would give us an opportunity to go over the whole field of administration. It is essential that it should be so from the point of view of this House as well as from the point of view of administration, because, as it happened several times, that, if we begin from demand No. 1 this year and from the last demand the next year, the demands in the middle always escaped and I suspect that this course was to some extent responsible for making the departments not exposed to scrutiny possibly slack. That I think is a very important consideration from the point of view of administration. Therefore, I suggest that the convention which we have adopted with the concurrence of the Leader of the Opposition should be adopted and next year, if it is constitutionally possible, we will try to bring in a Finance Bill.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Sir, I want your ruling on some method of procedure. It is a fact that the Leader of the House wanted me to select the demand wherefrom we were to begin. I also had a discussion with the Honourable Finance Minister and I was told that the procedure in the House of Commons is that it is for the Opposition to select demands which they want to be discussed and also the order in which they are to be discussed. That is a privilege which is granted to the Opposition in the House of Commons. I consulted the Honourable Finance Minister, as I have said before and he was agreeable to permit me, on behalf of the Opposition, to select the order of the demands in which they were to be put. I approached the Honourable Leader of the House but he was not agreeable to give me permission to select the demands as I liked. He only permitted me to select the order. I said if we were to begin with demand No. 1 I, hope he would have no objection to take up demand No. 13 after demand No. 1. But he said that we could only take up demand No. 2 after demand No. 1. Therefore, Sir, I want your ruling whether in the House of Commons the Opposition is permitted to select any demands for discussion on the floor of the House.

Premier : So far as the convention is concerned, my honourable friend opposite is perfectly correct. That is the convention in the House of Commons. But there, as you are aware, the budget is not discussed in the House as a whole. It is discussed in the committee of supply. The whole House is converted into committee and the budget is taken up in the committee of supply. Then, as you know it is put forward in the shape of a Finance Bill and it is easy to pick out any item which you want and discuss the whole policy, going over the whole field of administration during that committee stage. As I have already submitted, if it is possible for us constitutionally to bring forward a Finance Bill next year, we will do so and then the honourable members will have an opportunity of discussing the whole policy when the Finance Bill is introduced. There is the first reading and then the second reading when they can discuss individual items of demand and in the third reading stage they would also be at liberty to cover the whole field. But here as I have pointed out we have to look to the interests of the administration as a whole. If you take the demands anywhere as it may well be the tendency of the opposition, to pick out demand 5 or 7 or 10, we will be discussing the same demand year after year and the rest of the House will not have an opportunity to discuss other items, while at the same time the departments which are left out of discussion altogether are likely to become slack—it is only human nature—knowing that the Opposition would concentrate only on particular demands which will give them an opportunity of—I would not say advertising themselves—but an opportunity of more or less putting forward the Opposition point of view year in and year out and I think that the best course might be, as suggested by my honourable friend representing labour, to try to bring in a Finance Bill, if possible. This will give a wide latitude both to the Opposition and members on this side to discuss the policy of the Government and also the individual demands.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I make one request to the Honourable Premier about the order in which the demands are to be taken up ?

Mr. Speaker : The Leader of the Opposition and the Leader of the House have spoken. Now I will give my ruling.

Diwan Chaman Lall : All that I wanted to say was whether the Honourable Premier would be prepared to take up General Administration after Land Revenue. That is all that I wanted to suggest.

Mr. Speaker : That may be arranged by honourable members with the Leader of the House.

Two points have been raised, one by Diwan Chaman Lall and the other by Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava, the Leader of the Opposition. I will take the points one by one.

Diwan Chaman Lall's contention is that in discussing any one demand the policy of the Government in all its departments can be discussed. There can be no doubt, that if the House agrees that can be done, though our rules and standing orders are silent on the point. (Hear, hear). But the Parliamentary practice, which we have been following for the last 17 years and which is yet in full swing in the mother of Parliaments, is different. According to constitutional authorities the practice of the House of Commons is—

1.—May's Parliamentary Practice (page 531)—

“ The procedure of the committee of supply follows the ordinary usage of a committee of the whole House. No amendment can be moved which is not relevant to the grant under consideration.”

If no amendment can be moved, which is not relevant to the grant, under consideration, how can a speech be made which is not relevant to that grant ?

2.—Another passage from the same standard writer on page 535 is—

“ In accordance with general usage, the main principle which governs debate in the committee of supply is relevancy to the matter which the question proposed from the Chair submits to the committee”.

3.—Campion on page 242 of his book says—

“ The general rule requiring relevancy to the matter contained in the question proposed from the Chair is observed in Committee of supply, whether that question is on a vote or an item, or other sub-division of a vote”.

4.—Masterman, 1st edition, page 346—

“ A reduction may be either because the House really objects to the appropriation, or as a means of expressing condemnation of some act of the Government connected with the item in question.”

That is, heads of Government not connected with the item in question cannot be discussed.

5.—Durell, page 94—

“ The committee of supply is used by all sections of the House, as an opportunity for discussing the policy of the Government in respect to the subject matter of the department which is being paid for.”

That is to say, only the salaries of the department to be paid for from the demand can be discussed.

6.—Lowell's Government in England, Volume I, page 206—

“ When Government is asking Parliament to provide money for the carrying on of the work of any department the House of Commons, first through a committee, and second when the discussion of its committee is reported to the House, has opportunities given it to attack any suspected delinquencies in that department.”

It is perfectly clear from the above quotations that all constitutional writers are unanimous that only matters relevant to the demand, or if an item is under discussion, relevant to that item, can be discussed.

Now as to the point which has been raised by Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava, I gave the following ruling in the year 1931—

“The other day when the question regarding the admissibility of the motion relating to the reduction of Ministers' salaries was being discussed, I suggested to the Government to so arrange the order of budget demands for grants as to give for certain the opposition an opportunity to discuss the demand relating to the salaries of Ministers. I take this opportunity to point out that according to Parliamentary Practice it is immaterial in which order demands for grants are taken, and that the Government readily cedes to the opposition the right of choosing a particular demand for grant to be taken on a particular day. If necessary reference may be made to pages 92-94 of Campion's Introduction to the Procedure of the House of Commons (Vol. XVIII, p. 531 of Punjab Debates).”

I hold the same view to-day as I held in the year 1931. The Government, if possible, should give to the Opposition the right of choosing the demands for grants it may like to discuss. But that is a matter to be decided by the Government and the Opposition.

Premier : I have already suggested to the honourable members that if they want to get to any particular item, it is for them to pass over other items.

Mr. Speaker : That is for the Leader of the House and the Opposition to decide and not for me.

Tirini and Grazing Tax.

Pandit Bhagat Ram Sharma (Kangra West, General, Rural) : Sir, I beg to move—

That the item of Rs. 22,200 on account of forest reserves and grazing lands be omitted.

Before I discuss it directly, Sir, I want just to draw the attention of this august Assembly to the general condition of the peasants in my district. The peasant in the district of Kangra is very much poverty stricken and in his case the saturation point is almost reached. Sir, I like to draw the attention of this Assembly to the fact that the zamindar in that district can give you his lifeblood but not money. He has no money to spend even on bare necessities of life. The land revenue which is already so heavy, has broken the neck of the poor zamindar. Sixty per cent. of his net income goes to the coffers of the government. In this connection I would put to the Honourable Ministers occupying the Treasury benches, one question that if 60 per cent. of their income was to be paid to the government coffers I am sure, all of them will resign or at least will sail to England on pretext of bad health.

Next, Sir, I would suggest that the zamindar of the Kangra district is the backbone of the government in more than one sense : first because most of the revenue is paid from his pocket, secondly, because he provides the background of recruiting. That district is the most important district as far as that particular point is concerned.

Premier : The honourable member seems to be under some misapprehension. He is discussing tirini paid by people in the Kangra forests. That is a different item altogether and it has nothing to do with the grant. This particular item of Rs. 22,200 relates to special officers being provided for the distribution of Murree forests. This has nothing to do with Kangra forests at all. I am afraid the honourable member has anticipated the Forest demand in discussing the particular item.

Pandit Bhagat Ram Sharma : This particular demand goes to the district board.

Premier : This demand relates to the Rawalpindi district only.

Pandit Bhagat Ram Sharma : I have given a separate notice for that demand. If the Honourable the Premier objects I will discuss it under that demand.

Working of laws re re-afforestation.

Sardar Hari Singh (Kangra and Northern Hoshiarpur, Sikh, Rural) : I beg to move—

That the item of Rs. 27,700 on account of re-afforestation be reduced by Rs. 100.

My object in moving this cut motion is to draw the attention of the Government to a particular grievance of the inhabitants of a particular area in the district of Hoshiarpur, what is known as Kattardhar. The object of the Government in bringing the land in that area under forests is laudable indeed, laudable from the point of view especially of the people living in the plains. I have no objection to the laws governing the re-afforestation policy of the Government. I do not want any abrogation or amendment of these laws, nor do I want to very much stress this point here. What I want to emphasise is that these laws should be administered in such a manner that the hardships of life which are entailed on the people living there on account of these laws should be eased. Before these lands were taken from the people living there for the purpose of bringing them under the forests, the subsistence of those people was bound up with pastoral activities. They used to graze their cattle, sheep and goat, in these lands. They were free to move about in these lands. When these lands were taken over by the department for the purpose of bringing them under the forests, then these people were practically muzzled and their means of subsistence were practically reduced to zero. On account of these laws there is very little land left for the people where they can graze their cattle, their sheep and goat. They are prohibited from cutting wood from these lands. If the laws demand that they should be prohibited from doing these things I have no objection. What I want to emphasise is that the Government should work these laws in a humanitarian spirit, in a manner that the lot of the people may be made softer than it is at present. These people complain that they are unnecessarily on flimsy grounds harassed and prosecuted by the officers responsible for the working of these laws. They say that they are compelled to pay illegal gratification to the officers responsible for working these laws.

With these words, Sir, I would humbly implore Government to make enquiries into this matter and to find out whether these complaints which have been brought to our notice by the people, and which we believe to be right, are well founded. I would implore Government to go into these grievances, as I have pointed out, and see if the lot of the people living there can be made better and more tolerable. It would have been better for Government to do it in those days: it would be the duty of the Government even now to see that whenever the distribution of the colony land takes place next time, these people, whose land has been taken away for a laudable purpose, should be given some land in the colony area, so that they may carry on their life there.

Mr. Speaker : Demand under consideration, motion moved is—

That the item of Rs. 27,700 on account of Re-afforestation be reduced by Rs. 100.

Rai Hari Chand (Una, General, Rural) (Urdu): Sir, I am an inhabitant of this ilaqa and I have personal relation with the ilaqa.

12 Noon.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : On a point of order, Sir, my honourable friend is a B.A., LL.B. He is well-acquainted with the English language. I would request him to deliver his speech in English.

Rai Hari Chand (Urdu): I propose to address the Assembly in the language which I know best. I passed my LL.B. Examination in 1922.

[Rai Hari Chand.]

Ever since that year I have lived at home. I have been working at my lands and following agricultural pursuits. I am unable to express myself as fluently in the English language as some of my friends can do.

Mr. Speaker : As the honourable member says that he is not a practising lawyer and that for the last 15 years he has been working as a zamindar, very naturally his vocabulary has become poorer than it was. What can be done when he says that he cannot express himself in English ?

Diwan Chaman Lall : On a point of order, Sir. I do not think it would be proper to permit to speak in Urdu a member who, under the statute has to speak in English if he is sufficiently acquainted with the language. A gentleman who is a graduate and has passed a legal examination,—LL.B.—may not be able to speak the choice language that the Honourable Finance Minister may be guilty of on the floor of the House, but certainly by any stretch of imagination he cannot be considered inadequately or insufficiently acquainted with the language.

Rai Hari Chand (Urdu) : I have spent 15 years in agricultural pursuits at my home. I cannot fluently speak in English like my honourable friends, who are in the habit of studying English literature and read their papers regularly. If I am obliged to make a speech in English, it would be tantamount to penalising me.

Mr. Speaker : All I can do is to ask the honourable member to speak in English if he can possibly do so, but if he says on the floor of the House that he is unable to do so, I cannot compel him to speak in English. All I can do is to ask him to speak in English or not to speak at all.

Rai Hari Chand (Urdu) : I oppose the motion moved by my learned friend Sardar Hari Singh. I am a resident of the ilaga and I live in that very hilly tract of land, which is mostly affected by Katar Dhar. All my dear and near ones live in that ilaga. My property is situated in that ilaga. The Katar Dhar is 90 miles long and it follows a north-southerly course in between the Beas and the Sutlej. It is unlike other mountain ranges, which are full of forests and forest growths. The Katar Dhar is a sandy hill. When it rains crores of maunds of sand fall down to destroy agricultural land below, which happens to be the only means of livelihood of the zamindars. With your permission, I should like to tell the House that in 1933 as many as twelve villages were destroyed in my Zail alone. The Deputy Commissioner of the district was approached by the inhabitants and the Government was pleased to grant a sum of Rs. 900 to the zamindars of the villages in addition to the remission of Rs. 2,000 in land revenue.

This hill is completely bare. There are no forests to be found on it. The honourable members of this house are aware of the fact that the presence of water and thick forests is necessary for attracting clouds. But here you find sandy hills and that is why rainfall is decreasing in the Hoshiarpur district.

As the water-level was steadily going down and fertile lands were gradually going out of cultivation, all the magnates of the district approached the Deputy Commissioner. A number of schemes were put forward and given due consideration. At last the best of these was adopted, viz., that re-afforestation and re-plantation of trees should be taken in hand and every attempt should be made to preserve the humidity of the soil.

I have been living in that ilaga since 1926 and during all these years, i.e., 1926-35 the respective deputy commissioners of the district have been making representations to the Government. At long last the Government acceded to their request and Mr. Hamilton, I.F.S. was appointed on special duty in that ilaga. If you want to preserve the fertility of the soil and keep up the water-level, it is essential that forests should be maintained.

Sardar Hari Singh : On a point of order. The honourable member is talking quite irrelevantly. My object was to draw the attention of the Government to particular grievances of people living in a particular area. So the theme of my speech was the grievances of the people on account of the working of these laws. I am not against those forests or forest laws.

Mr. Speaker : Will the honourable member please speak to the motion ?

Rai Hari Chand (Urdu) : Sir, with your permission I should like to say a word about the objection raised by my honourable friend, the Sardar Sahib. Wherever these forest laws are proposed to be enforced, the proprietors of the village give an undertaking in writing that they may be subjected to forest laws.

People who live by grazing goats and sheep are not debarred from grazing cattle. With the permission of village proprietors grass can be cut. These people can cut down dry wood for their use. The grazing of goats, sheep and camels is of course prohibited. The only reason for this prohibition is that goats, sheep, etc., destroy vegetation.

The question before us is this, whether we should allow a small number of men to enjoy their vested rights without interruption or whether we should allow thousands of ghumaons of land to be destroyed. The people of the ilaga, whose only means of subsistence is their land, have suffered heavily.

Another objection raised by Sardar Sahib is that the officials entrusted with the enforcement of this law misuse their powers and indulge in corrupt practices. I cannot do better than quote the Honourable the Premier who said that if the people of any ilaga have any complaints of corrupt practices to make against any Government official, then five respectable persons can make a representation to this effect.

I would again urge that this law is an extremely important one and is essential for the well-being of the Hoshiarpur district. I, therefore, oppose the motion moved by Sardar Hari Singh.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh (Hoshiarpur West, General, Rural) (Urdu) : Sir, I have got up to support the motion moved by my honourable friend Sardar Hari Singh. This act was enforced only a few years ago. It has benefited only a few capitalists and zamindars, whose income has increased. It has been said that goats and sheep destroy the forests. The Gujars eke out a precarious living by selling milk of goats. How do you propose to provide them with the means of livelihood ?

I lend my support to this cut and I will request the Treasury benches that such people should be granted squares of land in the Montgomery district so as to provide them with the means of earning a livelihood. They are allowed to cut down wood when it is dry, and it proves very troublesome for them. To add to their miseries the guards ill-treat the zamindars of the adjoining villages. They suffer a number of hardships at the hand of Government officials.

I would request the Treasury benches that steps may be taken to redress the grievances of the people concerned. I am prepared to admit the fact that owing to rains sand-hills begin to slide down, and they cause no end of trouble to the zamindars. The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram is well aware of the difficult times through which these people are passing. I would, therefore, request him to grant these people lands in some colony, so as to enable them to earn their living.

Sardar Sampuran Singh (Lyallpur West, Sikh, Rural) : So far as this cut motion is concerned, I fully agree with the Government that this Act is a necessity not only for these parts of the province but for conserving the water-supply for canals as well (hear, hear) which not only affect those areas but practically affect beneficially the whole of the Punjab. As an analogy I may give an instance of the canals. Nobody can deny or question the utility of the canals for the whole of the province, but there are people whose lands sometimes adjoin its bank and get water-logged or alkalinised. The Government for that reason compensates them for the loss which they sustain on account of having their lands so close to the canals. In the same way, so far as the bad effects of this Act about re-forestation are concerned—bad effects upon Hoshiarpur and other people of submontane villages—I would submit that their troubles and their grievances should be removed even at the sacrifice of the revenues of the province to a certain extent, because if we are trying to do good to other parts of the province and also we are trying to save the lands in that neighbourhood, there are people who must be compensated in some form even though they take a little advantage of these provisions but that advantage is very trifling in comparison with the loss which they are suffering.

Sardar Hari Singh (Kangra and Northern Hoshiarpur, Sikh, Rural) : My honourable colleague, Rai Hari Chand, was harping on a wrong theme and working under a misapprehension. I have already made my amendment clear. I want to draw the attention of the department to the grievances of the people living in Katar Dhar. To my mind a prima facie case has been made out for an enquiry into the grievances of the people living there by our first National Government and if the Honourable Minister for Revenue gives me a promise that he will make enquiries, I am quite willing to withdraw my motion.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sunder Singh Majithia) : My friend Sardar Hari Singh has not gone into the question whether the law is right or whether it is wrong. But I may point out one thing to him.

Sardar Hari Singh : The laws are right.

Minister for Revenue : Very well. I may point out one thing to him and it is that under this Act no land can be taken by Government for the purposes of this Act unless and until the people of the place apply for the application of this law to that area. That is the first thing that he has missed.

Mr. Speaker : Rai Hari Chand said this.

Minister for Revenue : I need not then repeat what my friend Rai Hari Chand has said, but I must say that the grievances, if there are any, will be looked into and sympathetically considered.

Sardar Hari Singh : In view of the assurances given by the Honourable Minister for Revenue and thinking that he will be as good as his word and that he will make enquiries into the matter, I beg leave to withdraw my amendment.

The motion was, by leave, withdrawn.

Introduction of Elective system for the posts of lambardar, sufedposh and zaildar.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh (Amritsar North, Sikh, Rural): I beg to move—

That the item of Rs. 1,53,900 on account of Charges of Administration be reduced by Rs. 100.

Point of order re. discussion of matters involving legislation on demands for grants.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : Sir, I rise to a point of order. The cut proposed by the honourable member would necessitate the amendment of section 28 of the Land Revenue Act before it can be given effect to and the point of order which I beg leave to raise is, whether in the discussion of grants and cuts on the budget it is in order to raise suggestions which involve amendment of legislation. In raising this point of order—

Mr. Speaker : The point raised is whether in discussing the Demands for Grants necessity for legislation or matters involving legislation can be discussed. According to the practice of the Central Assembly and Parliament this cannot be done. As regards the practice of this House, I ruled a few years back that matters involving legislation could not be discussed in discussing the Demands for Grants. But for a number of reasons the elected members of the Council requested me to relax my ruling and I was constrained to accede to their request. Just now, on this point, we have no rule of our own, nor have we any settled practice. Therefore, the House may decide whether necessity for legislation and matters involving legislation should or should not be discussed in discussing the Demands for Grants. I may add that the object of every legislature in discussing the budget is to see whether the Government has been governing according to the laws in force, that is to say, according to the laws as they are and not according to the laws as they should be; because unless the laws are actually amended or repealed there shall be no sense in criticising the Government on the basis of laws which do not exist yet. Now I leave it to the House to decide whether the necessity for legislation or matters involving legislation should be discussed or not.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : This measure does not require any change in law.

Mr. Speaker : Section 28 of the Land Revenue Act, if I remember aright, says that the Financial Commissioners will make rules for the appointment, punishment and dismissal of zaildars. (A voice : That is so). Rules are made by the Financial Commissioners and not by Government. If the rules were made by the Government, then this House would be justified to recommend anything to the Government, but as the power of rule-making vests in the Financial Commissioners, Government cannot interfere with that power.

Premier : Sir, normally you have always been pleased, where we have got no specific rules with regard to procedure, to follow the Parliamentary practice and may I suggest that in this case also we should follow the Parliamentary practice. It is unnecessary to take the view of the House.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : This point was raised in the Committee appointed to revise the rules and the tendency of that Committee, if I remember rightly was—

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : Can reference be made to the proceedings of that Committee ?

Sardar Sampuran Singh : The Honourable Speaker has himself made a reference to that Committee. As I was saying, the tendency in that Committee was in favour of such things being allowed to be discussed in the House, but since no rules have yet been passed, I would submit that the old practice, or the status quo should be allowed to continue. That would be only fair.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh (Punjabi) : Sir, I do not mean to have the Act amended. What I mean is simply to discuss a matter of general public importance and that can be discussed under the head General Administration. It is with this end in view that this cut motion has been submitted.

Mr. Speaker : I wish the honourable member had so worded his cut motion. The remarks say : " In order to ensure the good working of the village administration, the posts of lambardari, sufedposhi and zaildari be made elective."

Sardar Hari Singh : My submission is that this can be done without amending the law.

Mr. Speaker : Will the Honourable Advocate General please throw some light ?

Advocate General (Diwan Ram Lal) : It seems to me that unless section 28 of the Act is amended you have no power over the actions of the Financial Commissioner. The Financial Commissioner is the final authority till the Act is amended.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : The law as it stands does not require any change. This motion can be moved with a view to effect a change in the rules made under the Act.

Mr. Speaker : Is that a point of order ?

Sardar Sampuran Singh : Yes, Sir.

Mr. Speaker : Or a speech ?

Sardar Sampuran Singh : A point of order.

Mr. Speaker : Sorry !

Premier : Have you considered my suggestion ?

Mr. Speaker : It is for the House to decide.

Premier : It is in the interest of the Opposition. My submission was that where we have no code or specific rule with regard to the procedure on any particular matter, you have always been pleased to follow Parliamentary practice where necessary, and I suggest that you should adopt that as a general practice. If the rule is later on amended then we can follow that.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh (Punjabi) : In my opinion, the sense of the House should be taken.

Premier : My suggestion was made in the interests of the Opposition. We have a majority on this side and we will be able to swamp them every time.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : My submission is that the restriction which is sought to be imposed on the ventilation of the grievances of the people may not be rigidly enforced, and more so by taking a stand on the majority which the Government happen to have in this House. If you wish to shut the ventilation of the grievances of the people on this score that it will involve amendment of law, the only effect of it will be that some things which the Opposition can bring to the notice of the Government, the Government will be deprived of knowing. If I am right in understanding the assurances of the Honourable Premier as given to the people outside and to the honourable members of this House, I take it that he is always willing, and not merely willing but perhaps anxious, to know what the people generally think and in particular what the Opposition thinks. Therefore, I appeal to the Honourable Leader of the House not to insist that reference to matters which might necessitate amendments to legislation may be excluded, because the only effect of it will be that the Government will not be able to know certain things which may be in the possession of the Opposition.

Mr. Speaker : I would rather take the sense of the House than give a ruling myself. I gave a ruling once, but had to relax it in deference to the wishes of the elected members of the Council. So, I prefer to be guided by the wishes of the honourable members.

Premier : Our rules of procedure are under the consideration of a committee of this House. When those rules come up before the House we will be in a position to come to a final decision on that point. Till then, I suggest that we should follow the Parliamentary practice which you have adopted in other cases.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Why not follow the ruling of the Speaker ?

Premier : Yes, the latest ruling is that if any motion involves legislation it should be ruled out.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : You were pleased to remark that you could only suggest a method according to which we should discuss items in the demands here. It was the Honourable Leader of the House who agreed to your advice. Now, the Honourable Premier has been pleased to state that he was prepared to accommodate the Opposition and he suggested that the opinion of the House be taken. He was also pleased to remark that as he commanded the majority in the House his opinion would be the opinion of the House. Therefore, I would submit that whatever the Leader of the House agrees may be adopted by you.

Mr. Speaker : The Leader of the House says that we should follow the Parliamentary practice.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : The main point is whether this question requires an amendment of the Act.

Mr. Speaker : That is a different question. The Advocate General has already given his opinion on that point.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : His opinion on the matter is not final.

Mr. Speaker : But the Chair cannot reject it except for very strong reasons. The honourable member should not discuss that point.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : Do you mean to say then that we should not criticise that opinion of the Advocate General?

Mr. Speaker : Yes. In view of the sense of the House, the motion of Sardar Sohan Singh Josh is of order.

Land Revenue System.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : I beg to move—

That the item of Rs. 1,53,900 on account of charges of administration be reduced by Rs. 500.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : I rise to a point of order. The honourable member's object in moving this reduction is to invite the attention of the House to certain defects in the administration, and for that purpose he must have moved a token cut of Re. 1 or Rs. 100.

Mr. Speaker : Out of 175 members of the House, I do not know the exact number, but I think about 150 are entirely new to parliamentary life. Therefore I do not, and nobody else can, reasonably expect them to know all details of practice. Consequently, I allow the motion. But I may make it clear, that in future whenever a cut is not intended to be a financial or economic cut and is intended only to criticise the actions of the ministry or the officers of Government; or to ventilate the grievances of the public, it should be invariably for Rs. 100.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : I rise to another point of order. The item referred to in the cut motion relates to forests, whereas as explained in the note to the cut motion the honourable member wants to discuss the system of land revenue. Is that in order?

Mr. Speaker : No. In moving this cut to an item the honourable member is not entitled to discuss the policy underlying the whole demand. His motion is apparently out of order, but I would like to hear him before ruling it out of order.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : In view of the ruling you have given, two points have been raised. As regards the first point I want to put a word of explanation for putting Rs. 500. I thought it was nothing else, but a nominal cut.

Mr. Speaker : A nominal cut should be for Rs. 100.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : With regard to the second point, as you were kind enough to allow me to speak, I have to point out that the system of land revenue is most defective and, therefore, if the figure is not correct, as pointed out just now by my honourable friend on the other side, my idea is only to criticise the Department in its various aspects.

Premier : The item has got nothing to do with land revenue.

Mr. Speaker : The item of Rs. 1,53,900 has nothing to do with the system of land revenue.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : I have taken the total charges of administration.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member's motion relates to the Forest Department. Therefore, he can criticise that department only.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : I do not want to criticise anything so far as the Forest Department is concerned. As you were pleased to say that you will hear me—

Mr. Speaker : I shall gladly hear the honourable member on some other point.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : The language is quite clear, except the figures. I want to criticise the whole department.

Mr. Speaker : As the honourable member's amendment is to the item, which relates to the Forest Department, he cannot discuss the land revenue system.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : Will you permit me to alter that?

Mr. Speaker : Not at this stage.

Chaukidars in villages.

Chaudhri Ram Sarup : Sir, I beg to move—

That the item of Rs. 1,53,900 on account of Charges of Administration be reduced by Re. 1.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : On a point of order, Sir. I am sorry to raise a point of order on a motion moved by my honourable friend on this side (Government benches). This demand relates to forest establishment and so far as I am aware, there are no chaukidars in the Forest Department.

The motion was accordingly ruled out of order.

Land Revenue Settlements.

Lala Duni Chand (Ambala and Simla, General, Rural) : Sir, I beg to move—

That the item of Rs. 37,790 on account of Total Pay of Officers (voted) be reduced by Re. 1.

As it will appear from the remarks, my object in moving this motion is to discuss the policy of the Government underlying periodical settlements and specially pointing out that in this direction a good deal of retrenchment and saving can be affected. Sir, it appears from the budget that 3 or 4 settlement operations in Lahore, Amritsar and Lyallpur districts are already going on and the settlement operations in Jhelum district are about to begin. I see from the budget that on all these settlement operations—

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : On a point of order. Is the honourable member relevant in criticising the settlement operations in other districts? They have nothing to do with the revenue settlements in Amritsar, or Jhelum or Lahore. The item to which the cut is proposed relates to the settlement operations in the Lyallpur district which are now coming to a close.

Mr. Speaker : Item of Rs. 37,790 relates only to Lyallpur district.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : But the honourable member started discussing Amritsar, Lahore and Jhelum settlements.

Lala Duni Chand : When I raise the question of policy underlying periodical settlements, it is not necessary that I should propose a cut motion with regard to all the items relating to different districts. It is quite sufficient for me that I move the motion with regard to one particular item relating to one particular district. While discussing that item, I can certainly raise the question of policy underlying all periodical settlements.

Premier : On a point of order, Sir. This is in direct contravention of your ruling.

Mr. Speaker : Will the honourable member please say what he wishes to say only about the Lyallpur district settlement ?

Lala Duni Chand : I accept your ruling and proceed further. My submission before the House is that a large sum of money has been spent on settlement operations in the Lyallpur district. It is ruinous to this province.

Premier : I again rise to a point of order. The remarks, which the honourable member has tabled in connection with this cut, are "to discuss the policy underlying periodical settlements with special reference to retrenchment and economy." As pointed out, this particular item relates to the Lyallpur settlement which is at its closing stages. What particular economy does he want there ? The settlement operations will be closed in 2 months and therefore this motion will have no practical effect whatever.

Lala Duni Chand : In the first place I am not quite certain that the settlement operations of the Lyallpur district are going to be completed.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is requested to take the word of the Leader of the House on that point.

Lala Duni Chand : It is not a question of his making a statement with regard to any particular figures. That is his estimate and I do not think he himself means to say that necessarily all the settlement operations of the Lyallpur district will be completed within two months.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is at liberty to say what he likes with regard to the Lyallpur settlement operations. But he should not, directly or indirectly, bring in other matters.

Lala Duni Chand : In any case, I beg to submit that the amount that has been spent on the settlement operations of the Lyallpur district is a waste of public money. These settlement operations of which Lyallpur district operations are only a part, go from year to year and if we take the average period of settlement to be 25 years, the settlements of 30 or 31 districts of the Punjab will take about 25 years. On that basis the Government spends about 50 lakhs in the course of 25 years on settlement operations and I say that the spending of this amount is quite unnecessary. In this connection I want to make two suggestions. If the Government were to accept them, a good deal of saving can be effected in this direction.

In the first place the settlement of some of the districts can be done by the already existing agencies of the districts such as the collector, who can easily do this work, engaging at the most a supplementary or additional establishment for the time being. It is unnecessary to have a separate establishment costing one lakh and fifty thousand for the purpose of settlement operations of each district.

Mr. Speaker : Does the honourable member mean that this should be done in the case of the Lyallpur district ?

Lala Duni Chand : The example of Lyallpur should be an eye-opener to the Government and the waste that is made in the case of Lyallpur should not be repeated in the case of other districts. The case of Lyallpur can be taken as an illustration to suggest that the Government should adopt a different policy with regard to settlement operations.

Another suggestion which I want to make is this. Quite a different principle should be adopted with regard to the levying of land revenue from the one now adopted. A stereotyped kind of policy is being now adopted in the matter of assessment of land revenue. I suggest that in future the principle which is applied in the assessment of income tax, should also be applied in the assessment of land revenue. I cannot precisely say in what way this should be done. It is a matter of detail.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is requested to speak to the motion. He is wandering far away from it.

Lala Duni Chand : I accept your ruling. I am discussing the policy of the periodical settlement with special reference to the Lyallpur district. Lyallpur district is the point in issue. Certainly I can discuss all relevant points in order to throw light on the point at issue, namely, settlement operations of the Lyallpur district, if the Honourable Speaker allows me.

Mr. Speaker : Everything, which is relevant to that point, the honourable member may discuss.

Lala Duni Chand : I was submitting that in future the Government should adopt, in the case of land revenue assessment, the same principle as is applied in the case of income tax assessment. If that is done it will be quite unnecessary to engage all this paraphernalia for these settlement operations, settlement collectors, assistant settlement collectors, settlement tahsildars, naib-tahsildars and so on. It will be enough for the Government to keep correct and up to-date records. These are the two constructive suggestions that I wanted to make for the consideration of the Government. The policy that the Government has been so long pursuing is not only wrong to the Government itself— (The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : Has this anything to do with Lyallpur ?) According to the law of evidence, Lyallpur district is the point in issue, and in order to throw light on this issue I can discuss all relevant facts. If my suggestions are accepted I think it will be quite unnecessary to spend huge amounts on settlement operations. I have already told the House that in the course of 25 years the Government spends about 50 lakhs on these operations and if not 50 lakhs, at least 30 lakhs can be saved if my suggestions are accepted.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the item of Rs. 37,790 on account of Total Pay of Officers (Voted) be reduced by Rs. 1.

The motion was lost.

The Assembly then adjourned for lunch.

The Assembly re-assembled at 2 P.M. Mr. Speaker in the chair.

Pay and pensions of peons and patwaris.

Lala Bhagat Ram Choda (Jullundur, General, Rural), (Urdu) : Sir, I beg to move—

That the item of Rs. 1,14,600 on account of Total Pay of Establishment be reduced by Rs. 1.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : On a point of order. Sir, this cut motion brings in two grievances, and it has been held in the Assembly elsewhere that in view of the difficulty to which honourable members would be put in voting on the motion which involves two grievances, such motions are in not in order. Patwaris and peons as well as pays and pensions are two different items.

Mr. Speaker : I am not prepared to hold that pay and pensions should be treated as separate subjects for the purpose of this amendment. But there appears to be some force in the objection that peons and patwaris ought to be dealt with separately.

Premier : The question is whether they are provided in this particular item.

Khan Sahib Chaudhri Riasat Ali : On a point of order. Page 90 refers to temporary assessment establishment in Jhelum district and also a part of the Amritsar district. The question is whether the honourable member wants to discuss the pension of peons and patwaris as a whole or only with special reference to the temporary appointments in the district of Jhelum. I would draw attention to page 90.

Mr. Speaker : The amendment moved is that the total grant be reduced by Re. 1. The object of the mover is to discuss that the pay and pensions of peons and patwaris are insufficient and should be increased. The question is whether the motion is in order. The item of Rs. 1,14,600 relates to the pay of temporary establishment of settlement.

Lala Bhagat Ram Choda : Sir, they are not simply temporary. If I am not permitted to discuss the pensions I will speak on their pay.

Premier : The pay of patwaris and peons working under settlement parties is different.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member now proposes to speak about pay and not about pension. Is there any objection to this ?

Premier : I have no objection.

Mr. Speaker : That would amount to an alteration of the motion at this stage ; but I have no objection, as the amended motion is within the scope of the original amendment.

Lala Bhagat Ram Choda (Urdu) : I will discuss only the salaries of peons and not of patwaris.

Sir, I wish to bring this fact to the notice of Government that the poor chaprasis are paid only Rs. 14 per mensem which is a very meagre sum. They are whole time servants and have to work for 24 hours. Besides, their officers utilize their services for domestic purposes also (laughter). These poor people get no holiday whatsoever for the whole year round. Then at the time of retirement from service they do not receive sufficient pension. All other Government servants on retirement are rewarded pensions to the extent of 50 per cent. while the peons are granted pension equal to one third of their pay. This is an example of divine wrath to which poor people are subjected.

In the old Punjab Legislative Council a resolution recommending an increase in the salaries of peons was moved and passed but so far no satisfactory result has been achieved. It is a matter of great regret that while on the one hand the ministers draw fat salaries amounting to three or four thousand rupees per mensem, on the other hand the monthly wages paid to these wretched beings amount only to Rs. 14. Their salaries are so inadequate that it is well nigh impossible for them to support their wives and children. Sir, such a glaring difference in salaries is simply intolerable. Besides they are expected to keep themselves clean and wear clothes washed by the washermen. How on earth is it possible for them to meet all sundry expenses out of a paltry sum of Rs. 14. I would request Government to enhance their salaries as their present rates of pay are quite insufficient and they should be granted pensions equal to one half of their pay. With these words I close my speech.

Mr. Speaker : Demand under consideration, motion moved —

That the item of Rs. 1,14,600 on account of Total pay of establishment be reduced by Rs. 1.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia) : Sir, I have every sympathy with the motion of my honourable friend. I may point out to him that now-a-days even graduates of the University of the Punjab and other universities are applying for the post of peons in the postal department (A voice from the Opposition : Due to whom?) Due to yourself.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : What does the Honourable Minister mean ?

Minister for Revenue : I was simply joking.

Sir, it is a question of supply and demand. You know, that one advertisement brings in thousands and thousands of applications ; and if we increase the pay of these people considerably beyond what other people get in Government offices this will create a difficult position which this House will have to consider.

As regards the suggestion of my friend regarding pensions I may inform him that this question is being considered by the Finance Department.

Sardar Hari Singh : Cogent argument !

Minister for Revenue : Whether cogent or not, this question will have to be decided by the vote of the House.

Lala Bhagat Ram Choda (Urdu) : As the Honourable Minister for Revenue has expressed great sympathy for the peons and has promised to give favourable consideration to the question of enhancement of their salaries I wish to withdraw my cut motion with your permission.

The motion was by leave withdrawn.

Survey and Settlement Parties.

Sardar Sampuran Singh (Lyallpur West, Sikh, Rural) : Sir I beg to move—

That the item of Rs. 2,58,900 on account of Survey and Settlement Parties be omitted.

I move this motion as a matter of retrenchment and to urge on the Government that recurring settlements are an unnecessary expense on the province and generally detrimental to the interests of the people.

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani (Urdu) : On a point of order, Sir. The aim of the cut motion before the House is to effect certain changes in the system of settlements, but under section 53 (a) of Land Revenue Act the term of settlements is fixed and the Government have no powers to revise it. In this connection I would like to draw your attention to the ruling which you were pleased to give this morning according to which the discussion on this cut motion cannot be allowed.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : I would like the honourable member to read the section under which settlements are made.

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani : Sir, the section reads :—

“ The Local Government shall when announcing an assessment under sub-section (1) of Section 53 fix a period of time for which the assessment shall remain in force ;
(2) The period fixed under sub-section (1) shall be 40 years.”

Sardar Sampuran Singh : This point of order would not apply to these particular cases which are in view because these settlements are not taking place after forty years and the section which has been quoted does not apply to these particular cases.

Sardar Sohan Singh, Josh : Does the honourable member know sufficient English to understand and read the section ?

Sardar Sampuran Singh : These settlements do not take place after forty years and they are not under the section which has been quoted by my honourable friend.

Mr. Speaker : What does the honourable member mean by the expression “ recurring settlements ”? The expression is not quite clear. Perhaps the Honourable Advocate-General will throw some light on the subject.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : The word “ recurring ” applies to the settlement which is taking place now. These are not under the section quoted. “ recurring ” means which comes again and again. That does not mean that these come after 40 years. These settlements which are now going on do not take place under this section. They recur all the same. Recurring means recurring, but that does not mean recurring under the section quoted by my honourable friend.

Khan Sahib Chaudhri Riasat Ali : The item refers to the re-settlement operations only in the Jhelum District. Please refer to page 91.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : It includes the total for all settlements. These periodical settlements in the province are a cause of great sense of insecurity amongst the people. A very large number of staff is introduced into a district and they are not only the cause of harassment to the people in the way of increasing their revenue, but such a large staff living all over the district causes so much expense to the people that they are almost like a scourge for the people of that district. The result of these settlements is not the betterment of the peasants of these districts. At this time people are so heavily taxed that they are looking forward to any decrease in the present assessments rather than increase in the old assessments. I give an instance of my own district. The old settlement of Lyallpur district took place under the old law which meant that the Government was entitled to get 50 per cent. of the net assets of the land. (Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendar Nath : 35 per cent.) I am talking of the old rule, Sir. This law was amended by the Punjab Government and this maximum was reduced to 25 per cent. The present settlement of the Lyallpur district has been carried out under the amended law. The result is that despite the fact that the share of the Government has been reduced from 50 to 25 per cent. of the net assets, in the actual figures the revenue has arisen from the old revenue. I have very carefully gone into the figures of the assessment of my district and find that this change has been introduced by raising the yield and the commutation prices, while we are aware of the fact that the rates of the agricultural commodities, when the old settlement took place, was higher than the time when the present operations were carried out. These results are brought out by the jugglery of figures. The same figures are twisted in one way or the other and the results are brought out exactly in the way that the Government wants them to be brought out. So far as the giving of relief to the zamindars is concerned, these settlements are not made for that purpose nor is any relief brought to the zamindars under the settlement operations. I want to say a word about this new system of sliding scale. No doubt it has a great point in it that at the time of exceptionally low rates of prices the revenue will slide down as a matter of course. But if this process were to be introduced all over the province—and that in a bad year—I would ask the Government only to imagine what would be the result. We hear so much in the various reports, budget and other speeches from the side of the Government that in a bad year or some other year the income of the Government would fall on account of their having introduced the sliding scale in the district of Lyallpur.

Mr. Speaker : Order, order. The Honourable Minister for Development is reading a newspaper. This should not be done.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : This sliding scale may be a good thing if its field of operation is limited. If the sliding scale is going to be spread all over the province, then I am afraid that it will work such a havoc on the finances of the province that I consider it impracticable, when I consider it from a bigger point of view. I would submit one more point in this connection and that is the appointment of the expert committee for revenue in the province. My first grievance in that respect is that no zamindar as such has been appointed on it.

Minister for Revenue : Are you referring to the Darling Committee? Are you referring to the Committee an announcement regarding which was made by the Premier two days ago?

Sardar Sampuran Singh : Well that is the only Committee which was appointed two days ago. That is the only Committee you have appointed to consider the revenues so far. You are correct and so far as I can recollect an announcement regarding it was made by the Honourable Premier only two days ago. (Voices : It is the Land Revenue Committee). Yes it is the Land Revenue Committee. I do not see why there is any confusion about it. So far as the districts of Jhelum, Lahore and Amritsar are concerned, their settlement should be postponed till the Land Revenue Committee has given its report. I need not press about Lyallpur because, as the Honourable Minister for Revenue says, its settlement is practically over. If settlement of these districts is made before the Report of the Land Revenue Committee is out, I am sure these districts would not be getting the benefit of the report, advice and recommendations of that Committee. With these few remarks I beg to move that this total item, which will be a substantial economy in our budget should be omitted as the settlements which are at present going on, are not necessary for this province and they are doing more harm than good.

Mr. Speaker : Demand under consideration, motion moved—

That the item of Rs. 2,58,000 on account of Survey and Settlement Parties be omitted.

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad, Gurmani (Muzaffargarh North, Muhammadan, Rural) (Urdu) : Sir, If I understand my honourable friend, the mover of this cut motion aright, he alleged in his speech that Government resorts to recurring settlements with a view to enhance its revenues. This is not borne out by facts. Let me cite the example of the Lyallpur district which is also the home district of the honourable member who has moved this cut. In this district the results of the recent reassessment show a considerable decrease in the amount of land revenue. In certain tahsils of this district where new scale of assessment has been enforced, there has been a decrease in the amount of land revenue to the extent of over 10 lakhs. When the new rates of assessment are enforced in all tahsils of the district, I am sure, the decrease in the revenue will exceed this figure by a very much larger amount. It is neither reasonable nor just to say, without proof, that Government achieves, through the jugglery of figures, the desired results which they have already in mind. The honourable members would be well-advised not to make such unfounded and baseless allegations. The settlement operations and assessment of land revenue are carried out under specific provisions of the Land Revenue Act, as is explained in the Settlement Manual. The period of settlements is fixed under sections 53 and 53(a) of the Land Revenue Act, and the Government has no option to act to the contrary, unless of course, the Act is amended. Now let us examine, Sir, as to why settlements are necessary. The first object of resettlements is to bring the land records uptodate. It is essential to keep these records correct and uptodate as they form the basis of our entire land revenue system. The field maps and the records of rights undergo a great change during a period of 40 years and in view of these changes, it is necessary to prepare fresh and uptodate field maps and revenue records.

Secondly, Sir, in areas where permanent assessment is in force it is necessary to reassess them according to the changed conditions. The condition of soil greatly changes after a lapse of 40 years and makes it necessary to make a new classification of that land for the purposes of assessment. Certain areas which were fertile at the last settlement and were assessed at a higher rate have deteriorated and become less productive, while other areas which were out of cultivation at that time have been brought under cultivation and are, therefore, liable to a higher rate of assessment. It is, therefore, equitable and just to reassess such areas and reclassify the fields according to their changed conditions so that the owners whose lands have deteriorated should get relief in assessment and those who have brought new lands under cultivation should pay a due share of land revenue to the State. For example in Jhelum district a large area which was under cultivation at the last settlement has become useless and unculturable on account of saltpetre and water-logging. Will it be fair on the part of the Government to charge land revenue on the basis of permanent assessment fixed at the last settlement on lands out of which the owners are getting no or little income today? If a reassessment is made it will surely relieve the owners of such lands from paying land revenue for their unproductive lands.

Thirdly under the old Act the Government could charge land revenue up to one-half of the total net assets. In settlements which were made under the old Act in every case the land revenue was fixed between $\frac{1}{3}$ and $\frac{1}{2}$ of the total net assets. But according to the amended Act which is now in force the Government cannot fix the land revenue at more than $\frac{1}{4}$ of the total net assets. Therefore, reassessment under the amended Act will be advantageous to the zamindars.

Fourthly the yield of various crops from various classes of soil is estimated during the settlement operations and a schedule is prepared accordingly, which forms the basis of assessment. These estimates of yields from various classes of lands undergo a considerable change after a lapse of 40 years. It is, therefore, necessary and equitable to prepare new estimates of yields and fix new assessments in view of these variations in different areas.

Sir, in parts of districts where facilities of perennial irrigation are introduced reassessment becomes necessary, because the producing capacity of land increases on account of the new and additional irrigation facilities. If the Government is prevented from resettling such lands, the Government will hesitate to introduce such new schemes, knowing that they will not be allowed to take a share from the increased incomes of such lands and a restriction of the kind suggested by my honourable friend will neither be in the interest of zamindars nor of the province. In view of these facts the contention of my honourable friend, the mover of this cut, that recurring settlements are unnecessary and that they are detrimental to the interests of the people, is not correct. I would therefore appeal to him in the name of justice and fair play to withdraw his cut motion.

Mr. Speaker : Only a few minutes ago, I asked the Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram, who was reading a newspaper, not to read it. Now I find that Sardar Hari Singh is reading a poster. I may state for the information of the honourable members of the House that they are not to read here books, newspapers, etc.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : On a point of order, Sir. Are we allowed to read or write letters?

Mr. Speaker : No.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : Except connected with the business of the Assembly.

Mr. Speaker : Of course.

Advocate General : Sir, you were pleased to ask me to give an opinion as to whether with reference to section 53(a) of the Land Revenue Act, the cut motion of the honourable Sardar Sampuran Singh, was in order. I am sorry to have delayed the matter. My opinion is this that it is not clear as to whether or not the honourable member meant by moving the motion that we should do away with the system of recurring settlement and come to a system of permanent settlement. If this is what he meant, then the motion is obviously out of order. If he meant that the settlement should take place only after a fixed period of 40 years then the motion would be in order.

Sardar Hari Singh (Kangra and Northern Hoshiarpur, Sikh, Rural) : Sir, as the next motion which stands in my name also relates to the same subject I should like to speak on it now. (A voice : Which motion is the honourable member speaking on ?) I am speaking on the cut motion of Sardar Sampuran Singh.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : Is he speaking on Sardar Sampuran Singh's motion ?

Mr. Speaker : When there are several motions which cover substantially the same ground or relate to the same subject, I will call on the mover first, then on the other gentlemen turn by turn. Thus the motions shall be discussed together but if and when they are put to the vote of the House, they will be put separately.

Sardar Hari Singh : I was going to submit that only a few days ago our worthy Premier announced on the floor of this House that he was going to appoint an expert inquiry committee to go into the question of land assessment to explore and apply another system based on the principles of income-tax. However, much we on this side may differ from the worthy Premier on the question of the personnel of the Committee and on the question of the terms of reference which have been imposed on this Committee, I must say that this announcement constitutes a landmark in the history of land revenue policy in India, subject to the proviso that the necessary will and the necessary determination behind this move are there. If there is the necessary motive force behind this announcement, then we shall welcome it, because it means that there is going to be a break with the past land revenue policy of Government. Is that what the announcement means ? When you are going to overhaul the whole land revenue system of Government you are going to demolish the foundation on which the old system is based. The Government in making this announcement has made a most welcome admission that the present system of land revenue assessment is out of tune with the times, because it is based on rotten foundations, and that it must be done away with and a new system introduced into this province which may bring a new heaven and a new earth for the woe-begotten province of the Punjab and a new and better life for the peasant.

If you are really anxious to bring a new system into being, to demolish the whole structure of the present land revenue system, which, I take it, the Government condemns by this announcement, then I submit, would it not be desirable, nay, would it not be necessary for the Government to postpone the settlement operations that are now going on in the various parts of the Punjab? The reason why I suggest this is that the present settlements are based on the present system of land revenue which is going to be demolished. If you are going to change the fundamental basis of the old system, it is desirable, nay essential, in order to inspire confidence in the public that your announcement is quite genuine that the Government should give an earnest of their desire to revise the old system by forthwith ordering the postponement of all settlement operations until at least the report of the committee appointed by it is received. The people will not be satisfied by the announcement if the settlement operations under the old system are to continue. They will observe that the motives of the Government are not bona fide. They will conclude that the Government is only trying to play a trick. Therefore I would submit, I would implore the Government most humbly and most respectfully that the Honourable Premier who at the moment is responsible for the announcement should also give proof of the earnestness of his motives by postponing the settlement operations which constitutes unnecessary burden on the people of the province. With these words I support the motion.

Sardar Rur Singh (Ferozepore East, Sikh, Rural) (Punjabi): Sir, it is said that reassessment and settlement operations are intended for the good of the zamindars, but I should like to ask the Government why at the time of Jaribkashi areas of some lands are shown to be greater than they really are and vice versa. It has been said from the opposite benches that all settlement operations are meant for the benefit and well-being of the country, but my contention is that they are meant to harm the people. I think you are aware of the fact that in every settlement operation land revenue is increased and not decreased. Where is the necessity for conducting settlement operations again and again in the province? It is obvious that the land remains where it was and as it was. It does not expand with heat. It has been urged by Government again and again that these operations are intended for the well being of the people concerned. But in my opinion it is just the other way. There is a world of difference between what is said and what is actually done. These settlement operations are as deceptive as the tusks of the elephant. He has got one set of teeth for chewing and another set for mere show. If the Government really intend to do something for the good of the zamindars, it is time they paid attention to the prices of agricultural produce, which are going down everyday. It is a pity that the Government are neither paying any attention to the fall in the prices of agricultural produce nor are they giving a thought to the deleterious effects of recurring settlements. If the settlement operations were really intended for the good of the people concerned, no one would be happier than ourselves.

Premier (The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan): I had no intention of joining in this debate, but my honourable friend opposite, Sardar Hari Singh, has compelled me to say a few words. Let me at the outset point out to him that so long as the present system is not substituted by a better system, the present system will hold and we cannot condemn it until we can find a better substitute for it.

Sardar Hari Singh : You have condemned the present system by your announcement.

Premier : No. If as a result of that expert enquiry we come to the conclusion that assessment on income tax basis is practicable and feasible and that it would be in the interests of the province to introduce that system, we would certainly see that the new system is introduced. (Inter-ruption). I am as anxious as honourable members to consider plans for revising our present system of land revenue so as to bring it into line with income tax system.

Sardar Hari Singh : Does not the announcement mean that the Government is not satisfied with the present state of affairs ?

Premier : The Government has to be satisfied that the present state of affairs can be replaced by a better substitute.

Sardar Hari Singh : When does the necessity for a substitute arise ?

Premier : The honourable member is anticipating the report of the expert committee. I am not so foolhardy as not to wait for the report of the committee before coming to a conclusion. I might add that if I were one of the constituents of the honourable member, I would at once say ' God save me from my friends.' He says that we should stop all settlements everywhere because we are going to change the system and replace it by another system. He evidently does not know that from every district where the old settlement is expiring or has already expired people have come to me asking for resettlement.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : On a point of order. Is it not a personal aspersion to use the expression ' God save me from my friends ' in reference to a member of this House ?

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member may interpret the expression as he likes.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : Is it not unparliamentary to use that expression with reference to a member of this House ?

Mr. Speaker : There is nothing unparliamentary in it.

Premier : I merely said that if I was one of the constituents of the honourable member opposite I would say, ' God save me from my friends.'

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Then, your choice of friends is wrong.

Premier : As I tried to point out, I have received representations, and very strong representations that reassessments of the districts should be taken in hand at once. For instance I went to Gurgaon last month and the Zamindara League there presented an address and pressed upon me that the resettlement should be taken in hand immediately. The honourable member does not know that we have now introduced a sliding scale of assessment which is based on the current prices with the result that immediate relief is afforded. (An honourable member : Paper prices or assumed.

prices). The proof of the pudding is in the eating thereof. We have just finished the re-assessment of the Lyallpur district and the remission now as compared with the previous assessment as based on 1932 prices is nearly 30 lakhs. (Interruption). My honourable friend is merely talking theoretically but he has not been able to understand the system. If he will come and discuss this matter with me I will be able to point out to him where his fallacy lies.

As I was saying, the proof of the pudding is in the eating of it. In Lyallpur, as compared with the 1932 prices the people have received a remission of nearly 30 lakhs of rupees as compared with the previous assessment. During the last two harvests they have received a remission of 17 lakhs hard cash. Thus you see the benefit of the sliding scale. The honourable member opposite did not probably realise that the sliding scale gives a definite benefit to the zamindar as compared with the previous assessment; and that is why the people are anxious that if the old settlements have expired or are about to expire in a few months we should take up re-assessment of the district. I think this must satisfy the honourable member. As I have said already, the honourable member is merely talking theory and does not know anything about the present system or for that matter about land revenue system at all.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh (Western Hoshiarpur, General, Rural) (Urdu): Sir, I rise to support my honourable friend Sardar Hari Singh. The present system of settlement may be likened to the kit of a juggler who uses it in manipulating things. Similarly Government makes use of this system according to its own sweet will. It is an irony of fate that when a zamindar sinks a well in his five acres of land, at his own expense or uses artificial manure to increase the productivity of his land and bears all the expenses connected with cultivation, the only benefit that accrues to him is that Government enhances his land revenue. May I ask the Government whether they are dealing even-handed justice to the zamindars? It is the height of inequity that when the zamindar increases the produce of his land by his own efforts, the Government should step in and assess his land at the enhanced rates and place his land in a higher class.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is not speaking to the motion.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Sir, the Honourable Premier has just remarked that whenever settlement is carried out, a definite reduction is made in the land revenue. He has cited the case of the Lyallpur district. Every year remission is granted to that district. This year also remission to the extent of six annas in the rupee has been granted to the Lyallpur district. Sir, my submission is that if the Government were actually to reduce the land revenue, they would be saved the trouble of making settlements again and again. If the Honourable Premier were to read Prof. Brij Narain's works dispassionately, he would realize as to how far the professor is justified in holding the opinion that he does in regard to this matter. I would also like to point out that Government is not following a uniform policy whenever and wherever re-settlement is conducted. Officers concerned place lands of some of their favourites in class III. If I am permitted I will cite instances to show that in many villages the lands of people who are not in the good books of the Government officials, have been placed in class I.

Premier : On a point of order, Sir. The honourable member is not relevant. There is a separate cut No. 13 with regard to classification of lands.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Sir, with these words I support the cut motion of Sardar Sampuran Singh.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh (Amritsar, North, Sikh, Rural), (Urdu) : Sir, I wish to draw the attention of the House to a very urgent and important matter.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : On a point of order, Sir. My honourable friend, who comes from my constituency and who has been favouring us with a series of questions in beautiful English, is beginning his speech in Urdu.

Mr. Speaker : May I ask the honourable member whether he can speak English or not ?

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Sir, I cannot express myself adequately in English.

Mr. Speaker : I think I should take his word to be correct.

Premier : The honourable member is not a B.A., LL.B., so he ought to be allowed to speak in Urdu.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Sir, I was submitting that the motion before the House is an urgent and important one. At present the re-settlement of Amritsar district is being carried out, as a result of which the zamindars and peasants of that place are undergoing great hardships. They are compelled to supply Jhandibardars and Jaribkashes. They are threatened that in case they fail to do so they will be charged in addition to the land revenue extra money for the entertainment of jhandibardars and jaribkashes.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : On a point of order, Sir. With regard to this there is a separate cut No. 12.

Mr. Speaker : He can speak on it even now.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : Then I rise to another point of order, with regard to this cut. The cut suggested by the honourable member cannot be given effect to without legislation being amended. It is in the same position as the cut dealing with lambardars and zilladars.

Mr. Speaker : How ?

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : Because all these settlement proceedings are regulated by section 152 of the Land Revenue Act which reads as follows :—

A revenue officer may give and apportion the cost of any proceeding under this Act in any manner he thinks fit.

It clearly says that the apportionment of costs rests with the revenue officer just as the appointment of lambardars and zilladars rests with the Financial Commissioner, and the honourable member wants that the discretion of the revenue officer may be restricted, that he may be given forced instructions which could not be done without amendment of legislation.

Premier : The note appended to the amendment intended to be moved by the honourable member reads—

That the expenses of the jaribkashes and jhandibardars should be borne by the Government.

What does that show ?

Mr. Speaker : Will the honourable member please explain what it means ?

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Sir, my submission is, that if the Government can bear the expenses of tahsildars, naib-tahsildars, patwaris, etc., can they not meet the expenses of these jhandi bardars and jaribkashes ? The condition of peasants is very pitiable. They are already crushed under the burden of land revenue, water rates, expenses of middlemen, etc.

Mr. Speaker : Does the honourable member mean that the money is recovered from the zamindars and paid to these people ? Who is paying at present ?

3 P. M.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Zamindars.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : The section reads—

A revenue officer may give and apportion the costs of any proceeding under this Act in any manner he thinks fit.

And my friend wants to restrict the discretion of the revenue officer.

Mr. Speaker : What does the expression ' apportion the costs ' mean ? Does it mean that he may apportion the costs to anybody he likes and recover the same from the zamindars ?

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Sir, what I mean to say is that the expenses of jhandibardars and jaribkashes should be borne by Government and the zamindars should not be burdened on that account.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : The statement made by my honourable friend confirms the point I was raising. What he wants is that this clause should read like this :

A revenue officer may give and apportion the costs of any proceeding under this Act in any manner he thinks fit :

Provided that the expenses of the jaribkashes and jhandibardars shall be borne by the Government.

That means a legislative amendment.

Mr. Speaker : May I know whether the Government or the Financial Commissioner has made any rules under the Act ?

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : On a point of order. Is the Financial Commissioner, sitting in the official gallery, entitled to issue instructions at the time when the matter is being discussed on the floor of the House ?

Mr. Speaker : What instructions ?

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : Generally, on the subject under discussion. An honourable member has taken a book from the Financial Commissioner with pages flagged.

Mr. Speaker : If an honourable member wants some information or somebody wants him to come out, can he not go out and see him ?

Diwan Chaman Lall : Quite true, Mr. Speaker. But the point is whether any official has any business to make use of the official gallery to pass information or literature ? If he wants to give it, he can go out into the lobby.

Mr. Speaker : It was at the request of the chair that the Leader of the House had to collect some information. Could he not get it from a certain official ?

Diwan Chaman Lall : We have no objection to that. What we object to is the use of the floor of this House for that purpose.

Mr. Speaker : How is it used ?

Diwan Chaman Lall : The floor of the House is used for passing on the information. He should go out into the lobby and get the information.

Mr. Speaker : Is it within the Chamber or outside the Chamber ? These boxes to my right and my left are outside the floor of the House.

Premier : I believe my friend's objection is that the member should not have taken the book from the floor of the House. He should have gone out and taken the book from the official. If so, I think that that procedure is correct. (Cheers).

Mr. Speaker : What is objectionable is that the member has taken the book standing on the floor of the House. He could have gone to the box from the other side and taken the book. (Cheers).

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh (Urdu) : What actually happens is that peasants are compelled either to pay for 'Jaribkashes,' or provide labour instead. People have put in numerous complaints against this hardship, particularly the peasants of the Amritsar district have submitted thousands of petitions praying that Government may very kindly accept responsibility for the payment of this expenditure, but to no effect. Moreover the Jaribkashi rates differ at different places. From some villages this due is charged at the rate of 1½ anna while from other villages it is recovered at the rate of 1½ annas, there being no uniformity in rates. Unless this due is paid up, either the land revenue is not accepted, from a peasant, or if it is accepted at all—the receipt thereof is withheld till his arrears of Jaribkashi have been cleared. If a poor peasant is unable to pay this, he is subjected to various kinds of hardships. Our request is that these dues may be recovered after the Government has passed definite orders on the point and our request is not acceded to.

Another inconvenience to which peasants are subjected is that sometimes orders are issued by a settlement tahsildar or naib-tahsildar requiring the presence of zamindars on certain days and at certain places, and, in obedience to these orders the zamindars punctually turn up leaving whatever business they have in hand to find to their chagrin that the tehsildar or naib-tahsildar has not come. At last the poor people return disappointed. This happens over and over again, till an officer turns up after some five days, and, if unfortunately, the zamindars do not come at that time, the officer is infuriated and inflicts all sorts of punishments upon them. Moreover, Sir, our greatest misfortune is that whenever we cry for bread, you bid us wait till you are convinced by some committee or commission that we really need bread. But I would submit that the prices of agricultural produce have fallen. The peasants have been reduced to abject poverty. These facts are patent to every one, yet the Government has taken no steps to end the miseries of the poor zamindars.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : I have been able to find the relevant section. Section 106 of the Land Revenue Act reads as follows :—

For the purposes of the survey of any land in pursuance of rules under section 46, the landowners shall be bound to provide fit persons to act as flag-holders and chairmen.

If the landowners fail to provide such persons or to provide them in sufficient number such other persons as a revenue officer considers necessary may be employed and the cost of employing them recovered from the landowners as if it were an arrear of land-revenue.

Mr. Speaker : The motion (No. 19¹ on the list standing in the name of Sardar Sohan Singh Josh) is therefore out of order.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : Sir, this point cannot be raised at this stage.

Mr. Speaker : An amendment can be overruled at any stage if the Chair considers it to be out of order

The Honourable Minister for Revenue may reply with regard to cuts Nos. 11 and 12.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majitha) : Sir, many points have been made by my friend Mian Mushtaq Ahmed and by some other speakers, but with your permission, I propose to deal with a few of those relating to settlement of the Jhelum district. This settlement is as old as 1901. It was started principally for the purpose of revision of the record of rights and the revision of the maps which are most important for the administration of land revenue, and unless these maps are corrected and brought up-to-date, the work of administration would be hampered. Not only this, but the zamindars cannot get proper information from the patwaris if maps are wrong. Therefore as the settlement was rather old, many of the records required revision. In some cases the settlement has been made at such rates as require reduction. Therefore it was considered advisable and economical that we should start the settlement along with the revision of rights rather than take them up separately. We have appointed a settlement officer who is going to the district with an assistant settlement officer and his staff. The settlement operation commences in October next. The portion of the demand that is being placed before this House refers to the settlement operations during this year only, demand in respect to future work will appear in the next year's budget.

I am very glad to find that my friend Sardar Sampuran Singh has given due praise to the sliding scale. Some people during the course of the discussion of the budget said on the floor of the House that paper concessions ¹That the item of Rs. 2,58,900 on account of Survey and Settlement Parties be reduced by Rs. 2,58,899.

Remarks :—That the expenses of the Jarib kashes and Jhandi bardars should be borne by the Government.

have only been given and that there are no remissions that have been granted under this sliding scale. My honourable friend the Premier has told you, and I may supplement what he said by saying that remissions have been given ranging between 29 and 31 per cent. in Lyallpur. I do not think that is a paper concession. Anybody saying that these are only paper concessions is trying to give wrong information to this House.

My friend said that settlement operations in the districts cause a great deal of inconvenience to the people. Suggestions have been put forward in this House, Sir, that settlements should be done on the basis of income-tax. Do my friends realise that settlements that come after 40 years cause so much trouble to the people that they do not like to have settlements and perhaps they prefer to have permanent settlement in the province? How would they like every year assessment of the income of the zamindars? I should like to know whether that point has been kept in mind by my friend. Forty years inquisition—if I may use the expression—is going to be looked into by the Committee which has been appointed, whose result we await with great expectation and we will consider the question when it comes before us after the report is ready. But when they think those settlement operations, which are done after every 40 years, oppressive to the people, how would they like every year's inquisition when the settlement is made on the basis of income-tax?

Minister for Revenue : I do not think that after the thing has been introduced on the basis of income, there will be any sliding scale left. There will be no necessity of having any sliding scale when the basis of assessment is income. However, I need not labour that point any more. That is a question which is going to come up later on. My friend Sardar Sampuran Singh said that whenever settlements are taken in hand, they are always taken with the object of trying to increase land revenue assessment. He has not given any instances to substantiate his point. I hold, Sir, that settlements are not necessarily made with the idea of enhancing the revenue but they are made with the idea to see that land is properly assessed, and that some people, whose land is good, have to pay more, while others whose land is bad have to pay less. Therefore there is this differentiation. We have to see that everybody is equitably assessed. Now, Sir, the Premier has cleared the point that when the report of the Committee, which is to be presided over by Mr. Darling, and which is to go into the intricacies of the question, is placed before the Government, I will see that it is carefully considered. If the report is such that we can adopt it, necessary steps will be taken to amend the Revenue Act. Now, some of my friends said that there are difficulties in the administration of land. I assure the House that if these difficulties of the zamindars are brought to my notice, I shall deal with them as sympathetically as I can. They can depend upon this that if there are any difficulties in the way of the zamindars I, as a zamindar, know those difficulties and I sympathise with the zamindars and will do my best to remove them. I will, with your permission, say that if there are any genuine difficulties or grievances regarding the working of the revenue administration in the province those may be referred to me as member of the Government and I assure you that all suggestions will be referred to the Darling Committee to be looked into and reported upon and we will do our best to remove those grievances (cheers).

Sardar Sampuran Singh (Lyallpur West, Sikh, Rural) : Sir, I appreciate some of the arguments brought forward by my honourable friend Mian Mushtaq Ahmad and the Honourable Revenue Minister. I make my speech subject to those view points which they have expressed. I quite agree that settlements are always welcomed when they are started because of the idea of reduction of revenue, but at the end we always find that revenue is never reduced. I am saying this from experience. My statement was challenged by the Honourable Minister for Revenue when he said that we should mention instances. I would just tell him, start from the north of the Punjab and go to the southernmost district of the province and see the annals and history of settlements and you will find that in every case revenue has been increased. Will that satisfy him or should I mention any particular district? Wait for a year more, and you will find in your own district of Amritsar the same thing happening.

Minister for Revenue : I will certainly wait for that.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : Two very good instances have been given of these operations of settlements and I submit that they are correct ones. In cases like that of Pind Dadan Khan and other places in the neighbourhood of Khewra Mines I admit that the lands have really gone bad and perhaps total reduction of land revenue or remission of revenue may be necessary, but such special cases can be dealt with without starting these expensive operations of recurring settlements after short periods.

Minister for Revenue : They would not be for short periods hereafter.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : The correction of record of rights in special cases like that of Pind Dadan Khan and the neighbouring places are exceptional and can always be remedied by the ordinary and permanent settlement staff of the land revenue department and there is no necessity of undergoing such heavy expenses on settlements for a few instances here and there in the province. The Honourable Minister for Revenue has mentioned that people do not like settlements which recur after 20 years or 40 years, how would they like assessments in their villages under the Income-tax system being held every year?

Minister for Revenue : You have said that.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : He forgets that we want that system to be introduced on the understanding that we expect that the people who earn less than a thousand rupees from the land would not be taxed and we presume that those people who are now paying 50 per cent., 40 per cent. or 25 per cent. will have to pay only one or two per cent. of their income. Give us settlements every year if you agree to these conditions. It has been said by my friend Mr. Gurmani that on account of the new canals being introduced in some parts of the province these lands have to be specially dealt with on account of their income having been increased. I would tell him that in these cases Government gains in two ways. They get water rate for the land irrigated. This is number one and number two is that lands which were not under cultivation are now under cultivation and the land revenue has increased. Is not the Government satisfied with these two gains? I think it should be satisfied with these additional sources of new income and should not think it necessary to hold settlements for these areas. It has also been said that under the new sliding scale in the Lyallpur district 29 lakhs of rupees has been remitted to the zamindars. I am not exact about the figures but that is what I understood.

Minister for Revenue : 29 per cent.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : But the Government seem to forget the fact, I would not say they intentionally did so, nor would I say that they are ignorant of this fact, because they are supposed to be knowing everything, but they forget this fact that if they remitted 29 lakhs, they have increased it by perhaps 85 lakhs and thus the balance is still on the credit side. In the end I would say that whether we sit on this side of the House or on that side, the question of doing good to the zamindars is more or less common to all of us and I expect all those who hail from the rural areas and are in touch with the people and know their difficulties and the hardships under which they live, will sympathise with the motion I have made and they would see that the Government agree to it, but if they do not, I expect that the honourable members of this House, as well-wishers of the rural classes of this poor province, would vote for the motion (hear, hear).

Syed Afzaal Ali Hasnie : Have you then decided not to withdraw the motion?

Sardar Sampuran Singh : I never suggested that I will withdraw.

Minister for Revenue : My honourable friend wanted some further information about the Lyallpur district and I beg your permission to furnish him. Outwardly the assessment has been increased from Rs. 2 to Rs. 2-4-0 or from Rs. 6 to Rs. 7-8-0 but in the coming five years no such increase has to be taken into account.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : I know that.

Minister for Revenue : No increase will be taken, the assessment will remain on the same basis as it was at the last settlement and remission will be given still on the sliding scale. That is the point which I wanted to bring clearly to the notice of my honourable friend.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : I know it and I spoke subject to that knowledge.

Minister for Revenue : The second point that I wanted to make is that in the new assessment when commutation prices rise to a certain level the assessment which has been announced would be taken and not the earlier one. First of all for the five years there will be no increase in the demand from the present rates. If the prices go up to the level of the present rates, the five years assessment will remain up to that limit and if it is below those rates, the remission would be granted according to the sliding scale system. But if the prices go up beyond the scale at which they have been fixed, and at which announcement has been made, that the new assessment will come into force, then and then alone will the rise in demand take place. But where the Government demand is fixed, there is no limit placed upon the remission that is to be given to the people. If the prices go down to 12 annas in some cases Government will still give remission but if the prices go down lower still, the whole system would be overhauled. Therefore, my friend must understand that where Government is going to give remission, they are going to give remissions throughout when the prices are low, but when the prices go up to commutation prices, the demand from zamindars would never increase beyond that even if the prices go higher, as they went during the war period. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the item of Rs. 2,58,900 on account of Survey and Settlement Parties be omitted.

Sardar Hari Singh (Kangra and Northern Hoshiarpur, Sikh, Rural) :
 I beg to move—

That the item of Rs. 2,58,900 on account of Survey and Settlement Parties be reduced by Rs. 2,58,899.

The motion was put and lost.

Dress of Members.

Sayed Afzaal Ali Hasnie : I wonder, Sir, if there are any rules in the matter of dress to be worn by honourable members in this House. One honourable member was just seen in the lobby only in an underwear. May I know whether a mere underwear is permissible in the House ?

Mr. Speaker : So far as I know there are no rules on the point, but what I have observed during the past thirteen years is that gentlemen come decently dressed and that is all, I think, that is required. No special dress or uniform is prescribed by rules.

Classification of lands.

Khwaja Ghulam Hussain (Multan Division Towns, Muhammadan, Urban) : I beg to move—

That the item of Rs. 2,58,900 be reduced by Rs. 100.

My object in tabling this motion is to point out the defects in the classification of lands during settlement operations. The complaint precisely is this that the method adopted by settlement officers is defective. What is being done at present is this. The naib-tahsildars and tahsildars prepare the maps and they put black marks and red marks on certain specific areas. The settlement officer who is in charge of the operations goes to the villages and makes a most cursory inspection. My information is that he usually goes on horseback and runs through the village and he depends entirely on the work done by the subordinates, with the result that people are generally dissatisfied with the classification which is practically done by the naib-tahsildars. My submission is that in the matter of classification innumerable complaints arise on account of the cursory manner in which this thing is done. If the settlement officer or a responsible assistant of his goes to the spot and looks into the things personally, I am sure that these complaints will be considerably less. But under the present system the work is entrusted to subordinates, generally to patwaris, and from the number of appeals that have been lodged against the present classification, at least in the Lyallpur district, it will be obvious to anybody that there is some inherent defect in the classification. My object now is to point out this defect to the authorities in order that in future no such complaint should arise. So far as the Lyallpur district is concerned, this question is more or less of an academic nature, because the settlement operations have finished there. The only things now pending there are the appeals with regard to these classifications. If the Government is kind enough to issue directions to the Commissioner, with whom these appeals are pending, to go to the spot in some cases, then I think it will be doing a great favour to the people who feel aggrieved as a result of this classification.

Mr. Speaker : Demand under consideration, motion moved—

That the item of Rs. 2,58,900 be reduced by Rs. 100.

Khan Bahadur Raja Muhammad Akram Khan (Jhelum, Muhammadan, Rural) (Urdu) : It has been alleged that classification of land is not carried out in the presence of the settlement officer, on the other hand it is based on reports made by patwaris and other subordinates. It is not correct. In the "Barani Naqas" tahsildars and naib-tahsildars alter the classes of land after inspecting the site. The patwaris and girdawars are not allowed to make any alteration in the classification of land until the officers incharge of the circle have so decided as the result of inspection of the site.

My honourable friend Khwaja Ghulam Hussain said just now that squares of land in the Lyallpur district have been divided into three different classes and land revenue is assessed in accordance with the fertility of the soil in the three different classes, i.e., first class land is charged at the rate of Rs. 8 ; second class land is charged at the rate of Rs. 2 and third class land is charged at the rate of Re. 1 per acre. In my opinion this is a very fair distribution. If all lands were assessed to the same amount land revenue it would prove harmful to the zamindars concerned. You are aware that some portions of land are kallar, some are sandy, while others are rocky. If all kinds of land were assessed to the same amount of land revenue, it would not be appropriate and just. I assure the honourable members opposite that in canal irrigated areas the settlement officer himself assesses the land revenue per square of land after inspecting the site and he himself approves the and classification. The objection raised by my honourable friend was why squares of land are classified in different categories. I should like to tell him that if this were not done both the landlords and the abadkars stand to lose. If the lands of a village are assessed without any variation, there would be many an abadkar who would raise objection as to why their inferior lands have been assessed at the same rate as the superior lands of other abadkars. I also want to tell you that land revenue assessed according to different classes of land does not tend to increase the total amount of land revenue. On the other hand the burden of land revenue is equally divided amongst different classes of lands, and in this way everybody is charged according to his "hasiyat." Had my honourable friend asked the opinion of some poor zamindar in this matter he would never have raised this objection.

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath (East Punjab, Landholders) : Sir, I do not understand the object of the mover of this cut. What does he mean when he says 'to discuss the classification of lands' ? Does he mean the classification of land as regards irrigation, that is, chahi, nehri, sailabi or abi or how much land is chahi and how much nehri ? Now all that must depend on the records which have been systematically kept for the preceding few years. Then there is another system of classification of land, that is to say, what is the productivity of the soil, whether it is chahi or nehri or abi. So far as this classification is concerned, it will depend largely on the enquiry which the settlement officers make from the zamindars who have a general knowledge of the place. I would not exclude the system of inspection by settlement officers. I think it is impossible for one officer to inspect all the villages and to do the inspection thoroughly of a district in the course of 2 or 3 years during which the settlement operations are to be completed. He has to entrust the duties of inspection to his assistants also and I have not been able to find that the selection of assistants is made on wrong principle. The best and most experienced men are selected. I have myself undergone various settlements, that is to say, my lands have been subjected to periodical settlements. I have had no occasion to complain of wrong assessments. So it is the settlement officer and his assistants who have to do this classification work and they have to depend upon previous records. There is no other course. I do not know what the honourable mover means by finding fault with classification.

Now, there is another point. If a land-owner finds that his land has been wrongly classified, that is, put under a wrong head, he is—if he is intelligent or has an intelligent adviser by his side—at perfect liberty to bring the mistake to the notice of the settlement officer. I have myself done so recently with regard to my own land. (A voice: Everyone is not intelligent.) Well, perhaps, every land-owner is not intelligent but every land-owner has an intelligent adviser by his side. So I do not understand, so far as the classification is concerned, what defect there is in the system. Unless I understand what the honourable mover means, I cannot decide to support him.

Sardar Sampuran Singh (Lyallpur West, Sikh, Rural): Sir, the honourable Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath has just said that the quality of the land, that is, the productivity of a certain land is ordinarily judged by the enquiry from those people who have local knowledge of the place (Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath: And also by inspection) and also by inspection. I do not want to say anything about my own district, because I am a zamindar and one should be always afraid of the revenue authorities. (Hear, hear). But speaking from my general experience of the whole province, I may say that this enquiry is in these days held by riding a fast pony and by galloping through miles and miles and coming back to headquarters in the evening and telling the people that I know every inch of the area. That is how the enquiry from people who have local knowledge of the place and by inspection is done in these days, because this is an age of motor cars and I think they consider it quite sufficient to pass through miles and miles in a short period of time on horse back.

This subject has given me an opportunity to explain the point of remission of a very large amount of money in certain districts by the Honourable Revenue Minister. I particularly desire that the Honourable Revenue Minister should hear me on this subject. Firstly, the classification of land in the Lyallpur district. We know that in theory—as the Government is pleased to say—the revenue is raised from Rs. 4-8-0 to Rs. 6, that is, the highest revenue goes up to Rs. 9. I am taking a very ordinary instance and would say that in so many cases it has been raised from Rs. 4-8-0 to Rs. 6. It is possible that according to sliding scale revenue may go down. But under the conditions prevalent to-day he will get a remission of Re. 1. That means his revenue actually has been raised from Rs. 4-8-0 to Rs. 5. (Question).

Premier: The honourable member has not understood the sliding scale at all.

Sardar Sampuran Singh: Excuse me, Sir, I am talking on a greater authority than your papers and records.

Minister for Revenue: No revenue is to be raised for 5 years.

Sardar Sampuran Singh: Sir, the Honourable Minister for Revenue is kind to remark that for 5 years no revenue is to be raised.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member should speak to the motion.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : It is to the motion.

Mr. Speaker : No. The motion which is under discussion does not relate to revenue, but to classification of lands.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : I am sorry. I submit to your ruling. I would say how the classification affects the zamindars ? The land is raised from 3rd class to 2nd class or 1st class. The revenue, as it should have been, goes up to Rs. 6 and when the remission is made it goes down to Rs. 5. All the same it is raised though in theory it is not to be raised.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is again irrelevant.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : So far as the zamindars are concerned, there are two points in classification which are extremely unfair. Some times the classification is made, not only on the quality of land, but on the person who possesses it. If it happens to be owned by an Arain or Jat the classification is higher.

If it belongs to the original tribes of the colony district—whom I would not like to call junglis—(An honourable member: Then why call them so?)—because officials would call them so and I am quoting official records.

Premier : They are called 'locals'.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : Their land is classified on a lower scale. I think that is only putting premium on bad work. If a person works hard, he should not be made to suffer. That should not be the policy. Another thing is that hard working people may improve their lands. Some people spend money on sinking wells and some people use artificial manure and improve their lands. Again some people spend money on tractors and by hard work make their land porous and consequently improve their production. But at the same time their classification is also raised and nobody cares to take into consideration how much money the man has spent on improving his land. This Government under the present system would not consider the question of the cost of production and consequently these things never count when the land is classified. So far as practical agriculture is concerned and the question of actual capacity of payment of land revenue is concerned, all these points should be considered when the lands are classified. Matters should be improved and justice done to the people.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh, Majithia) : The honourable mover of the motion has not gone deep into the question and he has merely relied on one or two statements. He said that the underlings inspect these things and he includes among them the naib-tahsildars as well and that the settlement officers ride hurriedly through the portion and the whole inspection is done. I am glad that he did not say that they go in motor cars. But I may tell my honourable friend that in the inspection of these lands for purposes of classification of land, every square of land is very carefully inspected not only once by the so-called underlings as he says, but by the assistant settlement officer and then by the settlement officer and in several cases, there is not one inspection but two or three inspections are made in respect of each square, so that the settlement officer satisfies himself that the classification has been properly made and unless he is satisfied he does not enter the land in the new classification. I may further say that in the Lyallpur district the settlement officer has done this work so very carefully that not a single complaint has come up. But in cases where objection is taken, there is a right of appeal to the Commissioner and from him to the Financial Commissioner. The Commissioner and the Financial Commissioner are not sitting in their houses at Lahore; they go on tour and inspect these places and devote their time in seeing whether the settlement work is going on satisfactorily and properly. When even the higher officers of Government are giving all their attention to this question, my honourable friend should have no occasion to say that the classification is done hurriedly and without proper inspection.

As regards the classification, my honourable friend, Raja Sahib, has referred to several points. I am not going to deal with them. The different kinds of land are considered before final classification is decided on. I need not detain the House any longer. If my honourable friends have any complaints and if they are not satisfied, they can get just consideration from the higher authorities who are expected to take necessary action, and if any wrong is done it will be set right.

Khawaja Ghulam Hussain : In view of the assurance that has been given by the Honourable Revenue Minister, I will not press this motion to a division. I only wish to point out for his information that the thing to which I explicitly referred in my speech was the cursory method in which classification is done. I do not deny that the settlement officers go to the places nor do I wish to say that the work should not be entrusted to their subordinates. It has got to be done by subordinates in certain cases. But what I suggest is this: the manner in which classification is done is not satisfactory and in proof of that I submitted that there are so many appeals to my knowledge which are pending with the learned Commissioner and are being dealt with by him. I have placed the point of view before the Honourable Revenue Minister so that instructions may be issued to the effect that if there is any grievance of the people on the score of classification, it should not be summarily dealt with.

The motion was by leave withdrawn.

Policy governing resettlement operations in Amritsar.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood (Amritsar, Muhammadan, Rural): Sir, I beg to move—

That the item of Rs. 2,58,900 on account of Survey and Settlement Parties be reduced by Rs. 100.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : On a point of order. I reluctantly rise to submit before you that in the light of the ruling given by you already this motion may be declared out of order. Because the honourable member wants to raise discussion on the policy underlying resettlement operations in Amritsar. As you are aware, a reference was made by the honourable mover of this motion to section 33 (a) of the Land Revenue Act wherein it is laid down that it is open to the Government to have periodical settlement operations in a particular district. The second reason I submit as to why this motion may be ruled out is that this item of Rs. 2,58,900 relates to the total amount in regard to all the districts. If the object of my friend was to raise the question relating to the settlement operations throughout the province he could have certainly moved a motion like this. But there is a separate item under the detailed heads, concerning the settlement operations in Amritsar. Instead of moving a cut under that detailed head, he has given notice under the total head and this total includes settlement operations at Jhelum, Amritsar, Lahore and Lyallpur. Now the House would find itself under a very great handicap in regard to voting. For if this motion is passed it would mean that we are censuring the Government for the policy underlying the settlement operations in all the four districts.

It is quite possible that some members may feel inclined to censure Government for settlement operations in Amritsar, but by supporting this cut they would be, as a matter of fact, censuring the government for settlements in all the districts. This certainly is not right. What reason is there for raising a matter which has already been discussed and voted upon by this House? Any matter which has been discussed and disposed of by the House cannot be taken up in the same session.

Mr. Speaker : What matter is the honourable member referring to ?

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : The matter of settlement policy. I would draw your attention to amendment No. 11 which has been disposed of and also the policy underlying that demand. Therefore so far as the question of the discussion of the policy is concerned, the House has already disposed it of, and after having once recorded its votes on the demand, this question cannot be discussed, and if it only relates to Amritsar, in that case he is wrong in moving it. I would, therefore, submit that in view of the ruling which you have already given, this motion is out of order.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Sir, may I with your permission, and as a very humble member of this House, understand the position that is being taken up by certain members on the Government benches in regard to the point of order raised? This is a very vital matter, as it seems to me, and might result in stifling the debate regarding this particular demand. I would, first of all, before I offer you my remarks, like to know exactly the point that is being raised by my honourable friend. As I take it there are two issues which he is raising. One is that in regard to this particular amendment, the honourable member who moved this reduction, is not in order because this matter has already been discussed. That is No. 1. No. 2 is that he is not in order because of certain ruling which has been given. Am I correct? I want to be perfectly clear.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : Periodical operations are permissible under the Land Revenue Act. Unless the legislation is changed, in view of Mr. Speaker's ruling, this cannot be discussed.

Diwan Chaman Lall : My honourable friend has made the position perfectly clear. Therefore the real objection, as I take it, resolves itself into two and not three points because it is permissible under the existing legislation. Therefore to challenge the policy underlying that action by means of reduction moved is not permissible in this House. I do submit that this proposition is so wide that it will be impossible for any member to discuss any sort of policy underlying that demand for grant if that wide proposition is accepted. Not only am I amazed at my learned friend who raised a proposition like this; but if this contention is correct, then the demand for land revenue, which is now presented before you, no discussion can take place because the law says that you shall collect so much money. It is utterly impossible to continue discussion of the budget if this very narrow, restricted and unwarranted attitude is adopted by my honourable friend.

In regard to the second point which has been raised, I submit that the honourable member who moved the reduction is entirely within his right to move the reduction in order to discuss the policy relating to Amritsar. I cannot understand how his voice can be throttled by the interpretation which is sought to be put by the honourable member sitting behind him—the interpretation which he chose to place on the right of honourable members to discuss any reduction motion or cut motion. I submit that we are within our right, if there is legislation, to challenge the policy of the Government when they come up and demand a certain sum of money from us, to challenge the policy underlying a particular demand which they are asking us to grant them. If that were not possible no discussion on a matter of this description, could be possible on the floor of the House. I submit my honourable friend has been a little more zealous than he ought to have been in regard to this matter, because he may find presently that he is also desirous of discussing certain details of the budget, which, if his interpretation were accepted, he would not be allowed to do. I assert, and I assert with all the vigour that I command, that if this interpretation—a most novel interpretation—were to be put on the budget, no discussion of any demand would be possible on the floor of the House.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : It is a criticism of the ruling of the Chair.

Diwan Chaman Lall : I have no desire to accept the verdict of my honourable friend, because I have no desire to challenge the ruling of the Chair (laughter). Honourable members over there will make themselves utterly ridiculous by the laughter that has come from those benches, because they do not understand the position of the Opposition. I have no desire to challenge the ruling once given by the Chair (hear, hear), because the Opposition is equally desirous to uphold the dignity of the Chair as any member sitting on those benches. But we have every reason, Mr. Speaker, to draw attention to the methods that are being adopted—wrong methods—and wrong advice being given to you in regard to the throttling of discussion on the floor of the House. I do submit, Mr. Speaker, that you will give the widest latitude to honourable members on this side or that side of the House who desire to challenge the policy of the Government underlying any reduction that they may move on demand for grant.

Mr. Speaker : I rule that the honourable member's point of order is out of order.

SELECTION OF DEMANDS FOR GRANTS FOR DISCUSSION.

Premier : Sir, in deference to the suggestion made by you this morning, and in response to the request made by my honourable friend the Leader of the Opposition, I have decided to give the Opposition the opportunity of selecting the demands which they want to discuss. We have agreed that they should select two demands and that this side of the House will select the other two demands. It has also been agreed between ourselves—and I hope the House will also agree—that we might discuss only these four demands during the remaining 8 days after the Land Revenue Demand has been dealt with. That is to say other demands will be put merely to the vote of the House and there will be no discussion on the grant itself or any amendments which were given notice of with regard to other demands.

Mr. Speaker : I do not think there shall be time for discussion.

Premier : It is possible that discussion on one of the demands might finish before the allotted time. I wanted to make the position clear. The demands which the Opposition have selected—and which I anticipated they would select—are the General Administration (No. 10) and the Police (No. 13). This side of the House have suggested that we should discuss (No. 16) Education and (No. 19) Agriculture. I am prepared to accept this suggestion from both sides of the House.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I have to make another request. I have requested the Leader of the House to agree to this also that we might discuss the general policy of administration of the Government while discussing the demand on General Administration. I understood that he had agreed to it, but now he says that in view of the ruling given by you, we cannot open this question. What I understood was that if the Leader of the House agreed you will have no objection to our discussing the demand from that point of view and, therefore, I would request you to please assure us or the Leader of the House that this is what you agree to and I hope the Leader of the House will agree to my request also.

Premier : There seems to be some misunderstanding or confusion. What I said to Mr. Chaman Lall when he made that proposition to me—and you are aware of it, Sir, was this. That since the demand for General Administration also contains the item for the salaries of the Ministers, it provides wide enough scope within the demand itself for the honourable members to discuss everything that they want to discuss and I am sure that a talented debater like Diwan Chaman Lall will find it possible to say everything which is relevant to the demand. So far as discussion is concerned, this I should think would meet his demand. The General Administration demand contains not only the salary of the services concerned, it also contains the salaries of the Ministers and therefore, subject to your ruling, I believe that honourable members would be able to say something with regard to the policy of the individual ministers, if they want to. Thus they can cover a very wide field.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Mr. Speaker, since I was a party to this arrangement, may I say just one word before you give your ruling. The intention with which this arrangement was arrived at was to enable honourable members of this House to discuss the general policy of the administration. That was the main object with which this arrangement was arrived at and you were also pleased this morning to say that if the Leader of the House and the Leader of the Opposition agree to an arrangement regarding discussion of the budget, you yourself will have no objection to that course being followed in regard to any particular demand. I do submit that the Honourable Premier has said that there can be no objection to discussing the general question of the administration and the policy of the Government on that one demand regarding General Administration.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : I just wanted to say one or two words. This agreement I hope is not going to be taken as shutting out any discussion, if any honourable member, who is not bound by anything that Dr. Gopi Chand or the Premier might have agreed to (hear, hear), wants to discuss any other demand. There are so many members here who might like to discuss a particular demand which is not covered by the agreement between these two parties. Are you going to decide that no one will be allowed to touch any other demand? Every demand will have to be moved. Does it mean that no one will be allowed to speak on any other demand?

Mr. Speaker : That is what the Honourable Premier said.

Premier : That is in accordance with the Parliamentary practice. The Opposition select certain items and discuss them and other demands are simply moved and carried or refused.

Mr. Speaker : The point is whether the general policy of the Government in all departments of administration can be discussed, while only a single demand for grant is under consideration? In the House of Commons; while the privilege of choosing the demands, which they would like to discuss, is given to the Opposition, the discussion of the policy of the Government in all departments is not allowed on the discussion of any one demand. It is discussed at the time of the Finance Bill and in the Central Legislative Assembly also that is done generally when the Finance Bill is discussed. I am not aware of a single instance either of the British Parliament or of any other legislature where this practice is observed that while discussing any particular demand the whole administration of the Government in all departments may be discussed. However, if the House wants it, I have no objection. I have expressed my view. Now it is for the House to decide; but I may point out, that that would be a departure, though only for this session, which it will be difficult to defend or justify. (Hear, hear). On the other hand you can have the Finance Bill if you like. However, that is a matter which you can still consider and decide, as it does not come up to-day.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : To make the position quite clear will it be permissible for any particular member to discuss for instance the Department of Industries when the Police Demand is under discussion?

Mr. Speaker : This matter will be considered later.

At this stage the Assembly adjourned till 11 A.M. on Tuesday, 29th June, 1987.

PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

1ST SESSION OF THE 1ST PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Tuesday, 29th June, 1937.

*The Assembly met at the Assembly Chamber, Simla, at 11 A.M. of the clock.
Mr. Speaker in the chair.*

STARRED QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

RULES REGARDING GOVERNMENT BUSINESS AND PROCEDURE.

181. Diwan Chaman Lall : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether rules framed for the transaction of business of the Government and for the allocation of that business to Ministers have been framed after consultation with Ministers and whether the advice of Ministers in this respect prevailed ;
- (b) whether rules relating to matters which affect the discharge of the Governor's functions in his discretion or by the exercise of his individual judgment were framed with the advice of the Ministers and whether this advice prevailed ;
- (c) whether such rules were communicated to the Rules Committee appointed to draft rules of procedure of the Assembly and the advice of that committee sought ;
- (d) whether rules framed for securing timely completion of financial business or for prohibiting discussion in the Chamber without his consent of certain matters specified in Government of India Act of 1935 were framed by the Governor with the concurrence of the Ministers and whether their advice prevailed ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) and (b) The honourable member is referred to section 59 (5) of the Government of India Act. The Rules of Executive Business were framed after consultation and in agreement with the Ministers.

(c) No. The rules do not relate to the procedure of the Assembly.

(d) The honourable member is referred to the proviso to section 84 (1) of the Government of India Act, 1935. The rules are being framed by the Governor in consultation with the Speaker.

I would point out that questions of this character intended to suggest differences between the Governor and the Ministers for which there is no basis whatsoever in fact, are contrary to the public interest and I must make it clear that I reserve discretion to decline to answer such questions on this ground in future.

Is Diwan Chaman Lall not coming? He would have liked to ask many supplementary questions. (Voices from Opposition benches : We are here to ask those questions.)

Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state if one of the rules framed for the transaction of business of the Government is to the effect that ordinarily His Excellency the Governor will preside at all the Cabinet meetings unless he is absent ?

Premier : No.

Lala Duni Chand : Is there no such rule ?

Premier : There is a specific provision in the Act itself which make it discretionary for the Governor to preside over the meetings.

Lala Duni Chand : I want to know whether there is any rule to that effect or not.

Premier : The rule cannot go beyond the scope of the Act itself.

Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Premier admit or deny whether there is such a rule ?

Premier : The rules cannot go beyond the scope of the Act and the Act says that the Governor can preside at his discretion if he so desires.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : Will the Honourable Premier lay on the table of the House the Rules of Procedure of the Cabinet ?

Premier : No. The Rules of Procedure of the Cabinet are secret.

GRANT OF LEASE TO IMPERIAL CHEMICALS COMPANY LIMITED.

182. Diwan Chaman Lall : Will the Honourable Minister for Development be pleased to state—

(a) whether a lease was recently given to the Imperial Chemicals Company Limited, of certain areas in North-Western Punjab ; and, if so, whether he will give full details of the conditions attaching to the lease ;

(b) whether a public tender was called for in this behalf before deciding to grant the lease to the said company ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a) A copy of the agreement between the Punjab Government and the Imperial Chemical Industries (India) Limited, is laid on the table.

(b) The agreement between the Punjab Government and the Imperial Chemical Industries was a corollary to the previous agreement between the Government of India and the said company. The question of calling for tenders therefore did not arise.

Copy of an Agreement.

Between—

Secretary of State for India in Council, through the Government of the Punjab :
AND Imperial Chemical Industries (India) Ltd.

Dated 2nd November, 1934.

as follows :—

THIS AGREEMENT made the second day of November, 1934, between the Secretary of State for India in Council through the Government of the Punjab (hereinafter called the Secretary of State) of the One Part and Imperial Chemical Industries (India) Ltd., a Company incorporated in British India with Head Office at 18, Strand Road, Calcutta, carrying on business also at 22, The Mall, Lahore, and elsewhere in British India of the other part (hereinafter referred to as the Company).

WHEREAS, by virtue of the terms of its Memorandum of Association the Company is empowered among other things :

" To carry on in all their respective branches the trades or businesses of engineers and mill-wrights, colliery proprietors, stone quarry proprietors, coke manufacturers, lime burners, owners of mines of all descriptions and winners and workers of minerals and manufacturers and producers of salt and the business of preparing mineral substances or any products of mineral substances for sale or for treatment in manufacturing processes."

AND with a view to the establishment of an Alkali factory in the Jhelum District of the Punjab the Company has made arrangements with the Government of India for an exclusive option exercisable at any time within the period of five years commencing from the second day of November, 1934, to accept for a further period of fifty years a license for mining and removing salt, salty material and brine, in certain areas in, or in the vicinity of, the areas hereinafter more particularly referred to and in the said areas or thereabout to erect buildings, premises, works, dissolving plant and so forth as may be necessary or desirable for the purposes of the Company hereinbefore referred to in so far as such buildings, etc., may be required to be erected on land owned by or under the control of the Salt Department of the Government of India ; which areas (described for ready reference as Area 'A' and Area 'B') have been delineated and referred to in a separate agreement (a copy of which is given in Schedule II to this agreement) entered into by the Company with the Secretary of State for India in Council through the Government of India and the Salt Department aforesaid.....

AND WHEREAS for the aforesaid purposes it is necessary to provide for supplies of limestone ; secondly, to provide for the compulsory acquisition of such lands and rights as may hereafter be required by the Company ; thirdly, to make provision for the supply to the Company of the necessary water both from the River Jhelum and likewise of water from the subsoil ; and, fourthly, for the necessary facilities for the disposal of effluents from the factory ; AND, apart from the said arrangements which have already been made with the Salt Department of the Government of India in connection with the two areas 'A' and 'B' aforesaid, the Company will require concessions and facilities for acquisition of lands in the vicinity including, among other sites for purposes hereinafter agreed upon, namely, (1) at or in the neighbourhood of a point approximately two miles to the south of, Dandot Railway Station, (2) a further site close to and south of, Dandot Railway Station on waste land probably of about 50 acres ; (hereinafter and in the Schedule No. 1 and plan annexed hereto referred to respectively as points 'C' and 'D') ; (3) an area (forming roughly the south-east corner of the aforesaid area 'B') of approximately 1,400 acres (delineated in the Schedule No. 1 and plan annexed hereto and hereinafter referred to as Area 'G') ; and (4) and (5) two areas in particular situate within Area 'G' in the annexed Schedule No. 1 and plan shown and hereinafter referred to as Areas 'E' and 'F'.

AND the Secretary of State is satisfied that the grant of such further concession and facilities as those last abovementioned will likewise be for the benefit of the industrial development of British India and in the interest of the public.

NOW THESE PRESENTS WITNESS that in consideration of the premises the parties hereto have agreed as follows :—

- (1) (a) The Company shall have the exclusive option, exercisable at any time within the period of five years from the Second day of November, 1934, to accept a lease for 50 years for quarrying and removing limestone in area 'G' or such part thereof as the Company may during the said period of 5 years notify to the Local Government of the Punjab as that required to be covered by the said lease ;
- (b) The lease so granted shall be for the purpose of an Alkali factory and for purposes incidental or connected therewith only, and the Company shall not be entitled during the pendency of the said lease to perform any act or carry out any purpose, which is not directly necessary for the manufacture of alkali and in particular the Company shall not undertake the manufacture for sale of Portland Cement, White Lime, or any other similar material ordinarily used for building and constructional purposes ;
- (c) During the said period allowed for the exercise of the option, other parties shall not be permitted to take out leases or licenses (even though otherwise approved of by Government) for quarrying limestone within area 'G' save for periods not exceeding one year ;
- (d) During the said period of 5 years or the part thereof prior to such date as the Company shall either exercise the option or intimate to the Local Government its intention not to exercise that option as the case may be, the Company shall be entitled to exercise all the rights and privileges and shall be subject to all the liabilities of a party holding a certificate of approval and prospecting license for limestone in respect of area 'G' but the liability of the Company in respect of the right to exercise the said option shall be limited to a maximum of annas four per annum per acre of area 'G'; provided always that it shall not be obligatory upon the Company to exercise its option and no penalty shall be incurred as the result of the Company not exercising its option during or at the end of the said period of 5 years.....

(2) In the event of the said option being exercised :—

- (a) In and over area 'G' or such part or parts thereof as may have been notified by the Company as required for its purposes aforesaid, the Company shall have exclusive rights to win, work and carry away limestone the conditions of the lease being governed generally by such of the Mining Rules of the Government of India as refer to Mining Leases, except such of those rules as run counter to anything stated expressly or by implication in this agreement.
- (b) Within the said area 'G' no limiting minimum area shall be fixed for the Company's Mining Lease, and Rule No. 47 of the Mining Rules of the Government of India to the effect that "the length of an area held under a mining lease shall not be allowed to exceed four times its breadth" shall not apply to the lease granted to the Company; and, if and in so far as, clause 4 of part III of the standard form for Mining Lease may be held to affect the terms of this agreement, the words "on the plan hereto annexed" shall be deemed to refer to the plan attached to this agreement and not to the plan attached to any application by the Company to exercise the option;
- (c) The royalty payable to the Local Government shall not exceed annas nine per hundred cubic feet of limestone carried away by the Company and the maximum rate of dead rent payable, referred to in the mining rules of the Government of India, shall be annas four per acre per annum.

(3) In respect of area 'G' or any part or parts thereof which may be notified by the Company as required and also in respect of such lands as the Company may wish to acquire for such purposes as—

- (a) sites for wells both on the Dandot Plateau and at or in the vicinity of point 'G' shown in the plan annexed hereto;
- (b) a site for pumping plant on the right bank of the river Jhelum close to and down stream from the Chak Nizam Railway Bridge;
- (c) a site at Khewra for the Alkali factory itself or for such part or parts thereof as may extend beyond the land belonging to or under the control of the Satt Department of the Government of India;
- (d) a site close to and south of Dandot Railway Station at or in the vicinity of point 'D' in the plan annexed hereto;
- (e) sites for pipe lines, electric power lines, rope ways, tramways and railways, etc., for conveying materials and electric power to and from the factory; and
- (f) also for other sites which may be notified by the Company to the Local Government as required for the purposes aforesaid; in the event of the Company, owing to any cause whatsoever failing to obtain a valid title at reasonable cost by private treaty or otherwise, the Local Government of the Punjab shall at any time, either during, at the end of, or after the period of 5 years above referred to but not beyond the term of the said lease apply Part VII of the Land Acquisition Act: provided that the acquisition of the land inflicts no hardship on the owners and tenants of the land to be acquired which in the opinion of the Local Government is unreasonable. Provided further that if in the opinion of the Local Government such acquisition is reasonable, the Local Government shall apply Part VII of the said Act to such alternative site as may in such case be selected, free from such objections by the Company; AND in addition or in substitution for the above procedure under Part VII in the cases above referred to or in any other case, the Local Government shall apply Part VI of the Act in respect of any of the above and/or any other sites which the Company may at any time during the said term require compulsorily to acquire temporarily under Section 35 of the Act.

(4) Further, in the event of the said option being exercised, the Company shall during the term of the said lease be entitled to withdraw water from the Jhelum river at a maximum rate of one million gallons per day on payment to the Punjab Government of a sum not exceeding Rs. 1,000 per annum, which sum shall not be payable on account of any year during which the Company has not drawn water from the river.

(5) The Company shall during the term of the said lease be entitled to obtain and use free of any charge subsoil water from any area owned or leased by the Company provided that due regard is paid to the existing rights of other parties.

(6) Subject to the provisions of any law for the time being in force the Company shall dispose of the salty effluent from the Alkali factory by discharging it, either into the nullah leading south from Khwera Gorge, or into the nullah which runs past the North-Western Railway's Station at Dandot but so that it shall not flow, after discharge from land in the occupation of the Company, for a greater distance than 50 yards as a surface stream. The quantity of effluent discharged shall not exceed the quantity of brine removed from the Khewra stream by more than 100,000 gallons a day and the effluent shall not contain more than 20 per cent. of salts of any and every kind. If at any time after the opening of the factory and during the term of the said lease—calcium chloride shall appear in the soil adjoining the course of the effluent the Company shall prevent any further addition of the effluent to the soil and shall pay to the owner of any land who has duly agreed to abide by the Collector's award, which in the opinion of the Collector has been damaged by such effluent: such compensation as the Collector may assess provided that if the appearance of Calcium Chloride in the soil does not cause any damage it shall not be necessary to prevent further addition of the effluent to the soil.

(7) Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained if and whenever any dispute shall arise in regard to the construction, meaning or effect of these presents or any clause or thing herein contained or in regard to the manner or sufficiency of the observance or performance by the Company of any covenant or agreement herein contained or in regard to the mode of working the said minerals or the maintenance or condition of any works in or upon the said lands or in regard to any valuation to be made under these presents or in regard to the amount or payment of any rent royalty compensation or other money payable by the Company or in regard to any other matter or thing relating to or arising out of these presents such question or dispute shall be referred to the arbitration of a committee consisting of a person nominated by the Punjab Government and a person nominated by the Company (or an Umpire named by them before they proceed with the arbitration or if they fail to agree on an Umpire by a person nominated by the Honourable the Chief Justice of the High Court of Judicature at Lahore in case they disagree) and the decision of such committee or Umpire (as the case may be) shall be final, and the Indian Arbitration Act and Rules thereunder for the time being in force shall apply to such arbitration.

IN WITNESS whereof the parties have hereunto and to the Schedules above referred to set their hands the day and year first above written.

CANAL FOR IRRIGATING LAND NEAR BHERA.

*183. Diwan Chaman Lall: Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- whether a canal for the purpose of irrigating a large territory round about Bhera was constructed; and, if so, when and at what cost;
- whether it is a fact that a private canal also has been in operation for some time in that area;
- whether it is a fact that the owners of this private canal charge the user-tenants and zamindars as much as 25 per cent. of the produce of the land in the shape of tax;

- (d) whether it is a fact that the existence of this private canal has so far prevented the said State canal from being brought into operation ;
- (e) whether the Government have decided to bring this canal into operation ; and if so, from what date ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Yes, the Shahpur Branch of the Lower Jhelum Canal was partially completed by 1914, at a cost of Rs. 8,78,107.

(b) Yes.

(c) Yes, on certain of the private canals, $\frac{1}{4}$ th of the produce is charged.

(d) No. The investigations extending over a period of the last 30 years go to show that by the opening of the Shahpur Branch—

- (i) the danger of waterlogging is likely to be increased :
- (ii) the irrigation on the Government inundation canals will not be materially improved :
- (iii) the owners of the private canals are not agreeable to take water from this Branch.

(e) The Project has been finally abandoned.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue find it convenient to give the names of the owners or the owner of the private canal ?

Minister : Unfortunately I cannot give the names just at present.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : He may be able to give one name only.

Minister : Malik Sir Umar Hyat Khan.

Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : May I know if there was any danger of water-logging ten years ago, when the Honourable Minister of Revenue was in office, and the proposal of the Government was that the canal should be run ?

Minister : There was danger all the time.

Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : Still it was proposed to run it ? Was it the opinion of the Chief Engineer then that it was not thought unfit to run it and the Government put in proposals to have the canal run ?

Minister : I do not think that was the opinion of the Government.

Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : Does the Honourable Minister for Revenue remember that the proposal was put before the Government and it was the opinion of the engineers as well as the Government that the canal should be run ?

Minister : It is not possible to remember a thing that happened ten years ago.

Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue look into the papers and say whether the position taken up by him then was correct or whether the position taken up by him to-day is correct ?

Minister : I think the present position is correct.

Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : Without knowing what the previous position was ?

Minister : We have looked into the matter very carefully and I know that the present position is correct.

Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : But you do not know your decision of ten years ago.

STATE OF WORK IN THE LAHORE HIGH COURT.

184. Diwan Chaman Lall : (a) Has the Honourable the Premier recently obtained a report from the authorities of the High Court of Judicature at Lahore regarding the state of business in the High Court ;

(b) Will he please state whether (i) the work there justifies the number of judges at present in service ;

(ii) whether there is a proposal to move in the matter of providing the High Court with original jurisdiction ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Yes. Figures on this subject are published in the annual Notes on the administration of civil justice and criminal justice.

(b) (i) Yes.

(ii) The High Court already exercises original jurisdiction in certain matters ; for example, in respect of cases under the Indian and Colonial Divorce Jurisdiction Act, 1926, and the Indian Companies Act, 1913. The Honourable Judges are further authorized, by the Letters Patent constituting the Court, to try and determine, as a court of extraordinary original jurisdiction, any suit falling within the jurisdiction of any court subject to their superintendence. There is no proposal to provide the High Court with any other original jurisdiction at present.

Lala Duni Chand : Does the Government approve of the idea of the High Court exercising original jurisdiction and trying original cases ?

Premier : I am afraid that is not a supplementary question.

REDUCTION IN THE SALARIES OF OFFICIALS.

185. Diwan Chaman Lall : Will the Honourable Minister for Finance be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that Government intends to reduce the salaries of officials engaged in the administration of the province ;

(b) the principles guiding the Government in this respect and the decision, tentative or otherwise, arrived at by the Government ;

(c) the classes or categories of individuals who will be exempted from the salary cut ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a), (b) and (c) If the honourable member is referring to a reduction of the nature of the emergency cut, which was imposed in 1931 and removed in 1935, the answer is in the negative. If he is referring to the revised rates of pay for new entrants, they have generally been fixed lower than the old rates, as it was considered necessary to place them on an economic basis. A copy of the orders issued in respect of new rates of pay for provincial and Subordinate Services has been placed in the library of the House. A statement showing the more important services or posts, the pay of which has not been reduced, is placed on the table.

Statement showing the more important services or posts, the pay of which has not been reduced.

1. Punjab Civil Medical Service, Class I and Class II (Men's Branch).
2. Clinical assistants.
3. Punjab Educational Service (Women's Branch), Class I and Class II.
4. Subordinate Educational Service (Women's Branch).
5. Posts of headmistress and certain other mistresses in Lawrence College, Ghoragali.
6. Female sub-assistant surgeons.
7. Female Dispensaries.
8. Tahsildars.
9. Naib-Tahsildars.
10. Head vernacular clerks employed in the offices of commissioners and deputy commissioners.
11. Kanungos.
12. Patwaris.
13. Inspectors, sergeants, sub-inspectors, assistant sub-Inspectors, head constables and constables in the Police department.
14. Zilladars in the Irrigation department.
15. Warders and head warders in the Jails department.
16. Posts carrying a pay of not more than Rs. 25 per mensem.

POST OF THE PROFESSOR OF HISTORY IN THE GOVERNMENT COLLEGE, LAHORE.

186. Sardar Sahib Sardar Ujjal Singh: Will the Honourable Minister for Education please state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the post of the Professor of History in the Government College, Lahore, has been vacant for about two years ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that applications for the post were invited from the European British subjects only ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that no European applied for the post ;
- (d) whether it is a fact that a fresh notification was issued laying down that preference would be given to candidates holding commissioned ranks in the Territorial Force ;
- (e) whether it is a fact that the notification mentioned in (d) above was also withdrawn and another notification was issued in its place ;
- (f) whether it is a fact that in response to this advertisement several applications were received and duly considered by the Government of India Public Service Commission who made certain recommendations which were not accepted by the Punjab Government ;

[S. S. S. Ujjal Singh.]

(g) whether Government will lay all the papers regarding this matter on the table and state why they are anxious to have a European for this post when several suitable Indians possessing the requisite qualifications are forthcoming;

(h) whether Government proposes to hand over the matter to the Punjab Public Service Commission with instructions that preference should be given to well qualified Punjabis?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) No. Vacant since 16th June, 1936.

(b) Yes.

(c) No. A number of Europeans applied for the post but the Selection Committee in England considered that none of the candidates was entirely suitable for appointment as the initial pay offered was insufficient to properly qualified men.

(d) Yes.

(e) Yes.

(f) Yes.

(g) An explanatory note is placed on the table¹.

(h) No, as Government have already asked the High Commissioner for India to recruit on behalf of the Punjab Government and the recommendation of the High Commissioner has since been received.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it a fact that several Indians with Honours of Oxford and Cambridge Universities had applied for this post?

Minister : On what occasion?

Lala Duni Chand : When the post was advertised.

Minister : When the post was advertised in India, the Government came to the conclusion that none of the candidates recommended (including a European) was qualified for this post.

Lala Duni Chand : My question was whether distinguished Indians with Honours of Oxford and Cambridge Universities applied for this post or not? Is the Honourable Minister for Education prepared to say that most of these Indians were unfit to hold this post?

Minister : The Government then in office came to this conclusion and I am not in a position to sit in judgment upon the previous Government.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it not the duty of the head of the department to look into these matters?

Minister : It is.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Do the Government think it is very late for them to withdraw the matter of appointment from the hands of the High Commissioner in England and make the appointment here themselves?

Minister : When it was advertised in India, no qualified person was available and, therefore, this course was adopted.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Will the Government be pleased to advertise once more because we feel that there are sufficient number of Indians available for this post ?

Minister : The Government is not prepared to advertise it so frequently.

Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister for Education accept the principle that when fully qualified Indians for such posts are available, the post should be given to an Indian ?

Minister : Certainly, Sir. The selection will always be made in the best interests of the students of the college.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Will the Government be pleased to allow sufficient time for this fact being known in India so that Indians can also apply for appointments in England ?

Minister : The Government is not in a position to do that at present because on a previous occasion it was advertised in India and we were unable to secure a suitable person.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : My question is, will the Government be pleased to request the High Commissioner to so advertise or so fix the time for selection of the candidates that sufficient time be available to people in India to apply for being considered in England by the High Commissioner ?

Minister : There will be no occasion to adopt that course because I have already said that the recommendation from London has been received.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : The old Government was not a national government, but the new one is. What is their policy in such matters ?

Minister : I have already stated that other things being equal, preference will be given to Punjabis in such matters.

Lala Duni Chand : In the opinion of the Honourable Minister for Education, are first and second class men from Oxford fit for this post ?

Mr. Speaker : No question asking for an expression of opinion can be asked.

Lala Duni Chand : Was the subject of Constitutional History mentioned as one of the qualifications required for the post ?

Minister : Yes.

Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister consider the advisability of inviting further applications in India on a new scale of pay offered to Indians ?

Minister : The Government will have to come to a conclusion first on the recommendation made from England.

Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : In case the man recommended by High Commissioner is not an Indian, will Government be filing the recommendation and not acting on it ?

Minister : If Government come to the conclusion that it is in the interests of the students and the institution to accept this recommendation, the Government will not hesitate to do so.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : That is perfectly so. I do not deny Government the right of discretion. Will Government consider it advisable not to proceed with that recommendation if the recommendation does not include an Indian, and re-advertise the post and give a chance to an Indian ?

Minister : I have already stated that our efforts will be to select the best person.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : That is not the point. The point for the Government to take into consideration is the wish of this side of the House and I am sure of the whole House that the post should go to an Indian and that Government should not proceed with the recommendation of the High Commissioner if the person recommended is not an Indian.

Minister : Government will not rule out a person on the ground of nationality if he is otherwise suitable and it is in the interests of the students and the institution to make that appointment. We did once invite applications in India, but we failed to get a suitable person.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : In view of the fact that our new Government is a national government—

Minister : In the interests of the other honourable members who have tabled other questions, I think it will be waste of time to go on with the present question.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : In view of the fact that the new Government is a national government—

Minister : I have already said enough on the subject.

Lala Duni Chand : Will the Minister for Education place on the table of the House the names of the Indians who applied for this post ?

Minister : Four persons were recommended including one European. I do not carry their names in my head.

Mr. Speaker : The next question.

Explanatory Note.

When Mr. H. L. O. Garrett, Principal and Professor of History, Government College, Lahore, retired from service in March, 1936, Government considered it desirable to recruit an Englishman from England, and the High Commissioner was accordingly requested to appoint a Selection Committee to recommend to the Punjab Government the name of a suitably qualified candidate for the post. In due course the High Commissioner informed the Punjab Government that seven candidates had been summoned for an interview by the Selection Committee, but that the latter was of the opinion that none of the candidates was entirely suitable for appointment.

The Punjab Government then decided in May, 1936, to ask the Public Service Commission (India) to intimate the names of three candidates whom the Commission might consider suitable for appointment to the post in question. Recruitment was not restricted to Europeans only. In addition to other qualifications which the candidate should possess, the Commission was told that other things being equal, preference should be given to a candidate who had athletic qualifications and commissioned service in the Territorial Force. On reconsideration the Commission was asked in September, 1936, to re-advertise the post omitting the sentence "Preference to a candidate with athletic qualifications and commissioned service in the Territorial Force."

The recommendations of the Commission were submitted to the Punjab Government in January, 1937. Four candidates were recommended, but the Punjab Government did not consider any of them fit for appointment as none was sufficiently qualified in Constitutional History nor to have had the desired University teaching or research experience in History.

The High Commissioner for India has, therefore, again been asked to recommend a suitable candidate and the advertisement published by the High Commissioner is as follows :—

Government of the Punjab, India.

Applications are invited for the appointment of Professor of History, Government College, Lahore. Candidates should be honours graduates in History of a British University, and have special qualifications in Constitutional History. Age 30 to 35 years. Post-graduate research an additional qualification. Permanent and pensionable post, subject to two years probation. Pay scale ranging from Rs. 300 plus Overseas pay of Rs. 150 per mensem (£405 per annum in all) to Rs. 1,000 and Overseas Pay of £30 per mensem (£1,260 per annum in all) with prospect of further advance. (Rupee = $\frac{1}{4}$ d. approximately). Candidates are eligible for higher commencing pay than the minimum of the scale, but not exceeding Rs. 600 + Overseas pay of £30 per mensem (£900 in all). Free passage to India if retained after probation, further passages for leave purposes.

Further particulars and forms of application may be obtained, on request by postcard, from the High Commissioner for India, General Department, India House, Aldwych, London, W.C. 2. Last date for receipt of applications 21st May, 1937."

The fact that the Federal Public Service Commission could not recommend an Indian, whom the Punjab Government could consider suitable for the post in question, showed clearly that no Indian with the necessary qualifications was available. And so it was decided to recruit a suitable European through the High Commissioner for India.

The Punjab Government is awaiting the recommendation of the High Commissioner.

ADDRESS TO PANDIT JAWAHAR LAL NEHRU ON HIS VISIT TO BHIWANI.

*187. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the sub-inspector of police, Bhiwani, brought pressure to bear on Municipal Committee, Bhiwani, to dissuade that local body from presenting the proposed address to Pandit Jawahar Lal Nehru, President, Indian National Congress, on the occasion of his visit to that place in January last ;
- (b) whether it is also a fact that the said sub-inspector of police called the shopkeepers to thana and tried to dissuade them from observing hartal on 1st April, 1937 ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander-Hyat Khan : (a) No.

(b) No.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Was there any departmental inquiry held in the matter ?

Premier : Yes, Sir.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Through whom ?

Premier : Through the local authorities.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Which authority ?

Premier : I am not going to tell that.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Police or civil ?

Premier : Civil.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : What was the result ?

Premier : As I have said in answer to the question.

EMPLOYMENT OF CHAUKIDARS AT BHIWANI.

188. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the police authorities at Bhiwani are pressing the people of Bhiwani city to employ chaukidars to keep watch in the bazars at their own cost ; if so, why ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander-Hyat Khan : No.

EXTERMENT ORDER AGAINST MR. S. V. GHATE.

189. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that on the 18th April last, Mr. S. V. Ghate of Madras was arrested without warrant at the Lahore Railway Station at 8-30 A.M., and was thereafter taken to the Kotwali police station where his person and belongings were searched and nothing incriminating was found on him ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that the said Mr. S. V. Ghate was then taken to the Lahore fort where he was kept in a cell, and after 12 hours' detention there, was sent out of the province under police guard ;
- (c) whether it is also a fact that the order of externment under which he was externed for a period of 12 months was dated 17th April ;
- (d) if answers to parts (a), (b) and (c) be in the affirmative, the reasons for which he was arrested without warrant and detained for 12 hours in the fort ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Mr. S. V. Ghate of Madras was arrested under section 2 of the Punjab Criminal Law (Amendment) Act, 1935. His person and belongings were searched.

(b) Mr. S. V. Ghate was taken to the Lahore Fort and detained until 8-30 P.M., when he was served with an externment order under section 3 of the Criminal Law (Amendment) Act.

(c) Yes.

(d) In the interest of the public safety and peace.

Lala Duni Chand : Is Government prepared to make amends to this man who was arrested wrongfully ?

Premier : How does the honourable member conclude that he was arrested wrongfully ?

Lala Duni Chand : From the fact that Government did not take any action against him beyond sending him outside the province.

Premier : That does constitute an action which was justified in the eyes of Government.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : I understand from the reply of the Premier that the gentleman was externed on the 18th. If that is so, how could the order be dated the 17th ?

Premier : The honourable member ought to realise that we came to know of the people who propose to come to the province several days earlier.

RAID BY POLICE IN LAJPAT RAI BHAWAN.

190. Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that at 2 P.M. on the 18th April last a posse of police headed by C. I. D. officers raided the Lajpat Rai Bhawan in Lahore and dispersed an informal meeting of some of the congress socialists gathered there to discuss the future programme of work ; if so, the reasons for the same ;
- (b) the action which Government propose to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander-Hyat Khan : (a) No. The police headed by a C. I. D. officer searched the Lajpat Rai Bhawan in Lahore at 2 P.M. on the 18th April in the investigation of a case under section 18 of the Press Emergency Powers Act and 17 (2) of the Criminal Law (Amendment) Act, 1908. A small meeting was disturbed by the search.

(b) None.

CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETIES.

191. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister for Development be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of co-operative societies A, B, C, and D, with their debts respectively in the districts of Rohtak, Gurgaon, Hissar and Karnal separately ;
- (b) the number of sub-inspectors, their educational qualifications caste, pay and duration of service in each district ;
- (c) how many suits were filed by each of these societies for the realization of debts during the last ten years, with the amount involved in these suits and costs allowed by courts when giving decrees ;
- (d) how much of the debt was realized by each of these societies through suits during the last ten years ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : The results obtained by the information asked for in this question will not be commensurate with the time and labour required for the collection of this information.

CONTRACTORS OF THE IRRIGATION DEPARTMENT.

192. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable the Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the contractors of the Irrigation Department are required to advance small sums to chaprasis of rest-houses for miscellaneous expenses and that these sums are not paid back in full to the contractors ;
- (b) whether it is also a fact that a contractor of the same department Daulat Ram Gupta by name advanced Re. 1-13-0 to the chaprasi, rest-house, Rohtak, on 19th October, 1936, but got Re. 1 only from the Department ;

[Pt. Shri Ram Sharma.]

- (c) whether it is a fact that the same contractor spent according to the estimate of the overseer Rs. 4-10-0 for carpenter work and Rs. 3 for carriage in October, 1936, but was paid Rs. 2 and Re. 1-8-0 only, respectively; if so, what action is proposed to be taken to remove such complaints?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) No.

(b) No.

(c) No. The contractor was paid for the amount of work done and received payment in full.

WORK ORDERS TO CONTRACTORS OF PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

193. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the standing orders of the Public Works Department require that the work orders given to the contractors must be in writing; if so, what is the general practice followed by the sub-divisional officers and the overseers in the matter;
- (b) whether it is a fact that one Mr. Jagan Nath, overseer, Rohtak, refused to give work order in writing to Lala Daulat Ram, contractor;
- (c) whether it is also a fact that the contractor complained to the sub-divisional officer in writing which his clerk refused to entertain and that no action was taken on the same complaint even on its being sent to the sub-divisional officer by name;
- (d) whether it is also a fact that Mr. Vasudev, sub-divisional officer, suggested to the Executive Engineer, Delhi Division, to strike off the name of the said contractor from the list of contractors; if so, the reasons for making this suggestion;
- (e) the steps Government would take to inquire into the matter?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Yes: Work orders are given in writing by sub-divisional officers and selected subordinates if work exceeds Rs. 100 and Rs. 10, respectively;

(b) Yes, because Jagan Nath, Overseer, is not a selected subordinate.

(c) No action was necessary,—vide reply to (b).

(d) No.

(e) No enquiry appears to be called for.

— — — — —
ODES.

194. Diwan Chaman Lall : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

(a) the number of Odes in the Punjab;

(b) whether the Odes in the Punjab are practically a landless class;

(c) what steps Government proposes to take for their amelioration?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander-Hyat Khan : (a) In 1929-30 an effort was made to calculate the total number of Odes who regularly visit the Punjab. The figure then taken was 2,520 families, totalling about 15,000 souls; but this is probably an under-estimate.

(b) Yes.

(c) I shall shortly be answering other questions relating to these people, and I propose then to make a brief reference to the problem which their presence in the province presents; but I may say here that the Odes do not appear in any special need of "amelioration." Though they are not a landed tribe, they are by no means badly off.

METALLED ROADS.

195. Mir Maqbool Mahmood: Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) the annual amount now granted by the Communications Board to each of the various district boards in the province for the maintenance of roads under them;
- (b) whether it is a fact that some time ago instructions were issued to the local bodies or district boards to recondition their metalled roads with tar treatment; if so, when these instructions were issued;
- (c) the total mileage of metalled roads under district board in the province, and how much of these roads has been reconditioned by each district board concerned with tar treatment;
- (d) whether it is a fact that the scheme of reconditioning all metalled roads under the district boards, with provincial funds has been sanctioned; if so, with what result;
- (e) what steps, if any, the Government intends to take with a view to encouraging the extension of metalled roads by those district boards which have completed the reconditioning of their existing metalled roads?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana: (a) As per statement No. 1 attached.

(b) The Communications Board has at various times issued instructions that all the new metalling of roads by district boards should be protected by surface treatment. No specific date is on record to show when the surface treatment of roads was first officially recommended.

(c) As per statement No. 2 attached.

(d) No.

(e) The present policy of Government is to resist extension of metalled roads by district boards which cannot or will not keep up their existing metalled roads. On the other hand, the district boards which have given proof of efficiency as regards their metalled roads will be encouraged to extend the system by grants-in-aid, if and when available.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh: Is it not a fact that the Government of India offered a loan to tar all these district board roads?

Minister: Not to my knowledge.

Sardar Narotam Singh: Was not a consolidated grant fixed for the first five years?

Minister: I must ask for notice.

[Minister for Public Works.]

IMPROVEMENTS MADE BY THE ADMINISTRATOR, LAHORE MUNICIPALITY.

*196. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava: Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state the improvements made since his appointment by the Administrator of Lahore Municipality under the following heads:—

1. (a) income from terminal tax, and
(b) expenditure over it.
2. (a) income from sanitation, and
(b) expenditure over it, and
(c) improvements made in sanitation of the town;
3. (a) income from the Public Works Department of municipality, and
(b) expenditure on this department,
(c) improvement in roads and drains of the town?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : A statement giving the information required is laid on the table.

Statement showing the improvements made by the Administrator, Municipal Committee, Lahore.

1. (a) and (b)—2. (a) and (b) and 3. (a) and (b).—Comparative statements showing income and expenditure under the heads mentioned during the last six years and during the period from 1st November, 1936 to the 31st May, 1937, are attached.

2. (c) and 3 (c).—It will be realised that the municipal staff of Lahore has been handicapped by the arrears of work left by the late Committee and by the absence of funds immediately available for improvements. There were in fact 1,357 items of business which had actually been sent up to the General Committee or various Sub-Committees, but which had not been disposed off. No funds were available for improvement of roads at the time of the supersession of the Committee. In fact a large deficit had to be carried over to the Budget of 1937-38. The Administrator and his staff were, therefore, obliged to spend some months in clearing up the arrears of work and preparing for future improvements.

In spite of this definite improvements have been made. The Saadi Park drainage scheme is nearing completion and a similar scheme, which has been prepared for Krishna Nagar and adjoining areas, will be taken up in October next. Surveys have been made for similar schemes in other areas. Minor sanitary works have been carried out such as the construction of urinals, the replacing of stolen or broken manholes and a general improvement has been made in the work of the sanitary staff. The most important work as regards Sanitary Improvement, however, is the completion of the general scheme for the improvement of Lahore drainage and water supply and the proposals for financing these schemes. These have been submitted to Government and are now under the consideration of Government. When carried out they will put the sanitation of Lahore into a really satisfactory condition.

As noted above, there was no money available for the improvement of roads when the Committee was superseded. A road programme was, however, drawn up at the beginning of the year 1937-38 instead of at the end of the year, as in the past. The programme deals with retaxing and tarring of roads and provides for the improvement of 95 different roads.

Comparative statement of income and expenditure from terminal-tax, sanitation and public works department.

PUNJAB PURE FOODS ACT.

197. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to lay on the table a list showing municipalities where the Punjab Pure Foods Act has been enforced, the names of public analysts appointed with their qualifications, the number of analyses conducted by them, the number of prosecutions launched with their results?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : I regret that the answer to the question is not ready. It will be communicated to the honourable member when ready.

LAHORE IMPROVEMENT TRUST.

198. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) how many lay-out plans have been sanctioned by the Lahore Improvement Trust so far and how many are pending with them for consideration and since when they have been so pending ;
- (b) the number of building plans sanctioned by them and the number of building plans lying with them ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) The Lahore Improvement Trust are not competent to sanction any lay-out plans (building schemes), the sanctioning authority under section 192 of the Punjab Municipal Act, 1911, being the local Government. The Trust are, however, engaged in the preparation of a number of building schemes at the request of the Commissioner, Lahore division, who is authorised to publish them for objections and suggestions before submitting them to the local Government for sanction.

(b) The Lahore Improvement Trust do not sanction any building plans, and none is pending with them. The Trust, however, frequently give advice on building applications sent to them for this purpose by the Lahore Municipal Committee. The number of applications dealt with in this way up to the end of May, 1937 is 101.

TRAVELLING ALLOWANCE OF THE JUDGES AND STAFF OF THE HIGH COURT.

199. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state the amount drawn by way of travelling allowance by each of the Judges of the High Court during the years 1931-1932 and 1936-1937, and the total expenditure under travelling allowances of the whole staff of the High Court for the same year?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : Statements giving the required information are laid on the table—

SESSIONS JUDGES.

*200. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) how many sessions judges are there in the province ;
 - (i) who are members of the Indian Civil Service ;
 - (ii) who are members of the Provincial Civil Service ;
- (b) what was their proportion in the year 1933-1934 ;
- (c) if the proportion of I.C.S. has increased the reasons for the same and whether the Government propose to increase the number of P.C.S. sessions judges ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Twenty-four, excluding temporary additional district and sessions judgeships which are created for short periods in divisions where the accumulation of sessions cases and civil appeals demands special measures. Of this number, six posts are reserved for members of the Punjab Civil Service, two for judges recruited from the Bar and the remainder for members of the Indian Civil Service.

(b) There has been no change in the number of posts reserved for members of the Indian Civil Service, Punjab Civil Service, or the Bar. It is true that in 1933-34 the number of Punjab Civil Service officers officiating as district and sessions judges was unusually large, but this was because there was a dearth of qualified Indian Civil Service officers to fill these posts. The Indian Civil Service cadre is gradually returning to normal and that accounts for the decrease in the number of Punjab Civil Service officers officiating in superior posts on the judicial side.

(c) Does not arise.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it true that even the best subordinate judges take 15 to 20 years to become district and sessions judges while the members of the Indian Civil Service become district and sessions judges within a period of three or four years ?

Premier : I cannot definitely inform the honourable member of the period the I.C.S. officers take to become district and sessions judges ; but they certainly take a shorter time.

Lala Duni Chand : As head of the Punjab Government, is not the Honourable the Premier in a position to know this fact ?

Mr. Speaker : I disallow the question.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Will the Honourable Premier please consider the desirability of so moving in the matter as to increase the number of P. C. S. officers recruited for the district judgeship in preference to the I. C. S. people ?

Premier : The honourable member is probably not aware of the existing rules under which we are working. Five years hence there will be a committee and then it will be time for us or for anybody else to press the point.

CHANGE IN THE COURSE OF WESTERN JUMNA CANAL.

*201. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue kindly state—

(a) whether it is a fact that the course of Western Jumna Canal was altered in 1927 for a distance of about two furlongs and it was made to cut and flow through the lands of the village Haripore-Kambohian, tahsil Jagadhri, at mile No. 16 and that as a result thereof about 300 bighas of land have been thrown on the western side between the new channel and the old channel ;

(b) if reply to part (a) above be in the affirmative, whether it is a fact that there are no means of communication from the said village for access to the above land and that no tenants are available to cultivate this piece of land ;

- (c) whether it is also a fact that since the course of the said canal was changed repeated representations have been made to the Canal authorities and the Deputy Commissioner of Ambala for providing a ferry boat as a means of communication to the said land, and that no action has so far been taken on those representations ;
- (d) whether it is a fact that since 1927 the said land has been shown in the revenue records as " Khali " and that land revenue has all along been realized from the owners ;
- (e) if the answers to parts (a), (b), (c) and (d) be in the affirmative, whether Government intends to remove the complaints ; if so, when ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Yes.

(b) A ferry exists at a reasonable distance from the village. Absence of tenants might be due to other causes.

(c) Yes. The representations have been given due consideration.

(d) No. An area of 88 bighas and 17 biswas only is assessed and land revenue for this has all along been realized from the owners.

(e) As a ferry exists, Government does not propose to take any further action.

CHANGES IN THE COURSE OF WESTERN JUMNA CANAL.

292. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that villages Gulab Garh, Sabhapur and Haripore Kambohian in Jagadhri tahsil are situated in close proximity to the new course which the Western Jumna Canal was made to take in 1927 ;
- (b) whether it is also a fact that the lands in the said villages have become too much saturated with water and " khar " has appeared in these lands and that these lands have become absolutely unproductive for rabi crops ;
- (c) if the answer to above be in the affirmative, what action is proposed to be taken to afford relief to the zamindars who have suffered by the change in the course of the said canal ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) The change made in the course of the Western Jumna Canal in 1927 did not affect villages Gulabgarh and Sabhapur at all and affected village Haripur to a very small extent.

(b) Some of the low lands in the said villages consisting of old river creeks have become saturated and are used for rice cultivation but the high lands are being used for rabi cultivation.

(c) Does not arise.

Lala Duni Chand : Does the Honourable Minister for Revenue accept the rule of equity and justice and whenever by any action of Government injury is done to a person that person should be compensated ?

Minister : I require notice of that question.

Lala Duni Chand : Does this question require notice at all ?

Minister : I must think over the question before I can give a reply to it. It involves a question of policy.

Lala Duni Chand : Does it require time to think whether Government will accept a policy of equity and justice ?

Minister : I will have to consult my colleagues.

Sardar Partap Singh : Does a statement of fact require thinking ?

DEPARTMENTAL PRIMARY SCHOOL EXAMINATION FOR GIRLS.

*204. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state—

- (a) the pass percentage at the departmental primary school examination for girls this year and the pass percentage at the same examination last year ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that the pass percentage in these examinations has been disastrously low ; if so, the reasons for the same ;
- (c) whether it is also a fact that there have been complaints this year and also last year from the parents of examinees and also from those connected with the management of the primary girls' schools against the manner in which the primary school examination for girls is conducted ; if so, what steps are proposed to be taken in the matter ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haya : I regret that the figures required by the honourable member regarding pass percentage are not ready. If the honourable member does not require these figures I would be delighted to answer the rest of the question.

Sardar Hari Singh : I should like to have an answer for the rest of the question.

Minister : Complaints were made that in certain cases the pass percentage relating to departmental primary schools examination for girls were very low. Permission in such cases has been given to the headmistresses to promote students whom they consider fit after holding a test themselves.

Sardar Hari Singh : What steps does the Government propose to take to remedy the situation ?

Minister : The question of retaining or abolishing the departmental examination for girls is at present under consideration.

MALBA.

*205. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue kindly state—

- (a) the manner in which the object for which malba is realized from landowners, is sought to be secured ;

- (b) whether it is a fact that malba fund is in most cases used for the entertainment of police and revenue subordinates or otherwise than what it is meant for ;
- (c) whether resolutions passed at hundreds of public meetings in the rural areas protesting against the wrong use of malba and urging the adoption of measures to ensure its proper use have been brought to his notice ; if so, whether it is proposed to take any steps to redress public complaints in the matter ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) and (b). The Honourable member's attention is invited to the reply to question No. 24¹ Government have no direct concern with the malba fund and have no information in regard to its administration.

(c) No. Assuming that there is dissatisfaction, it is not the policy of Government to interfere in a matter which is the private concern of the village committees.

UNEMPLOYMENT IN THE PROVINCE.

206 Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Development be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of unemployed graduates in the province holding Indian or Foreign, Arts or professional degrees, categorically in detail ;
- (b) the number of unemployed undergraduates and matriculates in the province ;
- (c) the estimated percentage of unemployment with reference to the population of the province ;
- (d) whether he is aware that unemployment figures are published weekly by Governments in countries like England ;
- (e) what steps are proposed to be taken by the Government to solve the problem of unemployment ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a), (b), (c). Figures are not available.

(d) Yes.

(e) Government have appointed an unemployment committee to go into the problem of unemployment and suggest the best means to tackle it.

PROFESSIONAL TAX BY DISTRICT BOARDS.

207. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether he is aware of the grievance that professional tax is levied upon the inhabitants of the villages in the province summarily and without proper inquiry by the district board officials ;

[S. Hari Singh.]

- (b) whether he is aware that personal grudge and whim of the village-officials play important part in the imposition of the professional tax ;
- (c) whether he is aware that ignorant rural folk are put to great hardship due to arbitrary assessment ;
- (d) whether he is aware that assessees on whom professional tax has been levied without there being any justification for the same have often to travel long distances to reach the district headquarters to seek redress against such imposition ;
- (e) what steps will the Government take to—
 - (i) prevent victimization of the poor villagers at the hands of prejudiced village officials and misinformed district boards tax inspectors ;
 - (ii) ensure facilities for effective appeals against arbitrary taxation, with due regard to the convenience of the assesseees ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) No such grievance is reported to exist.

(b) No.

(c) Does not arise in view of (a) and (b) above.

(d) Appeals can be, and in fact are generally sent to the Commissioners by post.

(e) Does not arise.

SUPPLY OF ELECTRICITY FROM HYDRO-ELECTRIC SCHEME.

*208. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) when electricity from the Uhl River Hydro-Electric station may be expected to be supplied to Hoshiarpur town and the mufussil for lighting and agricultural purposes ;
- (b) whether the question of reduction in the present rates of electricity from the said source is under the consideration of Government ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Hoshiarpur is outside the scope of the first stage of the Uhl River Hydro-Electric Scheme and it is not yet known when further stages will be brought into being ;

(b) No question of the reduction of the general rates for lighting and fans has been considered as these rates are considered to be as low as economically possible, but consideration is being given to the reduction of the rate for power supplied to small industrial consumers under which classification agricultural pumping is listed.

EMPLOYMENT OF A CRICKET INSTRUCTOR IN JULLUNDUR DIVISION.

209. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the Inspector of Schools, Jullundur division, has recently employed a cricket instructor for schools in his division ;
- (b) if answer to part (a) above be in the affirmative what are the qualifications of the said cricket instructor ;
- (c) whether it is proposed to employ cricket instructors in other divisions as well ;
- (d) if so, whether similarly foot-ball, hockey, volley-ball and kabadi instructors for schools in the province are also proposed to be employed ; if not, why not ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) No. The services of an honorary itinerant-coach in cricket and athletics have been secured by the headmasters of the Ludhiana, Jullundur and Hoshiarpur. He is a Punjab and Aligarh Blue in cricket and athletics but is not a professional instructor, being merely paid out-of-pocket expenses.

(b), (c) and (d) Do not arise.

Sardar Hari Singh : Were the appointments of these professional instructors made with the sanction of the Honourable Minister ?

Minister : No.

Sardar Hari Singh : How, then, did the Honourable Minister allow the headmasters of schools engaging honorary or paid instructors in certain games without his permission ?

Minister : No permission is needed. It is entirely the look-out of the headmasters and if they employ such instructors, I do not see any objection to it.

INUNDATION CANAL FROM THE RAVI.

210. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state whether it is a fact that an inundation canal is proposed to be taken off the Ravi near Madhopur in order to pour its surplus flood water into the Upper Beas ; if so, when ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : A branch canal is to be dug from mile two of the existing Upper Bari Doab Canal to enable surplus waters of the Ravi to be passed into the Beas.

The date of construction has not yet been decided.

Sardar Hari Singh : Is the Honourable Minister aware that there is a great panic prevailing amongst the people of Dasuya and other areas of the Hoshiarpur district on account of the fact that Government is going to take out this canal.

Minister : I am not aware of it.

DEMANDS FOR GRANTS.

LAND REVENUE.

Re-settlement operations in Amritsar.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood (Amritsar, Muhammadan, Rural): Mr. Speaker, the position of the settlement officers under the policy and the law in force for these re-settlement operations reminds me of a famous town crier in a melo-drama in the south of London by Mr. Simps, who according to the exigency of the weather sells hot potatoes or ice-cream in the streets of London. But in view of uncertainty of the English weather he constructed a barrel with a freezer at the one end and a burning stove on the other. That is the position of a settlement officer with a barrel of sliding scales in his hands. If he exercises his various discretions given to him under that formula in equity and sympathetically to the interests of the revenue payers—that formula and policy can bring advantage and happiness to the people; but on the other hand if he exercises his various discretions given to him under the Act, it may be to the detriment of the people and it can bring nuisance and ruin to the peasantry of the Punjab. It is, therefore, that through my motion I wish to invite attention to certain aspects of the policy with special reference to the re-settlement now going on in Amritsar and I propose in my remarks to confine myself to such suggestions as do not involve any amendment of the legislation. The policy, as we all know, governing the settlement of Amritsar, is generally known as sliding scale policy. Now, Sir, the formula of the sliding scale policy is very difficult to understand. I confess that when re-settlement operations for Amritsar were declared and announcement regarding sliding scales was made, I happened to be one of those who rushed to the Honourable Premier and the Honourable Minister for Revenue with the request that the settlement operations may be stopped and we may be allowed to live where we were. Thereafter I am grateful to these Honourable Members and to certain officers of the Revenue Department who tried to explain the proposition to us. When I am in certain respects going to criticise certain aspects or certain phases of that policy, I feel that in fairness to the Government, I should clear my position with regard to certain good aspects of that formula. As a student of rural Economics I concede that this formula of sliding scales is an improvement on the old formula. I go a step further and say that up to this day we do not know of a better formula to be adopted. I know revenue assessments in various parts of India have proved to the better advantage of the people. I go a step further and say that in any way I do not claim that the sliding scale policy is perfect. It has certain phases where it can be improved. In fact in certain aspects it is necessary that it should be improved. But, Sir, all that I claim is that until such time as the Committee, that the Government has appointed have gone into various revenue assessments, all we can do is to confine ourselves to such aspects of this policy as do not involve an amendment of the legislation or recasting of the settlement system. (Interruptions). A question is put to me just now whether this is an improvement of old conditions. With regard to that I have only two suggestions to offer. The first is that the sliding scale system, inspite of the necessity of improvement in certain respects, introduced for the first time in the revenue settlement of this province, has an important element of income tax system, that is, consideration of the annual profit

Sardar Hari Singh : On a point of order. The honourable member is not speaking to the motion. He ought to criticise the policy in a particular area.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : I will be glad if the honourable member will read the wording of my motion carefully. I feel that in fairness to the Government I should bring to light certain aspects also with which I agree. I do not believe, as some members of this House do, that when criticising or discussing the policy of Government, we should shut our eyes to the good points and only bring those points to light with which we do not agree. Now, Sir, with that preamble, I wish with due deference, to invite the attention particularly of the Honourable Minister for Revenue to the specific aspect of the application of this policy in the revenue assessment of Amritsar. With regard to this assessment my first submission is this. As I submitted, the formula of sliding scale is very difficult to understand. Under that formula there are two main and important aspects, I mean, the working out of the gross assets and the calculation of the net assets. For working out the cost of production calculations have to be made by the settlement staff in the settlement office. I submit that it is fair, it is expedient and it is necessary that in the working out of this formula the Government should have associated with it the representatives of the people of the district concerned, members of the Assembly, members of the district board and other important citizens in the rural side, so that in an informal capacity they may understand the real implication of the system. They may also suggest to the officer concerned what are their difficulties and what are the points regarding their own working out which have to be taken into consideration.

Sardar Hari Singh : On a point of order. The motion is moved with a view to discuss or criticise the policy regarding a particular area. The honourable member should confine himself to the particular grievances of the people of Amritsar while discussing his motion.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : If my honourable friend would be patient and try to follow me he will find that I am talking about a particular area. When I say that the people of the district concerned, members of the Assembly and members of the district board and other citizens should associate in working out this formula —

Sardar Hari Singh : On a point of order. While discussing the cut motion on an item, the honourable member should confine himself to discussing the special grievances only.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : Sir, when I am on my legs I know what I am talking.

Sardar Hari Singh : My point of order is whether by discussing a cut motion on an item of a demand, the honourable member can discuss the policy underlying the whole department.

Marshal of the Assembly.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Mr. Speaker, on a point of order, the Opposition would like to know who the stranger is who is sitting on your left?

Mr. Speaker : I am sorry and must apologise to the House for my failure to introduce him to the House. He is the marshal of the House.

Diwan Chaman Lall: May I know, Mr. Speaker, under what authority, and under whose authority this marshal was appointed to sit there and whether any resolution of the House has been passed on this matter?

Mr. Speaker: The marshal has been appointed by the Government and he is here. There is a marshal in the Central Assembly. The honourable member, who has been a member of that body must be aware of it. There is a sergeant-at-arms in the House of Commons and I am sure the honourable member knows this. In the same way our marshal is here and his presence is not an extraordinary thing.

Diwan Chaman Lall: Do I take it that it is the executive action on the part of the Government which has resulted in the appointment of the marshal without any attempt being made to obtain the sanction of this House for such an appointment?

Mr. Speaker: I am not aware of any rule or law under which sanction of the House should have been obtained. When his salary is entered in the budget, the House may sanction or reject it.

Diwan Chaman Lall: But did not ordinary courtesy demand that the Leader of the House should have consulted the Opposition in regard to the change in the office bearers of the House?

Mr. Speaker: That is a matter between the Premier and the Leader of the Opposition.

Diwan Chaman Lall: Have the functions of the marshal been defined?

Mr. Speaker: Not yet, but probably they will be similar to the functions of the marshal of the Central Assembly or the sergeant-at-arms of the House of Commons.

[At this Stage the Hon. Speaker directed the marshal to sit in the box to the left of his chair till further orders.]

Resettlement operations in Amritsar.

Mr. Speaker: Now I will give my opinion on the point of order raised by Sardar Hari Singh.

Motions for reduction of demands for grants can be made with the object of—

(a) effecting economic reductions or discussing financial questions and details of expenditure;

(b) for criticising and impeaching the administrative conduct and policy of Government, emphasising grievances and complaints of the public; attacking the suspected delinquencies in the department to which the demand relates, making remarks and comments upon the manner in which the minister and subordinates of the department, whose estimates are before the House, discharge their public functions, condemning the conduct and actions of ministers and their subordinates connected with or to be paid for from the demand under consideration.

In the mother of Parliaments the motions of class (a) are seldom made at the present day, because, though in theory the House of Commons is in favour of economy, in practice its members, both as a body and still more as individuals, try to use their influence with the Government to increase rather than to decrease expenditure. Therefore, as a rule they move motions under (b) and not under (a), so far so that when any member wishes to increase a grant beyond the amount entered in the budget, he moves the motion to reduce the demand in order to draw government's attention to its insufficiency.

A member of Parliament who wishes to discuss any of the matters enumerated in (b) above with regard to any estimate or demand, moves a motion for the nominal cut of £100, or less; and on such a motion the house discusses the points raised by the motion; and as we have been following the parliamentary practice, the honourable members may generally move motions under (b), but they are not debarred from moving motions under (a). It must be understood, however, that when a motion for substantial financial reduction is moved under (a), its discussion should, strictly speaking, be confined to the financial aspect of the relevant demand and its details.

Sardar Hari Singh : I want your ruling on the point as to whether a cut motion to an item of the demand can be used to criticise the policy underlying the whole demand or whether the member who moves such a motion has to confine himself to the particular grievance.

Mr. Speaker : My ruling is clear on that point.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : Let me offer my humble gratitude to you for such a clear enunciation of the position through your ruling.

The second point which I wish to submit is that we of Amritsar on the whole belong to a district of small land-holders and I am sure my honourable friends sitting on the opposite side and those who belong to Amritsar will bear me out that on the whole our district is one of poor peasants. In addition to poverty, the district of Amritsar happens to be the chosen land of the angels of agitation somehow or other. The activities of these agitators dislocate and affect the economic condition of the loyalists and the law-abiding citizens of Amritsar. ("Hear, hear" from the Ministerial and Opposition benches). In view of all these we have not had sufficient time yet to recover from the effects of the depression from which we are just coming out. More than that the principles of this system are such that it will take time for people to understand and therefore the people of Amritsar expect and demand that just as in the case of Lyallpur the Government would tell them that so far as the actual application of the rates and rules of the new system are concerned, until five years after the assessment no one shall be asked to pay more than what he is paying under the existing system. That will be showing the same concession as in the case of the Lyallpur district and I appeal to the Government—and I hope the Opposition would support me in this—that we may get some assurance from them in this respect.

The third point which I wish to bring out is this. Under the sliding scale policy up to 25 per cent. of the net assets has to be recovered from each assessment. But within the circle the discretion rests with the settlement officers to make certain changes, so that a little higher rate may fall on the higher class of people and a little concession may be given to the poorer people.

I admit that in the working out of this system we in Amritsar fear and feel that proper adjustments are not made to our satisfaction and I would, therefore, request that this matter may also be forthwith attended to.

Sardar Partap Singh: Will you make a difference between a peasant and a peasant? How do you propose to levy a higher or a lower rate of revenue on different people?

Mir Maqbool Mahmood: That is a question for the revenue officer, but I do want to tell the House that people who till a certain acreage should be exempted. (hear, hear). I am glad my honourable friends opposite say "hear, hear" and I hope that they will also vote with me, when the time comes.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt: Yes, if you do not withdraw the motion (laughter).

Mir Maqbool Mahmood: If I do not get a satisfactory reply I will certainly go to the lobby, even if I am in a minority of one. I now come to the question of one of the main essentials of this system that gross assets have to be worked out. In working the gross assets there are four or five important things to be taken into consideration. There is the area under cultivation and there is the yield per crop, the area under a particular crop and the level of prices. My point in consideration is confined to one aspect of it, that is the area under each particular crop. We find, for instance, to-day that so many thousand acres in Amritsar district are under sugarcane, within the next forty years it may happen, as it happened, elsewhere that circumstances may arise compelling the zamindars to a very serious extent to go in for a crop which is far less valuable. I appeal that in these matters, this is the worry of the people of my district and of my constituency, the Government may consider the advisability of revising the position so that a large scale relief is given to the revenue payer. My next point is with regard to the fluctuation in prices. A flood in America or an earthquake in Japan or a subsidy to the Italian boats apart from the vagaries of nature in our own country may disturb the level of prices. Increase in population is also sometimes effective, and I speak with due deference to the great economic authorities, including our honourable friend the Minister for Finance, that so far fluctuation and changes in prices, like those of love, have refused to be regulated by any law and more than that all attempts to regulate them have failed and the position now as it has been elsewhere is that when we cannot make prices adjust themselves to our laws, we have to make our laws adjust themselves to the vagaries of prices. That is what the sliding scale attempts to do and to that extent it is a help to the people for it saves the hardship of a constant fall in prices though the prices under the Act have to be regulated under rule 4 of the Land Revenue Assessment Rules. Now in working out the prices there are two special factors which should be taken by the settlement officer which are not being taken into consideration by the settlement officer of Amritsar. They are that deduction has to be made for famines and years of scarcity and a sufficiently long period of prices has to be taken into consideration. I concede that fortunately for the province and fortunately for my district the Government have issued instructions that when working out prices they should deduct from the prices certain amount so that we may get village prices—this is four annas per maund, as the Honourable Revenue Minister tells me. We are also grateful that Government have issued instructions that the prices are taken at the time when the villagers have to sell their produce, that is when the prices are the lowest, but in working out these facts the discretion rests with the settlement officer and higher authorities who exclude abnormal and bad years and bring in the periods for which prices have to be calculated. I appeal again to the Government on behalf of my district that in permitting a number of years in which these calculations are reckoned and in excluding bad years they should be so fair that the district of Amritsar does not unnecessarily and unfairly suffer. My next point, and that is a point on which people of my district again fear, is and I appeal to the Government to remove this difficulty, that under the old system commutation prices were worked out per acre. Whether we have any net assets or not, whether we were running the whole thing at a loss or not, the Government was entitled to take its whole amount and the remissions were a matter of grace, while under the new system we are entitled to claim remissions as a matter of right. There is another point. Government through its kindness and fairness in the past has, just as is the case in the districts which have been inflicted with hailstorm, given substantial remissions. But we fear that in future if anything happens in the districts of an abnormal nature, the Government may not limit remissions to the automatic limit to which the people of the district may be entitled. The people of Amritsar request that a statement may be made to the effect that in unfortunately and abnormally bad areas the Government will not limit their remissions only to what is due under the automatic sliding scale system. I come next to the question of working out net assets for the purpose of calculation of assessment.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : What has that to do with the motion before the House? Is he not going against your ruling?

Mr. Speaker : There can be no doubt that the honourable member is wandering far away from the motion before the House (Hear, hear from the Opposition).

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : Coming to the question of working cost of production in Amritsar district so as to reduce the same from the gross assets with a view to work out the amount on which interest may be charged, I have one suggestion to make. There has been a great deal of controversy in my district and outside as to what should be the cost of production. I am not concerned at this stage with that, I have some definite views and when the relevant discussion comes up I shall talk of them. There is, however, one important point to which I want to refer. In Amritsar district in working out the cost of production there is one item that is being worked out and that is the occupier's rate. I wish to emphasize that this is the only point which is regulated by the orders of the Government and not by the orders of any other authority or the circumstances of the crops and with regard to that, in fairness, I would suggest that in 1924, the Government raised the occupiers rate by 8 per cent. But the occupiers rate is an item which is entirely in the discretion of the Government and we fear that when we have good prices these occupiers rate may be raised because they are not to be raised after forty years, they can be raised at any time. In view of this I would submit to the Honourable Minister for Revenue to state that in fairness and equity it is desirable that the Government should associate the Land Revenue Committee of this House or any other representative body with this work informally or otherwise so that when they are revising or changing the occupiers rate and increasing the rate of assessment, the people of Amritsar may be able to take the revision with confidence. The next point which I wish to submit is that we have appointed a committee to go into the question of graduated income-tax and also to look into the question of alternative system of assessment which can be levied. The people of Amritsar claim that if any equitable and beneficial system is introduced, they may not be deprived of its benefits.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is again repeating himself.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : I come now to another specific question of importance to the people of Amritsar.

My first suggestion in this connection is that we have in the various villages of Amritsar certain gurdwaras, certain grave-yards and certain temples, and the lands associated with them are being demarcated in certain cases, but not throughout. I submit that instructions may be issued that they may be done throughout so that we in Amritsar may be saved later from the unnecessary difficulties and troubles and communal misunderstandings on such matters. I would appeal strongly to Government that this policy may be adhered to so that we may be saved from communal bitterness and the unfortunate communal bickerings that are present in Amritsar.

The second question which I wish to emphasise in this connection is that in every village we have what are called "kamins" and proprietors. I submit that in various villages of my district, particularly where the proprietors are Muslims and the "kamins" non-Muslims or where the proprietors are non-Muslims and the "kamins" are Muslims, there are various questions connected with them which should be settled in the course of settlements so that those poor people may be saved the harassment of coming to court unnecessarily and the communal bitterness may be averted.

Sardar Partap Singh : Is there any bitterness there ?

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : If the honourable member wants to know, I would tell him that even in the last year there had been no less than 17 cases in my district which we had to go through with the help—and I am glad to publicly acknowledge it—of Lieutenant Boota Singh and have those questions settled.

Now, Sir, in conclusion I wish only to make one point. As we all know in the past the zamindars not only in Amritsar but throughout the province, have been frightened by settlements and re-settlements. Speaking of my own district, a very old farmer in my constituency told me that the zamindars had been in the past treating these assessments as plague and the exactions of the bad official and the bad patwari as part of the plague. But things have changed now. To-day they have faith in the Premier, they have faith in the Government, and they have faith in the bona fides of the party which is sitting behind him. But it is the right and the duty of the Government to show that by watchful supervision of the settlement in Amritsar and by replying to my statement they deserve this faith.

Mr. Speaker : Demand under consideration, motion moved is—

That the item of Rs. 2,58,900 on account of Survey and Settlement Parties be reduced by Rs. 100.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar (North-West Towns, General, Urban) : Sir, at the very outset I would submit that we do not agree with the praises that my friend opposite has sung for the system ; but I think that the speech of the honourable member has a significance of its own. It is indeed pleasing to note that the suspicions against the Government and against the working of the officers of the Government are not merely confined to this side of the House, but that there are genuine apprehensions on that side of the House too that the officers of the Government in administering certain systems do not act in the manner in which they are expected to. I for one congratulate the honourable member opposite for the boldness which he has shown in trying to criticise certain actions of the Government. (Premier : Not of the Government.) I take it to be so because he has, to my mind, by raising the discussion on this demand tried to show, and has in fact shown, that he has apprehensions that certain things may not be done and that certain representatives of the people may not be associated with the working of a certain system. All this shows that he has real apprehensions. (Premier : He has made constructive suggestions.) He has used clear words to show that he has genuine apprehensions and misgivings. We on this side of the House give our fullest co-operation to him as also our fullest support and say that we are with him in carrying this cut and that the honourable the mover will not be inclined to withdraw the cut and would take it to the end, so that his apprehensions may be removed and he may be able to go and tell the people outside that he has secured for them greater co-operation with the administration and that those communal bickerings, which according to him in the past have been due to the oversight or the omission of the Government officials are done away with since he has himself said that now-a-days people come and say that they are in sight of a Messiah, they are now feeling safe, they have now no misgivings, they feel protected, thereby, by his own admission, he tells the people through this House that in the past things were very defective and in an alarming state. And if that was the state of affairs, may I just tell my friend that we on this side of the House are yet not convinced that there is a change in the mentality and in the outlook of the present Government. We have yet to see that the shy maiden is really a shy maiden. Mere use of puff and powder and lip stick will not change an old maid into a shy maiden. We have yet to see a change in the mentality of the Government. We still feel that there is a suspicion in the mind of the general people that the present representatives of the Government are nothing but the prototypes of their predecessors and have their tune taken from somewhere. I speak with the fullest responsibility that could be attached to my utterance. We have yet to see that their attitude is the popular attitude.

Mr. Speaker : Will the honourable member please speak to the motion ?

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : I am speaking to the motion and with respect to the remarks of my friend opposite who has introduced these matters. Therefore, in fairness to myself and the House I think I am entitled to reply to the question that he has raised. If, however, you are pleased to rule that I should not go to that extent, I think I need not take any more time of the House.

Sardar Sampuran Singh (Lyallpur West, Sikh, Rural) : I happen to come from the same district and have as much interest in that district as perhaps the honourable member who has moved this cut has. I congratulate him for the beautiful speech he has made in favour of the zamindars of that district and also the way in which he has shown that the people have great confidence in the Premier and all those members of the Unionist Government who are sitting behind him. It is a pity he has left out those people who, without taking any price, have submitted to the Unionist creed and joined this Government as Ministers. He should have congratulated them as well. After all, these congratulations are only formal things and they would not have cost anything to the honourable member to say a few nice words about them as well. I congratulate him again on bringing out a very fine point for argument on this occasion and that is that the cost of production should also be considered and deducted from the gross income before any assessment is levied.

Minister for Revenue : It is always done.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : I may be excused if I say that the Honourable Minister or any Member of the Government has never so far recognised the fact that the zamindars are entitled to the reduction or deduction of the cost of production. I may be allowed to say, for the information of the Honourable Minister for Revenue, that a large amount of money was allotted by the Central Cotton Committee and by the Council of Agricultural Research to find out the cost of production of various agricultural products but so far it has not been done. How can it be said that he has been deducting it when the Government does not know what is the cost of production for each crop in this province ?

Minister for Revenue : We know it. We are practical zamindars. I challenge that statement.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : Perhaps the Financial Commissioner understands the position regarding the cost of production.

Minister for Revenue : Is the honourable member authorised to make that sort of suggestion that I do not know the rules ?

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Mr. Speaker, the Honourable Minister for Revenue said the other day that I did not know the Land Revenue Act.

Premier : Is the honourable member in order to refer to somebody in the gallery ?

Sardar Sampuran Singh : I submit that the cost of production includes the labour of the agriculturists themselves and their cost of living. That is never deducted from the gross income and unless the labour of the agriculturist and the peasant is also considered and deducted from the gross income, you are using a wrong phraseology.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member should not address the Government members direct.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : Government is using wrong phraseology when they say that they deduct cost of production from the gross income. If my friend Mir Maqbool Mahmood succeeds in making the Government accede to that point, the swaraj for the zamindars of this province is already gained. If the Government agrees to the point that the cost of production should be deducted before the revenue is assessed on the land, we have gained everything that we want and I congratulate the honourable member from Amritsar for raising this point in the House.

I agree with the honourable member from Amritsar that that district like the district of Lyallpur should also be given assurance by the Government that in the case of Amritsar at least for ten years to come the revenue will not be increased according to the sliding scale. I may even say it should not be increased till the next term of the settlement comes. With these few remarks, I support the motion so far as the spirit of it is concerned.

Chaudhri Jalal-ud-Din Amber (West Central Punjab, Indian Christian) (Urdu): I have risen to support the proposal of my honourable friend, Mir Maqbool Mahmood, in regard to the settlement operations. There is no doubt that many complaints were received during previous settlement operations.

Language of Debates.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar: On a point of order. It is not at all pleasing to raise this point of order, but there is your ruling that the members of the House knowing English must speak in English. So long as the rule is there, may I just know if the honourable member is not able to speak in English?

Premier: No, he is not a B.A., LL.B., Sir.

Chaudhri Jalal-ud-Din Amber: By the words "sufficient knowledge of English" I understand that one should have the ability to speak in English.

Mr. Speaker: Is the honourable member a double graduate, i.e. B.A., LL.B.?

Chaudhri Jalal-ud-Din Amber: No Sir, I am not a B.A., LL.B.

Mr. Speaker: Is the honourable member a B.A.?

Chaudhri Jalal-ud-Din Amber: I passed it in the last century. I am a relic of the past. I have forgotten whatever little English I knew. You can verify through the officers under whom I have been working.

Mr. Speaker: I have to accept the honourable member's word that he is unable to speak in English.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar: The honourable member is a graduate in English and has passed B.A. standard in English. May I then know if your ruling is that a person will not be considered to be sufficiently acquainted with English if he says that he cannot speak in English despite the fact that he is a graduate?

Mr. Speaker: A case occurred yesterday when Rai Hari Chand, who is a double graduate and who passed his LL.B. examination about fifteen years ago, pleaded on the floor of this House that, as he had been doing zamindari work since passing his final examination, his vocabulary was not as it should have been and that he did not know English sufficiently and adequately and that, therefore, he could speak only in Urdu. His explanation was accepted. Chaudhri Jalal-ud-Din is only a B. A. He has not passed the LL.B. examination. He says that he has forgotten the year when he graduated. All he remembers is that he passed his B.A. in the last century and that he has been a tahsildar for a number of years. When a person, who has been a tahsildar practically for his whole life and has been speaking during that long period either Punjabi or Urdu, pleads that he is unable to speak English, I think we should accept his statement.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Sir, certain anomalies have been created on this question in this House and I would seriously request you to consider this question properly and lay down a standard for the question of sufficiency or insufficiency of knowledge of English. I may state for your information that we on this side of the House who speak in English find it sometimes difficult to give expression to our feelings adequately.

Mr. Speaker : I refuse to agree with the honourable member, as he is one of the ablest members of this House and can speak in English most fluently and eloquently.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : I thank you for your compliments but that is not the question, Sir. I was saying that we sometimes find it difficult to express ourselves adequately in English. We cannot think in English, we cannot dream in English. I was not referring only to myself. I was referring to so many of the members on this side. Even honourable members like Dr. Gopi Chand, Lala Duni Chand, and others cannot give expression to their ideas fluently and fully and clearly. The question is that a standard should be laid down.

Mr. Speaker : What is the practical suggestion ?

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : What is the penalty prescribed in the Act for breaking the law ? I am prepared to break the law and I think we should all revolt against this section of the Act, particularly as there is no penalty. I believe there is no penalty. Even if there were, we should be prepared to break the law.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : This is a very serious question. There are a number of members on this side of the House who are not fully conversant with the English language and yet they are required to speak in English, while there are several members on the other side who know English and yet speak in vernacular. Their object is to influence those honourable members of this House who do not understand English. Members on this side, because they are not allowed to speak in Urdu, cannot counteract the effect which has been created by the other side. Therefore I would request the Speaker to look into this question.

Mr. Speaker : The point has been sufficiently discussed. It is not in my power to compel a person to speak in English, when he says that he does not know that language adequately.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Sir, what is the penalty if this rule is broken ? So far as I am aware there is no penalty. If there is no penalty the law should be broken.

Premier : I am disagreeably surprised to find that my honourable friend opposite should have suggested that we should break the law, and rebel against whom ?—against the chair ?

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : No, not at all. Against the Government of India Act.

Premier : The penalty if they try to rebel, if I may venture to suggest, is that the Speaker need not call on them to speak and the Speaker can use his further power—

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : The Premier has undoubtedly misunderstood me if he has not misrepresented me.

Premier : Oh, no.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Then he has misunderstood me. What I wanted to ask was that if you permit us to speak in the vernacular, is there any penalty for you? We are prepared to obey your ruling and we have never disobeyed it, but is there any penalty against you?

Mr. Speaker : Will the honourable member suggest the way in which I should decide this question? When an honourable member says on the floor of this House that his knowledge of English is insufficient, should I disbelieve him? (Voices : No, no). Then it is agreed that I must accept his word. And if a graduate were to say that his knowledge of English has deteriorated or become stale and that, therefore, he cannot speak in that language, what can I do? What I can do at the most is to say, 'I expect you to speak in English and if you do not, I shall have to ask you to resume your seat.' In that case, should I not be guilty of depriving the honourable members of their most important right of speaking in this House?

Premier : We have addressed the Government of India strongly to recommend to the Secretary of State that an amendment of the Act should be made as soon as possible.

Dr. Saif-ud-Din Kitchlew : Sir, with your permission I should like to make one suggestion. It is unfortunate indeed, and we all realise it, that this question of the vehicle or the medium of expression in this House is getting on the nerves of everybody. It is a serious matter no doubt. Your effort in this direction, Sir, is a very laudable one. You have already made a recommendation to the proper authorities to get the section amended. But meantime I beg of you to consider this suggestion of mine. If it is agreeable, that will smooth matters so far as the working of the House is concerned till we get a proper reply from the authorities and the section of the Government of India Act is amended. My suggestion is that you should leave it to the discretion of every individual member to speak in whatever language he likes. One should have sufficient knowledge of the English language in order to express one's thoughts clearly, emphatically and in a proper manner. That is the interpretation of the section in the Act. Supposing I know English, I have studied up to a certain standard, I can express myself in that language. But supposing there is a lurking fear in my mind that I will not be able to use a foreign language in a proper manner in talking on a particular subject or that I cannot properly express my ideas or views in that language, I should be permitted to speak in the language I want. My suggestion therefore is, that until some final settlement is arrived at in the matter of the language of the Assembly, every member should be given discretion to choose the language in which he wants to give expression to his ideas and views.

Premier : That is what we have recommended. We have suggested that members should be allowed to speak in any language they want, to speak in any other language even if they know English sufficiently well. Meanwhile, I am afraid that the provision of the Act is there and it is for you to interpret it and you have already interpreted it. We will have to put up with this inconvenience for a little longer.

Lala Duni Chand : I should like to propose a solution to meet the difficulty. You have already ruled that an honourable member, may be a B.A. or even a B.A., LL.B., but he may be unable to speak in English. If you give your ruling on another point the difficulty will be solved. Supposing an honourable member says " I do not feel like speaking in English " you may be pleased to excuse him. Or supposing an honourable member says he wishes to speak in English on certain matters, then he should be allowed to speak in English. Thus the discretion to speak in English or in any vernacular should be left to the honourable member concerned. I think this will be a practical solution of the difficulty.

Mr. Speaker : I will consider the honourable member's valuable suggestion, but I do not think it is practicable.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : I should like to place a very important point before you. It may be that some members are accustomed to speak in English on the floor of the House on certain subjects, but, Sir, they may not be able to speak in the same language on all subjects; for instance on medical and scientific subjects a member may find himself incompetent to express himself clearly in English. Would you not, then, allow him to speak in vernacular?

Mr. Speaker : I will decide that question when it arises.

Marshal of the Assembly.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I want your ruling on a very important question. It was brought to your notice in this House a few minutes ago that there is a certain gentleman in this House who is a regular police official and whose pay we are going to vote. You were pleased to say that he is here as a marshal or as sergeant-at-arms of the House of Commons. You were also pleased to say that he was appointed by the Government, of course, without your consultation. You were also pleased to remark that it lay with the Honourable Leader of the House—

Mr. Speaker : I said Government, not the Leader of the House.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : You were pleased to say that it lay with the Leader of the House to consult the Leader of the Opposition about the appointment of a certain official as marshal. My submission is that the analogy does not apply here. The sergeant-at-arms of the House of Commons has got powers under the law and he acts under those powers. For example, the sergeant-at-arms is authorised to turn out any member of the House of Commons if he behaves in a grave disorderly manner and not only turn out but he has got authority to arrest members in the House. But here, under the Government of India Act or under the rules framed by His Excellency the Governor to regulate our procedure if there is grave disorder it is for you to adjourn the House. If you call upon a member to withdraw and he does not withdraw, then you have got power to adjourn the House for such a time as you think proper. The Government of India Act does not authorise any official appointed by the Government to arrest any member or turn him out of this House.

Mr. Speaker : The matter raised by the honourable member is not before the House. If the honourable member wishes to raise the question of the legality, propriety or otherwise of marshal's appointment, he may do so in accordance with the rules of the House. No member can stand and begin to speak on a matter which is not before the House. The only question now before the House is item 15. Therefore, no honourable member can speak on any other matter, not before the House.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I only raised a point of order and I want your ruling on the point.

Mr. Speaker : The matter is an important one and if the honourable gentleman wishes to discuss it, he is welcome to do so in proper manner.

Diwan Chaman Lall : On a point of order. I draw your attention to the fact that there is a stranger in this House. I also draw your attention to the fact that I am well within my right in requesting you to be kind enough to order the withdrawal of the Marshal.

Mr. Speaker : He has been ordered to sit in the box till further orders.

Resettlement operations in Amritsar.

Chaudhri Jalal-ud-Din Amber (Urdu): I feel much obliged to you for permitting me to deliver my speech in Urdu. My appeal to the Opposition benches would have been—

بات بنتی ہے مری تیرا بگڑنا کیا ہے۔

Anyhow you deserve my heartfelt gratitude.

Sir, I was submitting that I support the proposals which my honourable friend Mir Maqbool Mahmood while discussing his cut motion, has put forward in regard to settlement operations in the Amritsar District. The present policy governing resettlement operations in the Amritsar district is based on the experience gained by the introduction of the sliding scales system. This system was first introduced as an experimental measure for conducting settlement operations in Lyallpur and other districts because owing to the tremendous fall in the prices of agricultural produce, the zamindar is unable to pay the enhanced rates of land revenue fixed during the previous settlement when prices were very high. There is no doubt that settlement operations will be carried out in other districts including the Amritsar district. There is no other system more useful than the sliding scales system. This system will certainly prove more beneficial than all the previous ones. Other proposals which my honourable friend from Amritsar has propounded in regard to other matters also deserve careful consideration at the hands of the Government. For instance, the disputes that take place in villages among zamindars and kamins or non-agriculturists over nazul lands, graveyards or in connection with colonization of lands, should be settled during the settlement operations, as these disputes prove a source of perennial trouble to all the inhabitants, and there is little chance of their being settled afterwards. Similarly, the proposal that in matters connected with settlement operations the settlement officers should consult the members of district boards or committees of zamindars, is a laudable one. It is my firm belief that the sliding scales system will surpass all previous systems and will prove more beneficial to zamindars than any other system. Certain honourable members are of the opinion that land revenue should be assessed on the principles on which income-tax is levied. But the gentlemen who hold this opinion do not understand the import of their proposals.

Pir Akbar Ali : On a point of order, Sir. The procedure laid down for the settlement and the rules governing the assessment were passed in the Punjab Legislative Council in 1928. Can any suggestion now be brought forward against those rules and procedure ?

Mr. Speaker : The House decided yesterday that necessity for legislation or matters involving legislation will not be discussed.

Chaudhri Jalal-ud-Din Amber : Sir, I want to make it clear that although the sliding scales system is an extremely useful one, its utility entirely depends upon the collection of correct statistics regarding the market prices of food-stuffs. It is a very difficult task to obtain exact statistics regarding market prices, because correct statistics regarding the prices of agricultural produce are not kept in mandis. There are other difficulties also. Firstly the arhties in mandis maintain duplicate price lists. Secondly sometimes they refuse to quote correct prices. Thirdly and lastly no such law has been enacted under the provisions of which these arhties may be compelled to give true quotations. There is, however, one objection which can be levelled against the sliding scales system, viz., that under this system the zamindars have to undergo a lot of trouble every year at the time of assessment of land revenue inasmuch as at every harvest the land revenue will have to be assessed on the prices of agricultural produce then prevalent. The following couplet by the celebrated poet Ghalib rightly describes the plight of zamindars—

مجھے کیا بُرا تھا مرنا اگر ایک بار ہوتا۔

In other words the zamindars will be inconvenienced again and again.

I, therefore, request the Honourable Revenue Minister that if he wants to make the sliding scales system a complete success from the practical point of view, he should make rules and issue instructions to the local officers to the effect that they should spare no pains in arriving at right conclusions while assessing land revenue so that the hardships of zamindars may also be lightened to some extent. With these words I again support the cut motion moved by my honourable friend Mir Maqbool Mahmood.

Mr. Speaker : I directed the marshal to go and sit in that box. But I understand that it is not my box. It is the Governor's box, when this Assembly is in session, and when the Central Assembly is sitting, it is the Governor-General's box. Further, the marshal is my assistant and, therefore, has a right to sit near me. However, I will consider this matter further and give my considered and final ruling later on. In the meantime, I allow him to sit to my left.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia) : I will deal with Sardar Sampuran Singh first.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : On a point of order, can he deal with me ?

Minister for Revenue : He must understand that I meant I will deal with his arguments and I will deal with him if necessary. (Laughter). The expenses of the cultivator are taken into account. The following are the points which are kept in mind when the expenses of the cultivator are taken into account—

- (1) Payments of water rates,
- (2) Supply of seed,
- (3) Concessions regarding fodder,
- (4) Cost of rent collections,
- (5) Abatement of rent in bad harvests, and such other things. All these things are taken into consideration when the cost of cultivation is taken into account and also the menials' dues which are paid generally from the joint heap. (An honourable member : What about the cost of the cultivator, his labour ?) Whatever remains to him is his cost.

Coming to the points raised by Mir Maqbool Mahmood he has suggested certain things—I may be permitted to read the rules that have been passed by the Legislative Council.

I refer him to rule 19 in which it is provided :

- (a) the principal data on which the true net assets estimate has been based, viz., rates of rents of yield assumed, rent in cash or in kind, average total areas cultivated and matured, deductions allowed for expenses of cultivation, menials' dues, etc., and the value of land as disclosed by sales and mortgages;
 - (b) the general considerations on which the pitch and amount of the total actual assessment proposed to be taken are based, i.e., the increase in resources through irrigation, extension of cultivation, rise in prices, miscellaneous income, etc.; and
 - (c) the total assessment and the average revenue rates proposed for adoption in framing village assessments, with such brief explanations as may be necessary, including the clear proviso that there is no guarantee that any particular estate will be ultimately assessed at the exact rates proposed.
- (2) Copies of this abstract shall be supplied by post to all zaildars, sudeposhes, headmen, and organisations of land-owners of the area concerned and to non-official members of the district board and elected members of the Punjab Legislative Council representing the said area.

A period of thirty days from the date of posting shall be allowed within which any revenue-payer or group of revenue-payers or occupancy tenants may make a representation or objection to the proposed assessment to the Revenue Officer.

Any such representation or objections shall be considered by the Revenue Officer, who shall forward them, with his views thereon, together with the report, to the Commissioner.

[Minister for Revenue.]

This is one of the rules which is always observed when assessment starts and action is taken. There is also another rule, Rule 15, which says—

- (1) The Revenue Officer shall frame his proposals with respect to classes of soils, selected years, prices to be adopted and assessment circles in accordance with the provisions of rules 2, 3, 4 and 14, respectively, as soon as possible after the commencement of settlement operations.
- (2) The Revenue officer shall have an abstract of his proposals prepared and translated into the vernacular. Printed copies of this abstract shall be supplied by post to all zaildars, sutedposhes, headmen and organisations of landowners of the area concerned and to non-official members of the district board and elected members of the Punjab Legislative Council representing the said area. A period of thirty days from the date of posting shall be allowed within which they may file objections on all or any of the matters referred to in sub-rule (1) to the Revenue Officer.
- (3) The Revenue Officer shall take such objections into consideration and forward them with his views thereon, together with his proposals, through the Commissioner, for the orders of the Financial Commissioner.

This is the procedure adopted by the settlement officer and I think this is sufficient to meet the requirements of my friend who has made this cut motion.

Coming to his other points, he said that instructions should be given to the settlement officer that land covered by mosques, gurdwaras, temples, graveyards, etc., should be demarcated and entered in revenue records.

Marshal of the Assembly.

Diwan Chaman Lall : On a point of order. I understand that the gentleman you ordered to take a seat in the box has—

Mr. Speaker : I am not going to allow any discussion on that point now. I will consider the matter and give my final decision later on.

(At this stage Diwan Chaman Lall got up in his seat.)

The honourable member should not stand when I am standing. He ought to know Parliamentary procedure better than any other honourable member, as he has been a member of the Central Assembly. I have yet to decide the matter finally. The Marshal being my assistant has a right to sit near me.

Diwan Chaman Lall : I regret—

Mr. Speaker : I am not going to listen to anything further. No criticism can be made of what I have said. I have more than once told the House that I will consider the matter further and give my final decision later on. For the present I have allowed him to sit to my left.

Diwan Chaman Lall : I want to make a statement on behalf of the Opposition.

Mr. Speaker : Order, order. I do not allow it. The honourable member has no right to make a statement. (Honourable members : Order, order.)

Diwan Chaman Lall : Ordinary courtesy, Mr. Speaker. You must allow me to make a statement. (Honourable members : Order, order.)

Mr. Speaker : I have heard the honourable member on the question raised by him and have repeatedly told him that I will give my ruling on this subject later.

Diwan Chaman Lall : I want to make a statement that we withdraw from this House. On behalf of the Opposition I make this statement.

Mr. Speaker : Order, order. If the honourable member stands again I may have to ask him to withdraw.

[The Honourable member stood up again.]

Diwan Chaman Lall : I withdraw and I wish—

Mr. Speaker : As this is grossly disorderly conduct, I request or rather direct the honourable member to withdraw.

Diwan Chaman Lall : We all withdraw, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker : Very well, please yourself.

(At this stage the members of the Opposition withdrew from the Chamber.)

Resettlement Operations in Amritsar.

Minister for Revenue : I was dealing with the suggestion made by Mir Maqbool Mahmood, that is, those in arrears may be allowed time even beyond that necessary under the sliding scale. He said also that the new rates should not be brought into force in Amritsar and that the old rates should remain for some time as was done in Lyallpur, that is, for five years. The other points raised by my honourable friends will be duly considered and as regards the five years period during which the old rates should remain I can give him the undertaking that that will be done. I hope that after this assurance has been given the honourable member would like to withdraw his motion.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : In view of this assurance, with gratitude I beg to ask for leave to withdraw my motion.

The motion was by leave withdrawn.

The Assembly then adjourned for lunch.

The Assembly re-assembled at 2 p.m. of the clock. Mr. Speaker in the Chair.

MARSHAL OF THE ASSEMBLY.

Premier : With your permission I should like to refer to the somewhat unfortunate incident which resulted in the walk out of my honourable friends occupying the opposite benches. Unfortunately I was not present in the House when originally the question of the appointment of Marshal was raised by one of the honourable members opposite, but during the subsequent developments which culminated in the walk out, I was present in the House. With your permission I should like to make the position clear to the House as to how this appointment was made. You will remember that some days ago you spoke to His Excellency the Governor asking him that he might be pleased to appoint a Marshal of the House on the analogy of the Central Legislative Assembly. You subsequently asked me as the head of the Government to make arrangements for such an appointment. I, on that occasion had to inform you that it was not possible to make arrangements for the appointment of a permanent Marshal immediately, but that I would endeavour to provide a temporary incumbent for the post pending the appointment of a permanent incumbent. You were pleased to ask me to make temporary arrangements. It was in pursuance of your wishes that the gentleman who is now sitting on your left as your Marshal and as Marshal of the House was appointed. I regret that the honourable members opposite should have thought it fit to stage a walk out. It may be that there was a genuine misunderstanding. I think that if the position had been clearly explained to them they would not have taken the action which they have taken. I, therefore, hope that this statement of mine will be conveyed to them and that they will now see their way to come back to the House in view of the explanation which I have given. I may also, for the information of the House, point out that the precedent in the central Assembly with regard to the appointment of Marshal is that he is appointed by the Governor-General on the recommendation of the President. Here also the appointment has been made by the Governor on your recommendation. I have nothing more to add.

[Premier.]

DEMANDS FOR GRANTS.

LAND REVENUE.

Allotment of land to Christian Agriculturists.

Chaudhri Jalal-ud-Din Amber (West Central Punjab, Indian Christian) (Urdu): Sir, I beg to move—

That the item of Rs. 2,32,800 on account of Colonization operations be reduced by Re. 1.

I have moved this motion with the express intention of drawing attention of the House in general and the Honourable the Revenue Minister in particular to the fact that Christian agriculturists of the Punjab have been tilling and cultivating their lands for ages and their profession of agriculture has descended from father to son. In the central districts of the Punjab there is not a single village where Christian agriculturists are not residing in considerable numbers. They are either cultivating their own lands or they are helping other zamindars in cultivating their lands on Sepi or Shirakti conditions. In short you will find them in every village following agricultural pursuits. You may ascertain from the landlords whether these Christian agriculturists are hardworking, efficient and honest in their dealings or not. It is a fact that so far as the profession of agriculture is concerned these Christians are not in any way inferior to others.

It is an unexaggerated fact, that it is these Christians who are extending a helping hand to the zamindars of the central districts. They gladly suffer every kind of hardship in connection with their work and that is why they have been declared by Government as members of statutory agriculturist tribes in the districts of Gujranwala, Sheikhpura, Lyallpur, Multan, Montgomery and Sargodha and they have been recognised as agriculturists by all concerned. This bears a further testimony to the fact that their work is not inferior to the work of other agriculturists. My object in moving this motion is to draw the attention of the Government to the fact that their rights and privileges should not be lost sight of at the time of allotment and distribution of government lands. It is a regrettable fact that Christian agriculturists of the Punjab are generally left out in the cold at the time of distribution of government lands. It is a genuine grievance and it must be redressed as early as possible.

I particularly draw the attention of the Honourable Revenue Minister to the Christian tenants who are living in various chaks of the Montgomery district, for instance, Chak Nos. 148, 174, 175 and 108. In these chaks government lands have been allotted to Christians, but they have not been granted occupancy rights which are being enjoyed by other tenants of the same chaks. They are merely non-occupancy tenants. They have not been granted lands on the understanding that they would be granted occupancy rights on any subsequent date. You may compare the agricultural skill of these abadkars with the skill shown by occupancy tenants. These abadkars pay double the rent as compared with others. These Christian abadkars have inherited the profession of agriculture from their forefathers. They were desirous of getting their due share of government lands. They applied to the Colonization Officer who distributed among them the lands which other zamindars had refused to accept on the ground that they were worthless. The Christian zamindars accepted these lands. They filled up the pits and generally made them fit for cultivation. They have been vainly making representations to the officers concerned for the past several years to the effect that they may be granted occupancy rights.

Minister for Revenue: Am I to understand that your complaint is that they have not been given those occupancy rights?

Chaudhri Jalal-ud-Din Amber: Sir, there are only a few of them who have been fortunate enough to obtain these rights, but no assurance has been given to others as to when they will be granted those rights. It would be fair on the part of the Government to offer them some encouragement. When there was a fall in agricultural prices in the Montgomery district and the Government was unable to realise land revenue they remitted the whole of suspended revenue, thereby incurring heavy losses. If the Government has been pleased to grant this concession to other zamindars, there is no reason why these Christians abadkars should be deprived of similar concessions and why they should not be recognised as occupancy tenants. It would prove useful both for the Government as well as these people. My humble submission is that in future the rights of Christian agriculturists should not be ignored at the time of distribution of Government lands. From the social and educational point of view these Christians are leading an exemplary life in the villages. Their sons are educated and their daughters are receiving higher education. Begum Shah Nawaz—the nightingale of the Punjab—has laid great stress on the necessity of female education, and in this respect the Christians have set a very good example. If you care to visit the villages or chaks where they are living in considerable numbers you will find that even in the matter of rural reconstruction they have done excellent work. Just ask Mr. Brayne how earnestly these Christian agriculturists have given effect to the reforms introduced by him. In other words, these Christians welcome all useful western reforms with an open mind. They serve as a medium for the western reforms which are being introduced in villages by missionaries. Thus the work of social uplift is being done in the villages. In short these are the things which are adding to their importance. At present the opposite benches are vacant and I am unable to address them. The previous Government either owing to its weakness could not introduce these reforms or it was afraid that if it were to give effect to these reforms which are foreign to the people of this country it would become a target of public ridicule.

If our officers in the past were unable to extend a helping hand to the weak and the oppressed, they should know that we are incharge of the administration now. The Government should now be strong. It should no longer be afraid of anything. It is no use separating the judicial and executive functions. It will not redound to the benefit of the country. If the previous Government was unable to take a bold stand in the matter, the time has come when the present Government should plainly tell its critics that it is not in the interest of the people to give effect to this suggestion.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is not speaking to the motion.

Chaudhri Jalal-ud-Din Amber : Very well, Sir. It is up to the Government to take note of this important minority. There should be no obstacle in the way of the Government to give favourable consideration to the claims of the Christians. I again submit, that Christian agriculturists may be granted occupancy rights and their claims should not be ignored by Government in the future when a distribution of Government lands takes place.

Mr. Speaker : Demand under consideration, motion moved—

That the item of Rs. 2,32,800 on account of colonization operations be reduced by Re. 1.

Chaudhri Ali Akbar (Gurdaspur East, Muhammadan, Rural) (Urdu) : I want to refute two arguments that have been advanced by the honourable mover of the cut motion. In the first place he has urged that Christians have applied themselves to agriculture from time immemorial ; and that their forefathers were engaged in agriculture. I submit that they are not agriculturists, because they have not a marla of land in their possession and whatever has been urged in their favour is far from the truth. There is quite a large number of zamindars amongst us, whose holdings are very small, so much so that they can hardly keep body and soul together. If the lands, as has been urged by the honourable mover of the motion, were distributed among the Christians and not among the agriculturists, my fear is that the small holders would be reduced to abject poverty.

Christians living in rural areas are engaged in various pursuits other than agriculture. It appears from the speech of my honourable friend that they are pretty well-off. Moreover he has remarked that they are following Mr. Brayne's advice and have given effect to many of his reforms. I submit, Sir, that only those people can follow Mr. Brayne who are rich and prosperous but for a man who does not get enough to eat, it is impossible to carry into effect the reforms suggested by Mr. Brayne.

Again they have other sources of income at their disposal. They are daily receiving large sums of money from foreign countries, and they are also earning and can earn a lot in various other ways. What is more, these people daily take their tiffin, while the poor zamindars do never have such a thing (Cheers).

There are zamindars who have got five sons and they in their turn have five sons each. In this way the lands are parcelled out, so much so that the share of each member of the family hardly comes up to a kanal. On the other hand the Christians are receiving a lot of pecuniary aid from foreign countries as for example from America, but the poor zamindar has only one calling to fall back upon. The zamindars have no other means of earning their livelihood except by the profession of agriculture. It would be a great injustice, if at the time of any future distribution of lands the claims of agriculturists are ignored and the lands are distributed among the Christians. Again I am constrained to say, that Christians are rich enough to put on good shoes and clothes of English pattern, but the poor zamindars can afford nothing of the sort. They do not get even enough to eat (laughter).

Mr. Jalal-ud-Din Amber : I beg to draw the attention of the chair to the speech of the honourable member.

Mr. S. P. Singha (East Central Punjab, Indian Christian) : Sir, I do not wish to inflict a speech on the House, but I think it is incumbent upon me as representative of the Christian community to say a few words after what my honourable friend Chaudhri Ali Akbar has spoken. His speech would give us the idea that goats had been yoked with lions and tigers. I am sure the present Government will not tolerate any distinction of the kind that has been pointed out by the honourable member (hear, hear). It is to the glory of the Christian community that it recruits adherents from all classes. We may be people who belong to different professions, and more than that, a large number of us are recruited from the humblest professions ; but we are not ashamed of that. It is to the glory of our religious organization and our community that men from these classes have reached a stage when they are not a disgrace but an honour to the province. As to the men who have been given land in the Montgomery district, most of them are people who have been for generations cultivating land though they may not have been owners of land.

I am sure we can expect justice from this Government and I am also sure that whenever there is an opportunity of giving more lands to the people, Christians will also get their due share. I do not think there is a single person in this House who has any desire to oppose us on this subject. But I do wish to bring to the notice of the Government that there is a very real grievance in the minds of the Christian cultivators in Montgomery district and the community at large that these people have not been given occupancy rights and that therein invidious distinction has been made. I cannot say whether their grievances are justified or not without hearing the Government point of view, but I do wish to bring it to the notice of the Honourable Minister that the grievance has a very real existence in their minds and if we have an assurance that the Honourable Minister will personally look into the matter, we shall be perfectly satisfied.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia) : My friend the mover of the cut has all my sympathies (hear, hear) as regards the grievances that he has brought to the notice of the Government, but I may be allowed to say one or two things just to explain that his allegation that land has not been given to the Christians, does not appear to be quite correct. I think, if I may say so, that my Christian brethren have received land in the Multan and Montgomery districts. First of all land was given to a Padree in Multan district and he brought in tenants. There was some sort of jhagra going on between the Padree and the tenants. The result was that these tenants remained in possession of the land that the Padree left. The honourable member says that occupancy tenure has not been granted to these people. He has also complained that double rents are being charged. I may inform the House, through you Sir, that the land was sold to them and when they did not fulfil the conditions on which it was sold to them, the land was resumed and again, at their request, it was given back to them on certain conditions which were being fulfilled. I may inform my friend, through you, that the case would be looked into sympathetically and every endeavour will be made to see that there should not be any discrimination in their treatment. Under the circumstances I request my friend to withdraw the amendment.

Chaudhri Jalal-ud-Din Amber (Urdu) : In view of the reply of the Honourable Revenue Minister, I beg leave to withdraw my motion.

The motion was by leave withdrawn.

Crown lands

Mir Maqbool Mahmood (Amritsar, Muhammadan, Rural) : I beg to move—

That the item of Rs. 2,32,800 on account of colonization operations be reduced by Rs. 100.

Mr. Speaker, the cut motion which I have the honour to move does not call for an elaborate speech. The point that I wish to make is clear. When the colonization scheme of the Government was launched in the year 1892 it was made clear that the main purpose of starting the colonization is to encourage the proprietors and to discourage the growth of tenants. It had been calculated that the percentage of the tenants in the Punjab was 44 per cent. The policy that has since been pursued has resulted in the percentage of the tenants rising to over 51 per cent. to-day. I do not advocate that the commitments, which are necessary to make the scheme profitable, such as a certain percentage of the land to be auctioned so that thereby the scheme may be made paying, should not be adhered to. Nor do I admit that the general principle which governs such disposal of land should be departed from. But I do advocate one thing with great emphasis. It is that we have seen in the present political, economic and social upheaval, that is going on in the country, that the greatest bulwark and greatest security of Punjab lies in the fact that we have here the land of peasant proprietors and I am anxious that that integrity and security of the Punjab should be maintained. Let me make it clear that by the 'peasant proprietors' in this Act I do not mean 'peasant proprietors' in the loose sense of the word which includes even persons who have their land tilled through tenants. By 'peasant proprietors' I mean people who cultivate their own land and on a basis of economic holdings. I would plead, with all the emphasis that I can command, that as far as possible, in the future disposal of land, subject to the scheme being made paying on the financial ground, special regard will be had for the peasant proprietor. In this connection I wish, with due deference, to invite the attention of the Honourable Minister of Revenue to the fact that in Amritsar and other districts there are people who have suffered because of their land being spoiled through kharaba, water-logging and other activities and who have been found to be good cultivators and are anxious to find lands. I plead with all the emphasis at my disposal that the claims of such people should receive special consideration.

Mr. Speaker : Demand under consideration, motion moved—

That the item of Rs. 2,32,800 on account of colonization operations be reduced by Rs. 100.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia) : May I with your permission enunciate the general policy that we have in view when we distribute land in the colonies? The policy is that the grants are given to those people who generally cultivate the land with their own hands. Land is also given to people who come from congested areas. We also give land to those people who are suffering from water-logging or it is given in cases where the action of the river or of the hill streams has deprived the people of their lands. These people are considered as good grantees and land is given to them. We have recently started, as you know, a new class of grantees to meet the situation of educated unemployment. We give grants of land to unemployed graduates. We have also been giving land to people who have rendered or are rendering meritorious services in the military or police departments or who have rendered good services in the cause of administration. Besides we generally reserve a certain amount of area which we sell by auction. That is necessary for us to do because we have to make the colony a sort of paying concern in view of the fact that when a new canal or a new project has started we have to see that that project is a productive project. Projects which pay about six per cent. on the investment are considered to be productive projects and the others are called unproductive. Therefore a certain area of land is generally reserved for sale by public auction to make the project a paying concern. These are the general conditions on which land is given and I think it will satisfy my friend that the claims of those people whose cause he has advocated, have been specially kept in mind and they will be kept in mind in future as well.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : In view of the assurance given by the Honourable Minister for Revenue, I beg leave to withdraw my motion.

The motion was by leave withdrawn.

Pension for Patwaris.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan (Pind Dadan Khan, Muhammadan, Bural) : I beg to move—

That the item of Rs. 24,28,250 on account of patwaris establishment be reduced by Rs. 10.

As already stated, the object of this cut motion is to draw the attention of the Government to the desirability of making the post of patwaris pensionable. I would not like to detain the House for any length of time on this motion because every honourable member here realises what important duties are being performed by a patwari. As a matter of fact all the revenue officers from the Collector to the Financial Commissioner depend, for their judgments and opinions on the records prepared by the patwari in a village. There is no doubt that Government can do something to make the position of patwaris financially better by increasing their salaries and as far as I know the present scales of their pay is Rs. 20, 23 and 26. Considering the amount and importance of work which these patwaris have to do in the villages, I am sure the House will agree with me that something should be done to make the post of patwari more attractive. I personally think that it is most unfortunate that some posts, where the work is of a very important nature, are given to people who draw very low salaries. Besides there is very little scope for promotion for the patwaris from this job.

Chaudhri Jalal-ud-Din Amber (Urdu): On a point of order Sir, Under the existing law the patwari is a village servant. So long as the law is not altered and his name is not removed from the list of the village servants the question of the patwaris' pension cannot be discussed.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan: May I submit in reply to this point of order that if the honourable member would carefully consider the wording of this motion he will realise—

Pir Akbar Ali: The ruling is to be given by Mr. Speaker and not by the gentleman who is speaking.

Mr. Speaker: I think the point of order raised by Chaudhri Jalal-ud-Din Amber is right. Therefore, I overrule the amendment.

Hereditary Inamkhors.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan (Pind Dadan Khan, Muhammadan, Rural): I beg to move—

That the items of Rs. 29,45,340 on account of Pay of Establishment be reduced by Rs. 10.

The object of this cut is to bring to the notice of Government the hardship and loss caused to the hereditary inamkhors of Jhelum district by the conversion of their inams to ilaqadari inams. I would submit, Sir, that, as explained in the remarks, the idea of moving this cut is not to challenge the existing rules but it is merely to bring a grievance to the notice of Government and I would respectfully submit that the members are entitled, when the demands are discussed, to bring to the notice of Government whatever flaw they find in practice or in administration of law. I am merely bringing to the notice of Government that there is a hardship which is being experienced by certain inamkhors and ilaqadars and it is up to the Government to find remedies which are necessary to redress this wrong. I would submit that before this ilaqadari system came into force certain old families were given an inam either as a result of their meritorious services rendered to Government or because of certain rights which they possessed before the British occupied this country, in lieu of certain grants they were allowed to enjoy certain inams. When this system of ilaqadari came into force, then those inams were converted into ilaqadari inams. In other words gentlemen who were getting those inams were called upon to perform duties of ilaqadari without getting any extra sum for those extra duties. In earlier days when these rules were enforced, the policy of Government was to treat the appointment of ilaqadari or zaildari as hereditary but now from the rulings given by the Financial Commissioner for the last few years there seems to be a tendency that the post of ilaqadari will not be treated as hereditary. Keeping these rulings in view, I would request the honourable members to consider whether it is not unjust to these inamkhors who are called upon to perform additional duties, that when they are removed from the ilaqadarship the inam should also automatically go. I would therefore request the Government to separate the two things and if a person is not found fit to perform satisfactorily the duties of a zaildar or ilaqadar certainly I would have no objection to Government appointing some other person, but the inam which that family used to enjoy before should remain with the members of the family. I hope the Honourable Revenue Member who himself belongs to a very respectable old aristocratic family will consider this submission with sympathy and will try to redress this grievance.

Mr. Speaker : Demand under consideration, motion moved—

That the item of Rs. 29,45,340 on account of Pay of Establishment be reduced by Rs. 10.

Syed Mohy-ud-Din Lal Badshah (Attock South, Muhammadan, Rural) (Urdu) : The same system prevailed in the Tala Gang tahsil of the Attock district, which formed at first a part of the Jhelum district. The inamkhors were zaildars as well. When however, that tahsil was transferred, to the Attock district, those inams and the inams accruing from zaildarships came to be regarded as identical. Just as these inams were conferred upon the nobility of the Jhelum district as a reward for their services, a similar practice was followed in that tahsil and the old zaildars were considered to be permanent zaildars as their inams were of a permanent nature.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia) : Sir, Talagang is not concerned with this cut.

Mr. Speaker : Then it is not relevant.

Minister for Revenue : Sir, in the mind of my friend, for whom I have very great regard, there seems to be some sort of misunderstanding on the subject. There are three kinds of these inamkhors. One is the hereditary inamkhor, second is the ilaqadar inamkhor and the third is the non-ilaqadar inamkhor. The emoluments given in the case of hereditary and ilaqadar inamkhors are the same and the same rule of succession applies as applies in the case of lambardars. The appointments are made by the Financial Commissioner. So there is no question of taking away any hereditary inamkhors from the lists on which they have up to this time been placed.

As regards the ilaqadar inamkhors, I may inform the honourable member, that whenever an ilaqadar inamkhor dies, his successor is to be chosen like the successors chosen in the case of zaildars and sufedposhes. Rules on this subject are such that the Financial Commissioner has to keep in view the selection of the successor according to the rules that are in force. In the case of the third, non-ilaqadari people, I think generally they are being merged into hereditary iladaqars. The emoluments that are being given to them range between Rs. 150 and Rs. 30 a year. In the case of hereditary holders probably it is Rs. 150 ; in the case of the other people it ranges between Rs. 150 and Rs. 30. There is no intention of taking away these inams from the families who have rendered services to Government in the past or for whom these inams have been given under instructions because they had certain rights when the British Government came into possession of the Punjab. So I think the honourable member will be satisfied with this explanation and will not press his motion.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : I confess to my great regret my dissatisfaction with the reply given by the Honourable Revenue Minister, because the main question which I raised was not at all touched by him. The Honourable Revenue Minister dealt with inams ranging between Rs. 30 and Rs. 50, while there are inams of even Rs. 500 and more. The simple question is that if there is a hereditary inamdār who is also appointed an ilaqadār and owing to his death or otherwise somebody else is selected to perform the duties of ilaqadār in his place, whether that inamdār will lose his inam also. If the Honourable Revenue Minister is prepared to say that in the case of hereditary inams this condition would not apply, I will be quite satisfied. It is just possible that this being a very technical point, I might have failed to convey properly the object of my motion in those brief remarks appended to the motion. I should now like the Honourable Revenue Minister to say that the matter will receive his consideration. If he gives that assurance, I shall be delighted to withdraw the motion.

Minister for Revenue : May I say one word by way of reply. So far as my information goes, it is as I have already given to the House. If the honourable member has got any other grievance on the subject he will please bring it to my notice and I will certainly look into it carefully and do the needful.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : I am very thankful to the Honourable Revenue Minister for this offer of his and I beg leave to withdraw the motion.

The motion was by leave withdrawn.

Removal of stones from lands.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan (Pind Dadan Khan, Muhammadan, Rural) : I beg to move :—

That the item of Rs. 31,68,500 on account of Total District Charges be reduced by Rs. 10.

The object of this motion is to invite the attention of the Government to the hardship caused to zamindars by Government issuing instructions that they cannot remove even ordinary stones from their lands. These repressive orders were issued by Government, I believe, about four or five years ago. Before that, the zamindars and the owners of land were at full liberty to make any use they liked of the ordinary stones lying in their fields. But during the past four or five years, the Government have issued orders, I do not know whether it was in connection with the amendment of the Mines and Minerals Act or whether it was for some other reason, that in future the owners of land were not to be allowed to make use of the ordinary stones lying in their fields. These orders, I submit, have caused very great hardship not only to the inhabitants of the Jhelum district but of some-other districts also. The interpretation of the instructions, however, differ in different places. In some places the interpretation is so strict that even for the building of a tomb or grave the inhabitants are not allowed to make use of the stones lying in the fields. Neither the tenants nor the peasant proprietors of the lands are allowed to make use of the stones for building houses or charitable buildings such as temples, mosques or gurdwaras. Of course, the Government have since made an exception that for certain purposes the stones could be used after taking the permit from the revenue authorities. But this procedure involves unnecessary trouble and inconvenience. I would request the Honourable Revenue Minister to give me an assurance that he will consider the matter very carefully and will issue orders, when there is a good case made out, to amend the instructions issued by him on the subject.

I may further submit that it is of course stated in the Mines and Minerals Act that any hidden treasure or any jewels or gold mines which are discovered under the earth belong to Government and not to the owner of the land. But certainly the authors of the Act did not have in their minds such valueless stones as we generally find lying in our lands. I do not think the Government derives any enormous income from this particular mineral. Considering the fact that the income from this source is almost negligible and the resentment it has caused throughout several districts where there are stones in the fields is so great, it is worthwhile for the Government to consider whether these instructions should be allowed to remain as they are or whether they should be amended.

Mr. Speaker : Demand under consideration, motion moved —

That the item of Rs. 31,63,500 on account of Total District Charges be reduced by Rs. 10.

Khan Muhammad Yusuf Khan (Rawalpindi Sadar, Muhammadan, Rural) (Urdu) : I rise to support the motion moved by my honourable friend Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : On a point of order. My honourable friend is an advocate and speaks first class English. I will request him to give us the pleasure of hearing his speech in English.

Khan Muhammad Yusuf Khan : I am not an advocate. I passed my LL.B. Examination only last year. I have not so far seriously started my practice. Moreover, I have had no chance of making speeches in English in the courts.

Mr. Speaker : I am afraid, I have some hesitation in accepting the honourable member's explanation. I will request him to speak very kindly in English whether it is good or bad.

Premier : Sir, is it your ruling that anybody who has the misfortune of being a B.A., LL.B. is forced to speak in English ?

Khan Muhammad Yusuf Khan : Let me at the outset confess that I had made no preparations to make a speech to-day, in support of the amendment moved by my honourable friend, Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan. However, I shall do my best to support him. I was submitting that these laws, it may appear, have added the last straw to the camel's back as regards the peasantry. We all know that our peasantry is facing every year acute poverty and appalling conditions of indebtedness. The laws—the Mines and Minerals Act and similar other Acts—have told very heavily on the peasantry of our province. I quite agree with the remarks that have been made by my honourable friend, Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan, that if those laws are not enforced by the instructions of the Government, there would be a very negligible loss to Government but there would be enormous benefit that would accrue to the peasantry of this province. Sir, specially I would submit that there should be some relaxation in respect of the instructions that have been issued from time to time regarding the building of temples, mosques, graves and other places of worship and in particular with regard to the fact that a peasant proprietor of a certain land, who desires to construct his own house, is not allowed to remove stones for that purpose. I have already submitted that these laws are repressive and their relaxation is most desirable and it would be welcomed by the peasantry of the province, and this act will be looked upon by the people of the province as a boon and the general resentment that is prevailing in the country would be mitigated. That would certainly go to the credit of the Government.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia): Sir, I am thankful to the honourable member for bringing these grievances to the notice of the Government. I may say here that in the case of temples, mosques and other places of worship stones have been allowed to be used. In the old rules there was something of the nature which my honourable friend complains of. But if my friend had taken the trouble of reading the notification in the Punjab Gazette, dated the 25th June, 1937, he would have found that the rule is going to be amended and that it has been published for the information of the public and inviting opinions thereon. With your permission, Sir, I will read the rule. It says :—

- (i) The Collector may issue a general permit for 5 years, renewable for like periods, authorising all persons, being owners or occupancy tenants of agricultural land in any estate, to quarry under the limitations prescribed in rule 5, but without applying for or receiving the permit prescribed in rules 5 and 6.
- (ii) The general permit shall be issued, as far as may be, in form M-4 in the name of the lambarدارs of the estate, and one copy thereof shall be sent to the tahsil and another to the patwari of the estate, with a direction to record its purport in his diary and report immediately to the tahsil any infringement of these rules.
- (iii) The Collector may cancel any such permit if he is satisfied that any of these rules are being infringed by the persons concerned.”

“This is the new rule which is proposed to be placed in the rules on this subject. I may tell the honourable member that his motion will receive the sympathetic consideration of the Government. I have every regard for temples, mosques, grave-yards and other places of worship for which stones may be needed.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan: In view of the assurance given by the Honourable Minister for Revenue that the rules, before they are enforced finally, will be considered sympathetically, I beg leave to withdraw my motion.

The motion was by leave withdrawn.

Fees for copies of revenue records.

Khan Haibat Khan Daha (Khanewal, Muhammadan, Rural) (Urdu):
I beg to move—

That the item of Rs. 32,42,300 on account of Total D. Land Records be reduced by Rs. 10.

Every honourable member who has spoken before me in this House has tried to describe the miserable plight of the zamindars. Every honourable member of this august Assembly claims for himself the title of sympathizer, supporter and defender of the zamindars. The government are also never tired of giving assurances that many a useful scheme is under consideration for improving the lot of the zamindars. But it is a pity that none of the schemes for the betterment of the zamindars has ever been put into practice. If you want to do anything for them, do it now. I am constrained to say that the attitude of the Government in this matter may be summed up in the following words:—

تا تریاق از عراق آورده شود۔ مارگتیدہ مردہ شود

By the time you take some practical steps for bettering the lot of the zamindars they would fall into the deepest depths of ruin and destruction from which it would be extremely difficult to extricate them. The poor zamindars have many burdens to bear and they are finding it extremely difficult to cope with them. It is becoming increasingly difficult for them to make both ends meet, so much so that the satisfaction of the barest necessities of life is a problem for them. One of the many heavy burdens which they have to bear is the fee charged for revenue records. The zamindars are often engaged in litigation and they have to appear in courts in connection with various civil and criminal cases. They have to produce these records in court in connection with these cases. Some years ago, only a nominal fee was charged by the Government for the supply of such records, and even that nominal fee was paid by the zamindars with much difficulty. But now this fee has been enhanced. The zamindars who are in need of revenue records are hard put to it to pay the required fee. It will not inconvenience the Government much if they were to reduce this fee. If such reduction is enforced the Government will not suffer heavily on that account. On the contrary the Government would be able to help the poor zamindars to some extent. Any how the fee charged for revenue records must be reduced. I would humbly request the Honourable the Revenue Minister that he may kindly give favourable consideration to my submission and thereby help the poor zamindars. I know that this reduction will not mean any substantial help to zamindars, yet there is no denying the fact that they will be encouraged by this gesture on the part of the government, for as the wise men say "Something is better than nothing." With these words I commend my motion to the House.

Mr. Speaker: Demand under consideration, motion moved—

That the item of Rs. 32,42,300 on account of Total D. Land Records be reduced by Rs. 10.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia): Sir, a few days back, in reply to a short notice question put by Sardar Gurbachan Singh, who happens to be my sister's son, I gave a lengthy reply which I placed on the table of the House. I am afraid it has not yet been read by my friend. In schedules Nos. 11, 12, 14, 15, 17, etc., attached to that reply, certain rates have been given. I think on the whole they are very favourable. An endeavour is being made to see the effect these new rates before they are extended to other parts of the province. Therefore I feel that we should have the benefit of the experience which is being gained in certain districts and after that if Government find that the rules are suitable they would extend them further. But till this experience is gained, we have to wait. I hope in these circumstances my friend will not press his motion.

3 P.M.

Khan Haibat Khan Daba : In view of the assurance given by the Honourable Minister I beg to withdraw my motion.

The motion was by leave withdrawn.

Thumb-impressions of mortgagors.

Mr. Speaker : Chaudhri Ram Sarup will move amendment No. 25.¹

Shaikh Faiz Muhammad : Is this amendment in order, because I think it involves an amendment of the rules ?

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : The point of order cannot be raised at this stage. The honourable member has not moved the amendment.

Mr. Speaker : A point of order can be raised at any stage.

Shaikh Faiz Muhammad : Under the law as it stands it is not necessary that the patwari should take the thumb-impression on each occasion. He can make an entry on the strength of information received by him which he believes to be true. That information might have come to him from any source and in that case the securing of thumb-impression is altogether out of question. I invite your attention to section 34 of the Land Revenue Act sub-section (3) which says :—

The patwari shall enter in his register of mutations every report made to him under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2), and shall also make an entry therein respecting the acquisition of any such right as aforesaid which he has reason to believe to have taken place, and of which a report should have been made to him under one or other of those sub-sections and has not been so made.

This section clearly indicates that a patwari can make an entry in the mutation register independently of any report by the mortgagor or seller and as long as this sub-section stands, I think the amendment is out of order.

Mr. Speaker : What the honourable member's amendment is aiming at is that in the case of mortgages and sales a patwari should not make an entry for mutation without the thumb-impression of the mortgagor or vendor. Is that so ?

Chaudhri Ram Sarup : Yes.

¹25. Chaudhri Ram Sarup : That the item of Rs. 32,42,300 on account of Total D. Land Records be reduced by Re. 1.

Remarks.—To draw the attention of Government to the undesirability of the practice of the patwari of not taking the thumb-impression of the mortgagor at the time of the mutation of a mortgage or sale of agricultural land.

Mr. Speaker : That means a change of law. Section 84 is so wide that it leaves it to the patwari to make an entry in his book regarding mutation of land in certain circumstances. Therefore, to lay a restriction on his powers goes far beyond section 84. Consequently the motion is out of order.

Pay of Patwaris and mutation fees.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hussain (Gujranwala East, Muhammadan, Rural) : Sir, I beg to move :—

That the item of Rs. 32,42,300 on account of D. Land Records be reduced by Rs. 100

[NOTE.—To discuss (i) the low pay of the patwari and (ii) the fee charged on account of mutations on the basis of the registered deeds.]

The object of my motion is this, that Government is at present charging mutation fees on the registered deeds also as well as on unregistered deeds and oral transfers. At present the rate in the case of oral transfers and transfers on unregistered deeds is 10 annas and the rate of mutation fee on the basis of registered deed is 2 annas per khata. The zamindar is already hard hit by the economic depression and his poverty is very well known to all sections in this House.

All sections in the House are now agreed that the financial condition of the zamindar is not very sound and still if he takes land on mortgage or takes it by purchase or by gift, in addition to the charges that he has to pay as land revenue, registration fee, etc., he has to pay this additional tax. As a matter of fact the condition of the zamindar has come to such a pitch that even the Opposition benches are expressing sympathy with him, although perhaps lip sympathy. So my suggestion is that the Government should modify those rules as far as mutation on the basis of registered deeds is concerned, because this charge is in addition to the other charges which the zamindar has to incur on these transactions. With these few words I beg to move the motion and appeal to the Government to revise the rule and give relief to the zamindar.

Mr. Speaker : Demand under consideration, motion moved—

That the item of Rs. 32,42,300 on account of D. Land Records be reduced by Rs. 100.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan (Pind Dadan Khan, Muhammadan, Rural) : Sir, I rise to support the motion moved by my honourable friend, As I was stating before, the duties of the patwari are very extensive and his emoluments are very meagre. Now in the modern days when there seems to be great enthusiasm for rural reconstruction work the Government should seriously consider whether they can have a better agency than the patwari. I think roughly the number of patwaris in the province is about 10,000.

Khan Muhammad Yusuf Khan : On a point of order. My honourable friend is again speaking on the motion that has been already ruled out. The mover of this motion has not touched the pay of the patwaris. I think he has deliberately left aside that point and my honourable friend is now discussing the very matter which has already been ruled out.

Shaikh Faiz Muhammad : The point raised by the honourable mover is also out of order as it involves an amendment of certain statutory rules, rules made by the Financial Commissioner.

Mr. Speaker : That depends on the interpretation of the expression, 'low pay of the patwari.' If the object is to make a request or suggest that the pay of the patwari be raised, I think that, as this can be done by Government without the change of law, the motion will be in order. As to the other point, that is, the fees charged on account of mutation on the basis of registered deeds, I do not know whether the rules on this subject are made by the Financial Commissioners or by Government.

Premier : The honourable Financial Commissioner, so far as I am aware. I think the convention is that normally they are approved by the Government before they are issued.

Mr. Speaker : As the rules are made by Financial Commissioners and not by Government and as Government cannot direct the Financial Commissioners to make or not to make any rule, though it has the right to disapprove those rules, the second motion is out of order, while the first one is in order.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : I thank you.

Premier : On a point of order. May I point out that the patwaris are not Government servants, and therefore the honourable member's motion is not in order.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : May I submit that the explanation given by the Honourable Premier makes it much easier for the Chair to rule it in order.

Mr. Speaker : I have given my ruling and stick to it.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : I was submitting that there is a great movement for village reconstruction in the Punjab and I think everyone of us in this party has a kindly interest in that particular activity of the administration. We find that there are ten thousand patwaris who are posted to different villages in the province.

Minister for Revenue : Ten or 15 thousands ?

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : I am speaking subject to correction. I was just giving a rough estimate. If there are 15,000 so much the better. We find 15,000 men living in the villages who are already experts in keeping and maintaining most difficult revenue records and I claim that this is the cheapest system in the world of maintaining revenue records and collecting agricultural statistics. Nowhere in the world have you to pay Rs. 20 a month to a man who is entrusted to do such an important work. I, therefore, submit that the Government should pay special attention to this question and see whether they cannot modernize the patwaris. While everything in the world is changing particularly in our country, the old patwari remains still at least 50 years behind times and I think the only way the Government can modernize him is to raise his salary and his status. In that case naturally this post will attract better men and we can devise some means by which these patwaris first go to a certain administrative agricultural farm or to some separate training school opened for them where they are given some special training in rural reconstruction work.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is not relevant now.

Premier : The honourable member has a free run of the House.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : I do not think so, because the Honourable Speaker is very particular to see that the debate is confined to the procedure of the House. There is a strong case that the condition of these patwaris ought to be made better and salaries increased. Look at these elections. The patwaris are asked to prepare electoral rolls throughout the province where the number of rural voters probably will run into lakhs in this province, and the work involved is of great responsibility. It is the patwari who does that work, and if I do not make a mistake, without any remuneration. It was perhaps in the last elections that they were paid Rs. 5, but considering the work involved this amount is so small. It means that in future we shall be asking these patwaris to do more work than they have been doing so far. I would therefore request the Government not to brush aside this question because the poor fellow happens to be just a patwari, although everyone of us is conscious of the powers he wields and possesses, even the biggest landlord belonging to any political group is interested in seeing that he is in the good books of the patwari.

Minister for Revenue : Hear, hear.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : Instead of encouraging this eagerness of the landlord to please the patwari, we should try to raise his emoluments. A word about the consolidation of holdings. Now that the Government has started that scheme, just imagine what an important factor the patwari would be in this scheme. If he is inclined in the wrong way he can raise so many difficulties in the way of consolidation. He wields a good deal of influence in the village. On the other hand if he happens to be a man of the right type, he will assist the Government very much. I would, therefore, request the Honourable Revenue Minister to consider the case of this poor deserving Government subordinate official.

Minister for Revenue : They are people's servants.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : We are all people's servants. I request you to consider this case very sympathetically, because there is no honourable member in this House who does not support this motion. Something should be done to make the condition of the patwaris better.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia) : Sir, after all, the honourable mover, Raja Ghazanfar Ali has had his way and has got permission to move this motion about patwaris. He has himself said that there are three grades of patwaris, one getting Rs. 26 a month, and the other Rs. 23, and the third Rs. 20 a month. We have got 20 per cent. in the first grade and 40 per cent. each in the second and third grades. Considering the pay that we have been giving them, the Government thought it advisable to give them certain other concessions and we gave them the benefits of the provident fund. That is one thing that has been given to patwaris in the year 1930. Besides we give them inams, bonuses of Rs. 200 when they retire from service in the case of patwaris who were drawing Rs. 26, Rs. 160 in the case of patwaris getting Rs. 23 and Rs. 120, in the case of patwaris getting Rs. 20 a month. Besides, my honourable friend knows that a greater portion of the fee for giving copies of revenue records goes to them and in the case of mutation fees they also get $\frac{1}{3}$ th share. The number of patwaris, as far as my knowledge goes, is something like 15,000 in the province. If you give Rs. 2 in the case of each patwari that would mean to the finances of the province something like Rs. 90,000 a month. Has my friend considered what will be the effect of this on the budget of the province and how would my friend the Finance Minister feel? Will he feel happier or sadder to have to provide such a big sum of money in the budget of the province? If we give this concession in the case of patwaris, I think the next people to whom this concession shall have to be given will belong to the department, which is in the portfolio of my friend the Minister for Education. I refer to those teachers in the schools whose salaries are very small, and we shall have to consider whether their salaries too should not be enhanced. (A voice: They shall come before the patwaris.) My friend says they shall come before the patwaris. On the other hand I think the House should realise that it is our first duty in this province, if funds are available to give concessions in the case of poor zamindars (hear, hear). If we consider their case first, I think it must be our first duty to give concession to the poor zamindar whose case has been pleaded not only by this side of the House but by the other side of the House as well which unfortunately today is empty. Therefore, I urge that this proposition which seems to be a very innocent proposition, is bound up with great financial responsibility which Government shall have to accept and I strongly urge the House not to agree to this proposition. If my friend would kindly withdraw his motion after what he has heard from me I shall be very grateful.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan: Sir, may I ask one question from the Honourable the Revenue Minister? Is he in a position to promise that if and when the financial condition of the province permits this question will be considered?

Minister for Revenue: How can I bind this House to any such undertaking? We are in office today; we may not be there tomorrow and the Opposition may occupy these benches. How can I bind my successors?

Nawab Khan Shah Nawaz Khan (Ferozepore Central, Muhammadan Rural) (Urdu): I regret that I have to oppose this motion, for according to an English saying the honourable mover of this motion is backing the wrong horse. He is pleading the cause of that class of servants which does not deserve any assistance. The sources of a patwari's income, which I do not wish to lay bare before the House, are so extensive that his financial condition is, I am sure, far better than that of the honourable mover of the motion. (Laughter).

My second reason for opposing it is this. My honourable friends have persistently been emphasising on the floor of this House the problem of the zamindar's misery and hardships. Now, it is a well known fact that the salaries of patwaris are paid out of the local rates, hence any increase in their pay will necessitate larger contributions by the zamindars to that fund. With these words I oppose this motion.

Chaudhri Ram Sarup (Rohtak Central, General, Rural) (Urdu): I, too, rise to oppose this motion. This is based on my cut motion which has already been disallowed. There is a saying to the effect—

آسمان پر ژالہ باری اور زمین پر پتواری

(Laughter). Both these are calamities from which there is no escape. A person who has the misfortune of incurring the patwari's displeasure can find no shelter on the face of the earth. And hailstorms as you know, Sir, completely annihilate crops.

I want to draw the attention of the House to the fact that far too many powers have been granted to the patwaris. It is open to him to transfer land from one person to another on the testimony of the lambardar alone, and the naib-tahsildars too invariably confirm such alienations, deeming the lambardar's evidence to be quite sufficient. I will give you an instance from my own district to show how things are manipulated. A person owned some land in the village Makroli Kalan in the Rohtak District. Similarly another person was a pattidar in the same village. The latter went to a neighbouring village where he accidentally fell ill. Now, the first pattidar thought the patient would not survive. So he took a third person to the village patwari and told him that such and such a pattidar (meaning the person who was ill) had sold 200 bighas of land to that person. The patwari lost no time in effecting the transfer on paper which was in due course confirmed by the naib-tahsildar. The man to whom land had thus been transferred, thinking that the real owner had died, tried to get his share from the relations of the owner supposed to be dead. In the meantime it was discovered that the owner was alive, and the upshot of the whole muddle was that the case went to the Deputy Commissioner. Now supposing the real owner had actually succumbed to his illness. Is there any honourable member who could say with certainty whether the transfer of land in question was real or spurious? What remedy would there have been to ascertain the truth? On these grounds, Sir, I submit that the salary of such an unscrupulous servant as the patwari should not be enhanced.

There is a standard for everything. To get a patwarship it is enough that one should possess a primary school certificate. Do you wish to pay Rs. 40 to a patwari while you are employing graduates on Rs. 25 or Rs. 30? The need of the hour is the raising of the educational standard so that better men may be attracted to services. (Cheers). First raise the standard and then enhance the pay. In that case better and more honest people would be prepared to enter the services. With these words I oppose this motion.

Premier (The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan) : I have heard with great interest the speeches made with regard to the emoluments of patwaris and it is not my business to enter into a debate on this occasion because my honourable friend on my left has spoken about it. But the last member's speech has led me to say a few words in defence of this very useful village official (hear, hear). As you are aware, he has not only to keep the village records in proper and correct order, but he has got other multifarious duties to perform. For instance, during the census he has to supply us with statistics, whenever we want them, with regard to cattle and other things and there are numerous other duties which are detailed in the Financial Commissioners' Standing Orders. If the honourable members of this House were to peruse those Standing Orders, they will know that the patwari, who is not a Government official but a village official, is a very hard worked gentleman. There may be black sheep amongst patwaris as there are in other departments, but that is no reason why we should condemn the class as a whole. I personally have great sympathy with this village official. It is, as the honourable member said, our duty to see that we get a good type of patwari but that does not necessarily mean that we should condemn all patwaris who are serving at the present moment. My colleague, the Honourable Revenue Minister, has already informed the House that we raised their salaries sometime ago and that the benefit of Provident Fund has also been given to the new entrants since the year 1930 and they also get a bonus at the time of their retirement. I shall be only too glad to give the patwaris an extra salary if our finances had permitted us to do so, but unfortunately, as you are aware, we are not particularly prosperous and there are several other more important things to which we have to look before we can give relief even to this very deserving official. For instance, the honourable members are perhaps aware that there are several hundreds and thousands of school-masters who are getting only a small pittance but to whose hands is entrusted the education of our children. On them largely depends the training of the younger generation. We have to look to their interests as well. If we have got any spare money, perhaps it may be necessary for us to give them preference over the patwaris and other people. Similarly, as you are aware, practically the whole of this House including the Opposition, who are not present to-day, are anxious that we ought to be able to give some relief to the smaller zamindar and the smaller land-owner. Whenever we have a little surplus we have to provide for their needs before we can give relief to our friend the patwari. My honourable colleague has also informed the House that there are nearly fifteen thousand patwaris and if we were to give them an increase of say Rs. 2 each, it would mean Rs. 3,60,000 a year. I wish I had Rs. 3,60,000 a year because I could have very usefully spent it in the villages for providing amenities to the villagers, but we are helpless when we have no money to spare. After we have met the conditions of our brethren, the smaller peasants, we shall be only too glad to consider sympathetically the question of raising the emoluments of the patwaris.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hussain : In view of the assurance given by the Honourable Minister of Revenue and the Honourable Premier, I beg to withdraw the motion.

The motion was by leave withdrawn.

Fall in water level in the Doaba.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh (Jullundur West, Sikh, Rural) : I beg to move—

That the demand be reduced by Rs. 1.

I beg to draw the attention of the Government to the progressive fall in water level in the Jullundur and Hoshiarpur districts. In the old Council I often tabled a resolution to recommend to Government to take immediate steps to remedy the falling of water level in the Doaba, but have been rather unfortunate that it never came out in the ballot and the same has been its fate this year. I have no doubt been strongly emphasising this point in the Agricultural Sub-Committee of the old Council and the Joint Development Board. The water level has been steadily falling, and in an address presented to Sir Malcolm Hailey—now Lord Hailey—we pointed out how the wells, on which the prosperity of the small landholdings depended, were drying up. We have been trying to conserve rainfall by a system of watbandi, but when there is no rainfall watbandi is absolutely useless. Whatever may be the advantages of watbandi, they are only temporary, and it provides no permanent remedy. The rapidity with which the wells are drying up is very alarming and even the sinking of “Bochies”—i.e., a small well sunk inside the well—has not been of very great help, because at forty or fifty feet from the ground level, a strata of hard clay is met where there is no water. The data collected by me of the boring of my tubewell and a boring done in one of my other wells show that this strata of hard clay goes down to a depth of 120 feet or in other words to a depth of 160 or 170 feet from ground level. But the unfortunate part is that even after that no water bearing sand is available and one has to go down as deep as 260 to 300 feet before a good strata of water is available. It is beyond the power of any ordinary zamindar to take down his well to such a depth and even if it could be done, it is well-nigh impossible to draw up water for irrigation from such a depth by any ordinary means. The people of the Doaba are not an idle lot. They work their small holdings to its best advantage. Most of them are doing intensive agriculture, and I can safely say that Jullundur takes the first place in marketing vegetables out of season (hear, hear). No crop can be matured without water and when the wells fail, I leave it to the House to imagine the misery of the poor peasant. Again in consolidation work Jullundur is second to none—so much so that even the Viceroy was pleased to visit the place early last winter to see this great improvement. What is the good of that improvement when there is no water to work the consolidated holdings? I will say with all the emphasis at my command that immediate steps should be taken to remedy this evil and thus help the people, who have helped themselves so wonderfully. As a layman I wish to suggest the following methods. The first is that the water from the choes be stored up near the foot of the hills by making a big dam and then running it in a network of channels through this area. Secondly, to pump up water from the river Beas and allow it to flow in these channels. In my opinion the latter will be cheaper and efficient, because there is plenty of water in the Beas river and even to-day we have heard in answer to a question from the Honourable Revenue Minister that there is a proposal to throw the surplus water of the Ravi river into the Beas. Moreover, Hydro-Electric energy can be used for pumping up water with great advantage. Lastly, Sir, I would strongly request the Government that until something is done to keep up the water level in the wells it is but just that an adequate remission in the land revenue should be given permanently to this part of the Punjab.

Mr. Speaker : Demand under consideration, motion moved—

That the demand be reduced by Re. 1.

Sardar Dasaundha Singh (Jagraon, Sikh, Rural): Mr. Speaker, the Doaba tract is the most densely populated part of the province. It is full of petty land-holders. On account of the increase in population the holdings had to be divided and sub-divided and the poor peasants came to have very small holdings indeed. As a matter of necessity they had to have recourse to consolidation of holdings privately and after consolidating their holdings they had to sink wells and their main source of livelihood depended upon agriculture by means of well irrigation. Now on account of the water level having gone so low, those people have suffered very much. The only way in which they could make their livelihood by agriculture was by way of intensive agriculture, and there being no canals and the holdings being so very small those people had to depend upon well irrigation alone. In certain places the level of water has gone so low that it is difficult for them to have sufficient water even for drinking purposes. The condition of those people is very sad indeed and they stand in need of Government help in some form or other. My friend has suggested several ways in which some help can be rendered to those poor peasants, poor petty land-holders. Whatever way is adopted by Government, their case is so very sad and their plight so bad that something should indeed be done and that at the earliest opportunity.

With these words I support the motion moved by my friend.

Rai Hari Chand (Una, General, Rural) (Urdu): Sir, I have risen to support the cut motion moved by my honourable friend Sardar Gurbachan Singh. I beg leave to draw the attention of the House to the fact that the zamindars of Doaba (Jullundur and Hoshiarpur) are so very unfortunate, that their complaints about the scarcity of water have neither been attended to by nature, nor the Government have thought it advisable to pay any heed to it.

Now in order to remove this scarcity of water the zamindars of this part of the country did their best to combat the forces of nature, i. e., they sunk good many wells in their lands and spent lakhs of rupees over them. I wonder as to why the Government constructed canals in areas where the people have other means of irrigation at their disposal. But nobody cares a fig for this waterless area. To add to the miseries of the inhabitants of the Doaba, nature has decided to bring about a fall in the water-level of this area. The result has been that the people who had spent hundreds of thousands of rupees on the sinking of wells, have now given them up as useless. There is not a drop of water left in them and they are as dry as dust. In spite of all this the zamindars are spending lakhs of rupees every year, but they are not getting a drop of water in return. The area which was once very fertile and was noted for its smiling fields has now become an arid waste. As far as the eye can see, nothing is visible except barren lands completely devoid of vegetation.

The zamindars are not the only losers. The Government have also to forego its share of the revenue. I humbly request the Government, that if nature has failed to come to the assistance of the poor people of this ilaqa, it behoves them to come to their rescue. If the Government do not take pity on them, they themselves would be the losers. It is not only a question of showing pity to really deserving people, but also it is the bounden duty of the Government to help these people. If the Government do not extend a helping hand to these people they will not only be failing in their duty, but would also be losing a good deal of revenue. I once again beseech the Government to help the poor people of this ilaqa and thereby save itself from heavy financial loss.

Rana Nasrullah Khan (Hoshiarpur West, Muhammadan, Rural (Urdu) : Sir, I rise to support the honourable mover of the cut motion. The lands of zamindars in Jullundur and Hoshiarpur are daily becoming waste and uncultivable. The area which was once termed the garden of the Punjab, is dwindling down to unproductive and barren lands. The reason is not far to seek. Previously the roots of the trees remained immersed in water and that is why they grew at a tremendous rate. Now, as the level of water has fallen down and wells have become dry, sufficient water is not available to help the growth of fruit trees. The net result of this has been that the trees bear fruit no more. Again, as no water is available for the irrigation of lands and fruit trees are no longer bearing fruit, this part of the country is being vacated by the sons of the soil. I would, therefore, humbly submit that the Government should take cognisance of the sad plight of the residents of this ilaqa and devise ways and means for improving their lot. It is quite clear from the condition of the villages that at least one-third of the population has migrated to other parts of the country. If there is no change for the better, I am afraid that the rest of the zamindars would also leave Jullundur and Hoshiarpur for good. In view of the facts mentioned above, I humbly request the Government to take into consideration the miserable plight of the peasants and do something to alleviate their misery, e. g., the Government should take steps for raising the water-level in these two districts.

(At this stage Mr. Speaker left the chair and it was occupied by Mr. Deputy Speaker).

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia): I have very great sympathy with the zamindars of Hoshiarpur and Jullundur in their difficulties which have been so well expressed by Sardar Gurbachan Singh in this House. My friend would recollect that in reply to a question I gave him certain information as to the steps that are being taken by Government to meet the situation. He has put forward before me to-day certain other proposals which require full consideration at the hands of our engineers. In reply to a question I said that surplus water from the Ravi is being taken into the Beas so as to increase the supply of that river. It is not that we are going to increase the supply of that river. We are going to increase the supply of another canal by taking extra water from that river to be used further on and relieve the shortage of water in certain districts. On the other hand the position is this. The scheme of working of tube-wells by hydro-electric energy has to be considered from a very broad point of view. An officer of the Irrigation Branch was deputed to go and personally look into the working of the scheme in the United Provinces. My honourable friend will understand that the conditions in the United Provinces and the conditions in the Punjab are somewhat different. In the United Provinces we have got larger rainfall than in the Punjab. Therefore, the situation there is not so very acute and if they have to pump water from the wells by means of electricity that is available. My honourable friend, the Minister for Public Works has given me an assurance that the hydro-electric scheme would be extended to this part of the province for the purpose of pumping water. But there are some other difficulties as regards the water to be pumped from the tube-wells, because it is possible that the water may be saline and if this water is used for irrigation, the lands may become deteriorated. Therefore, the question requires fuller consideration. I can assure my honourable friend that we will sympathetically consider the proposition that he has put before us and that we will do our best to meet the situation. I hope in view of these remarks of mine he will consider the desirability of withdrawing his motion.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : Before I withdraw the motion I should like to say a few words in reply. I certainly have every hope that the Honourable Revenue Minister will do something for the poor peasants in my part of the province. But he has mentioned that the extra water of the Ravi river will be drained into the Beas for the purpose of taking advantage of the water supply to irrigate further areas under the canal where it is required. But what I mean is that we do not want water from the canals suggested by me, but I want the canals only to run through our parts. If that is done that will raise the level of the subsoil water. The Government is quite welcome to take the canal water to wherever it likes, only it should pass the canal through our areas. If that is done the sufferings of our people will be greatly relieved.

Secondly, the Honourable Revenue Minister pointed out that the experiment of tube-wells was in charge of some executive engineer. But as far as I know those experiments are being made in the Gurdaspur district where there are plenty of canals already. The Government should try the experiment in our parts. Next, it was pointed out that the underground water may be saline. My experience and the experience of many other people who have bored their wells show that there is no saline water at any strata in the Doaba. I again request the Government that instead of dealing with the matter in the way the Honourable Minister has replied he should at least appoint a committee of executive engineers or other experts to go thoroughly into the matter. That will at least be a step in the right direction. With these words I beg leave to withdraw the motion.

Minister for Revenue : May I say one word before the motion is allowed to be withdrawn. Surely the honourable member who has just resumed his seat (Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh) knows that the water that has to be taken from the Ravi to the Beas cannot be done by overhead canals as in the case of electricity which is carried by overhead wires. The canals have to pass on the ground. Therefore, the benefits that will accrue and which he has in view must be there. On the other hand, as I have said, a special officer has been appointed to look into the matter and if need be we have got three chief engineers and also the Chief Engineer, Hydro-Electric Scheme, who would be available for consultation on the subject. I do not think there is any necessity to appoint a special committee to look into the matter as suggested by the honourable member. I think, my friend should depend upon it that the matter will be looked into by experts who are available even in our own province and that we need not go out of the country for specialists to go into the matter. I may inform the honourable member that at first our idea was to start 181 wells. We later found that to start an experiment of that nature may be very costly. Therefore, the idea came into the mind of Government that we had better make an experiment in Qadian in the Gurdaspur district. I think three wells were sunk, but they have not yet started working to give us the necessary experience. Gurdaspur, as my friend knows, has got greater rainfall than the Jullundur district. I can only assure him that the matter will be most sympathetically considered and we will do our best to meet the situation that has arisen in the districts of Hoshiarpur and Jullundur with whose people we have our fullest sympathy.

The motion was by leave withdrawn.

Damage to lands caused by the Jhelum and by hill torrents.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan (Pind Dadan Khan, Muhammadan, Rural)
I beg to move—

That the demand be reduced by Re. 1.

The object of this cut is to draw the attention of the Government to the hardship and loss caused to zamindars on account of their land and houses being washed away by the river Jhelum and other hill streams in the Jhelum district. I beg to submit that during the last few years considerable damage has been caused to the lands in the Jhelum district particularly in Pind Dadan Khan Tahsil so much so that in certain cases even small villages have been altogether washed away. To my great regret I submit that the Government has paid no attention towards redressing that grievance and making up the loss. Fortunately or unfortunately our district happens to be a district of peasant proprietors. We have not got any big landlords in that district. Most of the population entirely depends upon the little holdings which it possesses; and a permanent damage caused to these holdings means ruin of many happy homes.

Government have been allotting large portions of lands in colonies for different purposes. I would request the Honourable
4 P.M. Revenue Member to consider whether it would not be possible for him in deserving cases to give some land in some colony area? I may submit that this damage has increased since the last few years, because the bed of the river Jhelum has risen and now it is not capable of carrying so much quantity of water as it used to carry before. The result of the rising of the bed is that even a small rise in water results in heavy floods. Sir, if I may be permitted to say, the Government are to some extent responsible for this damage, because one of the reasons of the bed of the river Jhelum having risen is their digging canals from that river. I would, therefore, submit that even if these damages do not involve any legal responsibility on the Government, the moral responsibility is theirs. I am sure, the House will agree with me that in case a permanent damage is caused to the land of an ordinary poor zamindar, the Government are morally bound to consider his case. I will not detain the House any longer on this matter. I have no doubt that the Honourable Minister for Revenue will give a very sympathetic and generous consideration to this request which I have made. I know it is impossible for him to find out exactly how much land has been washed away or how much damage is caused by the floods. I cannot expect that, but I will be satisfied if he will be prepared to issue instructions to deputy commissioners and other officers that in such cases a report should be made to the Government and if the Deputy Commissioner thinks that there are some deserving cases where Government ought to give some compensation, they must sympathetically consider that matter. I hope this is a modest request and the Honourable Revenue Minister will find his way to give a sympathetic reply.

Mr. Deputy Speaker : Demand under consideration, motion moved—

That the demand be reduced by Re. 1.

Minister for Revenue (The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia): Sir, I do not want to take up any more time of the House. I have said this morning that the matter is receiving the attention of the Government and that the people are being given lands in colonies. I assure the House that cases of those people who have suffered by floods will always be considered sympathetically and if they are considered to be good cases, these tenants will be provided for in those colonies. That policy would be pursued systematically as has been pursued in the past. I will further inform for my honourable friend's satisfaction that the deputy commissioners will be instructed that cases of hardship by river action or hill torrents should be specially reported to the Government for their consideration and when such cases come to us we will do our best to consider them.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : Sir, I am not using any conventional language when I say that I am very grateful to the Honourable Minister for Revenue for his reply. I am sure that he will consider those cases in the same spirit as he has been replying to the question to-day, and, therefore, I have great pleasure in requesting the House to allow me to withdraw my motion.

The motion was by leave withdrawn.

Inclusion of Kamins among the Agricultural Tribes.

Subedar Major Farman Ali Khan (Gujar Khan, Muhammadan, Rural) (Urdu): I beg to move—

That the demand be reduced by Rs. 100.

Sir, my object in moving this motion is to draw the attention of the Government to the fact that non-agriculturist kamins of the Rawalpindi district are getting their names registered as members of agricultural tribes.

Sir, much has been said about the poverty of the zamindars, but nothing has been done by the Government to protect them from the misfortunes that are descending upon them day by day. Before I come to the real point I would like to compare the financial condition of the agriculturists with that of the non-agriculturist tribes. The Rawalpindi district is a mountainous district full of khuds and there is very little area left for cultivation. Only a few kanals of land fall to the share of each cultivator. Some years ago, His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales while en-route to Rawalpindi got down at the railway station of Gujarkhan. His Royal Highness was wonder-struck to see the condition of that area and he could not refrain from remarking? "Here are nothing but khuds. How do the inhabitants manage to live?" Only those people, who have seen this ilaqa can realise the position of its inhabitants. In short, if the economic condition of the zimin ars of other districts is bad, the economic condition of the zamindars of the Rawalpindi district is not worse but is the worst as compared with other districts of the province.

Now I will say a few words about the economic condition of the non-agriculturists. Every carpenter or iron-smith earns Rs. 2 per diem by manufacturing charpais, tables, chairs, etc. Moreover, every one of them gets at harvest time one maund of grain for every plough, and so these workmen are quite well-to-do. Now take the case of a shoe-maker who earns Rs. 2 to Rs. 10 per day by manufacturing shoes decorated with gold-thread, and so this class of workmen is also rich. A tailor does not lag behind. He also earns Re. 1 to Rs. 7 per diem by sewing coats and pants. If a weaver winnows four seers of cotton in an hour he is sure to get one rupee. Many centuries ago these people came from Kashmir. Most of them are engaged in trade and are quite well off.

In the whole of the district they have not got a single zamindari village of their own. They possess only a few houses in each village. In the settlements of 1864-65, 1882 and 1907, they were declared as non-agriculturists. Moreover, in the 'Wajb-ul-araz' their names were entered as kamins. Again in their birth registers their real caste has been entered as kamins. In the year 1900 when the Land Alienation Act was passed, they did nothing to oppose it. And to add to this they have never suffered the hardships attendant upon cultivation. On the other hand they make fun of zamindars saying that but for the fact that they are zamindars they would not be obliged to do the ploughing in hot weather. The zamindars of this area are so poor and backward that even these people do not consider them as worthy of being called human beings (Laughter).

Many of them have after receiving education entered Government service and there are a number of lawyers amongst them. When anybody steps into a village, he naturally concludes from the outward appearance of well-built houses, that either they belong to big zamindars or to some rich man. But on inquiry it is learnt that these palatial buildings belong to kamins, while the nearby huts belong to zamindars, the owners of the lands. These vile creatures have reduced the zamindars to abject poverty and now they want to make them completely destitute. These wild beasts who owe their very existence to zamindars are out to destroy them completely.

When Mr. Thorburn, Commissioner, Rawalpindi Division, a kind-hearted British officer, saw the miserable plight of the zamindars, he urged upon the Government the desirability of passing the Land Alienation Act, and his suggestion was accepted. When this Act came into force a little life was still left in the zamindars.

Now I would say a few words about the products of this ilaqa. Barley, jawar, maize and millet are the main products of this district. Barley is the staple food of the people of the ilaqa, but it is not palatable to every one. If one were to take it once, one will not be able to digest it for at least three days. Such is the food of the zamindars of this ilaqa.

[Subedar Major Farman Ali Khan.]

One of the lady members raised an objection in this connection. My reply to her is this—

زر کا سودا ہے زر کا خدا

پیر والے آڑ گئے زر کا خدا

She should take into consideration the conditions under which the women of my ilaqa are living, and not judge them by her own standard. Let me add this for her information that they pass their lives in one tattered garment. In the presence of these circumstances it will not be correct to say that my ilaqa is rich and well-off. If the women of my constituency come to know the fact that their sisters at Lahore pass a life of ease and luxury, they would gather together and invade Lahore (Laughter). The food they eat and the dress they wear are always of a very inferior quality. In fact they get nothing.

I would request the Government that people who are really kamins and have been entered as such in Government registers should not be allowed to change their caste. The people who brought rack and ruin in their wake and tried to destroy the zamindars have gone to render their last account but the zamindar is still alive.

In ancient times when invaders from the Kabul side came to India, my district bore the brunt of these invasions. We are used to hardships, and inspite of our poverty and backwardness, we have not given up our self-respect (Applause). We have been living the lives of soldiers. Many honourable members of this House have described the budget as a result of their hard labour, but in my opinion it is the outcome of our blood. The sons of zamindars of this area get only four kanals of land as their share, and naturally we are obliged to get them recruited in the Army on Rs. 13 per month. Most of them die on the battle-field. I myself have witnessed soldiers being shot and wounded by the bullets of the enemy. Now the money that we get for our service in the Army goes to pay our share of the land revenue.

Most of the outside public regards the Afghans as bold and daring. We have fought side by side with them. They are hungry and a hungry man is generally a desperado. It is common knowledge that a hungry wolf would even risk its life for the purpose of procuring its food. The same is true about the Afghans. Now it behoves you to help us, because our poverty is endangering ourself-respect. At the same time I want to bring this fact to the notice of the House that the number of murders committed in Tehsil Gujar Khan alone exceed the number of murders committed in the rest of the Punjab. The main reason for these murders is quarrels over landed property.

In order to contravene the provisions of the Land Alienation Act, these people have had recourse to two devices. The first is the transfer of land by means of 'benami' and the second is the changing of their caste. By adopting these two devices they have made the Act almost inoperative.

(At this stage Mr. Speaker resumed the Chair.)

Again these people are rich. They can educate their children. But the zamindar is poor and is unable to send his children to school.

In spite of this difference between the two, the Education Department has provided no facilities for the sons of the zamindars. The non-agriculturists have now taken a further step viz., that they are changing their caste. It has caused widespread unrest among the inhabitants. I toured the countryside and placated the people, but I have recently received a letter to the effect that disturbances broke out on 20th June, 1937, between zamindars and kamins in which fire-arms were used. Two people have died. I may add here a word or two for the information of the honourable members that these people can easily procure fire-arms from beyond the frontier. I, therefore, request the Government that something should be done to pacify this area.

Mr. Speaker : I would request the honourable member to confine his speech to the motion.

Subedar Major Farman Ali Khan : I was explaining, Sir, that a new step has been taken. One man is the plaintiff and the defendant is the Secretary of State, who is in London. His estate cannot be attacked (Laughter.) The Public Prosecutor appears on behalf of the Crown, and he is reported to be a non-agriculturist. I am not casting aspersions on any department. The non-agriculturists who are engaged in some lucrative trade, Government service or the legal profession become rich in no time, and then each one of them wishes to become a landowner to the utter destruction of the poor zamindar who is deprived of his land. The Land Alienation Act has been set at naught—rather blown to pieces. About 200 non-agricultural families have become agriculturists by a slight alteration in their caste. The public prosecutors readily accept their claims without consulting those whom this conversion affects so vitally. I request the Government to take early action in the matter and give me an assurance to the effect that something will be done in the near future.

Mr. Speaker : Demand under consideration, motion moved—

That the demand be reduced by Rs. 100.

Prof. W. Roberts (European) : I should like to protest against too rigid a handling of this question. I do not think it is a good sign for the future that those who have the privileges should be eager to maintain them in the face of classes of people who in the future we have to reckon with as members of the legislature in the Punjab. I must speak on their behalf because I do not see any of them ready to speak for themselves. I do not wish to say anything particularly against the motion of the Raja Sahib, because I do not pretend to know anything about the trouble in that part of the Punjab. But I do appeal to the Government and to the House generally not to raise these issues if they can help it, because if this province is to progress we should all try and help the scheduled castes to take a more important part in the life of the Punjab (Hear, hear.)

Chaudhri Ali Akbar (Gurdaspur East, Muhammadan; Rural) (Urdu) : It is undoubtedly true that the agriculturists and the non-agriculturists are all alike. The agriculturists cannot claim greater respect and more extensive privileges for themselves as compared with the non-agriculturists. But the question is that if this process is allowed to continue, the Land Alienation Act will soon become a dead letter. The non-agriculturists have been dispossessing the zamindars of their lands by means of the benami transactions. Their means of income are such that they can make a large fortune in no time. In these days when owing to the heavy fall in the prices of the agricultural commodities the zamindars are quite penniless, they can be easily duped into selling away their lands. As Raja Farman Ali Khan has just said about two hundred families have been ruined in the Attock district alone. The non-agriculturists can easily become agriculturists by issuing a notice to the Secretary of State. There is nobody to plead the cause of the zamindars. The claims of non-agriculturists are readily accepted without so much as demanding a proof of their validity.

I may add, Sir, that a good many Barwalas of the Gurdaspur district have become Rajputs. This influx of the low caste Barwalas into their ranks is a matter of disgrace for the genuine Rajputs, who have begun to feel their shame very acutely.

Begum Rashida Latif : On a point of order, Sir, I just want to ask the honourable member what he means by the high and the low castes. Does he intend to insinuate that the high caste people are human beings whereas the low castes are not ?

Subedar Major Farman Ali Khan : Here the question is that of the rich and the poor alone. What right have the well-to-do people to ruin the zamindar by snatching away his land ?

Begum Rashida Latif : The honourable member has been saying that land should not be alienated to the low caste people. What are low castes ? Does this term apply to his own tenants or to us, the urbanites ? I would submit, Sir, that the purchase of land by the urbanites will do much social good. This will lead to an exchange of ideas between the town and the village and the present estrangement between the two sections of the population will disappear.

Mr. Speaker : The Begum Sahiba is now making a speech. The point of order is finished.

Chaudhri Ali Akbar : Another harm that this process has done is that it has led to the corruption of the aristocratic stocks. The new fangled Barwala Rajputs do not hesitate to give their daughters in marriage even to non-Rajputs—a fact which has brought ruin and shame to so many noble families. I, therefore, strongly urge, Sir, that the process of alienating land to non-agriculturists should at once be stopped. With these words I support Raja Sahib's motion.

Khan Bahadur Nawab Chaudhri Fazal Ali (East Gujrat, Muhammadan, Rural) (Urdu) : Sir, my submission is that in my opinion the proposition expounded by Raja Sahib has not been clearly understood. As a matter of fact what Raja Sahib means to say is that the provisions of Land Alienation Act are being misused and consequently its real aim is being set at nought. We do not wish to call a community or class big or small or good or bad, nor do we want to raise the question of urban or rural interests. What we want is the enforcement of this Act in the true sense of the word without showing favour to any community or religion. Hindus, Sikhs, Muslims, Christians, Kamins, etc., whether belonging to urban or rural areas, are all included in the agricultural community. We consider the members of all communities as our own kith and kin so much so that we regard even a sweeper as our brother. The celebrated poet Sheikh Saadi rightly expresses our sentiments in his couplet :—

که در آفرینش یک جوهر اند

i.e., the whole mankind has been borne of one mother and one father, and therefore all human beings are equal in our eyes. In fact we do not look down upon anybody. If we were to do so, we shall be committing a sin against our religious tenets, and more especially we shall be untrue to the party which does not recognise any difference between one member and another on the score of his religion or community. (Hear, hear and cheers.)

Sir, I was submitting that the Land Alienation Act was passed and enforced with the sole purpose of protecting the interests of zamindars, whose only means of livelihood is agriculture. On the contrary the professional class can earn their living in several other ways. They are masters of many industries. But this brave community is being gradually robbed of its lands. Thanks to the enforcement of the Land Alienation Act that you see here the faces of zamindars. But for this Act they would have perished long ago. Now the question does not arise as to why the Land Alienation Act was enacted and enforced. If I were to narrate the causes that led to its enactment, I shall be going wide off the mark. My submission is that for every community the doors of service are open. A certain proportion of services is fixed for every community. But where orders are issued that so many zamindars should be recruited in services, these orders are never acted upon and the zamindars do not get even 50 per cent. of the share fixed for them. The non-agriculturists usurp the rights of agriculturists. The zamindars have no other means of earning a livelihood except agriculture. It, therefore, stands to reason that if non-agriculturists fail to get hold of lands, they will not be worse off. In view of the fact that agriculture is our sole means of earning a livelihood, we regard it as an encroachment on our rights if non-agriculturists come to take possession of our lands. We cannot tolerate this. We simply want to be protected against this encroachment.

Mr. Speaker : Will the honourable member please wind up his speech ?

Begum Rashida Latif : Sir, I wish to speak.

Mr. Speaker : I can not allow any speech at this stage. I must put the demand to vote.

Premier : May I say a few words on behalf of the Government ?

Mr. S. P. Singha : May I know who are those people whom the honourable member calls 'kamins' ? Are they only those who cultivate land or those who also are zamindars ?

Khan Bahadur Nawab Chaudhri Fazal Ali : I mean only those who are not agriculturists.

Premier (Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan) : Sir, the point raised by my honourable friend opposite is a very simple one. I am afraid very few people have really understood it. As my honourable friend from Gujrat pointed out there is some confusion of thought about this.

[Premier.]

The real point which he has made is that certain people who are not agriculturists go to courts, and sue the Secretary of State for being declared as agriculturists. That is the main point. His main grievance is that such cases are not defended by Government. Now, if I have rightly understood the point, I think the answer is very simple. Other issues have also been raised, and I may very briefly, for the benefit of the House, state how we include people amongst statutory agriculturists in the schedule to the Land Alienation Act. As the honourable members must have seen, I had an occasion to make an authoritative statement in reply to an address presented to me by the Khatri deputation a few months ago. I then pointed out that the three main factors which induce Government to include a particular tribe in the category of statutory agriculturists are these :—

- (i) that their main livelihood is agriculture,
- (ii) that they own land and that they are losing land to an extent which would make it necessary for the Government to give them protection which the Land Alienation Act gives.

As you are aware the Land Alienation Act is a disabling Act. It imposes certain disabilities on the people who are brought within the scope of the Act, and

- (iii) that they should be in sufficiently large number to justify their being included in the schedule, i.e., in the category of statutory agriculturists.

These are the main criteria which are kept in view in deciding whether a particular tribe or group should be included amongst the statutory agriculturists or not. As I pointed out in my reply to the deputation it is irrespective of caste, creed or religion that we include people in that category. For instance, there are several Indian Christians in several districts who are now statutory agriculturists within the scope of the Land Alienation Act. Similarly, there are several tribes, for instance Mazhbi Sikhs who have been included amongst the category of statutory agriculturists. Similarly other tribes have also been included from time to time in that category. Since the Act was enacted this process has been going on continuously. If an application is made by a tribe, it is carefully considered by the local authorities and they make their recommendation to the Financial Commissioner who very carefully goes into the whole thing. I can assure him that the present Financial Commissioner in charge of this particular department is very sympathetic indeed towards them, (hear, hear) and very carefully scrutinises everything before he allows anybody to be included in that category.

With regard to the particular point raised by my friend from Rawalpindi I can assure him that so far as these cases are concerned, there are instructions that those cases should be opposed by Government. The difficulty is that sometime sufficient material is not available for successfully contesting those cases. If, for instance, the honourable member opposite has got any material which he can supply to the Government pleader in Rawalpindi, I am sure the Government pleader would be glad to avail himself of the material and contest the cases on the basis of this material. I have also been told not in this House but outside that in certain cases the Government pleaders, who defended on behalf of the Government, did not take advantage of the material provided to them. That particular matter can be set right by issuing instructions and I can assure the honourable member that we will issue such instructions that in future if anybody brings bona fide material to the notice of the local authorities, the Government pleader will take advantage of it. I think that should sufficiently meet the point raised by my honourable friend.

Subedar Major Farman Ali Khan : Sir, in spite of the fact that I have not been able to understand the Honourable the Premier's speech which he has delivered in English, I am confident that whatever he will do, will be entirely in our interests. I beg to be excused for reciting here a couplet from Iqbal which runs as follows :—

خداوند! یہ تیرے سادہ دل بندے کدھر جائیں
کہ درویشی بھی عیاری ہے سلطانہی بھی عیاری

With these few words, Sir, I beg leave to withdraw my out motion.

The motion was by leave withdrawn.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That a sum not exceeding Rs. 40,00,600 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1938, in respect of Land Revenue.

The motion was carried.

The Assembly then adjourned till 11 A. M. on Thursday, 1st July, 1937.

PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

1ST SESSION OF THE 1ST PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Thursday, 1st July, 1987.

*The Assembly met at the Assembly Chamber, Simla, at 11 A.M. of the clock.
Mr. Speaker in the chair.*

STARRED QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

CONSOLIDATION OF HOLDINGS SCHEME.

*211. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Development be pleased to state—

- (a) what steps the Government propose to take to speed up the scheme of consolidation of small holdings in the province ;
- (b) the total acreage that has already undergone consolidation and the area awaiting consolidation in the province ;
- (c) the Government programme of consolidation and the year by which the process of consolidation is expected to be complete in the province ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a) Until recently the work of consolidation of holdings was done entirely on co-operative lines through societies specially registered for the purpose. To speed up the process, Government introduced a Bill in 1986 which has since been passed into the Punjab Consolidation of Holdings Act, 1986.

(b) The total area consolidated since consolidation work was begun in the province is about 6½ lakhs of acres. No estimate of the area "awaiting consolidation" in the province is possible, since this depends on the consent of the right holders concerned, as well as on local conditions.

(c) Government is taking all necessary steps to push forward the process of consolidation of holdings and in order to supplement the efforts of the Co-operative Department under the Co-operative Societies Act, 1912, we have recently deputed three tahsildars, as an experimental measure, for work under the Punjab Consolidation of Holdings Act, 1986, in the Sialkot, Gujrat and Rohtak districts ; but it is not possible to say when it would be completed as its success depends on the degree of co-operation that the land-owners are willing to give.

Sardar Hari Singh : What is the average qualification of field workers engaged in the work of consolidation ?

Minister : I cannot answer that question without previous notice.

POLICE INTERFERENCE IN BELA SINGH MURDER CASE, HOSHIARPUR.

*212. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable the Premier please state—

(a) whether it is a fact that certain persons of village Sarhala Kalan, police station Mahilpur, district Hoshiarpur, applied to the Additional District Magistrate, Hoshiarpur, on the 20th April, 1937, alleging that the police were trying to coerce them to become prosecution witnesses in the Bela Singh murder case and if so, what action has been taken on that application ;

(b) what steps the Government propose to take to protect the people against this high-handedness on the part of police ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) One person of Sarhala Kalan, who was believed to have been in contact with the accused in the case mentioned shortly before the crime, was called up by the investigating police for examination and made an application of the kind described to the Additional District Magistrate on the 20th April. Inquiries showed that there was no truth whatever in the allegation that the police had put pressure on the applicant.

(b) Does not arise.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : What method was adopted to ascertain the truth or otherwise of the allegation ?

Premier : Through the District Magistrate.

Syed Amjad Ali Shah : Is the Government aware that in order to defend the accused a Defence Committee has been formed which includes several members of this House ?

Premier : Yes.

Syed Afzaal Ali Hasnie : Has the attention of Government been drawn to the fact that the said Defence Committee which includes members of this House has brought pressure to bear upon the approver in this case and other prosecution witnesses with a view to inducing them to retract the statements they have already made ?

Premier : Government has received information to that effect.

Nawab Khan Shah Nawaz Khan : Do the Government propose to take action with a view to putting a stop to such unlawful efforts to intimidate honest witnesses ?

Premier : Government has refrained from taking any action hitherto, because one or two honourable members of this House were concerned in this matter, but since the honourable member has suggested it, I would look into the matter again.

Sardar Hari Singh : On a point of order. Do the supplementary questions put by the honourable members on that side of the House and answers given to them arise at all as supplementary questions ? Therefore I hope that the Chair will order that those questions be deleted.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh (Urdu) : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state whether it is illegal to present any defence in a case which is sub-judice ?

Premier : No.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh (Urdu) : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state whether that information is in their possession and what are the reasons under which that information is not being given?

Premier : I have already explained this.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : Will the Honourable the Premier please state the names of those members of this Assembly who have been associated with those activities?

Premier : No, Sir, it is not in the interest of this House to mention the names, nor is it in the public interest to do so.

Sardar Hari Singh : My point of order still stands. These supplementary questions do not arise.

Sardar Partap Singh : Has the approver in this case who has retracted stated that his statement was made under coercion of the police and he has withdrawn it because it was a lie?

Premier : My information is that he retracted that statement because pressure was brought to bear upon him by members of the Defence Committee.

Sardar Hari Singh : In whose custody has the approver been up to this time? Who intimidated him?

Premier : My information is that intimidation was resorted to even in the court.

Sardar Hari Singh : Is that not a reflection on the court?

Sardar Partap Singh : Was that resorted to in the presence of the Magistrate and in the presence of the police? How was it resorted to?

Premier : By show of force.

An Honourable Member : How could that show of force be made in the court?

Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : Is it not a fact that the approver was in the custody of either the police or jail authorities?

Premier : He is in the judicial lock-up.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : The Honourable Premier has been pleased to state that he has refrained from taking action on the ground that some of the honourable members of this House are involved. May I ask if he can definitely state that some members of this honourable House were involved in putting pressure on the approver?

Premier : I have already said so and I am hoping that the honourable members who are concerned will use their influence to see that the other members of the Committee do not put such pressure.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : That is not my point. What I want to know is whether the Honourable Premier is in a position to state definitely that some members of this House actually put pressure on the approver.

Premier : I have nothing to add to my previous answer.

CROPS DAMAGED BY HAILSTORM IN GARHSHANKAR AND UNA TAHSILS OF THE HOSHIARPUR DISTRICT.

213. Sardar Harjab Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue please state—

- (a) whether he is aware that the hailstorm of 18th April last caused damage to the crops in the villages Chahalpur, Basiala, Dhagam, Mohanwal, Denowal, Bhem, Bhadel, Gaopalian, Kukar, Rahalli, Thakarwal, Burki, Jangniwala and some other villages in tahsil Garhshankar, district Hoshiarpur ;
- (b) whether he is aware that the same hailstorm damaged crops in Thana Amb of tahsil Una ;
- (c) what steps have been taken to give relief and grant revenue remissions to the peasants of the affected areas ; if no steps have been taken reasons for the same ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) and (b) Yes.

(c) Remissions to the extent of Rs. 591 were granted in the affected area of the Amb police station of the Una tahsil. It was not found necessary to give relief in the Garhshankar tahsil because the produce was not below normal in any of the affected villages, even after making allowance for the damage caused. Moreover a substantial portion of the crop had been harvested before the hailstorm.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Can the Honourable Minister please state the dates of the information received and the dates of relief given ?

Minister : I must have notice of that question.

PROFESSIONAL TAX IMPOSED BY THE DISTRICT BOARDS.

214. Sardar Harjab Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that professional tax is imposed upon the villagers on the recommendation of the lambardars ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that the lambardars are allowed 5 per cent. commission on all realizations ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that the taxes are revised on appeal on the recommendation of the lambardars ;
- (d) whether the Government propose to take steps to make the assessments of the professional tax imposed by the District Boards uniform ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) No ; but the lambardars and other representative persons in the village are generally consulted.

(b) No, five per cent. is the maximum allowed. District Boards, however, generally pay a remuneration at $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. of the collection.

(c) No. Appeals are generally inquired into by revenue officials but are finally decided by the Commissioners concerned on merits.

(d) No, as it is not practicable to adopt uniform rates throughout the province.

MUNICIPALITIES IN THE MIANWALI DISTRICT.

*215. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that there are four municipalities in the Mianwali district, two on one side of the Indus and two on the other ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that in the municipalities of Mianwali and Bhakhar members are returned by election while in the municipalities of Isakhel and Kalabagh members are nominated ;
- (c) if the answer to (b) above be in the affirmative, why the system of elections has not been introduced in the latter two municipalities so far ;
- (d) whether the Government propose to introduce the system of elections in Isakhel and Kalabagh ; if so, when ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) and (b) Yes.

(c) The elective system was considered unsuitable on account of local conditions and its introduction was, therefore, withheld.

(d) The present Government has not yet taken the matter into consideration.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : When was it last that the Government took this question into consideration ?

Minister : I should have notice of that question.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : May I know how long the municipalities of Kalabagh and Isakhel have been functioning ?

Minister : I cannot give this information without notice.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Is it a fact that two members of the Malik family at Pindigheb are invariably nominated as members of this Committee ?

Minister : May be.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Is it a fact that the honorary Secretary of the Pindigheb Committee who is also a member of the Committee has been there since 1905 ?

Minister : Possibly.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : May I know the reasons why the Government has not yet introduced elective system in the municipalities of Pindigheb, Isakhel and Kalabagh ?

PINDIGHEB MUNICIPALITY.

*216. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether all the members of the Pindigheb Municipality in Campbellpur district are nominated ; if so, why ;
- (b) whether the Government propose to give the people of Pindigheb the right of electing their own representatives in the municipality ; if so, when ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes, because the elective system was considered unsuitable on account of local conditions and its introduction was, therefore, withheld.

(b) The present Government has not yet taken the matter into consideration.

DEMOLITION OF PLATFORMS BY THE BHIWANI MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE
UNDER THE MUNICIPAL ACT.

217. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that Bhiwani Municipal Committee without issuing any notice under section 132 of the Municipal Act has got certain chabutaras demolished ;
- (b) whether the Deputy Superintendent of Police ordered the local police to help the Committee in this act ;
- (c) whether the police constables were present with handcuffs at the time of demolishing ;
- (d) if answer to (a), (b) and (c) be in the affirmative, what action the Government propose to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) No.

(b) No.

(c) No.

(d) Does not arise.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Will the Honourable Minister please state whether any complaint was made by the public ?

Minister : I have nothing to add to my answer.

SALE OF AGRICULTURAL LAND.

218. Chaudhri Ram Sarup : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue kindly state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the Deputy Commissioner, Rohtak, allowed on 16th April, 1936, the sale of 28 bighas, 9 biswas of agricultural land belonging to Chandgi, son of Harji Jat, and situated in tahsil Rurki, district Rohtak, for Rs. 6,400 ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that this sale was allowed for the repayment of a debt only on the statements of the applicant and others interested in the applicant ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that an application was submitted to the Commissioner, Ambala division to request that the sale of the land in question may be disallowed ;
- (d) the action taken or proposed to be taken on the application mentioned in (c) above ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : It is understood that the case is at present sub-judice in the Court of the Financial Commissioner and copies of the documents which would give the required information are obtainable on payment of the usual fees. Government consider it against the public interest to supply such information in reply to questions in this House.

VISITING COMMITTEES.

219. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the visiting committees, consisting of members of the Council and some other individuals, appointed under the Punjab Government notification, dated 5th June, 1931, to visit the provincialised hospitals and dispensaries in each district, to examine their internal condition and suggest ways and means to improve them have so far done any useful work ;
- (b) if the reply to the above be in the affirmative, what Government proposes to do in the matter ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that Civil Surgeons, who are required under the rules to convene the meetings of the visiting committees, rarely call meetings of these committees ; if so, what steps the Government proposes to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) The visiting committees have not so far done much useful work and the members of the committees have taken very little interest in the work.

(b) and (c) The meetings held by the committees in the past have been few. Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals has been directed to issue instructions to Civil Surgeons to convene meetings of the committees quarterly.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Are the members of the visiting committee allowed travelling allowance for attending the meetings ?

Minister : I cannot answer that question off-hand.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Is it the experience of the past Government or is it the experience of the present Government on which the reply of the Honourable Minister is based ?

Minister : Of the past Government.

INTERNAL CONDITIONS OF HOSPITALS IN THE PROVINCE.

220. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that representations and complaints have been very often made to the Government as to the internal condition of several hospitals in this province, such as neglect of in-door patients, indifference towards out-door patients, charging of fees from out-door and in-door patients ; if so, what effective steps have been taken to remove these complaints.

[Lala Duni Chand.]

- (b) whether it is also a fact that the civil surgeons of districts have invariably complained to Government that the hospitals are being starved and adequate funds are not placed at their disposal even to meet the elementary requirements of hospitals ;
- (c) what does the Government propose to do in this matter ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) There have been no representations, but a few complaints from individuals, as to neglect, etc., have been received. All such complaints are carefully enquired into and suitable action is taken in each case. In-door patients admitted into private wards are charged rents and fees according to the scale laid down and sanctioned by Government.

(b) Adequate funds are placed at the disposal of civil surgeons to meet the requirements of Government hospitals. In the case of Local Fund hospitals and dispensaries, the local bodies responsible for their maintenance are required to provide necessary funds. Owing to bad financial conditions of local bodies some of them have not been able to maintain their hospitals up to the standard desired by civil surgeons.

(c) Defects are invariably brought to the notice of local bodies concerned and in most of the cases they are rectified by the local bodies as soon as their funds permit.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Do the medical officers in charge of such hospitals have a share in the fees paid by the in-door patients ?

Minister : I should require notice of the question.

PROSCRIBED BOOKS AND BANNED PAPERS AND PERIODICALS.

*221. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the names or the descriptions of the books or tracts printed and published in Great Britain or the Dominions which are proscribed in the Punjab ;
- (b) the books or tracts in question which have also been proscribed in the countries where they were printed and published originally ;
- (c) names of papers and periodicals, printed and published in Great Britain or the Dominions, whose entry into the Punjab is banned by the Government ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a), (b) and (c) It is not in the public interest to broadcast in a handy form these lists of noxious publications.

Sardar Hari Singh : Are there no such publications ?

Premier : If there are any, why should the honourable member put the question ?

Diwan Chaman Lall : The honourable member wants a list of books and tracts published in England or the Dominions which have been proscribed by the Punjab Government.

Premier : I thought my answer was quite clear. It is not in the public interest to broadcast in a handy form these lists of noxious publications.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Is it or is it not a fact that when these proscriptions are made, notifications issue in the Gazette ?

Premier : They certainly are.

Diwan Chaman Lall : What is necessary then for the Honourable Premier to do is to gather up all those notifications.

Premier : If the honourable member is prepared to do that, he can collect the information himself.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Why, then, is it not in the public interest to give the information to the honourable member in a handy form ?

Premier : Does the honourable member expect me to compile and catalogue a list of proscribed literature since the advent of the British Government into this country ? It would be a very big volume though it may be handy.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh (Urdu) : Will the Honourable the Premier please state whether the book " Leninism " by Stalin is proscribed or not ?

Premier : I cannot give a reply to that question off-hand, but from the fact that he has mentioned it, it may be that it is proscribed.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Will the Honourable the Premier please state whether the book is in the Lahore Assembly Library or not ?

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable the Premier consider the desirability of going through the list to see whether there are any undesirable proscriptions ?

Premier : If ever I get leisure to do so.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : If a list is prepared it will facilitate the task of the Honourable the Premier.

Premier : It will mean waste of money.

Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Premier at least prepare a list of the periodicals which have been proscribed ?

Premier : I am afraid I cannot accommodate the honourable member in that respect.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh (Urdu) : Will the Honourable the Premier please state whether the " Labour Monthly " of England is proscribed or not ?

Premier : What is the honourable member's information about it ?

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh (Urdu) : I do not know and that is why I ask for information.

Premier : I have no information either.

HOLDING OF PUBLIC MEETINGS AT SIRSA.

*222. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that the Congress workers of Sirsa were ordered by the Deputy Superintendent of Police there not to hold public meetings in the bazar chawk near the King Edward's statue, a public place where public meetings have been held before ;

[Pandit Shri Ram Sharma.]

(b) the reasons for that order with a copy of it ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) and (b) No orders were issued to the Congress workers of Sirsa by the Deputy Superintendent of Police. Several Congress meetings were held on the public road at Sirsa to the obstruction of traffic, and the Deputy Superintendent of Police, Sirsa, advised a local Congress leader to hold the meetings at some more suitable place. This advice, was, however, disregarded and meetings are still being held on the public roads without interference from the police and to the inconvenience of the general public. The local authorities are being instructed to prevent such obstructions and to take legal action against persons responsible for creating them.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Is it not a fact that a notice was served through the police, on the Secretary of the Congress at Sirsa, placing a ban on the meetings being held ?

Premier : I have already answered that part of the question. I think the Deputy Superintendent of Police advised the local Congress leader to hold the meetings at some more suitable place.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Is this the proper way of giving advice ?

Premier : Naturally, if any communication is made by police officers, it is made through the policeman and he is the messenger.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Is the Government sure that obstruction is caused when and where such meetings are held ?

Premier : I am afraid this does not arise from this question.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Does the Honourable the Premier mean that hereafter meetings will not be allowed to be held there ?

Premier : Yes, if they cause obstruction.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : What was the use of sending instructions, if no obstruction had been caused ?

Premier : As I have said, the local authorities are being instructed to prevent such obstructions and to take legal action against persons responsible for creating them. I have received representations from other people to the effect that these meetings do cause obstruction. It is only a question of fact. If they do not cause any obstruction, no action will be taken.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Is the Honourable the Premier aware that meetings were held there for years and years together and no such complaint was ever made.

Premier : This does not necessarily legalise them.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : How did the Honourable Premier come to know about these obstructions ?

Premier : I have already said that I have received representations from other people from that place saying that they are put to great inconvenience on account of these meetings.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Was not the complaint made at the instigation of the police ?

Premier : No, it was brought to my notice by an honourable member of this House.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Has there been any occasion for launching any criminal proceedings against anybody for obstruction in connection with public meetings during all these years ?

Premier : I am afraid the honourable member expects too much of me. I cannot reply off-hand.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Will the Honourable the Premier kindly state the names of those who lodged this complaint that obstruction was caused ?

Premier : An honourable member from that part of the province. I do not think it is right on the part of the honourable member to ask me to give his name.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : My point is that it is the police which trumps up such complaints.

Premier : I am afraid that is a gross insinuation against the members of this House.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Premier be prepared to give more weight to the statement made by an honourable member belonging to that constituency than to a statement made by a member belonging to a different constituency.

Premier : There is no question of preference.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : There are two members of this House who have made two different statements. One of them says that the police should be instructed to take notice of such meetings and in future no such meetings should be held.

Pir Akbar Ali : On a point of order, Sir. Is it giving information, or receiving information or making suggestions ?

Premier : If these meetings do not cause obstruction, no action will be taken.

PRESIDENT OF THE MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, BERI.

*223. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that the present official President of the Municipal Committee, Beri, did not take the oath of allegiance before assuming charge of his office ;

(b) whether it is a fact that this omission on the part of the President was brought to the notice of the Commissioner and the Deputy Commissioner ;

(c) whether the matter received consideration by Government ; if so, the result thereof ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes.

(b) The omission was brought to the notice of the Deputy Commissioner.

(c) The present official President (who is a tahsildar) did not take the oath on the presumption that his appointment as President being by virtue of office it was not necessary for him to take the oath which had already been taken by his predecessor. Enquiries show that this practice has existed since long though it is irregular. The present tahsildar has been directed to take the oath and instructions have been issued that the oath should be taken on change of incumbency.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Till the oath has been taken why has not the tahsildar been removed? Why is he permitted to act as President? (No answer.)

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : On a point of order. You were pleased to say that an Honourable Minister, when he cannot give a reply to any question, should rise in his seat and say—(Voices from the Treasury benches : No, no).

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Is not the business done by the tahsildar in his capacity as President illegal, in view of the fact that he had not taken the oath of allegiance?

Minister : It is irregular and not illegal.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : What is the difference between "illegal" and "irregular"?

Minister : A lot of difference, an irregular action may not be illegal.

COMPLAINTS OF CORRUPTION AGAINST PRESIDENT, MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, JHAJJAR.

*224. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that on private complaints of corruption a departmental inquiry was held against the non-official President of Jhajjar Municipal Committee; if so, the result of that inquiry;
- (b) whether it is also a fact that a further inquiry was held in the same affair by two magistrates, one of them being the same who held the first inquiry; if so, the reasons for appointing another magistrate;
- (c) the findings of that inquiry by the two magistrates and the steps Government proposes to take in the light of this finding?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan, Tiwana : (a) and (b) It is a fact that a departmental inquiry was held on private complaints of corruption against the non-official President of the Jhajjar Municipal Committee. Before the inquiry was complete the President made allegations against the officer making the inquiry, and it was considered expedient to have a joint inquiry by two magistrates, i.e., the previous one and another.

(c) The magistrates have not yet submitted their report.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Is it not a fact that the President of the Jhajjar Municipality in making that complaint was swayed by communal considerations because the Additional District Magistrate happened to belong to the other community ?

Minister : I am not aware of the motives of the complainant.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Why was the other magistrate appointed on the basis of a mere complaint ?

Minister : There must be reasons.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : What are the reasons for the appointment of the other magistrate ?

Minister : Public interest. (Laughter).

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Is there any remedy for this "public interest" ?

PROPORTION BETWEEN ABIANA AND TAWAN.

*225. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) the income under the head abiana from Delhi and Rohtak divisions of the Western Jumna Canal during the last three years ;
 (b) the amount of fine (tawan) realized from the zamindars for improper use and waste of canal water during this period, and the proportion that this fine bears to the income from abiana ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a)—

| Name of Division. | INCOME FROM ABIANA DURING THE YEARS | | |
|-------------------|--|-----------------|------------------|
| | 1934-35. | 1935-36. | 1936-37. |
| Delhi | Rs. 9,57,655 | Rs. 9,95,913 | Rs. 11,42,875 |
| Rohtak | 9,88,597 | 12,69,411 | 13,95,885 |

| Name of Division. | AMOUNT OF FINE (TAWAN) REALIZED FROM THE ZAMINDARS FOR IMPROPER USE AND WASTE OF CANAL WATER DURING THE YEARS | | |
|-------------------|--|--------------|--------------|
| | 1934-35. | 1935-36. | 1936-37. |
| Delhi | Rs. 11,455 | Rs. 2,848 | Rs. 6,786 |
| Rohtak | 17,128 | 4,687 | 22,187 |

[Minister for Revenue.]

and the proportion that the above fine bears to the income from abiana is—

BUILDING OF A WALL NEAR CHOBACHCHA SAHIB.

226. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- whether it is a fact that the Irrigation Department proposes to build a wall on the left side of the canal in Lahore near Chobachcha Sahib new abadi ;
- if so, whether he has received any representation in this connection ; if representation has been received, what action has been taken thereon ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) There has recently been litigation regarding rights of way over Government property in the vicinity of the new abadi near Chobachcha Sahib and the wall mentioned has figured in the proceedings. The matter is still under the consideration of Government.

(b) Such representations as have been received will be dealt with after Government has examined the whole matter.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Ujjal Singh : What is the result of the Honourable Minister's consideration ?

Minister for Public Works : Time has been allowed to the committee to set its affairs in proper order.

GRIEVANCES OF THE RESIDENTS OF CHOBACHCHA SAHIB.

227. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state whether the Government has received any representation from the residents of Chobachcha Sahib new abadi Lahore requesting that a ghât and a bridge be built on the canal near their houses ; if so, what action has been taken or is proposed to be taken thereon ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : Attention is invited to reply given to question No. *147.¹

SUPERSESSION OF SARGODHA MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE.

228. Sardar Sahib Sardar Ujjal Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that Mr. Read, Deputy Commissioner, Shahpur, recently recommended the supersession of Sargodha Municipal Committee ;

(b) whether the Honourable Minister has considered this proposal ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes.

(b) Yes.

AMENDMENT OF SECTION 85 OF GOVERNMENT OF INDIA ACT, 1935.

229. Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Will the Honourable the Premier kindly state—

(a) whether he has moved the Government of India for the purpose of having Section 85 of the Government of India Act, 1935, so amended as to entitle a member of a Provincial Legislature to address the Legislature in any other language of his choice, even when he is well acquainted with the English language ;

(b) if the answer to the above be in the negative, whether he intends to move in the matter without any more avoidable loss of time ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Yes.

(b) Does not arise.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : The date when representations were made on the subject ?

Premier : Only a few days ago I promised this House that we will make a representation and an actual representation has gone now.

DEBT CONCILIATION BOARD, JHANG.

230. Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Will the Honourable the Premier kindly state—

(a) whether the attention of the Government has been drawn to a report on the working of the Debt Conciliation Board at Jhang published by the District Hindu Sahaik Sabha, Jhang ; if so, what action has been taken or is intended to be taken on that report ;

(b) the amount of total debt conciliated by the Debt Conciliation Board, Jhang district, from September, 1935, to 30th April, 1937, (2) and the proportion it bears to the debt due to Muslim creditors ;

(c) the percentage of the Muslim debtors out of the total debtors who had applied to the Debt Conciliation Board, Jhang district, for the conciliation of their debts from September, 1935 to 30th April, 1937 ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) The honourable member is asked to see the reply given to question *98¹.

(b) Figures are not readily available for the period mentioned, but from the date of its establishment up to the end of February last the total debt conciliated by the Board amounted to Rs. 4,62,000. The second clause in this part of the question is not understood.

(c) The records kept regarding the work of conciliation boards do not classify cases according to the religion of the parties. It would not be possible to collect this information without special enquiries entailing an expenditure of time and labour which would be out of proportion to the results to be secured.

KAVIRAJ THAKAR DASS OF KANDHALA SHEIKHAN, DISTRICT HOSHIARPUR.

231. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister for Development kindly state—

(a) whether it is a fact that Kaviraj Thakar Dass of village Kandhala Sheikhan, tahsil Dasuha, district Hoshiarpur, stood surety for one Inayat Husain who had raised a loan on the basis of a bond from the village zamindara bank named Anjuman-i-Jadid ;

(b) if so, whether it is a fact that in spite of the said loan having been liquidated by the principal debtor the surety Thakar Dass was summarily proceeded against on the basis of other loans due from the said Inayat Husain for which he was not surety and eventually Rs. 705-5-0 were forcibly realized from him on 21st December, 1931;

(c) if the reply to the above be in the affirmative, whether it is a fact that the said Kaviraj has been making repeated representations to the authorities concerned for return of the money realized from him ;

(d) whether the Government is prepared to take any steps in the matter ; if so, what ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a) Yes.

(b) The loan was not liquidated by the principal debtor ; but was paid by the surety. The surety paid nothing on account of other loans due from Inayat Hussain.

(c) and (d) Do not arise.

POSTING OF POLICE AT THE HOUSE OF SARDAR HARCHARAN SINGH, RAIS OF KHARAR.

232. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that the Superintendent of Police, Ambala, ordered the posting of police constables on 13th April, 1937, in the qila (residential house) of Sardar Harcharan Singh, one of the Cis-Sutlej chiefs and belonging to one of the 34 distinguished families of the Punjab in pursuance thereof the two constables sent by the Superintendent of Police from Ambala, accompanied by an assistant sub-inspector of police and a sub-inspector of Police of Kharar police station forcibly entered the private apartments of the said Sardar ;

- (b) whether it is a fact that on Sardar Harcharan Singh's objecting to the posting of the police inside his private apartments, the sub-inspector of police broke open the lock of a room outside the deorhi and posted the two police constables there who remained there up to 23rd April, 1937 ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that the Deputy Commissioner of Ambala on coming to know of posting of the police ordered their removal ;
- (d) if the replies to the above be in the affirmative, whether Government is prepared to take any action in the matter : if so, what ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) The facts are that at the request of one of Sardar Harcharan Singh's wives, two constables were provided for her protection and that of her son, on payment. This was done with the approval of the Deputy Commissioner. The police did not enter the private apartments of Sardar Harcharan Singh but only that part of his residence which is occupied by the lady in question.

(b) Accommodation was provided by Sardar Harcharan Singh's wife, who had applied for police protection. Allegations were made that the police had broken open a locked door. This was made the subject of a magisterial inquiry and found to be false.

(c) After certain further inquiries the Deputy Commissioner ordered the withdrawal of the police.

(d) Does not arise.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : What was the nature of the enquiry which resulted in issuing the order of withdrawal by the police ?

Premier : If the honourable member who has sent notice of the question were here, he would have been able to give that information.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to issue general instructions to the police authorities in different districts not to exceed their limits ?

Premier : They have not exceeded their limits.

AMRIT LAL, SUB-INSPECTOR OF POLICE, INCHARGE POLICE STATION
HATHIN, DISTRICT GURGAON.

*233. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state :—

- (a) whether it is a fact that it has been brought to the notice of the Superintendent of Police, Gurgaon, that the present Sub-Inspector of Police, Amrit Lal in charge of police station Hathin has been extorting bribes from different persons, and definite and specific instances of bribery have been quoted ;

[L. Duni Chand.]

(b) whether he is aware that among the inhabitants of police station Hathin there exists a feeling of helpless resentment against the continued existence of blackmailing and extortion by police officers for several years ;

(c) the steps he proposes to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) During the last half of the year 1936 the Superintendent of Police, Gurgaon, received complaints from eight persons that the sub-inspector in charge of the Hathin police station had extorted bribes on various occasions. All the complaints were enquired into by a gazetted officer and were found to be baseless. They were accordingly filed with the approval of the District Magistrate. A further complaint submitted in May 1937 is under enquiry. In one of the cases mentioned the complainant also filed a complaint in the criminal court, which was dismissed by the magistrate.

(b) The complaints against the present sub-inspector have thus been found to be without foundation. His predecessor was also regarded as an honest officer.

(c) None.

DAMAGE TO CROPS BY HAILSTORM IN THE FEROEZPORE DISTRICT.

234. Sardar Rur Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue kindly state—

(a) whether it is a fact that during the month of April 1937, hailstorm caused a lot of damage to the crops in many parts of the Ferozepore district ;

(b) if the answer to (a) above be in the affirmative, whether the Government called for any report as to the extent of damage done and the area affected as mentioned in (a) ;

(c) if the answers to (a) and (b) above be in the affirmative, whether Government will lay on the table a copy of the report received and also state the action, if any, taken by them to afford relief to the agriculturists of the affected area ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Government's information is that some damage was caused to crops in 62 villages.

(b) Yes.

(c) It is against constitutional practice to place copies of reports from subordinate officers on the table. Remissions of land revenue and abiana amounting to Rs. 3,502 were granted in this connection.

Sardar Rur Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state whether any remission has been made in those villages where the proprietary rights belonged to the zamindars, while the tilling was done by other people ?

Minister : I have not been able to follow this question. If the honourable member will put the question in writing and send it to me, I will try to reply.

ODES.

*235. Sardar Rur Singh : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it has been brought to the notice of the Government that a wandering tribe called 'Odes' is causing great hardship to cultivators of lands in the Ferozepore and Ludhiana districts by their persistent habit to let their goat and sheep herds graze on the cultivated lands resulting in frequent clashes, hand to hand fights and even murders ;
- (b) whether he is aware that the zamindars of the Ilaka mentioned in (a) have suffered and are still suffering heavily on account of the nomadic condition of the tribe in question ;
- (c) if the answer to (a) and (b) be in the affirmative, what steps Government propose to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) and (b) The problem presented by the Odes has been before Government repeatedly during the last ten or fifteen years. The members of this nomadic tribe who keep large flocks of sheep and goats and live on the profits of the wool and meat, have for an indefinite period been in the habit of wandering freely throughout the south-eastern districts of the Punjab and the adjoining States, making Fazilka (in the Ferozepore district) as the headquarters of their extensive trade in wool. The tribe is not specially addicted to crime, but their habits inevitably bring them from time to time into conflict with the settled inhabitants of the districts concerned, whose crops are not infrequently damaged by the flocks of the Odes.

(c) Government are studying the problem presented by these nomads but have not yet come to a final conclusion about it. In the meantime when breaches of the law occur, the local officers will do their best to bring the offenders to justice.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : Do the Government realise that by placing restrictions on the movements of these Odes they will be damaging the wool trade of Fazilka tahsil ?

Minister for Revenue : We have to keep in mind the interests of other law-abiding citizens also.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : Is the mere fact that a certain tribe continues moving about with a large number of sheep enough for the Government to declare that they are a criminal tribe ?

Minister : Have I said that I am going to declare them as such ? We have to keep in mind the interests of the people whose crops are being spoiled. Only two days back I received a deputation who came to see me in this connection and grievances were such that I had to sympathise with them.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : Are the Government of the opinion that the only way to redress the grievances—

Mr. Speaker : Questions asking for opinion are not admissible.

Sardar Rur Singh : Is it a fact that recently much loss was caused by these Odes in the villages of Pindiwala, Meathawali, Odewala, and Sarehwala ?

Minister for Revenue : Complaints have been received which are being looked into.

Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : Will the Government sympathetically consider the question of giving the Odes lands so as to enable them to settle on those lands ?

Minister : The suggestion will be considered.

Sardar Narotam Singh : Is the Government aware that there will be a serious loss in Ferozepore if immediate steps are not taken in regard to these Odes ?

Minister : As members are aware this has been going on for a long time. If the honourable member informs me the precise complaint I will ask my colleague, the Honourable Premier, to look into the matter.

Sardar Narotam Singh : Did the Honourable Minister receive a deputation yesterday ?

Minister : I have already said that I had received a deputation.

Pir Akbar Ali : Will the Honourable Minister state if that deputation was not merely for propaganda purposes ?

Minister : No. (Cheers).

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : May I know whether the loss has not amounted to more than Rs. 20,000 ?

Minister : How can I assess it ?

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : May I know whether representations to that effect have been made to the Government that losses amounting to more than Rs. 20,000 have been caused ?

Minister : A telegram has been received to this effect :

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : In view of the reports that have been made, has the Government considered to take any action and to remit the revenue so far as those villages are concerned ?

Minister : It is too much for my friend to expect me to accept that without an enquiry.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : When is that enquiry going to be launched in this case ?

Pir Akbar Ali : Will the Honourable Minister be pleased to state if any of the members of the deputation, which waited upon him., was a member of this House ?

Minister : Yes.

Pir Akbar Ali : Did he belong to the Fazilka tahsil ?

Minister : He belonged to the Ferozepore district.

Pir Akbar Ali : Did he come from the Fazilka constituency ?

Syed Amjad Ali Shah : Will the Honourable Minister be pleased to state whether the ' Odes ' have laid their grievances before the Government on previous occasions ?

Minister : I have not received any complaint.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : May I know whether it was with regard to the land or with regard to grazing ?

Minister : I have not received any complaint.

Khawaja Ghulam Samad : Is the Honourable Minister prepared to allot any area for grazing purposes for these ' Odes ' ?

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : Are Government aware that the overwhelming public opinion is strongly opposed to the ' Odes ' being declared as a criminal tribe ?

Sardar Narotam Singh : Is the Honourable Minister aware that the member of the Legislative Assembly is the legal adviser of the ' Odes ' ?

Minister : I am not going to reply to that question.

Malik Barkat Ali : Will the Honourable Minister be pleased to state if various communities were represented in the deputation ?

Minister : There were Muslims, Sikhs and Hindus.

Malik Barkat Ali : That is what I wanted.

REMISSION OF TAQAVI LOANS IN THE FEROEZPORE AND LUDHIANA DISTRICTS.

236. Sardar Rur Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether his attention has been drawn to the fact that taqavi loans have been remitted to a great extent in several districts of the Punjab such as Hissar, Rohtak, Gurgaon, Karnal, Ambala, Sheikhpura, Jhelum, Rawalpindi, Attock, Mianwali, Multan, Muzaffargarh and Dera Ismail Khan ;

(b) whether it is also a fact that this measure of relief has not so far been extended to the agriculturists of Ferozepore and Ludhiana districts ;

(c) if so, whether Government proposes to sanction remission of taqavi loans in the Ferozepore and Ludhiana districts also ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) During the financial year, 1936-37 remissions which could be described as " large " were granted in the district of Hissar only. Remissions were also granted to some extent in the districts referred to by the honourable member except Gurgaon, Sheikhpura, Attock and Dera Ghazi Khan.

(b) Yes.

(c) The matter will be duly considered and relief will be granted under the rules, as was done in the case of the other districts as the occasion arises.

S. ATMA SINGH, PRESIDENT, MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, SHEIKHPURA.

237. Dr. Shaikh Muhammad Alam : Will the Honourable the Premier please state—

(a) whether it is a fact that S. Atma Singh, President, Municipal Committee, Sheikhpura, on 20th January 1936, sent a telegram to the Deputy Inspector-General of Police, Central Range, and the Chief Secretary to the Government of Punjab and a

(Dr. Shaikh Muhammad Alam.)

demi-official letter to the Deputy Commissioner, Sheikhpura, and telephoned to the Station House Officer, Police Station, Sheikhpura, that Gian Chand, son of Harbhagwan, caste Brahman, resident of Sheikhpura, after arming himself with a hatchet had made a public demonstration of his intention of killing him and that he was in search of him and that he apprehended imminent breach of the peace from him and that the police was conniving at his action ;

- (b) If so, whether he will lay on the table of this House the correspondence, if any, that passed between the Deputy Inspector-General and the Superintendent of Police, Sheikhpura, concerning this matter ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) It is a fact that Sardar Atma Singh telegraphed to the Deputy Inspector-General of Police and also telephoned to the Sheikhpura Police Station to the effect that he anticipated personal danger from Gian Chand. Inquiries were made which showed that no action by the police was necessary.

(b) It is not in the public interest to disclose the contents of departmental correspondence.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the same Gian Chand brought a complaint against Sardar Atma Singh on which a case was launched against him and the trying Magistrate said that it was a false and fabricated case ?

Premier : I cannot reply off hand, but I believe there is a question on the subject and if the honourable member will wait, he will have an answer in due course.

UHL RIVER HYDRO ELECTRIC SCHEME.

*228. Dr. Shaikh Muhammad Alam : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) the total energy annually available from the Uhl River Hydro-Electric Scheme and the energy which has so far been supplied to (a) the agriculturists, (b) the industrialists ?
- (ii) will he also kindly lay on the table a statement giving the names of the districts and also of the villages in various districts to which energy for agricultural purposes has so far been supplied and also the names of persons who are making use of this arrangement ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (i) If the peak load capacity of the existing plant is taken as 86,000 kilowatts, allowing one set as spare, it is estimated that the plant will be capable of generating 154,000,000 units per annum of which 133,000,000 units are estimated to be available for sale at all sub-stations of the grid at 11,000 volts.

The Electricity Branch's industrial tariff provides for supply for industrial and agricultural purposes. No separate information regarding consumption for agricultural and industrial purposes is therefore kept.

(ii) A statement showing the names of the districts and the names of the towns nearest to the consumer's land upon which power is utilised for agricultural purposes is enclosed. It is considered neither desirable nor necessary to ascertain or to give the names of individual consumers.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : Is it a fact that there is surplus energy if the turbines at the first stage of the Hydro-Electric Scheme are worked at full capacity ?

Minister : It is very difficult to multiply at once figures running into crores and reply off-hand.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : Is Government prepared to consider the advisability of giving this surplus energy to the zamindars at concession rates ?

Minister : That matter is already under consideration.

Lala Bhagat Ram Choda : For the zamindars or for those who are engaged in cultivation ?

Minister : Whoever pays for the energy.

Seth Ram Narain Virmani : Is the Honourable Minister aware that statements are being made that the cotton factories are not availing of the energy ?

Minister : That does not arise out of the original question.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : Is it a fact that the last Punjab Legislative Council passed a resolution recommending to Government to give hydro-electric energy at concession rates to the zamindars ?

Minister : Yes, the matter is under consideration, as I have already said.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : What action has the Government taken to give effect to this recommendation so far ?

Minister : Action has still to be taken ; that is what is meant by under consideration.

UHL RIVER HYDRO-ELECTRIC SCHEME.

239. Dr. Shaikh Muhammad Alam : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that it was the intention of Government and that they expressed it on the floor of this House that the Uhl River Electric energy would be made available at a cheap rate to the agriculturists ;

(b) how far this policy has been kept in view in fixing the rates at which electric power is sold to the agriculturists ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : The attention of the honourable member is invited to the reply given to question No. *6039¹, at the 1936 autumn session of the Punjab Legislative Council.

The rates for the supply of energy for agricultural purposes are the same as those for industrial purposes.

CHARGES PER UNIT OF ELECTRICITY IN THE UNITED PROVINCES.

240. Dr. Shaikh Muhammad Alam : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state whether he is aware that the charges per unit of electricity levied by the United Provinces Hydro-Electric Department are much lower than those which are prevalent in the Punjab; if so, whether the Government propose to revise their rates in the light of the United Provinces rates?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana: A comparison of the rates charged by the Punjab Public Works Department, Electricity Branch and the United Provinces Government (vide statement attached) shows that the Electricity Branch's rates are more favourable than the United Provinces rates.

Statement showing comparison of Punjab Public Works Department, Electricity Branch and United Provinces Rates.

I.—General (Domestic) Supply.

The U. P. Government charges the following rates (vide Rules regarding the retail supply of energy by the Irrigation Branch (Hydro-Electric) U. P. Government), corrected up to 1st October, 1936—

- (1) For lights and fans at Re. 0-6-0 per unit subject to a discount of 0-0-6 pies per unit for prompt payment.
- (2) A meter rental of Re. 0-8-0 per meter per mensem.
- (3) A minimum monthly charge for the different connected loads as shown below :—

| | Rs. | |
|--|-----|-------------|
| For 0-25 kw. or less | 1 | per mensem. |
| Ditto 0-25 kw. but not more than 0-5 kw. | 2 | Ditto. |
| Over 0-5 kw. but not more than 1 kw. | 3 | Ditto. |
| Over 1 kw. | 5 | Ditto. |

- (4) Battery charging by rotary or static rectifiers, small motors upto and including 1 B. H. P. electric refrigerators, etc., are charged at the rate of Re. 0-6-0 per unit.
- (1) Compared with the above the Punjab Public Works Department, Electricity Branch' rate for domestic supply ranges between 4-50 annas and 1-83 annas per unit depending upon the connected load and the monthly consumption.
- (2) The Punjab Public Works Department, Electricity Branch, does not levy any monthly minimum charge.
- (3) The monthly meter rental is Re. 0-4-0 per mensem per meter against Re. 0-8-0 charged by the United Provinces.
- (4) The battery charging sets and motors upto 1 B.H.P. are charged at industrial rates. Refrigerators, electric irons, etc., if used for industrial purposes (i.e., for business) are charged at industrial rates.

The comparison above will show that the Punjab Public Works Department rates for general supply are more favourable than the United Provinces rates.

II.—Industrial Supply.

In accordance with appendix V of the Rules regarding the retail supply of energy by the Irrigation Branch (Hydro-Electric) United Provinces the following are the rates of charge :—

- (1) A demand charge of Rs. 6 per mensem per B. H. P. installed plus 0-0-9 pies per unit consumed subject to a discount of three pies per unit for prompt payment.
- (2) A minimum charge of Rs. 6 per mensem per B. H. P. installed irrespective of the fact whether any current is consumed or not.

Punjab Public Works Department E. R. Rates.—For a consumer having say 50 B. H. P. or 37-5 kw. load Demand charge Rs. 7 per mensem, per kw. (or Rs. 5-4-0 per B. H. P.) plus energy charge of 5½ pies per unit the whole subject to a maximum total charge of 15 pies per unit.

- (2) There is no minimum payment clause, which means that in United Provinces a consumer having a connected load of say 50 B. H. P. will have to pay Rs. 300 to Government even if no energy is consumed by him in any month, whereas he will have to pay nothing in the case of the Electricity Branch.

Leaving aside the other things the very absence of the minimum charge clause in the case of Electricity Branch rates makes the Electricity Branch rates more attractive than the United Provinces rates.

APPOINTMENT OF MARSHAL.

Mr. Speaker : This morning between 7 and 8 o'clock I received a long letter from the Honourable the Leader of the Opposition. To deal with it, if necessary, I shall have to consult certain volumes of proceedings and certain books on Constitution. Therefore, I require some time.

I understand that there is some resentment against the appointment of a police officer as marshal. I hasten to state that as soon as a suitable retired military officer is available the present officer will be replaced.

There is also some misunderstanding about the duties of the marshal. As I said the other day, I have not defined his duties yet, I suggest, however, that for the present the duties of the marshal of the Central Assembly will be the duties of the marshal of this House; but that with the approval of the House I will appoint a small committee to fix and define his duties and that the report of that committee will be placed before the House for consideration and approval of honourable members.

Premier (The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan) : I am glad that my honourable friends opposite have come back to us (hear, hear) and I am sure the whole House will be glad that they have decided to come back. You were pleased to make a statement that there had been a misunderstanding and that so far as the appointment of the present marshal is concerned, it is only a temporary arrangement. It has also been declared that arrangements will be made to replace him as soon as possible by a retired Indian military officer. I venture, with your permission, to make a suggestion, with regard to the functions of the marshal. I submit that it will go a long way, to meet the wishes of this House, if you will constitute an informal committee of this House to advise you. The proposals which are eventually formulated on the basis of that advice can then be brought before the House for ratification. My second submission is that since honourable members on the Opposition benches seem to have taken some exception, may be as a matter of principle against the appointment of the present marshal, I venture to suggest that if it does not mean any very great inconvenience to you, pending the appointment of a permanent marshal you may be pleased to dispense with the services of the temporary marshal (hear, hear). I should also, with your permission and through you, like to make an appeal to my honourable friends opposite that in view of my statement of day before yesterday—I was unfortunately not present when the incident originally happened—that in matters in which there is a likelihood of misunderstanding the normal practice in Parliament may be adopted, that is that that misunderstanding is first sought to be removed outside the House with the Speaker in his Chamber. If that procedure had been adopted in this case, I am sure that all this misunderstanding would not have arisen. I hope he will respond to my request in the spirit in which it has been made—I suggest that in future if an important matter or question crops up and I agree with him that the appointment of a marshal is of importance to this House—he should privately give notice to the Speaker and also to me, if he considers that I am also concerned, so that we can meet and discuss it quietly and see whether we can find a solution without raising it formally in the House. A great deal of sensation has been created by the Press outside, and to my mind unnecessarily. There was a genuine misunderstanding and I hope that when you are pleased to make a statement you will make the position clear so that the misunderstanding is removed and there is no bitterness left among the members in any part of the House. I trust that the honourable members opposite will take the remarks that I have made in the spirit in which they have been offered (hear, hear).

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : With your permission—

Mr. Speaker : Sorry. No further discussion on the statement made by the Honourable Premier can be allowed unless the House wishes to hear him.

Premier : I think that an exception might be made in this case, pending your final ruling and I am sure the whole House will agree that the Honourable the Leader of the Opposition should be given an opportunity on this particular matter to make a statement so that he may give us the benefit of his views.

Mr. Speaker : I have already said that I have no objection if the whole House agrees. I am in the hands of the House.

(The whole House agreed).

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I must thank you for the permission given by you to make a few observations not by way of discussion but to give a reply to what the Honourable Premier has been pleased to remark just now. The step we took yesterday was only to show our resentment from the constitutional point of view. We thought the appointment of the marshal was an encroachment on the rights of the House and that is why we were forced to take that step. There is nothing personal in the matter (hear, hear). It was only to protect the rights of the House. Because you are the custodian of the rights of this House (hear, hear), we were forced to draw your attention to this grave encroachment on the rights of this House. It was only for this purpose that we were forced to ventilate our grievance and to walk out of this House. As for the other point, I may be permitted to say that I had sent a note to you inviting your attention to this fact. I am glad that the Leader of the House has made the appeal to you to permit me on behalf of the Opposition to meet you as well as the Leader of the House for any such thing if it re-happens (hear, hear).

Mr. Speaker : The honourable Premier has suggested that if it be not inconvenient to me, I may dispense with the services of the marshal. If the honourable members so wish, I have no hesitation to do as suggested ; but I may assure the House that I do require the services of a personal assistant. He may be a marshal or any one else. I have to send messages and send for papers and books. The officer acting as marshal at present will be relieved at the earliest possible opportunity.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : As far as the question of the appointment of the marshal is concerned, it would be much better if you will be prepared to re-consider the matter with us before you put it to the House.

Mr. Speaker : What is then the opinion of the House ?

Premier : My suggestion is that you might be pleased to appoint a small committee including the Leader of the Opposition and myself to go into the question of the duties and functions of the marshal.

Diwan Chaman Lall : I understand that the Leader of the House has suggested that this particular marshal should, as from to-morrow—or at the earliest opportunity, I do not know what the Leader of the House actually said on this point—be dispensed with. It is for you, Mr. Speaker, to decide whether, in view of the fact that you and the House have agreed to the suggestion of the Leader of the House to the setting up of a committee for discussing the matter with you, in the meanwhile the services of this particular gentleman may be dispensed with and an early attempt made to give you the assistance that is required.

Mr. Speaker : Is that the sense of the House ?

Premier : We leave it to you, Sir. "Earliest opportunity" does not mean immediately. It means that you might consider the suggestion and replace him when you like. In making the suggestion I made it clear that you should suit your convenience.

Mr. Speaker : As to the appointment of a committee, I will nominate one before long. As to the dispensing with the services of the gentleman now acting as marshal, I will do the needful as soon as possible, after I have made some other arrangement. (Cheers).

DEMANDS FOR GRANTS.

GENERAL ADMINISTRATION.

Minister for Finance : (The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal) I move—

That a sum not exceeding Rs. 91,31,400 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1938, in respect of General Administration.

Mr. Speaker : Motion moved—

That a sum not exceeding Rs. 91,31,400 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1938, in respect of General Administration.

Parliamentary Secretaries.

Sardar Hari Singh (Kangra and Northern Hoshiarpur, Sikh, Rural) : I beg to move—

That the item of Rs. 50,000 on account of Parliamentary Secretaries be omitted.

I oppose the whole of this provision on many grounds. I oppose it on legal and constitutional grounds. I do so on political, financial and economic grounds. I would request the members sitting opposite, through you, to hear me patiently and meet argument with argument.

I take up the legal and constitutional aspect first. Under whatever garb the parliamentary secretaries are to be created, under whatever name the identity of these posts may be concealed, it shall have to be admitted that these posts are in fact ministerial posts. They are perhaps created on the analogy of junior ministers or parliamentary secretaries or under-secretaries in the mother of Parliaments in England. As regards the position of the junior ministers or parliamentary under-secretaries in England I would only refer you to May's Parliamentary Practice, page 40. The perusal of only a single sentence will show that these posts of parliamentary under-secretaries or junior ministers in England are on a statutory basis. The fourth line on top of page 40 reads thus—

"The statutory provisions as to the number of secretaries of state and under-secretaries of state who may sit and vote in the House of Commons are not however affected."

It shows that there is a statutory provision for the appointment and for the number of parliamentary secretaries and under-secretaries in England.

Premier : Since when ?

Sardar Hari Singh : I do not know.

Premier : You ought to have made sure.

Sardar Hari Singh : It will have to be admitted that these are political posts and they cannot be based on ordinary administrative basis because, as we have been told in the new expenditure book, members of this House will have to be appointed to these posts. The fate of the incumbents of these posts will be invariably and indissolubly bound up with the political fortunes of the Cabinet members. If a no-confidence motion is passed against the ministry to-morrow, the result will be that the parliamentary secretaries too go out with them.

Premier : Yes, certainly.

Sardar Hari Singh : What I mean to emphasise is that these posts of parliamentary secretaries are really the posts of junior ministers or ministerial posts outside the Cabinet on the analogy of such posts in England.

Premier : Not necessarily.

Sardar Hari Singh : It is for you to argue.

Premier : It is not a question of argument. It is a question of fact.

Sardar Hari Singh : While on this issue, we look in vain to the Government of India Act. We do not find therein any provision for parliamentary secretaries. Section 50 reads—

50.—(1) There shall be a council of ministers to aid and advise the Governor in the exercise of his functions except in so far as he is by or under this Act required to exercise his functions or any of them in his discretion.

Section 51 reads as follows :—

51.—(1) The Governor's ministers shall be chosen and summoned by him, shall be sworn as members of the council, and shall hold office during his pleasure.

(2) A minister who for any period of six consecutive months is not a member of the Provincial Legislature shall at the expiration of that period cease to be a minister.

(3) The salaries of the ministers shall be such as the Provincial Legislature may from time to time by Act determine, and, until the Provincial Legislature so determine, shall be determined by the Governor.

We look in vain for the provision of ministerial posts in the Instrument of Instructions. In the Instrument of Instructions the relevant part is—

VII. In making appointments to his Council of Ministers Our Governor shall use his best endeavours to select his Ministers in the following manner, that is to say, to appoint in consultation with the person who in his judgment is most likely to command a stable majority in the Legislature those persons (including so far as practicable members of important minority communities) who will best be in a position collectively to command the confidence of the Legislature. In so acting, he shall bear constantly in mind the need for fostering a sense of joint responsibility among the Ministers.

[S. Hari Singh.]

We search in vain for parliamentary secretaries in either the Government of India Act or in the Instrument of Instructions issued under the Act.

While commenting on this matter, K. T. Shah a student of Constitution and a writer on the same subject, says in his book "Provincial Autonomy" under the heading "Strength of the Cabinet" as follows:—

There is nothing stated in the Act about the number of Ministers a Province should have; nor is it clear whether all the Ministers will receive an equal salary. Sub-section (3) points to the possibility of some difference in individual salaries. The British model, if followed will support that idea. The number of Ministers will, in all probability follow the present tradition,—combining the Executive Councillors and the Ministers under the dyarchical régime into a consolidated ministry of the autonomous régime. There is not an insignificant risk of the number being increased,—especially as in the Act as it stands, there is no provision for the appointment of subordinate or assistant Ministers, corresponding to Parliamentary Secretaries or Under-Secretaries of State in Britain.

A profound writer on constitutional matters says that in the Government of India Act, as it stands, there is no provision for the appointment of parliamentary secretaries or under-secretaries as in England. All this evidence leads to the conclusion that there is no statutory provision for the appointment of parliamentary secretaries anywhere in the Act or Instrument of Instructions under which this provincial autonomy has been established and a 'National Government' has been set up in this province.

Then again, there is no local enactment which may warrant the Government to appoint parliamentary secretaries. Only last April we passed the Removal of Disqualifications Act but that Act does not empower the Cabinet to appoint parliamentary secretaries. That only removes the disqualification that might be entailed by parliamentary secretaries when appointed.

Now I come to the second point under the same heading "legal and constitutional argument." Even granting that the Cabinet is within its rights to appoint parliamentary secretaries, I would say that they should first make the provision analogous to the provision contained in the House of Commons Act known as 'The Re-election of Ministers Act, 1919.' Before that Act was passed in the House of Commons, the position there was as stated in May's Parliamentary Practice, page 39—

"By the 25th section of the Succession to the Crown Act, 1707, if any member shall accept any office of profit from the Crown, during such time as he shall continue a member his election shall be and is hereby declared to be void, and a new writ shall issue for a new election, as if such person, so accepting was naturally dead; provided, nevertheless, that such person shall be capable of being again elected."

Let me not conceal from the House that the parliamentary under-secretaries in England were not amenable to this provision because according to Professor Keith's "Government of British Empire," page 287—

"Under-secretaries formerly had the advantage that their offices were not regarded as held from the Crown and therefore it did not necessitate any re-election even before the year 1926."

While quoting this from Keith's book I want to emphasise the point that the under-secretaries were not required to seek re-election only because they were not supposed to hold offices of profit from the Crown but now our parliamentary secretaries according to the Removal of Disqualifications Act are supposed or will be supposed to hold an office of profit under the Crown.

Therefore, they come under the mischief of this rule. While it removes the bar in the way of a parliamentary secretary to seek election to this Legislature, it does not entitle a member of this House, when appointed a parliamentary secretary to continue as a member. There must be a provision allowing a member, when appointed as a parliamentary secretary, to continue as a member on the lines of the House of Commons Re-election of Ministers Act, 1919. Let me read the relevant portion of Public General Acts, page 4—

Be it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :—

1.—(4) Notwithstanding anything in any Act, a member of the Commons House of Parliament shall not vacate his seat by reason only of his acceptance of an office of profit if that office is an office the holder of which is capable of being elected to, or sitting or voting in, that House, and if such acceptance has taken place within nine months after the issue of a proclamation summoning a new Parliament.

So even under this Act a parliamentary secretary or a minister will be allowed to continue as a member of the House of Commons on appointment as a minister or a junior minister if he takes office within nine months of the summoning of the Parliament. There are two things that emerge from this discussion. In the first place the parliamentary secretaries, for whom provision is being made in the budget, ought to be placed on a statutory basis on the analogy of parliamentary under-secretaries in the House of Commons. They are political posts because their fate is bound up with the political destiny of their chiefs in the Cabinet. These posts are ministerial posts outside the Cabinet. We cannot create them by means of administrative or executive fiat.

I oppose this provision on another ground. The House has been confronted with a demand for fifty thousand rupees for parliamentary secretaries without being taken into confidence as to the number of parliamentary secretaries, their functions, their salaries, etc. We are presented with an amorphous demand. We cannot consider this question, we cannot come to a right judgment, we cannot give the correct verdict on this position unless we are told what is the actual number of parliamentary secretaries, what is to be the salary per mensem and what are their functions. We cannot judge unless you bring this point before us. We have to see whether we can give so many secretaries and what are the functions that you are giving them and whether their functions are such as to entitle them to a pay. On page 30 of the New Expenditure we are told for the first time about these secretaries. It says—

“ It is the intention of Government to create a certain number of posts of Assembly Secretaries to Ministers. These posts will be filled from among the Members of the Legislative Assembly, and the appointment of Chief Government Whip will also in all probability be included among them.”

Government has not yet reached any decision as to the number of these appointments or the pay of these appointments. “ The posts will not be filled until the Legislative Assembly has voted the necessary provision.” In the meantime they have made a lump sum provision of Rs. 50,000 for eight months of the year 1937-38. We are not such simple-minded people as to give a verdict on the issue unless the Government place all the cards on the table of the House.

My next point is this. I do not think that at the present moment in this province we require parliamentary secretaries or under-secretaries.

[S. Hari Singh.]

Why was the English Cabinet compelled to appoint secretaries and under secretaries? I give reasons why parliamentary secretaries were appointed there. In the first place, there are two Chambers of the Parliament in England. If the chief of a department was for example Secretary of State for India or Labour Minister or the Minister for War, supposing he is a Member of the House of Commons, then he has to answer questions in regard to his department in the House of Lords. In order that he may be able to explain his policy in the House of Lords a Minister belonging to the House of Commons feels the need of having a lieutenant in the House of Lords. Here in the Punjab there is only one Chamber. The Premier has to answer questions, reply to criticism only in one House and for that reason he does not require a lieutenant. (Hear, hear).

In England they require parliamentary secretaries because the parliamentary secretaries there, on account of the elaborate and complex nature of affairs in England, have also to carry on certain part of the administrative work.

Premier : Not all.

Sardar Hari Singh : Some. So here, Sir, in the Punjab they want to institute parliamentary secretaries but, we are not told what their functions will be and for that reason we cannot criticise the proposal fully. At least, I say, you do not require parliamentary secretaries for administrative work, nor can you delegate, the administrative work to the parliamentary secretaries under the Government of India Act. There is no provision for it in the Act. So I take it that the parliamentary secretaries here will be for parliamentary work, for answering questions, for preparing answers to questions and for preparing replies to debates and so on. But our Ministers do not require parliamentary secretaries for this purpose, at least, not paid parliamentary secretaries. (An honourable member : Why not?) Because they have got personal assistants and stenographers, and more than that they have got permanent secretaries in the shape of heads of departments. These secretaries prepare the necessary material with which the Ministers prepare the replies. Sometimes these secretaries prepare speeches also for the Ministers (Laughter) in reply to the criticisms from this side of the House. If the Ministers want parliamentary secretaries for carrying on work in this House, we too want such secretaries on this side of the House. But our secretaries have got to do as much arduous work as the parliamentary secretaries, but work honorarily. Why should not the parliamentary secretaries of the Ministers also work honorarily "in the interest of our motherland"?

In this connection, permit me, Sir, to read an extract to show what the duties of parliamentary secretaries are in England—

"The ministry is composed, as has already been pointed out, of an inner part that formulates the policy of the government, and an outer part that follows the lines laid down; the inner part, or cabinet, containing the more prominent party leaders, who are also holders of the principal offices of state, while the outer part consists of heads of the less important departments, the parliamentary under-secretaries, the whips and the officers of the royal household. All of these persons are strictly in the ministry and resign with the cabinet, but the officers of the household have, as such, no political functions, and do not concern us here. The heads of departments without seats in the cabinet have become, with the increase in size of that body, very few. By far the greater part of the ministers outside of the cabinet are the parliamentary under-secretaries, who have two distinct sets of duties, one administrative and the other parliamentary". (Government of England by A. Lawrence Lowell, Vol. I, page 77).

But administrative duties you cannot give to your parliamentary under-secretaries on account of there being no provision in the Government of India Act in this respect. Therefore, whatever other work they may be entrusted with, they may do it honorarily. That is my next argument.

I oppose this demand on financial and economic grounds also. A sum of Rs. 50,000 for eight months comes to Rs. 75,000 a year. I take it that there would be one parliamentary secretary for each of the ministers. Of course, I speak subject to correction. Six ministers will have six secretaries. It means, by a simple process of arithmetic, that each secretary will get Rs. 12,500 which is more than double the pay of Congress Prime Ministers going to be installed in the United Provinces. (An honourable member: Is that so?) Yes. (Cheers). I mean to say, 'in case they accept offices'. I am of the opinion that the right wing leaders of the Congress should accept offices, leaving the socialists and militant section to carry on the Congress programme. (Laughter).

Next, I oppose this demand on what may be called political ground. We are morally bound to oppose it, because we do not accept this slave constitution. (Hear, hear). We cannot therefore assist the Cabinet in carrying on the Government and making the constitution a success, a constitution which has been imposed on the nation against its will. (An honourable member: That is letting the cat out of the bag). This constitution has set one community against another and has created communal disturbances.

If you will allow me, I should like to enter a strong caveat, if I may borrow that term from the Honourable Premier, against the use of the word 'parliamentary'. The word 'parliamentary' is a very dignified term. That term can be applied to the secretaries proposed to be appointed by this Government only if this House is a real parliament. But it is not. It is only the registry office of the Unionist Party. The Government has been trying to stifle the voice of the Opposition and has been refusing to allow debates on matters of public importance. (An honourable member: Question). In the House of Commons if the Opposition Leader wants a debate on a certain matter of public importance, the Leader of the House always gives time for the purpose.

Premier: I should like to offer a word of explanation. I made it quite clear on the first day of this session that I would always endeavour to accommodate the Honourable Leader of the Opposition whenever he approaches me to give him time for discussion of any outstanding or important matter. I am sorry that the honourable member has made a wholly incorrect statement.

Mr. Speaker: If an honourable member, when speaking, mis-states a fact or mis-quotes figures, it is open to some other honourable member of the House to correct him then and there, provided the honourable member in possession of the House gives way. Otherwise he may be corrected at a later stage.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I now wind up my speech. (An honourable member : Do please). I shall close my speech with a humorous touch. (Laughter). Lastly I oppose this provision in the budget on sentimental grounds. In spite of our radical political differences with the Premier and his colleagues, in spite of my whole ideology being diametrically opposed to that of the Premier and his Cabinet, there are certain qualities of head and heart in the Premier and in some of his colleagues for which I have nothing but admiration. While I must make ruthless criticism of his policy and programme, I cannot but adore him for his qualities of head and heart, for his sweet smile that charms away bitterness of opposition. I oppose this provision in the budget because I do not want to see our worthy Premier in a predicament in which he may have to face defections in his party, consequent on the appointment of secretaries. (Laughter).

Mr. Speaker : Demand under consideration, motion moved—

That the item of Rs. 50,000 on account of Parliamentary Secretaries be omitted.

Cut motions 1 to 5 are alike and cover the same ground. Therefore, I propose that they may be discussed together, but that they will be voted upon separately, if the gentlemen, in whose names they stand, so desire.

Sardar Kartar Singh (Lyalpur, Sikh, Rural) (Punjabi) : Sir, I submit that the item of Rs. 50,000 on account of parliamentary secretaries be omitted.

Khan Sahib Chaudhri Riasat Ali : On a point of order. I think the honourable member is a graduate and he should speak in English. (Voices from the Opposition Benches : No, No.)

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : On a point of order, Sir. Before taking up this cut motion, I would request that the legal objection raised by my learned friend should be discussed and the Advocate-General may be requested to clear this point.

Minister for Finance (The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal) : There is no legal objection.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : This is a constitutional objection.

Mr. Speaker : It is not fair that an honourable member should rise and after saying : " Sir, on a point of order", start speaking and arguing or begin to make a statement or a request for action. The honourable member made a request that a certain procedure may be followed, but that is not a point of order. If an honourable member wishes to raise a point of order or make a personal explanation, he is welcome to do so. But to stand up to make a personal explanation or raise a point of order and to start a speech or make a statement or advance arguments, is, I think, unparliamentary and will not be allowed, so long as I am in this Chair.

Sardar Kartar Singh : I have stood up to support the cut motion moved by my honourable friend, Sardar Hari Singh, viz., that the item of Rs. 50,000 on account of parliamentary secretaries be omitted. I request the honourable members to reject the Government demand. I, therefore, support the cut motion.

The legality and illegality of the cut motion has been discussed threadbare on the floor of this House. It has also been remarked that even if the parliamentary secretaries are paid salaries, they would continue to be members of this House. But I would submit that in this item the pay of the whip is not included, and in the previous Act too, the salary of the whip was not included. Under these circumstances the Government demand should be rejected. Again I oppose this demand on the ground that the number of parliamentary secretaries has not been definitely stated. The Government has not thought fit to tell us as to what would be the exact number of these secretaries.

Khan Bahadur Nawab Muzaffar Khan : He is repeating the same arguments that have already been advanced.

Mr. Speaker : Repetition is not allowed.

Sardar Kartar Singh : My next submission is, that the details of their salaries have not been given. The sum of Rs. 50,000 is merely the total of the salaries for seven months. It is not clear from the budget whether next year Rs. 50,000 or Rs. 70,000 would be required under this head. At present the financial condition of the province is so bad that it is unable to bear any new expenditures. I, therefore, submit that instead of increasing the expenditure it should be cut down. If the work of administration can be carried on without these parliamentary secretaries, I would urge that they should not be appointed. If for three months the work of administration has been carried on without their services, I think the same can be done for the rest of the year. The heavy burden of salaries and the creation of new posts is simply intolerable as far as the poor people of this country are concerned. The financial condition of the Punjab is not sound. The economic condition of the zamindars as well as of the people in general is worse than before. The poor zamindars are incapable of paying even the land revenue and 'hala'. How would they be able to bear this new burden? These people were under the impression that the inauguration of the new constitution would redound to their benefit, but the facts are just otherwise. They are likely to lose instead of gaining something. The appointment of parliamentary secretaries would harm rather than benefit them. I beg leave to bring this fact to the notice of the whole House that we have been completely kept in the dark. We have neither been informed about the number of secretaries, nor about their individual pay, nor about the nature of their work. For the above mentioned reasons, I would urge the House not to vote this demand. We would take this item into consideration only at the time when the fullest details regarding it are made available to us. Then and then only can we pass or reject this item of expenditure.

I submit that fat salaries have been sanctioned for the ministers, and sufficiently high salaries are being proposed for parliamentary secretaries. The people in Government services too are fairly well-paid. After paying all these people, what would remain for the people at large? In this connection I would like to relate a story. Once upon a time a certain rich man decided to buy one seer of milk daily. He employed a servant for this purpose. The servant daily brought milk for him. But he happened to be a clever fellow. One day it struck him that if he gave his master 3 *pau*s of milk and one pau of water, the latter will not be able to make out the difference between unadulterated and adulterated milk. In pursuance of this scheme he began to give his master 3 *pau*s of milk mixed with one pau of water. When the master came to know of this he employed another servant to keep watch over him.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : On a point of information, Sir. Was that man addicted to opium?

Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din : No reflection on your ministers.

Sardar Kartar Singh : The second servant was addicted to opium. (Laughter). When servant No. 1 saw that another servant had been appointed to keep watch over him, he decided to make him his partner and began to give him four chattanks of milk. The result was that his master now received half a seer of milk mixed with an equal quantity of water. The master came to know of this too. He employed a third servant to keep watch over the other two. But the first two servants contrived to make him their partner, and began to give their master milk in still smaller quantities. The master found this out and employed a fourth servant to keep watch over them. Now it became very difficult for them to steal any more milk. But the fourth servant was an artful creature. He asked the other servants to give one-fourth of the milk to him and he promised to manage the master himself. The master after waiting a long time for his milk fell asleep. The servants drank the whole of the milk and pasted the master's moustaches with cream. (Laughter). Next morning the master began to show his displeasure and inquired why they had failed to supply him with milk. The four servants shouted with one voice, "Sir, you took the milk alright. Just see the cream is still sticking to your moustaches." (Laughter) I have related this story in order to bring home to everybody the truth that the ministers and parliamentary secretaries have divided the loaves and fishes of office amongst themselves and the real masters have only a bit of cream left on their moustaches. This can be construed in another way, viz., that the ministers are getting high salaries, the parliamentary secretaries will also get sufficiently high salaries and the Unionist Party gets only the cream on its moustaches, i.e., they get Rs. 20 each as daily allowance.

I submit that the Government should not play the part of those servants. I admit that there is a majority of jats in the present Government, but they should not play the part of the jat, who finding a plateful of pulse, vegetables and loaves of bread would not stop eating. "You are a set of well-read, able and talented people. It behoves you to run the Government ably."

With these words I support the motion that has been moved by my honourable friend Sardar Hari Singh.

Lala Duni Chand : I have no desire to make any speech on this motion. I waive my right in favour of those honourable members who may desire to speak on this motion.

Khan Sahib Chaudhri Riasat Ali (Hafizabad, Muhammadan, Rural) : Sir, first of all I must admit that in spite of hearing so many arguments of a versatile nature relating to the economic, constitutional and other aspects advanced by the mover of the cut, I for one at least have not been able to see whether any case worth the name has been made out to delete or wash out this item of expenditure from the budget. The first reason which I would submit is that the House as a matter of fact has already committed itself to the principle of appointment of parliamentary secretaries and though strictly speaking constitutionally it might not be possible, I would think it is not proper that at this stage we should take exception to this demand or to this provision of expenditure. This matter should have been urged more properly at the time when we took into consideration the Removal of Disqualification Bill during the last session. Again, I am very much wonder-struck to hear that my honourable friend has not been able to find any legal sanction behind the appointment of these officers. Now if a man says tomorrow, I have turned over the pages of the Land Revenue Act and I have not been able to find any provision as to how dacoits and murderers should be punished, we are not to blame. My honourable friend says that he does not find any provision for the appointment of parliamentary secretaries in the Government of India Act, nor in the Instrument of Instructions nor in anything else and he does not know the place where to find it. Now for his information I would refer him to the proceedings of the Joint Parliamentary Committee where this point has been discussed and answer has been given to the question raised by Sir Muhammad Zafrullah Khan. My honourable friend has not hunted for the information at the right place and if he has not been able to find it in the statutes or books he has referred to, it is not my fault or the fault of other members of the House. The report says:—

“ We have not prescribed either the number of Ministers or the number of officers or indeed whether there should be under-secretaries or whether there should not be under-secretaries. We feel that those are essential questions that have to be decided by the provinces themselves and in accordance with their own conditions.”

It is therefore very clear that so far as the appointment of the parliamentary secretaries or the under-secretaries, is concerned it is open to the province itself to make them. (An honourable member : Not by an administrative act). Discretion is given to the province itself and this is in harmony with the spirit of the provincial autonomy that has been given as a matter of right to the provinces. Then, the next thing which he said was that the Ministers have got Personal Assistants and their stenographers. I am glad he did not mention about their chaprasis and their jamadars. He said that these persons can prepare speeches for them or their case and help them otherwise in the discharge of their duties, so far as their work in the Chamber is concerned. Now my answer to this is a simple misra—

ہر کسے را بہر کارے ساختند

If the minister has a personal assistant he has got special duties attached and he cannot go beyond the sphere of his duties; he cannot poke his nose into other things. If there are chaprasis they can perform certain duties only and if there are typists they have many things to do and they cannot be expected to be conversant with law and parliamentary practice so as to enable them to answer questions or perform duties which are to be performed by a secretary or an under-secretary. I need not refer to the other class of servants which the Ministers have, namely the chaprasis and jamadars who have no education and their help will not be of any avail to the Minister or his staff. There are many duties which in the past were being performed by an official block who studied the files and prepared answers to questions raised on the floor of this House. But now you have only the Ministers — and only six of them — with so many portfolios attached to them— who have to do all the work which their predecessors no less in number than 22 were doing. So it is in the interests of the administration itself — to secure efficiency of administration — that there should be other people, literate people, to do this work, to help the Ministers in the discharge of their duties in this chamber.

Another thing which the honourable member, Sardar Hari Singh mentioned as his last, but not the least important, among his arguments, was that this was to help the Premier to keep his party united. I need not say anything to assure him that this party is more united than any other party in any province of India (hear, hear). The securing of these jobs and the distribution of loaves and fishes between various members of this party will never create disruption in the ranks of the party, I may assure him of it. The propaganda in the Press day in and day out has not been able to create the least division in the rank and file of the party. We are united on a matter of principle and not on these loaves and fishes, and our programme as has been stated by the Honourable Premier at various times must have been sufficient to assure the honourable member that our foundations are not so kuchha as he thinks them to be. We are bound down by the ties of duty and affection and not by those of gold and riches. Then another thing which Sardar Kartar Singh said was that all of us on this side of the House want to have a share in the booty or loot as he calls it. So far as the pay of the Ministers is concerned, it was argued even at the time of the consideration of the Ministers Salaries Bill that taking into consideration the pay of their predecessors in office, they have made the greatest possible sacrifice. Their pay has been reduced by more than 33 per cent. I would like to impress on the House that to say, after seeing that reduction in their pay, that they are taking away the revenues of the province in the shape of pay which is very high, is not correct.

Mr. Speaker : That matter is not now before the House.

Khan Sahib Chaudhri Riasat Ali : I was only answering the arguments of the honourable member.

Mr. Speaker : If one of the honourable members makes per chance an irrelevant remark, it does not follow that other members, who speak after him, are entitled to answer that irrelevant remark by irrelevant arguments.

Khan Sahib Chaudhri Riasat Ali : I thought it was up to the Chair to check those irrelevant arguments.

Mr. Speaker : Had the honourable member drawn attention of the Chair when the irrelevant remark was made, I would have certainly interfered.

Khan Sahib Chaudhri Riasat Ali : With due respect I thought that the Chair will do it suo motu.

Mr. Speaker : I do it in almost every case ; but sometimes I may miss. So, why not draw my attention in time ?

Khan Sahib Chaudhri Riasat Ali: I think I have sufficiently replied to the arguments of my honourable friend.

Another objection has been raised that we have not been told on the floor of the House as to what will be the number of the secretaries and what will be their pay. In the same way the honourable member took objection to this grant on the ground that their pay also has not been given in the budget estimates. Now, so far as that objection is concerned, I think it was not right for him to criticise this motion in this way because total estimate under a particular head is given in the budget, and if minor details are left out it is not a matter of such great importance that the House should not record its vote in favour of the sanction or otherwise of that grant. With these words I oppose the motion.

Mr. C. Rai (Amritsar and Sialkot, General, Rural): Sir, I oppose this provision of fifty thousand rupees for parliamentary secretaries. My honourable friend, Chaudhri Riasat Ali, has argued that this opposition is belated. He thinks that the proper time for raising objection to the provision being made was at the time when during the last session in Lahore the Removal of Disqualifications Act was passed. I am sure honourable members will agree that this argument is, to put it very politely, fallacious. That Act merely made a provision for enabling a member of the House to be appointed as parliamentary secretary (Sardar Hari Singh: Enabling a paid parliamentary secretary). As I read the Act, I am sorry to differ from Sardar Hari Singh that the Act merely enables the Government to appoint a member of the House as paid parliamentary secretary; otherwise a member of the House, if he becomes a paid servant, cannot remain a member of this House. Therefore, this is the proper time to raise an objection to the provision that is sought to be passed. It would certainly have been of great advantage to us to know exactly from one of the Honourable Ministers as to why they feel the necessity of a secretary for each Minister. Do they find it difficult in the present circumstances to carry on their job without being assisted and supplemented by a paid parliamentary secretary? I hope that one of the Honourable Ministers will explain to the House; and it is a fair request I am making on behalf of my friends and myself. We are entitled to know the difficulties that the Ministers are feeling at present in the discharge, efficient discharge, of their duties that they find it incumbent on them to move at the earliest possible moment I should say, for provision for the appointment of parliamentary secretaries. There is a lot of force in the objection raised by the Opposition that we are not aware as to the number of parliamentary secretaries. My submission is that unless we know how many secretaries are going to be appointed and on what pay, it is not possible for us to exercise our judgment properly on the subject.

At this stage the Assembly adjourned for lunch.

The Assembly re-assembled at 2 P.M. Mr. Speaker in the chair.

Mr. C. Rai: So far no case has been made out for the appointment of parliamentary secretaries, but apart from this I have a legal objection to make with regard to this provision. The Punjab Legislative Assembly Removal of Disqualifications Act, 1937, lays down in section 2—

“ A person shall not be disqualified for being chosen as or for being a member of the Punjab Legislative Assembly by reason only of the fact that he holds any of the following offices :

* * * * *

Office of the Parliamentary Secretary, if and when it is created.”

Now these words “ if and when created ” are very significant. So far no office of parliamentary secretaries has been created. This is really putting the cart before the horse (hear, hear) to sanction Rs. 50,000 for parliamentary secretaries before the appointment has been created. Now the legal objection is this. In my view, as I interpret the Act, it is by means of an Act alone that the Government can create the post of parliamentary secretaries. The Government has not been given a blank cheque by the Government of India Act to write anything they please on it and they cannot go on creating posts by a mere administrative order. Therefore before this grant is approved by the House, my submission is that in conformity with the law it is absolutely essential that the Government should bring a Bill creating these posts of parliamentary secretaries and get it passed into an Act by the House. Unless and until that is done, I submit that the creation of these jobs would be absolutely ultra vires and in order to make it intra vires it is absolutely essential, as I submitted that the provisions of this Act should be complied with. So far all that has been said in support of the creation of these posts is that the Ministers cannot possibly attend to answering the questions or various other matters that arise in the Assembly without the assistance of parliamentary secretaries. On that point I would only make one remark and that is that I have great faith in the political wisdom and sagacity of the Honourable Premier and I have no doubt that unless he were convinced and unless he made out a strong case for the creation of these posts he, I believe, will not play with public funds and therefore I would request the Honourable Premier to enlighten the House as to the necessity for the creation of these jobs. But of course my legal objection stands. If there is any force in it and I believe there is, then that objection stands that until the posts are created by means of an Act of the Legislature, we cannot possibly have this grant sanctioned by the House. With these words I resume my seat.

Mian Abdul Rab (Jullundur South, Muhammadan, Rural) : Sir, I rise to oppose this motion and without indulging in any introductory remarks I would go straight to the question. Honourable members of this Assembly ought to realize that in connection with the Assembly work the Ministers have to deal with so many cases and they have to prepare answers to so many questions. I would like to point out that it is very difficult to frame questions. How much more difficult would it be to answer those questions ? You have to collect all sorts of information with regard to these questions and particularly when my honourable friends on the opposite benches shoot volleys of supplementary questions (hear, hear). Another thing is that these answers have got to be prepared, and information collected and placed before the House by a particular date and this work requires careful handling and supervision. It is a difficult matter for one Minister to cope with, single-handed. The next point that I wish to bring to the notice of the honourable members of this Assembly is this, that if the honourable members of this Assembly desire that the Government point of view should be placed before this House with reference to certain matters, I think honourable members should not grudge the appointment of parliamentary secretaries to the Ministers. It has been pointed out on behalf of the Opposition that the secretaries that are going to be appointed should work honorarily and should not get any pay. I ask, on what principles, on what grounds do my honourable friends on the Opposition benches oppose the salaries of the secretaries? I would like to point out one remark made by a great socialist, Mr. Jhabwalla. He stated in a conspiracy case, I believe it was Cawnpore Conspiracy Case, that a man who toils must return to bed with full morsel in his mouth, his wife having full clothing and his children not crying for milk. I must point out that a person who works should be supplied with the necessities and comforts of life and we should not grudge him his pay.

Seth Ram Narain Virmani : What about honorary magistrates ?

Mian Abdul Rab : It has been pointed out by the Opposition and by my honourable friend the mover, Sardar Hari Singh, that the duties of the secretaries have not been defined and they have not been placed before the House for the information of the members. I would like to point out that there is a general definition which has been given, of the duties of these secretaries, and that is, that they are to assist the ministers. This definition should suffice. They are generally to assist the Ministers in their work in the Assembly. With these words Sir, I oppose the motion. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. S. P. Singha (East Central Punjab, Indian Christian) : A very simple speech, Sir. I have not been able to understand whether when Sardar Hari Singh mentioned in the last part of his speech, that he was now coming to the humorous part of his speech, whether his speech about his adoring and worshipping the Ministers was also a part of the humour or not.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : He said he worshipped the Premier and not all the Ministers.

Mr. S. P. Singha : My point is made all the more strong. I may tell the Opposition, that the Honourable Premier has not even taken this side of the House into confidence as to what are going to be the duties of the secretaries, who are going to be the secretaries (hear, hear) and what they are going to be paid.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : What a Premier !

Mr. S. P. Singha : Yes, what a Premier ! We have perfect confidence in him. These Ministers are our Ministers and we have pucca confidence in them. One argument suffices for us, that is, that if they think they need secretaries, they should have them. I would ask Sardar Hari Singh also, if he was sincere in his tribute to the Premier to follow on the basis of this Persian couplet—

به عئے سجاده رنگین کن گرت پیر مغان گزید
که سالک بیگبر بنود ز راه و رسم منزلها

Mr. Speaker : Mr. C. Rai's objection is that the exact number of parliamentary secretaries is not given. Should it not have been given ?

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : There is nothing unconstitutional about it, Sir.

Mr. Speaker : Then the demand should have been made "on account."

Premier : Yes. It may be "on account" because if we exceed the amount provided in the budget, we will have to come before this House for a supplementary demand. It is quite clear.

Mr. Speaker : Perhaps I have not made myself clear. What I mean is that when a demand is placed before the House for being granted, the Finance Department ought to state the number of servants on account of whose salary or pay that demand is put forward, and it should also state whether the vacancies have been created or not, so that the House may understand what they are really discussing. Just now the demand appears to have neither head nor tail. (Cheers).

Premier : I think I have not been able to make myself clear. The demand has been made, to put it in layman's language "on account." The demand has been made for fifty thousand rupees to provide for the salaries of parliamentary secretaries and private secretaries who may be appointed hereafter. We did not put in the number or their salaries because we did not know if this House would vote the amount. If the demand is accepted then the Government will be in a position to appoint the parliamentary secretaries and private secretaries. If we exceed the amount voted by the House we will come up again with a supplementary demand. By then, I may assure you, the secretaries will have been appointed. I did not wish to anticipate the decision of the House and it is for this reason that you do not find the figures of salaries or the number of parliamentary secretaries mentioned in the memorandum. It is because I wanted to have a definite decision of this House on the matter that the appointment of parliamentary private secretaries and parliamentary secretaries has not been made so far. It often happens that we have to provide for certain services without going into detail ; but full particulars would eventually be placed before the House. In case we exceed the amount which is granted by the House, and in any case the figures in the shape of revised budget must come before the House sooner or later.

Diwan Chaman Lall : I regret to say that the Honourable Premier has probably not made the position quite clear as he should have done in view of the remarks made by you, Mr. Speaker. The position is not as has been detailed by the Honourable Premier. The Premier says that he has put this demand of Rs. 50,000 forward in order that, if it is passed, the Government may take the necessary steps to appoint secretaries. He should realise that every demand that is before the House is subject to the condition that it may or it may not be passed. It is not a question of selecting this particular demand of Rs. 50,000 to be placed before the House in order to get the decision of the House. If the Honourable Member wanted the decision of the House, the only proper and correct method for him to adopt was to bring in a Bill before the House suggesting that secretaries should be appointed and, Mr. Speaker, I say that advisedly. Reference was made to the Bill passed during the last session regarding the removal of disqualifications. You will see, that that merely relates to the fact that if secretaries are appointed then they shall not be debarred from standing for election to the Punjab Legislative Assembly. In the statement of Objects and Reasons of this Bill it is stated that the first object of this Bill is to secure that for the future also the electorate shall not be debarred from choosing as members of the legislature persons who though they hold certain offices which might be called offices of profit under the Crown are at the same time not whole-time Government servants. The object was to remove the disqualification attaching to a prospective member of this House if that particular gentleman is appointed a secretary and given an office of profit under the Crown. But the fact still remains that this constitutional departure of appointing secretaries is not warranted by the Government of India Act, nor is it warranted by anything that we have in our constitutional procedure. If the Honourable Member, therefore, desires to appoint secretaries and wants money for the purpose of paying their salaries, the first thing for him to do is to bring in a Bill seeking the sanction of this House to appoint those secretaries and then fix their salaries. After he has done that, he can come forward for a supplementary demand. There is no procedure, that I know of, whereby a prospective demand can be put forward in the budget when the provision for the expenditure of that demand is not provided by the law or by any Act of this legislature. I have never known such procedure to have been adopted. If in this particular manner it is to be allowed, then there is nothing to prevent my honourable friend from saying "I want an item of Rs. 10,83,00,000 in the budget for expenditure for purposes which I shall designate later on." What is there to prevent him from doing that? It is absolutely necessary in order to protect the revenues of this province and in order to protect the constitutional and political procedure of this House and it is absolutely essential in the interest of this province, constitutionally, politically and financially that the correct procedure should be adopted by my honourable friend.

Premier : May I make myself clear? You will find that there are several items in the budget for which lump sum provision has been made. Take the Election Commissioners. We have not said how many we are going to appoint or what their pay will be, or for how long they will be there. Take the Public Service Commission. We have put down a lump sum grant. But we have not said what their number will be or what their pay will be. Therefore on the analogy of that we have put down this amount in the budget.

Malik Barkat Ali (Eastern Towns Muhammadan, Urban): Sir, there can be no room for doubt that the appointment of parliamentary secretaries is definitely contemplated in the Joint Parliamentary Report. The Government of India Act, 1935, certainly, does not provide for these appointments but it does not forbid them either. The reason why the question was not tackled in the Government of India Act was this, that the requirements of the provinces would differ, for, while one province might require four, five or six secretaries, another may not require any at all or may require more. Therefore to the extent that the Ministerial Party want parliamentary secretaries, the proposal cannot be opposed. But they cannot ask this House at this stage to vote Rs. 50,000 for parliamentary secretaries and for this reason. In England there are no doubt parliamentary secretaries and under secretaries, but these parliamentary secretaries and under secretaries are appointed under the authority of a statute. I will read out to you from " The Cabinet Government " by Jennings on page 58 where it is stated that " the Premier cannot, without legislation, add to the number of Secretaries and Under Secretaries of State in the House of Commons." My reason, therefore, is that if a Bill had been introduced in this House and had been passed in this House fixing the number of parliamentary secretaries, it would be certainly open to the Treasury benches to ask for the supplies. But as there is no Bill before the House there is nothing to prevent the Treasury benches from to-day appointing six secretaries and to-morrow at their sweet will dividing the same amount among twelve members of this House. This is a feature which we cannot contemplate with equanimity. Let the number be fixed by statute, so that if ever the Ministerial benches want to add to that number they will have to come to this House. Therefore my submission is that I am not opposing on principle the appointment of secretaries. They have got to be appointed. They exist in the House of Commons. There are the under secretaries for His Majesty's principal Secretaries of State. Their number is fixed. There are statutory restrictions on these parliamentary under secretaries, one of the restrictions being that not more than six can sit in the House of Commons.

Then as regards the parliamentary secretaries no doubt the origin of the practice so far as the principal Secretaries of State were concerned was this that if the head of department sat in the House of Lords his Secretary or Under Secretary sat in the House of Commons, but the reverse is not true. In England Ministers as well as parliamentary secretaries do sit in the House of Commons.

My objection to this demand is that in the absence of any legislation it is not open to this House to vote this demand and I would request the Ministerial benches to study the law. If this demand can be voted only after there has been a statute, then I would ask them to consider the legal aspect and not force this House to vote a demand which legally they cannot obtain.

Minister for Finance (The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal) : I had not proposed to speak at this stage, but as references have been made to practice in the House of Commons and to the necessity of having a definite piece of legislation before the House, I beg for permission to interpose in the debate at this stage. I cannot understand the opposition that has been made by my friend Malik Barkat Ali to this demand on the part of Government. He says parliamentary secretaries are wanted ; he says there is nothing in the Government of India Act that stands in the way of our having parliamentary secretaries, he admits that in the deliberations of the Joint Select Committee the Secretary of State in the most emphatic words said that parliamentary secretaries would probably be needed, only that they should not rigidly lay down the conditions for any particular province because they did not know how many secretaries may be wanted there. That being the position, I should like to know what law compels the present Government, what law compels us that we shall not have parliamentary secretaries unless and until we have a Bill for the purpose and pass it into an Act ? I am not aware of any and surely none has been indicated here.

References have been made to the practice in the House of Commons or in England. I am not sure how any practice or statute there can bind us, but I am in a position to say, despite the quotation which was given from Mr. Jennings's recent book "The Cabinet Government," that it is not a fact that every secretary there is the creature of any statute. The words quoted from Mr. Jennings book were these : ' That the Premier cannot add to the number of Secretaries.' The actual number existing there is the result of a long course of Parliamentary conventions or practice developed in the course of time.

If that be so in England, I am perfectly clear in my mind that simply because you cannot there add to the number of secretaries now, there is nothing in the way of the Punjab that bars us from having parliamentary secretaries. Sir, we are all practical men, we are not living in refrigerators. This House deliberately adopted and directly blessed the policy of parliamentary secretaries last session. We passed a Bill that if we have parliamentary secretaries, those gentlemen can remain members of the House. Were we merely recording idle thoughts and our words flew wide upon the winds? We know parliamentary secretaries are necessary. They are essential. Now if they are necessary, if the Government benches feel so, and if the House also feels that the Ministers should have the support and the assistance of these parliamentary secretaries, I am not aware of any valid impediment, I am not aware of any obstacle that stands in the way of your considering the provision which the Government is making in this present budget.

May I go one step further? Suppose an Act be necessary to create parliamentary secretaries. Would that stand in the way of Finance Minister or the Punjab Government making the present provision? If we cannot actually appoint, I am not saying that we cannot, I am of the opinion that we can—but suppose by the advice of those whom we are accustomed to consult on matters of law we are informed that we cannot appoint secretaries without an Act, still why can we not make a provision in case the Government is later on able to secure that legislation produced from this House?

Diwan Chaman Lall : Suppose the House does not give you the legislation?

Minister for Finance : I said we are practical men, we are not living in refrigerators.

Diwan Chaman Lall : But this is a question of law.

Minister for Finance : That might be a question of law, and if any legal bar should be found to exist the present provision is in no manner incompetent.

Let me, therefore, if I may, examine some of the arguments that have been actually advanced on the other side against this step which the Government propose to take. The learned mover of this cut ended his speech by two reflections. His final reflection was a sentimental one. I know he indulges in a great deal of ideology, visionary speculations, and I personally welcome it. I do not quite know what ideology means but if it means dreamy, visionary speculations I am glad personally to find a kindred spirit in my friend Sardar Hari Singh, and I look forward to sharing his company in browsing on these ideal phantasms of the mind when we both have some leisure. The present small demand is no occasion for these imaginative flights. But he was heavily concerned with two things. He was all praise tremendous praise, if I may use that expression, for our Premier. He said he loved and adored the Premier. Yet he is quite prepared to tear the poor Premier to pieces for putting forward this demand which we all support, which the larger part of the House supports. The honourable member was also concerned, and mightily concerned, that we might have defection in this part of the House. It is not for me to answer that. I think it has been abundantly answered by a gentleman on this side of the House. But a little while before this the honourable mover of this cut motion announced in unmistakable language his real reason, what he was pleased to call his political reason; and that was this, that if you have six secretaries you will not be able to break the framework of this present Government, your efforts at destroying the constitution will weaken. If that be a reason it may appeal to Sardar Hari Singh and his associates in that part of the House, but he cannot expect to carry the House as a whole in support of an idea of that character. May I say on behalf of this part of the House, if the effect of having these necessary secretaries would be to strengthen the constitution and allow the Ministers to function more effectively, then we ought to go forward and bless these appointments (Hear, hear), because we have no sympathy with those destructive ideas of breaking down the constitution, 'wrecking' the constitution as the phrase goes. That much for the honourable member's political reasons. We want to work the Government of India Act, and if for the efficient working of the constitution under this Act we want these secretaries, then the demand cannot be opposed except on grounds that make no appeal to us.

Three arguments, in fact a variety of arguments were set forth sometimes described legal, sometimes described constitutional and sometimes described economic. I completely failed to understand what the legal or constitutional arguments were. It was attempted to be formulated in some such shape as this. These secretaries would be persons outside the cabinet. Really they are 'names under which their real identity would be concealed but they would be outside the cabinet.' Quite right, that is so. They will be outside the cabinet, but no identity or character is being concealed. Why must they be a part of the cabinet, having seats there? The objection passes my understanding. The only real objection that can be raised is not because they are being called one thing or another, or they are going to function in a particular way and they shall not be in the cabinet, but that they would be, as my learned friend who moved this cut motion suggested, totally unnecessary. As a corollary to the argument that these gentlemen would not be in the cabinet, it was also said that they may possibly have to go in case the present cabinet went out. I dare say they might have to go. But how is that relevant to the issue whether the Punjab Assembly to-day is to provide Rs. 50,000 for persons who are going to be of essential importance and of real assistance to the ministers or not to provide the sum?

Then, it was said that the Act is silent and the Instrument says nothing and, therefore, there must be something illegal about these appointments. Such an argument is startling. It can have no validity. The Act does not forbid our making these appointments as was pointed out by my friend, Malik Barkat Ali. Therefore it is open to us to appoint them if we so desire. We think that the appointment of these secretaries does not involve any legislation. Certain honourable members may think that it does ; but that is a different matter. Neither the Act nor the Instrument stands in the way of these appointments. We know of a very eminent person who had to do a great deal with the passing of the Government of India Act, Sir Samuel Hoare. He, in the course of an elaborate examination, in the passage that was read out by a member from this side of the House, distinctly said that it was contemplated to appoint these parliamentary secretaries. Not only that. (An honourable member : Is he a legal authority ?) May I say at this stage even at the risk of appearing to repeat, that we ourselves in passing that piece of legislation to which reference was made during the last session, with our eyes open adopted, if I may say so, a particular policy. It was then for honourable members opposite to say that no legislation seeking to remove the disqualification of secretaries was required because the whole idea of the secretaries was fallacious, no such persons were wanted. Solemnly then to pass a legislation, and now to say that the secretaries are not wanted is not fair to the House. Now the function of the House to-day sitting in supply is not so much as to say, let us reduce a few thousand rupees here or a few hundred rupees there, but to attack the Government on grounds of policy. Can it be said that the House is addressing itself properly to the question of policy ? I venture to think that that is not so. My honourable friend on the other side was quite clear about the policy. His policy is that the present Act stands in the way of India's progress, that it is a bar in the way of our achieving freedom. But that is entirely outside the scope of the present discussion. We are all aware in this country that opinions on this big issue differ, but we are not concerned with this large theme to-day. The policy we are concerned with to-day has been already solemnly in due form blessed by this House, and it is foreign to our purpose to-day to dwell and enlarge on the matter of our constitution, its merits and defects.

Again, it was also said that the salary and the functions of these secretaries are not properly determined. I do not wish to say anything about the salary. The House clearly knows the pitch of salary that is likely to be fixed. But the main thing we are concerned is not that after all. The main thing is the functions of these secretaries. The honourable member who opened the discussion on his cut motion said that he had all love and admiration for the Premier. But is he aware of the extreme hard work to which the Premier in the Punjab is put in order to discharge his duties at all ? We, who are near him, have felt so every day, and we cannot permit him to carry on under breaking pressure as he has been carrying on during the last three months. (Hear, hear). May I remind the House of the position of the Premier in England ? He is usually without a portfolio. It is thought that discharging the functions of the Leader of the House, keeping a general watch on the way in which matters are presented before the House, arranging the business for the disposal of the House, deciding the broad lines of policy of the country particularly with reference to foreign matters, these are regarded as sufficient work for the Premier. But here you have it the other way. Hardly ten minutes pass on the floor of the House when the Premier is not called upon to make a speech. Hardly a day passes without his having to issue a communiqué. There is not a week that passes when he is not engaged in his very laudable effort to bring conciliation between the various communities of this province, (hear, hear and cheers), a task, we are proud that our Premier is discharging with such effect and general approbation all over the province. If we remember along with that that he has to carry a party with him, I am not ashamed of making that statement, every one so stationed has to carry a party with him, a live party, a party that can think for itself and has not merely a dead formula to endorse. (An honourable member : Do you belong to that party ?) If the honourable member will have a little patience, he will hear about it. I do not belong to that party. Whoever said I did ? But that does not prevent me any more than it prevented Sardar Hari Singh from recognising the supreme merits of our Premier. It is not an easy thing when we are launching upon a new constitution as we are doing at present, when we have a very much bigger House than we used to have to look after before, it means a heavy burden. We are thankful to the Premier for undertaking all this mighty task, but I think the province will not be fair to him, I am not speaking of the other Ministers, certainly not fair to him if he did not have adequate support of these secretaries. My learned friend over there suggested that the Premier in England has three secretaries. I am not sure if he has not more. But, if that be so, why should we refuse secretaries to our Premier ? (An honourable member : He has already got secretaries). (Another honourable member : No secretaries whatsoever.)

Premier : The secretaries which the honourable member refers, create a great deal of work for me.

Minister for Finance : One gentleman referred that he was horrified at the idea of a Government whip. He said secretaries are possible whips. Why this tribulation ? We have never spoken of any whips. The whip is merely a term used with regard to one of the secretaries in England. I believe he is the secretary in the Treasury who acts as the Government's chief whip. One little consideration I will place before you and that is this. I think we are not doing justice to ourselves by constant references to English practice. If we are going to follow the example of England, I wish we could, I think we ought to set before us the spirit of her constitution rather than fight about mere words, as we are inclined to do here to-day. (An honourable member : That applies to both sides.) Let it be, both sides. I believe it is held by a vast majority of this House that these secretaries are necessary ; When we have to answer honourable members' questions, discuss their resolutions and meet their criticisms, if we do not have an adequate fund of information, we shall not be doing justice by honourable members of this House. . Criticisms must be faced with full information, and so as to help, otherwise the House will proceed infructuously in debate. I say these secretaries are absolutely essential. There can be no two opinions about it. If that be so, let us do our duty to-day, let us recognise that the Government, in adopting the policy of this system of secretaries, is doing nothing improper, but is doing what the spirit of our constitution requires. The House should adopt, without hesitation, demur or least difference, this demand that has been put forward on behalf of the Government. (Loud cheers).

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava (Lahore City, General, Urban) : Sir, I had no intention to speak on the demand under consideration, but things have been said which I think it is my duty to reply to. I do not want to waste the time of the House in replying in detail to what the Honourable Finance Minister has said, because I think what he has said to-day he ought to have said when we had a Bill for the appointment of parliamentary secretaries. He could have put these arguments then, when, I think, they might have appealed to us. The question to-day is about the appointment of secretaries. This method of appointment is an underhand method. This method of appointment — I do not attach motives to anybody — is not the right method. In this connection two things have been said. One is that the Honourable Premier was pleased to remark that there was no need of giving the number of secretaries and the definite pay allotted to each secretary.

Mr. Speaker : The Honourable Premier has quoted some instances from the budget.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I am coming to that, Sir. The Honourable Premier has said that under the head 'Commissions for the trial of petitions against election to the Provincial and the Indian Legislature' no number of its personnel is given but a lump sum is given in the budget. I will draw his attention to page 195 of the budget where it is said :

“ 2 Presidents

4 members (2 at Rs. 2,000 per mensem each, 1 at Rs. 1,550 per mensem) (voted) a member at Rs. 1,550 p. m. (non-voted).”

Then Sir, he was pleased to say that under the 'Public Services Commission' no number of its personnel is given. It is said on page 201 of the budget :

“ 1 Chairman,

5 Members,

and their pay has also been allotted there. I may also submit that this is a non-votable item, and you have got no right to question the allowance of even a peon under the Public Service Commission. That is provided under the law. Therefore, this argument that the number of members has not been given or the pay has not been allotted to a definite person is not correct.

Premier : May I point out the fallacy in that argument? You will remember that the pay of Public Service Commission was provided in the last budget when nothing about the personnel or the composition or their number had been known, and it was passed during the last budget session. It is only recently that in this memorandum we have been able to give further details and facts because we know now about its composition. Similarly in the last budget the provision was made for the Election Petitions Commission but we could not give any details then. Now since these courts have been established, we are in a position to give details and they have been put now in the explanatory memorandum.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I am glad the Honourable Premier has removed this misunderstanding. But I say that under section 268 of the Government of India Act, it is provided that every item which is spent on the Public Services Commission shall be non-votable and the Public Services Commission shall have to be appointed by the Governor (cheers from the Opposition) and not by the Government.

[Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava.]

Then, about the other thing also, it is given that when after election petitions are filed then they have to appoint the Election Petitions Commission. Nothing like this is provided in the Government of India Act as far as the question of parliamentary secretaries goes. The other argument advanced is that there is nothing against it in the Government of India Act. I am not a lawyer, but claim to possess the commonsense which every man should possess if he claims to be a lawyer. I think that if there is anything for which there is no provision in the Government of India Act, it does not imply that the Government can do it without proper measure. You cannot do anything against the Act. That is all what is provided for in the Act. It does not give us power to act in any way without bringing in or getting the opinion of the House on a regular Bill. My submission is that this argument, that there is no provision in the Act against the appointment of parliamentary secretaries, is fallacious. It does not give us power to appoint these secretaries. After we have passed the budget and provided for these persons, it will be said, where is the harm if we appoint them now, because there is a provision in the budget ? Thus they may be appointed by an executive order without bringing in a Bill before the House. We do not want to give these powers to Government. We cannot allow Government to appoint them by an executive order simply because the House has sanctioned a lump sum in a certain item of the budget. Therefore I think we are perfectly right in putting this to you and through you to the House that the proper thing would have been to bring a Bill first pointing out the number of secretaries and then to bring this item before us.

Mr. Speaker : May I know if there is any provision in the Government of India Act which requires that no new posts can be created by Government without passing an Act ? If there is any such provision then it can be certainly insisted upon that the posts of secretaries should be sanctioned by an Act of the Assembly. But if there is nothing to that effect in the Act and if Local Governments can, from time to time, according to their needs, create new appointments without any legislation, where is the objection ? Suppose the post of an Inspector of Schools is created to-morrow, will the Government first come with a Bill before the Assembly, and have the new post sanctioned or will a provision for his salary be made in the budget and the appointment made after it is sanctioned ?

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Mr. Speaker, I am not a lawyer and therefore I am afraid I shall not be able to reply to your question. But I believe that other lawyers who have spoken shall reply to it or the honourable mover of this cut after consultation with those lawyers will clear the point. But what I think about this is this, that the question of appointments which you have mentioned arise mainly for administrative purposes and whatever we have got here in the budget is only provision for those which are already there. If the Minister makes further appointments he should bring a supplementary budget for the purpose. I do not say that he should not come to the House for the appointment of those people ; certainly not. But if he wants to allot a certain amount of money to the inspectors, without fixing their pay, etc., saying he will spend it at his will when necessity arises, then I take objection.

Another point I beg to submit is this ; supposing it is legally correct that they can appoint parliamentary secretaries, we have got every right to know the number of secretaries they are going to appoint.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is repeating his arguments.

Malik Barkat Ali : With reference to the point which has been specifically raised by you, Sir, my answer is very simple. Under the Government of India Act the Governor of the province is the executive head of the Government of that province. For purposes of administration there are certain appointments, which the Governor alone can make. For purposes of other administrative appointments, for instance, the subordinate administrative appointments, the Governor delegates his authority to the heads of departments and the heads of departments similarly delegate their authority to the superintendents of offices. Therefore to the extent that administrative appointments are concerned, the Governor being the legal authority for making these appointments, no authority of this House is necessary. But parliamentary secretaries like ministers are not administrative servants of the Crown. These are political offices. The ministry goes out, and along with the ministry their parliamentary secretaries go out. The Opposition walk in and they appoint their parliamentary secretaries. Therefore, I submit that so far as administrative appointments under the Crown, e. g., of permanent officials are concerned, the legal authority vests in the Governor of the province. It is for him to consider whether he requires 4 secretaries or 5 commissioners and so on. These matters can be dealt with by him on the executive side and this House certainly has no say in the matter. But the appointment of parliamentary secretaries rests with the Premier ; this is the gift of the Premier. The Governor has absolutely nothing to do with the appointment of these parliamentary secretaries. Where is the legal authority for the appointment of these secretaries unless and until there is a statute passed by this House ? I read out to you a certain extract and I would with your permission read out the full extract as that makes the position amply clear. " The Prime Ministers cannot without legislation add to the number of secretaries and under-secretaries in the House of Commons ; but provided that parliament will vote the money he can create other offices " — not the offices of secretary and under-secretary. He can create unpaid offices. These parliamentary secretaries are his creation. But no new office except that of Secretary of State carries legal duties without legislation. I therefore respectfully submit that the case of these Parliamentary secretaries stands on a different footing from the case of other administrative appointments for which in theory the Governor or the heads of the departments or the superintendents are the legal authorities.

The Advocate General (Diwan Ram Lall) : The position seems to me to be perfectly simple and perfectly clear. The position is that the Government of India Act does not in so many words say that there shall be appointed under-secretaries in any province. But the Government of India Act, as pointed out by my honourable friend, Malik Barkat Ali, does not forbid appointments of this character being made. It was further pointed out, and correctly too, that in the discussions at the time of the Joint Select Committee Report, this was deliberately left to the provinces cause one formula could not be adopted which would be applicable equally in every province. One province may require more secretaries and other provinces may require no secretaries at all. Therefore the individual requirements of each province could not be found before-hand and therefore the matter was not legislated for in the Government of India Act. In all this talk that has taken place on both sides of the House, it has been a little difficult to find out what really is the legal objection that is being taken to these appointments. So far as I have been able to understand the discussion on the point, two matters which might be said even faintly to touch the legal fringe of the matter can be debated ; one is, you cannot vote money unless you know for whom, for what purpose, that money is being voted for and it is said that you do not know the purpose because you do not know the particulars. This is an argument which is difficult to follow. Now the question of numbers was made the subject of a certain amount of legal controversy by my honourable friend, Mr. Barkat Ali, who in quoting a certain authority said in England you cannot add to the numbers except by means of legislation and therefore from that he argued that there was necessity here in this province also, if not under the Government of India Act, under some kind of parliamentary procedure and practice that obtained in England, that there should be a number fixed by legislation before this grant could be voted. Before I deal with that matter I

3 P.M. might draw attention to a matter which was very clearly put, I may say with all respect, by the Honourable Finance Minister, which really cuts at the root of the whole controversy ; and that is this. What is the House being asked to do at present ? It is being asked to vote a certain sum of money . When that money comes to be applied, and if it is found that it is being applied for a purpose not sanctioned by the House, it is then and then alone that any legal objection can be taken. At present we are at a stage where that point has not yet arisen. Assuming that the appointments have been made and assuming further that these appointments are being questioned, the question is whether there is any legal objection to the grant proposed. The only precedent to which reference has been made, and the only legal authority to which reference has been made is the authority quoted by my friend, Malik Barkat Ali. His first argument appears to be this that because in the English Parliament the numbers are fixed and those numbers can only be increased by legislation, therefore something analogous must be done here.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I draw the honourable member's attention to the fact that under the original Statute 22 Geo. III, Chapter 83, two secretaries were fixed. The original appointment is by statute, and it can only be altered by statute.

Advocate-General : I anticipated the point raised by my learned friend (laughter). The whole basis of the argument is, what is the position in England ? The position in England is that up to a certain point, up to the enactment of the statute in 1741, that statute fixed the number, and up to that point no number was fixed. Therefore the position in which we are today is the position which existed in England before 1741. I might refer to page 40 of May's Parliamentary Practice, where this matter has been referred to. You will see that the matter has been explained there beyond any reasonable doubt on the point. At page 40 it says :

By the 22 Geo. III.c.82,

(to which reference was made by my honourable friend)

Not more than two principal secretaries of state could sit in the House of Commons and not more than one under-secretary to each department—mark the words " not more than one under-secretary to each department—would appear to have been admissible to the House of Commons under the House of Commons Disqualification Act, 1741—

Up to the year 1741 the position was not challenged that not more than one Under-Secretary for each department could sit in the House of Commons. Up to that year the number was not fixed : one belonging to each department could sit in the House of Commons till the Disqualification Act of 1741 was enacted (A voice : Not till) That is as I read it.

' And as doubts were entertained whether more than two under-secretaries could sit there, in practice there were, until 1855, only two under-secretaries who held seats in that House at the same time '—

Note the limitation of numbers—

' But on the establishment of the Secretary of State for war in 1855 an Act was passed to enable a third principal secretary '

Therefore it was first in 1855 that the number was fixed. It is essential that if the number has to be added, it can be added by statute. Again

' By the Government of India Act, 1938, provision was made for another Secretary of State and another under-secretary. '

Recently in 1917, as you will see on page 42, when the Air Force Ministry was created a new under secretary was made, and the number was increased to five. So if once the number has been fixed, as has been the case in England after 1855 certainly not earlier than 1741, and if it is to be increased, it can only be increased in England by statute. We may find that in a year or two the numbers may be fixed by statute. Then you may have to bring in a Bill and get it enacted into a law before this number so fixed by statute could be increased. My submission therefore, is, that this argument of my honourable friend opposite has no force. (A voice : You may pass an Act and appoint as many secretaries as you please). At the stage at which we are now, it is premature to raise this point. When the money is voted and comes to be applied by Government and then some members of this House find that it is being misapplied, at that stage will that question arise.

Diwan Chaman Lall : What about Rule 48 ?

Advocate-General : Assuming that even it is not premature, there is no force in the argument that the number should be fixed by statute, because in some other countries under certain conditions, there the number is fixed. We might achieve that position next year, but till then, this argument is not valid.

Dr. Saif-ud-Din Kitchlew (Amritsar City, Muhammadan, Urban) : (Honourable Finance Minister : Jallianwala Bagh.) Sir, my honourable friend over there, Honourable the Finance Minister has probably got frightened by seeing me standing over here on this side of the House. He has said 'Jallianwala Bagh' probably on seeing me standing here on this side of the House he has got frightened. Everybody on the side opposite and probably some of my friends on this side said that the matter is so simple that there is nothing ambiguous about it and there is nothing difficult about it to understand and yet I find that things have really been made worse by my honourable friends over there, by one of the Ministers and by the Advocate-General. The explanations that have been given by the other side, particularly by my friend the Advocate-General have made things still worse. I am sorry to say that while quoting May's Parliamentary Practice, page 40, he has missed the important point which is before the House and on which if I remember aright you wanted to have some light. The point is not so simple as my friends on the opposite side seem to think, and yet it is so simple that they are not able to understand. It is quite true that the Government of India Act is absolutely silent on this point. I agree with him.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Is it ?

Dr. Saif-ud-Din Kitchlew : So far as the appointment of secretaries is concerned, it is absolutely silent. If it is not, will my honourable friend get up and point out to me ? (hear, hear).

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : It is silent on the number of secretaries.

Dr. Saif-ud-Din Kitchlew : The Act is not silent on that ground. Therefore that cannot be taken seriously into consideration, unless we want to waste the time of the House.

Premier : That of course we do not want.

Dr. Saif-ud-Din Kitchlew : Hitherto we have been told that the Act is silent and we shall have to follow the parliamentary practice. We have been told this so many times on various issues. Parliamentary practice is very simple and plain and it lays down emphatically that as no secretaries are provided in the Government of India Act, therefore no secretaries can be appointed by this House without the regular sanction of the House by means of a statute. That is a plain and simple matter which I have the honour to place before you on behalf of myself, as I represent no party whatever. Page 40 of May's Parliamentary Practice was read out by my friend, the Advocate-General. In this you will be pleased to note a very important point. Before this Act there were no secretaries in the House of Commons. No parliamentary secretaries were there and there is no warrant for saying that there were parliamentary secretaries then. If you will kindly read, you will find that by this Act no more than two principal secretaries of state could sit in the House of Commons and not more than one under-secretary to each department would appear to have been admissible under the House of Commons Disqualifications Act and as doubts were entertained whether more than two under-secretaries could sit I would say that in practice there were until 1855 only two under-secretaries who held seats in the House at the same time. But in 1855 an Act was passed to enable a third parliamentary secretary and a third under-secretary to sit there. An Act was passed and statutory sanction was obtained about that and then it was possible for a third under-secretary to sit in the House. To start with, the matter is absolutely clear. There were two under-secretaries under the Act and a further addition was made to that under an Act and not without an Act. I fail absolutely to understand the position very strangely and very quaintly taken up by the learned Advocate-General with all the knowledge that is at his command and with all the statutes and parliamentary practice that are at his command. The law, as it stands, to my mind is absolutely in favour of the proposition advanced by the Opposition. I am not in the habit of flattering people. My honourable friend the Finance Minister is of course in a position to do that. He has got to flatter his chief. Loyalty is only too obvious (hear, hear), but I at least hope that the Honourable Premier who is not now in the House would be man enough to resent that kind of things. We were talking something very serious which touches the rights, the constitutional rights, of this province and there is no room on this issue to go and flatter one's chief (hear, hear). Again, I draw your attention and through you, the attention of the House to this fact. Supposing we made a mistake of the kind that my friend opposite wants us to make in this House. What would be the result? Attention has been drawn to the note to rule 48. It says:—

“ In scrutinising the appropriation accounts of the Province and the Report of the Auditor-General thereon it would be the duty of the Public Accounts Committee to satisfy itself.”

As to what?

“(a) that the moneys shown in the accounts as having been disbursed were legally available for and applicable to the services and purposes to which they have been applied or charged.

If therefore you include any item which you were not legally empowered to spend you will have to account for it yourselves. Therefore my submission is that the decision taken by this side of the House on this purely legal and constitutional issue is perfectly valid and proper and if my honourable friends on the opposite side by the majority they have got at their back and the majority of votes they possess, pass the demand then it will be entirely and legally their responsibility and not of this side of the House (hear, hear).

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani (North Muzaffargarh, Muhammadan, Rural) (Urdu): Mr. Speaker, the honourable members of the Opposition have been accusing our Government in season and out of season that it is over-ridden by bureaucracy and even with the change in the system of Government the real power rests with the permanent officials of the Government. One of the members went so far as to describe the present Government as a brown bureaucracy. But now that the Government comes forward with the demand that the ministers should be given non-official assistants from amongst the honourable members who are responsible to this House, the Opposition raises a volley of objections against their appointment. The appointment of parliamentary secretaries will surely lessen the dependence of the ministry on the bureaucracy. I am at a loss to understand the logic of my honourable friends of the Opposition in opposing a proposal, which aims at enhancing the control of this House over the bureaucracy. While I realise that the expert administrators, that is to say, the permanent officials, are an essential part of an efficient Government, I feel that an adequate control must be exercised on them to ensure fresh outlook and co-ordination, and to avoid the waste of effort and multiplication of 'red-tape'. In the words of Ramsay Muir "Bureaucracy is like fire, invaluable as a servant, ruinous when it becomes the master". Our permanent services have played a very important part in the progress and development of our country in the past, and I am sure their co-operation and loyalty will be of immense value in future. My honourable friend Sardar Kartar Singh told us a very interesting story. He was horrified at the idea of creating more jobs, and remarked that if we increase the number of servants, they will drink all the milk and leave nothing for the master. It reminds me of a well-known proverb :—

دودھ کا جلا چھاچھ بھی پھونک پھونک کر پیتا ہے

(Once bitten twice shy).

I presume my honourable friend has had a bitter experience of the management of gurdwaras. He probably apprehends that these new servants will consume the revenues of the province as his Akali friends swallowed the incomes of the gurdwaras. But let me assure him that our masters are too strong to allow this. They know how to keep their servants at their proper places. Let us see how much work our Ministers have to do. It is physically impossible for them to cope with this work for any length of time. A Minister has to dispose off a donkey-load of files every day, many of which are of a routine nature. It takes him quite a few hours even to put his signatures to these routine files. A considerable part of his time is necessarily taken up in discussions in the Cabinet and in party meetings. A great part of his time is swallowed by public engagements of great variety and in interviews and during the Assembly Session he spends the day in the Chamber and has to attend to his files at night.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is repeating his arguments.

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani : I am trying to advance a new argument by mentioning these facts, if you will allow me to do so. It was remarked that the Government would have been better advised to utilise this money for giving relief to the poor than for appointing parliamentary secretaries. I was trying to show that if our Ministers are relieved of some work, they will utilize their time in thinking out new schemes for the benefit of the people and in tackling various important problems. Parliamentary secretaries will, I suppose, deal with these routine files and with other minor administrative matters and the Ministers will be left to control the general policy of the departments and solve the problems of education, industry, crop-planning, Marketing and so on. Our Government has a gigantic task of readjusting the economic and social structure of our province. It is, therefore necessary that the ministers should have sufficient time for serious thinking in order to solve these problems. The benefit, which will result by these reforms will many times exceed in value the salaries of the secretaries. I make bold to say that this expenditure is bound to result in economy in the long run. Only the other day a complaint was made by the Opposition that the Government gives incomplete answers to Assembly questions and that full information is not made available to the honourable members. At present the information is collected by the heads of departments. The Minister is supplied by the office with neatly type-written replies. He has hardly any time to sift the information and to check its accuracy and when he is badgered with supplementary questions he has to ask for fresh notice. This naturally increases the work and often causes annoyance. If the ministers have parliamentary secretaries they can deal with the Assembly questions and come prepared with all the necessary information. In the interest of efficiency and economy, the ministers must be given these assistants. In my opinion the appointment of parliamentary secretaries is a step forward towards democracy as it will enhance popular control over the administration and will make our Ministers more independent of the bureaucracy. I would, therefore, appeal to the House to reject the cut motion under consideration and pass the Government demand for grant.

Chaudhri Muhammad Abdul Rahman Khan (North Jullundur, Muslim, Rural) (Urdu) :

نالہ بلبل شیدا تو سنا ہنس ہنس کر
اب جگر تھام کے بیٹھو میری باری آئی
حریفوں نے رپٹ جا جا کے لکھو آئی ہے تھانے میں
کہ اکبر نام لیٹا ہے خدا کا اس زمانے میں

(Laughter).

Sir, the unenviable plight in which we find ourselves may well be likened to the Punjabi adage :

رن پھرے نکتہ کزان نون—ے کہسم پھرے نگ ودان نون

(Hear, hear and laughter.)

A sum of Rs. 85,000 has already been given to Ministers and now the question of another sum of Rs. 50,000 has arisen. As some of my honourable friends have stated, there is no doubt about the fact that the amount of work the Ministers have now to do has increased, but the question is, whether any attention is being paid to those from whose pockets this money is to come from. There is absolutely no change in the budget. It is the same as it was ten or twenty years ago. The burden of land revenue upon zamindars is the same. It has not been lightened at all and yet the staff of Ministers is being increased every day. The Unionist Party tries to console us by saying "Let the administrative machinery come under our control and we will redress all your grievances". The question of redressing grievances will come later on, for the Unionist Party is engaged in demanding salaries for its proteges. The latest development in this connection is the appointment of parliamentary secretaries. An honourable friend made a suggestion to the effect that honorary secretaries may be employed, to which Mr. Abdul Rab objected on the ground that a man cannot work with an empty stomach. But you must bear in mind that the employees of a poor employer cannot be but poor. (Laughter). Naturally the rich servant of a poor master does not work satisfactorily. I do not think that there is any need for the appointment of secretaries, until the zamindar is in full possession of the administrative machinery. The Honourable Premier has said that he is a zamindar himself and his colleagues too are zamindars and, therefore, they are in a position to realise the difficulties of the zamindars. I may be permitted to say that this statement is not correct. All the Ministers of Government with the exception of Chaudhri Chhotu Ram, were born in purple. They do not know what want is. I am, however, prepared to concede that Chaudhri Chhotu Ram was born in a zamindar family whose members tilled the soil with their own hands. He alone of all the present Ministers is familiar with the hardships of zamindars.

In the last session of the Assembly I told the Premier that if he really is a zamindar he should hold a darbar in which the zamindars should be given an opportunity of ventilating their grievances. He should himself tour the countryside and see for himself the miserable plight of the zamindars. A man born with a silver spoon in his mouth cannot imagine the condition under which the zamindars are living unless he visits them personally and sees things for himself.

All our Ministers such as Nawab Sahib, Rao Sahib and Sardar Sahib sitting on the opposite benches are our dear friends. The Honourable Rao Bahadur Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram was born in a zamindar family, whose members tilled the land with their own hands, but I am sorry to say that even he has fallen into such a deep pit that he cannot hear the lamentations of his poor and needy compatriots. It is most unfortunate for the country that the zamindars can no longer count upon Chaudhri Sahib as their well-wisher.

I have personal knowledge of the miserable plight of the poor. I venture to say that if you had the least idea of their miserable condition, you would not have shown so much callousness towards them. I swear most solemnly that I am not romancing. I am stating facts. Woe to the liar. (Laughter). At the time of the last harhi I went round to collect from my tenants, 250 maunds, of wheat, which they had borrowed from me. The tenants who gave me ten maunds of produce, had only five maunds left with him. Those who expressed their inability to give me anything, had really nothing to give. To crown this they had not enough grain to keep body and soul together. Just consider for a moment the plight of zamindars whose harhi produce has been spent in paying government dues. How will they manage to live during the remaining portion of the year. (An honourable member : Taccavi loans).

I know that there is an item in the budget relating to taccavi loans, but you need not bother about it as you are going to be appointed a parliamentary secretary.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is requested not to be personal. He should address the Chair.

Chaudhri Muhammad Abdul Rahman Khan : Honourable members opposite were also indulging in personalities. There is a hadis, which lays down that he who gives you a slap or a kick, must be paid in the same coin. I was submitting that the Government should give special attention to the condition of the zamindars. If this sum of Rs. 75,000 which is proposed to be paid to parliamentary secretaries, had been distributed among the poor zamindars, it would have been a happy augury for the new government.

The masses would have regarded the government of the province as an autonomous government in the truest sense of the word. During the election campaign you held out promises to the electorate that if you are elected to the Assembly, you would undertake measures for relieving the poverty of the masses. But now that you are holding the reins of government, you have thrown those promises overboard and the only thing you remember now is how best to fill the pockets of parliamentary secretaries with gold. In my opinion, as long as steps are not taken for relieving the poor down-trodden masses of their misery, all such expenditure is useless. You know full well that unemployment is universal in this country, because we are slaves and our country is the country of slaves. There are countless B.A.'s and M.A.'s in this country and it is a thousand pities that for want of employment they are driven to commit suicide by throwing themselves in front of railway engines. But what do we find in other independent countries? The unemployed graduates address their king in the following terms :—"Get up you sluggish fool and do something for us otherwise we will overthrow you." (Hear, hear and laughter). It is the duty of a king to see that no one in his kingdom goes to bed with an empty stomach. If he fails to do his duty by his subjects, the only course open to him is that he should abdicate.

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana :

The honourable member is using unparliamentary language.

Mr. Speaker : He has used most objectionable language. He does not understand English, therefore, I cannot make him understand} me. Will someone be pleased to make him understand that if he wishes to speak he must speak in Parliamentary language?

Premier : On a point of order, Sir. May I through you tell the honourable member that he must remember that he is not speaking in a daira or in a meeting where they have what they call khush-gup. This is an august body of representatives of this province and we must insist that the language used is dignified. I strongly object to the language that he has used. The honourable member may consider he is being funny, but he must bear in mind that the honour of this province is involved. I strongly protest against the use of the language employed by him. If he persists, I hope you will take note of it and call him to order.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Mr. Speaker, there can be no doubt whatsoever that the level of debate of this House should be kept on a very high altitude and I reciprocate the feelings given expression to by my friend, the Premier. At the same time, Mr. Speaker, this is a democratic House and therefore I want my honourable friends to remember that there are people who are very highly educated and there are those who are not very highly educated in the sense in which Mr. Manohar Lal may be highly educated. They have a point of view to express and they can only express their point of view in their own particular language. Their language may not be quite proper, but if there is any expression that is unparliamentary, you have every right to take necessary action to prevent the member from using the unparliamentary language. If it is a question of making fun, I hope my friends opposite will not be so thin-skinned as to object to any expression used by my honourable friend which may elicit laughter in this very sedate and very formal and very morose House.

Chaudhri Muhammad Abdul Rahman Khan : I withdraw my words. Our honourable friends in order to keep up the solidarity of their party tell some of their friends that as they are themselves drawing three or four thousand rupees per mensem they will see to it that salaries amounting to Rs. 500 per mensem at least are paid to them. In other words the object of providing this sum of Rs. 75,000 is simply the consolidation of the Unionist Party.

The crux of the problem is that means should be devised to bring about contentment among the hunger-stricken zamindars and labourers. But what is the attitude of our government? They say they cannot do without the parliamentary secretaries. I have been a member of the old Punjab Legislative Council for the last fifteen years, but I never found that the work of the Ministers ever came to a stand still owing to the absence of parliamentary secretaries. My submission is that when our financial condition is bad, when we cannot afford to waste even a pie, I fail to understand the necessity for incurring this huge expenditure on parliamentary secretaries. With these words I support the cut motion before the House. (Cheers).

Minister for Education (The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye) : While intervening in this debate I do not propose to detain the House for more than few minutes. So far as the question of the necessity of the appointments is concerned, that was amply demonstrated the other day when the Financial Commissioner in this box wanted to convey some instruction and a point of order was raised. The honourable members opposite have conceded that so far as the Government of India Act is concerned, there is no legal bar to the appointment of parliamentary secretaries. The Government in this matter have got a free hand. The only objection that is being taken on behalf of honourable members opposite is with respect to the procedure, and it has been suggested on the floor of this House that the Government cannot appoint parliamentary secretaries except by bringing forward a Bill before this House. Even on that point the Government of India Act has not been relied upon. What the honourable members have done is that as there is nothing in the Government of India Act in regard to the appointment of parliamentary secretaries, we have to follow the procedure that is followed in Parliament in England. In support of their contention they have quoted the Statute of George. May I point out to the honourable members that the two questions are quite separate, namely the question of appointing under-secretaries in England and the question of those under-secretaries sitting in the House of Commons. These are two different questions, but unfortunately they have been mixed up in this House. As the honourable members are aware, in England there are two Houses of Parliament, the House of Commons and the House of Lords. All that the Statute of George says is that not more than two principal secretaries of state and not more than one under-secretary for each Department shall sit in the House of Commons. (An honourable member : That is mere repetition). My submission is that reference to the Statute of George is not relevant. Legislation is needed not for the appointment of under-secretaries but to enable them to sit in the House of Commons.

In view of the position explained by me a reference to the statute of George is totally irrelevant for the purposes of this debate. Here we propose to appoint as parliamentary secretaries persons who are already members of this Assembly and hence no legislation is needed.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh (Hoshiarpur East, General, Rural) (Urdu) : Sir, many honourable members who preceded me have expressed their precious opinions about the appointment of parliamentary secretaries. Before I proceed with my speech, I would like to refer to an incident that has occurred recently and it is that Mustafa Kamal Pasha, the President of the Turkish Republic, has dedicated the whole of his property, cash, buildings and other belongings, to the state and the nation. How I wish that the first peasants' government in the Punjab or more correctly, the feudal and capitalistic government of the province had acted upon the noble example set by Kamal Atatürk or had at least, tried to follow his noble example. But it is a pity that they are trying to follow the example set by British imperialism in India. Judging from the work done by the present government during the last three months, I am constrained to remark that the Unionist's government is in reality a private company of looters.

Pir Akbar Ali : On a point of order. I think you did not hear what the honourable member was saying. He calls this company—referring to the Unionist Party—as a company of robbers and dacoits. He will find in a few days that the allegations against that party are all false. It will be found shortly that the Unionist Party has set an example for others to follow.

Mr. Speaker : In rising to a point of order the honourable member should have confined himself to that point. But he has started making a speech, which he has no right to do. I may also inform the honourable member, who is now in possession of the House, that he should not use improper, objectionable, offensive or unparliamentary language.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Did the honourable member use unparliamentary language?

Mr. Speaker : I only requested the honourable member to be careful and not to use unparliamentary language.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : He did not use any unparliamentary word.

Mr. Speaker : I am glad to hear that.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : The economic condition of our province is not a closed book to anyone of us. Every honourable member is well aware of the poverty prevailing in his constituency and every honourable member is mindful of the fact that the masses are in the steel-grips of economic depression. If you visit the villages you will find that many a family goes to bed at night without having eaten anything at all. It is time you realised the fact that as many as four crores of people in India go to sleep with empty stomachs. India is a poverty-stricken country. Its people are unable to bear the burden of heavy taxation. Its labourers and kisans are unable to pay government dues. May I enquire if under these circumstances it would be fair to throw an additional burden of these high salaries on them? Previously when the Governor-in-Council was in charge of the administration, it was not felt necessary to appoint such secretaries, but now that a national government is in charge of the whole show, it is pressing for these appointments. One of the reasons advanced in favour of the appointment of parliamentary secretaries is that they would facilitate formulation of replies to the questions asked by the honourable members of this House, but, my contention is that the Honourable Ministers have been giving replies to these questions in quite a satisfactory manner and, have also been discharging other duties efficiently. If, in spite of these facts, they still persist in having these secretaries it is evident that they are out to fill the pockets of their friends. As a matter of fact, they are keen to extract money from the pockets of the poor and put it in the pockets of capitalists. This government is using for their own selfish-ends the constitution which was won by the sacrifices of those who are still suffering in jail. It is an irony of fate that these people are reaping the fruits of the sacrifices made by patriots who suffered imprisonment and even laid down their lives in the cause of India's freedom. Moreover, the Unionists held out pledges to the electorate during the elections that if they were elected to the Assembly they would try to find out a solution for the poverty of the masses. It is a queer solution that they have discovered. They are robbing the poor to fill the pockets of capitalists. With these words, I beg to support the cut motion moved by Sardar Hari Singh.

Shrimati Raghbir Kaur (Amritsar, Sikh Women) (Punjabi): Sir, I feel inclined to tell you that whereas all the respectable institutions of the world were monopolised by the capitalists, one single institution fell to the lot of poor peasants, viz., they were allowed to keep cows and buffaloes and were thus able to drink plenty of milk, but now things have come to such a pass that the poor kisans cannot afford to take milk as they have to sell it in order to make both ends meet. The good old days are gone now and they have forgotten the luxury of taking milk.

I fail to understand as to where the money is to come from for paying these fat salaries. Have you even given a thought to the poor zamindar and the hard straits they are put to in paying the land revenue due from them? I have seen with my own eyes that they are not even permitted to use the milk of their cows and buffaloes. They dispose of the milk and with the proceeds of the same they pay off the land revenue. Not only that; in order to pay off Government dues they mortgage the ornaments of their womenfolk and even their house-hold utensils: and sometimes it so happens that they are obliged to sell their daughters in order to fill the government treasury. The Punjab is notorious for its poverty and this poverty has led to the loss of self-respect on the part of its inhabitants. Is it desirable or is it honourable to subject these people to further indignities? The pieces of money jingling in your pockets are in reality the bones of these poor people. (Hear, hear.)

I am familiar with the condition of the peasant women of this province and I am especially well-acquainted with the hard lot of the women-folk belonging to my own ilaqa. I have listened to the grievances of these poor women. They go about bare-footed and have not got sufficient clothes to cover their nakedness. When the economic condition of the zamindar has reached such a low ebb, and his hard-earned money is being wasted mercilessly, it is high time that some action was taken in the matter, and the first step which can easily be taken in this connection is that no salaries should be sanctioned for the parliamentary secretaries. There is no further need for bleeding the poor people for the sake of filling the pockets of these capitalists, who already own vast estates. I will again request the House to take cognisance of the fact that the Punjabis are poverty stricken and they cannot afford to pay such fat salaries. I would request the would-be-secretaries that while charging their salaries they should keep in view those God-forsaken unemployed youngmen who are daily committing suicide by throwing themselves in front of running trains. It is time the Government adopted a new programme for eradicating poverty from this country.

Bibi Parbati Devi (Lahore City, General Women) (Punjabi): I wish to bring to your notice a new thing and it is a request on behalf of the Hindu, Muhammadan, and Sikh communities that a widow ashram may be opened in the Punjab on industrial lines.

Mr. Speaker : I request the honourable lady to speak to the motion.

Bibi Parbati Devi : Very well, Sir, I shall confine myself to saying this ; while fixing salaries for parliamentary secretaries have you ever tried to imagine the condition of poor innocent children crying for bread ? Under these present circumstances the fat salaries proposed by the Government will come out of our pockets. I am sure that this additional burden on the pockets of the poor will make the economic condition of our province worse.

Mr. Speaker : That is repetition.

Khan Bahadur Nawab Chaudhri Fazl Ali (Gujrat East, Muhammadan, Rural) (Urdu) : I will try to be as brief and precise as possible in my speech. An honourable member from the opposite benches recited a verse to the effect :

اب جگر تھام کے بیوہو مہری باری اگنی

By reciting this verse he probably meant that previously the House had been talking at random and that it was he who had put forward a serious problem for discussion. I was, however, surprised to find that he himself, as is the habit of such persons, did not say anything serious but only made the House laugh.

4 P.M.

Mr. Speaker : I would request the honourable member not to be personal.

Khan Bahadur Nawab Chaudhri Fazl Ali : Generally speaking, whenever the Assembly is discussing any matter, the zamindars are always mentioned in this connection and it is said that their money should be saved for them. I do not know whether they want to give stipends to the zamindars or they want simply to distribute money amongst them. It does not look proper to be always talking about the poverty and helplessness of the zamindars. We zamindars, are, all of us poor indeed and I admit this also that we are badly off. The following Urdu verse expresses our plight :

چکور اور شہباز سب اوج پیر ہیں—فقط ایک ہم ہیں کہ بے مال و پیر ہیں۔

An honourable friend sitting on the opposite benches said that the servants of a poor master should also be poor. My reply to him is this ; any one who wants to start a factory or business or needs a manager for his estate must employ such persons who are likely to prove efficient and are not totally destitute. On the other hand the employers too should not say that they are too poor to pay the salaries of their employees. Such employers can never flourish. Employers who pay adequate salaries to their servants always stand to gain. If the Ministers are too busy with their daily routine to give undivided attention to other more useful work it cannot be said that they are giving the best of themselves to public service. It is said that the Honourable Ministers can hardly spare time for interviews. As a matter of fact, they are expected to visit different parts of the province and thus get first hand information about the condition of the people. These tours will give the people opportunities of explaining their needs and ventilating their grievances. The Ministers should not always be occupied with office work like a clerk. They should create opportunities for coming into direct touch with the people so that they may be able to fulfil the obligations placed upon them by the exigencies of their office. Let me quote an example from my own district. A friend of mine told me that teachers are not paying full attention to imparting education. I replied that if a man has to go to school in a hurry at 10 A.M. and come back dog-tired at 4 P.M. he should not be expected to give undivided attention to education. He should stay at school and think out measures for imparting education to children in a better manner. Similarly when Ministers are enabled to have plenty of time at their disposal and can think out matters in a leisurely manner, they will be able to devise schemes for our betterment.

Just now, a friend of mine said that the zeal with which the Honourable Premier has been working is most praiseworthy. If he works at this rate, I wonder, how long he will be able to pull on and perform the onerous duties of his office efficiently. Only a moment ago we were talking in the lobby that the amount of work which our Honourable Premier is doing is too much for him and he will not be able to carry on for any length of time. If the Ministers were provided with efficient secretaries they would be able to get opportunities for going on tours and in this way they would be able to put in practice the proposals which are still under consideration. I am sure that their tours would enable them to realise our condition and they would be able to do much more work for the good of the country.

I am afraid that the only object of delivering eloquent speeches in this Assembly is to win the approbation of the public outside, so that it may be said that so and so is doing good work in the Assembly.

Sir, may I ask the well wishers of the country as to what they have done for the zamindars and as a result of their efforts what benefit has accrued to the latter? I may point out, that there is not a single school established by them, which commands the co-operation of all and where the children of all communities may receive instruction without any distinction of caste or creed. Ours is the only party in power whose members treat each other like brethren and where no religious or communal question is allowed to be raised. During the short period that our party has held the reins of government, the opposition has persistently been making adverse remarks about us and reminding us "you came here holding out promises to the electorate that you would relieve the zamindars of their burdens and hardships and extend a helping hand to them in alleviating their miseries, but what have you done so far ? ” Sir, they are perfectly right in saying so, but my submission is that the opposition does not allow us to attend to these matters, nor do they give us an opportunity to fulfil our promises. They put obstacles in our way ; perhaps they do so thinking that we intend only to help the zamindars and no one else. I am surprised at the spirit of solicitude that the opposition has developed for the zamindars during the last four or five months. Sir, we may be simple ; we may be uneducated, but we can distinguish between a friend and a foe. We are not going to be deceived by their platitudes. I would like to draw the attention of these so called well-wishers of the zamindars to the following couplet :—

که عنقا را بلند است آشیانه

There is no denying the fact that we suffer from the pangs of hunger. We are aware that the number of our troubles is legion. But I may point out to the honourable members opposite that we are not dishonourable people. We are not devoid of self-respect. We do not want to knock at other people's doors, nor do we seek help at the hands of aliens. The following verse expresses our sentiments rightly—

حقا که با عقوبت دروغ برابر است
رفتن به پائے مردے همسایه در بهشت

The opposition has accused us of selfishness. They think that we want to help our own people by paying them fat salaries. I emphatically deny this charge. We are not at all actuated by selfish motives. There are others who are selfish. How pointedly does the following couplet express their inner state of mind—

جنہوں نے خود غرض شکلیں کبھی دیکھی نہیں شائد
وہ جب آئینہ دیکھیں گے تو ہم دکھلاویں گے انکو

In fact they are looking at their own reflection and take it for ours.

It is definitely not our aim to help a few members of our party. Our real object is that the work of administration should be carried on efficiently and smoothly. The appointment of secretaries would result in lightening the burden of Ministers' work. If secretaries are appointed at an early date, the Ministers would be free to devote more time to devising ways and means for the advancement of beneficent departments and in this way better results would be achieved.

Sir, I wish to submit as a layman that if it is intended to create some new posts, the number of which we do not know at present, I do not think that any harm would be done if some provision is made in the budget for these appointments.

Mr. Speaker : All this has been said already.

Khan Bahadur Nawab Chaudhri Fazl Ali : With these words I oppose the cut motion before the House.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the question be now put;

The motion was carried.

Sardar Hari Singh : Mr. Speaker, in my speech on this cut motion I had raised certain constitutional and legal objections against the provision made in the budget for parliamentary secretaries. I had raised certain legal and constitutional issues and I had expected that our worthy colleagues on the other side of the House would give direct, categorical replies to these issues. They have not only not done so, but have made the matter worse. So with your permission, I wish to expose the fallacy of the replies and the ridiculous nature of the replies by placing those replies in juxtaposition to the issues I raised this morning. The issues that I raised were simple and clear-cut. My first issue was that the posts of parliamentary secretaries were political posts; they were not posts which could be founded on administrative grounds. If I may illustrate my point, or emphasise it, I may say that these posts are as different from administrative posts as the post of the Premier from that of the financial commissioner, or as the post of the Speaker is different from that of the Secretary, Sardar Abanasha Singh. I further reinforced my argument by saying that the fate of these posts was bound up with that of the ministry. Therefore these posts are to be created on the same basis as the posts of the members of the Cabinet. Then I further went on to say that these posts which had been created were not on the analogy of similar post in England, those of parliamentary secretaries, because the latter were on a statutory basis. That was one issue. Instead of giving an answer to these issues, instead of giving arguments to meet my arguments, some apologists on the other side went on to support the demand of the Government on very flimsy grounds. One of them said that this House has already approved the principle of the appointment of these parliamentary secretaries by passing the Removal of Disqualification Act. I need not dilate upon this point. I will ask the honourable member to read the Removal of Disqualification Act again. The tragedy of the thing was that the Premier nodded assent when a speaker on the other said that the House had already accepted the principle by passing that Act.

Another worthy speaker went on to say that the Government had got the authority to appoint these secretaries under the report of the Joint Parliamentary Committee. He had the temerity to ask this House to go over the head of the Government of India Act and the Instrument of Instructions, and he supported the appointment of secretaries on the authority of the Joint Parliamentary Committee. Let me concede this point that the report of the Joint Parliamentary Committee is the basis of the constitution. Let me also further admit that the Joint Parliamentary Committee contemplated the appointment of these secretaries; but they never contemplated that these posts should be created without consulting this House and without the permission of the House in the form of a Bill. I may tell the honourable speaker who wanted to go over the head of the Government of India Act, that we are prepared to go not only to the extent of going over the head of the Government of India Act but also to the extent of smashing it under our feet.

Some of the able speakers on that side of the House also referred to certain books on Constitution, but they could not rebut the argument that in England these posts are on statutory basis and that the number of these posts is also limited by statute. The honourable the Finance Minister — I regret he is not here now — was pleased to call me and my colleagues on this side as visionaries. May I reply, that we in India, have not reached the stage when we do not need visionaries. Visionaries are the creators of the future world. It was a visionary who created new Russia. Some gentlemen on the other side said that the Cabinet was within its rights to appoint parliamentary secretaries, because the Government of India Act did not forbid it. May I ask them if the Government is empowered to appoint another Speaker because the Government of India Act does not forbid it? Do they hold this opinion? We on this side of the House are perfectly sure in our mind that the parliamentary secretaries cannot be appointed except on a statutory basis: they cannot be appointed except by means of an enactment of this legislature. Therefore, I would appeal to the House to throw out this demand and not allow the government to do what we call illegal and unconstitutional.

Premier (The Honourable Major Sir Sikandar Hyat-Khan): Sir, it is hardly necessary for me to raise that legal hare again because it has been discussed threadbare by legal gentlemen in this House. There is one point which I might state, and that is this. You will have noticed in the Government of India Act that wherever an enactment is necessary, it has been specifically mentioned in the Act that such and such thing will be done by the Act of the Legislature. For instance, in the case of salaries of the Ministers, the salary and allowances of the honourable members of this House, the salary of the Speaker and the Deputy Speaker, the Act has specifically laid down that these matters can only be decided by an act of the legislature. In this particular case you will find that there is no such mention. I could have done another thing. There are three different methods for providing this amount: (i) by bringing in a Bill, or else, (ii), by putting it in the budget in the ordinary way so as to give the House an opportunity to discuss this particular demand when the budget comes before the House. There is a third method which I could have followed, that is, that I could have asked the House to make it a charge on the revenues of the province, which means that I would have taken it away from the purview of the House and made it a more or less permanent thing, and the House would have lost the opportunity to discuss this particular item in the budget. I am prepared to accept the advice of the House: If they want me to make it a charge on the revenues of the province—

Mr. Speaker: They could discuss it even then.

Premier: It would not be votable. (Sardar Hari Singh: It would be votable). The salary of the Speaker has not been charged to the revenues of the province. These are the three different methods for providing the money for the pay of parliamentary secretaries. Now, if the House wants me to make it a charge on the revenues of the province, if that is the view of the Opposition I shall be only too glad to meet their point of view (Divan Chaman Lall: Who said so?) These are the three different methods and I could have chosen any one of those three methods with regard to the salary of the parliamentary secretaries; and the one which I have chosen is the most democratic, because it will give the House an opportunity to discuss this matter whenever the demand comes before the House (Interruptions). I am afraid I have not been able to convince my honourable friend. Once a grant is charged to the revenues of the province, then the House has got no right to alter it because it becomes non-votable. The honourable member has not probably studied that section of the Act. I have tried to point out that these were the three methods and I selected the method which was, from my point of view, most democratic, and it is for the House to decide whether it will give me that money or not. If they decide not to give me fifty thousand, or if they want to reduce the amount I will see if within the amount granted to me I can appoint the number of secretaries I want. If they give me ten thousand I will have to reduce the number of secretaries. If they give fifty thousand I can appoint a few more secretaries. Later on if I find that this sum is not sufficient I will have to come before the House and ask for more money in the shape of a supplementary demand, or if need be, in the next financial year for an additional grant. I have not made up my mind at the moment as to how many parliamentary secretaries I am going to appoint. That question is still fluid. If honourable members opposite have any suggestions to make I shall be only too glad to consider them. So far not one constructive suggestion has been made. Most of the time has been lost in the controversy over that legal hare which was raised by my honourable friend opposite.

As regards the necessity for secretaries, my honourable and learned friend opposite said that I had three secretaries. If by that he meant permanent officials who are working in the Secretariat, he must remember that in the Parliament, the secretariat is much bigger. I have got different departments, I have got not only three secretaries. Unfortunately I have got several secretaries who send up their work to me. The more the number of secretaries the greater the work. There is the Chief Secretary who is the hardest worked in the Secretariat. Then there is the Home Secretary who deals with important matters. All his work comes up to me, and then there are other secretaries. In addition to that there is the work which comes up to me from my colleagues, or in which my colleagues would like to consult me with regard to various matters which could not be decided without my consultation. I can assure the House, whether they believe me or not, that there is not a single night when I have not to work till 2 o'clock in the night, simply because I have been tied up in this House the whole day, and cannot go out even for a few minutes because I may be called back at any moment to reply to a point of order. Therefore the whole day is spent and I have to work in the night. I am perfectly prepared to give my fullest to my country and to my province, so long as God gives me strength (hear, hear, and applause). That is not the point. I have to go through a sheaf of questions of which my honourable friends give notice. You will have noticed that most of these relate to my departments.

If I had a parliamentary secretary many of these questions will be handed over to him and if there were any important question with regard to which he had any doubt, he might then come to me for consultation, otherwise he could deal with them himself and thus relieve me of a part of my work. The most important thing, as you know is that we have just started on this constitution and we have not yet got out of the old groove. What I am anxious about is that in answering questions there should be no evasion, and I am particular that so far as I can do so, all the information which I can possibly give to honourable members who put questions should be made available to them.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Do not the departments help you ?

Premier : They do, but under the old regime the system was "(a), and (b) no, (c) does not arise" and this is what I want to avoid. If the meaning of the honourable member is not clear in the question I strain to guess what it must be and then I answer the question as far as it is possible. I could also merely say as they sometimes do "(a) no and (b) does not arise." But I have to see that the honourable members are furnished the fullest information that we can give (hear, hear). If I had my parliamentary secretary he could very well help me in my work. As you know 'the General Administration' is a very big department and Police and Law and Order and Administration of Justice are very heavy and big portfolios too. If I had a parliamentary secretary or two they would be each dealing with different sets of questions and if there were any doubtful or important question that only would have been brought to me.

A question was raised with regard to the functions of these secretaries. There again I find that we have not come to any definite decision. I have got an open mind and I would have been quite pleased if some constructive suggestions had been made from the opposite side. As a matter of fact, I was hoping that I would receive some assistance from my friends opposite in regard to that particular matter. I have consulted though so far only casually, my colleagues as to the work these parliamentary secretaries should take up. I have not reached any decision, but I think they can very well take up this very urgent work with regard to questions, and also probably other parliamentary work in this House, as in England. They may be entrusted to do a certain portion of administrative work that is necessary to be passed on to them. That, however, will require very careful thought. It is quite possible that some of my friends may not wish to burden them with that work and in that case they will be merely concerned with the work connected with the Legislature. As you are aware, the position in England is this that certain parliamentary under-secretaries have been allotted definite items of administration and they have a right to deal with these particular items or subjects without even referring to the Ministers in charge, but these powers are delegated to them by the Ministers themselves and there is no hard and fast rule, but there are other under-secretaries who do nothing to help the Minister in charge except in the House. I suppose it was a mere slip on the part of the honourable mover when he stated that under-secretaries in the Parliament sat in different houses. That is not necessarily so. As you will notice, sometimes both of them, the Secretary as well as the under-secretary sit in the same House, as happened in the case of Sir Samuel Hoare and Mr. Butler. That I think was a fallacious argument probably advanced out of ignorance on the part of my honourable friend the mover. The analogy between this House and the Parliament is relevant to some extent, but not to the whole extent for the simple reason that though the size of England may be about the same as that of our province, still there the income is hundred times more than our total income. But at the same time honourable members opposite must be aware that there are no less than 24 ministers in England besides under-secretaries.

Sardar Hari Singh : Why go so far? In Bengal there are more than they are in our province.

Premier: I hope the honourable member does not want me to follow the example of Bengal. Punjab can always afford to lead, and not be led by other provinces (hear, hear). I am also very grateful to the honourable mover for the compliment that he has paid to me and I heartily reciprocate those feelings, but I think he need not entertain any fears that I am going to have any defections in my camp when I start to appoint my under-secretaries. He can go to bed without any worry about defections. I know that in several cases it is a question of wish being the father to the thought, but I can assure him that so far as my party is concerned, I am not talking of the Unionists alone, but also of the ministerial party as a whole there is not an iota of chance of there being any defections (hear, hear). We have seen the papers and we have heard it said every day that there will shortly be land-slides, big land-slides, from the party to make new opposition, but these are merely dreams and wild dreams which I am sure will never materialize. Before I conclude there is just one point. I have two very important things to state and these are that a lot of capital has been made out of the fact that we have given promises to the electorate in our programme and creed that we shall try to help the small man, the small zamindar, the small labourer and people who have not got enough to eat and yet we are piling expenditure upon expenditure. Let me point out to the House the position that existed before we came into office. You remember that in the old Council besides the Ministers and Members of Government we had no less than 12 Secretaries sitting on these benches, most of them drawing salaries near about two to three thousand rupees a month. It is therefore a question of simple arithmetic to see the enormous change now if you take an average of Rs. 2,500 and multiply it by 12, you will find what the total amount will be. (Voices from Opposition benches: They are all still there). No. What I mean to say is that the work that the Government was carrying on inside this House was done with the help of those people who are getting anything between Rs. 2,500 and Rs. 3,000 per mensem. We have asked for a total of Rs. 50,000 only. I do not know how many secretaries I will be able to appoint.

Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din : Secretaries are still there to work.

Premier : Yes they are doing administrative work, which is necessary work, but they used to be here to help the Ministers during the old regime. Now, naturally, you cannot expect the Ministers to go on without any help. As I have just pointed out, there should be some understudy. If, unfortunately, one of us falls ill, there must be somebody else to take up the work at a moment's notice. The argumnt of my honourable member opposite has been repeated too often. I do not think that this House or anybody outside will be deceived by it. I, therefore, hope that the House will unanimously accept this demand and it will not be necessary to have a division on this motion. (Cheers).

Sardar Hari Singh: Did the Honourable Premier suggest that if we fix the amount of salaries of the parliamentary secretaries and their number as well by means of an Act, the salary would become non-votable thereby?

Premier: No. I think the honourable member did not follow me. I said that there were three different methods. One was the straightforward method of putting in the budget and moving it before the House. The other method was of bringing a Bill before the House. You would not have been able to touch it later without amending the Act itself. It would be necessary to bring an Act before you could alter a salary. The third method is to charge the salary to the revenues of the province. If it is done, it becomes non-votable. You will be able to discuss but you will not be able to touch it.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Will it not be better for the Honourable Premier to decide how many secretaries he is going to have and what their functions are going to be before he asks this House to vote this provision? Then the House will be in a much better position to form its judgment. I sincerely feel that until this is decided the vote will not be an enlightened vote.

Premier : I am afraid the honourable member was not here when I discussed that particular point. I can give one assurance to this House. After I have made the first appointments, if we want to add to the number, I will not do so without coming to this House for confirmation.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : First make up your mind.

Lala Duni Chand: Before you put this motion to the vote, you should give your ruling on the very important legal point that you yourself raised very prominently.

Mr. Speaker : I am not the Advocate General. The question is—

That the item of Rs. 50,000 on account of Parliamentary Secretaries be omitted.

The Assembly divided : Ayes 82. Noes 98.

PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

1ST SESSION OF THE 1ST PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Friday, 2nd July, 1937.

The Assembly met at the Assembly Chamber at 11 A.M. of the clock. Mr. Speaker in the Chair.

STARRED QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

ELECTRICITY CHARGES IN THE PUNJAB AND UNITED PROVINCES.

241. Dr. Shaikh Muhammad Alam : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to make enquiries and lay on the table a comparative statement showing the rates charged per unit of electricity by the Punjab Hydro-Electric Scheme and the United Provinces Hydro-Electric Schemes for electricity consumed for purposes of (i) agriculture, (ii) industry and (iii) house-hold consumption ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : Comparative rates for industrial and household consumption are given in the reply to question *240. Comparative rates for agricultural supply are as follows :—

SUPPLY FOR AGRICULTURAL PURPOSES.

United Provinces rates—

- (1) For the first 1,200 units per H. P. per year at 12 pies per unit.
- (2) All units in excess of the first 1,200 units per H. P. per year at 5 pies per unit (net) provided the bill is paid within the period of grace.
- (3) The above charge is subject to a minimum charge of 600 units per B. H. P. per annum.

Electricity Branch rates—

- (1) For motors less than 4 kw. the maxima rate is 18 pies per unit.
- (2) For motors from 4 to 70 kw. the maxima rate is 15 pies per unit.
- (3) No minimum charges.

UHL RIVER HYDRO-ELECTRIC SCHEME.

242. Dr. Shaikh Muhammad Alam : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the Uhl River Hydro-Electric Scheme has resulted according to Government's forecast so far as it affects agriculture ;
- (b) if answer to (a) above is in the negative, what steps Government intends to take in the matter ?

ELECTRIC ENERGY FROM HYDRO-ELECTRIC SCHEME.

243. Dr. Shaikh Muhammad Alam : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing the names of the industrial concerns with the places of their localities to which electric energy has so far been supplied from the Uhl River Hydro-Electric Scheme with the rates at which this energy has been supplied ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : A statement showing the number of industrial consumers in each town served by the Uhl River Hydro-Electric Scheme, up to the 31st of March, 1937, is attached hereto, also a set of the Industrial Tariffs² of the Electricity Branch. It is considered neither desirable nor necessary to ascertain or to give the names of individual consumers.

Statement showing the number of industrial consumers as on 31st March, 1937, in the towns served by the Uhl River Hydro-Electric Scheme.

| Serial No. | Name of Town. | Number of Industrial Consumers. |

LICENCES TO PRIVATE ELECTRIC COMPANIES.

244. Dr. Shaikh Muhammad Alam : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state whether it is intended to revise the decision of not allowing further licences to private electric companies in the near future ; if not, why not ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : No such decision has been made. The question therefore does not arise.

SYSTEM OF REPRESENTATION BY ELECTION AND MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, KALABAGH.

245. Dr. Shaikh Muhammad Alam : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state the reasons why the system of representation by election has not been extended so far to Municipal Committee at Kalabagh in the Mianwali district ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : The elective system was considered unsuitable on account of local conditions and its introduction was, therefore, withheld.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : May I know the reason why the elective system has been considered unsuitable for Kalabagh and Isakhel ?

Minister : Local factions.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : How long have these municipalities been in existence ?

Minister : They have been in existence for a very long time though I am not in a position to state the definite period. I may also inform the honourable member that Government might consider the introduction of elective system in Kalabagh.

Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : Are there no local factions in municipalities where the elective system has been in force ?

Minister : There are, and in certain cases they are worse than in others.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : What are the special difficulties arising out of the local factions which stand in the way of elective system being introduced in Kalabagh ?

Minister : I have already said that Government will consider the introduction of elective system in this particular municipality.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : By what time is a decision likely to be arrived at ?

Minister : I am afraid I cannot specify a time limit.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Will the Honourable Minister please move in the matter, say, within a month's time ?

Minister : I cannot specify any time limit.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS IN THE PUNJAB.

246. Dr. Shaikh Muhammad Alam : Will the Honourable Minister for Development please state the number of industrial schools so far started in each district and the money spent on each along with the outturn of students ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : I shall be delighted to supply the requisite information to the honourable member if he specifies a definite period of reasonable length. But if he desires to be supplied with the information indicated in his question for all the industrial schools in the province since the year of their inception, my answer is that the time and labour involved in the collection of such information will be out of proportion to the results intended to be secured thereby.

RUPAR-SIRI ANANDPUR ROAD.

247. Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that Rupar-Siri Anandpur road has been declared a hill road, and a monopoly for plying motor vehicles on hire has been given to a person on that road ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that the monopoly system has caused great inconvenience to the pilgrims of Siri Anandpur ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that Rupar-Siri Anandpur road was formerly a plain road ; if so, the reason for changing it into a hill road ;
- (d) whether the Government is prepared to reconsider its decision and declare the road to be a plain road ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) The Ambala district section of this road was notified as a " hill road " in May, 1934. There is no monopoly, two different owners having been given endorsements allowing them to operate public vehicles on it. At the time of the Anandpur fair extra vehicles are allowed, according to requirements.

(b) Government is not aware of this.

(c) The action was taken at the request of the Ambala District Board.

(d) No.

Lala Duni Chand : May I inform the Honourable Minister that this road which is called a ' hill road ' passes through a level tract. I speak from personal knowledge. In view of this fact, will he consider the question of removing the monopoly ?

Minister : I am afraid I cannot do that.

TOLL TAX IMPOSED BY THE SMALL TOWN COMMITTEE, TARN TARAN.

248. Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that Tarn Taran Small Town Committee has imposed a toll tax of 3 pies per passenger on the lorries entering its area from 1st April, 1937 ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that goods exported from or imported into Tarn Taran are free from any tax whatsoever ;

- (c) whether it is a fact that this action of Tarn Taran Committee has been criticised by the motor unions as well as by the Gurdawara Parbandhak Committee and other Sikh bodies as being inconvenient to pilgrims ;
- (d) whether the matter has been brought to the notice of the Government ; if so, the action Government proposes to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a)—(c) Yes.

(d) It is primarily for the Committee to decide what form taxation should take. Government do not propose to take any action at present.

Sardar Partab Singh : Is the Honourable Minister aware that a few years ago similar action was taken by a municipality and on representation it was abolished ?

Minister : That means interference with local bodies. It should not be encouraged.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Are we to understand that the Government have abandoned the policy of directing and controlling municipal affairs in general ?

Minister : Not at all, but unnecessary interference is to be avoided.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : If this sort of interference is considered to be unnecessary interference, will the Honourable Minister please enlighten us as to what exactly he means by ' unnecessary interference ' ?

Minister : Unless I am assured to the contrary I consider the interference referred to in the present case as unnecessary interference.

Sardar Partab Singh : This tax should not be levied on pilgrims.

Minister : That is a matter of opinion.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Will the Government consider the fact that this tax is being levied on pilgrims and, therefore, it should not be encouraged ?

Minister : I have already stated that this is primarily a matter for the committee.

Sardar Partab Singh : Is it a fact that private taxis also are taxed according to the number of seats they provide ?

Minister : Will the honourable member please explain what he means by ' private taxis ' ?

Sardar Partab Singh : I mean taxis not plying for hire. (Laughter) I used that expression in American slang.

Minister : The honourable member should not presume that I am aware of all American slangs.

Sardar Partab Singh : Is the Honourable Minister aware that private cars also are taxed on the same basis as cars plying for hire ?

Minister : Not to my knowledge.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh (Urdu) : Are Government aware that much indignation prevails among the people on account of this tax ?

Minister : Not to my knowledge.

LORRY STAND CONTRACTS.

249. Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that contracts of lorry addas (stands) are given by the district boards on the Grand Trunk Road and Public Works Department roads to collect fees from the motor lorries carrying passengers ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that these contractors stop the lorries and collect fees forcibly even from those lorries that do not take passengers from their stands and stop there ;
- (c) whether the Government has authorized the district boards to collect such taxes, or they are doing so of their own accord ;
- (d) if the answer to (b) above be in the affirmative, the action Government proposes to take or has taken, if any, in the matter ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes, certain district boards maintain addas on such roads on Public Works Department land leased to them for the purpose.

(b) Inquiries made from districts concerned show that there has been no such practice except in Lahore district, where complaints have been made that certain contractors on the Lahore-Montgomery road have been forcibly collecting unauthorized fees. The Deputy Commissioner and Chairman, District Board, is taking steps to put a stop to this practice.

(c) Government has recognised the right of local bodies to charge rent from owners of motor vehicles making use of stands maintained by them.

(d) Does not arise.

Lala Duni Chand : Is there any legal sanction for giving such contracts ? If there is any, will the Honourable Minister please specify it ?

Minister : I should like to have notice of the question ; but I may inform the honourable member that if there is no sanction, the matter can be moved in a court of law.

COMMUNIQUE RE. TRAFFIC RULES.

250. Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that communiqués in connection with motor traffic rules and orders are issued from time to time by the Inspector-General of Police to Government officials ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that these communiqués are never published in the newspapers ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that the registered Punjab Motor Union representing motor traffic interests of the province requested in a letter on 30th September, 1936, to supply them with a copy of each such communiqué.
- (d) whether it is a fact that the Inspector-General of Police has given no reply to the letter ;

- (e) what steps the Government proposes to take in the matter of giving publicity to such communiqués ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) and (b) The Inspector-General of Police from time to time issues instructions to the officials of his department in regard to their duties, including those in connection with traffic control. Such departmental instructions are not addressed to the public and no question of publication arises.

(c) and (d) No such letter appears to have been received.

(e) Reply to this part of the question is covered by reply to (a) and (b) above.

Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : Will the Government consider the advisability of informing the people concerned so that they may also know what instructions have been issued ?

Premier : Instructions which concern the public are usually made public.

Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : But it will be of no use if those instructions are made known to the public after bringing them into force and after subjecting the people to difficulties.

Premier : All instructions do not necessarily concern the public.

Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : My point is that instructions concerning the lorry drivers are never communicated to them.

Premier : Can the honourable member specify an instance of the kind which he has in view ?

Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : Suppose an instruction is issued that henceforward lorries with a carrying capacity of more than 25 passengers should not be licensed. The lorry owners are not informed of this instruction, so much so that they build a lorry with a capacity for 32 passengers and when they apply for a licence it is refused because the lorry does not comply with the conditions referred to in the instruction.

Premier : Instructions of the nature the honourable member has in view are always published before they are actually put into effect.

RECLAIMING OF WATERLOGGED AREA IN THE PROVINCE.

*251. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) when was the department entrusted with the work of reclaiming waterlogged areas, brought into existence ;
- (b) whether the department has so far collected complete information about all the areas of land in the province affected so far by waterlogging owing to canals ;
- (c) the total area of land so affected and how much of it has been reclaimed ;
- (d) the number of persons who submitted applications for exchange of land with the number of applications granted or refused ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Irrigation Branch has always been in charge of all measures in connection with the trouble of waterlogging.

(b) Yes.

(c) The area affected at present is—

| | Acres. |
|---|---------|
| Thur in Banjar never broken .. | 190,926 |
| Thur in cultivated area and Banjar Jadid .. | 167,389 |
| Sem | 28,579 |

This does not include area already reclaimed, figures of which are not readily available.

(d) Twenty-two applications were received during last year, which are still under investigation of the Waterlogging Board.

Professor W. Roberts : Is Government considering any tube-well scheme in view of the serious problem of waterlogging ?

Minister : Probably the matter is under consideration.

ODES.

252. Seth Ram Narain Virmani : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether he is aware of the fact that about ten lakhs of the loyal and peaceful Odes in the province are leading a nomadic life ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that their nomadic life is responsible for their wholesale illiteracy and backwardness ;
- (c) whether Government intends to adopt any measures to put a stop to their nomadic life ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) and (c) The honourable member has doubtless heard the replies given to questions *194¹ and *235². His estimate of the number of Odes at ten lakhs is certainly an exaggeration.

(b) The Odes are not generally regarded as a backward tribe, but no statistics are available as to the standard of literacy among them.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : Are these Odes treated as criminal tribes in any district ?

Premier : No.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : Does the police watch their movement when they leave one place and go to another ?

Premier : Not to my knowledge.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Is it a fact that the crops of zamindars are damaged by flocks of cattle which these Odes possess ?

Premier : I have nothing to add to the answer given by my honourable colleague the other day.

¹Pages 754-55 ante.

²Pages 837-49 ante.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : Are any restrictions placed on their movements ?

Premier : No.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh (Urdu) : Is it a fact that in certain villages of Montgomery district criminal tribes people have been granted squares of land ?

Premier : I am afraid, I want notice of that question.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Will the Honourable the Premier please say whether the Government are aware that some feuds occurred between the zamindars and the Odes ?

Premier : Yes.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Have the Government taken any steps to remedy matters ?

Premier : The Government is considering the matter.

BROTHELS IN THE FORM OF HOTELS AND RESTAURANTS NEAR GARHI SHAHOO, LAHORE.

253. Malik Barkat Ali : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

(a) whether the attention of Government has been drawn to the grossly immoral conditions prevailing in the vicinity of Garhi Shahoo on the Mayo and Shalamar roads, Lahore, as a result of several hotels and restaurants carrying on the nefarious and vicious trade of prostitution ;

(b) the steps so far taken by the Government to protect the residents of that locality from the constant menace to their morals and their peaceful lives on account of the existence of so many brothels in the guise of hotels and restaurants ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Yes.

(b) During the last few weeks action has been taken under the Punjab Suppression of Immoral Traffic Act, 1935, in several cases. It is believed that this has had a considerable effect.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Is it a fact that in Lahore owners of hotels in which immoral conditions exist have connections with the police ?

Premier : No.

FAMINES IN HISSAR AND THEIR EFFECT ON ITS POPULATION.

254. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the Hissar district is very often visited by famines and that a large number of men, women and children belonging to this district are wandering in this and in other districts of the province like homeless and penniless wanderers ; if so, what action is proposed to be taken to have them settled down somewhere in the province ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : It is unfortunately true that parts of the Hissar district are subject to acute scarcity conditions ; but these conditions are alleviated to some extent by the fact that work is usually available in other parts of the province. Government do not think that for the present any action, beyond such as is taken in ordinary colony operations, is possible to settle the migratory portions of the population of the Hissar district on Government lands.

Lala Duni Chand : Am I to understand that it is no part of the Government business to relieve the distressed people ?

Minister : Last part of the answer covers that point.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : What are those simple ways to which the Honourable Minister has alluded by which the hardships of zamindars regarding the scarcity of water will be removed ?

Minister : Is that covered by the main question ?

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Yes, Sir, it is covered.

Minister : I think not.

MIGRATION TO THE PUNJAB OF PERSONS FROM RAJPUTANA STATES.

*255. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state whether it is a fact that a large number of persons belonging to Bikaner and other Rajputana States occasionally migrate to the Punjab to add to the difficulties of the administration ; if so, what action is intended to be taken to put a stop to this migration ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : The question is indefinite but probably refers to the Odes. I have already replied to a number of questions regarding these people.

Lala Duni Chand : If the Honourable Minister will kindly consider the question he will find that it does not refer at all to Odes, nor can it be made to refer to Odes. I request the Honourable Minister to read the question and then answer.

Minister : You should have made the question more clear.

Lala Duni Chand : Let me read out the question and then let the House see if the question is not clear :—

“ Whether it is a fact that a large number of persons belonging to Bikaner and other Rajputana States occasionally migrate to the Punjab to add to the difficulties of the administration ; if so, what action is intended to be taken to put a stop to this migration ? ”

Minister : It is quite clear that this is not a clear question.

Lala Duni Chand : I am simply sorry.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : On a point of order, Sir. May I respectfully enquire if it is for the Honourable Minister or for you to decide whether the question is clear or not ?

Mr. Speaker : Had I not considered the question as clearly worded, I would not have allowed it.

Lala Duni Chand : In view of the remarks made by the Honourable Speaker, I would request the Honourable Minister to answer the question.

Minister : I should like the honourable member to put the question more clearly.

Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : Does the Honourable Minister mean to say that Honourable Speaker had admitted the question wrongly ?

ARYA SAMAJ, FARIDABAD.

256. Lala Duni Chand: Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the Arya Samaj, Faridabad, Gurgaon district, has not been allowed to take out the nagar kirtan procession on the occasion of its anniversary this year; if so, why?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan: The honourable member is referred to the answer given to Pandit Shri Ram Sharma's question No. *76.¹

BUILDING A WALL ON THE CANAL SIDE BEFORE THE CHOBACHCHA SAHIB ABADI, LAHORE.

257. Lala Bhim Sen Sachar: Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that Sardar Dayal Singh 'Azad,' Secretary' Public Welfare Association, Chobachcha Sahib, Lahore' submitted an application to him on the 8th May, 1937, received by his office on the 8th May, 1937, requesting that a ghat and a bridge in front of the new abadi Chobachcha Sahib, Lahore, be constructed over the canal;
- (b) whether it is a fact that Sardar Dayal Singh 'Azad' also complained against the decision of the Canal authorities to build a wall in front of the new abadi by the canal side;
- (c) if the answer to (a) above be in the affirmative, whether he will lay on the table of the House the application referred to above and state what decision, if any, has been arrived at by the Government?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia: (a) No such representation has been received by me, by the Chief Engineer or by the Superintending Engineer, though a reminder dated June 3rd, and unsigned by anyone has been received.

- (b) Attention is invited to reply given to question No. *226.²
- (c) Does not arise.

VISIT OF PILGRIMS TO DEOT SIDH.

258. Captain Dina Nath: Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that Deot Sidh in Kangra district is a sacred place of the Hindus;
- (b) if the answer to part (a) is in the affirmative, the number of pilgrims who visit the place in a year;
- (c) whether it is a fact that there is no road to connect the place with the main road;

¹Pages 446-47 ante.

²Page 832 ante.

[Capt. Dina Nath.]

(d) whether he is aware that great trouble and inconvenience is felt by the public in the absence of a road ;

(e) if the answer to parts (c) and (d) be in the affirmative, what action the Government proposes to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes.

(b) The exact number of pilgrims is not known but is estimated to be from 20,000 to 50,000 in a year.

(c) There is no motorable road. There are foot-paths branching at Barsar and Bhota respectively from the Una-Mandi road. Parts of these paths are traversable by pack traffic.

(d) Yes.

(e) The construction of a motorable road is being considered by the District Board Kangra.

Captain Dina Nath : If the District Board, Kangra owing to lack of funds, makes a request to the Government for aid, will the Government be prepared to grant it ?

Minister : It will be sympathetically considered.

JHATKA MEAT IN GOVERNMENT INSTITUTIONS.

*259. Sardar Kartar Singh : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state :—

(a) whether he is aware of the fact that the use of jhatka meat is prohibited in certain Government institutions such as jails, police lines, boarding houses of Government schools and colleges while halal meat is allowed therein ;

(b) whether he is aware that a Sikh is religiously prohibited to take any other meat but jhatka ;

(c) if the answers to (a) and (b) above be in the affirmative, what steps Government intends to take in the matter.

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a), (b) and (c). The facts are that in the jails of this province meat does not form part of the dietary of the ordinary prisoner. When a prisoner of the A or B class or a State prisoner has expressed a wish to be supplied with jhatka meat, Government have arranged for him to be supplied with this kind of meat, provided the application has seemed to be without ulterior motive. Government have also accepted the principle that where the Medical Officer of a jail prescribes a meat diet for a Sikh prisoner in the jail hospital, jhatka meat shall be supplied if the prisoner so desires, and if the superintendent of the jail is satisfied that it can be procured and supplied without difficulty or objection. The tradition in the police has always been not to allow either jhatka meat or beef in police lines. This arrangement has worked well, and it is not proposed to modify it. Educational institutions preserve the status quo. The policy of Government is not to change the status quo in any of its departments.

Sardar Lal Singh : Am I to understand that in the alternative of jhatka, on the other side is beef ?

Premier : Is that so ?

Sardar Lal Singh : I am asking the Honourable Premier. My question is this. Does the Honourable Premier think that the only opposite for jhatka for Sikhs is beef for non-Sikhs ?

Premier : I am not clear what the honourable member wishes to convey.

Sardar Lal Singh : Does the Honourable Premier think that the jhatka in the case of Sikhs can be comparable only with beef for others ?

Premier : The honourable member can answer that question himself. Why should he put that question to me ?

Sardar Lal Singh : What is the opposite of jhatka ?

Premier : What do you mean by 'opposite' ?

Sardar Lal Singh : That is, what is good for one community is not good for the other ?

Premier : What is good for the gander is not good for the goose in this case.

Sardar Partab Singh : In replying to the question the Honourable Premier referred to the ulterior motives which the superintendent of jails has to consider. Will he kindly state what he means by ulterior motives ?

Premier : I will give an instance. It means that if a person wishes to get away from a particular jail to another, that might constitute a motive.

Sardar Lal Singh : May I know whether the jhatka meat is prohibited for Sikhs and the meat of the same animal for non-Sikhs is permitted ?

Premier : I have already said that meat is not the normal diet in our jails. The honourable member probably did not hear my reply.

Sardar Lal Singh : Am I to understand that whereas jhatka meat is prohibited for the Sikhs, the same animals meat is permitted for non-Sikhs ?

Premier : It seems that the honourable member has not taken the trouble to listen to my reply to the question. I said that meat does not form part of the diet of the ordinary prisoner.

Sardar Lal Singh : Has any complaint been received about meat-eating from non-Sikhs in any jail in any part of the province ?

Premier : Not to my knowledge.

Sardar Partab Singh : Will the Premier please state, in order to do away with this difference, if he will put the jhatka meat and halal meat on par ?

Premier : What does the honourable member mean by 'par' ?

Sardar Partab Singh : To allow the use of jhatka meat where halal is also allowed.

Premier : The Government does not wish to depart from the status quo and it is not going to do so.

Sardar Partab Singh : Will he state the reasons for it ?

Premier : No. It is not necessary to do so.

Sardar Partab Singh : Is it due to public interest ?

Premier : It is certainly due to public interest ; because there are gentleman who want to raise communal questions to disturb the peace and tranquillity of the province and I am not going to allow it. (Applause).

Sardar Partab Singh : But will not the peace and tranquillity of the province be maintained in this way by allowing free use of jhatka in all places where halal is allowed ?

Premier : It will be giving handle to mischief mongers who wish to raise these questions merely to intensify communal bitterness. (Cheers).

Sardar Partab Singh : Will the mischief mongers....

Mr. Speaker : The Next question.

TRANSFER OF LAND GRANTS IN THE NILI BAR FROM THE AGRICULTURISTS TO NON-AGRICULTURIST COLONISTS.

260. Syed Afzaal Ali Hasnie : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the lands granted to the agricultural colonists by means of various grants have been transferred by sale to non-agriculturists in the Nili Bar ; if so, the extent of area so transferred ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : Yes, in a few cases permission has been granted to tenants, commonly known as compensatory grantees, who were granted land in lieu of land acquired from them for the Sutlej Valley Project. These tenants are not required to reside in the colony and permission has been granted only to tenants who were either unsatisfactory colonists or in arrears of Government dues. The area involved is not more than 500 acres.

BUILDING OF HOUSES ON CHHOTI ABADI SCALE IN SUBURBS OF LAHORE.

261. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the Administrator, Lahore Municipality, and the Improvement Trust, Lahore, do not allow the building of houses in chhoti abadis like Ram Nagar, Krishna Nagar; Dhampura, Singhpura and others on scales already approved of by the Lahore Municipal Committee, now defunct ;
- (b) the average monthly number of sanctions granted for building houses on chhoti abadi scale outside the old city before and after the establishment of the Improvement Trust ;
- (c) the reasons for the decrease in the number of sanctions for building such houses ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) No such scales were approved by the late Municipal Committee for these areas.

(b) 58 per cent. before the establishment of the Improvement Trust and 40½ per cent. thereafter each month.

(c) The reasons for the decrease in the number of sanctions for building such houses are :—

- (i) that compliance with the Municipal by-laws is strictly enforced, and
- (ii) that in cases where the Commissioner has called for the building or the town planning schemes, sanction is not accorded to applications to build, which might conflict with the schemes called for by the Commissioner.

VETERINARY HOSPITALS IN THE HOSHIARPUR DISTRICT.

262. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works please state—

- (a) the total number of District Board veterinary hospitals in the Hoshiarpur district ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that there is only one veterinary hospital in Thana Tanda, situated at the village Miani, while there is no such hospital at the headquarters of this thana ;
- (c) if the answer to (b) above be in the affirmative, what steps Government propose to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) There are 12 veterinary dispensaries in the district.

(b) Yes.

(c) Miani is four miles from Tanda and it is uneconomical to open another dispensary at a distance of only four miles.

NULLAH GHURAL IN TAHSIL DASUYA.

263. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue please state—

- (a) whether the Government has under consideration any drainage scheme in connection with the Nullah Ghural in ilaqa Bachwai of tahsil Dasuya, district Hoshiarpur;
- (b) whether the inhabitants of a large number of villages irrigated by the waters of the said nullah have applied to the Superintending Engineer, Drainage Circle, Lahore, praying cancellation of the proposed scheme ;
- (c) whether the Government has considered the petitions of the said villages ; if so, with what result ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) The Government has under consideration a proposal for the notification of this natural drainage called Ghural Nallah under Section 55 of the Canal and Drainage Act VIII of 1873 in order to relieve waterlogging near Mukerian.

(b) Yes. Some petitions have been received.

(c) Due weight will be given to objections before a decision is arrived at.

PATROL COMMITTEE MAHILPUR, DISTRICT HOSHIARPUR.

264. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether he is aware that Patrol Committee at Mahilpur in Hoshiarpur district has not been informing the people concerned of the turns of their duty according to the provisions of the Patrol Act ;
- (b) whether he is aware that the said Patrol Committee has imposed fines upon seventy persons including an M. L. A. for alleged failure to perform the patrol duty ;
- (c) the steps the Government propose to take to redress the grievances of Mahilpur people in connection with the irregular working of the Patrol Committee ;
- (d) the action the Government propose to take against the Patrol Committee concerned ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikandar Hyat-Khan : (a) No.

(b) Yes.

(c) and (d) Government have no reason to believe that there have been any irregularities on the part of the panchayat, and do not propose to take any action.

PROVISION FOR THE GRANT OF LAND IN THE HAVELI PROJECT TO THE RIVERAIN VILLAGES IN THE SHAHPUR DISTRICT.

265. Khan Bahadur Nawab Malik Allah Bakhsh Khan Tiwana : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue kindly state—

- (a) whether Government is aware of the hardship to which some of the riverain villages, like Dhudhi, in the Shahpur tahsil are subjected on account of erosion by the Jhelum river ;
- (b) if so, the steps they propose to take to ameliorate their condition ;
- (c) whether any provision has been made in the Haveli Project for the grant of land to such small proprietors of this tract whose entire holdings have been washed away by the river action ;
- (d) if the answer to (c) above be in the negative, whether the Government proposes to take any steps in this behalf ; if so, what, and when ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Government are aware of damage caused to land by erosion in villages situated on the banks of the Punjab rivers, but have no information particularly with regard to village Dhudhi in the Shahpur district.

(b) In the Nili Bar Colony, 1,710 rectangles were allotted to persons who had suffered from river, cho or nullah action.

In the Pir Mahal and Khikha extensions out of 500 rectangles allotted to peasant grantees 160 were reserved for purposes just mentioned.

No further action is at present under the consideration of Government.

(c) Details of the allotment of Crown land to peasant grantees in the Haveli Project have not been worked out yet.

(d) Does not arise.

Khan Bahadur Nawab Malik Allah Bakhsh Khan Tiwana : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue kindly make enquiries about the Dhudhi village ?

Minister : Yes, I will do that.

BOARDING HOUSE FOR SIR GEOFFREY DEMONTMORENCY COLLEGE, SHAHPUR.

266. Khan Bahadur Nawab Malik Allah Bakhsh Khan Tiwana : Will the Honourable Minister for Education kindly state whether Government have received any report of the hardship experienced by students who read in Sir Geoffrey deMontmorency College, Shahpur, due to there being no boarding house attached to the college in question ; if so, the steps he proposes to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : There is at present a boarding house attached to the College but the building of the boarding house is not suitable. Steps have already been taken in the matter. Administrative approval to the construction of a suitable building has already been accorded. With the concurrence of the Finance Department it is proposed to include the work in the schedule of new expenditure for the year 1938-39.

METALLED ROADS IN THE SHAHPUR TAHSIL.

267. Khan Bahadur Nawab Malik Allah Bakhsh Khan Tiwana : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works kindly state—

- (a) the total mileage of roads in the Shahpur tahsil ;
- (b) the total mileage of metalled roads in the same tahsil ;
- (c) the reason for the inadequacy of metalled roads in Shahpur tahsil as compared with other parts of the Shahpur district ;
- (d) what steps Government intends to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) 168 miles.

(b) 40 miles.

(c) There are four tahsils in the Shahpur district and the mileage given in answer to (b) above is not inadequate as compared with other tahsils of the district.

(d) Does not arise.

Khan Bahadur Nawab Malik Allah Bakhsh Khan Tiwana : Will the Honourable Minister please state the mileage of metalled roads in Sargodha tahsil ?

Minister : I have not got the figures available just at present ; I can make enquiries.

Khan Bahadur Nawab Malik Allah Bakhsh Khan Tiwana : Then may I know how the Honourable Minister states that Shahpur tahsil is not worse than the other tahsils if he has not made enquiries of the mileage of other tahsils ?

Minister : That has been worked out and this tahsil is found to compare favourably.

Khan Bahadur Nawab Malik Allah Bakhsh Khan Tiwana : How, without figures ?

Minister : Figures, I do not carry with me.

IRRIGATION FACILITIES FOR VILLAGE SIAL SHARIF AND OTHER VILLAGES IN SHAHPUR TAHSIL.

268. Khan Bahadur Nawab Malik Allah Bakhsh Khan Tiwana : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue kindly state—

- (a) whether he is aware that small proprietors of land in Ara tract of Shahpur tahsil particularly those of the riverain side, e.g., Sial Sharif village have no means of canal irrigation ;
- (b) whether Government propose to extend canal irrigation facilities to them ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Yes.

(b) No, the area is low-lying and liable to river spills.

PROVINCIAL DEBT DUE TO GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

269. Diwan Chaman Lal : Will the Honourable Minister for Finance be pleased to state—

- (a) the balances of the provincial debt to the Government of India on the 1st of April 1987 ;
- (b) the amount of the said debt that has been refunded ;
- (c) the fixed annuities that have been fixed for repayment ;
- (d) the interest chargeable on such debt ;
- (e) the amount of the debt that still remains to be refunded, and for what reasons ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : (a) Rs. 26,95,69,941.

(b) Rs. 16,95,69,941.

(c) Half-yearly equated instalments of Rs. 40,77,484 payable for 45 years on the 1st August and the 1st February each year.

(d) 4 per cent. per annum.

Figures given in the answers to parts (a) to (d) are subject to revision when March Final figures of balances under the decentralised heads become available.

(e) Rs. 10 crores, to avoid increased burden on the province, as explained in paragraph 4 of Appendix III to the Niemeyer Report.

BORROWING PROGRAMME OF THE PUNJAB GOVERNMENT.

*270. Diwan Chaman Lal : Will the Honourable Minister for Finance be pleased to state whether the Government have come to any conclusion regarding their borrowing programme ; and if so, will he indicate the purposes for which loans are to be utilized and the method adopted for raising them ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : The answer to the first part is in the negative. The second part does not arise.

SHORT NOTICE QUESTION AND ANSWER.

HIGH-HANDEDNESS OF POLICE CONSTABLES TOWARDS A MEMBER OF THE SECRETARIAT STAFF AT SIMLA.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether his attention has been drawn to the report which appeared in the Press on 25th June 1937, alleging the high-handedness of some police constables towards a member of the Secretariat staff at Simla ;
- (b) if so, has the Premier made inquiries into the matter and taken any steps to give exemplary punishments to the constables with a view to stop recrudescence of such ugly incidents in future ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Yes.

(b) The Superintendent of Police, Simla, has commenced a departmental inquiry against the two constables. If this shows that they were at fault, they will be adequately punished.

Mr. E. Few : Will the Honourable Premier please state whether it is in the public interest and the maintenance of good discipline in the police force that every incident, no matter how trivial, in connection with that force, is ventilated on the floor of this House ?

Premier : It all depends on the importance of the matter.

DEMANDS FOR GRANTS.

GENERAL ADMINISTRATION.

Travelling Allowances of Ministers.

Sardar Kartar Singh (Lyallpur East, Sikh, Rural) (Punjabi) : I beg to move—

That the item of Rs. 23,000 on account of travelling allowance be omitted.

Sir, I will not make a long speech on the motion I have moved. I will try to give expression to my feelings and ideas within the short period of 14 minutes.

The first thing that I have to say in connection with this motion is that the ministers are already heavily paid. They are drawing fat salaries and it would not be proper to give them any allowances. A retrenchment committee has already been appointed in the province, whose function will be to devise ways and means for cutting down expenditure. But if you are going to increase your expenditure, you might as well do away with the services of this committee. It would be proper if the ministers try to live within their means and serve the country on the salaries they are getting.

It does not seem desirable that allowances should be paid for each and everything. If the allowances of ministers are done away with, it would be possible to stop the allowances of other highly paid government servants.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : On a point of order. The honourable member suggests that the salaries which this House has passed for the Ministers should be treated as inclusive of travelling allowances, while the Act which passed these salaries was not inclusive of these allowances. Therefore the carrying out of this amendment necessitates the amendment of that legislation if the proposal that he has put forward is carried.

Sardar Kartar Singh : I did not mean that. I have said that allowances should not be given in addition to the fat salaries.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the item of Rs. 23,000 on account of travelling allowance be omitted.

The motion was lost.

(At this stage Lala Duni Chand was called upon to move his cut motion).

Lala Duni Chand : We propose to concentrate our efforts on another motion which also covers the object of my motion.¹ Therefore, I do not propose to move my motion.

Premier : I suggest that this motion is out of order. The honourable member is not moving it because he believes that it is out of order and would be ruled out.

Mr. Speaker : When a member does not wish to move a motion, the question of its admissibility need not be discussed.

General Policy of Government.

Diwan Chaman Lall (East Punjab, Non-Union Labour) : Sir, I beg to move—

“That the item of Rs. 74,200 on account of total Ministers (Voted) be reduced by Rs. 74,199.”

The reasons I have given for this reduction are to discuss the policy of the Government, financial, economic, political and educational. I regret that the ordinary procedural opportunity which is available to members of a legislature on the presentation of a Finance Bill—

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : On a point of order, Sir. If you will kindly see, this sum of Rs. 74,200 consists of three items. One is Rs. 50,000 for the salary of the parliamentary secretaries, second Rs. 23,000 for the travelling allowances of Ministers and third Rs. 1,100 for contingencies, that is, for the chaprasis, etc. The House has already given a decision on ¹That the item of Rs. 74,200 on account of Total Ministers (voted) be omitted.

NOTE.—To raise the question of the new constitution being unacceptable.

the first two items. They have passed Rs. 50,000. They have also passed the second item of Rs. 28,000. Therefore the item which remains is only that of Rs. 1,100. I would like to have your ruling whether a motion which says that the item of Rs. 74,200 on account of total of Ministers voted be reduced by Rs. 74,199 is in order, when the House has already passed the item.

Diwan Chaman Lall : I have no objection to your ruling that this particular item should be reduced by an item of which note has already been taken, and to that extent I move this cut if that will satisfy my honourable friend.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : I would like the motion to be changed accordingly and then I reserve the right of raising another point of order at a later stage.

Mr. Speaker : He may move omission of the item of Rs. 1,150. But there is one more point.

Premier : Perhaps you were going to say, why cannot the honourable member move the omission of the whole grant and then fire away ?

Diwan Chaman Lall : If my honourable friend desires to bring another point of order, I think, you will permit him to do so before I proceed with my speech.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : The point of order which I would like to raise and on which the honourable member would reply to your satisfaction is whether it is the policy of the present Government, which he is criticising, or of the previous Government which ceased to exist from the 1st of April, 1937.

Diwan Chaman Lall : There is a very good Latin saying : "De Mortuis nil nisi bonum." I do not wish to say anything about those who are dead.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : As it is the desire of my honourable friend that I should raise my second point of order at this stage, I will accede to his request.

Now, Sir, the amended motion would be this that the sum of Rs. 1,150 be omitted or it should be reduced to one rupee. You will be pleased to observe that this sum merely relates to the contingencies such as travelling allowance of the chaprasis, stationery, etc. I would draw your attention to a ruling given by the President of the Central Legislative Assembly, where it is definitely stated that it will be entirely wrong to raise bigger questions of policy on an ordinary demand of travelling allowance or contingencies. I would draw your attention to the relevant portion of that ruling at page 153 which reads as follows :—

Travelling allowances and miscellaneous contingencies were not a peg on which to hang the attack on the Governor-General in Council but that such matters should be brought up by a direct motion in the form of a resolution.

I think this practice of total rejection of grant or reducing it to Re. 1 is really taken from the procedure adopted in the central legislature. But I would point out that there is a big difference between the Act of 1919 and the provincial autonomy. While under the Act of 1919 it was not open to any member to bring a motion of no confidence in the executive Government, now the Act provided that if the Opposition wants to pass a vote of no confidence against the ministry, they can do so by direct method. It is admitted that the total rejection of a grant or reducing the grant to Re. 1 on the issue of general policy is tantamount to passing a vote of no confidence in the Government. Therefore if a precedent is established that the Opposition can pass a vote of no confidence in the Government by indirect method, I would submit that we may be laying a very bad precedent in the provincial autonomy. Therefore, I request that this particular motion of total rejection of a grant or reducing the grant to Re. 1 may be declared out of order, as it relates to that wide policy of the Government, political, constitutional, financial and economical.

Mr. Speaker : The motion, as altered in the light of the facts stated by the honourable member, would be that the grant of Rs. 1,150 for contingencies be omitted.

If the honourable member wishes to move omission of the item of Rs. 1,150 he may do so, but as items 10, 14 and 15 will give him ample opportunity for discussing the general policy of Government, he may wait till those items are taken up.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Do I take it, Mr. Speaker, that you allow me to discuss what I intended to discuss on the next motion? Or may I continue my motion? I am entirely in your hands.

Mr. Speaker : It is open to the honourable member either to move his motion or wait till the next motion is reached. But it might be again said that when the policy of Government is to be discussed, a motion for a nominal cut should be moved.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Mr. Speaker, as I stated, I am quite willing to abide by any directions that you might give in regard to this particular matter and I hope when you have very clearly explained the position, my honourable friend, Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan, will withdraw the objection that he has raised and permit me to proceed with the remarks that I intend to make. It is certainly very desirable that points of order of this description should be raised. This being a young Assembly, it is necessary that the conventions relating to procedure should be definitely fixed and, therefore, I welcome the objection that Raja Ghazanfar Ali has raised. But after your very lucid description of the objection that has been raised, may I ask my honourable friend if he has no objection to my proceeding with the discussion on this particular demand and if he will permit me to proceed with my speech?

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : I am very grateful to my friend, Diwan Chaman Lall, for having adopted this very conciliatory attitude, to-day, but I would just place one suggestion before him that instead of our laying down precedents of reducing a grant to Re. 1 not on the question of economy, but for discussing the policy of the Government, it will be much better if we followed the convention of moving a token cut and then discussing the policy. As Lala Duni Chand's motion is an attempt to reduce the demand by Re. 1 only, I personally think it would be most suitable to discuss the matter on that motion.

Motion moved by Diwan Chaman Lall was withdrawn.

Political and other activities of Ministers outside the Legislative Assembly.

Lala Duni Chand (Ambala and Simla, General, Rural): I beg to move—

That the item of Rs. 74,200 on account of Total Ministers (voted) be reduced by Rs. 1.

At the very outset I want to make it clear what will be the theme of my speech. I beg to say that in spirit, tone, temperament and character, there is no difference, at any rate I have not perceived any difference so far, between the indigenous Government of the Honourable Sardar Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan and the previous governments of Sir Herbert Emerson, Sir Geoffrey deMontmorency or Sir Malcolm (now Lord) Hailey. Whenever I find that there is a difference between this Government and the previous Government, I shall be the first person to make an honest confession on the floor of this House. Some of the honourable ministers of the present Cabinet have been allies—I should say vertiable allies—of the foreign domination. I know some fresh blood is imported into the present Cabinet. I look forward to the time when I shall find a change of policy in their outlook and in their actions (Voices : Wait).

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Hoping against hope.

Lala Duni Chand : First of all I shall deal with the question of the attitude of the ministers towards the present constitution that has come into force from 1st April, 1937. It is undeniable that in the country all the political parties have declared unanimously that the new constitution that has been imposed upon India is not worth acceptance. There is a difference between the attitude of the Congress and the attitude of other political parties towards the constitution. The Congress is determined at all costs to have this constitution rejected. The Congress is prepared to take every possible concerted action to see the end of this constitution. The other parties have not laid down any programme with regard to the rejection of the constitution or the replacement of this constitution by another constitution, but all those parties have unanimously condemned this constitution. They have gone further. They have warned the British Government against persisting in this constitution. They have also warned the Government that if it insists upon continuing this constitution there will be very bad times for it. I know the Honourable Premier has got different views on this question, but if he can make a declaration to the effect that he denounces the new constitution as strongly as other political parties do, I will be completely satisfied with that declaration although he may not take any concerted action to have this constitution replaced by another constitution. I know the familiar phrase behind which he always takes shelter. He usually says, "We are here to work this constitution for what it is worth." It is a phrase which is conveniently invented and which covers a multitude of sins of omission and commission. I daresay that there is a lack of courage and patriotism behind this phrase.

Let us see what this phrase really means. That is decided by the public attitude that the Honourable Premier has adopted on certain occasions with regard to this question. While he was making a reply to the deputation of the All-India Khatri Conference, instead of confining himself to the points that the deputation had raised he went out of his way in discrediting and belittling the great national movement which alone has installed him on the gadi on which we find him now. That appears to be the attitude of the present ministry towards the new constitution. So far as I think, judging from their utterances and from the way in which they behave in this House they think that the millennium has come for India. Whether the millennium has come or not, I shall be honestly happy to see if there is any great change in their angle of vision or in their outlook. If they take cognizance of the conditions in the country differently from the previous Government, I shall be satisfied with that. I submit that so far as the question of the new constitution is concerned, I say it has not brought about, and it is not likely to bring about the least improvement in the political condition of the country or the economic condition of this country. A great agitation worthy of any country has been going on for the last twenty years or so on the question of the political rights of India. I say this constitution has ruthlessly ignored the real meaning of that agitation that has been going on in this country.

12 NOON.

Let alone the political question. Let us consider the economic condition of India. Nobody can deny nor can the Honourable Minister deny that the economic conditions of India are worse than the conditions of any other country of the world. Let us see whether the present ministry is going to take any bold action in this matter. There are the advocates of peasants in this House. There are the advocates of agriculturists. I shall be only too glad if the condition of the agriculturists is improved in any way. Up to this time I have not seen anything that has been done for the improvement of the economic condition of the agriculturists. They say they were generous enough to make a gift of 25 lakhs towards the relief of the distress caused by the hailstorm. Things of that sort have been taking place always. Every Government has been giving relief on such occasions. The Ministers wanted to put us on test the other day in connection with the extension of conciliation boards to other parts of the Punjab. They wanted to test us. They thought that we shall be found wanting. We have not been found wanting, and we shall help them in that direction provided the Act is justly and impartially administered. Let them grant relief in the form of remission of land revenue, not remission for a year or so but for all times to come to the holders of small holdings. (Hear, hear). If they remit land revenue on small holdings, say, even to the extent of 15, 20 or 25 bighas I shall change my opinion with regard to them.

Premier : I hope the honourable member will also provide money for it.

Lala Duni Chand : The Honourable Premier has very properly remarked that I should supply the money. I shall suggest the ways and means. I say that a top heavy administration, costly administration, and the economic improvement of the masses or the improvement of the agriculturists are two contradictory terms. So long as you, the Ministers—I hope the Honourable Speaker will excuse me for addressing them directly—so long as the Ministers want to have Rs. 5,000 a month including the allowances.—(Voices : No, no, Rs. 3,500). I have studied the question and I shall show you how the amount comes to Rs. 5,000. The Honourable Ministers are entitled to Rs. 15 as daily allowance for hal tage. They are entitled to the requisition of an eight-wheeled carriage and in some cases a four-wheeled carriage. They are entitled to carry with them as many as 15 servants. (A voice: They do not get Rs. 50 when they are travelling). I have read the rules and I have studied them. (A voice: You have mis-read them). Anyhow there is not much difference between my figure and the figure of the Honourable Ministers. If it is not Rs. 5,000, it is Rs. 4,500 (A voice: Less than Rs. 4,000). The point that I was making is this that so long as there is such a heavily paid ministry, there is such a heavily paid service, it is impossible to bring about any change in the economic condition of the country. I say this as regards the finding of money. There is yet room for bold retrenchment in all the departments. I venture to say that the public services could be easily cut down if not by one-third, certainly by one-fourth. I have been all my life coming in fairly close touch with the different departments of the administration. I know it for a fact that in every department there are extra hands. Let me tell the Honourable the Premier. Take the case of the subordinate judges. Go to any district in these days and you will find that the subordinate judges have not work enough for two hours a day. You recruit 10 or 15 sub-judges every year and 15 or 20 extra assistant commissioners every year. There is no need for even one-third of them. I have seen magistrates basking in the sun in the winter and sleeping in the summer, because they have no work to do.

I say if you want to have money you can have sufficient money, The Government can have a certain amount of money by deciding upon a bold programme of retrenchment and economy. The other day the Honourable Sardar Sundar Singh Majithia said to us when the question was raised in this House to increase the pay of peons, that there are graduates, there are B.A.'s and M.A.'s who are prepared to accept the post of a peon, that it is a question of supply and demand and if graduates can be had for Rs. 14 why should we pay even a pice more to the peons? If really it is a fact that graduates are prepared to accept jobs of peons on Rs. 14 or less a month, then I say that conditions have arisen in this country which I regard as the fore-runner of revolution which is fast coming. (Hear, hear). I know that there are graduates in this country who on account of the policy pursued by the Government do not know where to turn their head for a morsel of bread. Government is responsible for those conditions.

This brings me to the question of the attitude of the Government towards public services. What is the reality about these public services? Favouritism and nepotism are reigning supreme. In the matter of recruitment to services square men are being put into round holes.

Premier: The honourable member is now referring to the old Government because we do not make any new appointments now. We have got a Public Service Commission which deals with new appointments.

Lala Duni Chand: I can make a definite reply to the objection that has been raised by the Honourable Premier. There is hardly any competitive examination worth the name in this province. Can the Honourable Premier tell me what kind of competitive examinations are being held in the province? It is a fact that this year about twenty persons were recruited for the executive side of the provincial civil service, of whom only four were recruited as a result of competitive examination. The remaining fifteen or sixteen were taken on the basis of nomination. (An honourable member: No.). I know on what basis nominations are made.

Premier: We have not appointed any extra assistant commissioners. The extra assistant commissioners referred to by the honourable member must have been appointed by the late Government.

Lala Duni Chand: I say that the present Government has inherited the legacy of the late Government. The present Government is continuing the policy of the old Government. That is exactly my complaint.

Premier: We have not yet had any opportunity of doing so.

Lala Duni Chand: Barring the few competitive examinations for the recruitment of a few judicial appointments and a few executive appointments, all other appointments are made on the basis of nomination. I say without fear of contradiction, that if a census is taken of all the appointments that have been made on account of the employees having been the relatives or kinsmen of men holding bigger offices in this province, it will be found that the figure is very considerable.

Premier: Who made those appointments?

Mr. Speaker: The point raised by the Honourable Premier is that the appointments, to which the honourable member is referring, were not made by the present Government, but by its predecessor. Is it the intention of the honourable member to criticise the Government which has ceased to exist or the Government which is now in power? If he wishes to criticise the old Government he will be out of order; but if he wishes to criticise the present Government then he must confine himself to the action of the present Government, that is, the Government which came into existence on the 1st of April last.

Lala Duni Chand: I do not hold the present ministers responsible for the sins of the previous Government. (Hear, hear). But I do know that the present Government is pursuing the same policy with regard to recruitment to services as its predecessor did. There is no difference in policy between the present Government and its predecessor so far as the question of recruitment is concerned.

Premier: Can the honourable member give a single instance in support of his contention?

Lala Duni Chand: I do not propose to trouble the House any further on this question. I have said enough and therefore it is not necessary for me to pursue the matter any longer. The other day the Honourable Revenue Minister referred to the question of a little increase in the pay of patwaris. He said, "look here, there are, 15,000 patwaris in the province and if we increase their pay even by two rupees, the total cost will come to something like Rs. 30,000 a month and therefore Government is not prepared to make any increase in their pay." This is the generous attitude of the Government towards those servants of the public who are doing a very important work for this Government.

Mir Maghool Mahmood : May I know whether the honourable member is referring to the activities of the ministers outside the Legislative Assembly? That is the wording of the remarks appended to his motion.

Lala Duni Chand : Excepting the activities of the Ministers inside this chamber all other activities are outside the chamber. Therefore, I can refer to them. (Interruptions). I was dealing with the question of the poor patwari.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is not in order to bring in matters discussed already.

Lala Duni Chand : Let me say a word with regard to the question with which I was dealing. I say it will be much more beneficial to give Rs. 30,000 to these 15,000 patwaris than to give thirty, forty or fifty thousand rupees—

Mr. Speaker : That matter has already been discussed and disposed of by the House. According to the practice of this House and of Parliament it should not be re-opened now.

Lala Duni Chand : My attention has been drawn to the fact that I raised the question of the political activities of the Ministers. Let me now deal with this question. The Ministers, when they go out, do not say to the people that they are the Ministers of all the communities in the Punjab. I have instances in my possession of the Ministers saying to the people 'Now there is the Government of the agriculturists, now there is the Government of the zamindars.' I want to say that the Honourable Ministers, when they go out in the province, should satisfy people that they are as much Ministers of the non-agriculturists as of the agriculturists. I have got a statement in writing by a certain gentleman to the effect that some of the Ministers outside this House have been saying extraordinary things. Let me now quote what they have been saying outside. This is the substance of a speech of one of the Ministers. He said "Do you not feel ashamed that you have been supporting non-agriculturists, that you have been giving votes to the non-agriculturists." He also said, "Now the Raj of zamindars has come and this Raj is going to last for the next 25 years or so. We are cut to tax the fat people."

Raja Ghzanfar Ali Khan : Through you, Sir, may I request the honourable member to give the name of the Minister, place and date where and when this speech was made so that we may be able to contradict it?

Lala Duni Chand : Out of consideration for the Minister concerned I do not propose to give his name, but if I am forced to give his name I am prepared to disclose it.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member may exercise his discretion.

Lala Duni Chand : I decide to exercise my discretion in favour of the Minister. (Laughter). He said in his speech, "Now we are going to tax all those people who cannot take their food, unless they take some sort of medicine every day, unless they go to doctors—"

Sayed Afzaal Ali Hasnie : Do tell us his name.

Lala Duni Chand : Sir, he also said, 'It is a matter of great shame that you should vote for the man who belongs to a town.' He also said, that the present Government was the Government of the zamindars and if anybody did anything against that Government, the Government would go against that man.

Mr. Speaker : Is there an authentic speech available ?

Lala Duni Chand : I have got a statement in writing of a gentleman who belongs to the place where the speech was delivered.

Raja Ghzanfar Ali Khan : Is he an educated gentleman ?

Sardar Partab Singh : Is there anything against you ?

Lala Duni Chand : Sir, another thing in his speech is when he says, "Do not care for newspapers, do not read them, the press is to mislead you." (Hear, hear and Laughter from the Treasury Benches). My point is that it is absolutely necessary, to pacify the communal situation and create a cordial atmosphere in this province, that every Minister should convince people that they are the Ministers of the whole of the Punjab and not the Ministers of any particular community.

Mr. Speaker : Did he make that speech before or after his appointment as Minister ?

Lala Duni Chand : One speech was made at a time when he was hoping to become a Minister and the other speech was made when he became a Minister.

Raja Ghzanfar Ali Khan : On a point of order, Sir. The motion before the House has raised the question of political and other activities of the Honourable Ministers outside this Assembly. Is it relevant to say that the Honourable Minister made the speech before he was appointed a Minister or when he was hoping to become a Minister ? I think the honourable member himself was hoping to become a Minister.

Mr. Speaker : The practice of this House is that conversations, which take place between members outside the House, are not allowed to be discussed or re-opened in the House for the simple reason that they contradict each other and that often leads to unpleasantness. I had to rule more than once from this Chair that private and personal conversations outside the House or even inside the House, should not be brought in speeches. As regards the speeches made before their makers were appointed Ministers, they should not be alluded to at all. As regards those speeches which were made after their appointment as Ministers, if an authenticated report is available, there is no objection to its reference.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I, with your permission, ask that when an electioneering speech has been made by a gentleman who forms the Government of the province later on and promises have been made in that electioneering speech, whether it is possible for us to allude to that statement made by him before his election and compare that statement of policy laid down by him as an altered policy with the policy actually propounded on the floor of the House ?

Mr. Speaker : It will not be irrelevant, but undesirable.

Lala Duni Chand : I do not want to make any sweeping charge against all the Ministers. I do know that there are Ministers actuated by the best desire of creating the best atmosphere in this province. My object in bringing these facts to the notice of the Government is that they should be wiser in future.

I have got two more points to place before the House.

At this stage the Assembly adjourned for lunch.

The Assembly re-assembled at 2-30 p. m. Mr. Speaker in the Chair.

Lala Duni Chand : Sir, with all the earnestness and sincerity that I am capable of I beg the present Government to abstain from doing one thing. Ever since the British raj has been established in this country a process of demoralising the country has been going on. Forces and interests and groups and individuals have been brought into existence, which have been working and are still working against the best interests of the country. Forces loyal to England and disloyal to India have been brought into existence. Honesty is at a discount, patriotism is a crime and sacrifice for the country is a treason in this country. All that I pray to the present Government is that they should not discourage the honest elements in this country and this is not too much to ask.

The next point which I beg to place before this honourable House is one relating to the backward tracts and to the case of the scheduled classes. This is one thing to which the Ministry should devote its attention and achieve something for these people. As regards the backward tracts, I would say there are several districts, the major portions of which are inhabited by backward people. Take the case of Simla district, the Kangra district and the Dera Ghazi Khan district. I may tell you one thing about the Dera Ghazi Khan district. I had personal experience of that place. I was in Dera Ghazi Khan jail in 1922. About 1,500 prisoners from that district alone were coming into that jail. When I discovered that the same prisoners were entering the jail repeatedly I questioned why it was so and the invariable answer was that they were forced to commit some petty theft or other offence in order that they may enter the jail because they could not get bread elsewhere outside the jail. I also happened to go through the Kulu and Kangra valleys and I had seen people in certain parts of those valleys. They were leading the life of cattle. There are no means for them to earn their bread. If you go to the Kulu Valley you find people coming to you asking for something. I had personal experience myself. I suggest as to what should be done. Supplementary industries should be started. We have a very able man in charge of the industries and I shall be glad if he does something in this direction. Agriculture and industry should be subsidised by grants. Medical aid should be provided; means of communication should be facilitated. Roads should be opened up. If you act up to these suggestions you can do a good deal for these people. There is another class that deserves help from the Government and that is the scheduled castes. (Hear, hear). Upon this question I always look with a feeling of great pain. There is not a single country in the world in which you have got as many as 7 or 8 crores of people practically without any shelter, without any clothing and without decent food. This has been the greatest crime of that community to which I myself belong. That community has been partly responsible for the condition of these people. (Hear, hear). I suggest that Government should do something for these unfortunate people. For instance, for the next ten years every boy belonging to the scheduled castes should be educated and maintained at the cost of the Government. (Hear, hear). Free schools should be opened for them. Not only this. A majority of these untouchables are living without any houses. A census should be taken as to how many of them are really houseless. The Government should undertake the duty of building houses, say, on certain conditions. (Pir Akbar Ali: By imposition of new taxes to get money?) Ways and means should be found to improve the economic condition of these people. They should be encouraged to take to agriculture. I know the Honourable Premier will say that some of these untouchables are pursuing agriculture. I know some of them are pursuing agriculture, but how? They are only living the life of agricultural serfs and slaves. (An honourable member: Who made them so?) I have already taken the due share of responsibility upon my community. I may also tell you that I believe in the State as the only potential and powerful agency to improve their condition. I do not believe that religion or anything else can improve the condition of the people. I have been a veritable believer all my life (hear, hear) that the State is the only agency that can shape the destinies of the people and the fate of the country. It is in your hands. You have started writing upon a new slate. It is for you really to do for these people what the Governments of other countries have been doing for their people. I was submitting that something very necessary should be done for these untouchables. A definite programme of economic betterment of these people should be drawn up and acted upon. After this I proceed to place before the House another equally important thing. Sir, I know it for a fact that my people living in the rural areas and in the towns—particularly in the rural areas—have got any number of grievances and suffer from many handicaps and many wrongs done to them. This House can have some idea of those grievances and sufferings and the wrongs from the lists of questions that are being asked daily in this House. It is therefore unnecessary for me to detail all those grievances. They are there. What is the exact position with regard to these grievances and sufferings of these people? They suffer in so many ways and in so many directions at the hands of the officials and at the hands of most of the departments of Government. I know that in the higher ranks of the Government there are good and honest people who want to do something for these people. But they are helpless and powerless. How do things take place? In the first place it is only 5 per cent. of their grievances that are brought to the notice of the higher authorities. The remaining 95 per cent. never see the light of the day because the people are so helpless that they prefer to suffer in silence. The five per cent. of the cases that are brought to the notice of the authorities are mostly complaints against certain officials or against certain departments. The subordinates at whose hands these people suffer make reports to the higher authorities who accept their version, the version given by the erring official is regarded as gospel truth. Sometimes it is brought to the notice of the Minister and what do the Ministers do? They act in the same stereotyped and red-tapist fashion in which the previous government was acting. The ministers dare not disagree with the important superior officers. When these officers want to force their point of view on the ministers, the ministers are invariably helpless. (An honourable member : Question). I ask the Honourable Ministers to find at least clear cases and whenever they have got clear cases, they should deal with the erring official or with the erring officer strictly. This is the aspect of administration that requires the best attention of the Government. If things go on in the same merry fashion as they have been going on for many years, I think the Government will not be able to make any improvement. I know, Sir, that this is the most important motion on which many other and abler speakers are going to speak and I would have continued to speak further on the subject but for this fact that other people are going to speak who will throw greater light on this question. Therefore I do not want to pursue the matter any further (cheers). There is only one observation that I want to make. The present ministry should take cognizance of the hard conditions and the hard facts as they exist in the country and when they are assured that such are the real conditions, they should not only take cognizance of these things but act and remove the conditions (Cheers).

Mr. Speaker : Demand under consideration, motion moved—

That the item of Rs. 74,200 on account of total Ministers (voted) be reduced by Rs. 1.

Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din (Sheikhupura, Muhammadan, Rural): My honourable friend has covered good many points both inside and outside his motion and I intend taking up all these, with your permission, one by one. First of all I will tackle his point about the Honourable Premier's reply to the Khatri Conference deputation. My honourable friend wanted to make capital out of it, but with due deference to him, I wish that he had read once again the address and the reply before he had decided to talk about it today. Before I come to it, we must bear in mind what were the circumstances in which the Honourable Premier gave that reply and to whom he gave that reply. From the address we know that the members of the deputation claimed to be an important minority in the Punjab and an important section of a very important class of people living in this province who could very well be said to be not only the head but also the arms, of this province, being Kshatrias. Now, let us see what they said. They said "We are an important minority and we approach you with the following facts, that the coming of the constitution has given the power of the province in the hands of representatives of the people and therefore we expect that the majority in whose hands the Government of the province has been given by the constitution"—

Lala Duni Chand : By providence.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Futile majority.

Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din : "They should now assure us of a change of angle of vision, as regards their treatment towards the minorities." They also said that in the future development of the province they wanted to be assured that there shall be a balanced development amongst all the residents of this province. Now, Sir, when I read this address I was of the opinion that the members of the deputation had very cleverly put these points in their address and I was wondering what would the reply of the Honourable Premier be, but when I came to the reply I must say it on the floor of the House that my estimation about the Honourable Premier was very much raised when I found the bold, straight and honest answer to these questions. He is a bold statesman. He said, "I need not assure you that a Government which does not care to protect the legitimate rights of the minorities, of the services, or for the matter of that of any class or community is not worth the name of a good Government" (hear, hear). There was another point also involved in it and that was, what position is he going to take in the solution of the matters concerning this province? And, I find, that as a bold and honest statesman he said that he and his party would do their best to avoid deadlocks, but if deadlocks came in spite of their best efforts, he would not shirk them. If the Honourable Premier had not given this reply I am not afraid to say that he would not have been the man to whom we listen and whom we look upto, and round whom we have grouped together. Does my honourable friend mean to say that the question of minorities in this province should not have been so ably dealt with? Does my honourable friend mean to say that the minorities in this province should not have been satisfied and can my honourable friends quote any instance?

Sardar Partab Singh : Generally satisfied.

Lala Duni Chand : Who are the minorities in this province?

Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din : My honourable friend opposite and all other non-Muslims. When I say my honourable friends, I mean the class of people to which my honourable friend belongs religiously and socially.

Lala Duni Chand : I believe that religion has been a curse in the country.

Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din : I would be glad to see that this phrase is brought into practice.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : You do not want to be irreligious.

Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din : Then, Sir, my honourable friend took up another point about the remission of 25 lakhs of rupees. I am sorry to notice that my honourable friend mentioned it in a very indifferent way. I was expecting from him an appreciation of the unprecedented promptitude with which the present Government had met this calamity not only in one district, but in more than one district. I challenge my honourable friend to quote a single instance from any previous government where within half an hour of their taking the oath of office, enquiries are made and within a fortnight from that, relief is distributed and remissions are made. It is only natural that we on this side of the House should expect honourable members to do justice to the present government and to give the credit which is due to them. I can very well understand their not doing so in the previous council and they should not give us the impression that they still inherit that habit. If in the previous council they did not wish to give the credit due to the government, it was because it was not a popular government : that can be understood. But to the present government from an Opposition, and from a responsible Opposition, we must expect that they must give credit where it is due to Government (Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt: It should be mutual and not one-sided.). My honourable friend wanted to make a point out of it that by remitting these 25 lakhs the Ministry was not doing any service to the people. I must submit, Sir, with due deference to my honourable friend, that it is this Ministry and it is this ministerial party really which is anxious to serve the poor people (hear, hear) and that is apparent from their past conduct too. For the last 14 years it is this party which has been doing its best for the people. We hear good many professions from the other side of the House, but a tree is to be judged by its fruit and a man is to be judged by his deeds. From the motion which my honourable friend on the other side of the House has brought, I am afraid we cannot judge them according to their professions. Keeping in mind the motion which my honourable friend Sardar Kartar Singh had brought for reduction of 25 per cent. in the revenues, had that motion been passed, would it have been for the benefit of the poor or the advantage of the rich?

Lala Duni Chand: Anything that has been already discussed cannot be referred to according to your ruling.

Mr. Speaker: I would request the honourable member not to refer to what has been discussed already.

Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din: Sir, may I bring to your notice that the motion was not discussed at all? It was not even moved.

Now, Sir, coming to another point, my learned friend has said that the present constitution is not acceptable. Sir, the Government of India Act was passed, the constitution was proclaimed far and wide in the province. My honourable friends launched their election campaign, they toured throughout the whole province, and they made great promises to the people and proclaimed those promises from the housetops, and they were successful in being elected and they came to this Assembly; and today we find them saying that this constitution is not acceptable. That reminds me of that Urdu verse:

ہائے اس زور پشیمان کا پشیمان نہ

Sir, my honourable friend was tempted more than once to criticise the Ministry. We are now accustomed to listen to this destructive criticism. But one thing I may submit that so far I was looking upon the Opposition benches as one compact body with one mind and one point of view. But hearing from my honourable friend Sardar Hari Singh his professions of adoring and worshipping honourable the Premier, and hearing to-day from my honourable friend this hard criticism, makes me begin to doubt whether the Opposition is of one mind or of any mind at all. As to this unholy alliance I have nothing but to quote—

سینے میں کسی شخص کے دو دل نہیں ہوتے

Sir, we have always welcomed criticism from the other side of the House but it must be constructive criticism. They are here to serve the electorate and to stand and correct us if there be a mistake but not to carry on a campaign of criticism, of condemnation in season and out of season.

[M. Ghulam Moby-ud-Din.]»

My honourable friend has drawn attention of the House to the deplorable condition of the people in the province, to the condition of the depressed classes, to the condition of the poor. None of us would join issue with them on this point. We are at one but the question is how to remove these grievances. We must do it with one mind. We all must be of one mind. We must not forget that we owe a duty not only to this House but to the electorate outside, not only to the electorate but to the coming generation also; and we owe a duty to the whole province of making it a real paradise which is put in the words of the poet as follows:—

کسے را با کسے کارے نباشد

Now I ask my honourable friends on the other side, “How can you do so if we are still acting as we did in the past, i. e., living in a magazine of gunpowder and carrying lighted matches in our hands. You shall have to look to the interests of the province rising above the communal feeling, rising above the class feeling (Hear, hear). Be one-minded and do your best to alleviate the poor. (Loud applause).

Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din (Kasur, Muhammadan, Rural): Sir, I am on common ground with the previous speaker that the test of a national and popular government lies in the steps that it decides to take to mitigate the misery of the masses of this province. The second duty of a popular national government in the case of a subject race is to work for the liberation of their country from the foreign yoke. (Hear, hear.) I beg to submit that in both these things the present Government has behaved hopelessly and failed totally. (Hear, hear.) With regard to the economic policy of the Government it can safely be said that it has not done anything to improve the condition of the poor masses though they call themselves champions of the poor and the agriculturist classes. I was just having a talk with one of my Unionist friends during the lunch intervals and I was arguing (Voices: No reference to table talks) that in this province a lot has been made by the Honourable Minister of Agriculture and the Premier of the fact that ours is a province of peasant proprietors (Hear, hear). They say, it is very difficult to effect any drastic changes in the present distribution of revenues or in the present distribution of land.

Premier: I never said that that is my position.

Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din: You said it is a province of peasant proprietors.

Premier: It certainly is. That is a fact.

Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din: I beg to submit that although it is a province of peasant proprietors, out of 29 million acres of cultivated land of this province, 19 million acres of land is owned by a minority of 15 per cent. of proprietors whereas about 40 per cent. of land, i. e., about 10 million acres of cultivated land is owned by 85 per cent. of proprietors.

Premier : I am afraid the honourable member has got his figures all wrong. If he will quote me the authority, I might be able to correct him.

Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din : I have read it often but at present I cannot recollect the authorities. I would like to be corrected.

Premier : If you give me the authority, I will correct you. My own impression is that you are wrong.

Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din : Unless you are sure, I would not like to be corrected. I think here probably the Honourable Premier will bear me out. About 60 per cent. of land is owned by people in this province who own more than 15 acres of land each.

Premier : How much ?

Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din : More than 15 acres of land each, whereas 40 per cent. of land under cultivation of this province is owned by people who own less than 15 acres of land each.

Premier : That is probably nearer the truth.

Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din : It is sufficient for my argument to say that 15 per cent. of land is owned in this province by people who own more than 15 acres of land each and 40 per cent. of land is owned by people who have less than 15 acres each.

Premier : May I ask the honourable friend opposite whether he would draw a line between the peasant proprietor and the land owner ?

Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din : I am trying to draw your attention to the fact that if an average income of 15 acres of land in this province were taken to be the limit below which no land revenue should be imposed, that would help us to a great extent to ameliorate the condition of the peasants. I agree with the argument put forward on the other side that 15 acres do not yield the same income everywhere. I will not suggest any definite method because we cannot suggest this in a short speech. It is more or less a question of research. I am making a suggestion only which will be to the good of the poor peasantry. The average income of 15 acres could be taken as a limit below which no land revenue should be imposed. Surely if 85 per cent. of people can afford to subsist on 40 per cent. of land, 15 per cent. of people with heavier taxation can afford to subsist on 60 per cent. of land. It may not frighten my friends on the other side. It is not a socialistic measure. Even in England where revenue is imposed on income-tax basis as we would like in this country, even there, no land tax is charged on an income of less than, if I remember aright, £187 per annum.

In Australia which is more of an agricultural country than England the holdings up to the value of £500 are exempt from income tax altogether. I have quoted this to show that this policy could not be called a socialistic measure. On the contrary the Mother country of which they are such loyal subjects and their brethren in the other dominions are working on the same lines.

Secondly, another method which one could have suggested for effecting economy is in the Irrigation Department. We know that Irrigation Department yields over 12 per cent. interest every year out of which about 6 per cent. interest goes in the payment of interest on the standing irrigation debt. As this is supposed to be a government department and a beneficent department, it can well be argued that it should not be made to yield more than 6 per cent. of interest and the loss that will be caused to the revenue by the reduction of 6 per cent. income in this item can be made good by imposing further land revenue on bigger landlords which I must point out to the side opposite can easily be done on account of the fact that 25 per cent. of land in this province is owned by 3 to 4 per cent. owners. (A voice : Including the government) Yes, including the State. But that does not in any way weaken my argument. (A voice : What proportion?) I cannot quote the proportion which the State holds against the private owner. It is cultivated land and not useless land and I think the proportion cannot be very great. Government does not own a very great amount of cultivated land but I cannot give the figures of the exact proportion between the two, because this line of argument I did not want to take until I had a talk with my friend on the other side.

The third method of effecting economy has been proposed by the Ministerial benches, but I know it will fall short of our expectations, and a really appreciable decrease in the salaries of services which are under the control of the provincial Government will not take place. The first two suggestions of mine if worked on scientific lines by experts could certainly shift the burden of taxation on the stronger shoulders of landlords and will relieve the burden of the poorer peasantry while this last measure of economy will yield money for setting up educational institutions and in the years to come people will not be ignorant enough to vote for the Unionist Party. So far for the economic policy of Government, wherein they have not exploited the possibilities which the present constitution, undesirable as it is, affords them. They could have done some good to the poor and please remember to the poor of the villages whose champions they profess themselves to be.

Now coming to the second point, which we may call their national policy, that is their political programme, I beg to submit that here again I am at one with the Unionist Party. If I remember aright, the Finance Minister in an informal remark on the floor of this House said that his inability to do anything great in his budget is partly due to the fact that the limitations of the present constitution are such that he could not do much. I ask of the Unionist Party, what do they propose to do to improve these conditions or to remove the impediments that lie in the way of the Unionist Party to do more good than the present constitution affords? I would ask this House to tell without prejudice that if the Unionist Party with the programme that it has followed for the last fifteen years and the programme that it is following to-day and will go on following for 50 years to come, can they bring us an inch nearer to freedom than we were when they took the government in their hands? Have they any anti-imperialistic programme, have they any political programme which will take us nearer to our goal of freedom than we are to-day? Here comes the difference between the Congress and the Unionist Party. It has often been remarked by the members of the opposite side that they would see what happens when the Congress takes office. The position of the Congress will not change. The position of the Congress will be to exploit the present possibilities that are offered by the slave constitution and at the same time to gather strength in order effectively to reject and wreck the present constitution and finally fight for further concessions or rather for complete freedom of this country. (A voice: Wait, let us see what your elders say.) Our elders may accept office. They may run it for five years. At the same time they will have a programme which will lead to the wrecking of the constitution and will go on with their present agitation to get something more. But what are the Unionists doing?

I come to their method of achieving freedom also, and here is the difference. Here it is that we feel it as our duty to criticise them because they do not offer us, either in theory or in practice, any method whereby further concessions could be got which would enable us to do more good than the Finance Member has been able to do.

The excuse usually offered by the people on the other side is that they do not come into clash with the British Government because under the present constitution and provincial autonomy there is nothing that will bring us into a clash with the British Government. This argument alone from the other side is sufficient to show the undesirability and the weakness and the total uselessness of the present constitution because no reasonable man would doubt that the foreign power which has taken so much trouble to come over and which has taken greater trouble to get their hold on us and is taking even greater trouble to keep on that hold on us has some personal motive in mind also. I want to point out that that argument, the argument that we under the present constitution do not come into clash with the British Government, is wrong. It does not entitle the Unionist Party in not taking any active steps against our rulers for the freedom and good of India. I know that they would say that even under the present constitution, although they do not come into clash with the British Government, they would do everything possible if there were an impediment thrown in their way to do the duties that they are trying to perform. It has been said by the Honourable the Premier that if the Governor were to go against them and were not to comply with the reasonable demands of his Party, they would do what is necessary for them to do. And here we have only to see to the past. This reminds me of a story of an Englishman who whilst travelling came to an inn where his horse was stolen. The next day he spread the news all over the country around that if the horse were not returned within 24 hours he would have to do against the culprit what his father did before him. The poor thief brought the horse back and after he had returned it to the owner he asked: "Sir, may I ask you one question? What would you have done if I had not returned the horse? What did your father do?" The reply he got was, that he went home! We know that if the Unionist Party are brought up against the Governor what they are likely to do. They will do what they had done in the past. The difference between their political policy and the policy of our Party lies in the fact that the Unionist Party believes, as has been so clearly and frankly put by the previous speaker, that the British Government is here not for their own good but for the good of the minorities and that if we were armed with the goodwill of the minorities, there is no fear of any interference from the British Government.

Premier: The honourable member is misquoting me.

Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din : If I am wrong I should like to be corrected. Has it not been the view of the Honourable Premier that if we arm ourselves with the goodwill of the minorities we have no fear of being interfered by the Governor ?

Premier : That is my position.

Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din : On the other hand I hold that we are liable to be interfered not on account of the fact that we may go against the interests of minorities, but on account of the fact that we may go against British Imperialism.

Premier : No, no. There would then be deadlock at once.

Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din : When a deadlock arises what is the party opposite prepared to do ? They will do what they have been doing in the past. They will conform to the conditions imposed by their rulers.

Premier : Why does the honourable member anticipate what will happen ? When that contingency arises you will see what we will do.

Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din : We cannot anticipate otherwise, judging from the experience of the past.

Mr. Speaker : May I request the Honourable Premier not to interrupt unless his object is correction.

Premier : I am only correcting the honourable member.

Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din : The previous speaker also referred to the policy of the Unionist Party since 1921. I ask that gentleman what that party has done since then ?

Premier : The honourable member is confusing between the Unionist Party and the Government.

Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din : I was taking the utterings of the Premier as the utterings and the attitude of his party on this question. If that is not so, I withdraw my words.

Now, coming to the question that of the vital difference which makes it incumbent upon us to take exception to the attitude of the Unionist Party towards the Government. Their method as we understand from their utterings is to get concessions from the imperialist power by acting as mercenaries. They seem to be acting in the same mercenary way as they did in the past in order to get further concessions. There I think they are not only going against the interests of this province, not only against the interests of this country but also against the interests of all the democratic countries in the world, against whom they are prepared to fight.

Premier : Which are those other democracies ? Only two are left.

An Honourable Member : There are many.

Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din : The truth is that we speak different languages. There are two different currents running. We cannot understand each other. We the Congress are only wasting our time here. Let me point out that whereas it is their privilege to prepare budgets on the model of some great Englishmen and to be chained to those chairs and to serve not only foreign interests but also those of a limited minority of landlords and capitalists exploiters of this country, it has fallen to our lot, the national-minded people, of this generation, to work for the freedom of the country and for the good of the future instead of being clogged to the present. (Cheers.)

Professor W. Roberts (European) : The honourable member who spoke last is not very sure of his figures and so it is well that I do not deal in detail about the percentages and figures given by him of the present position. I am speaking from memory only. The area of cultivated land in the Punjab is 2·9 crores acres and not 11 crores as mentioned by the honourable member. Now, I shall not touch upon the more intense political aspect of my honourable friend's speech, but try to deal, if I may, with economic aspects of it. He suggested different courses to be adopted for reducing land revenue on persons holding 15 acres or less. But what would the effect of that be upon the progress of this province? There are two things that militate against this proposal. One is this. Supposing you did this; to-morrow you reduce land revenue on all areas of holdings under 15 acres. But you cannot be sure of one thing, that you will transfer the benefit to the people whom you want to reach. There are hundreds of ways in which this concession might be taken by the bigger men and richer landlords without the advantage passing to the poorer people. I am in full sympathy with members on the other side who feel that there should be a more equable system of taxation in this province. Everybody who has any feeling at all for the country or who seeks to improve the condition of the people must sympathise with the mass of the population. There is no difference between us on this side and the honourable members opposite on this matter. But the point we have to decide is, what form of action it is best to make for the good of the province? Now, if you reduce land revenue on smaller areas you will only encourage sub-division of land to what they call uneconomic units. You should aim at this province producing the greatest possible quantity of food, cotton and other things which it exports.

That is what we should all aim at. If you encourage intense sub-division by making small areas free of land revenue, you will be destroying the agricultural capacity of the province. Therefore this is not the proper way to tackle this question. My own opinion is that if we can keep this income-tax question from being an All-India question and definitely for the Government of India share, then this is the line on which to tackle it. Make richer people in the province to contribute from income-tax and not from land revenue. (Hear, hear.) I beg you, for the sake of future development and further progress of this province, not to add another factor to this intense trouble of sub-division of holdings, because already there is plenty of trouble on account of the laws of inheritance. Further, by this kind of taxation proposal you are also going to create one more big problem for the Government of the future, whether the Congress or the Unionist Party rules this province in ten years' time. I myself believe the Unionist Party will be ruling then and not only then but in a hundred years from now. ("Hear, hear" from the Treasury benches.)

Another matter on which a previous speaker touched was that he quoted from a speech of one of our Honourable Ministers. As far as I understand, that speech was made during the election, when we all try to impress our constituents. He quoted that this is the Government of zamindars. Well, Sir, in this connection I may say that a province with 85 per cent. agricultural population should necessarily have a zamindar Government. Eighty per cent. of the population in this province earns their livelihood on agriculture. Surely it must have a majority of agriculturists in the Government at all times, unless the agriculturists are so depressed or over-run by capitalists or other kinds of exploiters that they have no voice at all in the Government of the country.

At the same time the first speaker drew attention to the need of the poor agriculturists and the need for reducing taxation. Surely, to be honest about it, the first thing to admit in an agricultural province, is that the Government, of whomsoever it may consist, must have a very strong agricultural bias. Agriculturists of this province are not so stupid as to think that anybody other than the agriculturists can govern. We all have our functions here. There is plenty of room for everybody. In my opinion the Government of this country, the Punjab, which is mainly agricultural must be mainly an agricultural government. There is no use, therefore, finding fault with any Minister or Member of Government honestly stating that opinion.

Now, Sir, it has been asked, what have the Unionist Party and the Government done for the good of the country? What have the Government of the past, influenced by the existence of the Unionist Party, done? In this connection I will mention one or two points. One thing is the consolidation of holdings. That subject has been brought into prominence and there has been some definite solid work done on it, by the Government, and much more is being done now than has been done in the past. I myself had the honour of attending one committee which went into the question of expanding this work in great detail, not very long ago. Again debt legislation has been carried through during the last 2 or 3 years.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : May I just ask whether all this talk is relevant ?

Mr. Speaker : In to-day's speeches irrelevancy has been the general rule and relevancy an exception.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : If irrelevancy has been the general rule I withdraw my remarks.

Khan Bahadur Nawab Muzaffar Khan : May I point out one thing. It was from those benches that this question that the Unionist Party has done nothing, arose. My honourable friend was not present at that time.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : If I had been present I would have certainly raised the point of order, because the time of the House should not be wasted in irrelevant talks.

Professor W. Roberts : I am asked, Sir, what has been done by the Government or is being done in recent years? What about communications? Is there any province in India where road communication is in such a good state as it is in the Punjab? Take the question of seed distribution. Can you point out any province in India where the seed distribution arrangements is as good as it is in the Punjab ? Cattle breeding is another line in which this province definitely leads other provinces in India. I need not go on cataloguing all these points, because my honourable friend Dr. Narang is getting impatient. What I have said is enough to prove the good work which the Government have done, are doing and will do. (Cheers.)

Diwan Chaman Lall (East Punjab, Non-Union Labour) : Mr. Speaker, my learned friend, the ex-Minister, was not present here this morning and, therefore, probably was not aware of the procedure that has been adopted with your permission. The procedure that has been adopted Mr. Speaker—

Mr. Speaker : Why is the honourable member defending him ?

Diwan Chaman Lall : I am not defending him, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker : Please proceed with your speech.

Diwan Chaman Lall : If you permit me to complete my sentence, probably you will realise that I am not criticising the procedure.

Mr. Speaker : I request the honourable member to proceed with his speech.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Mr. Speaker, the policy of the Government is under consideration at the present moment and the procedure—

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is again criticising the procedure.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Mr. Speaker, the motion is to discuss the policy of the Government. The subject has been widely traversed by many speakers. Let me begin with—

Pir Akbar Ali : On a point of order, Sir. The motion before the House is not to discuss the policy of the Government, but whether the constitution is acceptable or not ? (Laughter.)

Diwan Chaman Lall : It is obvious that my honourable friend's point of order is not acceptable. Let me on behalf of the Opposition benches, first of all, perform the very necessary duty of congratulating this House and this province on the fact that the last vestige of bureaucracy has disappeared from those benches. Let me also, on behalf of the Opposition benches, congratulate honourable members opposite—no matter what our differences may be with them in regard to the policy or the method of conducting the Government. None of us on this side of the House is free from the pleasure of seeing our own kith and kin occupying those benches which have never been occupied by them before in this sense.

Honourable members opposite under the new constitution have been charged with a great trust and I am here to-day, Mr. Speaker, to refer to that trust and to say a bit sadly, a bit regretfully, that upto now, although undoubtedly they have had a short period in office, they have not discharged that trust as well as they should have discharged it in the interests of this province. (Hear, hear.) The questions affecting our province and the trust that is entrusted to them can only be viewed properly if the whole, entire picture of what is happening in the world is placed before them and if they only would take a lesson from the great matters that are agitating the great minds of other nations. We see before us a world that is changing, a world in which stalk hunger and starvation, a world in which kingdoms arise and kingdoms are destroyed, a world in which fortunes are made and fortunes are lost, in which new dictatorships are formed and old foundations shake. This is the picture of the world and its changing character is equally applicable in its incidence to what has been happening in our own country and in our own province. It is with that particular picture in their mind that honourable members opposite should tackle the problems of this province. Now how have they discharged their trust and how are they tackling these great problems, the problem of security for the average Punjabi, the problem of prosperity for the average Punjabi, the problem of giving him a decent civilised existence? I have seen the budget prepared by my honourable friend and I congratulate him on the clarity of his thought and of his speech. But I have seen the budget that he has prepared and I see not one word in that budget, not one word, Mr. Speaker, which can bring comfort to the average agriculturist of whom my honourable friends over there seem to be the self-appointed trustees. (Cheers). What, in the budget, may I ask, is there of greatness, greatness of plan? What is there of comfort for the average Punjabi? I fail to find a single word in the budget which can make me believe that honourable members have sat together and in a connected manner thought out the problems that are facing the Punjabi to-day and made an effort to tackle those problems in the most economic and scientific manner in which they should tackle them, if they want to bring peace and comfort to the Punjabi. I fail to find any plan in their proposals which have been placed before us. Mr. Speaker, it is said that once upon a time the great Chinese philosopher Confucius was asked as to the best method of government a good ruler should adopt and his reply was, probably some predecessor of yours, Mr. Speaker, must have been the example before him, that the ruler must sit on his throne in a dignified manner and do nothing else (laughter). It is quite possible that my honourable friends are followers of Confucius in that particular respect, and although they attempt to be very dignified yet apart from dignity I do not find that they have given the people of this province, as we see it from the budget that they have presented to us, anything more which can bring any comfort to the Punjabi. Mr. Speaker, let me come a little closer to the subject in hand. If our honourable friends opposite do not know, it is about time that they learnt what actually is happening in the Punjab. My honourable friend over here talked about Imperialism and the Deputy Leader of the Congress Party in his speech referred to the advent possibly of a revolutionary movement in this country if things were not put right. May I say, Mr. Speaker, this, that the situation is tragic, the situation is serious and let not honourable members opposite take my word for it, let them take the word of their own Finance Minister, who last year, when speaking in this House, asserted that the situation was near catastrophe, and what did he say then? He said then, it is up to you, to the Government of the day, to take the necessary steps in order to avoid that catastrophe and he suggested when he was in the Opposition—to-day he is on the Government benches himself, he suggested then, plan your economy in order to bring comfort and peace to the peasantry of this province. This is what my honourable friend thought then. He went beyond that. He suggested the raising of a colossal development loan for the purpose of bringing peace and comfort to the people of the Punjab. Where, may I ask, in these three volumes which the honourable Minister has presented to this House with his budget, where has he given the slightest inkling as to the purpose that he has in hand or the great ideas that he gave expression to in his speech on the budget last year? He has not given effect to his ideas. He has not thought of a planned economy. He has not thought of this problem in any big way as it should have been done and I cannot, therefore, congratulate him on the performance of merely presenting us with a budget which does not deal with the real problems in hand. What are those real problems? Is it known to my honourable friends that in the Punjab we have probably the highest death rate in the world? Is it known to my honourable friends that the death rate for this province is 26 per thousand and that there is only one other country in the whole world, Roumania, where the death rate is a little more, 21 per thousand, which is the highest in Europe? If this is a fact, a murderous fact, I ask, what has my honourable friend over there done in order to bring about a better state of affairs, to bring down this colossal death rate? Is my learned friend aware that in the Punjab to-day the infantile death rate is, barring one country in the world, Chile, the highest in the world? What has my learned friend done to save the lives of these hundreds of thousands of innocent children who are murdered because of the lack of ordinary necessities of life and of the lack of ordinary decent housing and ordinary decent conditions? Is there a single word in his budget, in his speech or in anything, or any effort on his part to place before us a planned state of affairs, economical or financial, to show that he has looked at this problem not merely from the point of view of the Accountant-General or from the point of view of an under-secretary but from the point of view of a human being looking at problems in a human way? (Hear, hear.) Mr. Speaker, it is a fact that 90 per cent. of our population in the Punjab, the Punjab which is presumed to be the most prosperous province in the whole of India from the agricultural point of view, that 90 per cent. of the people of this province are living upon the starvation line. (Hear, hear.) I challenge any honourable member of this House to contradict me in regard to this particular statement.

Premier : You are contradicting my friend there opposite.

Diwan Chaman Lall : My friend can look out for himself.

Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din : I said 85 per cent.

Diwan Chaman Lall : It is a fact that 72 per cent. of the holdings of which my friend Professor Roberts spoke a little while ago, are uneconomic, that the people of this province who are in charge of these holdings cannot obtain the necessary sustenance from those holdings in spite of the fact that they work day in and day out. They labour with the sweat of their brow, but they do not get sufficient to eat. If this is a fact, I ask my honourable friends opposite, apart from the fact that they have been agitated over the salaries of ministers, agitated over the salaries of secretaries, agitated over the problems of procedure, I want to know, what is the exact plan that they have propounded before the people of this province for the purpose of tackling these problems of grave import to the people of this province? (An honourable member : Not yet). Then when? They have not touched even the fringe of these problems. There is, Mr. Speaker, no peace for the peasant.

[Diwan Chaman Lall.]

of the Punjab. Those friends of mine who have been to Florence must have seen the statue called Peace by the great artist Michel Angelo. That statue has no face. It is unrecognisable. Peace has no face. It would be too tragic to give peace a face. That is the sort of peace that the people of the province have got. It is a tragic peace that they are enduring from day to day in the year 1937. It is up to my honourable friends to take the necessary steps if they want to justify their existence as a civilised Government, to take the necessary steps to put their own house in order. Mr. Speaker, so much for the peasant of the Punjab. May I draw your attention and through you the attention of the Treasury benches, to the position as it exists of the industrial workers of the Punjab?

We are here to take a survey of the conditions and Mr. Speaker, I will make an attempt to draw the attention of my honourable friend the Premier to the state of affairs that exists in this province in order that steps should be taken and we shall give you, let me make this offer, every co-operation (hear, hear) to put our House in order if we can do so on proper lines. Not long ago, Mr. Speaker, there was a little famine in the Kangra valley and reports came through regarding this particular famine and it was said that the people used to take a seer or two of wheat or maize and mix it with a similar quantity of mango-stone and husk of rice and eat it and cholera which is the natural concomitant of famine, reappeared, the power of resistance was gone and people were obliged even to eat leaves mixed with some sort of grain. (Interruption.) My honourable friend wants references. I will give him the references if he needs. This happened a few years ago. He need not be afraid that I will quote on the floor of this House anything without giving him chapter and verse for it. My honourable friend instead of being horrified at this disgraceful fact that any compatriot of ours in this province of ours should suffer such distress through famine, wants me to give him chapter and verse for what I am stating. Instead of standing in his seat and shouting shame and disgrace at the recitation of a fact like this, I am surprised that he should ask me merely to give chapter and verse—

Khan Bahadur Nawab Muzaffar Khan : Where is the harm?

Diwan Chaman Lall : It only shows the mentality of my honourable friend and if it does not then I am afraid that no words of mine can put wisdom into my learned friend's head. (Hear, hear and laughter.) Mr. Speaker, let me give my learned friend further facts and figures.

Premier : I am sorry to interrupt my honourable friend opposite, but did he say that these facts related to the year 1937?

Diwan Chaman Lall : As I said they are a few years old. There has been no spectacular famine in 1937. I will come to nearer years of famine. My learned friend need not be agitated. Is my learned friend prepared to stand up on the floor of this House and deny the fact that there have been local famines in the last few years in this province of ours and people have died of starvation? Is he prepared to do so? If so, I will give way.

Premier : I thought the honourable member was discussing the policy of the present Government and not what happened fifty or even ten years back.

Diwan Chaman Lall : I am drawing my honourable friend's attention to these facts as there is no guarantee that at any moment we may not be faced with famine conditions of a spectacular nature and when my honourable friends make no provision for such tragic contingencies they will realise the reason why I am drawing their attention to these facts. Famine has become in our country an endemic factor, it is no longer merely epidemic and I am asking my learned friend to remember this fact in particular when he next desires to raid the Famine Fund—a fund which should be utilised to relieve both chronic starvation and actual famine conditions. I will draw my learned friend's attention to the facts that have been apparent during the recent years. These facts are discoverable all over the province and I am drawing my learned friend's attention to these facts. Now let me glance at the state of affairs that exists in the industrial centres of this province. There is a report by the Chief Inspector of Factories—my learned friend over there wants chapter and verse—let him take a note of it—the Chief Inspector of Factories' report in regard to the weaving industry of Ludhiana in a statement prepared by the Director of Industries, Punjab, if my friend wants a reference I will give him a reference. It is letter No. 10783-Industries, dated the 6th December, 1930.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : I wanted Kangra reference.

Diwan Chaman Lall : I would ask the honourable member to look at the weaving industry of Ludhiana. In a statement prepared by the Director of Industries, it was discovered that the average monthly income of 13 families of weavers in Ludhiana was Rs. 21-5-0 and their minimum monthly expenditure per family was Rs. 21-10-6. Nine of the 13 workers were in debt. Loss of business, unemployment and sickness were important factors accounting for 43·5 per cent. of the total indebtedness. This is the state of affairs which we find in a large community like the weavers at Ludhiana who number nearly 25,000. And this is not an isolated fact, it is a fact which is discoverable in practically every industrial centre of the Punjab. I note the Premier nodding his assent, it appears he agrees with me. I, therefore, ask him what is his Government doing, what has his Government done to provide a remedy for this state of affairs ?

Premier : Give it time.

Diwan Chaman Lall : What indication is there in the speeches made by honourable members in regard to the remedy to be applied in this province for this state of affairs ? I submit that honourable member's opposite may do something in the future, but I am only concerned with what they have done so far. If they do anything in the future they shall have my support. At the present moment I can only look at them with regret and sorrow for their not having done the right thing by the people of this province. Only a little while ago—if my learned friend wants the date, I will give it to him, it is 1930—it was discovered by chance by no less a person than the Right Honourable Mr. Srinivasa Shastri that 35 miles away from the capital of the Punjab in the great city of Amritsar, there prevailed a system known as the system of child labour, not child labour, Mr. Speaker, but child slavery. Little children were taken from their homes and sold for the handsome sum of Rs. 70 to 75 each into the factories owned by certain gentlemen who called themselves the capitalists of Amritsar and these children either died at their work, they had no wages, they either died or when they grew up, if they had the courage, ran away from the factories.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Carpet factories.

Diwan Chaman Lall : My learned friend reminds me that these are carpet factories. That state of affairs was exposed by the Royal Commission on Labour on which I had the honour to serve as a member with the result that an Act was passed in the Central Legislature penalizing the pledging of children in factories.

But child slavery still exists in the province of the Punjab : it still exists in spite of this Act that has been passed. Little 4 P. M. Muslim boys, little handsome children taken away from their families and handed over to unscrupulous employers, who work them all hours of the day and night until either they die or have the courage to run away. I would ask my honourable friends—they have all the material before them, they have all the evidence before them, as a progressive ministry, as a civilised ministry, and as a ministry desiring to civilise my province—what steps have they taken so far to put right a state of affairs like this and to put an end to such tyranny, to such misery and such exploitation of little innocent children ? (Cheers). I submit, Mr. Speaker, woefully they have failed. (A voice : We have been in office only four months.) I hear an interruption from my honourable friend. I must give way to my learned friend and particularly to one who is the Chief Inspector of Factories of the Unionist Party—I mean, the Chief Secretary of the Unionist Party (laughter). He says we have had only four months. Very sorrowfully, Mr. Speaker, I must point out to him that during these four or even three months I have seldom opened a newspaper without an article by the Chief Secretary of the Unionist Party laying down the policy of the party, but not one word could I discover of the nature I am suggesting in the exuberant journalistic efforts of my honourable friend on my left (laughter). My charge against my honourable friends over there is this that they have not attempted even in the short space of time at their disposal to discharge the duties that had been entrusted to them. They have not done their duty by the people of the Punjab.

Mr. Speaker, let me consider once again a small matter that was raised by my honourable friend, the Finance Minister, when he stated in a passage of great rhetorical value, much appreciated by me, that land revenue, the main source of income of this Government, is an ancient custom, and an ancient usage. It is a tax which has the sanction and the sanctity attaching to it of age. I thought he said timeless age. (A voice : Thaggi also.) My learned friend says thaggi also is an ancient custom and an ancient usage. He has taken the word out of my mouth. I was going to use an English word robbery which in the same sense is an ancient usage and custom (cheers), because it is ancient it derives its sanctity thereby, and because it is ancient, therefore it is necessary that you should in this civilised age continue a tax of this nature which bears its burden on the poverty-stricken peasantry of the Punjab (hear, hear). What an argument ! Is it or is it not a fact that seven crores of revenue out of 10 crores and odd, with which my honourable friend over there intends to civilise this province, after having cut a huge slice for ministers' salaries, etc., is it not a fact that 7 crores out of 10 crores, comes directly out of the pockets of the peasantry of this province? Is that a fact? (Voices: Yes). My learned friend says "It is a fact, but look what I have done. I have given 20 lakhs for the beneficent departments! Surely you must give me credit for that". My learned friend keeps up-to-date with modern literature. May I remind him of a cartoon that has recently appeared I believe last week in a French paper called L'homme Enchaîné?—a magnificent cartoon. It depicts two doors of an office side by side, apparently the office of the Secretariate of my honourable friend. One door was marked 'Income-tax,' and for the purposes of my argument let us call it 'land revenue.' A gentleman in top hat is coming out of this door and he is minus his trousers, hiding himself with his tail coat and he is taken through the next door which is marked 'beneficent department'. Having robbed him of the last vestige of clothing, my learned friend sends him to the beneficent department to be sustained and supported and made happy with a gift of 20 lakhs (loud laughter).

My honourable friend turned round and said our budget is not a capitalistic budget. "Who says we are capitalists? Who says we are imperialists?" May I remind my honourable friend that this is not the time to play with words? This is the time to face stark-naked realities and not to toy with phrases when fate itself is toying with human souls (cheers). The time has come when we should realise where the taxation comes from. Does it come generally out of the pocket of the capitalists, or does it come generally out of the pocket of the poverty-stricken peasantry of the province? (Hear, hear.) I want an answer to that. If my learned friend can convince me that the source of income to-day is not the poverty-stricken masses of this province, I would be prepared to concede to him what pleasure he can get from a statement like this that it is not a capitalist budget. I ask him, is this budget not a capitalistic budget? Does it not need drastic reorientation in order to bring it into line with modern ideas and modern thought? It is up to my learned friend, when he faces us next time, to come forward and give us his plan and his policy and line it up with the policies of the modern progressive countries of the world. Let me draw his attention to some other countries. Let me ask him whether he is aware of the fact that in France to-day by means of legislation the hours of work have been reduced to 40 hours a week and wages have been increased by 85 per cent. while every worker gets a paid holiday. Let me ask my honourable friend whether it is not a fact. (Finance Minister: With what result?) With the result that unemployment, regarding which my honourable friend was saying something the other day, came down from a million and-a-half to two hundred thousand (cheers). That is the result. If my learned friend wishes to find facts he can get at them. My learned friend knows that it is not true that because some countries are far away nobody knows anything about them. I want to ask my honourable friend—he will probably raise an unintelligent laugh on that side of the House when I mention another country—I ask him to consider the condition of that country most seriously, I mean Russia. Has my honourable friend read the very intelligent book, I dare say he has, by Lord and Lady Passfield (Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Webb) on Soviet Communism? If my learned friend has not, it is a pleasure in store for him and an instructive pleasure in store for him. If he will read that book he will find that production has gone up by 35 per cent., prices have come down by half, wages have been doubled and there is no unemployment. It is almost a paradise created for the working classes. If my honourable friend will read that book he will find that whereas in Russia just after the revolution in 1917, literacy was only 20 to 25 per cent., to-day there is hardly any man, woman or child of school-going age who is not literate and cannot read or write. I was told by the authors Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Webb that when they went into Siberia, the wilds of Siberia, every village had a school, and it was compulsory in those schools for every child to learn at least one European language apart from his own, and all this has been done by the State free of charge. What has my learned friend done for education for our province? What has he done? (A voice: Opened five schools.) Five schools! No, four schools with a total annual expenditure of Rs. 10,000 (hear, hear). That is my learned friend's contribution to the beneficent department. That is my learned friend's contribution to the solution of that great problem of illiteracy in this province. Seven per cent. of the population of the Punjab is literate and this is the contribution of my learned friend. Sir, it may be said that it is all very well for us to criticise the honourable members sitting opposite but what will be our contribution and our policy when we go over to the benches opposite? (Hear, hear). I think that is a challenge which is worthy of being taken up. It is easy enough for me to reply quite cheaply, which I do not intend to do, "Wait until we occupy those benches".

If my honourable friend wants a few suggestions, they are easy to come by. But they require a will to put them into effect and my charge against honourable members opposite is that they have not got the will to put them into effect. The will to achieve alone can save this province. Let me refer to one thing. My learned friend stated towards the end of his very brilliant speech in reply to the budget debate that the question of unemployment was a question not to be dealt with by governments. It was essentially a question to be dealt with by social reformers. Mr. Speaker, I am afraid for the safety, the peace and the prosperity of the people of this province when the government is in the hands of my learned friends opposite (Voices: God save us all!). If this is the attitude of a cultured gentleman, of a well-read gentleman, of an economist of note, if this is his attitude of mind, what should be the attitude of mind of others who know nothing at all about this subject? (Voices: It is obvious.) (Loud applause.) I hope this attitude of mind does not betray a permanency. My honourable friend, when he considers this problem from the scientific point of view will come to an understanding of this problem as it should be understood and dealt with in modern times in a civilised way. Is it or is it not a fact that serious unemployment in this province is rampant both amongst the middle classes and amongst the working classes? If my honourable friend wants an example, he has got it on record. My learned friend Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan wants the date. I will give it to him. It was only last year, when the North-Western Railway Workshops asked for four hands, three thousand people applied for those four vacancies. It shows that unemployment is a very serious factor but my learned friend, however, desires us to leave this matter to be settled, not by legislation but by social reformers of a certain type of whom he probably knows more than I do. I do not know how he intends to leave this matter to social reformers to be dealt with and what results he expects. (Finance Minister : How by legislation, pray ?) My learned friend's vision apparently has not extended beyond Lahore and Simla in regard to this problem. My learned friend has probably forgotten the facts and if this is the case there is one of his supporters Begum Shah Nawaz sitting behind him, who will remind him of the existence of an organisation known as the International Labour Organisation of Geneva which was set up under the Peace Treaty. If my learned friend's knowledge of the publications issued by that particular organisation is defective, I am prepared to help him to remove that defect (laughter). The particular volume dealing with unemployment issued under the aegis of the League of Nations and under the statutory mandate of the Peace Treaty by the International Labour Office will give my learned friend full details of every type of legislation put forward in every civilised country of the world to deal with the question of unemployment (cheers). There is not a civilised country of the world which has not an act known as the Unemployment Insurance Act. If my honourable friend wants further information, I will give it to him. The United States of America has recently brought legislation of that nature. The French Government have an act which has been in existence for a considerable time. The British Government have a wonderfully well done Act and a fund which is to-day solvent. It has a surplus I believe of 17 million pounds to-day. Italy, the dictatorial country which does not wait for legislative sanction and takes action as my learned friend can if he chooses here — we are also living in a semi sort of fascist dictatorship — has taken that action and brought in protective legislation. One of the models of such legislation is to be found in the German statute books. Yet my learned friend asks, how can it be dealt with by legislation ? I am surprised at the colossal, what shall I say (Voices : Ignorance) — no, indifference on the part of honourable members opposite (cheers) to the needs, wants, peace, happiness and prosperity of the people of this province. (Cheers).

Mr. Speaker, let me, before I sit down, call my learned friend's attention to the fact that I believe that to-day in the Punjab we are paying a charge on a sum of 11½ crores to the Central Government in the form of income-tax. My learned friend, however, will correct me if I am wrong.

Mr. C. Rai : This is the income on which income-tax is assessed.

Diwan Chaman Lall : I beg your pardon. My friend is correct. The tax that we pay to the Central Government is a matter of grave concern to us. I want my learned friend, from the financial point of view, to propound his proposals for the purpose of raising money from the classes that can pay the money. ("Hear, hear" from Government benches). The class that cannot afford to pay the tax should not be burdened with it. My learned friend wanted a constructive proposal. This is one of the proposals. May I make another suggestion to my honourable friend ? You can to-day drop your land revenue, stop taking a single anna from the classes who cannot afford to pay land revenue and draw all your money by means of a Bill, by an Act for the taxation of land values, if you have the will to pass it. (Hear, hear). If this is done, I guarantee that there will not be a single anna needed from the pockets of the poverty-stricken peasants of this province and the burden will fall upon those who are best in a position to bear it. ("Hear, hear" from Government benches). My learned friends say "Hear, hear."

Premier : But I appreciate your proposal.

Diwan Chaman Lall : I am very grateful to my Honourable friend the Premier for appreciating the proposal. Let us not rest at appreciation of the proposal. Let us go beyond mere appreciation. I should have liked to see in the budget proposals of my honourable friend some inkling of the steps to be taken by the Unionist Party. I do hope my learned friends will consider these matters and find the necessary money. Remember also that to-day we are subsidising the Central Government or in the words of my honourable friend, Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din, we are subsidising British Imperialism in India by this tax that we have to pay — the income tax — a burden which falls upon the people of this province and which is collected not for our benefit but for the benefit of the Central Government. It is time that my honourable friends from this point of view took necessary steps to turn themselves into a body of shock troops in order to raid those avenues which can yield to them the best results financially for the benefit of the people of this province. May I make a further suggestion to my honourable friend? He has got a series of debts which he has to discharge. The interest on those debts that he is paying to-day is 5½ per cent. in one case. It is 4 per cent. in another case and I believe it is 4 per cent. in the third case. It is time, Mr. Speaker, when money is cheap that my honourable friends over there should have given us some inkling in the budget speech of the necessity to convert these loans on lower rates of interest in order to save heavy interest charges. (A voice : He has done it). I asked a question only this morning and what is the reply I get. "No" was the reply and my honourable friend over here the ex-minister who shakes his head was not here to hear the reply. I have not the slightest doubt that my honourable friend will be able to find the necessary sources of revenue.

May I, Mr. Speaker, with your permission also refer to another small matter in connection with the distress that is prevalent in this province and the distress that has caused havoc.

Premier : I hope my honourable friend will forgive me. Are we going to sit up to five o'clock? (A voice : Up to 5-30; last Friday we sat up to 5-30).

Mr. Speaker : I have no objection, if the House wishes to sit up to 5-30 P. M. (The House agreed).

Premier : I request the honourable member to keep the time in view.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Mr. Speaker, I do not desire to take up the time which is necessary for my honourable friend the Premier to reply to this debate, and I shall wind up my speech in time for him to give his views to this House at length because the matters dealt with are of a serious nature. I asked my honourable friend the Finance Member the other day about the Famine Fund, and my honourable friend said that there was no raid on the Famine Fund. This budget that has been prepared by the Unionist Party Finance Minister is a deficit budget. One little item, or rather two little items mentioned by him in his budget speech, if looked into properly, would convert it straightaway into a deficit budget. It was a deficit budget even without these two committees that my honourable friends have set up. At the last moment providence came to the rescue of my honourable friend the Finance Minister — providence whose name in the Punjab is the Accountant-General, and providence said — this is what my honourable friend says in his Explanatory Memorandum, page 3. The Accountant-General advised that the remaining 10,89 lakhs should be transferred to the revenue account. This fortuitous accretion to revenue receipts at the last minute when the budget had been framed, made it possible to increase the provision for rural sanitary schemes by one lakh, to provide 1½ lakhs as a special grant to district boards and so on. At the last moment when the budget had been prepared and it was apparent to my honourable friend opposite that the first budget of the Unionist Party was going to be a deficit budget with a deficit of 8 lakhs, it was then that the Devolution Rules were relaxed, and my honourable friends who were under statutory necessity previously to keep the Famine Fund at 20 lakhs, the moment my honourable friends found their opportunity after they had prepared their figures, after they had come to the conclusion that they would have to show their first budget as a deficit budget, raided this fund to the tune of 10 lakhs. Why did they do it? Is it correct that my honourable friend the Finance Minister has made no provision for hailstorms of the type that have occurred only this year, or has he come to terms with Fate or Providence that there shall be no hailstorms or distress or famine in the future as long as he is Finance Minister? And if there are going to be hailstorms and if necessity arises, I hope he will give relief to the hailstorm areas not in the niggardly fashion in which he did last time, but that he will give relief generously to people who have been robbed of their subsistence by the hand of Fate. And for this purpose was it not necessary that that Fund should have remained inviolate? And my friend but for a legal trick would not have been able to touch it. Why did he touch it? I say it with full responsibility that this is nothing else but financial trickery to rob a fund which was meant for the poor and the poverty-stricken and the distressed. My friend has done it with the sole object that the world should not know that the first budget of the Unionist Party is a deficit budget. If there is any other reason I would like to hear that reason. (An honourable member: We will tell you). Mr. Speaker, my learned friends have had ample opportunities to give us their reasons. They have made many speeches but I have not heard one single reason so far.

I have discussed the economic policy and the financial policy of the Government. May I draw your attention to the political policy of the Government. Let me say this, that my friends over there will have all the support that the Opposition can give them in putting forward a progressive radical political policy for this province, but they may take it from us that every inch of the body of every member of the Opposition will be available for sacrifice if the liberties of the people of this province are touched. (Hear, hear). If the same type of Government, the same type of repressive policy, the same type of arbitrary laws remain on the Statute Book, my honourable friends may take it from me that every type of opposition that we can offer we shall offer to his Government, but if on the other hand his policy is going to be a progressive policy, the honourable members may take it from me that we shall do all we can to support the Government.

In this connection let me congratulate my honourable friend, the Premier for the conference which he has called, I mean the conference for the purpose of bringing about unity between the communities in the province. The resolution that I moved in that conference has been accepted unanimously, but in spite of it there are wrong rumours in the press that there are certain limitations which have been imposed upon the Committee, in coming to a conclusion regarding communal peace. I take it that there are no restrictions of any kind, that every matter which is relevant to the discussion of communal peace will be considered by this committee, and the kudos and glory will go to my honourable friend over there for putting that plan into operation. I congratulate the honourable members of the Opposition for having been quick in seizing this opportunity, and the Honourable the Leader of the Opposition has already said that he will do his level best to promote communal harmony in this province and give it the support of the Opposition.

But my learned friend will forgive me if I draw his attention to a very recent affair which shows that the heart of the Government is not touched by this change. It may be that provincial autonomy in our country is still-born. I hope it is not still-born. But I refer to the case of one Mr. S. V. Ghate, a gentleman who under section 2 of the Criminal Law Amendment Act was searched, arrested and externed. The externment order is dated 17th April. The search took place on the 18th April (An honourable member: Another man has also since been externed). I know Sardar Bhagwan Singh also has been externed. This policy of externment and internment is the old policy of Louis XIV of issuing lettres de cachet, arresting people under Regulation III of 1818 or externing them under the Criminal Law Amendment Act, making use of extraordinary legislation for the purpose of attacking the liberties of the people of this province. I ask my honourable friend over there, does he not feel strong enough in his position as Premier to do without those obnoxious pieces of legislation and those obnoxious methods which were employed by arbitrary rulers in order to rob people of their liberty? If a man commits an offence, resort to the ordinary processes of law. Do not make use of extraordinary legislation to penalise a single individual, no matter who it may be. If my learned friend has evidence of a serious nature, the law courts are open to him. You can and do take action against an individual for sedition, take action against him under section 121-A of the Indian Penal Code, waging war against the King. You have all the powers that the ordinary law gives you. Why then do you utilise the extraordinary law? If that is going to be the policy of the Government, may I ask, in what particular is this policy different from the policy of its predecessor? In what way is it different from the policy of those who sat on those benches before you? I am not going to refer to any more cases, but if my learned friend wishes to have the fullest evidence in regard to these matters it is available for him and if he desires a discussion in regard to this matter I have not the slightest doubt that the Opposition would be only too glad to discuss these points with him. But I do ask if the Government wishes to be called democratic, if the Honourable Premier claims that his Government is the Government of the people for the people, is it not necessary and proper that he should rule the people with the aid of the ordinary law and not by extraordinary arbitrary methods? Let me draw his attention again to a most serious matter, namely the constitutional issue. My learned friend the other day gave us a certain reply to the questions put by me. It is a fact that the Government of India Act says that the Governor may preside at meetings of the cabinet. My information is that rules of business have been framed which provide that the Governor "will" preside at cabinet meetings and my information is that the Governor actually does preside at all cabinet meetings. I want to know why my honourable friend, in a constitutional matter of this grave importance allows this state of affairs to continue. I have nothing to say against the Governor, he is perhaps one of our ablest Governors and it is quite probable that he is of great assistance to my honourable friends in the Government. But the constitutional position is different. It is this. It was only after tremendous constitutional struggles in the dominions that this position has been won, namely that the Governor has been made a figure head in the dominions. Why has not my honourable friend raised this constitutional issue? I hold in my hand, thanks to the courtesy of the Chief Secretary of the Unionist Party, His Excellency the Viceroy's speech. One statement in that speech is of great import and I therefore wish to draw my honourable friend's attention to it. On page 3 of his speech he says—

I have already stated that ministers have a duty of advising the Governor over the whole range of the executive government within the ministerial field and this, Mr. Speaker, is the most important portion of it—including the area of special responsibility. For advice given whether on matters within or without the scope of the special responsibilities, ministers are answerable to the legislature.

I want to know whether it is a fact that to-day the rule exists, whether written or otherwise, that certain heads of departments can go over the heads of ministers to the Governor.

Premier: No, that is not the case.

Diwan Chaman Lall: I have unchallengeable proof in my possession to show that the heads of departments can go to the Governor over the heads of ministers, whereas my honourable friend says 'no'. Probably he does not know that there is a legal provision and that that legal provision is being utilised under which secretaries can go direct to the Governor.

Premier: I say emphatically no.

Diwan Chaman Lall: If that is the position, may I ask my honourable friends over there, what do they intend to do to vindicate the honour of the ministry in the Panjab?

Premier : It is not necessary to do so, there is no occasion for it.

Diwan Chaman Lall : My learned friend says, it is not necessary to do so. May I draw his attention to the fact that when on the floor of this House it was desired to discuss the question of the personnel of the Public Services Commission, it was the order of the Governor which prevented the discussion. My learned friend says that it is not necessary to do so. Is he taking the orders of the representatives of the people or is he taking the orders of the Governor ?

Premier : There is a cut motion with regard to the Public Services Commission. I shall be only too glad to answer the question of my honourable friend when that motion comes up for discussion.

Diwan Chaman Lall : I am not putting to him a question to answer, but I am referring to an actual fact that is on record that the representatives of the people of this province assembled in the Legislative Assembly were prevented from discussing the personnel of the Public Services Commission when every man in the street could discuss it, when every newspaper in the land could write fullsome articles about it. We, the representatives of the people, have not the power nor the authority to discuss a matter of this description. (Interruption). What is my honourable friend over there doing sitting in his seat and not resigning his office when that power is challenged by the Governor? I call upon him to vindicate the dignity of the House by resigning from the Government on this one issue. It is only by such constitutional steps that the liberty of the people of Great Britain has been won out of the hands of the executive authority. It is only by standing up for our own dignity, as Mahatma Gandhi and Pandit Jawahar Lal Nehru are doing, that our honour can be preserved and our rights and privileges guaranteed to us. (Cheers).

Minister for Development (The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram) : Several points have been raised by various speakers on the opposition benches. I am not going to reply to all of those points, but I will select just two or three which specially concern me or which specifically concern the Unionist Party. It has been suggested that the Unionist Party has done nothing, and as it has done nothing so far, therefore the Opposition feels that it is perfectly at liberty to conclude that the Unionist Party is not going to do anything in the future. So far as the future doings of the Government are concerned, they will not be the achievements of the Unionist Party alone but of the ministerial party as a whole. But as the Unionist Party forms a very substantial proportion of the ministerial party I will not grudge the Opposition the right of levelling the whole of their criticism against the Unionist Party. However, for an effective reply I need only draw their attention to the programme which was drawn up by the Unionist Party before it went to the polls and which has now been adopted by the Government as a whole for execution.

With your permission I should like to read just a few of the items of that programme. The first item is "to promote the interest of masses without undue encroachment on the interest of capitalists, big land-holders and moneyed people" (Interruption) — without undue encroachment — which means that if any due encroachment is necessary it will be undertaken.

The second item is "to take up economic reconstruction and re-organisation of agricultural and industrial life of the province so as to cope with the problem of unemployment."

The third item is "to study and promote the commercial interests of the Province."

The fourth item is "to overhaul the educational system in all its branches."

The fifth item is "to promote industries with special emphasis upon cottage industries in rural areas so as to provide supplementary means of income to rural population."

The sixth item is "to improve methods of marketing including reform of objectionable market usages and practices."

The seventh and the last item to which I need draw the attention of the House is "to distribute fairly and equitably the burden of taxation."

I think these items will sufficiently indicate the future intentions of the Ministerial Party. They are manifestly beneficent in their character. But it has been said over and over again with a great deal of emphasis, even vehemently, that the Government has done nothing so far. Well, I do not admit that the Government has done nothing so far. But I am free to admit that we have not been able to do much. The reason for this is obvious. After all the present Government has not been in office for much more than three months. We do not claim that we possess either a magic wand or magic carpet or an Alladin's lamp. Miracles, whether moral or physical or economic, overnight are impossible. What Government—whether it be a Congress Government or a Liberal Government or a Unionist Government or any other Government—could have done more within three months to execute the programme to which I have drawn the attention of the House just now than we have done.

Here is a programme to which no reasonable exception can be taken and which provides for distinct amelioration of the conditions of the people in general and the poorer section of the community in particular. If we have not been able so far to execute any appreciable portion of it, we are not to blame. The time at our disposal has been so short that no Government, whatever its composition, could have done anything more than we have done.

Now, Sir, a special reference was made by the honourable mover of the out to the need of paying attention to the condition of backward classes, and, in particular, of the scheduled classes. In this connection I may be allowed to refer to the creed of our party. The fifth item in the creed of our party is a provision of equal facilities and opportunities for all, with special solicitude for the backward classes and areas whether rural or urban. This item of the creed of our party fully covers the case of all backward classes and all backward areas. It necessarily covers the case of scheduled classes, who are nothing more nor less than an accentuated edition of backward classes. I may also draw the attention of the House to what the

[Minister for Development.]

Founder of the Unionist Party said in a foreword to a pamphlet written by me. He says—

(“ Hear, hear ” from the Treasury Benches.)

There could not be a more lucid exposition of the creed of our party nor a better guarantee of the fact that the present Government is going to protect and safeguard the interests of backward classes and help the poorer section of the community.

Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din : Without touching the interests of the rich.

Minister for Development : Yes, without unduly touching the interests of the rich. If, however, moneyed people and big land-holders like the interruptors themselves desire that their rights and privileges should be encroached upon unduly, nothing could be better. Let the proposal come from the more enthusiastic members of the Opposition. Then we will see how the Opposition as a whole behaves as compared with Unionists.

Lala Duni Chand : Kindly specifically state what the Government is going to do for the backward classes ?

Minister for Development : Now, Sir, I may be allowed to draw the attention of the House to another item included in the objects of the Unionist Party. Even here we distinctly say :

پسماندہ جماعتوں اور واماندہ طبقوں کو حتی الامکان باقی طبقوں کے برابر
لئے آنا قومی مصالح کے اعتبار سے بے حد اہم ہے۔

(“ Hear, hear ” from the Treasury Benches.)

An Honourable member : Will money come from heaven ?

Minister for Development : The last point to which I may be allowed to draw the attention of the House with regard to backward classes, is contained in the same pamphlet and runs as follows :—

سب کے لئے ترقی کے مساوی مواقع مہیا کرنا اور پس ماندہ جماعتوں اور علاقوں میں حکومت کی مفید سرگرمیوں کو روز افزوں ترقی دینا تاکہ گزشتہ زمانے میں بے نیاز اور تغافل کی پالیسی لے انہیں جو نقصان پہنچایا ہے اُسکی تلافی ہو سکے۔

Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din : Is the Honourable Minister allowed to waste time of the House in propagating the constitution of the Unionist Party ?

Minister for Development : It was definitely suggested by one of the members of the Opposition that the Unionist Party and the Government in power should take particular care to see that the interests of the backward classes are duly promoted, and I think I have a right to draw the attention of the House to the creed of my party, to the objects of my party and to the programme of my party to show how keen we are to promote the interests of backward classes.

Lala Duni Chand : Are you going to concede to them the right of purchase of land ?

Minister for Development : That point was never raised, and if my friend desired to raise it at any place in Ambala I will be there to address the audience with him. It will be interesting to see the result.

Now, Sir, I may be allowed to come to that portion of the speech of the honourable mover of this out which related to me. He did not disclose my name ; he was kind enough to keep my name concealed. But I have absolutely no hesitation in admitting and disclosing the fact that I made a speech at Pai in the district of Karnal and another speech in my honourable friend's constituency, the purport of which seems to have exercised so deeply the mind of my honourable friend representing the rural Ambala constituency. I will just refer to the various points of his complaint. He says that at one of the meetings I urged that it would be a shame for an agriculturist to vote for a non-agriculturist. I cannot possibly remember the exact words which I might have used or the precise language in which I expressed my feelings. But it is one of my settled convictions that normally an agriculturist should not under present conditions, vote for a non-agriculturist (cheers) and the reason is patent. (An honourable member : And vice versa). Quite so. It is only an agriculturist who can really and fully understand and appreciate the difficulties and requirements of the agricultural population.

Lala Duni Chand : Then you should not vote for Mahatma Gandhi or Pandit Jawahar Lal Nehru ?

Minister for Development : In this matter I do not care for you or Mahatma Gandhi or Pandit Jawahar Lal Nehru. So long as I am in power I shall do what I consider best for agriculturists. It is one of my settled convictions that normally it is only an agriculturist who can really protect and safeguard the interests of agricultural classes ; it is only an agriculturist who really understands the difficulties and prejudices of agricultural classes and it is only an agriculturist who can normally—(An honourable member : But not a landlord.) My friend says that a landlord cannot normally protect the interest of the small land owner. (An honourable member : Because they form a different class.) They are not a different class in the Punjab. This distinction between the big land-holder and the small land-owner may be true in the United Provinces ; it may be true in Bengal ; it may be true in the Central Provinces. But I maintain and strongly maintain that the distinction between a big land-holder and a small land-owner in the Punjab does not exist. Many people would, of course, like to produce such a gulf. (Honourable members : Question.) It makes no difference whether you all cry at the same time or cry one by one. I will go on all the same.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : May I ask the Honourable Minister whether he means by an agriculturist, an agriculturist by birth or by profession ?

Minister for Development : Both. A man born in an agriculturist family, even though he may have left his ancestral profession, continues to be an agriculturist in his mentality, in his outlook and in his sympathy. (Hear, hear). Therefore I claim that an agriculturist even after he has actually given up the profession of agriculture continues to be an agriculturist. (Interruption). I am afraid I cannot make a speech which will appeal to Lala Duni Chand. I am absolutely sure that my speech will appeal to those who take a dispassionate view of the question. My speech has not so far appealed even to my friend Mian Iftikhar-ud-Din who is a big land-holder. He is there (pointing to the opposition benches) and I am glad he is there, because he is there in pursuance of his sincere convictions. If a man sincerely holds that he should go against big land-holders even in the Punjab where they are so few, I will not grudge him that liberty. But I claim an equal liberty for myself for suggesting that even a big land-holder in the Punjab is more or less substantially of the same attitude, the same mentality, as a small landowner. Fortunately, there is no distinction between a big land-holder and a small landowner in the Punjab so far as the question of sympathy, outlook and mentality is concerned, and it is these considerations which matter and not the actual profession of an individual who happens to make a speech or who happens to be sitting and laughing in his seat.

Now, Sir, the honourable mover of this cut also complained that I had made a reference to the starving millions of the Punjab among whom zamindars figure so prominently and that I had suggested that most of the taxation came out of the pockets of these starving agriculturists of the Punjab. Is the suggestion incorrect, Sir ? (An honourable member : Were you that gentleman ?) I was the gentleman who was giving expression to these views. It is also true that I suggested that there were two types of population in the Punjab, one type consisting of persons who could get an appetite, who could not digest what they ate, without the help of medicines and another type, consisting of persons who could not get enough food to satisfy their hunger. In speaking of these two types I further suggested that we ought to do, and that our Government would try to do something to bring about as large an approximation as possible between the conditions under which the starving millions and these rich people were living. (Interruption). I see a large group sitting in front of me. In spite of the labels

some of them have chosen to wear, I know a very large proportion of them are capitalists. They claim to be socialists, but they are really capitalists in the garb of socialists. How can people, such as Seth Sudarshan, be real socialists ? (A voice : Are you a real socialist ?) I have the mentality of a poor man. I have the mentality of an agriculturist. And I prefer to have that mentality, the mentality of a worker and a peasant rather than the mentality of a capitalist (hear, hear). But why should a Congressman startle when I say that an approximation should be brought about between the conditions in which the starving millions of the Punjab live and the conditions in which the idle rich live ? Another point in my speech of which grievance was made by my honourable friend Mr. Duni Chand was that for fresh funds, which are so badly needed, we should look to people who are groaning under the burden, not of taxation but, of wealth. Now, practically nine tenths of the provincials tax comes out of the pockets of the poor people. Was I wrong, Sir, when I suggested that all necessary further taxation should be imposed upon those sections of the population who are rich, who are wealthy, and, who can easily bear the burden of fresh taxation.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Whether rural or urban ?

Minister for Development : Yes, a rich man wherever he exists whether he lives in a rural area or an urban area ought to be made to contribute a much larger share to the provincial exchequer than he has done so far. (Hear, hear). (A voice : Whether an agriculturist or non-agriculturist) Yes, whether an agriculturist or a non-agriculturist (hear, hear).

Lala Duni Chand : The result of such speeches has been setting of agriculturists against non-agriculturists.

Minister for Development : I do not know the effect of my speeches in the direction of setting up agriculturists against non-agriculturists, but, I know that one of the effects of my speeches has been to wake up the people whom capitalists had been exploiting for ages. (Hear, hear). I have brought about political consciousness where none existed before.

Lala Duni Chand : There is so much corruption in your district.

Minister for Development : I am not speaking of corruption at all. When the time for speaking of corruption comes, my friends will have another opportunity of having a fling at the Government, and there is no lack of men on Ministerial benches who can very effectively reply to that criticism. Another point in my speech to which Mr. Duni Chand made a reference was about my advice to zamindars that they should not heed what appears in the Press. It is true that I said so in that speech, and I say it again and I will repeat it every time I have an opportunity of addressing the rural people. And the reason is plain. The whole of the Press is monopolized by urban people, non-agriculturists and capitalists with absolutely no sympathy with rural classes and agriculturists (hear, hear), whose sole business is to throw as much mud as they can on the Unionist Party, on the Ministerial Party and on the Government of the day. I advise my agriculturists friends not to heed the contents of such papers.

Lala Duni Chand : Do you not want any Press in the Punjab ?

Minister for Development : I want a Press which will give expression to true and salutary ideas about all classes of the population, and will be, at least tolerably, fair as between Government and the Opposition.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : What about the Jat Gazette ?

Minister for Development : I think it is twenty times better than any other paper published either from Delhi or Lahore (hear, hear). Any way I offered that advice to my unsophisticated rural audience and I assure my honourable friends that I will offer that advice over and over again until every man in rural areas has realised that the propaganda carried on by a very large proportion of the Punjab Press is a lying propaganda.

Lala Duni Chand : That is an obsession on your part.

Mr. Deputy Speaker : Order, order. I would request the honourable member not to interrupt while another honourable member is speaking.

Minister for Development : I desire to touch upon just one more point of my honourable friend's speech. That point related to the topheaviness of the administration. I have myself complained of topheaviness of the administration before, and I am free to admit now that the charge of topheaviness in respect of the administration is well-founded (hear, hear). But I assure the Opposition that everything in the power of Government will be done to remove such of this topheaviness as is practicable to remove.

Sardar Lal Singh : The way to hell is paved with good intentions.

Minister for Development : I think good intentions are twenty times better than no intentions and a million times better than dubious intentions. We have good intentions and we have every hope and desire to give effect to these intentions and if the honourable members would kindly wait for a (A voice : A few years) a few years (laughter), not a few days or a few weeks, but if my honourable friends would have the patience to wait for a few years they would see a very large proportion of these intentions translated into facts. If we continue in office as we hope, for the full term of 5 years, we shall at the end of that period, be able to claim truthfully and honestly that we have given effect to a very large portion of our programme, if not to the whole of it. (hear, hear).

Premier (The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan) : Sir, we have listened to much eloquence, forensic and parliamentary, specially from my honourable friend who has just come back to the House (Diwan Chaman Lall). As a speaker with fluency and command over language, not many in this House surpass him, but, Sir, when you analyse his speech, when it is divested of all mere verbiage and effort at eloquence, what do you find ? You find that there is a confusion of a few figures picked up haphazard from various reports, reports not relating to the present year, or the near past, but reports which relate to 1930 or perhaps to 1926 or 1927. He made capital of his knowledge of the International Bureau of Labour at Geneva. I may concede again, that perhaps he knows a great deal about that Bureau and its doings, because he represents a labour constituency and it is up to him to make a case for the people whom he represents. But that does not necessarily mean that what the International Bureau in Geneva is doing is necessarily applicable to the Punjab at the present day. He quoted figures about death rate, figures which he had not taken the trouble to compare with other provinces in this country. May I for his information and for the information of honourable members of the House state that the death rate in the Punjab is lowest as compared with any other province in this country (hear, hear). The figure of infantile mortality in this province is 158·4 as against 176 which is the figure for the whole of India. Again with regard to the famine conditions, we who have the misfortune of being zamindars know that famine to the zamindars is a calamity which not only cripples them at the time but leaves destruction behind for them their whole families and for generations afterwards.

I hope that in view of the advance that we have made with regard to irrigation, with regard to communications and with regard to other facilities during the past few years, these calamities are now remote and are few and far between. I hope when we have completed our new programme of new projects these calamities would become even remoter. Now, Sir, the time at my disposal is so short that I may only very briefly answer one or two other criticisms which he made with regard to the budget. His first criticism was that there is a large amount of loan which this province owes, why not convert it now because we are paying interest at 4, 4½ and 5 per cent. The honourable member ought to know that you cannot convert a loan at will. The people who have contributed to that loan contributed on the condition that the loan will not be redeemable up to a certain period (Sardar Sampuran Singh : No effort has been made). The honourable member interrupting does not know what he is talking about.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I interrupt the Honourable Premier? How did they do it in England?

Premier : I will come to that point. The only way in which you can redeem the loan, taking advantage of the present cheap rate of interest, is that you should go to the market and float a fresh loan, so that you should repay to those people from whom you have borrowed that money, but you will not be able to pay at once or necessarily at par. Those people will say our contract is that you will not redeem the loan before the year 1940 or 1942. We are prepared to take that money provided you make an allowance for the loss which we suffer.

Diwan Chaman Lall : That only relates to four crores.

Mr. Deputy Speaker : The honourable member should not address the Premier : he should address the Chair.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Mr. Deputy Speaker, that only relates to four crores, but the rest of the debt is funded debt with the Government of India.

Premier : There again, I am afraid, the honourable member is confusing our consolidated debt with the Government of India with the debt which is at lower rate of interest than 4 per cent. Much of the debt is pre-war debt which we borrowed for building canals and was borrowed at 8 or 8½ per cent. Now on the consolidated debt which we owe to the Government of India the average rate is much less: of course we have come to an arrangement with the Government of India by which we will pay it in a period of 45 years. I speak subject to correction, but I believe it is 45 years. With regard to the debt which we have borrowed in the open market, as I pointed to the honourable member, it is not in our power to redeem it unless the people who have paid the money are prepared to take back their money. He may be sure that the Honourable the Finance Minister is looking into the question of that loan and that when within the next few months we are going to repay that loan, it is quite possible that the repayment of that loan may be by means of a conversion. We want money for the Haveli Project also. But these matters must naturally remain confidential. We cannot announce the details until we come to a definite decision on the matter. In any case the honourable member may be sure that so far as the conversion of the loan is concerned, the Government is vigilant and the present Honourable Finance Minister is anxious to see that we save as much money as possible in the shape of interest (hear, hear).

[Premier.]

Then, Sir, my honourable friend sitting opposite who represents the Kasur constituency in Lahore has put forward certain socialistic theories. I know he is keen on these views. I hope he will forgive me if I say that these half baked theories of his, if you analysed them, are not applicable to this province of ours—a province which is the province of peasant proprietors. As my honourable friend there said 90 per cent. of the holdings in this province are, from his point of view and very likely from the point of view of the experts, uneconomical holdings and that the remaining 10 per cent. are in the hands of bigger zamindars. May I again invite the honourable member, as I have often done outside in my conversation that there are only 3,400 persons who pay Rs. 500 or more than Rs. 500 as land revenue.

Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din : Mr. Deputy Speaker, there is one thing which I would like to point out. If 85 per cent. of the land lords can subsist on 40 per cent. of cultivated land, why cannot 15 per cent. subsist on the 60 per cent. of such land which they own.

Premier : The honourable member entangles himself in figures, Sir. That is quite a different matter. The honourable member is not clear, and is interrupting me. I was going to point out that there are only 3,400 persons who pay more than Rs. 500 as land revenue. It is quite possible that government may eventually find that extra burden may be placed on these people. Supposing we impose a further 25 per cent. on these people and give corresponding relief to others, it will only bring 5½ lakhs. What is that 5½ lakhs to help in ameliorating the condition of the teeming millions who, as my honourable friend remarked, are starving and who, I know, are in difficulty because I fully realise and I quite appreciate that their burden is heavy. It is our effort as it is the desire of the honourable members opposite that we should reduce the burden on those people whose holdings are uneconomical (Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din : Or small) Yes, or small because we want to bring them to a level of adequate economic life. That is the point which I wanted to make. The difference between the honourable member's socialism and mine is this that he wants to pull down the bigger people whereas I want to raise the poor people. (Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din : Inconsistent). It is not. I will try to make it clear to the honourable member opposite again. As a theorist he says, "Why don't you give remissions to the poor people who will benefit from that remission?" There are a large number of people who pay small amounts in land revenue?" What do they pay? For instance in some places they pay only Re. 1 per acre. Now if we remit the whole of land revenue how much relief per capita would they get. They will hardly get on an average Rs. 2 per head.

Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din : That should be given now and not when your scheme comes up.

Premier : The honourable member wants to make the province bankrupt.

Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din : Get it from the rich.

Premier : My honourable friend is much too impetuous. If he will hear me I will answer all his questions. If I were to give away the whole of the land revenue, which we realise now, in the shape of remission, it would mean the province would be bankrupt, and there will be no money left for beneficent activities. There will be no money left to help the poorer people or for the matter of that any people in this province. (A voice: We do not want). You would not tell me of any other source. If I put 25 per cent. surcharge on the rich people I will only get 5½ lakhs and that will not go very far to make up the deficiency which will be created by remitting 7 crores of land revenue and abiana. How am I going to make it up? Let me tell you that there is another way and a better way from my point of view, and that is to raise the purchasing power of the people. My idea is to raise their income and raise their purchasing power by Rs. 5 so that they can easily pay Rs. 2.

Diwan Chaman Lall : How would you do it ?

Premier : My honourable friend asks, how ? There is just one little instance which I will give you . Four years ago I calculated that the leakage which I might term as pilferage, in the market amounted to nearly 2 or 3 crores of rupees in regard to wheat crop alone. I will tell you how it happens. I am not talking of irregularities in the mandi. I am not talking of the dishonest mandi man. I am talking of the real leakage which could be stopped without in any way affecting the middle man or the people who trade in the mandis. A man goes to one of the mandis of Lyallpur and says I have got ten maunds of wheat to sell and asks 'Shahji what is the price' Shahji turns round to the munim and tells him to quote Karachi price and says as he is our old client and friend please quote him the genuine price as we must not let him down.

(At this stage Mr. Speaker resumed the Chair.)

The munim takes out a telegram and says "The rate in Karachi to day is Rs. 2-8-9 per maund while the rate here is so much and, therefore, we are going to buy your wheat at that rate." The bargain is struck. The wheat is taken and then it is weighed. I am not talking about other Mandi charges. I keep them absolutely separate. But he does one thing before weighing. He says that he would make a deduction for what is called "Bador Kachra". He then deducts a seer or two or more according to the custom in the market. He does not inform the buyer that that allowance has already been taken account of in the Karachi price. Now if you will add up the loss on this account, you will find that the province is losing three crores of rupees annually on the wheat crop alone. That is where you can save three crores. (Loud applause). It would be much better to divert your attention to that aspect of the matter than taking away 5½ lakhs from two or three hundred persons. That is what we propose to do.

Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : Will the Government be able to have it ?

Premier : Why not, if you help us ? If you really help us, we will be able to make them pay. But these things do not look very impressive from the point of view of publicity, which my honourable friends seem to desire. Standardisation alone will, I think, so far as the better quality of wheat is concerned, raise the price of wheat by four annas. You have the best varieties of wheat grown in the Punjab. My honourable colleague on the left will tell you that there has been considerable improvement in the quality of wheat and if it is standardised, it is bound to fetch about four annas extra per maund. Even now in Delhi and other markets No. 591 wheat is at a premium of three or four annas. These are some of the methods of increasing the purchasing power of the peasant. You can increase their purchasing power by several crores and that would be of much greater value to the province than giving away in remissions a few annas. (hear, hear). This is one way of making money.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : If you will not allow them, they will bring down the rate.

Premier : The honourable member obviously knows nothing about agriculture, nor I am sorry to say anything about business economics.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : That remark is unparliamentary.

Mr. Speaker : Order, order.

Premier : A great deal of capital was made by my honourable friends opposite in regard to the policy of the present Government. As you are aware we have been in office only for three months. Let me detail to the honourable members the amount of leisure that my colleagues and I have had during these three months. The very day we came into office there was a calamity in the form of a riot at Kot Fateh Khan. Next was the Gujrat trouble. Then there was the Amritsar trouble. There were further minor troubles in Rewari and Gurgaon. I say with all the responsibility and authority that I command that I am almost certain that these troubles are not spontaneous, as I said before, but they are engineered by certain sections of our own people to embarrass the present Government. I have said in this House before and I repeat it again, that I have reason to believe that most of these troubles are engineered by people for the sake of creating political trouble in the country. You wanted us to do a certain amount of retrenchment. The first thing that we decided to do was to retrench the additional police whose strength is about 575. We did not originally include the item of additional police force in the budget, because I decided that it should be excluded, but when the budget came actually to be framed, there were these two troubles. After that I issued orders that we should reduce the additional police but unfortunately the Alla trouble arose due purely to local circumstances but fanned later by people on both sides with the result that we had a big riot and we had to open fire. That is why we want additional police there. But I ask, "Who is going to pay for it"? The people who have lighted the gun powder there are not to be found there. They have left the spot for their places of safety after creating trouble. It is those people that I want to catch. You may rest assured that if I have your support, I will not give them any quarter if I catch them. (hear, hear).

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Is there any justification for the repressive policy of the Government?

Premier : I am glad that my honourable friend has mentioned this subject of repressive policy. My honourable friend said that we had externed Mr. Ghate who came all the way from Bombay on the 18th of April. (Voices : Orders for his externment were issued on the 17th). We knew on the 17th that he was coming here. We were fully aware of his past record and we also knew the purpose for which he was coming to the Punjab. Instead of taking any drastic measure, the gentleman was requested to go back from the Punjab and work elsewhere because he being an All India worker had a vast field for him in ten other provinces. As we knew the purpose for which he was coming to the Punjab—but which I am not at liberty to divulge—we thought it better to pack him instead of allowing him to enter the province and create trouble—perhaps a trouble which might have necessitated taking action against some other people here. We politely requested him to go back. We provided him with a ticket, and left him at Delhi with the request that he must go back.

With regard to political prisoners, we are discussing a resolution on that subject and I think I will have ample opportunity of saying something about the policy of the Government with regard to political prisoners when we have a debate on the subject on the 23rd of this month. You want me to remove the laws relating to repressive measures from the statute book. I am at one with you and the sooner we remove these laws the better for everybody concerned and for the honour of our province. I agree with you here but I would also appeal to you that you should help me in creating an atmosphere which should make it easy for me to achieve that end.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : Give them a trial.

Premier : Whom ?

Sardar Sampuran Singh : If you will give me an opportunity of doing so, I will give them a trial.

Mr. Speaker : Has the Honourable Premier finished ?

Premier : I seek your indulgence.

Mr. Speaker : How much more time will he take to finish his speech ?

Premier : Ten minutes. We have been challenged with regard to the programme of the present Government.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Can you give the time legally under the rules, because two days are over ?

Premier : I leave it to the House. If they do not want to hear me, I shall stop.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : The question is one of rules.

Mr. Speaker : Does the House wish that the Honourable Premier may finish ?

(The House expressed the desire that the Premier should finish his speech).

Premier : We were challenged with regard to our programme and policy. My honourable friends opposite said that in this budget we find nothing for the poor, nothing for the lower classes for whom we all profess sympathy—there is nothing there to better or ameliorate the position of that class. If he had looked at the budget carefully he would have found that the Haveli Project alone would cost 5½ crores of rupees. Government is providing 5½ crores for that project, so that a large number of people could be colonised, so that they may be able to earn an honest living. For the next four years a large number of educated and uneducated people will be employed, and I hope that by the time we have finished this project we will be ready to proceed with another one and that is the Thal Project. It means that there will be employment for several years not only for the educated people, but also for unskilled labour—in their hundreds and thousands.

[Premier.]

With regard to our programme may I, with your permission, read out a few extracts from the statement which I issued on behalf of the Cabinet when I took office. I may also read the portion which relates to the constitution. This is what I said :

"Muslims, Hindus, Sikhs and Christians have, all alike, pronounced a clear verdict in favour of trying out the new constitution. It is our duty to obey their mandate and we will make every endeavour to plan and raise an edifice which will be worthy of the Punjab and do credit to our Motherland.

The Punjab Cabinet is under no delusion as to the nature and extent of the limitations and restrictions which the new Government of India Act imposes on autonomy even in the provincial sphere. Nevertheless, in pursuance of the clearly expressed wish of the electorate, it has undertaken the task of running the administration and securing the utmost good out of the new constitution."

Again we said—

"We will take the earliest opportunity of announcing our considered plans when we have had time to mature them. Meanwhile, there are certain matters of outstanding importance upon which some light may, with advantage, be thrown at the very outset.

Lightening the burden of the peasantry, tackling the problem of unemployment, development and expansion of nation-building activities, uplifting backward classes, including our brethren of the scheduled castes, and creating a more favourable atmosphere for the promotion of communal amity and goodwill are questions which have been the subject of universal comment not only in the Punjab, but throughout India.

"The Cabinet is resolved to deal with a firm hand with all those who, on one pretext or another, indulge in pouring vials of communal poison through the Press or from platform into the minds of an unsuspecting and unsophisticated public. Side by side with this, steps will also be taken to promote feelings of mutual goodwill, trust and toleration in other ways."

I trust that the committee which we have appointed will go a great way in this if gentlemen will allow us to make a headway with that committee. Then again—

"We take this opportunity of giving a solemn assurance to our fellow citizens that each one of us is pledged—and will do his utmost—to watch vigilantly and to protect scrupulously the legitimate interests of all communities equally with those of his own."

This is what we said with regard to minorities. With regard to taxation also, I said something very briefly. I might, with your permission, just read this much—

"The clear import of this dual process is that in order to afford the requisite relief to the peasantry and to provide for the removal or even mitigation of unemployment and the intensification of nation-building activities it would be necessary to explore fresh avenues and examine the existing sources of revenue with a view to augmenting our income to the extent which would enable us to take appreciable action in these very desirable directions without adding to the burden of the poorer classes.

While the Cabinet desires to assure the public that every reasonable attempt will be made to effect all reasonable economy in order to cheapen the administration consistently with efficiency, it should be borne in mind that extensive retrenchment was effected in almost all departments when the depression set in and that the votable portion of the budget is not very large."

But in spite of that we will do our best.

This House is aware that in pursuance of that policy we have already appointed two committees, one to examine the fresh sources of revenue and also to effect economies, and the other to look into the questions of unemployment.

Before I sit down, let me tell this to my honourable friends opposite. We are not foreigners here, we are not an alien government, we are your kith and kin, we feel equally for the development of the Punjabis, of Indians of the poor classes, of the depressed classes, nay of all that are needy, and require consideration.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Does the Honourable Premier also endorse the view expressed by Honourable Chaudhri Chhotu Ram that an agriculturist should not have voted for a non-agriculturist? Does he consider it conducive to peace and harmony in the province?

Premier : Sir, my views are well known.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : But does the Honourable Premier endorse the view I have just mentioned?

Premier : My view is that we should try to create an atmosphere where there will be no question of Hindu and Muslim, Christian or Sikh, where there will be no question of agriculturist and non-agriculturist. (Loud and prolonged cheers).

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Then you condemn the view. I am glad.

Premier : May I add, Sir, that that atmosphere can be created only if my honourable friends opposite will also support me genuinely and wholeheartedly.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : I will support him in everything good, everything that is conducive to peace and harmony in the province. (Cheers.)

Premier : An appeal has been made to us to work in the cause of freedom of our Motherland. I may say that no one on this side is a whit behind the honourable members opposite in wishing to achieve that ideal. But let me ask my honourable friends what kind of freedom do they want? Do they want the freedom on the pattern of Spain? Or do they want the freedom which Germany has got at the moment? Or again do they want the freedom that prevails in Russia? (An honourable member : Yes). The honourable member over there glibly says "yes." But if he were in Russia he would not be sitting there shouting "yes." The practice in Russia is that those who try to oppose the party in power are not only not allowed to remain inside the legislature, by whatever name it is there called; but they are not even allowed to live in this world. (An honourable member : What is your attitude towards the new constitution?) My attitude towards the new constitution is well known. It has got its shortcomings, it has got its limitations, but in spite of the limitations we hope to get the best out of it for our people and our province. My honourable friends opposite asked us to look at what was happening in other countries. We know what is happening in other countries. We know what is happening in France to-day, the most democratic country in the world. It is on the verge of bankruptcy and they have been trying to save the franc for the last so many years. It will also be observed that the longest period that any Government can survive there is six months. (An honourable member: That is the defect in the constitution). There are only two really democratic countries at the moment, that is, America and England. My honourable friend asks, should we follow the example of England? I say, yes, an emphatic "yes." Do you want the freedom which the people have got in Germany or the people in Italy enjoy? That is not the freedom which I want. I want the freedom which England has got. (An honourable member: Get us that freedom then.) But this is not the way to get it. (Mian Iftikhar-ud-Din: Is it to be got by co-operating with England?) If the honourable members will help us we will be able to achieve that goal in the near future, not in the far distance.

Before I sit down I should like to say one word about the allegation or rather the charge—it was repeated by the honourable member opposite and again by my friend Diwan Chaman Lall—that they have on two or three previous occasions tried to impress the House speaking of rumours that provincial autonomy here was being thwarted by the Governor. I say that that charge is absolutely baseless. I assure honourable members again in this House that there is not an iota of truth in those rumours that secretaries go behind our back, behind the back of ministers to the Governor and take their orders from him. Again, let me repeat what I said in this House that there has not been a single occasion hitherto when the Governor has not accepted the advice of ministers. Let me say again that there has not been a single occasion when the Governor has even tried to interfere with us whether in the field of his special responsibility or outside. Let me make it clear once for all that we also are self-respecting people, we also are patriotic. Patriotism is not merely the monopoly of the people opposite. It is equally our birthright, and I can assure the House that we will safeguard the interests of this province, our motherland, in such a way that India may win the highest freedom and rank as one of the greatest and truest democracies. (Cheers.)

Lala Duni Chand: May I offer one remark?

Mr. Speaker: I would advise the honourable member not to exercise his right of reply on account of shortness of time at our disposal.

Lala Duni Chand: I shall take only one minute. I do not propose to exercise my right of reply for this reason that I want to act like the counsel in a law court who does not want to argue because he thinks his case is unanswerable and the judgment should be in his favour.

Mr. Speaker: Demand under consideration, motion moved—

That the item of Rs. 74,200 on account of total Ministers (votes) be reduced by Re. 1.

The motion was lost.

Mr. Speaker: The question is—

That a sum not exceeding Rs. 91,31,400 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March 1938 in respect of general administration.

The motion was carried.

The Assembly then adjourned till 11 A.M. on Monday, 5th July, 1937.

PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

1ST SESSION OF THE 1ST PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Monday, 5th July, 1987.

The Assembly met at the Assembly Chamber, Simla, at 11 A.M. of the clock. Mr. Speaker in the Chair.

STARRED QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

EXAMINATION OF GIRLS HELD ON BAISAKHI DAY.

*62. Sardar Hari Singh : (i) Will the Honourable Minister for Education please state—

(a) whether he is aware that Baisakhi is one of the most important Hindu and Sikh festivals and is therefore a gazetted public holiday in the whole of India ;

(b) whether it is a fact that the Assistant Inspectress of Girls' Schools, Hoshiarpur district, held the primary school examination of girls of the 5th class of about a dozen girls' primary schools at Haryana on Baisakhi Day, the 13th April, 1987, resulting in a great deal of inconvenience to both Hindu and Sikh girls ?

(ii) If the answer to part (b) above be in the affirmative, what action the Government proposes to take in the matter to prevent the recurrence of such incidents ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (i) (a) Yes.

(b) Yes, but none of the girls complained.

(ii) The Assistant Inspectresses have been asked not to work on holidays in future.

Sardar Hari Singh : May I take it that because none of the girls complained, therefore the Honourable Minister approved of the conduct of the Assistant Inspectress ?

Minister : Not at all. I have said that no action was taken at the time because no complaint was made.

STANDARD OF ARTICLES OF FOOD UNDER THE PUNJAB PURE FOOD ACT.

*67. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to lay on the table the standard of articles of food, fixed by the Government according to rules made under The Punjab Pure Food Act, 1929 ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : A statement showing the required information is laid on the table.

[Minister for Education.]

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Is the Honourable Minister aware of the fact that vegetable oil is being sold in place of pure ghee?

Minister : Possibly.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Is the Honourable Minister also aware of the fact that no distinction can be made between the two?

Minister : By a layman?

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Yes, by a layman.

Minister : Possibly.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Does the Honourable Minister propose to enforce the Act which was passed by the Council of State so far as the colouring of vegetable ghee is concerned?

Minister : Certainly.

CANVASSING FOR VOTES FOR THE ELECTION OF UNIVERSITY FELLOWSHIP BY GOVERNMENT SERVANTS.

*69. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that Government servants are not allowed to canvass or influence voters during the election of University fellowship;
- (b) whether it is within the knowledge of the Government that certain officials did infringe this rule during last elections; if so, whether the Government proposes to take any steps to stop such an infringement in future;
- (c) whether it is a fact that Mr. S. H. Vatayayana, being a graduate of seven years' standing and possessing the necessary qualifications wrote to the Registrar of the Punjab University in the beginning of 1937 for his name being registered as a voter in the Punjab University Constituency under clause (b), Rule No. 18, Schedule VI of the Provincial Legislative Assemblies Order, 1936;
- (d) whether it is a fact that the Assistant Registrar, Punjab University, by his letter No. 12/48, dated the 5th February, 1937, refused to do so against the policy of the Government as enunciated in reply to Punjab Legislative Council Question No. 75965¹ (b) of 29th October, 1936; if so, what action is intended to be taken in the matter?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : I regret that the answer to the question is not ready.

GRANT-IN-AID TO NEW SCHOOLS.

*72. Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Education please state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the Director of Public Instruction has issued a circular letter No. 10426-G., dated the 24th June, 1932, instructing the Inspectors of Schools not to bring any new school on the grant-in-aid list "in view of financial stringency";

[S. S. S. Gurbachan Singh.]

- (b) whether it is a fact that the Inspector of Schools, Jullundur division, refused to recommend the case of Khalsa Primary Branch School, Mohalla Gobindgarh, Jullundur City, to the Municipal Board for grant-in-aid on the authority of the said circular ;
- (c) whether it is also a fact that some new primary or elementary schools in some parts of the province have been brought on to the list of grant-in-aid schools after the issue of the said circular ; if so, the number of such schools division-wise and the reasons for which these schools have been treated differently ;
- (d) whether he is prepared to consider the desirability of relaxing the terms of the said letter and its application to the primary schools (boys and girls) ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) Yes.

(b) Yes.

(c) Information as regards the number of schools division-wise is being collected.

It appears from the reports of the Inspectors that some new primary and elementary schools were brought on the grant-in-aid list after the issue of the circular of 1982. This was so because some of the Inspectors were under the impression that the orders of 1982 were not applicable to primary schools or departments. On a reference from the Inspector of Schools, Jullundur division, the position has recently been clarified and it has been ruled that the orders apply equally to new primary schools and primary departments of secondary schools.

(d) No. The local bodies which are responsible for the payment of grant-in-aid to primary schools are still faced with financial difficulties, and it is not intended to commit them to further liabilities by bringing more schools on the grant-in-aid list.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : Is it a fact that the policy of the Government is to promote primary education in the province ?

Minister : Yes.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : In view of that, will the Honourable Minister relax the terms of the letter mentioned in this question ?

Minister : In view of the fact that the whole question is under consideration, I would not pass any orders at present.

SEDUCTION OF BOYS BY TEACHERS.

73. Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : With reference to my resolution, dated 1st November, 1985, will the Honourable Minister for Education please state the number of cases of seduction of boys by teachers brought to his notice and the action taken by him in each case.

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : A statement is laid on the table.

IRRIGATION BY TUBE WELLS.

*271. Lieutenant Sodhi Harnam Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue kindly state—

(a) whether the Punjab Government is aware that the Government of the United Provinces have made arrangements to supply water for irrigation purposes by tube wells worked by electric motors, all the initial costs regarding these arrangements have been borne by the Government, and that the zamindars only pay for the energy utilized at the rate of annas 2 and 3 pies per unit in winter, and anna one and 6 pies per unit in summer ;

(b) if the answer to (a) above be in the negative whether the Government is prepared to make inquiries regarding this matter ;

(c) if the reply to (a) above be in the affirmative, whether the Government proposes to start a similar scheme in the Punjab ; if so, when ; if not, reasons for the same ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) The Government is aware that the Government in the United Provinces have recently sanctioned an extensive scheme of tube-well development in that province, and that this scheme has now been partially constructed. The honourable member is, however, wrong about the details of the payments made for the use of tube-well water.

(b) Government has already appointed an officer to investigate the possibilities of tube-well development in the Punjab.

(c) Government must await the report of this officer before coming to any conclusions, as the matter is complex and difficult both for technical and financial reasons.

ROYALTY RECEIVED FROM THE GREY CANAL DEPARTMENT.

*272. Lieutenant Sodhi Harnam Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue kindly state—

(a) the area in acres irrigated by Kingwah, Aghawah, Alaheewah, Daulatwah, Bachherewah, Barneswah, Miawah, Butewah, in district Ferozepore in the years 1934-35, and 1935-36, and out of this, in acres areas matured and unmatured separately with the percentage of the unmatured area in 1934-35 and 1935-36 ;

(b) if the percentage of the unmatured area is high, the reasons why it is comparatively higher in respect of Bachherewah, Barneswah, Miawah, Butewah and Daulatwah areas ;

(c) the amount of the capital invested by the Government on these eight canals, i.e., Kingwah, Aghawah, Alaheewah, Daulatwah, Bachherewah, Barneswah, Miawah and Butewah ;

(d) the amount of Royalty the Government have received from the Grey Canal Department from its inception up till now ;

(e) what steps Government intend to take to enable the Grey Canal Department to make the necessary improvements in respect of irrigation by means of the canals mentioned above ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) A statement is laid on the table.

(b) The high percentage of kharaba on the five canals is due to their irrigating the Bet (riverain tract) which is very much subject to the vagaries of rain and floods.

(c) The contributions made by Government from 1890 in respect of all the canals on the Grey Canal System amount to Rs. 1,61,378. It cannot be stated how much of this related to the existing 8 canals as no separate account is kept.

(d) Rupees 28,18,611 excluding the year 1913-14 for which figures are not available.

(e) No specific scheme is under consideration at present.

Statement showing the irrigated, sown, matured and unmatured acreage of the Grey Canals, Ferozepore District.

SHIROMANI GURDWARA PARBANDHAK COMMITTEE'S RESOLUTION RECOMMENDING ALL SIKHS TO BE DECLARED AGRICULTURISTS.

273. Lieutenant Sodhi Harnam Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue kindly state—

- (a) whether the Government is aware of the fact that the Shiromani Gurdwara Parbandhak Committee passed a resolution recommending to the Government that every Sikh residing in the Punjab might be declared as an agriculturist within the meaning of the Punjab Land Alienation Act and that they sent a copy of the same to the Punjab Government ;
- (b) whether the Government is aware of the fact that more than 90 per cent. of the Sikhs residing in the province are living upon agriculture, and that they have no other profession to earn their livelihood but agriculture ;
- (c) what action the Government proposes to take on the resolution referred to in part (a) ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) No.

(b) I should be glad if the honourable member would quote the authority of this statement which does not seem to be quite correct.

(c) Does not arise.

CASES UNDER SECTION 498, INDIAN PENAL CODE.

274. Chaudhri Muhammad Husain : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the total number of cases under section 498, Indian Penal Code, filed in Criminal Courts of the Punjab during each of the years from 1931 to 1936 ;
- (b) the number of such cases the trial of which resulted in conviction of the accused ;
- (c) the number of such cases in which the presence of the abducted women could not be secured in court ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : I regret that the answer to this question is not yet ready.

CIVIL SUITS TO OBTAIN DISSOLUTION OF MARRIAGE.

275. Chaudhri Muhammad Husain : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the total number of civil suits instituted in all the civil courts of the Punjab during each of the years from 1925 to 1936 by

[Ch. Muhammad Husain.]

Muhammadan wives against their husbands praying for a declaration to the effect that their marriages stood dissolved on the ground of their renunciation of Islam and conversion to (i) Christianity, (ii) Sikhism and (iii) Hinduism ;

- (b) the total number of such suits as, in spite of being contested, ended in dismissal ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : It has been ascertained from the High Court that this information could not be collected without an expenditure of time and labour out of all proportion to the results.

NEW EGERTON WOOLLEN MILLS, DHARIWAL.

276. Diwan Chaman Lall : Will the Honourable Minister for Development be pleased to state whether he is aware of the low wages paid to the majority of the workers in the New Egerton Woollen Mills, Dhariwal, the system of illegal fines, the lay-off system of employment, the infliction of corporal punishment as a regular measure on the workers by the subordinate or supervising staff ; if so, what action, if any does Government propose to take ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : Government are not aware of the complaints suggested in the question, but if the honourable member supplies a few specific instances with necessary details of illegal fines, corporal punishment and scale of wages as compared with the scale obtaining in similar other concerns, Government will institute an enquiry, and, if necessary, will take such steps as are permissible under the law to put a stop to the evils found to exist.

CONSTITUTIONAL ASPECT OF PROVINCIAL AUTONOMY.

277. Diwan Chaman Lall : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether his attention has been drawn to the second statement made by the Marquess of Zetland in the House of Lords regarding the constitutional aspect of Provincial Autonomy in which he states that the initiative and responsibility for the Government of the province passes to the Ministry as soon as it takes office and that even when his special responsibilities are involved the Governor would not think of immediately setting himself up in open opposition to the Ministry ;
- (b) whether the constitutional situation which has existed and does exist in the Punjab since the present Ministry took office is in accordance with the statement made by the Secretary of State for India ;

- (c) whether His Excellency the Governor of the Punjab has up to now exercised any powers vested in him in respect of his special responsibilities ;
- (d) whether such exercise has been in consultation and agreement with the Ministry or in defiance of the Ministry ;
- (e) whether in making appointments or in acting otherwise in his discretion or in his individual judgment the Governor has been consulting the Ministry ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Yes.

(b) Yes.

(c) No.

(d) Does not arise.

(e) Yes. I would remind the honourable member of what I said in reply to his question No. *181.¹

Diwan Chaman Lall : In view of a negative reply to part (c) of this question, may I ask the Honourable the Premier whether it is a fact that this House was prevented from discussing the personnel of the Public Service Commission under exercise of special powers by His Excellency the Governor ?

Premier : These powers are quite distinct from his administrative or executive powers. Those powers were exercised in accordance with the rule framed by His Excellency the Governor for proceedings in the Assembly.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I ask the Honourable Premier whether it is a fact that the rules that were framed were framed according to the provision of the Government of India Act and whether it is not a fact that that exercise by His Excellency the Governor of special responsibility resulted in this House being prevented from discussing the personnel of the Public Service Commission ?

Premier : As a matter of fact, I can satisfy the honourable member on that point. If he wants to discuss that point now in the Assembly he is at liberty to do so.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I ask the Honourable the Premier whether it is not a fact that what I have said is correct, but the question is not that you are going to be allowed to discuss the question now, but whether we were not actually prevented from discussing this question previously ?

Premier : I am afraid it is not for me to answer that question, because as I have said before, he exercised his own discretion and in the exercise of his powers these rules were framed by him in consultation with the Speaker and not with the Government.

Mr. Speaker : I may inform the honourable members that the interim rules were made by the Governor, acting in his discretion, under sub-section (3) of section 84 ; while the rules, which he has to make under the proviso to section 84 (1), in consultation with the Speaker, are still under consideration.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May we take it that under sub-section (3) of section 84, the interim rules that were made by the Governor for the business of this House were not made in consultation with the Speaker because there was no Speaker at that time ?

Premier : It was not necessary for the Governor to consult the Speaker, because there was no Speaker at that time.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : May I know if the appointment of the members of the Public Service Commission was made in consultation with the Honourable the Premier or with the Cabinet ?

Premier : I am afraid I must decline to answer that question.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : May I draw the attention of the Honourable the Premier to part (e) of the question ?

It says—

“(e) Will he also state whether in making appointments or in acting otherwise in his discretion or in his individual judgment the Governor has been consulting the Ministry?”

It is with respect to this particular part that we want an answer.

Premier : My answer is quite clear. I do not think any supplementary answer is necessary to that part of the question.

Lala Duni Chand : May I know if due consideration was given to the fact that a police officer, howsoever able he may be, by reason of his long training in the Police Department, will not be a suitable person to preside over the Public Service Commission ?

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION, PUNJAB.

*278. Diwan Chaman Lall : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state the exact educational qualifications of the members of the Public Service Commission, Punjab ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : The educational qualifications of the Punjab members of the Joint Public Service Commission are—

(1) Mr. J. Slattery, O.B.E.—

Possesses no University degree. He was appointed to the Indian Police by His Majesty's Secretary of State for India in 1906 at the age of 20 years, after taking an exhibition in F. A. (Honours) in the Royal University of Ireland (2nd in the Indian Police Competitive Examination). Has been an examiner in a competitive examination held by the Federal Public Service Commission.

2. Sardar Bahadur Sardar Prabh Singh, M.I.E. (Ind.)—
- B. A. I Division of the Punjab University. Diploma holder of the Thomason Engineering College, Roorkee. Has frequently been an examiner in competitive examinations held by the Federal Public Service Commission.
3. Rao Bahadur Captain Chaudhri Lal Chand, O.B.E.—
- B. A., LL.B., of the Punjab University (both II Division). An Advocate of the High Court of Judicature at Lahore. Served on many selection committees (to make selections for the Indian Military Academy and the Prince of Wales College, Dehra Dun) of the Federal Public Service Commission and the Local Government.
4. Khan Bahadur Nawab Muhammad Hayat Qureshi, C.I.E.—
- Possesses no University qualification. Has served on many select committees for the selection of candidates for the post of Deputy Superintendent of Police, Jail Officers and Military Officers and was a permanent Member of the Provincial Medical Selection Board.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state what are the other qualifications of the members of the Public Service Commission ?

Premier : The non-official members of the Commission have done a great deal of public work as members of district boards and municipalities.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : Is the Government aware that the late Sir Pochkhanawala was only a matriculate and he failed in the very first University examination in which he appeared ?

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I ask whether the Central Bank is now in question or the Public Service Commission ?

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Did the Cabinet of the Honourable Premier feel the necessity, or the desirability of representing to His Excellency that a gentleman who has been in the Police all along should not be appointed as the Chairman of the Public Service Commission ?

Mr. Speaker : As the question is a direct request for action, it may not be answered.

IRRIGATION FACILITIES FOR RAYA DIVISION.

279. Chaudhri Muhammad Hussain : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that sometime ago a scheme for extending Bhikhi Minor to the Raya division of the Upper Chenab Canal was prepared by the Irrigation department to extend irrigation facilities to that area ; if so, the stage at which the scheme has reached so far ;
- (b) in case the scheme may have been postponed the reasons for so doing ;
- (c) whether it is intended to re-open the question and to carry out the scheme, if so when ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) The reply to the first part is in the affirmative. As regards the second part, the scheme has been finally abandoned.

(b) It was found technically unsound.

(c) No.

ENTRIES IN THE POLICE REGISTER OF CERTAIN PERSONS.

280. Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state whether it is a fact that amongst those whose names have been recently entered in the police register, under section 9 of the Police Act, one is a respectable pleader of Bhakkar, another Secretary of the Hindu Sabha at Bhakkar, and yet another Manager of the Ram Mandir Mandal, Bhakkar; if so, the reasons why the names of such respectable persons have been so registered?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : The reference to section 9 of the Act appears to be an error. If the question relates to the police surveillance register, it is not correct that entries have been made of the kind described.

PANIPAT FIRING INCIDENT.

281. Mian Abdul Aziz : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

(a) whether any official report has been submitted to him by the officer appointed by Government to inquire into the Panipat firing incident;

(b) if the answer to (a) above be in the affirmative, whether he will lay the said report on the table of the House?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) and (b) The honourable member is referred to the reply given to Mr. Deshbandhu Gupta's short notice question¹ on the 22nd June, 1937.

DAMAGE DONE BY HAILSTORM.

282. Mian Abdul Aziz : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue kindly state—

(a) the amount of land revenue remitted so far in the villages affected by the recent hailstorm;

(b) the number of villages to which the said remissions were allowed;

(c) whether the Government intend to institute inquiries to find out how far the assessments and entries made regarding the damage done are correct?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Rs. 8,81,140 (excluding Sialkot and Gujranwala figures, which are not yet available). Abiana remission figures are separate and not included in these.

(b) 8,218.

(c) No. Government has no reason to doubt the correctness of the assessment and entries made by the local officers.

EXECUTIVE OFFICERS' APPOINTMENTS.

283. Mian Abdul Aziz : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

ADMINISTRATOR AND ASSISTANT ADMINISTRATOR, LAHORE MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE.

284. Mian Abdul Aziz : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works kindly state—

- (a) what additional expense has been incurred on account of the appointment of an Administrator and Assistant Administrator, by the Lahore Municipality and the total amount paid to them from municipal funds up-to-date including all allowances, and contributions ;
- (b) whether the pay and allowances allowed to both of these gentlemen, exceed the amount of their original pay in Government service ; if so, by how much ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) The additional expenditure on account of the appointment of the Administrator paid into the Lahore Treasury from the municipal funds during the period from the 28th October, 1986, to 31st May, 1987, is Rs. 12,099. It may be added for the information of the honourable member that half of the grade pay of the Administrator and half of the leave, pension and passage contributions are being paid by the Improvement Trust. No additional expense has been incurred on account of the appointment of the Assistant Administrator. The total amount paid on behalf of the Assistant Administrator from the municipal funds during the period from the 28th October, 1986, to 31st May, 1987, is Rs. 8,966.

(b) Yes—

- (i) In the case of Mr. Jones by Rs. 250 per mensem special pay, and Rs. 100 per mensem conveyance allowance.
- (ii) In the case of Mr. Macnabb by Rs. 100 per mensem conveyance allowance.
- (iii) In the case of Assistant Administrator by Rs. 850 per mensem special pay and Rs. 100 per mensem conveyance allowance.

SALARY OF THE SECRETARY, LAHORE MUNICIPALITY.

285. Mian Abdul Aziz : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether he is aware that the (defunct) Lahore Municipal Committee had decided to fix Rs. 500 per mensem as the salary of the Secretary, Lahore Municipality, in future ;
- (b) the pay and allowances that have been allowed to the present incumbent of the post ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) No.

(b) The pay and allowances allowed to the present incumbent are—

As on 1st April, 1987.

| | Rs. |
|------------------------------|-----|
| Pay | 760 |
| Deputation allowance | 190 |
| Conveyance allowance | 50 |

Diwan Chaman Lall : What is deputation allowance ?

Minister : The officer is an Extra Assistant Commissioner and is serving a local body.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Why should this allowance be paid merely because he is serving a local body ?

Minister : That is under the rules.

POWERS DELEGATED TO THE ASSISTANT ADMINISTRATOR, LAHORE MUNICIPALITY.

286. Mian Abdul Aziz : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state the powers delegated to the Assistant Administrator, Lahore Municipality, by the Administrator of the Lahore Municipality, with the relevant provisions of the Municipal Act under which these have been delegated ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : No powers have been delegated by the Administrator to the Assistant Administrator.

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT INSPECTORATES.

287. Mian Abdul Aziz : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works kindly state—

- (a) the total amount the Government has charged from all the local bodies of the province for the institution of the system of Inspectorates and how much has actually been spent over it up-to-date ;
- (b) the total amount which has been realized up to the end of May, 1937, from the Lahore Municipality as a contribution towards its maintenance ;
- (c) the number of local bodies inspected since its creation by the Inspectorate ;
- (d) whether the Inspector has submitted any report on the working of Lahore Municipality to the Government ;
- (e) if so, whether Government have taken any action on the said report ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Inspectors of local bodies were appointed in the Lahore and Multan divisions just over two years ago. The total amount recovered from the local bodies of these two divisions up to the end of 1936-37 is Rs. 71,852-8-5. The total amount actually spent up to 31st May, 1937, is Rs. 54,454-2-9. The reason for surplus is under examination with a view to making adjustments, if necessary.

(b) The total amount recovered from the Lahore Municipal Committee for the year 1935-36 is Rs. 7,792-6-0 while an equal sum for the year 1936-37 is under realization.

(c) The Inspector of Local Bodies, Multan division, has carried out detailed inspections of 37 local bodies since his appointment in May, 1935.

[Minister for Public Works.]

Apart from this he has visited several local bodies in the division and advised them in the solution of their difficulties. The Inspector of Local Bodies, Lahore division, has inspected 37 local bodies, besides conducting three special enquiries in certain departments of the Municipal Committees of Amritsar and Sialkot. Out of the local bodies inspected by him ten have been inspected twice and two three times. The Inspector has in addition assisted the Municipal Committee of Amritsar twice in disposing of audit notes and in recovering its heavy arrears.

(d) Yes.

(e) The action taken by Government was that the Lahore Municipal Committee was superseded.

INSPECTORATE OF LAHORE MUNICIPALITY.

288. Mian Abdul Aziz : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state whether any memorial was submitted to the Inspectorate of Lahore Municipality by a member of the last Municipal Committee detailing specific instances of the abuse of powers by the Executive Officer of the Lahore Municipality ; if so, with what result ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : Yes. The allegations were enquired into by the Inspector of Local Bodies whose report was to the effect that there had been no abuse of powers, and that in those cases where the Executive Officer found that he had committed any irregularity he took steps to put it right.

LAHORE IMPROVEMENT TRUST.

289. Mian Abdul Aziz : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works kindly state—

- (a) the date of the creation of the Lahore Improvement Trust, together with the names of its trustees and that of its chairman ;
- (b) the pay allowed to the Chairman of the said Improvement Trust ;
- (c) the strength of the staff employed by the said trust and the emoluments allowed to each of its members ;
- (d) whether any extra pay or emoluments have been allowed to any Government servant for rendering services to the said Improvement Trust ;
- (e) whether any amount in addition to his salary as Administrator of the Lahore Municipality, has been allowed to the Chairman of the Lahore Improvement Trust ;
- (f) whether the office of the Lahore Improvement Trust is located in the Town Hall Buildings ; if so, the amount realized by the Lahore Municipality from the said Trust as rent ;

- (g) the total amount so far paid by the Lahore Municipality to the Lahore Improvement Trust ;
- (h) the improvement so far effected by the said Trust in respect of sanitation and improvement of suburban areas in particular, and in the whole of the city of Lahore in general ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) The Lahore Improvement Trust was created with effect from the 2nd January, 1936, with the following Board of Trustees :—

- | | |
|--|-------------|
| 1. I. E. JONES, Esquire, I.C.S. | } Chairman. |
| 2. Malik MUHAMMAD DIN, M. L. C. President, Municipal Committee, Lahore. | |
| 3. Chaudhri SARDAR ALI, Municipal Commissioner, Lahore .. | |
| 4. Lala GURAN DITTA MAL Kapur, Municipal Commissioner, Lahore. | |
| 5. Diwan Bahadur DIWAN AMAR NATH Nanda, Retired Superintending Engineer, Public Health Circle, Lahore. | |
| 6. C. T. ALLEN, Esquire, C.I.E., Lahore .. | |
| 7. Sardar Sahib Sardar SAPURAN SINGH, Chawla, Merchant and House Proprietor, Lahore. | |

Malik Muhammad Din, Chaudhri Sardar Ali and Lala Guran Ditta Mal who represented the Municipal Committee of Lahore, ceased to be trustees with effect from the 27th October, 1936, in consequence of the supersession of the Municipal Committee from that date.

Mr. I. E. Jones, I.C.S., was the Chairman from the 2nd January, 1936, to the 17th April, 1937, when he proceeded on leave. He has been succeeded by Mr. A. C. Macnabb, I.C.S.

(b) The Lahore Improvement Trust contributes Rs. 1,307-8-0 per mensem on account of half the grade pay, leave, pension, and passage contributions of the officer, who is the Chairman. The other half is paid from the Lahore Municipal Fund, as the same officer is the Administrator thereof.

(c) A statement is placed on the table.

(d) Yes—

(1) Mr. B. M. Sullivan, Superintending Architect to Punjab Government, receives a monthly allowance of Rs. 500 with a conveyance allowance of Rs. 100 for working as Town Planner to the Trust in addition to his other duties.

(2) Mr. P. L. Varma, Sub-Divisional Officer, Architectural Division, received a monthly allowance of Rs. 100 from 1st June, 1936, to 15th December, 1936.

(e) No. Half the pay and allowances of the officer are debited to the Trust and half to the Municipality.

(f) Yes. A part of the Trust office occupies two rooms in the Town Hall Buildings. The question of charging rent is under consideration.

(g) Rupees 57,172 under section 68 (1) of the Punjab Town Improvement Act.

(h) None, as the provision of the necessary funds has not yet been sanctioned. Meanwhile the Trust is assisting the Commissioner of the Lahore division and the Municipality of Lahore under section 192 of the Punjab Municipal Act of 1911.

BUILDING PLANS FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF NEW HOUSES IN LAHORE.

290. Mian Abdul Aziz : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the Commissioner of Lahore or any other authority has ordered that no building plans for the construction of new houses in Lahore, be sanctioned for an indefinite period ;
- (b) whether building plans for areas for which lay-out plans have already been sanctioned, are also being refused ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that several of the building schemes passed by the last Lahore Municipal Committee have not so far been sanctioned or approved ;

- (d) what building schemes have been prepared by the Lahore Improvement Trust since its creation ;
- (e) how many private building schemes have so far been finally sanctioned and approved ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : I regret that the information is not yet ready.

IMPOSITION OF HOUSE TAX BY LAHORE MUNICIPALITY.

291. Mian Abdul Aziz : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works kindly state—

- (a) whether the Government is aware of the proposal of the Administrator, Lahore Municipality, to impose a house tax at 12 per cent on the rental value of buildings in Lahore ;
- (b) whether the Government is aware of the great resentment shown by the public in the matter ; if so, what action is proposed to be taken in the matter ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes.

(b) No. Government is not aware of any special resentment, but all objections received will be carefully considered.

REDUCTION OF THE SIZE OF OUTLET NO. 79300, RAJBAB WAN.

292. Mian Abdul Aziz : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the Irrigation authorities, Upper Bari Doab Canal, have on 21st May, 1936, without serving any notice, reduced outlet No. 79300 Rajbah Wan from 18" × 9" to 10" × 9" ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that during this period the supply of water was reduced to 3 cusecs for kharif 1936 crops which had been sown on the basis of 5½ cusecs, and whether it is a fact that temporary channel that should have been given under the rules, was not given ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that during that period the gardens, vegetables, fodder and cotton crops, etc., on irrigation water suffered great damage ;
- (d) whether it is also true that the owners of lands and gardens concerned submitted their prayers to the irrigation authorities for redress of their grievances through telegrams, petitions and verbal requests ;
- (e) whether it is a fact that the owners of lands served a notice on the Irrigation authorities claiming Rs. 25,000 as damages, which notice the said authorities have not so far replied to ;
- (f) whether it is a fact that on the said outlet 79300 Rajbah Wan, wheat and gram of rabi 1937 have not at all been sown ;
- (g) if replies to the above be in the affirmative, what action the Government proposes to take or would take in this matter ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : As in this case notice of suit against the Government has been served and as it is possible that the subject matter of the Question may be before the courts, it is not in the public interest to answer the Question.

PASSPORT APPLICATION OF MR. M. A. MAJID.

293. Diwan Chaman Lall : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue please state—

- (a) whether one Mr. M. A. Majid applied for a passport on 1st March, 1937, for Australia ;
- (b) whether the rea-on given was urgency for Mr. Majid to proceed to Australia to look after business of his uncle who was seriously ill ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that Government has not so far replied to the request made by Mr. M. A. Majid above mentioned for a passport ; if so, the reason for the delay ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) and (b) Yes. (c) The application has been refused. The orders were issued to the Deputy Commissioner, Lahore, on the 11th June, and have doubtless since been communicated to the applicant.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Has the honourable Minister any reasons to give for refusing this request ?

Minister : Public interest.

Diwan Chaman Lall : But how is the public interest of the Panjab involved by permitting the gentleman to depart outside this country ?

Minister : I am afraid I cannot enter into discussion on that point.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I ask the Honourable Minister to let me know if he has satisfied himself that this passport was refused on the ground of public interest ?

Minister : In this matter I may inform the honourable member that farther enquiries are being made.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Is the Honourable Minister aware that Mr. Majid's uncle is dead and that there is nobody to look after his property ?

Minister : That is why farther enquiries are being made.

AMENDMENT OF SECTION 85 OF THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA ACT.

294. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state whether the Government proposes to take necessary steps to have section 85 of the Government of India Act amended ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : The attention of the honourable member is invited to the reply given to question No. *2291.

Lala Duni Chand : Has the honourable the Premier received any reply to the representation ?

Premier : No reply can be expected for some time I am afraid.

DEPUTY COMMISSIONER, SIMLA.

295. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the Deputy Commissioner, Simla, has ceased to be the Political Agent of Simla Hill States and consequently his work has been reduced ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : Yes.

Lala Duni Chand : Is the Honourable the Premier prepared to consider the question of retrenchment in view of the fact that the Deputy Commissioner, Simla, has very little work to do ?

Premier : He has the same amount of work during the summer season, while during the winter season he has less work, and some other work is being allotted to him.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it not a fact that most of his work was in connection with the States ?

Premier : Yes, a considerable amount.

Lala Duni Chand : What other work is being entrusted to him ?

Premier : We have not yet arrived at any definite decision what other work will be allotted to him.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it not a proper thing to retrench this post ?

Premier : No.

DRINKING WATER IN VILLAGE KAINWALA, AMBALA DISTRICT.

296. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that there is no well in the village Kajmwala, tahsil Kharar, district Ambala, and consequently the inhabitants of the village numbering about 800 are forced to drink and use for cooking and other domestic purposes water collected in the village ponds ;

(b) whether it is a fact that in spite of repeated representations to the District Board, Ambala, no provision has been made to provide the village with a well, there being no funds available for the purpose ;

(c) if the reply to (a) and (b) be in the affirmative, what steps he proposes to take to supply healthy water to the said village ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haya : (a) Yes. The inhabitants drink and use water collected in the village pond or bring it from the neighbouring villages.

(b) Yes.

(c) An estimate for improving the water supply in this village was prepared by the District Board, Ambala at a cost of Rs. 255. The District Board has expressed its inability to provide this amount. It has been advised to apply to the Sanitary Board for a grant.

Pir Akhar Ali : Is it not a fact that in tahsil Fazilka, district Ferozepre there are hundreds of villages of the same category ?

Minister : I would like the honourable member to put his question on paper.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Is it the first time that this state of affairs in the village has been brought to the notice of Government ?

Minister : So far as the present Government is concerned this is the first time.

Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister be pleased to take steps to see that the people of the village are supplied with well water ?

Minister : My answer is sufficient to indicate that this is a case where the mother is prepared to supply milk although the child has not yet cried for it.

COUNTERFEIT COINS.

*297. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state whether his attention has been drawn to the abnormal increase in percentage of false, counterfeit or defective rupees and smaller coins finding currency in the Punjab ; if so, what action is intended to be taken to put an end to this evil ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : It would probably not be true to say that the position in regard to counterfeit coins is worse now than it has ever been, but even so it is sufficiently serious. To deal with it a special establishment was formed in the Criminal Investigation Department in June last year—a similar staff was in existence for a few months in 1934—and the efforts of this staff, working in co-operation with the district police, have resulted in the detection of a large number of cases. This campaign against local counterfeiters will be further intensified if necessary, and with the co-operation of the Governments of the neighbouring provinces and States should serve to end a state of affairs which has undoubtedly meant considerable inconvenience to the public, as well as loss to the Treasury.

Lala Duni Chand : Can Government give any idea of the percentage of counterfeit coins which are current in the market ?

Premier : If the honourable member will give me the number of genuine coins, I will give him the percentage of counterfeit coins.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it not a fact that a good many counterfeit coins are current in the market ?

Premier : I have already said so .

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Is it a fact that people refuse to accept rupees bearing Queen Victoria's effigy ?

Premier : I heard a rumour to that effect, but that has been contradicted in the form of a press communiqué.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh (Urdu) : Why do the people not accept rupees minted in 1862 with Queen Victoria on them ?

Premier (Urdu) : They ought to accept them.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : But supposing somebody does refuse, what is the remedy in that case ?

Premier : Take it to the Treasury and get it exchanged.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Is there no penalty for the person who refuses to accept such coins ?

CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETIES IN THE RAWALPINDI DISTRICT.

298. Khan Muhammad Yusuf Khan : Will the Honourable Minister for Development be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of co-operative societies in the Rawalpindi district ;
- (b) the total amount of debt owed by the rural population of the district before the advent of the co-operative societies in the district ;
- (c) the total amount of the debt by which the amount in (b) has been reduced by the effective working of the co-operative societies ;
- (d) the number of challans and auctions effected by the co-operative societies in the district in connection with the realisation of their dues ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a) 671.

(b) and (c) Not known.

NON-OBSERVANCE OF A TERM OF CONTRACT BY THE IRRIGATION DEPARTMENT.

299. Sufi Abdul Hamid Khan : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that in 1934 the Irrigation Department entered into an agreement with the zamindars of villages Thaska Miranji, Azmatpur, etc., in tahsil Thanesar, district Karnal ;
- (b) if the answer to (a) above in the affirmative, whether it is a fact that the Irrigation department did not observe term No. 4 of the contract regarding facilities to be afforded for sailaba irrigation on either side of the new cut, made by the department, by gaps of suitable sizes and at selected places where it was not considered necessary for the Irrigation department to erect banks to prevent the river from flowing to the right and creating new channels ;
- (c) if the answer to (b) above be in the affirmative, whether he is aware of the fact that by the non-observance by the Irrigation Department of term No. 4 of the contract, immense loss is caused to the zamindars inasmuch as either the crops on the other side of the bank erected by the Irrigation Department are spoiled e.g., when the river Mukanda is over-flooded, or are not at all irrigated, e.g., when the volume of water in the said river is less ;

[Sufi Abdul Hamid.]

- (d) if the answer to (c) above be in the affirmative, whether the Government proposes to compensate the zamindars of the above mentioned villages for the loss thus caused to them ;
- (e) the steps, if any, Government proposes to take to avoid the recurrence of such a loss to the zamindars of the said villages in future ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Yes.

(b) No. The Irrigation Department not only provided gaps as per clause 4 of the agreement but also allowed three large pipe outlets in the bund in the reach where bund had to be built to control the river.

- (c) Does not arise.
 (d) Does not arise.
 (e) Does not arise.

Sufi Abdul Hamid Khan (Urdu) : Have the pipes installed by the Irrigation Department been irrigating the lands they were meant for ?

Minister : Naturally they must have been.

ENTERTAINMENT TAX.

300. Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the Lahore Municipal Committee ever proposed to levy an entertainment tax ; if so, when ;
- (b) the object of levying the said tax as indicated by the said Committee ;
- (c) whether the Government rejected the proposal ; if so, on what grounds ;
- (d) whether the Government has itself levied an entertainment tax in the Lahore municipal area ; if so, on what grounds, and what has been the yield from the tax ;
- (e) if the answer to the first part of (d) above be in the affirmative, whether the Government is prepared to grant the proceeds of the entertainment tax to the Lahore Municipality to carry out the Sewage Scheme and other improvements ; if not, why not ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes, in 1935.

(b) To meet the Committee's contribution towards expenditure on the Inspectorate of Local Bodies and the Lahore Improvement Trust.

(c) Yes. In view of the financial situation and the desirability of a provincial entertainment tax being found necessary, it was considered not advisable to sanction the imposition of an entertainment tax by local bodies.

(d) Yes, with effect from the 1st February, 1937, in order to raise revenue and to give effect to a recommendation of the Sources of Revenue Committee of 1931. The income during the months of February to May, 1937, has been Rs. 35,173 from the Lahore district. In the Lahore district the Punjab Entertainments Duty Act of 1936 has been applied to the municipal and cantonment area of Lahore, the municipal area of Baghbanpura-cum-Bhogiwal, the Small Town Committee of Ichhra and the municipal area of Kasur.

(e) No, because there is no such provision in the Act.

MOTION FOR ADJOURNMENT.

RE PREMIER'S REFERENCE TO MISCHIEF-MONGERS IN CONNECTION WITH JHATKA MEAT.

Sardar Lal Singh (Ludhiana Central, Sikh, Rural) : I beg to ask for leave to make a motion for the adjournment of the business of the House to discuss a definite matter of urgent public importance, namely the utterance on the floor of the Assembly by the Honourable Premier on the 2nd July 1937, in answer to supplementary questions to starred Question ¹No. * 259 insinuating that the demand for jhatka meat by Sikhs is the creation of communal mischief-mongers, and that in this matter status quo shall be maintained.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : On a point of order. My point of order is based on four arguments.

Mr. Speaker : Please wait a while. I wish to find out certain facts. Then the honourable member may raise his points of order. Which insinuation does the honourable member wish to discuss ?

Sardar Lal Singh : The insinuation made by the Honourable Premier that the question raised about jhatka meat in Government institutions is the creation of communal mischief-mongers.

Premier : I strongly protest against these words that I have made any insinuations against the request for jhatka.

Mr. Speaker : Against whom is that insinuation made ?

Sardar Lal Singh : It is made against the Sikh members of this House.

Premier : No. Certainly not.

Mr. Speaker : That does not appear to be the case. Has the honourable member read the relevant proceedings, which have been circulated in the House ? Will he please refer to these proceedings and tell me where any reference has been made to the Sikh members of this House ?

Sardar Lal Singh : Question No. *259 was a question put by a Sikh member and in answer to that question, if the Speaker will allow me to dilate upon it, a definite 'no' was given to the opening of any question about jhatka meat. The answer reads—

"The facts are that in the Jails of this Province meat does not form part of the dietary of the ordinary prisoner. When a prisoner of the A or B class or a State Prisoner has expressed a wish to be supplied with jhatka meat, Government have arranged for him to be supplied with this kind of meat, provided the application has seemed to be without ulterior motive."

[Sardar Lal Singh.]

It lies entirely in the hands of the officials who are the Premier's men to decide whether—

Mr. Speaker : Will the honourable member come to the point regarding the mischief-mongers ?

Sardar Lal Singh : On the answer to the main question, there were supplementary questions and the Honourable Premier said that it would be giving a handle to mischief-mongers who wish to raise this question merely to intensify communal bitterness. These questions are asked only by the Sikh members, because it is only their business to ask such questions and the expression 'mischief-mongers' does not refer to anybody but the Sikh members of this House.

Premier : No.

Mr. Speaker : The point is whether the reference is to Sikh members of this House or to the Sikhs outside.

Sardar Lal Singh : It cannot apply to anybody else because the original question and the supplementary questions thereto were asked by the Sikh members on the floor of this House.

Mr. Speaker : Any member of the Assembly could have asked the question. The mere fact that it is asked by a Sikh member does not necessarily justify the conclusion that the reference was to the Sikh members of this House.

Sardar Lal Singh : The fact was that it was put by Sikh members. Even if it had been put by other members and even if a reference had been made to other members, the use of the words 'mischief-mongers' for members of this House would be a serious matter.

Premier : چوری دازوی میں کیا Does the cap fit ?

Mr. Speaker : Such allegations, if made against the honourable members of this House, may be said to be unparliamentary ; but a reference to outsiders, if its language is not objectionable, can be made. Is it not open to a member of this House to say that the number of dacoits in the province has recently increased to such an extent that people consider their lives and properties unsafe ? Cannot the dacoit and robber inhabitants of the province be called dacoits and robbers ? There is no dearth of mischief-mongers in any part of the world. Therefore, cannot one say that there are such people in the world ? (Hear, hear).

Sardar Lal Singh : It is the motive of the Premier behind the use of these words that matters.

Premier : I strongly protest against motives being attributed to me.

Mr. Speaker : No motives should be attributed to the honourable members of this House.

Sardar Lal Singh : Premier did it pointedly with the express purpose of stifling any ventilation of the grievances regarding jhalka.

Mr. Speaker : I wish, I could agree with the honourable member.

Sardar Lal Singh : It is a question of eating what one likes and the Premier introduced unnecessarily the communal question. He brought out that communal bogey and wanted to frighten us and stifle any discussion.

Mr. Speaker : May I take the insinuation to be that the demand of jhatka meat by the Sikhs is the creation of communal mischief-mongers, that is to say, some communal mischief-mongers have persuaded or instigated the Sikhs to demand the supply of jhatka meat ?

Sardar Lal Singh : These questions were put to the Premier by the honourable members of this House and supplementary questions were also put by them. There was no question of discussion of this question by any outsider. There was no justification for the Premier to remark that this question has been raised by the mischief-mongers. This is a reflection on the members of this House only and to no one else.

Premier : No, nothing of the sort.

Mr. Speaker : The Honourable Premier denies and I am not convinced.

Sardar Lal Singh : May I through you remind the members of this House that it is not the first time that it has happened across the floor of this House that the Honourable Premier has particularly with reference to the incident at Alla while reading his statement pointed out to this corner of the House and said that there are some creators of communal mischief sitting on these benches.

Mr. Speaker : I wish the honourable member had then drawn the attention of the Chair to that matter.

Premier : May I say a word or two to clear up the position ?

Mr. Speaker : The Honourable Premier need not speak just yet. If necessary I will allow him to have his say later.

Sardar Lal Singh : If you will go through the original answers, you will find the answer.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : May I request the honourable member to read the question also ?

Mr. Speaker : The Leader of the House has denied that he meant to refer to the honourable members of this House. Besides, the language does not inevitably justify the conclusion that the reference was to the members of this House. Therefore, I cannot allow the alleged insinuation to be discussed by an adjournment motion, which I hold to be out of order, and decline to put to the House. (Hear, hear from Government benches).

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I make one request and that is, could I ask the Honourable Premier to make a statement on this point so that the whole position may be cleared up ?

Mr. Speaker : I shall have no objection to his making a statement, if he likes, at the end of to-day's business. But it is for him to decide whether he will make a statement or not.

Sardar Lal Singh : On a point of information, Sir. Is your ruling based on any answers or want of answers or want of any information that I could or could not give ?

Mr. Speaker : Typed copies of the relevant proceedings of this House were circulated among members. I have read those proceedings. I have also read the honourable member's motion. I am not convinced that the alleged reference is to the honourable Sikh members of this House. If I were convinced, even then the honourable member had no right to move an adjournment motion, inasmuch as the conduct of a member of this House can be attacked only by a substantive motion and not by an adjournment motion. Besides, had the honourable member drawn my attention to the objectionable remark, when it was made, and I were convinced that it was unparliamentary, I would have there and then called upon the Leader of the House to withdraw his remark and the matter would have ended.

[Mr. Speaker.]

(At this stage Sardar Lal Singh rose to speak).

Mr. Speaker : No more discussion can be allowed.

JHATKA MEAT IN POLICE AND EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : I beg leave to make a motion for the adjournment of the business of the House to discuss a definite matter of urgent public importance, namely, the new situation that has arisen out of the Premier's answer to question¹ No. *259 particularly by his reference to police and educational institutions in view of the fact that a new provincial autonomous Government has deliberately encroached upon the religious rights and freedom of the Sikhs.

Mir Magbool Mahmood : May I raise my point of order at this stage?

Mr. Speaker : After a little while, if the honourable member considers necessary.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : I submit this motion on the understanding and clear presumption that everybody has the right of eating meat killed in whatever way he likes. That is the right of every individual. The Honourable Premier has said that he would allow the supply of this kind of meat in jails provided the application seemed to be without ulterior motives. I think that the question of ulterior motives does not arise on anybody's asking for jhatka meat.

Premier : Is the honourable member allowed to speak at this stage on the merits of the motion itself?

Mr. Speaker : May I ask on what part of proceedings the later part of the honourable member's adjournment motion is based.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : Later part, Sir.

Mr. Speaker : Which relates to police and educational institutions?

Sardar Sampuran Singh : I am dealing with these two things. The Government has deliberately encroached upon the deliberate rights and freedom of the Sikhs.

Mr. Speaker : What is the basis of the later part of the honourable member's motion?

Sardar Sampuran Singh : That is based on the whole answer which has been given by the Honourable Premier. I have marked the points and if you like I will read the relevant portions from his answers.

Mr. Speaker : Does the honourable member wish to discuss by his adjournment motion the recent policy of the Government?

Sardar Sampuran Singh : I only want to show that he has encroached upon the religious rights and freedom of the Sikhs by giving this answer and acting upon it.

Mr. Speaker : Does the honourable member wish to protest against and criticise that answer ?

Sardar Sampuran Singh : Yes, that is right.

Mr. Speaker : If that is the honourable member's wish then item No. 8, on to-day's agenda (Motion of Sardar Partap Singh that the item of Rs. 1,10,900 on account of Total A.—Superintendence be reduced by Rs. 10) to urge that jhatka meat be placed on an equal footing with halal meat in all police lines, will afford ample opportunity for discussing the question.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : That does not deal with educational institutions at all.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is well aware that it can be discussed. It is almost certain that that item shall be reached.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : Is there any guarantee for that ?

Mr. Speaker : The motion is on the agenda and the honourable member has no right to anticipate it.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : I do not stand in the way of other people having a right to move their motions. They may move the motion or they may not do so.

Mr. Speaker : The Rule of Anticipation, as stated on page 248 of "May's Parliamentary Practice" is :—

Motions for adjournment regarding matters for the discussion of which the committee of supply or other appointed business would afford an early opportunity.— ~~_____~~ have been ruled to be out of order—on a motion for adjournment, discussion cannot be raised of any matter already appointed for consideration, or of which notice has been given ;

As this matter has been appointed for consideration and notice also has been given, the motion in question, even if otherwise in order, cannot be allowed.

Premier : Otherwise, also it is not in order, but with your permission I might be able to satisfy the honourable member that it is not necessary for him to move this motion.

Mr. Speaker : Does the honourable member wish to make a statement ?

Premier : I thought I might be able to make the position clearer.

Mr. Speaker : He may do so when the out motion is taken up.

Premier : In that case I better wait till this particular item comes up.

QUESTIONS TOUCHING COMMUNAL ISSUES.

Premier : I request your permission, Sir, to make an appeal to honourable members in regard to interpellations touching communal issues. While seeking in no way to restrict the right of interpellation of members I wish to make a request to them to refrain themselves from putting questions which are likely to create communal misunderstanding or embitter communal feelings. Under the rules and standing orders of the Assembly now in force there is no power vested in any one to disallow any question for that reason. But I trust that I may appeal to members to resist the temptation of putting questions open to objection on this score. Nevertheless if such questions are put by members I shall have, much to my regret, to decline to answer the questions on the ground of public interest. I hope, however, that without putting me to this painful necessity, members would, after this appeal of mine, impose a healthy restraint upon themselves and avoid putting such questions in the interests of communal harmony in this province which it is the earnest desire of all of us to establish beyond disturbance in the least degree.

[Premier.]

Sardar Sampuran Singh : We do not consider these questions communal at all.

Mr. Speaker : Statements made by members of Government cannot be discussed.

BUSINESS OF THE HOUSE.

Premier : There is a change in the programme of business of the Assembly which I wish to announce to the House with your permission. Members were informed that Friday, the 23rd July had been allotted for business other than Government business, namely resolutions. The state of Government business now indicates that the four days which had been provided for the purpose may not be necessary. I may therefore inform the House that after consultation with you, Sir, I have allotted, Tuesday, 20th July for business other than Government business, namely resolutions, instead of Friday, the 23rd. It is expected that the sittings of the Assembly would terminate on the 20th. But if the state of Government business would require it, the Assembly will meet on Thursday, the 22nd July for the transaction of Government business.

DEMANDS FOR GRANTS.

POLICE.

Minister for Finance (The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal) : Sir, I beg to move—

That a sum not exceeding Rs. 1,11,96,200 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1938, in respect of Police.

Mr. Speaker : Motion moved—

That a sum not exceeding Rs. 1,11,96,200 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1938, in respect of Police.

But before discussion on this motion is started, may I request the honourable member for Ambala (Lala Duni Chand), to explain what he means by the remarks attached to his motion?

Lala Duni Chand : It appears that two words " police administration " have been left out. Probably they will be found in my original motion.

Mr. Speaker : Does he mean to say that the office has left those words out?

Lala Duni Chand : Yes, Sir. The remarks ought to read: "To discuss the question of more efficient police administration" (the words ' police administration ' have been left out by mistake) " and more equitable treatment of police officers and police ranks."

Mr. Speaker : What does the honourable member mean ?

Lala Duni Chand : I want to make a contrast between the advantages and the salaries that are being enjoyed by the police officers with those that are being enjoyed by the lower ranks of the police.

Syed Afzaal Ali Hasnie : The idea of the honourable member ought to be conveyed by the words by which he chooses to describe his out motion and not by a speech which he cares to deliver.

Mr. Speaker : His original notice has been sent for from the office. In the meantime the honourable member may explain himself.

Lala Duni Chand : The second part of the remarks is meant to show that the officers are enjoying more advantages than the lower ranks of the police.

Mr. Speaker : Does the honourable member intend to raise two points ?

Premier : The honourable member may be asked to explain what he means by his second motion also.

Lala Duni Chand : The second motion is really analogous to the first motion. If I am allowed to move the first motion, in that case it will be unnecessary for me to move the second.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member should not have given notice of identical motions. (The Secretary showed the original notice of the motion to the honourable member).

Lala Duni Chand : I submit, Sir, that I have seen the original motion. It appears that by an oversight on my part the words ' police administration ' have been left out.

Mr. Speaker : I must take the motion as it stands.

Premier : I submit that even after adding these words the meaning still remains obscure.

Lala Duni Chand : It does not make any difference whether I move first motion or the second motion.

Mr. Speaker : But both of them are defective.

Lala Duni Chand : I venture to submit and I feel that I will be able to convince the House to accept the motion with the words ' police administration ' in the remarks, but so far as the second motion is concerned — " to discuss the question of more honest and more efficient police administration."

Premier : If they are honest and efficient, where is the use of discussing them ?

Mr. Speaker : Has this motion anything to do with that item ?

Lala Duni Chand : The item relates to the general superintendence, and the question that I am raising under these two motions is perfectly relevant to that department.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member ought to have given notice of a cut on the total demand. Personally I do not mind, but rules are rules.

Lala Duni Chand : I am perfectly within the rules to move the cut motion in order to raise the question connected with the work of superintendence. Whether you allow me to move the first motion or the second, it does not make any difference. If you consider the first motion out of order, I shall move the second.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : The item which the honourable member seeks to reduce relates to the Inspector-General of Police and his establishment. It does not concern the superintendents of police and the other ranks.

Lala Duni Chand : The item relates to the salaries of the Inspector-General of Police, the Deputy Inspector-General of Police and their establishments. When I want to raise the question of more efficient and more honest administration of the Police Department, I can certainly raise it while discussing this item in the demand, because the Inspector-General of Police is the head of the Police Department and is therefore responsible for the efficient and honest administration of the department.

Mr. Speaker : I think there is some force in the honourable member's contention. Therefore, I allow him to move his second motion.

POLICE ADMINISTRATION.

Lala Duni Chand (Ambala and Simla, General, Rural): I beg to move—

That the item of Rs. 1,10,900 on account of total A.—Superintendence be reduced by Rs. 10.

In moving this motion, as I have said in the remarks to the motion, my object is to raise the question of more honest and more efficient administration of the Police Department. It was suggested by the Treasury benches sometime ago and particularly by the Honourable Premier, that we on this side of the House do not offer real co-operation. He has said more than once that if we offer co-operation to the Treasury benches they will be able to achieve a good deal. To-day we are going to offer whole-hearted co-operation to the Treasury benches. (Hear, hear). It has also been said that we do not offer constructive suggestions. I am going to lay constructive proposals to-day before the Treasury benches. Let me see how far the Treasury benches are going to respond to our spirit of co-operation and how far they are going to accept our constructive proposals.

I may say at the outset that I believe that the police organisation is the most important institution in this country for the protection of life and property of the people and for detecting crimes. I am not a believer in the nihilist theory that the time may come when there may be no necessity for any kind of authority. I believe that it is only by the proper exercise of authority that you can improve the conditions in the country. I submit that of all the police officers and ranks the constable is the most important man. I have got the greatest sympathy for him, because he is the most hard-worked and the least paid official in the department. My ideal of a police constable is the constable of London. (Hear, hear). I wish that our police reached that standard of efficiency which is attained there. I know that the police constable in England is paid something like £5 to £8 a week. In our currency it will come to about Rs. 250 or Rs. 300 a month. I submit that one of the greatest defects in our police administration is that the disparity in the pay of the highest and the lowest paid official is very great. This is a department which is peculiarly officer-ridden. There are so many officers in this department; there are the assistant sub-inspectors, sub-inspectors, inspectors, deputy superintendents, superintendents and so on.

(At this stage one honourable member crossed the line between Mr. Speaker and the member in possession of the House.)

Mr. Speaker : More than once have I ruled from this Chair that honourable members should not cross the floor of the House irregularly, and that especially they should not cross the line between the Chair and the honourable member who is speaking. Therefore, I am very sorry to find that some honourable members commit this irregularity almost daily.

Lala Duni Chand : I suggest that the lowest pay of a police constable should be Rs. 80 and the highest Rs. 50. (Hear, hear). If our rulers in England pay Rs. 250 and Rs. 300 for their constables, there is no reason why in the Punjab we should not pay one-eighth or even one-tenth of what is being paid to police constables in England. (An honourable member : Compare the revenues in both countries). I submit that the disparity between the highest and the lowest paid official in the department is very great in this country. Now take the case of the Inspector General of Police. He gets, I think about Rs. 2,500 a month whereas a police constable gets not more than Rs. 15 or 20 a month. I want that such a great disparity in the pay of the various parts of the same official machinery should be done away with. I also want that acts of gallantry and heroism should be encouraged on the part of police officers. I have the greatest respect for the police constable who does his duty on the road and sometimes prevents the people from going the wrong way. I know that lot of rewards and pensions have been given to those people who have been working against the interests of the country. I know of cases where pensions have been given to people for working against the non-co-operation and civil disobedience movements. I know for a fact that pensions have been given to those people whose business it was to arrest people involved in political cases. I submit that this policy should completely be changed. Only those people should be rewarded with pensions who place their lives in danger in the cause of the province.

I submit that it was only a few years ago, not more than 10 or 15 years ago that the office of deputy superintendents of police was created. (Cries of 'No, No'). If any honourable member of Government can correct me, I am prepared to accept the correction.

Premier : They have been in office at least for the past twenty-eight years.

Lala Duni Chand : This cadre of deputy superintendents was created not more than twenty years ago.

Premier : It was created in 1909.

Lala Duni Chand : The number of inspectors of police was also much less than what it is now.

I submit that an increase of these officers has not brought about any corresponding improvement in the police administration. I would say :

رض بڑھتا گیا جون جون دوا کی

The more the department has been enlarged the more deteriorated it has become. I submit that it is a question for consideration of the Government, whether the Government really requires so many officers in this department ?

I also want to suggest that some police officers and constables should be sent to European countries, particularly to England ("hear, hear" from the Treasury benches) not only to seek training in Scotland Yard in scientific ways of detection of crimes, but also to learn the art of good manners and better treatment of the public.

Pir Akbar Ali : Why should not the honourable members of this House be sent to the House of Commons to learn the procedure there ?

Lala Duni Chand : I think there is no better man, who is entitled to go to the House of Commons, than the honourable member himself who has raised this point.

Mr. Speaker : Order, order.

Lala Duni Chand : Sir, I was placing before the House that it is necessary, in order to improve the police administration in this province, that certain number of policemen should be sent for training to England or to some other European countries.

I am sorry that I have to raise a question which ordinarily I should not have liked to raise. It is the question of proportional representation of different communities in the police service.

Mr. Speaker : As another honourable member has given notice of a motion to discuss proportionate representation of different communities in the police, I request the honourable member not to discuss it incidentally in discussing his motion.

Lala Duni Chand : I have no doubt that the question of proportional representation is perfectly relevant to the motion. But I may assure you that I do not want to give any unpleasant turn to this question. It is in the best interest of the Punjab that I am going to raise this question. The members of public services should forget to what religion or to what community they belong. ("Hear, hear," from the Opposition benches). The time has not come when that will be the mentality of the Government servant to whatever community he might belong. My only reason for referring to this question is that this is one way of making the police administration more efficient. It is only for this reason that I want to raise this question.

Mr. Speaker : May I draw the honourable member's attention to motion No. 7 ?

Lala Duni Chand : I admit that there are other motions that also raise this question. But my point also is covered by this motion.

Mr. Speaker : I would request the honourable member to restrict his speech to his motion.

Lala Duni Chand : I respect the wishes of the Honourable Speaker. Therefore, I will no more refer to this aspect of the question.

The other question that I want to place before the House is the question of recruitment in police service. That is the most important question and it should be given serious thought by the Government. I know certain amount of improvement has been made in certain sections of the Police Department. ("Hear, hear," from the Treasury benches). I know recently some B.A., LL.Bs. have been recruited as court inspectors and assistant court inspectors. But it is not sufficient. I suggest that the power to make appointments should be taken away from the Inspector-General and Deputy Inspector-General and most of the appointments, for instance, the appointments of court inspectors, inspectors of police, deputy superintendents of police, etc., should be thrown open to competition. (An honourable member: There is the Public Service Commission). Yes, the Public Service Commission can be entrusted with this work. I submit, Sir, that so long as the question of appointments remains in the hands of the higher officers, the regrettable condition of things will continue. I do want that the best youngmen belonging to all communities should have their share in the police service. If it is necessary to fix any communal proportion, I have no objection to that. But what I want is that the best youngmen belonging to all the communities—I believe the best youngmen can be found in all communities in the province at present—should be recruited in this Department. It is only the influence of high-placed people that can secure appointments in the Police Department now. It is not the right man who can get the appointment. But what the country requires is that the persons, who cannot get support or backing of high-placed people, should have an equal chance to enter the police service. This is the most important question that I beg to place for the consideration of the Government. As regards certain sections of the police service, I want to say that some of them have become close preserves for certain communities, howsoever insignificant they might be. I submit that in view of the provincial autonomy that we are now enjoying according to the Treasury benches—there is no reason why Indians should not be recruited more and more in the Police Department. Capable Indians can be found in any numbers, who can efficiently serve the Police Department. I know that high posts are filled by Europeans and Anglo-Indians. I do invite the attention of the Government to this state of things. It is essential that the standard of police administration should be raised all round by improving conditions of recruitment and by raising smaller ranks of the police. I have no objection if the head constables, assistant sub-inspectors and sub-inspectors of police get more pay than they are getting now, but what I object to is that the inspectors of police and the deputy superintendents are absolutely unnecessary. They should be done away with and the number of sub-inspectors also reduced. These are the suggestions that I have made. I hope these suggestions will be acted upon by the Government and something will be done in that direction.

Mr. Speaker : Demand under consideration, motion moved—

That the item of Rs. 1,10,900 on account of Total A—Superintendence be reduced by Rs. 10.

Khan Sahib Chaudhri Riasat Ali (Hafizabad, Muhammadan, Rural) : Sir, I will first bring it to the notice of the House through you that we should bear in mind and particularly remember the various difficulties which stood in our way during the various stages when the question of transfer of law and order was under consideration. I do not think that I will be divulging any secret if I state to-day on the floor of this House that sometimes recommendations had been made by provincial Governments to the Central Government and even to the higher authorities that before law and order could be transferred His Majesty's Government should think twice as to various conditions prevailing in the different provinces of this great country. It was after very mature deliberation that it was finally decided that even this most important subject should be transferred and that there should be full provincial autonomy in the sense in which that word is used to-day. Before they criticise any action of the present Government in respect of law and order, therefore, I think honourable members opposite should wait and see as to what the present Government is doing, what steps the Government will take to deal with this most important subject, because it is only two or three months back, as the House conceded the other day, that the new Government have taken the reins of Government in their hands. Therefore, the Opposition is in a way pre-judging the case of the present Government.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is not relevant. The honourable mover, who moved the cut, has not criticised the present Government. He has only made certain suggestions to improve the efficiency and honesty of the department.

Khan Sahib Chaudhri Riasat Ali : In certain ways he did find fault with the present Government. I am glad to hear that the mover admits that the police is a wall of defence between the public and various menaces of the present day. He has made no doubt certain practical suggestions and constructive proposals. But I must tell him the practical difficulties in the way of carrying out those suggestions. His first demand was that he wants an increase in the pay of the constable. I am glad that he being a Congressman has behaved in a way to-day which justifies the following quotation—

اس چمن کے رهنے والو بون گذارہ چاهئے
بانگدان بھری خوش رہے راضی رہے صیاد بھری

He has suggested even the police force should get something more in the way of emoluments as compared with other departments. He suggested that a constable should get a pay of between Rs. 30 and 50. Now the number of constables as it stood on the 1st January, 1937, is 17,781. Following the argument advanced by the honourable Revenue Member at the time when the suggestion for the increase of pay of the patwari by Rs. 5 was made, the increase of pay in the case of constables by Rs. 2 will amount to no less than 3 lakhs. (An honourable member : 10 lakhs). I do not know enough mathematics being a Muslim.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I think the honourable member has passed such a remark against all the Muslims that he should withdraw it. (Honourable members : "Withdraw, withdraw.")

Khan Sahib Chaudhri Riasat Ali : I did not mean anything serious but I withdraw it. I think the constables get Rs. 18 and after about 10 or 12 years they get into the selection grade and get an increase of Re. 1 and after 5 years another increment of Re. 1. If the pay is increased to such a high level as suggested by my honourable friend, the total increase will come to several lakhs. Taking into consideration the various items in the budget, it will be difficult to find money for this extra expenditure. The honourable member should remember that during this year we have to make expenditure to a great extent which is termed new expenditure. He must remember that we have to spend 60 lakhs on the Haveli Project ; we have to spend 20 lakhs more for the beneficent departments ; we have to spend Rs. 3,20,000 for the new industrial exhibition. We have to spend one lakh more under the State Aid to Industries Act and 9½ lakhs more for the new civil works. Then under the general administration, we have to spend Rs. 1,85,000 for the Public Service Commission; Rs. 91,000 for the Election Petitions Enquiry Commission, and 50,000 more on the Parliamentary Secretaries which means that this year at least we cannot afford to make an increase in the pay of the constables as suggested by the honourable member. Again, the Government wants to do so many other things, for instance, they want to have a nation building programme for the advancement of this province. Again members want new roads, new colleges to be established, more grants to local bodies, more hospitals and so on. When we have this programme in view it is very difficult for the Government of the day to incur this additional expenditure at this time as suggested by my honourable friend.

So far as the question of reducing the number of inspectors and deputy superintendents is concerned, in the first place the honourable member must remember, that the number of inspectors has already been reduced. Formerly there were circle inspectors and there were two or three circles at least in each district. Some years ago there was one inspector at least in each tahsil. A reduction has been made and there is only one inspector now for the purpose of investigation in each district who is called headquarters inspector. Sufficient reduction in this direction has already been made with due reference to the efficiency of the administration. So far as the reduction of deputy superintendents is concerned, we must remember that the present Government has already appointed a Retrenchment Committee and the special terms of reference of that committee are that it has to see whether in any particular case there is over-lapping of activities or duplication of functions of the various officers and after their report is received by the Government, surely all the departments will be reorganised, if necessary, according to the terms of the report. It is more practical for the honourable member to give his evidence before that committee or send any representation to that committee or request any other gentleman on his behalf to make practical suggestions and constructive proposals before that committee, so that the committee might act in the light of those suggestions. Thus a more effective remedy will be secured.

Now, Sir, a reference has already been made that the number of assistant sub-inspectors and head constables has been increased. Their number is not so much increased, but their efficiency has certainly been improved. There was a suggestion made when the last Council was considering the new Criminal Law Amendment Bill—new at that time. Amendments were tabled to the effect that assistant sub-inspectors should be provided in place of head constables to perform the functions involving the conducting of searches in various houses. The assistant sub-inspectors as we all know are graduates or double graduates as direct recruitment of sub-inspectors is not made in these days.

It is the assistant sub-inspector who after having practical experience and after doing practical work in various branches of the administration becomes sub-inspector. So we have got in place of the poorly educated, and hardly literate head constable, the assistant sub-inspectors who are undergraduates and graduates. My argument is that the number has not been increased, but rather the efficiency of the department has been increased.

Another argument so far as the increase in the number is concerned, is that circumstances do sometimes arise, contingencies do sometimes arise which justify the increase in the number of the police. I do not want to refer to them in detail, but sometimes, for example, in the case of the additional police the Government wanted to get rid of additional police, but on account of certain unfortunate happenings somewhere in the province, I do not want to refer to them particularly, it was necessary for the Government to continue that force in its service for a further period. I do not know the exact number of years and months for which it has been retained, but it has been thought fit in order to maintain the peace and tranquillity of the province that these people should go on. In some cases in the district administration there have been increase of thanas and chaukis. The reason for that also is not far to seek. It is not in any way the fault of the present Government that they have increased the police. As I have said circumstances have arisen in those distant quarters in some districts which justify the creation of another police chauki or police station. The number of crimes in some cases has also risen particularly at long distances which cannot be controlled from a particular police station, and where the villages are situated at a radius of more than 12 miles : it is, of course, very difficult to reach the place of occurrence in a good conveyance in time which must be sufficient to help in the suppression of crime. So there have been reasons for the increase in the number of the police force.

Another point raised by the honourable member was the method of recruitment. This has been discussed on many occasions on many cut motions, and there has always been a controversy over the matter of recruitment by competition versus other considerations. I think it will be more properly met by the head of the Government on this side of the House, who will explain the situation why competition in some cases has not been made the basis for recruitment of services. I might only remark that in such services as the police service, which is surely a semi-military service, there are other considerations which must be weighed. People who belong to martial or semi-martial races, of course, must be given preference in some respects to those people who can only cram books and are able to write good essays. These things might count in other departments. This department needs bravery, valour and other out of door action. I do not say that any particular community is backward in this respect, but there might be individuals who might not come up to the standard required for the maintenance of law and order in the province. Again there might be people who might not be considered fit merely on the consideration that they belonged to a particular school of thought, and who might not be quite fit persons to be employed in the police service.

As I have said, Sir, I want only to make general remarks in this direction. There are people, Sir, who think of joining the police or the military, but some of them only run away if they hear a shriek from a cluster of trees, during the night in fear of imaginary ghosts. I do not refer to any particular community, but we must eliminate such persons. People in the police have to deal with riots, big processions and contingencies do arise where firing is justified. For all these reasons competition alone is not a thing which should justify their selection. I think everybody here remembers the words of our Honourable Chief Justice who sometime back said that if competition alone was the thing to effect recruitment of the people, the people of the Punjab would not have found him at the head of the judicial administration. This does not mean that efficiency does not count, but there are other things which govern and which must be given sufficient regard when making appointments in military and semi-military departments. I think, Sir, I have dealt at sufficient length with the arguments which were advanced by my learned friend. With these words I oppose the motion.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan (Ludhiana, Muhammadan, Rural) : Sir, it is with great hesitation but with full sense of responsibility that I would like to say something in support of this cut motion. I think there is an identical motion standing in my name, No. 27, in to-day's agenda. We have been assured by the Government on that side that everything will be done for the people of this province, but the present Government has to show, as far as this department is concerned, as to what they have done in order to eradicate corruption from this department in particular. The prosperity of every country and every province depends much upon the honesty and the efficiency that is displayed by this department especially. Now, Sir, it will not be out of place if I place specific instances of corruption so far as my district is concerned because as the proverb goes :

۱ شتے از نمونه خردارے

It will give you an idea how the police department is functioning in the whole province. In my constituency you will notice, Sir, and I bring to the notice of the Government through you, that several complaints are pending against high police officers, subordinate police officers. In those complaints there are also insinuations against police officers of higher rank. The head of the police department in the province, I do not think, has moved in the matter, and this matter as a matter of fact was of primary concern. I find that complaints were instituted against police officers in my constituency in court. I do not know under what circumstances and how and under what pressure they were withdrawn. I find, Sir, at this particular hour in Jagraon thana alone there are several complaints of the people against the Sub-Inspector and the Assistant Sub-Inspector, which I am aware have been enquired into by a gazetted officer. I do not know how and in what manner the Government will deal with those officers or whether they are to be dealt with departmentally. I do not know how my learned friend just now said that we should wait and see that this Government does something towards improvement in this department as this Government has assumed office only three months ago. There was no time to deal properly and effectively with these evils. He pleaded that Government have not had sufficient time to look into these matters. With due deference to him, Sir, I venture to suggest that Government should have devoted attention particularly to this department as soon as they assumed office, because if this department is not free from corruption, and if honest and efficient police officers are not encouraged, and dishonest police officers are not discouraged, I am perfectly sure everything will come to a standstill.

The people of the province will have no faith in this Government as well as their representatives. I know of an instance when a deputation wanted to have an interview with the Inspector-General of Police. Some officer, some public servant refused time on the ground that the Inspector-General had no time. It is not very creditable to the department or to the particular officer concerned. I do not know his definite designation. Probably he was a personal assistant or the Assistant Inspector-General, as he is now called. He probably did not like that the deputationists should cite the instances of corruption or inefficiency against a brother officer of his. Therefore he refused to arrange for the interview. If this can happen in the case of a deputation of responsible persons, what will happen in the case of an illiterate zamindar who has got a complaint against a police officer and who, if he comes to Simla or goes to Lahore, finds that he has not been able to obtain time and that the state of affairs in the office of the Inspector-General, does not permit time to be given to him. The police officer after getting information that the man went to Simla or Lahore, but could not get time for an interview with the Inspector-General does everything that is in his power against the man. He is challaned under every section of the Indian Penal Code and his case is put before the courts and knowing as we do that the magistracy these days is under the thumb of the police, the poor man has little chance of an acquittal. I find that there is no denial of the fact that such man is very much harrassed.

Premier : There is a denial of that allegation.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : I know it is so easy to deny on the floor of this House, but I request the Premier to go to my district and see what is happening there. He should not make any statement without making an enquiry into the allegations that I am making on the floor of this House at the door of the Police Department. It is not proper for any honourable member in this House to come forward and challenge any statement which they have not verified.

Premier : These are allegations which I must deny.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Honourable Premier has denied these facts, I hope in future we shall have no such complaints against the police and I know that the Honourable Premier as soon as he is free from this business, will run up to Ludhiana and find for himself as to how many police officers are under suspension and against how many of them complaints are pending in courts and before their officers. I was just submitting that the state of affairs, so far as the police is concerned in my district is an open scandal. Corruption does not mean only acceptance of money for discharging a duty or refraining from discharging a duty imposed by law. It also means that on account of undue influence the officer should get things done, for example, in my district I find that several relations of the Superintendent of Police have been recruited in the Police Department as constables and complaints have reached the Deputy Inspector-General and the Inspector-General and I do not know as to what has been done in that particular matter. I find that the Deputy Inspector-General and the Inspector-General run up to districts, inspect the thanas and afford no opportunity to the public to come into contact with them and to get redress of their grievances against the department, and therefore, it is not possible for anyone to reform the police even by this Government. They do not issue special instructions to these inspecting officers to go to villages and find out for themselves what the police in each district is doing and how it is functioning. I know of an instance where a large number of people waited upon the Inspector-General of Police when he visited Ludhiana. Somehow or other it reached the ears of the Superintendent of Police and he arranged another deputation consisting of about 500 people all zaildars, lambardars, honorary magistrates, title holders and retired Deputy Superintendents of Police and they told the Inspector-General that these few congressmen and political agitators who have brought to your notice defects of the police administration should not be cared for. On this account the Inspector-General rejected the suggestions made by the deputationists. He did not inquire into these complaints and did not care to redress the grievances of the people who had waited on him and had spent and wasted their time. No reform is possible in these circumstances. I know of another instance of a zamindar in dirty clothes who went to the Assistant Inspector-General with the request that he may be granted an interview with the Inspector-General because he had to make serious allegations against the Superintendent of Police. The answer was that the man should go to the Deputy Inspector-General. I ask, is that fair? Were the Assistant Inspector-General, or Inspector-General doing their duty? Was it not the primary duty of every public servant in the Police Department to afford an opportunity to the people to lay their grievances before them and to see that these are redressed? It was most improper on the part of the public servant and as long as that Personal Assistant exists, as long as that officer is there, I am sure it is absolutely impossible to obtain any redress and obtain any promise from the Government that they will try to eradicate corruption and improve the efficiency of the Police Department. I know that in my district contracts by district boards and municipalities are granted to the near relations of the Superintendent of Police simply because undue pressure is brought to bear upon the persons concerned, and in order to save themselves from undue trouble and false cases, they give these contracts. The primary consideration of any civilized government should be to improve the efficiency of the Police Department. I regret that in spite of so many assurances from the Government and from the Honourable Ministers it has not been possible for this Government, for the present Government which is alleged to be for the people by the people and of the people to take any step towards the improving of the police administration. If I were to quote instances, I think I have about 51 of them in which it has been held by departmental enquiries by gazetted officers that there appears to be grounds to suspect that the policeman or the officer has accepted bribe, but only because there was no sufficient evidence, therefore it has not been deemed proper to either send the man's case for judicial enquiry or for any departmental action. Is it fair? Is the Government going to put up with such things? if the Government is going to put up with such things it cannot be a government of the people by the people for the people.

✓ As my learned friend just now remarked, it is Government of a few ministers, a few secretaries and a few government servants who are the champions of the Police Department. I do not dispute the methods that have been suggested by my learned friend about the improvement in recruitment of the Police Department. The only question is whether these suggestions which have been submitted by my learned friend just now, will be sufficient in themselves to be adopted by this Government or in the light of criticism that is made by different members that the Honourable Premier being in charge of law and order will consider as to what to do with the present state of affairs existing in the Police Department. I know of a case which was pending in the court of the Additional District Magistrate, Ludhiana, against a Sub-Inspector of Police. For want of proof the case was dismissed but that police officer, after having been summoned to the police lines, has been reposted to one of the most important stations in Ludhiana District. I am very much pleased to note that there is a circular of the Government that if any five respectable men give an application for an enquiry against the conduct of a police officer, an enquiry will be instituted. But the question here is the criterion of respect as to whether the Government will consider an ordinary zamindar as a respectable person (Premier: Why not,) or the Government servants as respectable persons. I know that ordinary zamindars with no particular service to the Police Department by way of supplying information or assisting the police in perpetrating different kinds of crime and the grievances of the people of the ilaqa are neither heard nor redressed. That circular exists on paper only. It is not given effect to.

Premier : Can the honourable member give any instance?

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : I shall furnish information to the Honourable Premier at the proper time. I have not yet concluded my speech. I will do it towards the conclusion even at the risk of being prosecuted.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Being prosecuted?

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : I was submitting that the police administration, so far as my district is concerned, is going from bad to worse (Voices from Opposition Benches : It is the same all over.) The honourable members can say that it is the same all over on their own authority. I will not say anything against the police officers of other districts because I have not got data of other districts. I have got instances so far as my district is concerned. If a person gives an application against a police officer, surely there must be something about it. If the reputation of a police officer is bad, it is necessary for the Government to institute an enquiry as soon as they get a complaint from five people of a particular village in a particular ilaqa. Another thing that appears in the circular is the term "disinterested persons". I have not been able to follow what the Government means by 'disinterested persons'.

Premier : Any person who is not disgruntled himself.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : If you find some fault with the police officer and you make a complaint, you are considered as an interested person when it is found that on a certain occasion you found fault with the police officer, and the application is either dismissed or filed after a departmental enquiry. What I understand by 'disinterested' is that he himself is not a victim of the police tyranny. So far as a man is not involved in a case, or he has not found fault with the police or has not forwarded a case of his constituents and voters, he is not an interested person. He is as good a disinterested person as any other.

Premier : I entirely agree with the honourable member .

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : I wish the Honourable Premier had agreed with me on all the points.

Premier : No.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : I will now quote particular instances for example. A complaint for corruption was filed in the court of District Magistrate, Ludhiana, against the Sub-Inspector of Sidhwan Police Station. The complaint was made over to another magistrate in the district. The magistrate under some circumstances—I do not know what those circumstances were—had to allow a compromise. Most probably it must have been with the connivance of the Superintendent of Police.

Premier : I am afraid the honourable member is making allegations and insinuations in a vague and sweeping manner. I request him not to do so. He has made insinuations against a magistrate, against a deputy commissioner and a superintendent of police and then he says that these are the concrete cases.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : I just wanted to satisfy the Honourable Premier that every case that would be quoted by me would be supported by instances. I did not make any allegation against the trial magistrate. I made specific allegations—of course with full responsibility—against the District Magistrate, and the Superintendent of Police, Ludhiana.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : He is doing this at great risk.

Premier : Not in this House. It will be risky if he does so outside the House.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : I have done this outside also. There are complaints pending with regard to certain cases. I will not touch those matters because they are before judicial officers.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member can speak according to the Punjab Legislative Assembly Rules and not otherwise. I would, therefore request him to continue in that spirit.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Without challenging the authority of the Honourable Speaker, I think that I am perfectly within my rights when I quote specific instances with a view to prove my case. If I were to say that the general administration of the Police Department is bad, you will not agree with me. I must quote specific instances in support of my contention that the entire administration, so far as the Police Department is concerned, is rotten. I am bound by the ruling of the Honourable Speaker, but I request that I might be allowed to quote specific instances.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : Give names as well.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : There is no defamation. I am not making this speech with a view to lower the reputation of any official.

Mr. Speaker : Is it not defamation to say that a particular sub-inspector, superintendent of police or district magistrate is corrupt? If this is not defamatory, I do not know what else can be defamatory? The honourable members have the privilege of freedom of speech, subject to the rules in force. May I invite the attention of the honourable members to Rule 29 (1) and Rule 29 (2) (v) on page 16 of the interim rules (Punjab Legislative Assembly Rules and Standing Orders). The rules read as follows :—

29. (1) The matter of every speech shall be strictly relevant to the matter before the Assembly.

(2) A member while speaking shall not—

(v) utter treasonable, seditious or defamatory words.

i.e., defamatory of anybody whether in or out of this House.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : He can just interpret for himself what is defamatory and what is not. It is for the Honourable Speaker himself to judge because hereafter he shall not be protected.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : May I just say a word on this point as the matter is of great importance and I should like a definite ruling from the Chair. I am not concerned with what the honourable member from Ludhiana has been saying. I do not take responsibility for that, for, he has expressly taken responsibility for it, but the question is whether it is defamatory to say anything against a particular individual, an officer of the Government or an institution under the control of the Government, with a view to secure redress from the Government (Hear, hear). One essential element of defamation, as I understand, is malice and unless there is an element of malice in any statement made on the floor of the House, it is not defamatory. If the object of giving expression to what one knows about any particular officer or about any particular institution under the control of Government is to secure reform and redress, I would submit, apart from this individual case for which I have said already that I take no responsibility, it is not defamatory to draw attention of the Government to any abuse which comes to the notice of any member of this House, relating to an institution or a particular officer.

At this stage the Assembly adjourned for Lunch.

The Assembly re-assembled at 2 P.M. Mr. Speaker in the Chair.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : I was quoting instances in support of my contention that the police administration is going from bad to worse. One more specific instance I will give and through you I want to invite the attention of the Honourable Premier that he will have to deal with this semi-military department in a military manner, and I am glad that our Premier is an Honorary Major of some Regiment, he will have to strictly deal with this department. I know of a case Crown versus Hukmi in which a retired police officer was suspected to have beaten a man. There were 26 injuries on the person of the injured man. He was arrested and challaned under section 109 and ultimately the man died in hospital. The widow of the injured made a complaint to the Superintendent of Police. Nothing was done. She instituted a complaint in a magistrate's court. The case was taken up. It was committed to the Sessions Court. It was ultimately decided by the High Court and it was held and found specifically that injuries that were inflicted on the person of this man Hukmi were inflicted in the manner alleged in the complaint by the widow. (A voice : Which year ?) In the year 1935. I might mention that the case was decided in the High Court in 1936. So far no action has been taken against the police officers concerned by the Superintendent of Police. Perhaps the case has not come to the notice of the present Punjab Government.

Premier : Is this a Ludhiana district case ?

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Yes. The Punjab Government is not so wide awake that such a case in which merciless beating was given to one of the residents of that district has not come to the notice of the Government.

Premier : May I request the honourable member to provide me with a copy of the judgment or give me definite indication with regard to the case.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Certainly. This alone is a fact which if the Punjab Government takes into consideration, it should not feel elated on what it has done so far since the assumption of office. (A voice : For something which was done in 1935 ?) The case was ultimately decided in 1936, but so far nothing has been done by the present Government. (A voice : It might have been done by the old Government.)

Premier : It might have escaped the honourable member's notice.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Here is another instance of Simla. A sub-inspector of police challaned a person under section 451 under the very nose of the Punjab Government, simply because he was playing a gramophone at 12-30 and a man remonstrated with him as his wife was ill. The next day a carpenter was playing his gramophone in the day. The same man remonstrated with the carpenter. The sub-inspector challaned him for having trespassed in the house of the carpenter to ask him to cease playing on the gramophone.

Mr. Speaker : What about the 451 case ?

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : It must be pending, but I have made no reference to that.

Mr. Speaker : But the honourable member has made serious allegations.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : So far as my information goes, it is reliable.

Premier : But I have thought that my honourable friend opposite definitely asserted that the sub-inspector had challaned this man mala-fide.

Mr. Speaker : Is the matter pending before a court of law ?

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : I do not know. There are several other allegations of cases under section 109, which I can quote in support of the argument that the police administration is not working satisfactorily in the whole of the province.

Look at the inconsistency of the Punjab Government. They have fixed Rs. 15 for an assistant sub-inspector to maintain a horse and Rs. 30 for a sub-inspector for maintaining a horse of the same kind. I do not understand how this position is consistent. An assistant sub-Inspector who is ordered to maintain a horse naturally will require the same allowance so far as the feeding of the horse is concerned, as a sub-inspector would do, and I know that the Punjab Government instead of increasing the pay of the lower ranks of the Police Department, is increasing the pay of those who are holding offices in the Provincial and Indian Police ranks.

There are several instances I know of. One is of Balabgarh in the Gurgaon district. There Rup Lal Mehta's sister was harassed. In Dalhousie Dr. Dharamvir at the time he was going to receive Miss Mira Ben (Miss Slade) was maltreated and molested by the police at Dalhousie.

There are several other instances which are sufficient to condemn the Police Department so far as this province is concerned. One of my honourable friends reminded me that it might be possible to withdraw the protection which as a matter of right is claimed by honourable members of this House so that they might not be ill-treated or falsely implicated in any case. I may assure the House that I do not care for such protection because anything that I say I say on personal authority after having ascertained from my voters and constituents and after making due enquiries into those matters. I know of a case where there was a general complaint of corruption against a sub-inspector of police. The police authorities instead of taking action against the sub-inspector were pleased to reward him by promoting him to officiate as inspector of police. I do not know the reason why it was done. This case must be within the knowledge of the Inspector-General of Police or the Superintendent of Police of the district. There are several instances in my district where corruption is rampant so much so that even the man in the street talks about it. I, therefore, suggest to the Government that some drastic action is necessary in this matter. If I suggest any drastic action it may not be acceptable to the Treasury benches. Simply on the score that we are Congress men the police authorities will not care for our suggestions. They will not care to make enquiries into our allegations.

Premier : That is not correct under the new regime.

Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : I am talking about the new regime and not of the old regime, because I was not a member under the old regime.

Now, I turn to the reply of my honourable friend, the Premier. I personally wrote a letter to the Deputy Inspector-General of Police, Eastern Range, in order to discuss the police administration. What I was required to do was that I must specifically say on what particular matter I wanted to discuss. I could not afford to do that, because I knew that the matter would leak out and that persons who made allegations to me would not come forward to substantiate their allegations for fear of the local police. It would be all-right if a disinterested person, some judicial officer or some non-official is employed to make the enquiries, and see the result. The Honourable Premier will not have much to say in defence of his department. (An honourable member : You made a mistake.) Yes, I realise it only now. Had the honourable member been with me then, I might not have committed the mistake.

Majority of the members of this House are aware of the ways of the police. We experience what great inconvenience the villagers are put to by the police, particularly when the villagers happen to displease the police. Begar is taken by the police from everybody whom they think proper to take begar from. Lambardars and zaildars instead of proving of assistance to the public often prove engines of tyranny to the villagers. These are matters to which I want to draw the particular attention of the Honourable Premier of the Punjab Government. I, therefore, vehemently oppose the suggestion that this cut motion should be thrown out. Rather I heartily support the motion moved by my honourable friend, Lala Duni Chand. (Cheers.)

Sardar Sahib Sardar Ujjal Singh (Western Towns, Sikh, Urban) : Allow me to congratulate the honourable member from Ambala for the very moderate tone, and if I may say so, responsible tone of his speech. (Hear, hear.) This is probably due to the fact that he realises the spirit and significance of the change which the provincial autonomy means. The police in the past were regarded as agents of oppression acting on behalf of a foreign Government. They are no longer so when the whole sphere of law and order is entrusted to the care of a minister who is responsible to the this honourable House. (Hear, hear.) The primary function of the police force is to preserve peace and tranquillity in the country without which no progress, either cultural or economic is possible. In every free country the policemen are looked upon for protection of life and property and honour of citizens. (Hear, hear.) It is on this account that the police are rather respected than dreaded. I admit that the old mentality of the police in their behaviour towards the public and the hostile attitude of the public towards the police has yet to change and it will take some time. The police has been charged with acts of commission and omission and in some cases rightly too. But it must be admitted that in spite of all that has been said against the police, the police still maintain a high standard of discipline and have shown courage and resourcefulness in coping with riots and disturbances (hear, hear), and crimes of a serious nature. (An honourable member : No.)

My honourable friend from Ambala made two or three constructive suggestions from his point of view. He and the honourable member for Ludhiana stated that the constables are being paid very low salary. I believe there is no one in the House who is not in sympathy with the constables or with the sentiments expressed by these honourable friends. The only point which they have not studied is the figure. When the honourable member from Ambala suggested that the pay of a constable should be raised to about Rs. 30 or even Rs. 50, he did not calculate what the extra cost would come to. If he had calculated the figures he would not have made a proposal of that kind. According to his proposal the pay of each constable would be increased by about Rs. 20 and the number of constables and head constables which my honourable friend ought to know is 21,000.

Lala Duni Chand : The number is 17,000.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Ujjal Singh : You have not included the number of head constables. There are 17,781 constables and 3,000 head constables, who are paid Rs. 30 per month. Now, Sir, if the salary of constables is raised by Rs. 20 the expenditure of the province would rise by not less than Rs. 50 lakhs or so. I do not know how and where this money is to come from. Then it must be taken into consideration that it is not only the low-paid constables whose salaries have to be raised, but along with them there are low-paid teachers and patwaris, for whom the other day most of the honourable members on the other side of the House pleaded. If you are going to raise the salaries of all these low-paid men, you will have to provide not only 50 lakhs but in all about one and a half or two crores of rupees. ("Hear, hear" from the Treasury benches). I think, Sir, that it will be the duty of the Government to raise the salaries of these low paid officials whenever financial conditions permit.

The second point that my honourable friend from Ludhiana raised was the question of corruption in police ranks.

Lala Duni Chand : May I inform the honourable member that if he will calculate the pay of the constables and head constables at Rs. 40 per mensem the total will come to only Rs. 8 lakhs.

Premier : If my honourable friend multiplies 8 lakhs by 12, he will get 96 lakhs.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Ujjal Singh : My honourable friend still requires to learn the multiplication table. (Laughter.) My honourable friend from Ludhiana put up a list of charges against police officials in his own district. I am not aware of these charges, but I agree that there is a certain amount of corruption in police; and it is not only in police, but we have got to admit with shame that corruption exists in other departments also. ("Hear, hear" from the Opposition.) Wherever there is power certain amount of corruption is likely to arise in and corruption, if I may say so, has not been totally eradicated in any country in the world. I must say that every effort should be made to root out corruption, not only in the police forces, but in all departments. I must here state with certain satisfaction that in the High Court and judicial departments the Honourable Chief Justice has taken very strong measures and with certain amount of success. I believe that equally strong measures will be taken to eradicate corruption in police and other departments. I do not under-value the action taken from time to time by the heads of departments and particularly by the Police department in this matter. Sir, I have in my hands a police report for the year 1934 and I find that action has been taken against no less than 800 men and officials. About 175 officials and men were dismissed and minor departmental punishments were given to 620 men. I know that this is not sufficient to root out corruption; but the Government is doing and, I think, the new Government will do all in their power to eradicate corruption in all departments. (Hear, hear.) My honourable friend from Ludhiana gave a list of charges of those acts of high-handedness and of corruption. I am not aware of those charges. but if those charges are correct and if the honourable member takes responsibility for the accuracy, I think, the Honourable Premier and his Government will not shirk the responsibility of making enquiry into those charges. (Hear, hear).

Sir, my honourable friend from Ambala made a suggestion that Government ought to send one or two officers to London for training in police methods of detecting crimes. (Lala Duni Chand : A dozen at least). A dozen. I am not going to oppose him. I agree and sympathise with the sentiments of my honourable friend in this matter. We are trying to follow English methods in our Parliament, in our rules and procedure and everywhere. I think the London Police is the envy of the whole world and the Government would be well-advised to follow the model of London police. I do not know whether the Government would like to send its officers there or the Government would have one or two London policemen sent from London for giving training in the Phillaur training school to police officers. I do not wish to take more time of the House, but I do feel that there must be a re-orientation, not only in the police methods of detecting crimes and dealing with criminals but also a change of attitude of the public towards the police, ("hear, hear" from the Treasury benches), and if that change is brought about, which I am sure will be brought about, in course of time, then the day is not far off when the policemen will be looked upon with respect for the protection and honour of the people of this country. I believe, Sir, after having made constructive suggestions, which the Government is prepared to listen to and welcome, the honourable member will be well-advised to withdraw his cut motion. (Cheers).

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt (North-Eastern Towns, General, Urban) : Sir, I had no intention to speak on this cut motion, but owing to a peculiar set of circumstances and in view of certain letters that I received this morning from my constituency, I felt the necessity of expressing my susceptibilities about the police administration. Before I do that I would like to assure the Honourable Premier that whatever I say will not be out of any malice towards the police. Although I am a Congress-man I have quite a number of friends who are in the police department and I know that there are quite a few in the police department who are really honest and good gentlemen. But we have to take into account the general police administration and if I say anything against the working of the police administration in our province, it will not be with a view to condemn any particular individual — the Honourable Premier or the Inspector General or the Deputy Inspector-General. It will be a criticism levelled against the police administration as a whole, so that the Honourable Premier, in the light of that criticism, may try to effect reforms. It is acknowledged on all hands that the police is one of the most important departments of the Government on which depends the safety of the people as well as the safety of the State.

In fact one cannot imagine a State without a police, unless of course human nature, which is dominated even to-day by animal nature, is transferred into an angelic nature — culminating in the materialism of that utopian ideal of anarchical form of society in which there is no need for a Government. The present is not the occasion to discuss the metaphysical or the biological theories on the subject, that is to say, whether the process of evolution is leading mankind towards the superman — may be Nietzsche's Superman or Bernard Shaw's Superman. Society as it is constituted to-day will remain so for the next thousands of years and will continue to require the services of the police. I have said all that in order to bring home to the Government the importance of the subject. Certain factors into the details of which I am not prepared to go at present and which are quite well known to the honourable members of this House have made this subject more important to-day in our country and I believe that great responsibility rests on the shoulders of the Provincial Governments in tackling these difficult questions very tactfully, sometimes cautiously and sometimes boldly. Let me carry the honourable members of this House on the wings of imagination to that period of their life called the babyhood or even boyhood. Whenever they refused to take milk or medicine, or whenever they were refractory or mischievous, they were terrorised into submissiveness by their parents, by being reminded of the fact that the policeman was at hand. Such is the terror associated with the word 'police'. Few will deny that this state of affairs is as good to-day as it was then. I dare say without fear of contradiction that amongst the police of all the civilised countries of the world, the Indian Police is most inefficient, corrupt and tyrannical. I am making no irresponsible statement. I know what I am saying and I mean what I am saying. As most of the honourable members know, I have travelled far and wide. I have been twice to Europe and America. I have seen things for myself and that only very recently. Even last year I was in Europe and America and there I saw things for myself. I may tell the House that 14 years ago when I read that wonderful book of Dicey, the Law of English Constitution, which graphically describes the Rule of Law in England, I could not believe then that that account was a faithful reproduction of the actual state of affairs in England. But when I went there and saw things for myself, I was convinced the every word that Dicey wrote then was literally true even to-day. Sir, from my knowledge I speak. Therefore I said that I was making no irresponsible statement. I am therefore in a position to say that there is no comparison whatsoever between the police in the United Kingdom and the police in our country—the one is so benevolent; the other is so truculent, the one is so honest and incorruptible, the other so knavish and unscrupulous (cheers). The policeman in England considers himself as a servant of the people, while here in our country the policeman considers himself the master of the people.

Sir, our Press bristles with the most horrible reports of excesses committed by the police. Even the High Court in the Punjab has, on several occasions, passed severe strictures against the methods and conduct of the police. The brutal treatment of the police towards the public and their fiendish habit of cooking prosecution stories and the torturous manner in which they try to extract the so-called confessions from the accused are all well known to every honourable member of this House. While conditions in this respect are undoubtedly deplorable in the towns, it is in the small towns and in the villages, that the poor people suffer terribly at the hands of the police, and the Unionist Government which claims to represent the villagers, and the poor people, should take note of this terrible state of affairs. I am really surprised that every time a member of the other side gets up, he considers it his duty to defend the police. It is not a question of defending the police. It is not a question of even criticising the police. The question is of actual facts. Every member of this House, whether Congressite or Unionist, knows that the police is not fair, that the police is corrupt, that the police is tyrannical and yet when we move this cut motion before the House, honourable members opposite get up and say, it is for the people to behave and it is for the public to offer co-operation to the police and so on. I do not expect the Honourable Premier to get up and dance to the tune of the Honourable Finance Minister who the other day advocated the policy of laissez-faire in the matter of development of industries and the eradication of unemployment. I do not expect the Honourable Premier to get up and say that it is for the people to do this and do that. Our duty is to bring these matters to the notice of the Government and it is for the Government, which is all powerful now-a-days, to attend to them. The conception of state that is being followed in this House, I am afraid, is medieval; it is not modern; it is not rational. Whenever we bring in questions of improvement, any question of reform, we are told it is to be done by individual effort, it is by private enterprise, it is by self-effort that we can do these things. No, I do not agree. If the Government is sincere — and I believe the Honourable Premier may be sincere — if the Government is sincere, then I would say that they should listen to our criticism, and to our suggestions. We do not want to put them in the wrong. It is not with any sense of flippancy or frivolity that we bring these cut motions before the House. We realise our responsibilities. I know that certain honourable members talk about the irresponsible attitude of the Opposition. They think that we are wreckers, that we are irresponsible persons. I assure them that we do not even flirt with irresponsibility. (Hear, hear). We might have different views from theirs. But do not think that if a person differs from you, he is irresponsible or offers destructive criticism. Even if we offer destructive criticism it is with a view to construct something upon it. Unless you demolish a certain thing which is totally rotten, you cannot construct any beautiful and stately building upon it. (Cheers). I would appeal to the Honourable Premier to issue a circular to everybody in the police administration telling him that the old order has been buried unmourned, unhonoured and unsung and that we are now under a new regime, that we are now under a humane regime (hear, hear). I expect the Honourable Premier to get up and give us a definite assurance that he is aware of the sorry state of affairs in the police department and that he would try his level best to humanise the police department. You know, Sir, and the honourable members know what sort of police we have got. Instances after instances have been given. I can quote instances too. But I have not bothered the Premier so far by quoting instances on the floor of this House. I have not tried to bother him with any interpellations because I have come to believe that in our legislature the method of interpellation is probably not the best method, because every time a question is asked, the Government members get up and try to defend the department or the officers. Of course interpellations are meant to elicit information. But they have got another object also, that is, to bring certain complaints before the Government.

I have said that I have not bothered the Premier by putting questions to him. What in the circumstances I would like to do is to approach him and place these facts before him, and would say to him, "You claim to be sincere, you claim to reform the entire machinery of government. Here are certain facts before you, let me see what you will do." I would like, for the information of the House, to place certain facts so that the Premier might know how things are going on in our province even now-a-days when he holds the highest rank in the Provincial Police Service. Sir, I may inform the House that I represent one of the biggest constituencies in the Punjab. My constituency comprises, Sialkot, Wazirabad, Gurdaspur, Kasur, Chunian, etc. My constituency is an urban constituency and I think it is one of the biggest constituencies in the Panjab (A voice: What about the University constituency?) So far as these complaints are concerned my correspondence is fairly heavy. With your permission, Sir, I will read out an extract from a letter which I have received from my constituency. It reads—

عرض یہ ہے کہ چند ضروری امور کے متعلق جناب سے ملنے کی خواہش ہے۔ چونکہ اجلاس شملہ میں ہو رہا ہے اسلئے بوجہ اخراجات آپ کی خدمت میں حاضر نہیں ہو سکتا۔ اگر اجلاس لاہور میں ہوتا تو ضرور ہی آپ کی خدمت میں حاضر ہو کر زبانی بات چیت کرتا۔ اسلئے براہ نوازش مندرجہ ذیل واقعات کی بابت موجودہ اجلاس میں سوال کر کے خدمت خلق کریں۔ وہ واقعات مندرجہ ذیل ہیں۔

I am omitting the names

مورخہ ۵ جون سنہ ۱۹۳۷ء کی درمیانی شب کو مسٹر کے ہاں نقب زنی کی واردات ہوئی۔ پولیس نے پہلے ریوٹ لکھنے سے انکار کر دیا۔

Please note the underlying psychology.

لیکن بعد میں کافی جدوجہد پر ریوٹ لکھی گئی۔ مقامی سب انسپکٹر پولیس نے بازار کے تمام دوکان داروں جن میں انکم ٹیکس گزار میونسپل کمشنر بھی تھے بلا کر ان کو بازار اور احاطہ تھانہ میں بھی نہایت بری طرح دلیل کیا۔ فحش گالیاں دین۔ چند ایک کو زد و کوب بھی کیا گیا۔

مورخہ ۷ جون سنہ ۱۹۳۷ء کو ایک عام پبلک جلسہ ہوا جس میں مقامی پولیس افسر کے رویہ کے خلاف زور دار الفاظ میں پروٹسٹ کیا گیا اور ایک قرار داد کے ذریعہ حکومت پنجاب اور افسران ضلع سے جس میں قیسی اور ایس پی شامل ہیں واقعات کی تحقیقات کا مطالبہ کیا گیا۔ قرار داد کی نقل بذریعہ رجسٹری ان کو بھیجی گئی۔ لیکن تا حال مورخہ ۲۶ تک کوئی کارروائی نہیں ہوئی۔ معززین اپنی بے عزتی کو بہت بری طرح محسوس کرتے ہیں۔ لیکن مقامی پولیس کے قدر کی وجہ سے قانونی کارروائی کرنے سے گھبراتے ہیں۔ اس لئے ہم لوگ آپ سے امید کرتے ہیں

کہ آپ اس کے متعلق ایک جامع سوال پوچھکر اس جگہ کی پبلک کی حوصلہ افزائی فرمائیں گے۔

نوٹ—یہ خط اس جگہ کے سات معزز اصحاب کی طرف سے موصول ہوا ہے۔

I have got another letter which I have received just now and that is a registered letter. I have not been able to go through it carefully but I have gone through it only cursorily. There are many names mentioned in it. I do not propose to read it.

Syed Afzaal Ali Hasnie : All written on the same stationery.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : No. Sir, If you like I can pile up instances upon instances of the brutal excesses perpetrated by the police on innocent men, and women in towns and villages, which will draw tears from the eyes of the honourable members of this House, unless of course beneath their breasts they carry stones instead of hearts. Innocent men and women, Mr. Speaker, are molested; and the tragedy of the situation is that there is no one to come to their rescue—the administration is so stereotyped, so ligneous, and so unresponsive. And when one of us on this side of the House, say, the Leader of the Opposition, than whom no fairer-minded person adorns this august Assembly, takes upon himself, out of sheer sense of service to the government and the people, to investigate into certain excesses committed by the police, up gets the Premier on his feet and issues a stern warning to the Leader of the Opposition that it is none of his business to poke his nose into the affairs of the administration and if he does so he does it at his own risk and responsibility. (Premier : I repeat that). He said these words, but does not realise that such statements supply encouragement to the police, that such statements are the Magna Charta of the police, that such statements give a carte blanche to the Police to do whatever zulum they like (cheers). I do not want to take more time of the House, but I will repeat what I said before that the Honourable the Premier should not be officious in these matters. He should not be in the hands of his subordinates. (Voices from Treasury Benches : No). He should take courage in both hands. There is no sense in denying the fact. The fact is there. Up till now, in quite a number of cases, I am sorry to say, not only the honourable the Premier, but other members of the Cabinet as well, are more or less in the hands of the Secretaries (Voices from the Treasury Benches : No, no.) There is no use denying this because they have taken over office only recently and do not well understand the machinery of the administration. It is no condemnation of theirs. It will take them some time to understand the administration which is so complicated. I do not believe that gentlemen over there know everything, that they are astrologers, all wise, that they are omnipotent and omniscient : they are human beings, as most of the members are. It takes time. What would you say if I point out specific instances in support of my contention? The secretaries, who know the intricacies of the administration and who know how to answer questions, please ready made things before you. I am not condemning you. I have the greatest respect for the ability of these people who possess it. Sir, every man, woman and child in this province wants the police to be as polite as the honourable the Premier — the provincial head of the police in this province so far as transferred department is concerned.

I would like that every policeman in our province, whether he is an ordinary police constable or a sub-inspector or an inspector or superintendent of police or even Deputy Inspector-General or Inspector-General should be as courteous and as polite as the honourable Premier himself (hear, hear). If the Premier desires to be the uncrowned king of this province—

Premier : I have no such desire.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : The sweet Premier should not be so modest. Modesty is the virtue of a woman (laughter). If the Honourable Premier aspires to that position or if his friends desire that he should be the uncrowned king of the province then I would suggest that he should act in a magnanimous manner, in a benevolent manner, in a kingly manner, otherwise, — I would not like to say anything trenchant or caustic —, but I would conclude my speech by narrating a very interesting story appropriate to the subject. Once in a German school a teacher called out three boys from the class and enquired from one of them :

“ Well my dear boy, if your father were General Goering what would you like to be ?

The boy said : “ If my father were General Goering, I would like to be a Commander in the Army.”

The teacher called out the second boy and enquired :

“ My dear boy, if your father were Dr. Sacht what would you like to be ? ”

The boy replied :

“ If my father were Dr. Sacht I would like to be the President of the Reichbank.”

He then called the third boy and enquired from him :

“ Well, my dear boy, if your father were Hitler, what would you like to be. ” ?

The boy was “ cute ” and perhaps a little knavish and he said in a lachrymose tone ;

“ If my father were Hitler. I would like to be an orphan. ”

(Laughter). If we here have any uncrowned kings like Hitler, I can only say that we had better remain without a king. But I do not grudge him the honour, if the Honourable Premier comes up to the standard set by Mahatma Gandhi or Pandit Jawahar Lal. Were he to come up to their standard, I and we on this side of the House shall be the first to acknowledge him as the uncrowned king of the province.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood (Amritsar, Muhammadan, Rural) Sir, we have listened to a very fine speech from my honourable friend who represents—one of the biggest constituencies of the Punjab. He is a fine speaker and he has a facile delivery which makes it a pleasure to listen to him and to follow him. But angels are jealous and when they gave him all that, I speak with due deference, they made him so enthusiastic that any subject that he talks on he refuses to see the other side of it.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : But is there any ?

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : I will make that clear when I develop my point. I am sure that there cannot be any two opinions in this House on the questions, one that corruption wherever it exists in the Punjab should be eradicated and should be eradicated with a strong hand.

Minister for Revenue : Hear, hear.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : That is not a mere lip expression but it is one of the main items of our creed and our political faith. The second point has been indicated in the course of the speeches that in the Police Department just as in other departments there are black sheep who deserve to be treated in a manner that they may make a repetition of such things impossible in the Punjab. I am sure on that question there will be no difference of opinion on this side of the House or on the other. But, Sir, there is one point on which I feel that the responsible members on the Opposition benches will agree with us and it is this that we protest against certain wholesale condemnation of the police force. I refer in particular to the speech of my honourable friend from Ludhiana in which he quoted certain bad instances from his own district on the merits of which I am not in a position to speak just now, but referring to some of the delinquents in his own district he stated that this is the position of the police force in the Punjab. I feel it is my duty and of those who sit on my side of the House, and others on the opposite side will also bear me out, that in the Punjab police ranks there are many honest, courteous, self-sacrificing and industrious public servants (hear, hear) who are discharging their exacting duties under very difficult circumstances. Therefore, anything which we speak as the tribunes of the people of the Punjab in this House should not be such as to lead to a wholesale disheartening or condemnation of the police force which may give an undue encouragement to the badmash element in the Punjab with whom the police force has to deal, for that would be a definite disservice to the Punjab and the electors of the Punjab.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : We are the badmashes.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : My honourable friend says something about badmashes on the other side. I will not follow his example and of certain other members on the opposite side for whom we have a great respect, but there is one point which I wish to bring to his notice. My honourable friend in the course of his very beautiful speech in a very telling style referred to the so-called terror which is instilled in the children's minds when they refer to the policemen standing at the corner. Yes, sir, policeman is a terror, if I may say so, to the bad boys of the family and I think the Premier and the Government will be failing in their duty, if they fail to take action against bad men and badmashes in the country. So long as the Police Department exists and the Government exists, I feel it shall be their duty and I hope and pray it shall be the duty of the other party in the six provinces where they have been returned in a majority, to hold out the police, as a terror to badmashes in the country. There is one point which I wish particularly to emphasize. In the course of speeches to-day we have had some very instructive suggestions and I am sure nobody will be happier to welcome them and examine them than the Honourable Premier whose sense of fairmindedness is recognized by all sides of the House. My honourable friend from one of the biggest constituencies of the Punjab asks, why is it that whenever a proposal is made from the other side, and in particular such a suggestion as the removal of corruption from the police, it is opposed by the other side?

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : We did not oppose the debt conciliation boards.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : My friend has misunderstood me. What I was saying was this that it has been asked, why is it that whenever the opposite side makes any suggestion howsoever constructive, it is opposed by the Government? My reply to that would be this. If my honourable friend has the patience or the industry to look into the statement and the declaration of policy made by the Honourable Premier on the 1st of April and of the creed of the Unionist Party that has been published, he will find that the reform of the administration, removal of corruption and improvement and efficiency of the departments and better attitude and understanding between the administration and the people is one of the first items of that creed.

If that is the position, Sir, I say when a Government on the very first day of assumption of office makes a declaration to that effect, does it lie in the mouth of a responsible Opposition to turn round and say "this is what we want you to do"? I appeal to the responsible members on the Opposition side to have the courage to say that they are only asking the Government to give effect to the policy which they have declared and I am sure on that point we will all be agreed and there will be no need of pressing this out.

3 P. M.

With regard to some of the specific suggestions that have been made, some of them have already been ably dealt with by my honourable friend, Sardar Sahib Sardar Ujjal Singh, and I need not waste the time of the House over them any further. It has been stated that there are instances when police have dealt with the people of the Punjab harshly or they have mal-treated innocent people. I am sure I could declare on behalf of my side of the House that we have no sympathy for such police officers and we want all such cases to be examined and delinquents treated in a manner that such things may not be possible in the Punjab. (Voices : Set up a machinery). That has already been set up by the circular of the Honourable Premier issued within two months of his taking office, which says that if any five persons of repute not connected—it is not disinterested but not connected—with a particular allegation, bring forward a serious allegation against an officer of corruption, the case shall be examined and an enquiry shall be held. If we cannot find even five persons of repute—five persons not connected with the allegation—to make enquiry into the allegation, I am sure that is a matter not worth going into. I would appeal through you to my honourable friends on the Opposition benches to kindly treat this circular of the Premier not as a paper proposition. Some honourable friends of the Opposition will concede that where declaration of that nature comes from a responsible head of government, his endeavours ought to be given a trial. If our friends on the opposition and this side find that there is anything in the circular which needs amendment, I am sure nobody would be happier than the Honourable Premier to receive constructive suggestions to amend it.

Nobody, particularly on this side of the House wants to shirk or to stop or to shield the real general grievances. They shall be redressed and should be redressed but unfortunately, as we all know, in our country there may be ejection complaints and there may be other complaints and, therefore, it is the unpleasant duty of the administration to sift the truth from the other side and that being the position, I would appeal to my honourable friends of the Opposition that in view of the circular that has been issued, they should consider whether they would like to press the motion that has been moved.

There is a specific suggestion that the department is top-heavy and, therefore, there should be substantial reduction in the cadre of deputy superintendents of police and others and the second connected item is that there has been very substantial increase in the police force. I have before me the figures for the last eleven years. I find that though in these eleven years there has been an increase of 15 per cent. in the population, the increase in the police force has been only 5 per cent. But with all that I will not conceal the fact that I am one of those servants of the public who feel that any increase in police force should be carefully examined. I am averse to unnecessary increase of forces which do not give protection to the people of the Punjab. But look at the increase of crime in the province. As compared with the increase in crimes in the province, I feel this increase in the police force is very trivial. As to the other point that the administration is top-heavy, on that point too the Government, as is clear, have appointed a retrenchment committee. The Leader of the Opposition is a member of that committee and I am sure my honourable friends on this side and the other side of the House will vie with each other to come forward with constructive suggestions to effect retrenchment which will be possible and if there is any scope I am sure it will be given effect to. But let me invite the attention of the House to one fact at this stage. We find that out of a total police force comprising of about 22,717 constables and head constables—these are the figures of the year 1935—there are only 55 deputy superintendents of police in the whole of the Punjab which does not give you even two deputy superintendents of police to each district. I remember that in the Punjab Legislative Council and elsewhere even some friends of the Opposition used seriously to advocate that at least in murder cases and important cases of that nature the investigation should not be left to the sub-inspector but gazetted officers should be entrusted with the work of investigation and that they should associate themselves actively with investigation of murder and other serious cases. If you have in the whole of the Punjab on an average not even two deputy superintendents of police in each district and the average number of murder cases is near about nine hundred per year, it is obvious that the need of such officers is more than needs suggestion.

My honourable friend next raised the question of recruitment to the police. He said that the best men should be recruited in the police. I entirely agree with him but when it comes to define 'best men' I have some differences. I am one of those who believe that in the recruitment of services we have to see what particular service is under contemplation and in the police we have to see that best of the people that can be brought forward come to serve the department. I claim that leaving aside educational tests, physical tests, tests of mental fitness and certain other tests, there is something as heredity. If you go to select a horse, you think of its pedigree and I think, other things being equal, for such a job you must look to the heredity of the person along with his educational qualifications. I do not claim that that should be the only criterion but I say that in selecting certain number of officers, the recruitment should be made on that basis.

The second point is that so far as the recruitment to the police is concerned, I want particularly to emphasise one factor, that is, that in the definition of 'best men,' those people who have rendered services to the State or whose families or generations of families have rendered services to the State—a state now is not necessarily of the old type but state of public service—should also be taken into consideration. I would make a specific suggestion that in order to encourage honesty amongst officers, a certain number of appointments in the police should be earmarked for the sons of those officers in the police department who have done conspicuous and acknowledged honest service for the province (Hear, hear). That will be a source of encouragement to such officers and more than that I would submit that in a service like the police there should not be too much red-tapism in the matter of promotion by automatic time-scale. Let people be given special promotions for higher jobs and higher grades when they have shown loyalty and honesty in the discharge of their duties.

There is one point to which I wish to refer before I finish my speech on this aspect of the question. My honourable friend Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt spoke of a reference by the Honourable the Leader of the House in a particular case when the Honourable the Leader of the Opposition went out to make some investigation in a particular district and he said the Honourable Premier stated in the House that he would not encourage such interference with the executive. On that again let there be no misunderstanding. What the Honourable Premier stated, I have not got exact words here, but I speak subject to correction, was that while he would welcome all suggestions and while he was prepared to examine reasonable grievances coming from that side of the House, he would not permit interference of the legislature in the executive and so long as he and his friends on this side know, parliamentary government will be allowed in the Punjab. That is what he stated. I say with due deference that we may differ from my honourable friends on the Opposition and they may differ from us so far as our programme is concerned and they may differ from us so far as we are concerned, but one thing we shall have to agree to and it is that we believe in the autonomy of the Punjab which we have got under the constitution—it may be good, bad or indifferent. We believe in that temple of autonomy whatever may be your or our differences. We are determined and you should be determined that, in this province if you ever come on this side of the House, no disruptive hand shall touch that temple of autonomy.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : On a point of explanation. Some situation happened in England and the Honourable Leader of the Opposition conducted an enquiry into that incident. The Leader of the Opposition was not refused co-operation.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : The honourable member asks me whether the hands of the Leader of the Opposition are disruptive. Certainly not unless he is out for disruptive work. I am one of those who respect the honourable the Leader of the Opposition as second to none but when you are defending that shrine of autonomy, then whichever hand touches that temple that unclean hand shall have to suffer the consequences of its action. In this connection I would inform my friend what happened in Ireland. I do not want those things to be repeated here, but let my friends know that De Valera's Government actually interned without trial 12,000 people in order to safeguard the liberties of others. And De Valera was not a rebel at that time. Any interference with a regularly constituted authority which tries to create a parallel government in the Punjab, it will be our unfortunate duty to discourage. But I do not want to go further into that question.

I have to make one submission. So far as the genuine grievances and the genuine complaints are concerned, there is no difference. That side of the House and we are agreed on that question and we are anxious to go into that. As to the suggestion that we should try to get the atmosphere of the English Bobby, there is no difference of opinion. I am sure my friends on this side of the House will associate themselves with the request that the Honourable Premier, better than whom there can be no custodian of this policy, shall personally tackle it by references to the police officers and tell them that the atmosphere has changed and that it is for them to create confidence in the minds of the people, that the new administration wants a different tradition in the province, but at the same time it is my duty, it is the duty of the members of this House to show to the world that the policy is not defending a foreign bureaucracy but is armed to protect the national Government of the Punjab.

In this connection I wish to make a suggestion or two. I would appeal to those responsible for the administration of the police to consider them. The first one is that it shall be definitely stated through inspections or otherwise that any police officer who wants to encourage party factions among the people shall get black marks and if necessary further punishment. It should be regarded as good work if they try and settle differences in the poorer and richer families of the Punjab and bring them together. The second is that the police officers should be given definite instructions that any policeman who encourages communal differences shall be penalised, and shall be given exemplary punishment. We want to take action which will have a good effect.

This is all I have to submit and in view of our appeal to my friends of the Opposition and the policy of Government which has already been declared which they are attacking, they should not press their cut motion and vote with us for the demand.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Southern Towns, General, Rural) (Urdu): Sir, the Unionist Government and its supporters are worthy of praise indeed because thanks to their presence here, all the speeches that have been delivered in praise of the police department on the floor of this House have been made by them. It is a fact that it is the police that rules the Punjab and yet in comparison with the English Police the Punjab Police is useless, worthless and a shameful blot on the fair name of India. The police of England is undoubtedly the best in the world and yet the Punjab Police is being compared to it and it has been said that they are doing really good work. If we raise a voice from these benches for reducing the expenditure on the devil, the government will certainly oppose us by saying that if the expenditure on the devil is reduced the machinery of government will come to a standstill. (Laughter). It is said that the Punjab is governed by a national government, but I do not see any difference between the previous and the present administration. We are still being governed by the police. The inauguration of the new regime from 1st April, 1937, has made no difference in the fortunes of the people. It would be useless to try to discover the shortcomings of police raj. On the other hand I would like to ask you whether the police possess any good points at all. I would like the Honourable Premier to visit any village in the province and ask the poor villagers as to how they have fared at the hands of the police during the last three months. I am sure that they will relate a long tale of woe, in comparison with which the tales of the Arabian Nights would pale into insignificance. We, the Congressites do not love the police and it does not become me to say anything against them. But in view of the hardships suffered by the general public at the hands of the police I am obliged to give tongue to my thoughts.

I should like to relate an incident which happened only the day before yesterday. I alighted at a railway station and the first thing I heard was that the police had taken into custody a man belonging to the Mandi and had belaboured him mercilessly. I sent a wire to the Superintendent of Police concerned and I understand that some sort of enquiries have been made by higher authorities. You are sure to come across glaring examples of police zoolum and police corruption wherever you go.

We are prepared to recognise the present government as an autonomous and national government if police high-handedness is reduced by only one per cent. I beg to say, with all the emphasis at my command, that there has been no change in the attitude of the police. They are as oppressive as ever.

If we the Congressites make any allegations against the police, we will be supposed to be making irresponsible allegations out of spite, but I would respectfully request my friends of the Unionist Party to cast a glance on their past lives and discover incidents in which they were or about to be made victims of police zoolum. I should like to remind the Honourable Sir Chhotu Ram, Minister for Development, of an incident in his life as to how he was involved in a murder case and how he saved himself by the skin of his teeth. I should also like to remind him of the fact as to how he led a deputation of the residents of Rohtak district on the occasion of a visit of a former Governor of the Province to Rohtak, and the serious allegations he made against the police. I think that even a Congressman cannot surpass the vehemance with which he made allegations against the police. If the Police Department was corrupt or addicted to excesses two years ago, how have they got rid of all their bad habits and have now become paragons of virtue? When the administration of the province was in the hands of the bureaucracy, we used to make similar complaints and now that the reins of government are in the hands of a Unionist Government we have to repeat our allegations against the police. May I enquire if the police have turned over a new leaf since the assumption of office by the Unionist Government. I think it would be useless to give instances of what happened if such and such a thana and what kind of zoolum was perpetrated by such and such a sub-inspector of police. I would only ask the Premier to give me the names of such sub-inspectors as are really honest.

(Voices from the opposite benches : Give us the names of only five of them.)

I have heard of one such sub-inspector and I have seen another. If I remember aright, I have always found him bewailing his fate. And do you know how he has been rewarded for his honesty? He has been shunted over to the prosecution line. Whenever any allegations are made against the police, the government is always ready with the reply that a committee is being appointed to enquire into the matter. I would suggest that besides the appointment of these committees some other means must be found for redressing the wrongs of the public. You may take it for granted that we are used to making complaints, but I should like to ask the members of the Unionist Party; whether there has been any reduction in the number of false cases instituted by the police. I will not dilate on this matter any further. I hope that the government will take the hint. I would draw the attention of the government to the disparity existing between the pay and the expenditure of sub-inspectors. Just go to Rohtak or better still go to a loyalist district like Gurgaon and you will find that the thanedars are living like princes. Not only the thanedars but higher officials are living like princes, because they are getting fixed sums of money from each thana, under their jurisdiction. (Hear, hear).

Sir, I would also like to say that the police department is not only notorious for corruption, but is also notorious for its bad manners. The police may be behaving better in cities but so far as villages are concerned, the members of the Unionist Party, who have won their elections with the support of zamindars and who are never tired of telling the villagers that zamindar are now in power, ought to be aware of the fact as to how the police harass, loot and belabour the zamindars.

I will not mention the martial law days and the indignities to which the people were subjected by the police in those days. I will take only the present time when there are no political movements in the country and ask the members of the Unionist Party whether they are or not aware of the misdoings of the police. If they are acquainted with the misdoings of the police, can they by any stretch of imagination describe their government as an autonomous government. I would not insist upon more. I would be content if there is an improvement of only 20 per cent. in the tone of the police department, but as ill-luck would have it they have no other means of improving the tone of the police department except by the appointment of enquiry committees. (The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : Suggest some other means.) It is for the government to devise other ways and means. It has been said that the police have shown their great capacity for work, their irreproachable organization and their impartiality during communal riots. The police may have done all this in other parts of the province, but I know of the incidents that occurred in my own ilaga at Panipat. I know that it is not desirable to refer to communal matters in this House. However, I would confine myself to saying that the police at Panipat did not do their duty properly. It was the foolishness and lack of sense of duty on the part of the police that led to the firing at Panipat. I am making this allegation against the police with the fullest realization of my sense of responsibility. Dr. Satya Pal, the President of the Punjab Provincial Congress Committee, himself visited the spot and investigated in person the situation at Panipat. Perhaps you are aware of the fact that the other day there was a communal fracas at Rewari, and the police instead of controlling the situation made it worse. I have here with me a letter signed by a number of responsible residents of Rewari, which throws a flood of light on this matter. Just hear what these people have to say—

“ We the undersigned beg to say with all the earnestness at our command that with reference to the dispute regarding music before mosques our signatures to the agreement drafted by D. S. P., Gurgaon, on 23rd June, 1937, at 12 noon were obtained under threat of imprisonment.”

This letter is signed by Messrs. Mussadi Lal, Nand Kishore, Jagdish Prasad, Behari Lal and many others, who have appended their signatures in Hindi Mahajni. Lest I should be accused of listening to hearsay I want to make it quite clear that I have visited the spot myself, because it happens to be within the boundaries of my constituency.

Sir, I have only to-day received a letter which I will read out to the House. It runs as follows:—

“ Lala Musaddi Lal, Joint Secretary District Congress Committee, Palwal, who happens to be a member of the working committee of the District Congress Committee also was going to attend a meeting of that body when on his way he came across one police head constable and two constables in plain clothes. These officials prevented Lala Musaddi Lal from proceeding towards Palwal. They refused to show him any written order.”

This fact was intimated to the Superintendent of Police concerned. I fail to understand why police officials do not discharge their duties honestly. We have to find out the real cause of their shortcomings. I believe that careless recruitment is responsible for the general inefficiency of police ranks. Recruitment to the police department is made from amongst those whose ancestors have served the department. Unfortunately our country is already a land of slaves and by attaching undue importance to birth we are simply jeopardising her interests. The notion that a particular person can perform acts of valour is simply absurd. If the police department continues to be a monopoly of the sons of ex-officials, the inefficiency of the force is bound to become hereditary. The existing police force is so corrupt and the public are so much overawed by them that even men of great influence who know the evil doings of the police have not the courage to complain against them. If ever things come to such a pass that one is compelled to lodge a complaint against them, one has to face the opposition of semi-official gentlemen who side with the police. We are told that at the time of recruitment, the principle kept in view is that only such persons should be recruited as are sturdy and brave and are prepared to face the perils of death. But my submission is and Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram is not unaware of the fact, that generally speaking the scavengers are second to none so far as fighting spirit is concerned. In view of this may I ask whether Harijans possess martial qualities in a lesser degree as compared with other people. If not, what are the reasons for not recruiting them in the police force? I.

do not want that the recruitment to police department should be based on communal considerations; nor do I want that so many Hindus, Muslims, Sikhs or so many members of the Jat community should be recruited. The people so recruited, later on become dishonest and deliberately commit irregularities. They think that if they ever receive a stern reprimand from the higher authorities they can count upon the help of their respective communities by inflaming their communal feelings. I have personal knowledge of a case. Once a Hindu sub-inspector of police was involved in a corruption case. He complained to every member of his community that he had been reported against on account of his being a Hindu. Similar tactics are resorted to by Jats, Muslims and others. Strictly speaking the police department has become so corrupt that at the time of recruitment, the higher authorities pay no heed to the candidates' ability or other qualifications prescribed by the rules. They regard sycophancy and connections with big families as a sufficient certificate for recruitment. In view of these serious drawbacks, it is fatuous to expect any improvement in police administration. Congress is not in favour of the recruitment of police being carried on communal lines. The Congress view is that at the time of recruitment the ability and fitness of the candidates should alone be kept in the forefront; and that recruitment should be made through competitive examinations without showing favour to any community.

May I ask another pertinent question? How is it that government forgets this principle while making recruitment to the Co-operative Department? Mahajans are considered to be adepts at accountancy. Anyway they are better than Jats or Muslims, but the door of service in the Co-operative Department is closed for them. I am sorry to point out that government does not stick to any principle.

The police of England is commended as a model of perfection everywhere. But there at the time of recruitment no one cares to ask about the caste or creed of the candidates. No discrimination is made among the candidates. No body cares whether they are Roman Catholics or Protestants or Jews. It is only in this unfortunate country that stress is laid on communal representation. The police commits all sorts of atrocities and excesses and indulges in unlawful activities and no one is the wiser for it. When a report is lodged against a police officer, attempts are made to hush it up by making appeals to the brotherhood or community of the culprit.

My second submission is that I entirely endorse the views expressed by my honourable friend Lala Duni Chand in regard to the enhancement of the salaries of police constables. The salaries of the constables are really very low. It is very difficult for them to support their families and bear the educational expenses of their children. It is but natural that they should resort to corruption and squeeze the blood of the poor as they possess no other means of supporting their families. Congress believes in the principle of paying adequate salaries to subordinate services so that they may be able to discharge their duties efficiently and honestly. But under the present regime high officials are paid fat salaries. A sum of rupees 1½ crores has been earmarked for the police, and the major portion of this sum has been disbursed on the salaries of high police officers. I would request the government to enhance the salaries of poor constables by effecting reduction in the salaries of high officers.

[Pandit Shri Ram Sharma.]

I want to bring another matter to the notice of government. It is that the magistracy of the province is afraid of the police because of the latter's haughty and domineering conduct.

Premier : This is not correct, Sir.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : I know that at this stage no discussion can be raised in regard to the magistracy. Although the Honourable Premier has characterised my statement as incorrect, yet I can also assert that he too has made a mis-statement. If the Honourable Premier or any other honourable minister cares to accompany me I will prove to his satisfaction that magistrates are really afraid of the police.

Minister for Development : It is only the burglars that are afraid of the police, because the latter apprehend them.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Once the police laid hands on the honourable minister's munshi. Will he kindly inform me as to what kind of theft he had committed? (Laughter). I cannot help saying that there has been no change in the policy of government since the first of April.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member has said so perhaps six times.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : One cannot help repeating an axiomatic truth again and again. (Laughter). An honourable member on government benches remarked that just as children are afraid of badmashes similarly the public should be afraid of the police.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : Sir, on a point of personal explanation. What I said was for bad boys and not for all.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : The children of a bad government are seldom good. Sometime ago children used to be afraid of evil spirits. Now that fear has vanished to some extent, the fear of the police has taken its place. Not to speak of children even high placed people, especially those who administer justice, are afraid of the police.

Sir, may I ask as to what useful purpose the Criminal Investigation Department is serving? May I know whether the only business of the Criminal Investigation Department officers is to report against Congressmen or to submit unfounded reports against persons with whom their relations are not cordial? Why do they shut their eyes against the corruption which is rampant in the police department? Why do they take no notice of the atrocities committed by the police? Are not these misdoings of the police criminal deeds? If a Congress member comes from Rohtak to Simla, his name and address are noted at least three times. I think the Criminal Investigation Department is in reality the Congress Investigation Department (laughter). All these things go to show that inspite of the English Raj and despite the Unionist Party's power, the real rulers of this province are the police. I remember once I reported against a corrupt police sub-inspector. The result was that the sub-inspector escaped scott free while the investigating magistrate suffered. I request the Honourable Premier and other honourable ministers that they should, like Sir Douglas Young, gird up their loins to eradicate corruption from the police department. With these words I support the cut motion moved by my honourable friend Lala Duni Chand, and appeal to the honourable members of the Unionist Party not to lose sight of the real facts of the situation and desist from lavishly praising the police and incidentally this cut.

Raja Fateh Khan (Rawalpindi, East, Muhammadan, Rural), (Urdu): Sir, before I oppose this motion, I would like to make a humble request that I may be exempted from the strict rules of procedure regarding relevance and irrelevance. I also seek the same indulgence which you have kindly accorded to experienced speakers of the Assembly, and I hope that you would very kindly grant my request.

Before I discuss the principle of the cut motion, I would like to say a few words regarding the remark made by the Opposition that the government while rejecting the non-constructive suggestions do not agree with constructive ones. I must make it clear at the very outset that the government are not prepared to accept any unreasonable suggestions. They are, however, prepared to accept any practical suggestions within reasonable limits. But it should be according to this principle:—

دھو شوق سے کپڑے کو پہ اتنا نہ رگڑ
کہ دھبہ رہے باقی نہ کپڑا رہے باقی۔

Whenever you point out any mistake on the part of the government, they will be prepared to rectify it, provided the government are not acting illegally in so doing. At the same time I would request you not to submit such proposals as are likely to interfere with the administration of the province. If you put forward constructive proposals they will prove beneficial to you as well as to the country at large.

To-day many speakers have suggested in the course of their speeches that a constable should get the same pay to which a "booby" is entitled in England. If this argument is carried to its logical conclusion, then according to these gentlemen the ministers should draw only one and a half annas per day. These diametrically opposed views remind me of a verse:—

کہے ہر ظالم اعلیٰ نشہم
کہے ہر پست پائے خود بہ ہنم

It is a matter of surprise for me to find that proposals are being submitted for paying a constable a salary equivalent to that of an English constable, while a minister of government should follow the example of Mahatama Gandhi and get only one anna and a half per day.

It is a fact that the world has gradually progressed in accordance with the laws of evolution. It has not progressed by one leap or bound. Every natural phenomenon bears testimony to this fact. If this principle is correct, then I would say that since the present ministry has been in office for a short time only, its work and its programme should be judged from the point of view of evolution and not from the point of view of an extremist; and an attempt should be made to know their ideals. If you simply want to indulge in Utopian ideas, then we can also say that the government has reached the pinnacle of glory in such matters, inasmuch as we not only wish to see India holding its head high amongst the free nations of the world, but we also wish to make it a guide as well as a torchlight for the whole world.

[Raja Fateh Khan.]

I would request the honourable members of the House not to shut their eyes against communal tendencies and present day conditions. No responsible government can keep itself aloof from them. At present many economic questions are under discussion. It is true that on account of certain natural causes the nation is passing through a trying period of economic depression. It is possible on the one hand that economic depression may well nigh sap the life-blood of a nation, but on the other hand there is no denying the fact that under an irresponsible government and in the midst of maladministration no nation can survive even for a day. It is, therefore, our bounden duty that we should do nothing to add to the difficulties of the government. Also we should not seek to create disturbances in the country. But it is very unfortunate that while on the one hand it is suggested that the burden of land revenue should be reduced, on the other hand proposals are being made for making a 50 per cent. increase in the salaries of police constables, so as to bring up their salaries to the level of English constables. ("Hear, hear" from the Ministerial Benches).

I may be permitted to say that we can no longer shut our eyes to the fact that the volcano of communal warfare has turned its attention from the cities to the countryside. I would also request the government to spare no pains in the matter of maintaining law and order in the province. In the end I would request the Opposition to trust the government and have confidence in it. Let them not act according to this verse—

نہ ٹھیک ان کی ہر کڑ کوئی بات سمجھو

وہ دن کو کہیں دن تو تم رات سمجھو

If you put trust in the government and act in a spirit of give and take, I am sure the government will not hesitate to accede to your demands, With these words I oppose the cut motion.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava (Lahore City, General, Urban): Mr. Speaker, whenever an occasion arises to discuss the policy of the government on any cut motion, it has been said time and again that the present Cabinet has taken the reins of the Government in their hands only three months ago. Well Sir, when I am going to criticise the policy of the government as far as police administration goes, it is for two reasons. One is that I believe that the Government has so far not given us any indication to show that the policy of the present Cabinet is changed as compared with the policy of the past government as far as the administration of the police goes. The second reason is that I stand here to criticise the policy of the government and offer my criticism from the point of view of constructive criticism. When we criticise the policy of the government it should not be taken that we do it only to censure the government, but we feel it our duty to put our point of view and suggest what we would like the police to be (hear, hear). Sir, whether we represent one constituency or the other, when we become members of this House and we sit here, I think every member has got the right and is entitled to represent the grievances of every constituency in this province. We are the representatives of the people here. If I am a representative of the city of Lahore, it does not mean that I have got no right to say that I am representing the Punjab. Well, Sir, I say so because I always receive information, I always receive letters after letters from every part of the province, from every nook and corner of the province laying their grievances as far as police administration is concerned. Well, Sir, in spite of the fact that the Honourable the Premier was pleased to say that day that I had no right and if I did I would do so at my own risk, to go to a certain village to make enquiries into what the police did. Well, Sir, I did not agree with him. I think it is my right (hear, hear). And as such I also think that if the law of the land does not permit me to exercise that right it is not only my right, but it is my duty to rebel against that law. I say on the floor of this House that whenever I hear any piece of news about the police zulum in any part of the province, I think it is my duty, and if God helps me I would be the first man to enter that place and give my help whatever it is worth.

I will not go into the details: I will not go into one happening or the other. I want to criticise the policy as a whole. Well Sir, the Police Act under which we are ruled, was passed in 1867 after a commission made certain enquiries in 1860. The policy of the police as laid down in that Act is this. The Indian police shall be subject to the civil government, and its duty shall be civil and not military, its functions to be protective as to the public, repressive as to the criminal and detective. Police and judicial functions shall be separate. The organisation and discipline of the force should be similar to that of the Indian army and should be centralised in the hands of the Executive Government. The pay of the lowest rank should be superior to that of an unskilled labourer. The economy of the force must be in the hands of the police officers. There is only to be one force in any locality: not one under a police officer and one under a magistrate. Village police to be used temporarily as a source of information and not to be employed on executive duties. All the police must be provincialised. Inspectors-General were appointed with the following duties: Maintenance of peace, prevention and detection of crimes, escorting and guarding of prisoners and treasuries.

Well, Sir, it was on this report, as I have said, that the police was provincialised, and according to that provincialisation we have got Inspector-General of Police at the head, and we have got the Assistant Inspectors-General and the Deputy Inspectors-General of Police. Then we have got the Superintendents in every district. The duties as far as police goes are divided between the Superintendent and the District Magistrate. Well, Sir, what I want to-day to put before you is that whatever duties are assigned under the Police Act, the policy underlying the administration according to those rules is not what it ought to be under a government which styles itself as popular government. Well, Sir, it is said that the functions of the police shall be protective, as far as public is concerned, and they shall be repressive as far as criminals are concerned and it shall be detective. So I shall confine myself to these three duties. Now let us take the protective duty. I do not know how far I am correct, but I have heard here on the floor of the House that the poor villager has to pay chaukidara and have to do the duty of the chaukidar in their own village. As far as protection from criminals in villages is concerned, the police does not discharge its duty. As far as protection to people is concerned, I do not think, Sir, that we can generalise the cases. But if we hear even a single example of a police man who instead of protecting poor honest citizens himself commits dacoities and thefts, I think, you will agree with me that the police do not discharge their duty well.

[Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava.]

Now, Sir, what about the other protection? If I take the protective and repressive duty of the police together, it will, I believe, help me and also save time. Criminals can be divided into three kinds. One who commits the ordinary crime against the society, the other is what is called a communal criminal and the third is a political criminal to which class at times I also have the honour to belong. Now, let us see whether the policy according to which the administration of the police has been conducted as far as these three kinds of criminals are concerned is a correct policy or whether the time has come when we should change it. I am of the opinion and I think that is the modern theory that what is called a social crime is not really a crime, but it is a disease and, Sir, the treatment for the disease is not to punish the man or to thrash him or resort to similar repressive measures against him, but the remedy is to put him in a reformatory. That is why jails are no more jails as they used to be in former times, but jails are now a days only reformatories. The point from which we wish to see this problem is this. Those who have power call a man criminal because he has violated the laws which they have enacted to their own advantage and according to their own lights. Those who contravene these laws, they are described as criminals and are punished. Opinions can differ. My opinion is that you can approach a criminal from two sides. One is that we have to find out the reason why a man commits a crime. It may be sheer necessity. A man wants bread and he cannot get it. He is therefore forced to commit a crime. The other reason is that he loses control over his passions and he murders a man or commits other things, e.g., dacoity or robbery. If you want to treat such a criminal, a criminal who commits a theft or any other similar crime to satisfy a certain need or hunger, the real treatment lies in enacting laws or creating social circumstances and atmosphere that no man remains without bread and has all his needs satisfied (hear, hear). But when the police make enquiries and catch a thief they use violence towards him. Therefore, I would submit that the policy of the Government should be changed as far as criminals of this nature go and they should make provisions and enact laws as would encourage industries or take such measures as would remove unemployment from this country so that there may not remain a single needy person. Then, Sir, there are other criminals who lose their control in a fit of passion. They lose their senses and commit crimes. If you resort to violence against such a person, he will grow worse. In the mental hospital where violent people and maniacs go, if the superintendent of the hospital were to practice violence against such people, they would grow much worse. Therefore, it is with love that such a man should be treated and not by violence. I would, therefore, suggest that whole view point of this system of Government should change as far as these criminals are concerned. Then we come to the communal question. Arguing on the same lines, I would submit that the solution of the communal question does not lie in these riots. It does not lie in suppressing the liberty of one community or favouring the other. The communal solution lies in changing the atmosphere in the province (hear, hear). Why are there so many communal riots? They are because we know that power lies in communalism (hear, hear). If we were to take away that power, if the power were to go to the man who can serve best, then communalism will disappear (Premier: Hear, hear). To-day, we find that a man can be taken in the police because he belongs to a certain community. Therefore people say that they belong to such and such a community. If we were to say that he alone shall be enlisted in the police who is prepared to serve the people and serve the people as a servant, then of course nobody would come forward and say that he is a Muhammadan, Hindu or a Sikh (hear, hear). He will come and say that he wants to serve his brethren and therefore he wants to join police service. My submission, therefore is that if you want to remove this communalism and to stop these communal riots, you should change the atmosphere and practice love (hear, hear). It was said that there are people on this side of the House who are responsible for the additional police. My submission is that we are against the additional police, we will not only condemn in words but even by our actions, fight against communalism to remove it. Therefore it is not we who are responsible for this expenditure on additional police.

Premier : Certainly, you are not.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : But what do we find? My past experience and I want to speak about my past experience, for I have no knowledge of the real facts as far as the recent communal riots go, is very sad. I had an experience of two riots in Lahore. One took place in 1927 on the very evening when my wife died. We went with the funeral procession, but what did we find on our return? One of us had been left behind. He was slapped and beaten. A person goes with a funeral party and while returning, for no fault of his he is beaten. When we went with the procession, it is to my utter shame that I have to confess it that we had to take that procession out with a police escort. We could not go because we were afraid. Whenever there are Id celebrations, or when a procession is taken out in honour of a Guru or when the Dussehra is being observed, we cannot observe these festivals without the police aid. Is it not to our utter shame?

Premier : It is.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : We who call ourselves free cannot celebrate even our festivals without the help of the police.

I was speaking about those riots. What did we see? There was a certain dispute between three or four persons and in that quarrel two or three persons were killed. A procession was taken out and when the processionists returned, there was a riot. Who were the victim of those riots?

Premier : Poor innocent people.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Those poor travellers who came to Lahore to visit certain relations of theirs. It is the poor people who always suffer who are either labourers, shop-keepers or agriculturists. Those who are responsible for these riots, sit in their chairs and in their bungalows ("Hear, hear" from Government benches). I submit it is the educated people who are responsible for these riots (Hear, hear), because the educated man believes that he can earn his bread only if he belongs to a certain community. They excite these poor people, they excite their passions and these people resort to violence. What was the result of this excitement? Sixteen innocent people were killed. I doubt very much if any educated man was killed. It is the poor man who suffers. I wish those who excited the feelings of these poor people should be brought forward, tried and hanged (Hear, hear).

[Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava.]

Though I do not believe in capital punishment, yet if the capital punishment were given to those people who are really responsible. I shall not be sorry for it (hear, hear). I was arriving at one conclusion which was that the Deputy Commissioner of Lahore was not at his headquarters on that day and the Additional District Magistrate consulted the Chief Secretary and with his permission permitted that procession. The police did not take measures to protect the poor people, the unarmed and innocent people, from the members of the procession, when they came back. This is only by way of an instance. It always happens like this. I presume even in these riots Police did permit people to take out processions and then did not make provisions for their protection. When people who did not like the processions came and talked against the order of the police, they were fired at. Why did the police not take preventive steps so that such occasions may not arise and when such occasions arise they come and say that the public is responsible as they fight with each other and thus the demand for additional police comes forward. My submission is why did not the Government take to task that police which was posted there. Why did the Government not take action against the police of Alla and Amritsar? Why did the police of these two places not take sufficient measures to protect unarmed people?

Premier : They did.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Had they taken steps to prevent this trouble, I am sure the riots would not have taken place. I am one of those who do not agree with you on that point. If you want additional police to suppress these communal riots, you shall never be able to do it and you shall never be able to reduce expenditure. If you want to reduce expenditure, then let us come to a settlement, let us understand each other and let us learn to like brothers in this country (hear, hear). Let us devise measures by consultation so that poor men may be protected. As far as these communal riots go, my submission is that the Government should now change their angle of vision and should believe in non-violence rather than in violence. The third thing is the political crime. There is a certain big item which has been provided for in this budget for the Criminal Investigation Department and a part of the additional police is also used against the political "criminal." I was consulting the figures to-day and I found that the expenses on the Criminal Investigation Department and under the non-voted head have been increased by twenty thousand rupees. Arguing on the same line I think the chief remedy which can prove most useful, as far as the political criminals are concerned—

Premier : There are no political criminals.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava :—is not the non-release of political prisoners, is not their internment under Regulation 3 of 1818, is not internment under the Criminal Law Amendment Act which can suppress them? The political criminal is like rubber. The more it is suppressed the more it rises higher. Therefore, it is not the remedy as is provided for under the police. The policy should be to satisfy a man who wants freedom for his country. There are people who sacrifice not only their property, not only their children, but even themselves at the altar of freedom of the motherland. They want to see this country free. I do not think you can call them lunatics, because they believe that they can only free their country if they resort to violence. My submission is that you ought to create such a political atmosphere, you should act in such a way that we may be on the road to freedom. If a political worker finds that the line which is adopted by the Government would lead him to freedom, he shall never resort to violence. Those who believed in violence gave an assurance to Mahatma Gandhi in the year 1921 that they would remain non-violent. They joined the non-co-operation movement and tried to free the country practising civil disobedience by working on the lines of non-co-operation and they found that according to their own light they were not successful. I am not one of those who believe in violence and I am not here to defend the violence but my submission is that your policy of repression so far as these political prisoners are concerned, is not a right solution of the problem. The right solution is to release them (hear, hear). Have a talk with them and then by an agreed solution adopt lines which should lead us to freedom. If you cannot do that, you should tell them so. Try to understand them and let them understand you. Your concerted methods shall liberate the country from foreign domination. Then they shall be with you and shall be as good citizens of this province as any other man and woman should be. If the present policy, as is indicated by this police administration is taken to be the right policy, as far as the repressive policy of the police is concerned, I think that the House should think twice before they can give their sanction to this item, because the sanction would mean that they are at one with the policy, they like the policy, and that they endorse the policy of the police as far as these three criminals are concerned.

Last is the detective duty. I have got no experience because I am not a lawyer. I did not come across people who would say that in the detection of crime the police has not acted as honest men should do and, therefore, I leave it there. I have to make some other observations as well. My friends have pointed out that the behaviour of the police, and I think the Honourable Premier agreed with those people, was far from what it ought to be. Well, Sir, I can quote one instance. When I had the privilege to be a member of the old Punjab Legislative Council, I one day was coming to attend the meeting. Fortunately I was clad in the same clothes as I am to-day. When I was entering the Chamber, the policeman on duty said, have you got a ticket? I said, no. Then this is not the place for you, you go upstairs, he said. I asked him his number. He then asked me whether I was a member of the Council. I said I was. Then he said, forgive me, I did not realise that a man in these clothes could be a member of this Council. I relate this incident just to tell you that this is the mentality of the policeman. The policeman thinks, and he is given to understand, that the man who goes in a black coat, who has got a hat or a tie, who wears a turadar turban, he can be a member of the Council, and a poor man like me who wears a cap worth two annas or who is clad in khadi and has no boots to wear, cannot be a member of the House.

Minister for Development : What about his bank balance?

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I am glad Chaudhri Chhotu Ram has referred to bank balance. I am prepared to exchange places with him, not so far as the ministry is concerned but as far as the bank balance is concerned. He is a man who stood for the Legislative Assembly from the landholders constituency, he is a man who owns a big palace in the town of Rohtak, he is a man who is now drawing a fat salary, and I am prepared to exchange my property with him. This was the remark he made once previously also. I may tell him that if he thinks that in the service of Mother country anybody can get rich, he is mistaken. If he thinks that he serves the country or the province, he does not do so, but does so because he has acquired power. I submit that it is not only bank balance—

Khan Sahib Chaudhri Riasat Ali : Is the honourable member in order in being personal ?

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I was submitting that looking to the bank balance which is a minus one because I have no account with any bank, I have nothing in my bank. But a man who himself belongs to a class of agriculturists money-lender, he has got no right to criticise me. I am a labourer. I earn my bread and therefore I think I can command that self-respect which every citizen of this province should command at the hands of the police as well as the Minister (hear, hear).

I was submitting that the behaviour of the police is far from desirable. I have to say one thing more, and that is this, that whatever my friends have related to you to-day about the behaviour of the police in the villages, about their method of inquiry and about their treatment with ordinary men, about their corruption, all that goes to emasculate our people. If the Government think it desirable that the present policy is the right one, then I am here, Sir, to warn them, through you, that this policy instead of improving the conditions of this province will emasculate people and if people are emasculated, whom are they going to govern? They are poor and if poverty is on the increase revolution shall be the result as it happened in other countries. The Government should know the history of other countries and learn a lesson from that history.

Then I have to submit that the salary of the ordinary policeman should be raised, so that he may be in a position to work honestly. First, there is a temptation for him, and secondly the police officers and others who are responsible for the police administration connive at their actions. Whenever any information reaches them, they instead of punishing the policeman against whom the complaint is made, the man complaining is persecuted both by the police and by the friends of the police. My honourable friend there remarked that when we were discussing the salaries of the Ministers, we said that the Premier should live on 1½ annas a day as does Mahatma Gandhi. Sir, those who are calling the Premier the uncrowned king of the province are wrong. Calling a man king means that they believe in power through violence and my submission is that power should be in service and therefore the Premier should think himself as a first servant of the people and when he does so every policeman shall believe that he is a servant of the people and not a ruler. Therefore when he has admitted like that and when there is no temptation in his way to become dishonest he shall not become dishonest; and that you can do if you increase his pay. The honourable members will ask, where is the money to come from? They will say, you put in destructive proposals and proposals which are not reasonable. You will be astonished to find that the pay of constables is Rs. 39,85,800 and this is for 16,786 people and the pay of the supervising staff which includes head constables, assistant sub-inspectors, inspectors, assistant superintendents, deputy superintendents, superintendents, assistant inspector-general, deputy inspector-general and the inspector general numbering 1,456 officers, the pay of the supervising staff is Rs. 38,00,000. (A voice: Are you excluding the assistant-sub-inspectors?) I have tried to calculate figures from the budget and if I know my arithmetic all right I think my figures are correct. My submission is, why not cut down the supervising staff? Where is the need of such a high salaried staff? I know a certain amount of this demand is non-voted which the Cabinet cannot cut. Above the pay of superintendents the Government cannot cut, but below the superintendents there is a large number of officers whose pay can be reduced.

Even if the superintendents' pay and that of his superiors cannot be reduced, their number should be reduced. Thus we should retrench the supervising staff and increase the pay of the poor constables. I have taken a lot of time of the House, but I have tried to put the point of view of this side of the House and suggested that if the Government changes its policy of violence into non-violence, if they really want to serve the people, it is only then that they can carry on the Government; otherwise, this police demand will not remove crimes from the province. The Government will be forced to come up for the grant of more money in another six months or so. (Cheers).

Mr. Speaker : I think, before the House adjourns, I must give my ruling on the point of order raised by Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang. He asked: 'whether it is defamatory to say anything against a particular officer of Government or an institution under the control of the Government, with a view to secure reform and redress. Before I give my ruling, I wish to make it clear that so long as I am in this chair I will be the last to curtail or tolerate curtailment of the privileges of this Honourable House or its honourable members. (Hear, hear and cheers). The privilege of freedom of speech is a very important one and there is no reason why the honourable members should not exercise it as freely as they can under the law and rules in force. But I must point out that, according to Rule 29 of our rules of business, no member, when he speaks, should utter defamatory words. Section 71 of the Government of India Act reads as follows:—

Subject to the provisions of this Act and to rules and standing orders regulating the procedure of the Legislature, there shall be freedom of speech in every Provincial Legislature, and no member of the Legislature shall be liable to any proceedings in any court in respect of anything said or any vote given by him in the Legislature or any committee thereof.

The section makes it perfectly clear that the honourable members are to exercise their right of freedom of speech, subject to rules and standing orders. I may add that this is also the practice of the Mother of Parliaments. (See page 107 of May's Parliamentary Practice and page 45 of Volume III of Redlich's Work).

[Mr. Speaker.]

The honourable members will see that they do not possess the right of unbridled oratory and that they cannot say a word in violation of the Rules of the House. In other words, the rules of the House come before everything else. Our Rule 29 is there. It may be repealed or modified, but so long as it is there, the honourable members should avoid the use of defamatory expressions. (Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : What words should be considered defamatory ?) If there is intention of harming the reputation of a person, then it may be said to be defamatory.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : That is malice.

Mr. Speaker : I am not a practising lawyer and therefore am not in a position to say whether the honourable member is right or wrong. But I may say that if an expression prima facie imputes anything wrong to a person, it may be considered defamatory.

Lala Duni Chand : Will you please enlighten us on one point? Supposing a member with a sense of duty says certain things about the public conduct of an officer. Suppose he says that such and such an officer has taken bribes. Will you please say whether that is defamatory?

Mr. Speaker : I think so unless the conduct of the officer concerned is being discussed under a substantive motion.

The Premier : I suggest that honourable members in addition to having a sense of responsibility should also have a sense of proportion. Then everything will be all right.

The Assembly then adjourned till 11 A. M. on Tuesday, 6th July, 1937.

PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

1ST SESSION OF THE 1ST PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Tuesday, 6th July, 1937.

The Assembly met in the Assembly Chamber, Simla, at 11 A. M. of the clock.
Mr. Speaker in the Chair.

STARRED QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

PROCEEDS OF THE LAND REVENUE FROM LANDS WITHIN LAHORE MUNICIPAL LIMITS.

301. Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the Lahore Municipal Committee requested the Government to give the proceeds from land revenue charged on lands within the Lahore Municipal limits to the Lahore Municipality ;
- (b) if the answer to (a) above be in the affirmative, the reply given by the Local Government to the request ;
- (c) whether he is aware that the said Committee wanted to utilise the proceeds of this land revenue towards the improvement of the new abadis ;
- (d) whether the Government ever promised to utilise the amount of this land revenue for the improvement of the new abadis ;
- (e) whether any amount of this land revenue has been spent towards that end so far, if so, when and on what ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes.

(b) The request was refused as it was pointed out that the payment was not being made as a 'jagir' but as a grant-in-aid, and that the sum allotted was approximately equal to the land revenue actually assessed on areas added to the Lahore Municipality since 1867.

(c) Yes.

(d) A grant of Rs. 60,000 per annum for the purpose of improving these areas was sanctioned from 1927-28.

(e) The following amounts were spent on the purpose with effect from the year 1927-28 :—

| | | | | Rs. |
|---------|----|----|----|----------|
| 1928-29 | .. | .. | .. | 1,20,000 |
| 1929-30 | .. | .. | .. | 53,571 |

| 1931-32 | .. | .. | .. | 53,790 |
| 1933-34 | .. | .. | .. | 1,26,210 |
| 1935-36 | .. | .. | .. | 60,000 |
| 1936-37 | .. | .. | .. | 60,000 |

[Minister for Public Works.]

As no report was ever submitted except in the year 1934, it is not possible to give full details of the work done during different years. A statement showing the list of works enumerated in the 1934 report or subsequently executed by the Committee or Government is attached. As no payment was made for the year 1934-35 a provision of Rs. 1,20,000 has been made in the budget for payment in the present year.

Statement.

A payment of Rs. 1,26,210 was sanctioned in March, 1934. Out of this the Government retained Rs. 27,300 for the improvement of the Chauburji Outfall which work was executed by the Superintending Engineer, Public Health Circle, Punjab. The balance of Rs. 98,910 was paid to the Municipality on 27th March, 1934.

The Punjab Government, Transferred Departments, in their letter No. 32843-P. H., dated 14th December, 1933, directed that the grant should be spent for the purposes noted below :—

| | Rs. |
|--|--------|
| (1) Saadi Park and Krishna Nagar Drainage Scheme .. | 28,000 |
| (2) Laying of water mains in Saadi Park and Krishna Nagar .. | 8,000 |
| (3) Laying of water mains in areas list of which is attached herewith and is marked A. | 17,000 |
| (4) Other sanitary works detailed in the list marked B. .. | 45,910 |
| Total .. | 98,910 |

Rupees 28,000 meant for Saadi Park and Krishna Nagar Drainage Schemes were subsequently earmarked for the former only by the Committee. This work is being executed by the Municipality and is nearing completion.

In 1934-35 no grant was received. In 1935-36 Rs. 38,681 was received. The balance Rs. 20,319 was deducted by Government on account of the excess payments made in years preceding 1927-28. In 1936-37 Rs. 8,381 was received. The balance of Rs. 51,619 was retained by Government for the execution of the Drainage Scheme for Krishna Nagar and its suburbs. This work, it is understood, the Superintending Engineer, Public Health Circle, Punjab, is taking in hand.

LEVYING A HOUSE TAX IN LAHORE.

302. Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the Lahore Municipal Committee proposed a house tax some years ago ;
- (b) if the answer to (a) above be in the affirmative, whether the Government accorded its approval to the proposal ; if not, reasons for the same ;
- (c) whether a proposal has now been made by the Administrator to levy a $12\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. house tax within Lahore Municipal limits ;
- (d) if the answer to (c) above be in the affirmative, whether the proposal has received the approval of Government ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes.

(b) No. The proposal was dropped by the Committee and was never submitted to Government for approval.

(c) Yes, with the exception that the tax proposed for houses within the old city walls is at the rate of $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. for the first five years. Remission of $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. out of $12\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. and $1\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. out of $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. proposed tax will be allowed in the case of prompt payment.

(d) No.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Does the Government intend to come to a decision in regard to this matter ?

Minister : Proposals have not yet been submitted to Government.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I take it that the proposals are to levy a house tax ? What are the proposals that the Honourable Minister is expecting ?

Minister : Yes, proposals regarding house tax.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalra : Has any representation been made so far with regard to the house tax ?

Minister : Not so far to the Government.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister be pleased to state whether he will pay any attention to the representation when it comes to the Government ?

Minister : It will be carefully considered.

Diwan Chaman Lall : How much money does the Honourable Minister expect to get out of this house tax ?

Minister : It has already been published in the press. I cannot give figures offhand here.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Does the Honourable Minister think that it would be sufficient for the purpose for which this house tax is levied ?

Minister : Yes, I believe so, but proposals have not yet been received by Government.

MATERIAL FOR A SEWAGE SCHEME FOR LAHORE.

303. Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) the different schemes that have been proposed during the last decade for improving sewage in Lahore ;
- (b) the estimated expenditure on each of these schemes ;
- (c) the most expensive one of all these schemes, and the reasons for its expensiveness ;
- (d) the material required for a sewage scheme that cannot be manufactured in India with its cost ;
- (e) whether the Government is prepared to direct that no material required for Lahore sewage scheme that can be manufactured in India should be purchased from abroad, if not, reasons for the same ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) (i) In 1929-30, a sewage scheme dealing with an area of 2,201 acres and a population of 265,717, and

(ii) In 1937, comprehensive sewage scheme dealing with an area of 9,124 acres and a prospective population of 950,250.

(b) (i) Rupees 45,94,795 (reduced in 1933 by 10 per cent. on account of fall in prices of materials) and

(ii) Rupees 2,44,44,160, respectively.

(c) The second is more expensive and the reasons for its expensiveness are—

- (i) increase in acreage of the area to be sewered by more than 4 times ;
 - (ii) tremendous increase in the prospective population to be served and calculated on the rate of increase as indicated by the census of 1931 ; and
 - (iii) incorporation in the scheme of the latest and most up-to-date developments in sanitary construction and hygienic requirements including sewage purification works.
- (d) (1) Pumping machinery,
 (2) Detritus Elevator plants,
 (3) Mechanical screens,
 (4) Bio-aeration installation for sewage treatment,
 (5) Sluice and control valves,
 (6) Flushing syphons,

at a cost of about Rs. 32,00,000.

(e) Yes. Government is prepared to give the desired direction with regard to any scheme carried out under the orders of Government or the Administrator appointed by Government.

ALLEGED POLICE EXCESSES IN VILLAGE KUTLOHI KHURD.

304. Sardar Muhammad Hussain : Will the Honourable the Premier kindly state —

- (a) whether his attention has been drawn to a statement recently issued by Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava, M.L.A., regarding the alleged police excesses in village Kutlohi Khurd, district Lahore ;
- (b) whether Government has made any inquiry into these allegations, if so, with what result ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Yes.

(b) Yes, the allegations contained in the statement of Dr. Gopi Chand were found to be baseless. The facts are that on the 2nd of April a head constable of police searched the houses of a number of sweepers in village Kutlohi and recovered a number of spears and stolen property from their possession. The sweepers admitted the commission of about forty burglaries. The day following the searches the head constable was returning to the police station with the recovered property when he was attacked by the sweepers who were armed with spears and axes and was robbed off his private clothes and articles of uniform. During the course of the investigation into the robbery and assault case it came to light that these sweepers were being harboured by the lambardars of the village. Fearing that the police would take action against them for harbouring, one of them approached a prominent Congress worker of Makhi Khurd (Sajjan Singh) who stood for election to this Assembly on the Congress ticket but was defeated. It is understood that on the representation of this person Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava and Mian Iftikhar-ud-Din visited Kutlohi and recorded the statements of a number of sweepers who had previously been tutored by the lambardars. In order to produce a dramatic effect an old man was brought before the honourable members on a charpoy and as soon as the charpoy was put on the ground the old man is reported to have shouted "Take me away from these policemen". I do not want to give any statement to them". The investigation into the robbery and assault case was personally supervised by a gazetted officer and no excesses or irregularities were committed by the police. The persons who assaulted and robbed the head constable decamped after the commission of the offence and were arrested from distant places. The enquiries made by Dr. Gopi Chand took place a month after the events and appear to have been instituted on the importunities of persons who had by their action laid themselves open to criminal proceedings. The complaints were in the nature of what is known as a peshbandi and the inexperience of the enquiry committee led to its failure to get at the real facts.

Sardar Gopal Singh : In the circumstances will the Government not consider the possibility of opening a special class for the training of investigators and enquiry agents of the Opposition ?

Premier : I am afraid the honourable member is expecting too much of the Government.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I know who were the investigating officers ?

Premier: The case was investigated by gazetted officers.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : If it were proved to the Honourable the Premier that the statement, which has been supplied by them and on which the present reply is based, is wrong, will he be prepared to take action against those officers ?

Premier : Certainly.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Shall I be given a chance to prove that this report is absolutely wrong ?

Premier : Yes.

An Honourable Member : Does the Honourable the Leader of the Opposition deny that those people were guilty of committing 40 burglaries ?

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : What I deny is this that I never examined the sweepers. I examined other inhabitants of the village at the time of the enquiry.

Premier : I am afraid the honourable member has not followed my reply. The case was investigated on the representation of those persons who came to persuade the honourable member to make an enquiry.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : It is absolutely wrong. If I am given a chance I will prove that it is wrong.

Premier : Does the honourable member say that he did not hold an enquiry ?

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I did hold the enquiry. But what I say is this. The report on which this reply is based is absolutely wrong. If a chance is given to me I shall prove that it is so. If I prove that the report is absolutely wrong, will the Honourable the Premier take any action against those officers ?

Mian Muhammad Iftikhar-ud-Din : Is not there a misunderstanding ? The Honourable Premier is under the impression that we went to enquire into the thefts that had been committed by certain sweepers. On the contrary we had nothing to do with them. They may have committed 40 or 50 burglaries. We were only concerned with the atrocities of the police on the innocent villagers.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I ask the Honourable Premier whether he has decided to allow Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava to place his case before him and come to an independent conclusion in regard to the matters mentioned in this question ?

Premier : I am sorry to say that Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava came to certain conclusions without coming to me, and then these were published in the Press.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Is the Honourable Premier now prepared to permit Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava to place the entire facts before him and discuss the matter with him ?

Premier : Provided Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava is prepared to take back his statement which he has already published.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Certainly. I will be prepared to take it back if it is proved that I was wrong.

LOWER JHELUM CANAL.

305. Sayad Mubarak Ali Shah : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue please state—

- (a) the maximum capacity of discharge of water from the Headwork of the Lower Jhelum Canal at Rasul ;

REMISSIONS IN JHANG DISTRICT.

309. Sayad Mubarak Ali Shah : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) the total amount of money remitted with regard to the wheat crop this year by Government in the province ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that the gram crop has been almost destroyed in the Jhang District; if so, the total amount of money remitted by Government this year with regard to this crop ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Details by crops are not available, but remissions of land revenue and abiana to the extent of about Rs. 27 lakhs have so far been granted.

(b) The area damaged by gramblight in the Jhang district was 24,329 acres. Rupees 17,625 in land revenue and Rs. 18,060 on account of abiana have been remitted in respect of the gram crop.

CIVIL HOSPITAL, MAGHIANA.

310. Sayad Mubarak Ali Shah : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the Civil Hospital at Maghiana (head-quarters of the Jhang district) was proposed to be provincialized this year, and that orders were issued to this effect some time ago ;
- (b) whether it is also a fact that orders mentioned in (a) have been cancelled ; if so, why ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haya : (a) Administrative approval was given by Government for the provincialization of the Jhang-Maghiana Civil Hospital this year. The actual carrying out of the project was subject to the provision of funds in the budget.

(b) It was not found possible to provide the funds and it was therefore necessary to postpone the provincialization of this hospital.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I ask the Honourable Minister how much money it would cost to provincialize this hospital ?

Minister : I do not keep the figures in my head.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I ask the Honourable Minister whether he intends to take any steps to enquire whether it is feasible financially ?

Minister : The proposal was before us. But it was an act of God, namely, the hail-storm, that interfered.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I ask the Honourable Minister whether it was an act of God that he does not know how much money was required ?

Minister : At the time we considered this question we had the figures before us.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Has the Honourable Minister forgotten the figures now ?

Minister : Certainly.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Has the Honourable Minister made an attempt to brush up his memory with regard to these figures ?

Minister : When the proposal came before us we had the figures.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Can the Honourable Minister give an approximate idea of the amount ?

Minister : No, Sir.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Was it very small ?

Minister : No, Sir.

Diwan Chaman Lall : How can the Honourable Minister say that the amount was not small when he does not remember the figures ?

Minister : I know the approximate cost.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : What is the approximate cost which the Honourable Minister says he knows ?

PROVINCIALIZED CIVIL HOSPITALS.

311. Sayad Mubarak Ali Shah : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state :—

- (a) the number of civil hospitals in the province that were provincialized last year, i. e., in 1935-36 with the names of places where these hospitals are situated ;
- (b) the number of civil hospitals which are proposed to be provincialized during the year 1937-38 with the names of the places where these are situated at present ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) No civil hospital was provincialized during the year 1935-36.

(b) It is proposed to provincialize three district headquarters hospitals, i. e., Hoshiarpur, Gujrat and Hissar during the year 1937-38. Representation has now been made by the Gujrat district authorities that instead of district headquarters hospital a tahsil headquarters hospital be provincialized. This matter is at present under consideration.

WATER SUPPLY TO DHRIKHANWALA VILLAGE.

312. Sayad Mubarak Ali Shah : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state whether the Government have received any complaints regarding the water supply to the Dhri Khanwala village situated in the Kot Naja Sub-Division of the Kirana division of the Lower Jhelum Canal to the effect that the zamindars of that village have again and again brought their difficulties to the notice of the local as well as the higher authorities concerned without invoking any redress of their grievances?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : No such complaints have been received by Government. Petitions received by the Executive Engineer were fully investigated and found to be baseless, inasmuch as the average irrigation of the village for the last 5 years is 1,252 acres against their Haq of 872 acres, indicating that the arrangements of water supply are satisfactory.

CONTRACTORS IN THE SHAHPUR, KIRANA AND SARGODHA DIVISIONS OF LOWER JHELUM CANAL.

313. Sayad Mubarak Ali Shah : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of contractors communitywise on the approved list of contractors maintained in the Shahpur, Kirana and Sargodha divisions of the Sargodha Circle of the Lower Jhelum Canal respectively;
- (b) the number of works given to contractors belonging to each community, i.e., Muslims, Sikhs and Hindus separately during the year 1935-36 with the amount of money for which each such work was given and also the number of contractors out of them who belong to the statutory agriculturist class;
- (c) if the number of the (i) Muslims, (ii) statutory agriculturists among these contractors be unduly small the action that is proposed to be taken to make up the deficiency?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : The collection of the information required by the honourable member will involve considerable labour and it is not proposed to collect it.

Further, Government cannot regulate the giving out of works on communal considerations because in accordance with orders in Public Works Department Code paragraph 2-69 and for reasons of economy, works are given out to the lowest suitable tenderer, and Government clearly has no means of insuring that the lowest tenderers shall be in any fixed communal ratio.

Endeavours will however be made that members of communities (who are not on the approved list or are meagerly represented thereon) be entered on that list provided the conditions laid down in the Code are fulfilled so that they may have a chance of competing for work given out by tender.

Lala Duni Chand : Does the Government accept the principle of open and free competition in the matter of granting contracts and of the lowest rates; and if so, will the Government issue instructions to all departments to that effect?

Minister : The reply is quite clear.

Sayed Amjad Ali Shah : May I know whether this principle was adhered to in the last contract given for the brick kiln for the Haveli project ?

Minister : The lowest tender was accepted.

OFFICE OF THE SARGODHA CIRCLE, LOWER JHELUM CANAL.

314. Sayad Mubarak Ali Shah : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) the total number of persons communitywise employed in the Office of Sargodha Circle and in the three Divisions (Shahpur, Sargodha and Kirana) of the Lower Jhelum Canal at Sargodha separately with amount of money the members of each community are receiving in the shape of salaries ;
- (b) the number of statutory agriculturists among them ;
- (c) if the number of (i) Muslims, (ii) the statutory agriculturists be very small the steps, if any, that Government intends to take to make up the deficiency ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a)

(b) 82 agriculturists.

(c) The number of Muslims as also of Sikhs and agriculturists is at present below the proportion fixed but it is not unduly small and will increase with the entry of new men ; hence no action other than that already in force to govern recruitment is considered necessary.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : Have any representations been made by any community that the posts given to them are not up to the required figure ?

Minister : They are made in the Press.

OFFICE OF THE LYALLPUR CIRCLE, LOWER CHENAB CANAL.

315. Sayad Mubarak Ali Shah : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue please state :—

- (a) the total number of persons communitywise employed in the Office of the Lyallpur Circle and in all the divisions of the Lower Chenab Canal, Irrigation Department with the amount of money the members of each community are receiving in the shape of salaries, every month ;
- (b) the number of statutory agriculturists among them and the amount of money they are receiving monthly in the shape of salaries ;
- (c) if the number of statutory agriculturists and the amount of money that they receive be unduly small, the steps that are proposed to be taken to redress their grievances ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia :

| | No. | Rs. |
|--------------------------|-----|--------|
| (a) Muslims | 628 | 25,066 |
| Hindus | 647 | 33,892 |
| Sikhs | 247 | 10,386 |
| Others | 7 | 7,809 |
| (b) Agriculturists | 631 | 26,827 |

(c) The number of statutory agriculturists and the amount of money they receive is comparatively small but not unduly small and will increase with the entry of new men ; hence no action other than that already in force to govern recruitment is considered necessary.

LYALLPUR-JHANG ROAD.

316. Sayad Mubarak Ali Shah : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) the total amount of money proposed to be spent on the metalling of the Lyallpur-Jhang road ;
- (b) the total number of the contractors communitywise who sent in their tenders for the work ;
- (c) the names and the communities of the contractors to whom this work has been given with the terms of their tenders ;
- (d) whether he will lay on the table of the House the tenders submitted and the terms quoted by the contractors whose tenders were accepted as well as of those whose tenders were rejected, and give reasons for the acceptance of the tenders, respectively?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan-Tiwana : (a) Rs. 7½ lakhs.

(b) Total number of tenders was 37 (thirty-seven). Community-wise they were as under :—

| | | | | |
|-----------------------------|----|-------|----|----|
| Muslim | .. | .. | .. | 1 |
| Hindus | .. | .. | .. | 26 |
| Sikhs | .. | .. | .. | 2 |
| Hindus and Sikhs (combined) | .. | .. | .. | 2 |
| Companies | .. | .. | .. | 6 |
| | | | | 37 |
| | | Total | .. | 37 |

It is added that a partner of one of the companies who tendered, as mentioned above, was also a Muslim.

(c) Messrs Karam Chand-Mehng Raj .. Hindus. At 6½ per cent. below the notice rates. Work to be completed in 8½ months.

Messrs Sind Punjab Road Construction Company. At 6½ per cent. below notice rates. Work to be completed in 6 months and 20 days.

Sardar Uttam Singh Dugal .. Sikh. At Rs. 10-5-0 per cent. below notice rates. Work to be completed in 12 months.

Lala Faqir Chand .. Hindu. At notice rates. Work to be completed in 8 months and 22 days.

Lala Lal Chand Kalra .. Hindu. At 12 per cent. below notice rates. Work to be completed in 6 months.

(d) Government does not consider it in the public interests to give the information asked for, and to lay on the table of the House the tenders received for the work in question.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Will the Honourable Minister please consider the desirability of not giving contracts to members of the Assembly ?

Minister : I have given the names of the contractors ; I do not know whether they are members of the House or not.

FRUIT GROWING IN THE PROVINCE.

317.5 Lieutenant Sodhi Harnam Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Development kindly state—

(a) the number of fruit plants supplied by the Fruit Specialist in 1936 from the Government Nurseries, Lyallpur ;

(b) the total demand for fruit plants in 1936 ;

(c) whether the demand was met ; if not, why not ;

- (d) if the answer to (c) above be in the negative, whether the Government proposes to increase the staff and also the number of nurseries ;
- (e) whether the Government proposes to have fruit plants' nurseries in every District Farm to enable the zamindars to get their supplies from there ;
- (f) whether the Government proposes to encourage the preservation, canning and growing of fruit in the province ; if so, how ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a) 7,876 plants from 1st July, 1936 to 30th June, 1937.

(b) 69,415 plants.

(c) Only a small percentage of the demand was met, as nursery production on a large scale takes time and it has not been possible yet for supply to overtake demand.

(d) Government have already taken active steps in the matter. With the aid of funds from the Government of India Rural Reconstruction grant to the Punjab in November, 1935, the staff has been increased, existing departmental nurseries enlarged considerably and a number of new nurseries opened.

(e) All the departmental District Farms are not suited for fruit nursery work, but nurseries are being established in as many suitable and convenient centres as funds permit.

(f) Government is already doing a great deal in this direction, such as giving practical advice and demonstration, holding classes of instruction and fruit shows, and providing fruit nursery plants of good quality. In addition funds for the erection of a fruit cannery at Lyallpur and its equipment with machinery for demonstrating fruit preservation on a semi-commercial scale have been obtained from the Government of India and the first demonstration course of seven months duration is in progress at present.

Syed Amjad Ali Shah : Will the Government be prepared to recommend to the Government of India to reduce the customs duty on reformed tins or other tins which are used for preservation of canned fruit ?

Minister : If a representation is made I will consider the matter.

MEANS OF COMMUNICATION IN THE RURAL AREA.

*318. Lieutenant Sodhi Harnam Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to lay on the table of the House a detailed programme of the improvements proposed to be effected in the means of communication in the rural areas of the Punjab, districtwise ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : A programme of road development in the Punjab is under preparation. Its details are to be worked out in the next few months.

IMPROVEMENT OF UNMETALLED ROADS IN THE PROVINCE.

319. Lieutenant Sodhi Harnam Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works kindly state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that unmetalled roads in this province are in a very bad condition ;
- (b) whether the Government is prepared to take some steps to get the unmetalled roads improved in the near future ;
- (c) whether the Communications Board has taken any steps towards the new system of scheduling roads ; if so, what ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) No, not all of them. Out of about 9,000 miles of unmetalled roads in the province of Classes I and II there were 3,323 miles estimated to be in motorable condition at the end of 1934-35.

(b) Yes, proposals are afoot to improve in the near future many of the unmetalled roads to make them fit for motor traffic.

(c) No, this is purely an executive function with which the Communications Board are not directly concerned.

RANBIR PRESS, LAHORE.

320. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the Ranbir Press, Lahore, has been called upon to deposit a security ; if so, why ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : Yes ; for printing a portion of the book entitled " Puranic Pol Parkash " which contained matter which was offensive to Sanatanists and came within the purview of clause (h) of sub-section (1) of section 4 of the Indian Press (Emergency Powers) Act, XXIII of 1931, as amended by section 16 of the Criminal Law Amendment Act, XXIII of 1932.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : When was the book published ?

Premier : I should like to have notice of that question.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will he please state whether a second edition has been published or not ?

Premier : I am afraid I cannot give that information.

An honourable member : Was the owner of the Press given a warning before ?

Premier : I believe so.

PROVISION OF SHELTER AND OTHER FACILITIES FOR JAIL VISITORS.

321. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that there are no seating arrangements in a large number of jails in the province for those who go to interview prisoners ;

(b) whether it is also a fact that the visitors have to stand in the sun or rain while interviewing the prisoners ;

(c) what action Government propose to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : This has been dealt with in the reply to question *161.¹

SHORTAGE OF WATER SUPPLY IN THE ILAQA IRRIGATED BY RAJBH MUNDORA.

322. Dr. Shaikh Muhammad Alam : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that there is a shortage of water supply in the ilaqa irrigated by Rajbah Madhora in Hafizabad division, and especially at the tail of the said Rajbah ;

(b) the commanded area and the irrigated area of village Thatha Asalatke at present ;

(c) whether it is a fact that the land owners of the village mentioned in (b) above have been making complaints regarding shortage of water supply to the Irrigation Department ;

(d) if the answer to (c) above be in the affirmative, since when the authorities of the Irrigation Department have been receiving such complaints and the action, if any, taken in the matter ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) No. There is no shortage of water for the areas of the Madhora distributary. Owing to the need to re-adjust the upper outlets, the supply at the tail has been short on occasions.

(b) Since 1935, the culturable commanded area and permissible annual irrigation of Thatha Asalatke have been recorded as 486 and 218 acres, respectively.

(c) The only complaints from the distributary tail have come from Dr. Shaikh Muhammad Alam or his relatives — the owners of the villages.

(d) Since 1935.

The supply for the outlet will be increased as soon as the adjustment of the upper outlets permits and after re-verification of the culturable commanded area — quoted in (b) above — has been completed, as appears desirable from the present investigation.

ROAD FROM PINDI BHATTIAN TO HAFIZABAD.

323. Dr. Shaikh Muhammad Alam : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that the condition of the road from Pindi Bhattian in district Gujranwala to Hafizabad via Jalalpur Bhattian, is extremely bad ;

[Dr. Shaikh Muhammad Alam.]

- (b) whether it is a fact that several accidents have happened on that road ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that the metalling of the road from Pindi Bhattian to Hafizabad which is connected with the road from Pindi Bhattian to Chiniot, has already been sanctioned by Government ;
- (d) when Government proposes to take up the work of metalling the above-mentioned road ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) No.

(b) This is an unmetalled road and is no worse than most unmetalled provincial roads in the province. No accidents have been reported.

(c) No. The metalling of the road is, however, contemplated.

(d) No date fixed as yet.

ROAD BETWEEN KASUR AND RAIWIND.

324. Dr. Shaikh Muhammad Alam : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) Whether it is a fact that the condition of the road joining Kasur with Raiwind, in district Lahore, is bad ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that this is the only road which joins Kasur with important grain producing centres like Athelpur, Raokhanwala, Raja Jang, Raiwind, etc ;
- (c) when this road was last repaired with the amount of money spent on its repairs ;
- (d) what action Government propose to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) No. The condition of the road is like other earthen roads. The road is motorable but is liable to get ratted especially by iron-tired carts.

(b) Yes, but the road runs close and parallel to the railway line (Lahore Kasur). The traffic is not great.

(c) The road was repaired last in October, 1936, at a cost of Rs. 576-2-0.

(d) It is understood that the District Board, Lahore, is considering the question of metalling the road up to 3 miles from Raiwind as soon as funds become available.

REALISATION OF SUSPENDED LAND REVENUE IN GURGAON DISTRICT.

325. Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that under the existing rules land revenue which remains under suspension for three years or more is remitted ;

- (b) if the answer to (a) above be in the affirmative, whether it is a fact that from some villages in the Gurgaon district, land revenue, suspended in 1932 and not realized during the last 5 years, has to be realized this year; if so, reasons for the same?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) The honourable member's attention is invited to paragraph 576 of the Land Administration Manual and Appendix IX to the Final Settlement Report of the Gurgaon district. The question of the remission of the outstanding arrears is taken into consideration after the lapse of three harvests and remissions are granted according to the merits of each case. They are not granted automatically after the lapse of any fixed period of time.

- (b) Does not arise.

COMPLAINT BY SARDAR HAZURA SINGH AGAINST POLICE.

326. Dr. Sant Ram Seth : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that Sardar Hazura Singh, son of Dayal Singh, Jat of village Khalra, tahsil Kasur, district Lahore, complained to the Additional Superintendent of Police, Kasur, that he was molested and beaten by the head constable, muharrir and other constables posted at police station Khalra, tahsil Kasur, on the 16th February, 1937; if the answer be in the affirmative, whether he will kindly lay on the table of the House his original application;
- (b) whether any inquiry was made on that application by a responsible police officer; if so, on what date the complaint was served with a notice to appear before the investigating officer;
- (c) whether the investigating officer recorded the statements of the complainant and of his witnesses, if so, the result of this inquiry?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Yes. A copy of the application is laid on the table.

(b) and (c) Under the instructions of the Additional Superintendent of Police, Kasur, an inquiry was made by the officer in charge of the police station, who found the allegations in the petition to be contrary to the facts. The scene of the incident was the open market place, and the inquiring officer was able to ascertain the facts from the shopkeepers and other independent witnesses, without questioning the petitioner.

Translation of a Vernacular petition from Hazura Singh, son of Dyal Singh, Jat of Khalra, tehsil Kasur, to the Additional Superintendent of Police, Kasur.

A Ram Lila was held in Khalra Mandi on the night of 16th February, 1937, and I went to see the show. I was standing behind other spectators when the head moharrir of Khalra Police Station came to the spot with a stick in his hand. He ordered all the people to sit down. The moharrir was somewhat drunk at the time. Some people sat down and the rest were about to sit down when the moharrir came up to me and using abusive language ordered me to sit down. I said "Do not use abusive language." Upon this the head moharrir lost his temper and attacked me. I caught hold of his hand and two or three constables who were present in the Ram Lila also attacked me. All the policemen beat me severely with fists and sticks, and disgraced me. I request that a thorough enquiry into the incident should be made, and the culprits should be severely dealt with in order that they may not disgrace a respectable person in future.

[Premier.]

PRISONERS IN KASUR SUB-JAIL.

327. Dr. Sant Ram Seth : (i) Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state whether Sajjan Singh Margindpuri, member, Servants of the People Society, Lahore, submitted an application to him on the 8th June, 1937, stating therein some grievances of the prisoners of Kasur Sub-Jail transferred to Multan Central Jail ;

(ii) if the answer to (i) be in the affirmative whether he will lay on the table his original application and state whether any inquiry was made by the Government ; if so, the result of the inquiry and what steps the Government proposes to take to remove the grievances complained of ;

(iii) whether any prisoners were transferred to Kasur Sub-jail on the 7th June, 1937 ; if so, their number and the number of the police guard sent with them, and also the capacity, i. e., volume of the prisoners' van in which they were put at Kasur Railway station ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (i) Yes.

(ii) and (iii). A copy of the application is laid on the table. It has been ascertained that on the date in question thirty prisoners were transferred from the Kasur subsidiary jail to the Old Central Jail, Multan. They were marched to the railway station at Kasur, in the late afternoon, according to the usual practice, and were despatched by a train leaving Kasur at 5-39 P. M. and reaching Multan early on the following morning. The prisoners were accommodated on the train in four compartments, each constructed to hold eight persons. The guard consisted of one head constable and six constables of police, and one jail warder. The complaints made in the application thus seem to be without foundation, and no action is contemplated.

Copy of a letter, dated the 8th June, 1937, from Sajjan Singh Margindpuri, member, Servants of the People Society, Lahore, to the Honourable Premier, Government, Punjab, Lahore.

I beg to bring the following facts to your notice :—

- (1) Ordinarily prisoners from Kasur Sub-Jail are transferred to Multan Old Central Jail after their convictions by the local courts. On the 7th instant about 25 convicts were transferred from Kasur Sub-Jail to Multan Central Jail. The scene of their marching on foot, at the roads in the scorching heat of the sun was too much dreadful. They were all bar-fettered and handcuffed. The fetters grew hot under the heat of the sun and began to bite their ankles and legs. Some of them received severe bites of iron fetters. This system of marching the bar-fettered prisoners on foot from the Sub-Jail, Kasur to the Railway Station, Kasur, a distance of about 2 miles must be given up. It is very troublesome. Therefore, I would request you to look into the matter and see that some satisfactory arrangement for the conveyance of the prisoners from the Kasur Sub-Jail to the Kasur Railway Station is made as early as possible.
- (2) I also beg to add that the scene of their packing in the prisoner's van on the railway was much more horrible. The prisoner's van consisted of 5 compartments. In the four compartments all the prisoners were put in handcuffed. The accommodation in each compartment was so insufficient that the prisoners could hardly move. They were made to sit shoulder to shoulder. The train left Kasur at 6 P.M. They had to pass the whole night in the journey, while there was not the least possibility of their getting sleep during their stay in the prisoner's van at night. I would request you to make such arrangement for the prisoners who are transferred from Kasur to Multan that either they be booked in the morning train which leaves Kasur at 6 A.M. or they be transferred in a van which provides sleeping accommodation for them during night.

PUNITIVE POLICE POST AT VILLAGES SAIDO, CHEEMA AND JAUR SINGHWALA IN LAHORE DISTRICT.

328. Dr. Sant Ram Seth : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether any additional police post was quartered at village Saido, Cheema and Jaur Singhwala, tahsil Kasur, district Lahore, between 1921 and 1924 ;
- (b) if so, the sanctioned strength of the police force for each year, the strength of the police force actually posted there each year and the amount imposed on and recovered from the inhabitants of the villages for the costs of police post each year ;
- (c) whether any inquiry was made by the District Magistrate, Lahore, about the actual cost of the police force located in the aforesaid villages before issuing orders for its recovery ;
- (d) whether one Suja Singh and other inhabitants of the aforesaid villages submitted an application to the Honourable Premier in April, 1937, claiming refund of a certain sum said to have been realised in excess of the actual cost of the police post borne by Government ; if so, with what result ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : The honourable member is asked to refer to the reply given to his earlier question (No. *361) regarding this additional police post. I regret that I cannot undertake to go into further details in regard to this old matter.

PUNITIVE POLICE POST AT VILLAGE HARDO SAHARI, DISTRICT LAHORE.

329. Dr. Sant Ram Seth : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether any punitive police post was quartered at village Hardo Sahari, district Lahore, in 1928-29 for a period of one year ;
- (b) if so, the date of its arrival in the village, the date of its withdrawal from the village, the name of the house owner who provided his house for the police force, the amount of monthly rent settled with him and the total rent paid to him during the stay of the police force in the village ;
- (c) whether any inquiry was made by the District Magistrate, Lahore, before issuing orders for the recovery of the police post costs ;

[Dr. Sant Ram Seth.]

- (d) whether any reserve force was ever called in during the stay of the police force in the village and whether the village inhabitants were charged on this account at the fixed rate. i. e., 1/6th part of the total salaries of the constables ;
- (e) whether the furniture purchased for the police post at the cost of the village inhabitants was taken to the District police headquarters after the withdrawal of the police post from the village without any compensation to the village inhabitants ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : The honourable member is asked to see the reply given to his Question *30,¹ relating to this same post. I regret that I cannot undertake to go into further details regarding this old matter.

PUNITIVE POLICE POST AT MAKHI KHURD AND MAKHI KALAN IN LAHORE DISTRICT.

330. Dr. Sant Ram Seth : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that mounted punitive police post was sanctioned to be posted at villages Makhi Khurd and Makhi Kalan tahsil Kasur, district Lahore, for a period of 3 years ;
- (b) whether any police force was sent from the District police headquarters, Lahore, for this police post before May, 1922 ; if so, the grounds for delay ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that during the year 1922-23 the police force which was to be located at the above villages mentioned in (a) remained stationed at police station, Valtoha ;
- (d) if the answer to (c) be in the affirmative, the period for which it remained there and the actual costs borne by the Government for this period ;
- (e) if the answer to (a) be in the affirmative, the name of the village resident house owner who provided house for the police during its stay in the village, the monthly rent settled with him and the total rent paid to him during each year of the stay of the said punitive police post ;
- (f) whether any grain compensation was allowed to any of the Government servants from 1st April, 1922, to 31st March, 1923, and whether the punitive police costs recovered from the village inhabitants of the aforesaid villages included Rs. 360 for grain compensation allowance of the police force ; if so, why the compensation was not paid ;
- (g) whether any inquiry was made by the District Magistrate, Lahore, about the actual costs of the punitive police posts during its stay in these villages before issuing orders for the recovery of the punitive police post costs from the village inhabitants ;

(h) the reasons why the village residents were charged Rs. 636 per annum on account of pensions for 3 years when no such pension was allowed to the members of punitive police post ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : The honourable member is asked to see the reply given to his earlier question No. *40¹. I regret that I cannot undertake to go further into this old matter.

DEMANDS FOR GRANTS.

POLICE.

Police Administration.

Mr. E. Few (Anglo-Indian) : I thank you for the opportunity given me to say a few words on the cut motion before the House. Unfortunately I was not in the House yesterday when my honourable friend on the opposite bench made his observations but in the course of his remarks he referred to Anglo-Indians in the police force. The Anglo-Indian is in a minority but I think it will be admitted that he has been second to none in the development of India and the service he has rendered to the country. (Hear, hear). The Honourable Leader of the Opposition in surveying the police field deplored the method of recruitment to the police and pressed that we should not confine recruitment to this or that community but recruit only the best. I maintain that the Anglo-Indian being the best material available finds himself in the police force. In storm and stress the Anglo-Indian is always to the front and I pride myself that my community is India's second line of defence by forming the backbone of the auxiliary force. Anglo-Indians are still very useful particularly in dealing with critical situations. I would remind the House through you that some years ago when a notable communal trial was held in Rawalpindi the services of an Anglo-Indian Magistrate from Lahore were requisitioned to try the cases. Again, in the unfortunate recent clash at Panipat we find soon after an Anglo-Indian magistrate drafted to that list. I therefore submit that the Anglo-Indian is pulling his weight in the administration of the country and my honourable friends on the Opposition benches should not grudge him his share in the economic life of the province. The next point I wish to refer is the strictures of the Honourable the Leader of the Opposition and his followers on the police. Do these people really consider that in a force of over 22,000 every individual should be immaculate ? Is there any country in the world that can point to any institution that can boast of 100 per cent. righteousness ? I maintain that the public is responsible for the corruption of the police and it is brought about by some interested party getting hold of a weak-minded policeman and by threats, by bribes, by inducements of a varied nature get him on the track of somebody else, when the Opposition benches raise the matter on the floor of the House without pausing to consider the origin of the trouble. I respectfully maintain, that unless the public change their angle of vision on corruption we can never hope to have an incorruptible police. The lot of a policeman in this country is the hardest of all ; he is between the devil and deep sea and realizes that whether he is in the right or wrong he will get the rotten end of the stick. Is it therefore anything to be wondered at that in desperation he lapses from the correct path ?

[Mr. E. Few.]

Now my honourable friends on the Opposition benches after condemning the police lock, stock and barrel, without a redeeming feature, recommend that the salaries of the constables be raised, when they are told that Finances will not permit of such, they get over the difficulty by suggesting that the supervisonal staff should be chopped off. I wonder if the Honourable Leader of the Opposition has ever tried to visualise a herd of sheep being controlled without a shepherd. If you do away with supervisonal staff who will be there to train the rank and file, to show them the right path and pull them up when they deviate from correctitude? The suggestion is impracticable and I respectfully submit that the remedy proposed is worse than the disease. The inconsistency of the Leader of the Opposition bothers me. He wants the pay of the constable to be raised and in the same breath says that the greatest living being Mr. Gandhi, exists on six pice a day, and it would therefore be logical for him to say that as constables are lesser mortals they should be able to exist on five pice.

The other point I wish to stress is the continual cry of the Opposition that the Government benches having an overwhelming majority do not listen to their suggestions. Nobody can deny that the Opposition are certainly the most vocal, but I will never concede that they have the monopoly of wisdom. Do they expect every suggestion of theirs to be accepted, no matter how wild, by the majority party abdicating their own judgment? I am afraid if we were to accept all their suggestions we should be all placed under restraint. I challenge them to put forward a single constructive proposition. Some of the stuff put forward is really an insult to the intelligence of the House. One member tells us to reduce the Land Revenue from 12 crores to 2 crores, another to raise the minimum wage so that an expenditure of 200 crores would be needed. Could any sane person make such proposals? Again, we are told that Mr. Gandhi lives on six-pice a day. It must be a wonderful six-pice with includes Jaffa Oranges, dates from Bushire and hot house grapes from the vineries overseas. The electorate sent us here to do a spot of work. The sooner we get on with it and stop bleating to the gallery the better for the province.

Master Kabul Singh (Jullundur East, Sikh, Rural) (Punjabi): Sir, I rise to support the motion moved by the honourable member Lala Duni Chand. It is quite clear that the burden of almost all the speeches made by the members sitting opposite has been that they have every sympathy with the peasantry of the province. They have also given high sounding pledges to extend their helping hand to the agriculturists. They are always labouring this point, so much so that even when they demand fat salaries for ministers they do so on the plea of helping the agriculturists, and, when they press another demand for heavy charges on account of parliamentary secretaries, again it is pleaded that they are essential for the good of the peasantry. And now when we are discussing the demand for police, the same argument of helping the agriculturists is being advanced. It appears as if the Unionists' Government is always pining for the welfare of the peasants, and always thinking out measures for relieving them of their distress. If they ride in a rickshaw, they maintain, it is for the sake of the poor peasants. If they indulge in the luxury of taking 'Karah' they declare "that too is for the good of the peasants". Some of my honourable friends who spoke yesterday held that police is maintained for safeguarding the honour, property and life of agriculturists. But let us consider how far the police really safeguards the honour, property and life of those who provide the wherewithals for the maintenance of the Police Department out of their hard-earned income. If it were a fact that police is meant for safeguarding the life and property of the agriculturists, they would have been saved from the worries on the score of watch and ward. But the fact is that they are forced to provide 'thikri-pehra' even though their own cattle which they keep in their farms may be stolen. It is a pity that when they return home exhausted after a hard day's labour they are made to patrol the streets of their villages. Moreover, when a case of burglary occurs in a rich man's bungalow, the poor villagers are ordered to trace the thieves. Why should these poor villagers be compelled to act as 'khojis' when they have not got enough to eat. Nevertheless it is claimed that the police is kept for safeguarding the life and property of the agriculturists. As to the plea of saving their honour, I would say that the honour of even the dignitaries of the province is not safe at the hands of the police, not to speak of the poor agriculturists. When the late Lala Lajpat Rai,—a man of international reputation—could not save his honour from the attacks of a superintendent of police, who else can feel safe at the hands of the police? It is my firm conviction that the police does not protect the honour of the public. On the contrary it heaps indignities upon them. But here in this house the evil tendencies of the police are being represented as virtues. I would mention, as an example, the case of a police superintendent, Khan Bahadur Shaikh Abdul Aziz who was a great favourite with the Government and about whom it is often claimed that he rendered meritorious services to the province.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : On a point of order, Sir, is the honourable member justified in bringing this charge against a retired officer who is not here to give a reply?

Mr. Speaker : No charge is made so far.

Master Kabul Singh : That officer while speaking to a gentleman from the United Provinces, who begged leave to see a political prisoner, said, "This is Punjab, Sir". I intend to impress upon the Government benches the deplorable mentality of every police officer inasmuch as he considers himself a ruler rather than a servant of the public.

Some of my honourable friends compared the Punjab police to the police in Europe. But why go so far? Why not compare it with the police of the other provinces of this very country? I had to remain under the vigilance of the Bengal police and I found their treatment to be more gentlemanly as compared with the police of our own province, in spite of the fact that revolutionaries are more active in that province. Just compare the attitude of the police of your own province with that of the Bengal police. Here every head constable moves about with a stick in his hand as a token of his stiffneckedness. Only recently we came to know of a head constable who roamed about in certain villages of tahsil Phillaur with the sole object of receiving humble greetings from the people. He would insult the man who failed to pay homage to him. At last the Rurka Committee took notice of his insulting behaviour to those who had failed to offer homage to him. They reported this matter to higher authorities in the form of a resolution which was passed unanimously. I wonder if any action has been taken on that. It was perhaps Mir Maqbool Mahmood who speaking from the opposite benches yesterday, proudly referred to the bravery of the Punjab police. I am also tempted to mention an example of their bravery which must put every one of us to shame. I want to refer to the Babar Akali Movement of 1922-23 when about 500 policemen were deputed to arrest only three akalis, but, none of them ventured to grapple with an Akali. At that time police officers with their big turbans and broad chests and their so-called brave constables did not dare even to come near the fearless Akalis. They tried to throw petrol upon them from a distance or otherwise tried to overcome them. Can there be anything more cowardly than the behaviour of these brave policemen? Another thing said, in favour of the police, is that their presence is necessary for the prevention of communal outbreaks. But I would charge the police with the responsibility for causing communal riots. An honourable member remarked yesterday that such riots are caused by educated persons. I would modify that statement and say that riots are caused by educated persons in Government service. It does not lie in the mouth of any reasonable man to say that police prevents communal riots. As a matter of fact they foster such riots. Again, much has been made of the fact that the Honourable Premier has convened a unity conference in order to end communal conflicts. I do not doubt his sincerity but I must point out that this conference has strengthened rather than weakened the foundation of communal bickerings, because no unity is possible when the prestige of rank communalists like Master Tara Singh, Maulana Zafar Ali Khan and Bhai Parma Nand has been enhanced by inviting them to this conference. Maulana Zafar Ali Khan is the man who remarked, the other day, that he is out to establish Muslim Raj in the Punjab within a short period of 10 years.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : On a point of order, Sir. I would again invite your attention to the fact that it is not fair that such serious allegations should be brought against a gentleman who is not present in the House and cannot give explanation for his conduct.

Mr. Speaker : The remarks of Master Kabul Singh do not appear to be objectionable. He is talking of the unity conference.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : I did not take exception to those words but I took exception to the words that Maulana Zafar Ali Khan were making speeches that he would establish Muslim Raj in the course of the next ten years.

Pandit Muni Lal Kalia : May I ask Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan whether he denies that fact?

Mr. Speaker : But Maulana Zafar Ali Khan's speech is not under discussion.

Master Kabul Singh (Punjabi) : Sir, I was saying that the attempts made by the Government for checking communal riots in the province have further strengthened their foundations.

As I have already stated the general attitude and arrogant behaviour of the police cannot be tolerated by any gentleman. I will give an instance of the high-handedness of police. A posse of police constables in charge of a police officer travelled in a lorry to Nawanshahr in order to raid a place where it was understood that illicit liquor was being manufactured. The poor lorrywala was not paid any fare. The owner of the lorry or the driver had not the courage to report this matter to higher officials because they knew that they would be shoved into the hawalat if they did so.

Syed Afzaal Ali Hasnie : Is it parliamentary, Sir. ?

Mr. Speaker : Apparently the honourable member has raised his point of order without following what Master Kabul Singh has said .

Master Kabul Singh : I do not think that the words "be shoved" are objectionable. They simply mean "they would have been sent behind the bars." I may inform the honourable member that the phrase "shove in" is commonly used in Punjabi.

I was saying that the attitude of the police is highly undesirable. There seems to be something fundamentally wrong with the department. One's hair stand on end when one hears of the methods employed by the police in the course of their investigation. It was mentioned in the course of a murder-trial that is pending in the court of a magistrate in the Doaba, that the police belaboured two or three persons to such an extent that they were obliged to say what the police wanted them to say. The Honourable Premier, not only refused to accept my statement, he pointed towards this side and said that the members of the Defence Committee try to overawe crown witnesses and turn them into hostile witnesses. I should like to point out to him that when an accused is in police custody or is in jail no one is allowed to see him and the members of Defence Committee are especially denied this privilege. I may also point out that these innuendoes of the Honourable Premier will not deter us from defending our friends. It is our duty and privilege to do so. It is said that the police is kept for the benefit of the poor, but I fail to see any advantage to the public. On the other hand the public is a heavy loser. Criminal Investigation Department constables follow the political workers like shadows. I should like to say that public money is being wasted on this shadowing. May I ask the Government what service the Police Department renders to the general public. We are not afraid of the constables who are appointed to watch our movements. We do not care for the police. If the Government appoint these men to follow us to get information about our activities, let me point out to them that these men who follow us like coolies are of no use because they submit false and haphazard diaries to the Government. They are only misleading the Government. In my opinion the police does not serve the public. On the other hand public money is being wasted on it. I am not prepared to believe for a moment that this department is meant to serve the public or safeguard their lives and property. It is a department of robbers meant for looting the public on the pretext of safeguarding their lives and property. Toadies are given pensions for years and years together and we can no longer tolerate this kind of looting. Sir, there is only one way of checking the corruption in this department and that is to increase the pay of efficient constables. The Government would be well-advised to recruit efficient constables, so that they may supply the department with correct reports of our activities. The foolish constables of the Criminal

{Master Kabul Singh.}

Investigation Department who are appointed to watch us are no good. As soon as we come across them they tell us that they have been appointed to watch our movements. The constable who is standing outside the chamber does not know what kind of a plot we are hatching here.

With these words, I support the cut motion moved by my learned friend Lala Duni Chand and before I resume my seat I beg to request the honourable ministers once again to show a little spirit of sacrifice. They should not accept Rs. 8,000 per mensem. They should not be greedy. They should be more considerate and should always keep the interest of the country in the forefront. With these words I resume my seat.

Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din (Sheikhupura, Muhammadan, Rural): Mr. Speaker, as far as the reform of the police is concerned, I do not think there are two opinions in this House. There is none in the House who would not like to see the police reformed and brought to the ideal which ought to be the ambition of every State. But we must not forget the facts as they are. The heritage which this Government has received is unfortunately not a happy one (hear, hear). We know that in 1872 when the Indian Evidence Act was framed and passed, section 24 was brought in to say that a confession made to a police officer would not be admissible in evidence. What is that the proof of? It is a legal proof of the fact that the framers of that Act did believe that there is the tendency in the police force to extort confessions. Unfortunately that habit of the police force has not been altogether eradicated, though it is not so much in vogue now as it used to be. We have to see what it is due to. Is it altogether due to the fault of the police or the public of this province or of this country is also to blame? Do we not find that it is ingrained in the people of this country to shield an offender. When an offence is committed, or a murder is committed for a time the sympathy is with the victim, but soon after the sympathy diverts towards the offender. (Voices: Question). You take it from me that that is a fact. If necessary the judicial files and records could be brought forth in support of this submission of mine. We shall have to admit to our shame that this is not a fact in this country that a father would come forward to give evidence against his son or a brother to give evidence against his brother. (A voice: That is nowhere the rule in the world).

Mr. Speaker: May I request the honourable members not to make a running commentary on the speech of the honourable member.

Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din: We have to reform the police, Sir, but we have to reform ourselves also. We have to inculcate amongst our people the idea that it is the duty of every citizen to bring forth any fact which is in his possession or in his knowledge. Unless and until that is done, my submission is, that no institution, no force, be it police or be it judicial, can ever perform its duties perfectly.

Much has been said against the police. As I have already submitted, I do not deny that the fault is there. But as they say--

12 Noon.

عیب او جملہ بغفتی ہنرش نیز بگو

' You have mentioned all his faults, please say something about his merits also.'

If my personal experience could be brought to my honourable friends' notice, I may be allowed to quote one or two instances though I can quote many instances of police officers who have been doing their duty honestly, efficiently and perfectly so much so that they would be the envy of even the Scotland Yard. (Hear, hear). To come to one concrete instance, I may quote the case of the late Khan Bahadur Abdulla whose honesty is a household talk in the whole district of Lahore, whose boldness in rounding up thieves and dacoits is so very well known to everybody. As to his abilities I may be allowed to give one incident. When the highest police officer in India, the Director-General of Police came one day to Lahore from Calcutta, he sent for Mr. Abdulla and asked him to proceed at once on the investigation of a murder case which he believed had occurred in a train coming from Calcutta by which an English lady was travelling, but who had not reached her destination. The first class compartment in which she was travelling bore evidence of a murder having been committed, because there was blood and marks of struggle in it. Mr. Abdulla left the office and came back in half an hour. When he was asked, 'Have you not yet left for the investigation?' the answer was, 'Sir, I have completed the investigation and the matter is finished so far as I am concerned.' The House can very well imagine the wrath of the officer who took Mr. Abdulla to mean that he could not understand the case which Mr. Abdulla concluded in half an hour. Thereupon Mr. Abdulla sent for a tumbler of water and took out a packet of paper from his pocket and put into the water and asked the police officer to scan it and see the result.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : I should like to have a piece of information. Is that name 'Abdulla' a real name or a fictitious one?

Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din : For the information of my honourable friend I may be permitted to say that that person was a resident of Lahore district and not of the Jhelum district. (Laughter).

Chaudhri Muhammad Abdul Rahman Khan (Urdu) : On a point of information. Was he the same Abdulla who used to send up so many cases? (Laughter).

Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din : I am not surprised at this question of my honourable friend, because all persons who have to deal with police would speak according to their own experience. (Hear, hear). Taking the thread of my narration, I was submitting that in a moment Mr. Abdulla succeeded in proving to the satisfaction of that high police officer that it was not human blood and no murder had been committed in that railway compartment.

Lala Duni Chand : How long will the honourable member harp on the theme?

Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din : Till I tire out the patience of the honourable member. He proved that it was not human blood, but the blood of an animal killed by a shikari and the marks of the feet in the compartment were not those of a lady but of an animal. My honourable friends would evidently like me to give instances of a living police officer. There are many such instances but I would content myself with only one. The honourable members will remember the 13th of April, 1919. It was due to the honesty, efficiency and strength of a police officer that many innocent lives were saved in Kasur. At a time when the military had taken possession of the city, when none was sure of the safety of his life and property, when the real position of Kasur was according to that old verse of Zafar—

[Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din.]

جسے دکھا حاکم وقت نے کہا یہ بھی قابلِ دار ہے

when simply pointing out a man would be sufficient to hang him just outside the railway station where the gallows were publicly put up—

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Does not a worse state of affairs exist at present ?

Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din : If that were so, my honourable friend would not have been here, (hear, hear and cheers).

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Such a state of affairs may come to-morrow.

Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din : My honourable friends have laid great stress on the fact that if our police was not so well in the past regime, but has the present Government given any indication of its intention to eradicate the evil ? A very pertinent question indeed. Certainly the present regime must be judged by the indication it gives of its intention. Do we not know, Sir, that the first thing the present regime has done is to ask the public and specially our honourable friends on this side and that side of the House, to be more vigilant now, to stir up and start vigilance committees all over the province, to see that there are groups of independent persons, in every district or in every tahsil ? They should be on the look out to see if any irregularity or any oppression is done by the police officers and if there is any case of corruption, it should be their duty to bring it to the notice of the Government. (A voice : Appoint a special committee on behalf of the Unionist Party). If my honourable friend is incapable of doing anything, certainly the Unionist Party will take that duty upon themselves alone ("hear, hear" from the Treasury benches). What we expect is that the honourable friends on the other side of the House would also, not only talk, but act and act in the interest of the people. ("Hear, hear," from the Treasury benches). My honourable friends should know that the Honourable Premier has made it more certain—by issuing instructions to the local officers everywhere—that they should be more courteous and more considerate to the honourable members of this House. That is another indication of the fact that the traditions of the past regime no longer exist. Above all, Sir, this Government has, through the Honourable Premier, been proclaiming in this House, as well, as outside this House, that the present Government is the people's government, and the Government responsible to this House and through this House responsible to the people. (Hear, hear, from the Treasury benches). My honourable friends do not wish to take it on its face value, they do not wish to believe it. After all what is their intention ? Do they not mean to make officials everywhere believe that really now the old Government no longer exists and the present Government is people's government ? They still want officials to keep in their mind that it is the old regime and that they are not working under the new regime. I have failed to understand the trend of thought in the minds of my honourable friends on this question. If I had been on those benches, certainly I would have welcomed such a statement and proclaimed it from the house tops that the present Government is the people's government and if any officer of Government does anything in future he must know that he is responsible to the people and not to a certain official.

Lala Duni Chand : The taste of the pudding lies in the eating of it and that dish is not yet prepared.

Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din : If my honourable friend purposely distorts his taste nobody is to blame.

Now, Sir, I want to say a few words more before I finish. My honourable friends have laid stress that additional police should be removed. There is none in this House who does not want the additional police to go away. But my honourable friends on that side of the House have themselves given the proof of the fact that for some time to come, till the communal angle of vision is changed, the additional police is to remain there. (Interruptions).

Mr. Speaker : I have more than once requested honourable members not to interrupt or make remarks or comments on the honourable member who is speaking.

Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din : I am thankful to the honourable Leader of the Opposition for the support he has given to my submission which I expressed the other day. It is a matter of shame for us all to see that on Dushera or Id days, bayonets and cannons are being posted at different parts of the city. What is it due to? Is it due to the inefficiency of the police, is it due to the corruption of the police? It is due to my and your mentality. It is due to the communal mentality. It is due to this fact that we cannot and do not possess sufficient tolerance to see that our festivals are enjoyed by our brothers concerned. It should be our duty on the Dushera day to see that the ceremony is performed in the most amicable manner and it is our duty to see that no police is needed on Dushera days, and so, I would request my honourable friends opposite, that on Id days, make the Government believe that in future no police would be required on those days, we ourselves will supervise the whole thing. It is we who will patrol the streets. It is we who will keep our kith and kin in control. If we bring about this state of affairs, to-morrow the additional police will go away. Unfortunately, what is the atmosphere we are living in? The atmosphere is that our leaders and I say all sorts of leaders—I am not referring to any particular section of Punjabis—when they talk they have their one eye towards their followers. They cannot talk so freely as they do in private talks. They ask their followers to rise and kill their brethren,—in what name—in the name of religion. They ask them to look up to this as an act of virtue, and as my honourable friend the Leader of the Opposition was pleased to say yesterday—that we see people rising in groups with the result that riots flare up without warning, now here and now there. The Punjabis would kill each other in the wild hatred of brother killing a brother. We have to search our hearts. We have to take courage in our hands.

Lala Duni Chand : I rise to a point of order, Sir. I do know that there is no time limit to speeches, but I should like to know whether a sense of proportion is to be observed or not.

Mr. Speaker : There is no time limit, but I request the honourable members to take as little time as possible, as a large number of them are anxious to speak.

Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din : With pleasure, Sir. What I have to submit to my honourable friends on that side of the House as well as to my comrades on this side of the House is in the words of Mr. Pindi Das—

تو بھی بدل فلک نہ زمانہ بدل گیا

(Honourable members : Ha, ha). (Interruption).

Pir Akbar Ali : On a point of order. The gestures which are being made in this House and the remarks which are made are not, I submit for your consideration, according to the dignity of this House.

Mr. Speaker : The dignity of the House demands that this should not be done. So, I appeal to all honourable members not to make gestures, remarks or comments.

Sardar Lal Singh : Interruptions to a certain limit are, I think, consistent with parliamentary procedure.

Mr. Speaker : It is difficult to fix any limit ; but even if it could be fixed, it shall be transgressed. Therefore, we should be rather strict.

Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din : Therefore we have to ask the police force in this province that they have to change themselves and in future they are to behave as servants of the public. (Hear, hear). They have to remember that they have to be civil servants and not insolent masters. (Hear, hear and applause).

Mian Abdul Aziz (Outer Lahore, Muhammadan, Urban): Sir, unfortunately I have not had the advantage of hearing the remarks in the debate of yesterday as I arrived just now from Lahore.

(Interruption). (Some honourable members : " Why ?

Pir Akbar Ali : It is your fault.

Mian Abdul Aziz : Am I to obey honourable members and to resume my seat ?

Mr. Speaker : Only two minutes ago I appealed to the House not to make such remarks.

Mian Abdul Aziz : The real point is about the justification of keeping the whole of this force for which the demand has been made. Nobody denies the importance and the utility of this branch and there is no doubt that there are advantages. But at the present moment the real question comes in whether the demand now made by the Ministerial benches is a just demand or is a top heavy demand. That is the real point. Undoubtedly the police is meant for the protection of the public, to keep peace. But we are indirectly now concerned to see whether the police honestly performs that duty or not. That will be another question also to be considered by the House. My humble submission is that first of all we have to compare the present police force with that which existed 10 or 15 years ago and if we compare it, undoubtedly we find the present force is more than double that which existed 10 or 15 years ago. It might be said that because the population has increased therefore, it is necessary to increase the number of police force. But my humble submission is that the police force has not been increased because of the increase of the population. It is only increased to over-power, on the wrong and false reports which are made by that department about the breach of peace and such other affairs. I am prepared to prove this allegation, if our Honourable Premier wants it, as he has already said several times on the floor of this House that he would be prepared to discuss this question or such other question or questions. Sir, first of all we have to see that every year gradually this punitive police, this extra police, this unnecessary police, is increased and kept at places for months and months and for years and years where it is not required. The question is this. If you want to trust the public there is another way. If you want to reduce this expenditure, create honorary posts, put the duty on all the members of this House that they must be responsible in their constituencies. (An honourable member : Special constables ?) (Interruption).

Syed Afzaal Ali Hasnie : Would the honourable member like to be the honorary Kotwal of Lahore ?

Mian Abdul Aziz : If the honourable member would like to become the inspector I would not mind to be the Kotwal of Lahore.

Let us first see with regard to what are called the investigations. Let me put a simple picture before you. The first thing is how the public is treated, how a man who has suffered loss either in a dacoity or theft or in any other way. When he approaches a police officer at the police station, what is the treatment meted out to him ? I would humbly request my honourable friends to tell me whether it is right or not that the treatment generally meted out to him is of a most objectionable character. Unless he has actually greased the palm of somebody, his report will not be taken down. (Hear, hear). This is nothing new ; it is not unknown. Even the honourable member who remarked just now whether I would be prepared to become the honorary Kotwal of Lahore city knows it. I would request him to say whether this is so or not. Of course there are some honourable exceptions. I do not mean to say that each and every officer is a scoundrel. But the first thing done is the report and we have to see how it is written and how the investigation commences. First of all that report will not be taken down in the precise words or in that spirit in which the man makes the report. After that the investigation commences. The officer in charge of the investigation goes to the spot. If it happens to be a village he will tell the lambardar and chaukidar to collect practically the whole village, whether there may be saints included in it or there may be scoundrels.

He will collect them and make them sit in front of himself and disgrace them. He knows that there is no suspicion against any one of them, but he will remark that they are at the bottom of this affair. He will keep them for a day or two or three, and unless something is paid to him, he will keep them collected and will treat them in a most disgraceful manner. My humble submission is that the treatment meted out to them is most disgraceful and dishonourable and of a very horrible character. Abuse is the ordinary language used against them no matter whether he is a gentleman or not. That treatment is the real thing at the bottom of the refusal of respectable men in not joining the police in their investigation to get at the truth. (Hear, hear). People know that by going to the Police they will be disgraced. If that were not their fear, they would be the first to help the Police in every investigation. (Hear, hear). They do not like to screen the offenders, as my honourable friend has suggested, it is not the public that screens the offenders, there may be a few relatives of the offenders who may not unnaturally like to screen them. I certainly refute this charge. I say that the Police turns the respectable people away themselves. It does not require their help. The police does not stand in need of them and the result is that a proper and fair investigation or a truthful investigation does not follow and I do not think it is the fault of the public, it is the fault of the police (hear, hear). I would request you to note the haughty manner of the police constable. I know that he is on duty and I am bound to obey his instructions, but note the haughty spirit and the way in which he conducts himself and treats the people (hear, hear). I have seen a most dishonourable instance. An illiterate lady who was taking her small child, in order to frighten the child who was giving her trouble, asked the policeman and the reply which was given to her is beyond what I can repeat in this House.

[Mian Abdul Aziz.]

لے بھاگی نذا اہنوں پھرتیں

ارے حرام دیا چپ کرنا این کہ نہیں

Mr. Speaker : Order, order.

Mian Abdul Aziz : This is the treatment meted out to the people. Can you expect that the public will help such like people in the police? Can you expect that the public will dare to come near them? Let their manner and demeanour be changed and I am sure the people will help them to a great extent. What happens after that? You are in the know of it and many of my honourable friends who happen to be practising lawyers ought to know the ways and means in which these investigations are conducted. The first thing is to know and find out the man who is against the police. His name is brought on to the diary. These diaries are written on a scrap of paper that is easily destroyed and renewed and subsequently added to and papers can be expunged from these diaries. These are not cases which are not known, I can quote rulings of the High Court in which I have brought to light instances in which confessions are extorted from the people by the police. It is not a question of this House entirely eliminating the whole demand for police, it is a question whether Government wants to create more scoundrels like these who exist in the Police Department. We want honourable men and not scoundrels.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is requested not to use that word over and over again.

Mian Abdul Aziz : I obey the orders of the Chair at once without the least demur, but I am placing these facts and figures and I ask the House whether it is a fact or not (Voices : It is so). I am not using this language with regard to any individual. I know several of them are good people. I certainly say that it is a most useful department, but at the same time I must tell you why it is not the public who is responsible. We are entitled to draw your attention to these things. I trust that the Honourable Premier being the head of the Government will kindly take steps to wipe out all these sorts of complaints which actually exist in the department. Further on I beg to submit that if a man shows a little self-respect, he is considered as a scoundrel and his name is entered in a book and when a case occurs in which investigations have to be made, he is considered as one of the suspects. In the next case when another investigation has to take place his name is again mentioned as a suspect and when a third case occurs he is entered as a bad-mash in register No. 10 and report is made against him and he is sent up for trial under section 110. I can give instances and also quote rulings of the High Court of Lahore to this effect. The Honourable Chief Justice of Lahore High Court has also made remarks about this state of affairs in the Police Department. I beg to ask how many cases have been there in which reports have been made against the police officers having extorted confessions from poor people who were innocent. I know of so many cases in which remarks have been made against police officers but in which no action has been taken against them. These are the things to which I beg to draw your attention and particularly the attention of the Ministerial benches. If you want to save the public from the tyranny of these people for God's sake do it soon and do it in any way you like. We are all prepared to help you and we will be prepared to help you to the very extent of our ability (hear, hear). I want to appeal to the Honourable Premier whose department it is to improve the way in which these investigations go on. If you want to add to this department you can go on as much as you like. I know that the events that have happened at Panipat and Alla and Amritsar may bring out another demand for extra thousand men in the additional police, but it is my endeavour to avoid that. My honourable friend Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din just told us that we should help the police. I am sure that each and every member of the House will be prepared to help (hear, hear). I submit that we are not moving these cuts simply for the sake of fun or for opposing these demands, but we sincerely believe that this heavy expenditure can be reduced to a very great extent.

Mr. Speaker : How many times will the honourable member repeat this point ?

Mian Abdul Aziz : I apologize. But I was trying to use this argument for the sake of another point and I hope that you will kindly permit me to do so. My honourable friend Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din has given only one instance. I have seen during two or three riots at Lahore for myself the things that happen. During the last riot I had the opportunity to see things for myself, because I live close to the scene of occurrence. People were afraid to go to the police to make very genuine complaints.

Sir, my submission is that we have got the Inspector-General of Police, a European gentleman of considerable experience. He ought to teach them the ways and the manner in which the English police in England treat the public. Sir, I do not mean that I am against the department. I say take the example of the English police. If you happen to pass by a policeman and ask him anything, first of all he will very politely salute and after that he will reply courteously. On the contrary if you happen to seek any information from a policeman here he will not take notice of your enquiry and will simply pass away. My humble submission is, as I have suggested already, that more respectable people should be made as honorary members of the police department under the Police Act. If that can be made there is no necessity of getting extra police force. The demand for the extra police force just made by the Government is entirely uncalled for. They can have the punitive police where it is absolutely necessary but should not keep it because they want to have very heavy police to threaten the public.

Premier : May I ask which particular item of the budget the honourable member is referring to ?

Mian Abdul Aziz : I say that the extra expense of the Police Department which has been created during the last two years should be wiped off.

Sir, I am very grateful to the Honourable the Premier. I am sure he will be pleased to take this into consideration and enquire from the Department whether any action has been taken on the cases sent by the honourable High Court about the extortion of confessions. I would submit, Sir, that I do not mind increment in their pay, but is there any guarantee that after their pay has been increased they would cease to be corrupt? That is the question to be considered. I do not think that Government, knowing that a sub-inspector is paid from Rs. 60 to Rs. 100, he keeps a horse at a cost of Rs. 20 a month and pays another Rs. 20 to the grass cutter, lives in a respectable house, expects him to meet all these expenses from the sum of Rs. 60 he is paid. The Government has to see for itself whether it is a correct procedure adopted by them. I do not want to overburden the exchequer. I do not want to overburden the public, but I do want that some steps should be taken to wipe off that method adopted by the police officers. One can see easily that within the pay of Rs. 60 it is impossible for any gentleman in these days to make both ends meet. Can it not be considered or presumed that the extra expense over Rs. 60 are taken out by corruption? I would submit that if the Honourable the Premier will kindly take steps and order—he has to order only—his subordinates to find out the various increases in the force and the purposes and the reasons why they are necessary, we would be satisfied; but he should not rely on the reports of the subordinates. They certainly would like to create as many posts as they possibly can. Sir, I only want to say these few words about this motion. I think so far as the top-heavy burden of the department is concerned, it is the Government and not the police, who want to extort from the public in this way. I would submit that some methods should be adopted by which the expenditure should be reduced to a very great extent. I have already suggested that honorary posts should be created for respectable people, and not for those people who are undesirable; and instead of spending heavily indirectly by way of paying Rs. 20 or Rs. 50 a month to the spies, who bring false reports, why not appoint some people who will perform that duty honorarily without giving any false reports? I say, Sir, if the Honourable Premier desires, I can give a list of such people who are used as spies (hear, hear).

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Let the House know.

Mian Abdul Aziz : Certainly I consider it my duty to point out those cases, because the Honourable the Premier has said several times that if any gentleman brings any grievances to his notice he will try to redress them...

Why should I not adopt that course? So the question is of the type of people who are to be employed for such work. My honourable friend Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din said that even the law has not laid much reliance on the Police Department. He quoted section 24 of the Indian Evidence Act. It is not only one section but there are others also which as a matter of fact support the contention of the public view that the police certainly do things which are not right and do try to extort many confessions also. With these few remarks I resume my seat.

Sardar Hari Singh (Kangra and Northern Hoshiarpur, Sikh, Rural) : Mr. Speaker, we are at one with our learned friend—I am sorry he is absent from his seat—Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din, when he says that the present Government has inherited a legacy from its predecessor which is not a happy one. But I join issue with him, I rather strongly protest against his remark, when he goes on to say that the corruption and other evils that exist in the police, etc., are due to the fault of the public itself. I strongly protest against this maligning of the Punjab electorate, on account of whose “sturdy commonsense” the leaders of his party are in places of office and power to-day. Much has been made by Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din and other gentlemen on the opposite side of the fact that the present Government, within two months of taking office, issued a circular saying therein that if five respectable persons make a petition to the departmental officer against any official who may be suspected of corruption, then the department will make a thorough enquiry into the matter and take necessary action. Corruption in the departments is very ripe. It is a disease so deep-rooted that such proposals cannot be expected, by any stretch of imagination, to clear the Augean stables which are full of dirt accumulated since centuries. Herculean efforts are required to clean these stables. No lamer excuse has ever been put forth by any full-fledged bureaucrat, a full-blooded apologist of even the last Government, than what has been said by Mr. Few and Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din that the public is responsible for all the evils existing in the province. No severer stricture of the police department has come from a most irresponsible man from any side of the House than the statement contained in the speech of Mr. Few when he compared the police to a flock of sheep and Inspector-General of Police to the shepherd. The police authorities admit that there is corruption in the Police Department but they protest when we people on this side of the House make charges of corruption against the police. They say, why should police particularly be made the object of condemnation when there is corruption in all departments of public service? They say that the police is unjustly being made the Ishmael of the province. All people who desire to show their powers of invective find an appreciative audience to show their eloquence (hear, hear). There are good reasons why police should be made the special object of attack. There are good reasons why the searchlight of severe criticism should be directed particularly on this department. What are those reasons? In the first place this is a basic service on the admission of the Lumsden Committee Report itself. It is a service on whose purity depends the purity of all other departments. If we are to reform, says the Committee Report, the other departments, we must begin purifying the police department. In the second place it is admitted on all hands that this department has more points of contact with individual life, with the life of the man-in-the-street than any other department. Thirdly, none possesses wider powers and greater scope for either mischief and evil or for service and good than the policeman. The police constable still symbolizes the power and existence of the government in the eyes of the ordinary man-in-the-street and the police constable may be to that poor man either an angel of peace, protection or security or a fiendish agent of oppression. We direct our attack on the police particularly in the matter of corruption. Whereas in other departments bribes are given in consideration of certain benefits contemplated by the giver, in this department bribes are extorted out of the poor people. It is thus natural for the critics of the government to direct their special attention to this department. I do admit that the present government is not responsible for the evils existing in the police department, but I do charge the present government with responsibility for eradicating those evils and faults at as early a date as possible. Not only I but the 'sturdy commonsense' of the Punjab electorate has charged the present government with the responsibility to eradicate the evils in the police department. What kind of policeman do we want? What are his duties and functions? That is a simple question. Policeman is there as our watchman. He is the protector of the life, property and honour of the poor man. He is our scout. He is there to see that the strong does not harm the weak. He is to protect the innocent, the weak, the child, the lady, the old man from the strong man. What do we expect of him further? We expect civility, courtesy, integrity, honesty and impartiality. We expect that these should form the hall-mark of a constable of the police department (hear, hear). It is with this mental picture in my mind that I am going to look at the policeman of to-day in the Punjab and I base my remarks not on the testimony of a political agitator or on an irresponsible oppositionist. I base my remarks on the incontestable testimony of the government publications, on the government reports and on the testimony of the poor peasant sitting at his cottage door, musing at the vagaries of the weather and of the cruelty of man to man. The essential characteristics of the police are persisting through long long years. We read the history of the Punjab Police or the Indian Police of a hundred years ago. Then we read the report of the commission appointed during the opening years of this century by the Government of India. We read the resolution of the Government of India on that report. Later on we read the Lumsden Committee's Report and then we find that the state of affairs was the same as it is at present. There are three essential things which characterise the Punjab Police or the Indian Police. What are they? They are in the first place, corruption, then third degree methods employed by the police in investigating cases and the third is their uncivil conduct. These are the three "hall-marks" of our policeman of to-day (Voices: Quite right). The Government Resolution on the Report of the Indian Police Commission, 1902-03, runs as follows:—

"Of all branches of the public service in India, the police by its history and traditions, is the most backward in its character..... The taint of its earliest antecedents still affects the morale of the lower ranks; the constable has inherited the reputation, if not the methods, of the barkandaz."

Years roll on, Mr. Speaker. Then the Punjab Government appointed a committee to go into the question of police organisation in this province. One of the terms of reference of that committee was to examine and report on the question of improving the efficiency and integrity of the police force.

At this stage the Assembly adjourned for lunch.

The Assembly re-assembled at 2 P. M. of the clock. Mr. Speaker in the chair.

Sardar Hari Singh : Before the lunch interval I was submitting that in the year 1925-26 the Punjab Government in order to examine the integrity of the police force of the province appointed a committee consisting of officials and a solitary Indian non-official. That committee was dominated by service-wallahs. It was dominated by men who had been identified and associated with the department, with the police service, for so long a time that they could not shed their fondness even for the shortcomings of the department. Their case was, if I may so put it, like that of the parents of a spoilt child, who in spite of his shortcomings and faults and in spite of its consciousness of those shortcomings and its anxiety to remove those shortcomings is yet hesitant to take drastic remedies to remove those shortcomings. The same was the case with the Police Committee. The members of the committee were conscious of the defects of the police and they were desirous of removing them, but they had been so long associated with the police service that when they came to the question of suggesting remedies for eradicating the evil, when they came to the question of making suggestions for eradicating the corruption in the department, their hearts quailed and they could not suggest drastic remedies. These members of the committee were all worthy gentlemen, they were honourable gentlemen. They came to very fair conclusions—conclusions which any independent and impartial committee would come to. What were their conclusions? With your permission I will read out to the House a few quotations from the report. On page 21 the report says:—

“Bribery and corruption appear to be as universal now as twenty years ago, the only difference being that the increase in the wealth of the province leads to the payment of larger sums.”

On page 88 it says:—

“Corruption is admittedly rife in the department”.

Yet certain honourable members on the opposite benches had the temerity to say that there is only a certain amount of corruption. Then on page 27 it says:—

“The existence of the disease requires no proof”.

Minister for Revenue : May I know which report the honourable member is reading from?

Sardar Hari Singh : I require notice of that question (laughter)

Minister for Revenue : Very well, I give you notice.

Sardar Hari Singh : I am referring to the Lumsden Inquiry Committee report—the Punjab Provincial Police Committee report, 1926.

Minister for Revenue : Nothing would have been lost if you had given me that information before.

Sardar Hari Singh : I have been talking of the Lumsden Inquiry Committee for the last half an hour, but the Honourable Member was not listening.

Then there was a certain allegation made before the Inquiry Committee. The Inquiry Committee endorses it and says that there is a substantial truth in the allegation. The allegation is—

“ That a sub-inspector when investigating a case summons all and sundry to attend. It is alleged that this indiscriminate calling is a fertile source of corruption. Persons are detained on the flimsiest pretext and are eventually compelled to purchase release.”

This is as true and, therefore, of as much application to the condition prevailing to-day as in 1925.

Then on page 39 the report says :—

“ Constables are foisted on the public without any real knowledge of the elements of the duties they are supposed to perform.”

This is as true as anything. The recent report of the police department will bear me out. Because of a lack of accommodation at Phillaur only a very small number of men can be admitted there, and there are no arrangements for them to get any adequate training in the Lines Schools.

On page 31 it is stated :—

“ The dice are heavily loaded in favour of the dishonest official. This very fact operates as a vicious circle. Evidence is from the nature of the case difficult to obtain and the few witnesses that might come forward will not do so from a fear that the accused will escape and exact full reprisals.”

But today we are told that the Government within two months of its coming to power issued a circular saying that if five persons make a report, action should be taken. My question is, who will bell the cat? How can men come forward and make complaints against officials when they know that the officials may escape and exact full reprisals?

Then again on page 38 it says :—

“ There is a widespread and genuine belief that Government secretly favours the dishonest servant.”

No protestations can be of any avail until this belief is dispelled by definite action. Let me concede that I for one believe that the Government wants to root out corruption from the department. It is sincere in its desire, but the rub lies when we come to the method of doing it. The findings of the Inquiry Committee are very valuable indeed, but when they went on to make suggestions for rooting out the evil, their heart quailed. They tried to shift the responsibilities from the shoulders of the Government and put them on the shoulders of the people themselves — Government says that the present deplorable state of affairs is largely the fault of people themselves. Even at this hour of the day we find them saying that it is the fault of the people themselves. If it is not shirking responsibility, what else is it? The new Government has been placed in power to administer the affairs of this province. I say, is the removal of corruption from the police department outside the ambit of administration? Mr. Speaker, there was only one independent non-official Indian member on the committee, who was not associated with the service. He made to the committee a very valuable suggestion, but he was over-ruled by his European colleagues. What did he suggest? I do not mean to say that I endorse his whole suggestion, but he said that in order to root out corruption an independent impartial board should be constituted. That board should be peripatetic in nature. It should go from district to district. All complaints of corruption should be referred to this board. The board should make recommendations to the departmental heads for dealing out punishment to those found guilty of corruption. The board should submit periodic confidential reports to Government on the general question of corruption and should from time to time suggest remedies. In the case of gazetted officers also it should make confidential reports to the Government.

But this suggestion of that non-official was ruled out as impracticable by the European members of the committee. They said that they were themselves making certain other suggestions and if those suggestions were not sufficient to eradicate the evil, then his suggestion might be put into effect for a limited period. I shall show to honourable members of this House how keenly that Indian non-official felt by reading out an extract from that report. He said—

“It is possible that my proposals may be opposed by some officers on the grounds of prestige and interference, but if my suggestions are carefully considered, it will not be difficult to realise that the activities of the board, if anything, will tend to enhance the prestige of the different services; while the nature and mode of their functions will provide the officers with reliable agency to secure first-hand information which will enable them to exercise a better control and supervision over their subordinates. Under these circumstances, any opposition will be tantamount to evading the important issues involved.”

“There is no doubt,” says the committee—

“that the mere existence of a board of the kind would have an excellent deterrent effect.”

That non-official member of the committee further on gives vent to his feeling on this question in these words—

“The present bitterness of feeling against Government servants and the misgivings in the mind of the people about Government must be removed at all costs for the sake of everyone concerned. A change of attitude on the part of Government and a desire to employ means which will show tangible results will have the desired effect.”

As I already submitted, this suggestion was ruled out as impracticable by the European members of the committee. May I inform the House that that non-official was no other than the gentleman who at the stroke of 12, on the night of 31st March last, found himself as the Premier of this province and who is now in charge of law and order. Perhaps he did not know at the time he made this suggestion, that in a few years' time he would become Minister in charge of law and order and that a critical and hostile opposition would confront him with his own recipe. (Cheers).

Premier : May I correct one misstatement of the honourable member? I was not over-ruled by my European colleagues in the committee. It was largely on account of financial and administrative grounds that my suggestion could not be accepted by Government. My colleagues in the committee rather supported me.

Sardar Hari Singh : The disease is self-evident and it requires no proof. The problem of problems is, what remedy should be adopted to root out the evil? Now that the Punjab people have given a mandate to the Government to administer the affairs of the province on their behalf, according to their lights and according to their conscience, may we expect the Government over whose head sits the Premier to take drastic steps in this direction? A century back the condition in England was quite similar to the condition in India at present. Just as we are told that there is no public opinion strong enough to help the Government to root out the evil of corruption and other evils in the department, similarly a century ago similar excuse was trotted out by the apologists of the Government of England. Later the Government took a certain step and found that the public co-operated with them and corruption and other evils of the department became things of the past. May I suggest to the Government of the Punjab to-day to take a leaf out of the book of the Government of England in those days? What did the Government of England do? I shall read out a passage—

“If a reference be made to the ‘Report of the English Constabulary Force Commissioners,’ presented to Parliament in 1839, it will be seen how necessary for ‘throwing away good money after bad’ in prosecuting, ‘the trouble and expense which are sustained in pursuing and apprehending felons’, and the fact that the ‘expense, trouble and loss of time in cases of misdemeanours are frequently more mischievous than some felonies,’ are assigned as ‘the motives to withhold information or abstain from prosecution’ and the causes of the failure to secure ‘the general support of the community’ in police work. The perusal of that report inspires the Commission with hope that, if police reform in England, initiated by Sir Robert Peel, has converted the state of things described therein as existing sixty years ago into the state of things now existing in that country, earnest efforts to reform the police of India may in due time produce incalculable benefit.”

But there is one thing which neither the Indian Police Commission nor the Provincial Police Committee of this province was required to go into and examine. That is the question of “third degree” methods of investigating crimes. In making allegations in this respect I am quite well fortified by the judicial findings of the High Court of the Punjab. I have got certain particulars up my sleeve regarding the methods employed by the police which I propose to make public property before the House.

Here is my charge sheet against the police—

- (1) the suspect is compelled by the investigating agency to keep vigil until he succumbs;
- (2) severe beating is resorted to especially in private parts;
- (3) in winter ice blocks are placed on the chest of the suspect;
- (4) in summer the suspect is laid on cot and then something like pepper or other material which gives out pungent fumes is burnt under the cot for the inhalation of the suspect;
- (5) they are bastinadoed; I have seen people who have been subjected to this treatment and some have almost lost their eyes;
- (6) a new innovation of police ingenuity is that the body of the suspect is besmeared with night-soil to our shame and disgrace.

Premier: Has the honourable member picked out all these iniquities from the various old historical records of inquisitions? If he will give concrete instances, I promise to hold an enquiry and punish the officers concerned. (Hear, hear).

An honourable member : I am grateful for this assurance of the Honourable Premier, but these allegations are of common knowledge.

Sardar Hari Singh : I make these charges on the testimony of people whom I believe to be true.

Premier : I am afraid the honourable member is not in order in making such indefinite allegations.

Sardar Hari Singh : I am not making vague allegations.

Premier : The honourable member is making sweeping generalisations which is not fair.

Sardar Hari Singh : If the Honourable Premier does not want to hear all these things—

Premier : I have no objection to hearing all these charges ; provided the honourable member gives concrete instances as to where these things happened I shall then be able to make enquiries. If, on the other-hand the honourable member is quoting from historical records as to what happened in France or Spain and in other courts of inquisition, that does not necessarily mean that they are happening in the Punjab to-day.

Sardar Hari Singh : I have got the facts in my possession. I do not think it would be discreet for me at this stage to give them on the floor of the House. If the Honourable Premier wants them I can give them to him privately.

Premier : The honourable member should not say such things on the floor of the House if he is not prepared to give the facts.

Sardar Hari Singh : When I say that the police is corrupt am I out of order ? When I say that the police is dishonest am I out of order ? When I say that the police is inefficient, am I out of order ? I am entitled to say what methods they adopt.

Premier : These are mere allegations which can be of no use. Has the honourable member any concrete instances ? Why does he not take the House into his confidence ? He can omit the names and give the date and place so that I may be able to hold an enquiry.

Sardar Hari Singh : (8) Ducking in water (9) Clutching ears in hot sun. Severe questioning and cross-examining approximate to the means adopted in medieval ages in Spain. The methods adopted by the police go to make them unpopular and they go to prove to the man in the street that the Government is not a Government for him. They also bespeak of a lamentable lack of scientific method and skill in the armoury of the investigating agency of the police.

Further on, let me take a little more time of the House in ventilating certain other grievances of the public. Speakers preceding me have already referred to these things. The Lumsden Committee itself admits that ordinarily the Hakim aspects over-shadows the Mulazim aspect. Police man considers himself more as a master of the people than a servant. Certain friends on this side of the House referred to mal-practices, instances of malfeasance and misfeasance and abuse of power resorted to by the police in the Punjab. May I just give one instance. Take the Sheikhpura.

[Sardar Hari Singh.] .

case, Crown versus Dr. Baldev Singh, who was challaned in the court of Thakur Kanti Chand, Magistrate, II Class. (A voice : Which year ?) This year. (A voice : Which month ?) This month.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : This case is sub-judice.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : Is the case sub-judice before the High Court ?

Sardar Hari Singh : No. What was the judgment of the magistrate ? It says :

“ It appears to me that the sub-inspector bore a grudge ”

Shaikh Karamat Ali : On a point of information. I come from Sheikhpura and know the facts of the case better than my honourable friend opposite. A reference has been made to the High Court on this particular point. I do not see why the honourable member is pressing this point too much. He does not know the circumstances of the case as I do.

Sardar Hari Singh : I am reading the judgment. The judgment is public property. It says —

“ It appears to me that the Sub-Inspector bore a grudge towards the accused for giving medical certificate to Ganpat Rai and then appearing as prosecution witness for him against Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din, Sub-Inspector. The challan against the accused is vindictive, malicious and false.”

Premier : May I bring to your notice and to the notice of the honourable members that the matter is sub-judice because a complaint has been put in against the sub-inspector concerned.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I have your ruling on the point whether it is out of order for honourable members to make a reference to a judgment which is public property, without referring to the merits of the judgment ?

Mr. Speaker : If that judgment is under appeal before a higher court, no reference should be made to it.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I draw your attention to the fact that although there may be an appeal lodged against the judgment as it stands there is finality as regards that particular judgment. That particular judgment, as far as it goes, stands now, though it is liable to be revised later on. That means that another judgment may be given. As far as this judgment goes, it is on judicial records, it is public property. It is a matter which has been and which can be commented upon by the members. I see no reason why a judgment like that should not be read out without any comments ?

Premier : Dr. Baldev Singh, on the basis of that very judgment, has given notice of a civil suit against the sub-inspector.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : May I have your ruling in regard to the opinion expressed by Diwan Chaman Lall ? If the honourable member is allowed just to read out the judgment, will it be open for us to criticise that judgment and to contradict it ?

Mr. Speaker : I am not sure of the position.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : May I ask the Honourable Premier whether the Local Government have appealed against this judgment ?

Shaikh Karamat Ali : A reference has been made by the District Magistrate of Sheikhpura.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May we know what that reference is ? A mere reference having been made does not mean that the judgment is under appeal. I take it that the judgment is not under appeal.

Mr. Speaker : I suppose Government has not filed an appeal in this case.

Sardar Hari Singh : No.

The Advocate-General : I do not wish to say anything about the facts of the case. I know a reference is pending. The point is, a reference can only be pending while the limitation for the period of appeal is still going on. Therefore the position is—I am only referring to the criminal judgment and not to the civil suit to which the Honourable Premier made a reference—that a reference has been made to the Government and Government is considering the matter and Government can only consider that matter during the period of limitation. Government has not yet made up its mind and therefore it is pending during the period of appeal. The case therefore is analogous to a case where a certain judgment is delivered the party affected has still time to appeal and so the matter is sub-judice during the period for appeal.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I enquire from the Honourable Advocate-General as to what that particular reference is, to whom it is made, whether that reference relates to the filing of an appeal to the High Court or whether it is purely an executive action that is contemplated by it ?

The Advocate-General : The reference, as is usual in all such cases is made in this way. When an order of acquittal is made by a magistrate or a sessions judge, the district magistrate, when so advised, moves the Local Government through the Commissioner of the Division concerned and that is dealt with partly by the Advocate-General and partly by the other agency of Government right up to the Premier.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Is it not on a par with a private individual trying to make up his mind whether he should appeal or not ? Is it not exactly similar as far as the Government is concerned ?

Mr. Speaker : There can be no doubt that Government has a right of appeal. But the question is whether before an appeal is filed, the case can be said to be sub-judice. May I request the learned Advocate-General to give his opinion ?

The Advocate-General : The position is that the party affected by the judgment, namely Government, is considering whether to take its legal remedy or not and during that period, if any discussion is allowed it might prejudice the decision of the court of law to which an appeal would lie. That is the ground on which I submit that this judgment should not be referred to.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : I believe we are governed by our rule and standing orders. I may be permitted to refer to standing order 29 which says that speech shall not refer to a matter of fact on which a judicial decision is pending. That is all. This does not preclude us from making a reference to a judgment which is not before a court of law. The mere fact that the Government are taking time—they take time over every matter, they have got so many administrative matters to consider—should not preclude us from discussing a matter which is not before a court of law or under appeal. The mere fact that the Advocate-General has taken it up and is considering it does not constitute it to be a matter which should be considered as pending in a judicial court.

Mr. Speaker : Ultimately the Government may come to the decision that an appeal should not be preferred.

The Advocate-General : On the other hand they might come to the other decision. There was a case which was referred to, which occurred, in the Central Assembly. I forget the name of the paper which was under discussion. The case there was whether within two months during which the party affected could move under section 28 of the Press Act, the matter was sub-judice and it was held there that the matter was sub-judice till the period for filing of a petition under section 28 of the Press Act had expired. For the position of the Government was affected by that judgment of acquittal and Government had a period of limitation within which to make up its mind. My position is that this case is entirely analogous to that.

Lala Duni Chand : The Advocate-General is presumed to be the most impartial man. The word sub-judice is clear by itself. It means that the matter should be pending before a judicial tribunal. He says that the matter is pending before the Punjab Government. The Punjab Government is not a judicial tribunal. Here is the rule which makes it perfectly clear, that the matter could not be considered judicial unless it is one about which a judicial decision is pending. The learned Advocate-General should not give a wrong direction on an obvious point like this.

The Advocate-General : It is for the Speaker to say whether it is right or wrong and not for my honourable friend.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I draw your attention to the fact that reference has been made by the honourable Advocate-General to the case which was referred to in the Central Legislature and he suggested that the case we are discussing now is on all fours with that case or, if anything, stronger than that particular case. May I draw your attention to a very vivid and clear distinction between that particular case and the case we are discussing at the present moment. In that case, I believe it was a case of the Free Press of India, the Honourable President of the Central Legislature held that since an executive order had been passed forfeiting security and the law permitted a period of two months during which it was open to the person concerned to make an appeal to the High Court, therefore he considered that the matter was sub-judice. That was an executive order. It is not the executive order, Mr. Speaker, which is before you, it is a judgment which is before you and a judicial decision given in a judicial court which is contemplated by the rule 29.

Mr. Speaker : I have not looked up the point and therefore am not in a position to express a considered opinion. But as it is not certain that Government will file an appeal the case cannot be said to be sub-judice.

Sardar Hari Singh : The judgment of the court reads :—

“It appears to me that the sub-inspector bore a grudge towards the accused for giving medical certificate to Ganpat Rai and then appearing as prosecution witness for him against Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din, Sub-Inspector. The challan against the accused is ”

and mark these words :—

“vindictive, malicious and false.”

Then in another case of Sardar Atma Singh and others which was tried in the court of Chaudhri Sundar Dass, Additional District Magistrate, Lahore.

Shaikh Karamat Ali : There is no such Additional District Magistrate at Lahore.

Sardar Hari Singh : I mean Chaudhri Sundar Dass, Additional District Magistrate. The judgment reads :—

“I have not the least hesitation in rejecting the story for the prosecution as false and”—

These are the most important words—

“the story for the prosecution is false and fabricated. There is no chance of conviction of the accused persons and I hereby order that they shall be discharged.”

May I refer to another case, this time the judgment of the Lahore High Court in Crown versus Shoran, a murder case in which an appeal was decided by the Chief Justice and Justice Munroe. In that judgment they say :—

“This court has often had reason to suspect that confessions were wrung out of villagers by these means and there is grave reason to suspect that in some cases something more severe than questioning may be adopted to obtain a false confession. We direct the attention of the Government to the fact.”

Premier : Is this against the police ?

Sardar Hari Singh : This is against the prosecution.

“An incident of this kind not only tends to throw doubt on all similar confessions obtained during an investigation by Lambardars and other persons in authority, but there also is a very grave possibility that on such a confession the whole prosecution case might be built up and as a result an innocent person might be hanged.

It is the suspicion that this kind of treatment is accorded to suspects that makes courts very loth to act upon extra-judicial confessions even when there is nothing on the record to show that the case is false. Government ought to take most serious steps to see that this procedure is stopped immediately.”

Premier : May I enlighten the honourable gentleman that in this particular case, it was the police officer who found out that the confession was false and that it was on that account that the confession was not relied upon ?

Sardar Hari Singh : The words mean what they mean. I am reading from the judgment of the High Court.

Premier : The honourable member is reading only an extract from a newspaper and not the whole of the judgment.

Sardar Hari Singh : It is the judgment of the High Court all the same.

Premier : The honourable member may take it from me that in this particular case it was the investigating officer who brought to the notice of the court that the confession was false and the High Court as a matter of fact paid a mead of praise to that officer in that judgment.

Mian Abdul Aziz : May I bring to the notice of the Honourable Premier that only last year Mian Abdul Haye appearing as a Counsel criticism was made against police ? (hear, hear).

Premier : I am not talking of that. I am only talking of this particular case.

Sardar Hari Singh : Mr. Speaker, as gentlemen on this side of the House are very anxious to take the next item on the agenda into consideration, I will wind up my remarks with just one word as a practical suggestion. If I had time, I could give them more. Will the Government consider the question of making the constitution and the place of the Police Department under the new constitution as a part of the syllabus in the Phillaur Training School ?

An honourable member : Question may now be put.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : On a point of order. May I request you to give a ruling as to whether it is open to the Chair to call upon any member to speak instead of calling on the member to speak who has already risen in his seat ?

Mr. Speaker : The general practice is that the Chair calls one of such members only as rise to speak. But what happens sometimes is that the party whips or leaders supply to the Chair lists of members who will speak on behalf of the respective parties. In that case the members whose names are given, may be called even if they do not rise.

Premier : If there is nobody wishing to speak, then I will speak.

Mr. Speaker : I have got the names of a number of honourable members who wish to speak.

Premier : Since you are going to call upon other honourable members, I should like to speak after they have finished their arguments.

Mr. Speaker : But closure was moved yesterday and has been again moved to-day. The point to be considered is whether I should put the motion to the House. Speaking generally a closure motion has to be considered by the Chair in the interest of the minority, as ordinarily such motions are moved by the majority and not by the minority. But when they are moved by the minority, they should be put to the vote of the House, as a rule.

Sardar Hari Singh : The question is whether there is to be further debate or not.

Mr. Speaker : According to the lists supplied by party whips, there are 5 or 6 honourable members who yet wish to speak. Sardar Sampuran Singh and Sardar Lal Singh also had given their names, but now they do not wish to speak, as they wish to have the next item moved.

There is one more point. A number of honourable members have given notices of amendments, which cover almost the same ground as the amendment, which has been discussed for 2 days. So I should ask them whether they like to speak. Now I proceed to call them one by one.

Mr. Bhagat Ram Choda : I do not want to move the motions standing in my name as desired by my party.

Diwan Chaman Lall : I do not move the motion standing in my name.

Chaudhri Muhammad Abdul Rahman Khan (Jullundur, North, Muhammadan, Rural) (Punjabi): Sir I whole heartedly support this cut motion. The Police department has been under the fire of criticism since yesterday. One of the parties has been speaking in favour of it and the other against it.

3 P.M.

It has really surprised me to find that the people who spoke in favour of the police department are honourable and respectable gentleman, holding a high position in society. This has made me doubt my own senses, and I am beginning to wonder whether we are foreigners or they do not belong to this country. The misdoings of the police are pretty well-known. In this connection I am reminded of an old Punjabi proverb which runs as follows:—

کمالا ہووے اک تے سمجھاوے وپہڑا
کمالا ہووے وپہڑا تے سمجھاوے کپہڑا

Besides, there is another maxim well known to the people of my district:—

اوپر کتار نیچے پتوار یا تماندار

A sum considerably larger than what the zamindars owe to their creditors by way of principal and interest goes into the pockets of the police. There is no doubt that corruption is rampant in all government departments. This is the greatest blessing of the British Raj that corruption has become the rule for almost all government departments, perhaps with the exception of the posts and telegraphs departments. But the police department has excelled all in this respect. Other departments may be likened to this that if anybody puts his finger in the hole of a snake, it naturally bites. But the police attack the people just as a flying snake does. (Laughter.) They extort money even from the innocent wayfarers. (The actual language used to express the above idea was vulgar.)

Mr. Speaker: Order, order. The honourable member is using vulgar language.

Chaudhri Muhammad Abdul Rahman Khan : The Government has maintained the police mainly for two purposes, firstly, to protect the honour of the people, secondly, to protect their property. I submit that instead of doing their duty they insult the women folk and would not let any woman go unmolested. In short the women of the whole world would not satisfy their carnal passions. Besides, they need wealth which they procure for themselves by hook or by crook. (Voices : Too bad.) Now I would like to mention a few incidents.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member has again used a very indecent and vulgar expression. (Voices : Be careful in your speech.)

Chaudhri Muhammad Abdul Rahman Khan : In the first place I would like to make a few remarks about the police and I would let you know what is not regarded by them as illegal gratification and what they claim to have as a matter of right. They do not consider the following as illegal gratification :—

- (1) free travelling in motor lorries.
- (2) free rides in tongas.
- (3) obtaining grass, fodder and corn from the village folk gratis.

They consider all these things as perfectly legal. Again, they get fuel wood free, also hens and eggs free. In this connection I must say a word or two, that many of my honourable friends complain that either they do not get hens at Simla, or they get them very dear. I say a hen can only reach Simla if it escapes the hands of policemen in the plains. All such activities of the police are perfectly lawful in their eyes.

My friends who own 10 acres of land may be unaware of the fact that the big landholders and those who own large number of squares of land are in fact paying the police constables and sub-inspectors fixed sums of money every six months. Almost all big land-holders bribe them. I will not name anybody, but in fact there is no exception to this rule.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is making sweeping allegations against all people of the Punjab.

Chaudhri Muhammad Abdul Rahman Khan : Even the Ministers know that as a matter of fact, this is the main profession of the big land-lords. I would even go a step further and say that stolen horses and other animals are generally carried to these ilaqas and there they disappear in no time and it becomes nearly impossible to trace them. No challan is prepared and no report is written even if the thieves remain concealed in the house of any such person. (The honourable member again expressed the above idea's in undignified language).

Mr. Speaker : Order, order. If the honourable member again uses vulgar language, I shall have to invite to it the special attention of the House.

Chaudhri Muhammad Abdul Rahman Khan : I do not like to mention names. Almost all the big people know it and share the proceeds of the stolen property among themselves. (The honourable member again used similar language to convey the above idea).

Mr. Speaker : May I ask the honourable members whether the language used by the honourable member is parliamentary and consistent with the dignity of the House? (Voices : No. no.)

Chaudhri Muhammad Abdul Rahman Khan : I submit that when we go to a police station to make a report it is not usually registered, but even if one is able to persuade them it is registered after grossly abusing the complainant. I would suggest that if the government were to start a school for imparting lessons in abusive language, a police sub-inspector or any other policeman should be appointed as its principal. I was submitting that at least 40 per cent. of the reports are not registered at all, even if the animals are stolen under the very nose of the chaukidars. I request responsible officers of the police department that the least they should do is to see that the reports are registered and should also try to run the department to the entire satisfaction of the people at large. It is also a fact that sometimes reports of even the most serious offences are not registered.

Again the police department as a whole is not doing justice at all. It is said that complaints should be made to responsible police officers. But it is useless. If we complain to responsible police officers, we court trouble thereby. Once I made a certain complaint to a deputy commissioner. The result was, that two persons were fined, two were imprisoned and I myself narrowly escaped.

If the statements I have made prove to be incorrect, let the officers concerned be granted promotions. Again I say that if it is proved to the satisfaction of the House that I have been making wrong statements, let some members of the House throw me on my back and let them thrust a red hot iron rod into my wind-pipe and demand an explanation from me as to why I had told lies.

Mr. Speaker : Will the honourable member please not use such vulgar expressions ? I warn him once more.

Begum Rashida Latif Baji : I would request the honourable Chaudhri Sahib not to use police language at least in our presence.

Mrs. J. A. Shah Nawaz : Mr. Speaker, we have been listening to very bad language since this morning and I shall be right in saying that my sisters on the opposite benches will join us in leaving this hall, if the honourable member continues in that strain.

Shrimati Parbati Devi : Certainly, we too will have to leave the Chamber.

Chaudhri Muhammad Abdul Rahman Khan : There is a person, named Ahmad, who is being very much harassed by the police. The police officials at that police station have amassed between five and seven thousand rupees within the last few months. The head constables and the police sub-inspectors are really very corrupt, and are looting the ilaqa. I challenge the Government to say that it is not a fact that the police daily bring about 150 persons to various police stations and make them sit there day and night and at times make peacocks of human beings. Now I would like to explain how peacocks are made of human beings. (At this stage the honourable member gave a demonstration (Laughter).

Again they beat them most severely, and take no pity on their victims. On complaint made by the enemies of Ahmad Khan, the head constable beat him mercilessly, insulted him and extorted money from him. The former reported against the head constable to the higher authorities to the effect that the head constables had beaten and insulted him and extorted money from him. Up till now the officers have done nothing in this matter. What happened afterwards was that his enemies made a report of theft against him and the head constable after searching his house, threw him into the lock up. In fact Ahmad Khan had not committed or even abetted the offence. Such is the result of complaints made to the officers.

An offence was committed at Banga, about which a complaint was lodged at the police station. Eventually this complaint was found to be false and was consequently dismissed. In this complaint certain allegations were made against a woman of loose character. I requested the police to make an enquiry into the allegations but they did nothing of the sort. How can they attend to their duties, when their plain function is to receive illegal gratification from real offenders and to involve innocent persons in false cases? Where such darkness prevails justice cannot be expected.

The high-handedness practised by the police department is simply unparalleled. When a constable goes to a village to serve summons on a zamindar, he kills two birds with one stone. Firstly he extorts as much money as he can from the poor zamindar and secondly he takes away anything he can lay his hands upon including fuel, wood, etc. But when a sub-inspector of police pays a visit to a village and finds that the carpenter is a skilful workman, he takes away all the chaukis, charpoys and pirhis manufactured by the carpenter. This is what honest sub-inspectors of police do. If they are dishonest then God save the poor zamindars. Sir, in our ilaqa it is a common saying that if you ask a policeman as to what salary he is drawing, his reply would be that he is getting Rs. 40, but at the same time he would add that by the grace of God he is able to earn Rs. 200 or 250 per mensem. (laughter). While bringing these tell-tale facts to the notice of the government I assure them that I am not at all against them. What I mean to say is that the present government is a responsible government and our own kith and kin are at the helm of affairs. They should adopt measures for the eradication of irregularities and excesses committed by the police department. They should appoint enquiry committees for the purpose of investigating the corruption prevalent in the police department and to suggest ways and means for its eradication.

Sir, I wish to bring this fact to the notice of the honourable members that almost all the political cases are concocted by the police and the whole of the evidence is cooked up by them. Strictly speaking, Sir, only those sub-inspectors of police qualify themselves for promotion who first contrive to cause unrest amongst the masses and then manage to pacify them. If I were to narrate individual cases the question of personalities will arise. Anyway the police is responsible for all cases of unrest and it brings about peace when its palms are greased. When I challenge the government to set up an enquiry committee to investigate the allegations made by me, the government quietly replies in the negative, just as a patient when asked to take hot water refuses it, but when offered cold water readily accepts it, even though he may develop pneumonia. (laughter).

Sir, I may assure the government that we are their well-wishers. When we criticise the government we simply mean to urge upon them the necessity of putting a check on the high-handedness of the police. It is our firm belief that a government which does not meet out even-handed justice to all, irrespective of their caste or creed, has no business to remain in office. During the election campaign the police committed irregularities and accepted illegal gratification to their heart's content. The sub-inspectors who were kind enough to extend a helping hand to me were transferred at once (laughter) although the help rendered was not of a substantial nature. If the government has the will to eradicate corruption prevalent in the police department they can do so to a very great extent. I know of three Superintendents of Police, namely Messrs. Jenkins, Slesser and DeGale, who were successful in rooting out corruption from the police department.

But there are certain superintendents of police whose monthly bills go up to thousands. What can be expected from them? A short time ago a dacoity took place. The burglars made good their escape with a sum of Rs. 6,125 from the Government treasury. Mr. Ibadullah, Inspector of Police, traced the burglary. He completed his investigations with such consummate skill that the people of the ilaqa did not suffer any hardship or harassment at the hands of the police (laughter). Sir, one cannot help praising a police officer who has really served the people. But I may point out that this burglary was committed by some police constables and they shared the booty with certain other people.

Sir, all the gambling dens that exist in Lahore or in other small or big cities are run with the connivance of the police. The proprietors of hotels, who encourage gambling at their premises, are generally in league with the police. They are realising fixed sums of money from every gambling den, say one hundred or Rs. 150 per mensem. I am prepared to substantiate my statement. It is not idle talk. It is my firm conviction that gambling dens cannot flourish without the connivance of the police.

The land revenue of my village, i.e., Rahon amounts to Rs. 10,000, but the pity of it is that the sergeant and the sub-inspectors stationed there misappropriate funds to the extent of Rs. 5,000. I strongly urge the Government to appoint an enquiry committee so that these irregularities may be brought to light and the culprits brought to book.

Only a little while ago the honourable lady members objected to certain remarks made by me. I may be permitted to say, Sir, that it is up to them to study the miserable plight of those of their sisters who fall into the clutches of the police. It is time they knew that their sisters are subjected to all sorts of indignities at the hands of the police and how some of them are robbed of their honour and chastity. If I were to unmask the atrocities committed by the police the honourable lady members would perhaps be inclined to call me a fool (laughter). It behoves the lady members to study facts for themselves and urge upon the Government the necessity of eradicating all these irregularities from the Police Department. With these words I support the cut motion before the House and request the Honourable Premier to take effective steps for reforming the police as soon as possible. (Applause and laughter).

Premier : Please lend us a helping hand.

Chaudhri Muhammad Abdul Rahman Khan : We are always at your back and call. We are prepared to sacrifice our lives and property. (Applause). You are at liberty to sell us, if you can thereby bring about reform in the Police Department. We do not want any certificates from you. If the Honourable Premier acts upon our advice, he will be a gainer in this as well as in the world to come. (Loud cheers and laughter).

Two of our Honourable Ministers, the Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram and the Honourable Mian Abdul Haye have been practising as lawyers. They know that corruption is rampant in the Police Department and they also know that the police practise all sorts of excesses.

Mr. Speaker : Order, order.

Chaudhri Muhammad Abdul Rahman Khan: Sir, I was submitting proposals for the eradication of corruption in the Police Department (laughter). I do not want to waste the valuable time of the House and I close my speech with the remark that I strongly support the motion under consideration.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan (Pind Dadan Khan, Muhammadan, Rural): Sir, I hope honourable members will excuse me if I just remind them of the object of the cut motion before the House. The object of the cut motion is to discuss the question of more honest and more efficient police administration. What I understood from this was that the mover of the motion admitted that the police in the province was both honest and efficient, but he wanted to make it more honest and more efficient. I am astonished that although so many gentlemen spoke on this question, they have very carefully avoided to say a good word about the honesty and efficiency of the police. Before I start my arguments I would just like to remind the House that it is the 9th day that we have been discussing the budget. Of course, the first three days were for the general discussion, then two days for the Revenue demand, two days for the General Administration and now it is the second day for the Police, that is, the 9th day. Now, Sir, if we look upon what practical contributions we have made during these 9 days, I regret to say that we have made very little practical contributions.

Mr. Speaker: The honourable member should speak to the motion.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan: I was submitting that the trend of arguments and the method of discussion has been very defective—

Mr. Speaker: No allusion should be made to the proceedings of a past debate of the current session, except when it may be essential to do so.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan: If you will just allow me to finish my sentence, you will be pleased to find that I am not making any reference to—

Mr. Speaker: I repeat that no allusions should be made to the previous proceedings of the current session, unless the peculiar circumstances justify the honourable member to do so.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan: Am I not entitled to make a reference to the understanding which has been arrived at between the Honourable Leader of the House and the Honourable Leader of the Opposition? As a member of this House it is my right to have my say as any other member. Therefore I was going to refer to that agreement—

Mr. Speaker: The Chair is not aware of any such agreement. Will the honourable member proceed with his speech?

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan: I bow to your ruling and pass on to the subject under discussion. As a matter of fact we have heard such a lot during this debate. We have heard about the atrocities committed by the police in connection with the Babbar Akali movement. We have heard some very interesting stories relating to the most deplorable day, that is, the 18th of April, 1919. We have also heard some very interesting stories about one Mr. Abdullah.

My honourable friend from Kasur gave us an interesting description of the achievements of Mr. Abdullah. Similarly, to my greatest surprise, the honourable member from Jullundur, who preceded me, also gave a very interesting story of one Mr. Abdullah. Therefore, I would like to make a constructive suggestion to the Honourable Premier that in making recruitments to the police, he should prefer those candidates whose names happen to be Abdulla (laughter).

I think, if we really look at this issue with an unbiased mind, I do not think there is any difference between that side and this side of the House, so far as the administration of police is concerned. The honourable mover says that the police is honest and efficient. He wants to make the police more honest and more efficient. We, on this side of the House, admit that the police is not by any means a model. We admit that there is a good deal of room for improvement. We admit that we would very much like to see the police more honest and more efficient. So, as a matter of fact, on the main issue there is no disagreement between the two, and judging from the speeches which have been made either on the opposite side or this side of the House, I see there is no case for my honourable colleague to press this cut motion. (Lala Duni Chand : Will you vote for the motion ?) When there is no disagreement between both sides of the House, where is the idea of pressing this cut motion ?

Now, Sir, the only trouble arises, when it is a question of making any practical suggestion which will make the police more efficient and more honest. The only practical suggestion about which, during the course of speeches, we heard from the mover of this cut, was that the salaries of the constables should be increased to Rs. 30 or preferably to Rs. 40. I am entirely in agreement with the mover of this cut. I personally do feel that the salaries of these low-paid ranks of police ought to be increased. Their status and their position ought to be raised. But there is the trouble about finances. I may here suggest one way out of it to the Honourable Minister for Finance to consider and also to the Honourable Premier, I personally feel that the number of the police can be considerably reduced and their efficiency increased. I realise that we have too many superintendents of police, and a few too many sub-inspectors and inspectors. But to achieve this object, that is, by decreasing the police force and recruiting more efficient personnel, we shall have not only to consider the administration of the police but some other necessary requirements too.

Firstly, communication. As the honourable members are aware at present it is very difficult to get quickly from one village to another. If we can have better roads where the police can quickly move about, if we can have better methods of communication, that is, more telegraph offices, more telephones and more post offices, certainly then so many police stations would not be necessary.

As far as the methods of investigation by the police are concerned, I confess, to my great regret, that some police officers do indulge in these unlawful activities. But at the same time let us not presume that the whole police force is dishonest. I can assure the honourable members from my personal experience that I have come across quite a fairly large number of police officers who are very honest and who are very efficient. Now, Sir, I would like you to look at the difficulties under which the police have to work. They get a report that a burglary has been committed in a particular house at midnight. They reach the place the following morning. The man whose house has been burgled cannot give any hint as to whom he suspects. They do not know whether the persons who committed the offence belong to that area or belong to any other area or district or tahsil. Having no clue of the suspects from anybody what have they to do? The only method which the police can adopt is to collect a few men whom they suspect to indulge in such sort of crimes. Naturally out of 100, whom the police would call, at least 95 would be innocent people. Certainly we condemn that innocent persons should be put to so much inconvenience. But I would request the honourable members opposite to suggest what other method the police can possibly adopt.

Therefore, considering the nature of the duties which the police have to perform we must not be too cruel in criticising them. Some of the members on the opposite side suggested that my honourable friend, Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din said that the blame lay with the public. I think my friend did not mean that; he never made such a sweeping statement. What he said was that the public was also to blame to some extent because when you compare the police here with the police in England you must compare the public here with the public in that country too. (Hear, hear). I must confess I have not got much personal experience of the working of the police in England. But once when I happened to be there for a short time I just read that a murder was committed in one of the streets in London. The police after reaching the spot collected a few clues as to the description of the man who was supposed to have entered the particular house. They sent this news in the papers as an advertisement or otherwise. This piece of news was in the papers and within 12 hours people started coming from all directions, telephone messages came in, informing the police that a man of such and such description was staying in such and such a hotel, the taxi-man coming forward and saying that he drove such and such a man. Is such a kind of co-operation coming forth in this country? I admit that the blame is not entirely with the public. The methods adopted by the police are also objectionable. But the fault lies with both and unless we create a healthy opinion in the public that they should co-operate with the police, at least with the honest officers among them, at least with those who are anxious to get at the real culprit, then certainly we will not hear much of these atrocities.

Before I conclude my speech, I would like with your permission to pay one tribute to the police. If there is one thing for which we can rightly feel proud of our Punjab Police it is this that during the last 20 years they had passed through most difficult and critical stages of political and communal upheaval and throughout these 20 years there is not a single instance where the police were not true and faithful to their duty. (An Honourable Member: Political matters?) No; in criminal matters and I would challenge any honourable member to quote a single instance where any police constable or any police officer was found failing in his duty.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt: Many, many.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : I do not believe such statements. I want concrete instances.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : You do not believe ; you shut your eyes.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : If I were to accept these irresponsible statements coming from my honourable friends opposite, I feel ashamed of myself. With what face can my honourable friends opposite say that the Muhammadan officers of the police or the Hindu officers or the Sikh officers would be true to their duty when there is a communal trouble? (An Honourable Member : Not from that point of view.)

Lala Deshandhu Gupta : Is it open to any honourable member to say that the remarks of other honourable members are irresponsible, particularly when they are prepared to take responsibility for those remarks ?

Mr. Speaker : He is not referring to any particular individual. But, may I request the honourable member to wind up ? There is no time limit for speeches ; but I request him to wind up his speech, as there are many other honourable members who wish to speak.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : I am very anxious to accept not only your rulings but your suggestions. But you will kindly allow me to complete my speech. Because, naturally when I knew that there was no time limit and when I knew that the greatest liberty was allowed to other honourable members, I never thought that I would be called upon to close my speech.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member has misunderstood me. What I said was that there was no time limit for speeches but that if possible the honourable member may wind up his speech as soon as he can, as there are many other honourable members, who wish to speak. Besides, if possible, the next item may be taken up.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : Sir, I can assure you that I am not a bit interested in the next item. On the other hand I strongly feel that if I had the choice I would condemn such items being talked on the floor of this House. Therefore, that argument will never appeal to me. As long as I have a right to speak and as long as there is no time limit, I thought I could speak on all points. I was submitting that instead of making sweeping statements, instead of indulging in generalities, instead of indulging in destructive criticism, I would have very much liked if the honourable members had made some constructive suggestions. And for the advantage of those who may be interested I would like, with your permission, just briefly to read out a few constructive suggestions which I would like to make for the improvement, efficiency and honesty amongst the police officers. The first and foremost is that unfortunately when there is a question of promotion from one rank to a higher rank in the Police Department, say from assistant inspectors to sub-inspectors or from sub-inspectors to inspectors, the main factor which is taken into consideration is as to how many crimes were recorded in that particular thana.

Mr. Speaker : As closure motion has been moved more than once, I propose to put it to the House. The question is—

That the question be now put.

The motion was lost.

(At this stage Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan rose to continue his speech which was interrupted by the Speaker while putting the closure motion).

Mr. Speaker : As I interrupted the honourable member's speech for putting the closure motion to the vote of the House, and as the motion has been lost, I allow him to continue his speech.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : Sir, I challenged your decision regarding the question as soon as you expressed your opinion.

Mr. Speaker : I am afraid the honourable member was too late. Nothing can be done now.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : I challenged the decision.

Mr. Speaker : I assure the honourable member that I paused for a while and when no one challenged my opinion, 'I think the noes have it'; I said 'Noes have it.'

Sardar Sampuran Singh : For the last 24 hours you have been promising us time.

Mr. Speaker : I could not and did not.

Premier : But why is the honourable member so restive? Does he want to advertise to that extent?

Sardar Sampuran Singh : On a point of order, I would request the Honourable Member to withdraw his words that "I want to advertise." Perhaps he wants advertisement more than myself.

Mr. Speaker : Such language should not be used. Will the Honourable Premier please withdraw or explain?

Khan Bahadur Nawab Muzaffar Khan : It was just a question.

(Voices : Withdraw, withdraw).

Mr. Speaker : The Honourable Premier should be given time to explain or withdraw the expression objected to.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : I beg to draw your attention to the fact that when I used the word "dodge" you made me withdraw the word and I withdrew it without any hesitation. In the same way, I would appeal to the Premier to withdraw the words.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is perfectly right. I asked him to withdraw and he withdrew.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : If you are satisfied that the explanation is not satisfactory?

Mr. Speaker : Then I shall ask him to withdraw.

Premier : There has been a lot of excitement about what I said. What I actually said, was, why is the honourable member so restive? Is he anxious for advertisement to this extent? I was going to add that he forgot that one of the honourable members stood up and spoke for 35 minutes.

If this is unparliamentary I have not the slightest hesitation in withdrawing it (hear, hear).

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : In view of the fact that you are anxious that the next motion may come up, I close my speech.

Mr. Speaker : Does the honourable member who moved the motion wish to give a reply ?

Lala Duni Chand : Yes.

Premier (The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan) : The House has taken nearly two days to discuss this rather important question and it was one of the reasons which actuated me to agree to the request of my honourable friend opposite to allow him to select any two grants which he wanted to discuss, so that I may have an opportunity of hearing from my friends in this House criticism with regard to two important departments of administration with which I am personally concerned. I must confess that I have heard a great deal of criticism of these departments, but I am sorry to say that there again very little constructive suggestion has come from those benches. The main theme of the speeches from my honourable friends opposite naturally related to the subject of corruption in the police. I am not surprised that the burden of their speeches was the rather vexed problem of corruption. But certain other statements, or, if I may say so with your permission, mis-statements were made in this House with regard to other matters and other aspects of this problem and I should like very briefly because the time at my disposal is short, to try to correct these misleading statements. To begin with my honourable friends opposite and the honourable mover of this cut stated that the Police is very corrupt, the police constable is very bad, his behaviour is abominable, his treatment to the public is dreadful. All kinds of things were said against the policeman, yet he finished up by saying that we must immediately raise the salary of the constable. Is it a reward for all that is being said against him ? I was rather intrigued (interruption) to know why that anxiety for the poor constable who in the previous breath had been condemned so unequivocally that no word of opprobrium was spared by the honourable gentleman who moved the cut and by others who followed him. I think I can give the House an answer to that question and that is this. I know it for a fact that as a party, they decided sometime ago that they should win over the smaller fry, as one might put it in slang, in the Revenue Department as well as in the Police Department, with a view to bring them within the orbit of their activities, and that with a view to win their sympathies a point should be made to press for the increase of their salaries (A voice : Question).

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Is that information based on the report
4 P.M. of the resourceful Criminal Investigation Department ?

Premier : Upon a statement made by his conferees in the United Provinces. He does not probably read all the papers which are published in the United Provinces although he is a journalist and the editor of a paper, otherwise what explanation is there for this curious attitude to condemn a man and in the same breath reward him for doing all the abominable things which are attributed to him.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : It is as a precaution and not as a reward

Premier : Let me tell him that we on this side of the House are not less solicitous of the condition of the constable than my honourable friend over there. Let me remind my honourable friends opposite that from the very report of 1926, from which he quoted, we discussed at length and made certain recommendations with a view to ameliorating his condition and increasing his small emoluments, but unfortunately our recommendations have not been given effect to in their entirety so far on account of financial difficulties. A portion of our recommendations with a view to bettering the prospects—

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Are you speaking about the past or the present Government ?

Premier : I am talking of the report of 1926. The past Government decided in view of the financial stringency to spread those improvements over a number of years. They started with certain improvements and carried them out. Then the slump came and the whole process had to be slowed down ; as a matter of fact it came to a stand still during the period of depression. We have now, as you will have noticed, made provision in the budget to meet the recommendations of the committee which were made in 1926.

Then, Sir, my honourable friend, the member from Lahore, Mian Abdul Aziz, mentioned that the sub-inspector of police was only getting Rs. 60. I do not know whether he deliberately reduced his salary with a view to give point to his argument (Mian Abdul Aziz : Say Rs. 80) or perhaps it was through sheer ignorance that he made that statement. Let me tell him that the starting salary of a sub-inspector is Rs. 80 rising by Rs. 5 it goes to Rs. 130 with selection grades at Rs. 130, Rs. 140, Rs. 150 and Rs. 160. They draw a horse allowance of Rs.30. In addition they are given free quarters or house rent allowance in lieu thereof, free uniform and equipment. At expensive places such as Simla and Lahore they are given compensatory allowance. It is not Rs. 60 or Rs. 80, they can rise up to Rs. 160. They get a horse allowance of Rs. 30 in addition to special allowance in those expensive places.

Mian Abdul Aziz : Beginning with Rs. 80, what is their horse allowance ?

Premier : The horse allowance remains the same because a horse costs the same whether the sub-inspector gets Rs. 80 or Rs. 100.

Then, Sir, my honourable friend Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava said that our administration was very top heavy and we are paying enormous amounts to officers, while the amount being paid to other ranks was comparatively small. I interrupted him during his speech and tried to correct him, but in the heat of his speech probably he did not notice my interruption. At that time I pointed out that he was probably excluding the head constables who must necessarily be included in the rank of constables. Now, Sir, let me give you some figures. Dr. Gopi Chand said, and he thought he made a strong point of it, that the pay of constables in district executive force was Rs. 39,29,200 while the pay of other ranks amounted to 38 lakhs. His object merely was to impress the House that the officers were getting a very big slice of the budget and the smaller fry were getting very little. The exclusion of head constables, who are lower subordinates and come from the constables class, gives you a fallacious impression. If they are combined with constables, the pay of the lower subordinates amounts to Rs. 51,70,040.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : How much do you pay to the head constables ?

Premier : They start with Rs. 30.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : What is the total amount ?

Premier : You will find the amount in the budget : 39 lakhs plus 12 lakhs. While the pay of superior officers from assistant sub-inspectors upwards—who is more or less of the same status as the head constable—amounted to Rs. 23,89,120. If gazetted officers only are taken as against subordinates that is sub-inspectors, assistant sub-inspectors and other ranks, the figures are Rs. 7,55,000 for gazetted officers and Rs. 68,14,000 for subordinates.

That, Sir, will make clear to my honourable friend that after all it is in no wise a top heavy Department. Some of the speakers had the audacity to say that we had a much larger supervising staff as compared with England. In spite of the fact that the conditions here are quite different and considering what has been said to-day and yesterday in this House, even the bigger supervising staff is easily justified. Let me give comparative figures of supervising staff in England and here in our own province. The Metropolitan Police with a total force of about 20,000 men policing an area of 700 square miles within a radius of about 15 miles from headquarters at New Scotland Yard has the following superior officers—

| | | | | |
|--------------------------------|----|----|----|-------|
| Commissioner | .. | .. | .. | 1 |
| Deputy Commissioner | .. | .. | .. | 1 |
| Assistant Commissioners | .. | .. | .. | 4 |
| Deputy Assistant Commissioners | .. | .. | .. | 8 |
| Chief Constables | .. | .. | .. | 8 |
| Superintendents | .. | .. | .. | 36 |
| Chief Inspectors | .. | .. | .. | 66 |
| Sub-Divisional Inspectors | .. | .. | .. | 159 |
| Junior Station Inspectors | .. | .. | .. | } 276 |
| Station Inspectors | .. | .. | .. | |
| Total | | | | 559 |

559 officers for a total force of about 20,000 men.

Thus Metropolitan Police with a total force of about 20,000 men policing an area of 700 square miles within a radius of about 15 miles from headquarters at New Scotland Yard, has 559 superior officers to supervise the police force. The Punjab Police with a total force of 20,910 policing an area of 96,614 squares miles (excluding Indian States) has the following superior officers :—

[Premier.]

| | |
|---|-----|
| Inspector-General | 1 |
| Deputy Inspectors-General | 4 |
| Assistant Inspectors-General | 3 |
| Superintendents of Police | 35 |
| Assistant Superintendents of Police | 32 |
| Deputy Superintendents of Police | 54 |
| Inspectors | 136 |
| Total | 265 |

The percentage of officers in the Metropolitan Police is 2·8, while the corresponding percentage in the Punjab is 1·2. If officers down to the rank of Superintendents are taken in the case of the Metropolitan Police (corresponding to gazetted officers in the Punjab), the percentage of officers in the Metropolitan Police is ·3, while that in the Punjab is ·2. Now these figures will clearly remove the fallacy which the speech of the honourable member opposite may have created in the minds of my friends in this House. Let me also answer his criticism with regard to the increase in the amount provided for the Criminal Investigation Department. If the honourable members will consult the budget, they will find that the total of Criminal Investigation Department as compared with the whole grant is only 1/20th. The non-votable police items are only 1/11th. In the 'District Executive Forces' the non-voted portion of the budget is only 1/18th of the total. So the impression which my honourable friend opposite had was not correct.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava: May I explain, Sir. What I meant was that the budget in the Criminal Investigation Department had been increased by Rs. 20,000 and almost all of that is non-votable.

Premier: I am afraid that the honourable member again has not studied the budget correctly. He is in the main correct about the increase—but let me assure him that it is not non-voted, and let me now inform him why this increase has been made in the budget. The increase is due to two things. The first reason for the increase is the special staff for investigating kidnapping cases. You are aware that kidnapping has now increased to a scandalous extent not only in this province but in other provinces as well. Therefore, it is necessary for us to try to combat this menace. The second item, for which this extra staff was necessary, was 'enquiries about counterfeiting'. The honourable members raised that point yesterday. We have provided for additional staff to trace counterfeiting cases. The remaining amount is due to the consequent increase in the establishment of staff on account of these increases in the budget. The honourable members opposite, I hope, are now satisfied that this amount of rupees twenty thousand or more was not meant in any way to increase that portion of the police which they thought harassed people outside or kept watch over undesirables.

My honourable friend from Ludhiana made a rather vehement speech, and he seems to have been personally interested in several of those battles. It is only human nature that one should be vehement and try to be very strong in answering others' remarks. He said that he was going to quote specific instances. This House is well aware that he quoted no specific instance but made general insinuations of a very vague character. But I should have been obliged if the honourable member had also pointed out to us the other side of the picture. He is well aware that several complaints were made during the election that several inspectors were helping my honourable friend opposite and those allegations were made by responsible persons, but I—Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : On a point of personal explanation, Sir. That is incorrect.

Premier : That is not incorrect. I have written representations in my possession which I can show to the honourable member, but I did not take any action on those allegations because I thought that the honourable member should not be asked to answer those allegations until after the election. I did not want to jeopardise his chances of being elected and secondly, because they were made by individuals. We have laid down special rules for this kind of allegations. If five people come forward and make an application it must be enquired into. I, therefore, think that my honourable friend was unjust in trying to bring out one side of the picture to the notice of the House and not the other side of the picture. If we started an enquiry and asked for names of those people who are alleged to have helped him during election, he would not naturally mention those names. His other grouse was that when a man goes to the Assistant Inspector-General of Police for purposes of interview with the Inspector-General of Police, he is not allowed the opportunity of having the interview. I am afraid there again he has made an extremely indefinite statement. The Assistant Inspector-General is there to arrange interviews with the Inspector-General in important matters and he can arrange for the interviews only when the Inspector-General has got time. It must be remembered that the Inspector-General who has to command a force of twenty thousand people has his hands fairly full and he is not available to see every person at any time merely at his behest. There are regular rules of procedure laid down and if the honourable members will follow those rules, they will find that there will be no difficulty in bringing their complaints to the notice of the higher authorities. They should, in the first instance, go to the local officer. If he refuses, there is the Deputy Inspector-General and eventually they should come to the Inspector-General. If they cannot get redress, there is the local Government—the final authority to redress their grievances provided they can prove their genuineness. But I think it was very uncharitable on the part of the honourable member to try to attack the Assistant Inspector-General of Police because he could not arrange an interview with the Inspector-General with regard to a particular matter.

It was said that the Inspector-General of Police made the recruitment of gazetted officers. Let me inform the House that this is not the case. The gazetted appointments in the police are made and were made by the local Government and in future all the appointments will be made by the Public Service Commission. So, you will see, that that statement was again incorrect.

[Premier.]

One of the honourable members mentioned that there was restriction with regard to recruitment of certain classes. I am afraid there again the honourable member was either ignorant of the rules or else he was merely trying to produce a rhetorical effect and did not keep the facts in view. I shall presently quote the rule. There is nothing in the Police Rules to limit recruitment to a particular tribe or caste as was tried to be made out by some of the honourable members. Rule 12·14 runs thus :—

Recruits shall be of good character and great care shall be taken in selecting men of a type suitable for police service from candidates presenting themselves for enrolment.

That is the Rule. There is no bar or restriction to the appointment of a person of any caste or any tribe or any particular person.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : What is the practice ?

Premier : The practice is in accordance with that rule.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Not quite.

Premier : My honourable friend says, "Not quite". I know that he feels very strongly on that point and he made several representations. I pointed out to him when I was on the Police Committee that the class with regard to which he seemed to be so anxious to provide representation in the police —

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : The depressed classes.

Premier : He was particular about the non-agriculturist Hindus. With regard to them I made special recommendations in the report. We issued special instructions that these classes be encouraged for recruitment but the difficulty is that they cannot earn more than eight, nine or ten annas in the Police which they can easily do as hawkers. So, why should they come to the police ?

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : That is not true.

Premier : The honourable member challenged us sometime ago and the Inspector-General of Police said that if he sent candidates they would receive the fullest possible consideration and they would get their proper proportion in the police service. I say so again to my honourable friend that if constable candidates are available, they will receive the same consideration as any other recruit of any other community (hear, hear).

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : I shall take you on your word.

Premier : Then as regards my Sikh friends opposite. I remember it for a fact that they wanted 100 men to be recruited for the Hongkong police. We informed the Superintendent, Police, concerned and about 300 men turned up at Lahore. They were all anxious and keen to go to Hongkong, but after the officers concerned had selected their quota for Hongkong, the men were asked if they would get themselves enlisted for the local police, for physically and otherwise they were suitable, and they all refused. They naturally prefer to go to the Army which they consider to be more dignified than the police. That is true.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : But the fact remains that the number of Hindus in the lower ranks of the police is disproportionately small.

Premier : Not on account of any fault of the administration.

Several honourable members criticised us by saying that Government had done nothing with regard to the investigation of cases. Let me read out to them another circular or confidential instructions which were issued by the Inspector-General of Police. (A voice : When ?) I think six or seven months ago. The circular reads :

"The Inspector-General wishes to emphasize that the production of false evidence is a grave criminal offence which injures the reputation of the force as a whole in the eyes of Government and the public, and cannot be too strongly condemned. He directs that supervising officers shall lose no opportunity of impressing this on their subordinates and that they shall be alert to detect and check any such tendency.

The Inspector-General is aware that it is often impossible for the investigating officer to be certain whether a particular witness produced by the complainant is or is not a truthful witness, either in the whole or in part of his evidence. In cases of doubt he should have no hesitation in communicating his suspicion to the prosecuting and supervising officers concerned. It is then the clear duty of the prosecutor to present an honest and straightforward case, and not to convince the court of the truth of evidence which he himself suspects to be untrue. The malpractice of producing or conniving at the production of false evidence is merely one form of corruption and must be treated as such in accordance with the special provisions of Police Rules 16-39, 16-40 (1st Part) and 16-41."

This memorandum with the letter to which it refers was published in the Police Gazette and was circulated to all concerned.

This will make it clear that the Government is not unmindful of all these difficulties and irregularities and is at one with the honourable members opposite to see that these irregularities are eradicated and the sooner that is done the better.

With regard to corruption, I have only got a few more minutes and with your permission, I should just like to say to the honourable members opposite that he quoted words from my police report that the disease is there ; no proof is needed ; it does not need a specialist to diagnose that disease. We all agree that the disease is there, but the question is, how are we going to eradicate that disease ? (A voice : First try your own method.) I was waiting to hear constructive proposals. The only so-called constructive proposal was made by the mover of the cut, but he was somewhat confused with regard to his mathematical calculations. Instead of Rs. 96 lakhs he came to the figure of Rs. 8 lakhs. It would cost 25 lakhs to increase the pay of the constables by Rs. 10, and of course, the higher figure of increase contemplated by the honourable member would take us into the region of nearly a crore, and even then it would not have eradicated all these ills. During the last two days we have been hearing of corruption in the Police Department. It would be unfair to single out the Police Department alone for condemnation and attack. We are aware, and like honest men we should admit it that there is corruption in every department. That corruption is in other departments also, we must confess to our shame. In other institutions, also outside Government institutions, the honourable members cannot deny that there are charges made in the press with regard to some private institutions, charitable or political. I was going to say that even the Congress is not immune from that charge. (Voices : No, no.) In several provinces the accounts of the Congress have been subject to heavy criticism in the Press and from the platform for a long time. So I think it would be futile on our part not to admit that this malady exists not only in the Government departments but throughout the country, much to our shame and disgrace. It is the duty of every one to join and eradicate that corruption, but how can we do it by merely tarring the police? But whatever we do on this side of the House or whatever the administration does, can be no more than a mere palliative. We must eradicate the root cause of corruption and we must make our public incorruptible. We must reform them. But how? Not by pillorying the police, not by holding inquiries behind our back, as my friend opposite did recently. May I remind him that his party in other provinces may be in office tomorrow. Would it be fair for the other parties in those provinces to hold similar enquiries?

[Premier.]

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Certainly.

Premier : I was saying that it is up to us as well as for Government to eradicate this evil. It is not an easy problem, and as I was saying, if the honourable member insists on holding these inquiries which I may be permitted to say are unlawful inquiries, where will be the discipline?

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I am prepared to bear the consequences

Premier : The honourable member is very brave and is prepared to face anything, but I ask him, is it proper and worth while? Is it right trying to defy law and order? (Voices : Of course, it is.) My honourable friends are very restive whenever I speak. They must show me the courtesy of allowing me to speak. I seldom disturb them while they are speaking. Would it be honest for my honourable friends to try and inculcate the spirit of lawlessness amongst the people and hold inquiries? Supposing to-morrow we change places with the benches opposite, would he then like us to set up irregular committees of inquiries to impede Government of the time and rush into press—(Voices : Certainly, yes.) That kind of thing is not allowed in any civilised country. If they want real democracy they will have to restrain their tendency to spread lawlessness. If they do not do so, they can only have one result. That is what is happening in Spain.

My honourable friends have been quoting Russia. Let me give them a quotation with regard to Russia.

Mr. Speaker : It is 4-30 P.M. now. So, the time is up.

Premier : If the House will give me a few minutes more I shall wind up.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I suggest that we sit till 5-30 P.M. today? (Cries of 'Yes, yes' and 'No, no'.)

Sardar Sampuran Singh : I request that the period of sitting of the House be extended by one hour so that we may be able to take up motion No. 9 in the list relating to jhatka meat. I make this request, because the Honourable Premier and you, Mr. Speaker, have given me to understand that you will give time for the consideration of this motion. In view of the undertaking given by both of you, I request that the sitting may be extended by one hour.

Mr. Speaker : I gave no undertaking. In fact I could not give any as the taking up of an item depends on the disposal by the House of the item above it. Personally I have no objection.

Premier : My point is that under the rules you are not authorized to extend the time of the House.

Mr. Speaker : The Governor under the rules has been pleased to announce that no demand for grant shall be discussed for more than two days. The discussion on the present demand started yesterday and by two days it is probably understood a period of two days according to our rules and practice.

Premier : If the House wants to sit till 6-30 I have no objection.

Mr. Speaker : I have already stated that personally I have no objection if the House wants to sit after the fixed hour ; but what about the Governor's announcement ?

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I know what the decision is, because, if the decision is that the House shall not sit any longer because the two days allotted for the discussion of the demand have expired, then I think the Honourable Premier cannot continue his speech. He must resume his seat.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is right.

Sardar Sampuran Singh : Am I then to understand that all the proceedings of to-day after 4-30 P.M. are void ?

Mr. Speaker : As the two days allotted for the discussion of the demand have expired, I have to put the motion to the vote of the House. The question is —

That the item of Rs. 1,10,900 on account of Total A—Supreintendence be reduced by Rs. 10.

PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

1ST SESSION OF THE 1ST PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Thursday, 8th July, 1937.

The Assembly met at the Assembly Chamber, Simla, at 11 A. M. of the clock. Mr. Speaker in the chair.

STARRED QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

PUNITIVE POLICE POST QUARTERED AT VILLAGE DALL, ETC., IN TAHSIL KASUR.

331. Dr. Sant Ram Seth : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state :—

- (a) whether it is a fact that a punitive police post was quartered at villages Dall, Dalseri and Kalsian, tahsil Kasur, district Lahore, in 1923, which remained there for four and a half years ;
- (b) if the answer to (a) be in the affirmative, whether he is prepared to place on the table of the House a statement showing (i) the date of its arrival in the villages and the date of its withdrawal, (ii) the sanctioned strength of the police force for each year, (iii) the actual strength of the police force which remained in the police post during each year, with the monthly average attendance of the constables, (iv) the details of the estimated and the actual costs of the police post for each year, (v) the punitive police post costs imposed upon the inhabitants of the aforesaid villages, for each year, (vi) the costs recovered for each year and (vii) the arrears due from the inhabitants of the villages on the 31st March, 1937 ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that Bhola Singh and other residents of the aforesaid villages submitted an application to the Honourable Premier on the 24th May, 1937, claiming a refund of Rs. 7,249 realized in excess of the actual costs borne by the Government ;
- (d) if the answer to (c) be in the affirmative, whether he will lay on the table the original application, with the decision, if any, arrived at by the Government

[Dr. Sant Ram, Seth.]

(e) whether the furniture purchased for punitive police post at the cost of the village inhabitants was taken to the police headquarters, Lahore, after the withdrawal of the punitive police post without giving any compensation to the inhabitants for the same ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Yes, from the 10th September, 1923 to the 9th March, 1928.

(b) The essential figures have been given in the reply to question 30¹ put by the honourable member for Lahore (Central Constituency). As has been explained in the replies to other questions, it is never possible to state the " actual costs " of a body of additional police with exactitude as certain items of the bill are incapable of being set out with precision. In the present case recoveries were completed in March 1933, the uncollected balance of Rs. 152-1-2 being waived.

(c) Yes, The claim was for a refund of Rs. 7,349, and not Rs. 7,249, as stated in the question.

(d) A copy of the application is laid on the table. Government are not prepared to re-open the case at this stage.

(e) Yes. This is the usual practice. The small profit which thus accrues may be regarded as counter-balanced by the expenditure in providing arms and equipment for the men, which is not included in the calculated cost.

Copy of an application dated the 24th May, 1937, from Bhola Singh and other residents of villages Dall and Dalseri to the Honourable Prime Minister, Government, Punjab, Simla.

We the undersigned residents of villages Dall and Dalseri, Police Station Khalra, district Lahore, beg to state as follows :—

- (1) Additional police post was quartered in our villages in 1923 which remained here for 4 years 6 months. Rs. 29,601 were imposed upon the residents as the police tax out of which Rs. 28,446 have been realized and Rs. 155 are still shown as arrears.
- (2) From the statement of costs attached herewith, you will find that there is great difference between the actual costs and the costs recovered. Government was wrong in realizing the contingency charges at the fixed rate i. e., 1/10th of the salary of the police staff in the 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th years as during these years no boxes and charpies were purchased for the police posts ; therefore contingency charges must have been less. In the 1st year we were charged Rs. 450 per annum for the hutting charges while the Government paid Rs. 240 per annum on this account. Similarly the sanctioned strength of the police force was never sent to our post particularly the number of constables never exceeded 8 ; sometimes their number was reduced to 5 or 6. During the fifth year the number of the police force was reduced to one sub-inspector of police one head constable and 4 constables. Hence we would request you to make inquiry in the case and refund Rs. 7,349 as detailed below :—

| (1) Difference between actual costs and recovery as shown in the charge sheet attached | 7,249 |
| (2) Price of the furniture purchased at the cost of the village inhabitants and taken to the Police Headquarters Lahore after the withdrawal of the Police | 100 |
| Total of the refund due | 7,349 |

(2).—As no furniture was purchased during the 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th year of Punitive Police Post's stay in the village Rs. 100 per annum allowed for repair and other necessities.

(3).—Very few transfers took place from 1924-25 to 1927-28 hence equipment charges very small.

(4).—Average attendance of the constables never exceeded 8 per month, therefore the salary of eight constables are calculated here.

ADDITIONAL POLICE POST AT VILLAGES CHEEMA AND DOBLI, IN TAHSIL KASUR.

332. Dr. Sant Ram Seth : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state :—

- (a) whether it is a fact that an additional police post was quartered at villages Cheema and Doblí, tahsil Kasur, district Lahore, in 1925, which remained there for 3 years ;
- (b) whether any inquiry was made regarding the costs of additional police post, by the District Magistrate, Lahore, before issuing orders for the recovery of the costs of the same from the inhabitants of the said villages every year ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that the village residents were made to pay the estimated costs sanctioned by the Government including the contingency charges estimated at the rate of 1/10th of the total salary of the police staff during the 2nd and 3rd years of the stay of the police force ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) and (c).

This has been answered in my reply to question *41¹.

(b) As has been explained in the replies to other questions, it is never possible to state the "actual costs" of a body of additional police with exactness. District Magistrates work in these cases on the basis of figures supplied to them by the Police Department.

ADDITIONAL POLICE POST AT VILLAGE BADRPUK, TAHSIL KASUR.

333. Dr. Sant Ram Seth : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state :—

- (a) whether any additional police post was quartered at village BadrpuK, tahsil Kasur, district Lahore, in the year 1926-27 ;
- (b) if the answer to (a) be in the affirmative, whether he is prepared to lay on the table a statement showing (i) the date of its arrival and withdrawal from the village, (ii) the detailed accounts of the estimated as well as the actual costs of the additional police post, (iii) the sanctioned strength of the police force and (iv) the monthly average strength of the police force posted in the village ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that the services of the reserve force were never required during the stay of the police post in the said village ;
- (d) whether it is a fact that the furniture purchased for the police post at the cost of the village inhabitants was taken to the police headquarters, Lahore, without giving any compensation to the villagers ; if so, the reasons for the same ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : The essential facts have already been given in replying to an earlier question by the honourable member (No. *39¹). I regret that I am not prepared to make further inquiries regarding this very old case.

PROPOSAL REGARDING GOVERNMENT GIRLS' HIGH SCHOOL, FEROZEPUR CITY.

334. Pir Akbar Ali : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state if there is any proposal to start a Government Girls' High School at Ferozepore City? If so, when is it likely to be started?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : Yes; in 1988-89, if funds are available.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state whether girls' schools had been opened in every district of the province?

Minister : No, Sir,

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Will he please state in which districts girls' schools have been opened and in which not?

Minister : I am afraid I cannot say off hand.

SERVANTS OF THE MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, SIMLA.

335. Khwaja Ghulam Samad : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state:—

(i) the names of the servants of the Simla Municipal Committee who are related to the members of the Committee; and

(ii) the relationship they bear to the members?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hyat Khan Tiwana : (i) (1) Lala Balak Ram Dogra, Stenographer and Assistant Superintendent, General Branch.

(2) Syed Mohammad Hassan, Meter Repairer.

(3) B. Kishori Lal, Tax Clerk.

(ii) Nos. (1) and (3) are married to the stepsisters of a member. No. (2) is a cousin of a member.

Khwaja Ghulam Samad : Will the Honourable Minister please state as to whether Dr. Mukand Lal is related to Lala Behari Lal, Municipal Commissioner?

Minister : I have no record of the relationship.

(Finding that the member who put the question and the Honourable Minister were both standing at the same time.)

Mr. Speaker : Honourable members are requested to observe the ordinary rules of procedure and practice. When the Honourable Minister got up to answer the question, the honourable questioner should have resumed his seat.

Khwaja Ghulam Samad : I am sorry. The interval between the question and its answer was half a second. I know that the Honourable Minister has no records but what action does he propose to extract correct reports ?

There are many persons who are related to Lala Behari Lal ; I cannot say why they have not been shown in the list. Another supplementary question, Sir, Is it a fact that there were only 11 seats in the municipal committee, Simla, before the last election ?

Minister : The honourable member has not read his question. This question does not arise out of the question which he has tabled.

Khwaja Ghulam Samad : Sir, it is a relevant question as I will prove.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : May I know whether there is any local office holder who is related to the member of the committee ?

Minister : Yes.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Is there any rule under which a member can get his relatives employed in the municipal committee ?

Minister : Sanction is necessary in case of certain relations.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Is Government aware that many servants of the municipal committee are relatives of the members of the said committee ?

Minister : In some cases.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : May I know whether the Government intends to take any action in the matter ?

Minister : Insistence on compliance with the rules.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Has Government done it in the case of any municipal committee ?

Minister : In many a case.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : In which case ?

Minister : I cannot cite the instances off hand.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Was any such complaint received from Rohtak ?

Minister : I am not aware of it.

RULES RELATING TO THE CONDUCT OF BUSINESS OF THE CABINET.

336. Diwan Chaman Lall : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state :—

(a) whether new rules of business have been framed for the conduct of business of the Cabinet ;

(b) whether he is prepared to lay a copy of these rules of business on the table of the House ;

- (c) whether the Governor has so far presided over all the meetings of the Cabinet ;
- (d) whether the Governor dictates orders which form the basis of the decision of the Cabinet ; if so, whether this practice is frequent ;
- (e) whether Secretaries to the Government approach the Governor over the head of the Minister ;
- (f) whether it is a fact that in certain cases Secretaries take verbal instructions from the Governor regarding important matters before such matters are communicated to the Minister in charge ;
- (g) the number of instances of this nature that have taken place so far ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : I can assure the honourable member that the constitution is being worked by His Excellency the Governor and his Ministers in accordance with the spirit and provisions of the constitution and that there is complete mutual confidence and trust between the Governor and his Ministers. There has been no instance in which there has been any difference between the Governor and his Ministers, or in which the advice of the Ministers has not been accepted as a matter of course.

Having given this assurance, I must, as I have already stated, decline to answer, in the public interest, questions which relate to the proceedings of the Council of Ministers which must be of a secret character, and are intended to encourage questions of which the intention is to convey an entirely wrong and misleading impression of the manner in which provincial autonomy is being worked in this province.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh (Urdu) : Will the Honourable the Premier please state whether in provinces where the Congress is assuming office, the same tradition of the Governor presiding over the Cabinet will continue ?

(No answer).

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state whether rule 5 of the Business bye-laws of the Cabinet meetings lays down that the Governor shall preside at the Council meetings and the Premier shall preside only in his absence and further that the agenda of the Cabinet meetings will also be submitted for the approval of His Excellency ?

Premier : Which rules is the honourable member quoting from ? So far as the rules of procedure of the Cabinet are concerned they are a secret document.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : That is why I am asking for further information. Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state what public interest is involved in giving the very necessary information on this point ? May I know whether it is the practice and whether it is the rule that His Excellency the Governor will preside over the Cabinet meetings and it is only in his absence that the Premier will preside and secondly that the agenda of the Cabinet meetings will also be submitted to His Excellency for his approval ?

Premier : So far as the right of the Governor to preside at the Council meetings is concerned, I have already answered that point. The honourable member is referred to the provisions of the Government of India Act.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Section 50 of the Government of India Act says that the Governor in his discretion may preside at meetings of the Council of Ministers. Our objection is that the Treasury benches have abdicated in favour of His Excellency by making it a rule that His Excellency shall always preside at such meetings.

Mr. Speaker : Is that a question ?

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : I want to know whether they have abdicated in favour of His Excellency the Governor by laying down a definite rule that His Excellency will preside and it is only in his absence that the Premier will preside.

Premier : I am not aware of the rule to which the honourable member is referring to. But I can assure him that rules which have been framed are in consonance with the spirit of the Act itself.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Since the Honourable Premier is taking shelter behind the provision of the Secret Documents Act I cannot go into the matter further.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : On a point of order, Sir. The Honourable Premier has stated that the rules of business which bear on the functions of Ministers, the allocation of business and the regulation of the meetings of the Cabinet, are secret rules. My point of order is this. There are certain provisions or relevant sections in the Government of India Act which would be, as it were an indication of the fact as to how the Ministry and the Governor are pulling together. In view of the statement of His Excellency the Governor-General, and as it is the right and privilege of the House to know whether the spirit of the rules or the views that have been given expression to by His Excellency the Governor-General are being observed — because the House is very jealous of its rights and is their guardian — we want to know if there is no encroachment being made on its rights because of certain rules to which the Ministry is subjected. Therefore I would like to know if we would not be in order in requesting the Honourable Premier to take us into his confidence as regards the rules with regard to the procedure at the meetings, such as how many times the Cabinet meets in a week, who presides over them and so on.

Premier : I am afraid the honourable member has unnecessarily wasted his breath. I have already told him that the rules were framed in consonance with the spirit of the Act and the point which he has raised has been answered by me in reply to other questions previously put in this House. As a matter of fact, the honourable member was not present here when I stated that so far as the business of the Council of Ministers is concerned, on the analogy of the cabinet proceedings in England, the rules as well as the proceedings of the meetings are secret.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : The Honourable the Premier has just stated that the rules of business framed by them are in consonance with the spirit of the Government of India Act, while I submit that this is a question of interpretation. Therefore we wanted to know what the rules are

I think the honourable the Premier will have no objection to giving us this information.

Mr. Speaker : The Honourable the Premier has answered that they are secret.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : There is no provision in the Government of India Act, as far as I know, to the effect that the agenda of the Cabinet meeting will also be submitted to His Excellency the Governor for his approval. I want to know whether they have laid down rules to that effect.

Premier : I am not prepared to relieve the curiosity of my honourable friend opposite.

Lala Duni Chand : The law applicable to confidential documents is embodied in sections 133-134 of the Evidence Act. Does the Honourable the Premier claim privilege under these sections or any other law or rule?

Premier : Under the convention which I have set up.

Lala Duni Chand : Can the convention take the place of a positive rule of law?

Premier : What rule of law?

Mr. E. Few : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state whether there is any other parliament in the world that discusses the internal doings of the Cabinet on the floor of the House?

Premier : Not to my knowledge.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : On a point of order. Is it for the House to set up a convention or for the Honourable the Premier to set it up?

Mr. Speaker : Is that a point of order? A point of order can be raised if any of the rules, regulating the procedure and the business of the House, is violated or ignored. Which rule of the House has been violated and ignored now?

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : If I am permitted—

Mr. Speaker : Is it a point of order that the honourable member wishes to raise?

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : If I am permitted, I would submit that, speaking from memory, it is rule 14 which regulates the procedure for putting of supplementary questions. When a question has been put and a reply given, further information may be asked for on the floor of the House. When the Honourable the Premier takes shelter behind those rules, which are claimed to be secret rules and cannot be made available to the House, my submission is, is it for him to regulate that—

Mr. Speaker : The Honourable the Premier did not consider it in the public interest to answer certain questions. He may be right or he may be wrong. His opinion is that where the matter is secret it is not in the interest of the public to divulge it.

Premier : I may point out that Ministers have to take the oath of secrecy.

Lala Duni Chand : Can the Honourable the Premier state approximately the number of meetings that have been presided over by His Excellency the Governor since the new Government was inaugurated?

Premier : I have already answered that question. If the honourable member will look up the replies to previous questions he will find his question duly answered.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Will the Honourable the Premier kindly state whether it is a fact that the files are sent to the Governor for consultation ?

Premier : It is not necessary for them to do so.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Does the Honourable the Premier know of any instances where files have been sent to the Governor ?

Premier : They often come to me for advice and consultation.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : But I want to know whether they are finally sent to the Governor ?

Premier : What is meant by ' Finally ' ? I have already said that there is no bar to their sending papers to the Governor, but so far as I am aware they have not taken advantage of that position.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Am I to understand that Honourable the Premier knows of no such instance ?

Mian Abdul Aziz : Would it not be in the interest of the ministerial party, and particularly the Premier to give direct reply to parts (d), (e) and (f) in order to avoid any kind of misunderstanding without disclosing the secrecy of those rules ?

Premier : The honourable member was not here when I answered a previous question and I think he was not here when I made a declaration with regard to the relations between the Governor and his Ministers. I can assure him that there is no substance in the allegations or insinuations contained in these questions.

Mian Abdul Aziz : I may inform the Honourable Premier that on the first and second occasions I was present here when he replied. I simply made a request to him.

Mr. Speaker : I am afraid I cannot allow the honourable member to make a speech at this stage. Honourable members are welcome to put supplementary questions for the purpose of further elucidating any matter of fact regarding which an answer has been given.

Lala Duni Chand : Has the Honourable Premier obtained legal advice as to the rules being of a confidential nature, which he refuses to disclose ? (Laughter.)

Maulvi Ghulam Mohy-ud-Din : I want to submit through you for the information of the House that a perusal of May's.— (Laughter.)

Mr. Speaker : What does the honourable member mean by referring to May's Parliamentary Practice ?

CABINET MEETINGS.

*337. Malik Barkat Ali : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state whether it is a fact that His Excellency the Governor has presided over every meeting of the Cabinet that has been held so far ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : Yes.

ALLOWANCES OF VICE-CHAIRMEN OF DISTRICT BOARDS.

338. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state the number and the names of the district boards in the Punjab, the Vice-Chairmen of which draw allowances, daily or otherwise, for attending to the work in these district boards : and also the rates of allowances drawn by them ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : The Vice-Chairmen of the following District Boards draw travelling allowance at rates prescribed in the District Board Account Code for journeys performed on district board business :—

Rohtak, Ferozepore, Sialkot, Hoshiarpur, Gurdaspur, Multan, Karnal, Gujranwala, Gurgaon, Lyallpur, Sheikhupura, Montgomery, Attock, Amritsar, Rawalpindi, Shahpur and Gujrat.

No reply has yet been received from Lahore District Board. The Vice-Chairmen of the other District Boards do not draw any allowances.

Sardar Hari Singh : What is the amount of travelling allowance ?

Minister : That depends on the journey.

Sardar Hari Singh : Do they get it even when they attend sub-committee meetings ?

Minister : I have already said, when they travel on district board business.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : What is the halting allowance that is paid to the Vice-Chairman ?

Minister : I have not got the District Board Account Code with me to quote it. The honourable member can consult it.

PENSION OF MAULVI ALI SHER, RETIRED HEAD CONSTABLE OF NAROWAL.

339. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the payment of pension to Maulvi Ali Sher, retired head constable of Narowal, district Sialkot, has been withheld since 1923 ; if so, reasons for the same ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : No retired head constable of this name can be traced at Narowal, nor are any orders on record withholding the pension of an officer of this name.

An Honourable Member : Does the Honourable Premier think that this amount is a fictitious amount ?

Mr. Speaker : That is not a supplementary question.

COMPLAINTS AGAINST MUNICIPAL ELECTION OFFICER.

340. Shaikh Karamat Ali : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

(a) whether Government is aware,

(i) that there have been numerous complaints against the method adopted by the special Municipal Election Officer in preparing the electoral rolls ;

[Sh. Karamat Ali.]

- (ii) that a large number of persons who are entitled to vote are not registered as voters;
- (b) the amount spent on the preparation of electoral rolls under—
 - (i) the old system; and
 - (ii) the present system;
- (c) if the answers to the above questions be in the affirmative, what action, if any, is intended to be taken in the matter?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan, Tiwana : (a) (i) No.

(ii) No.

(b) Figures are not yet available from which a useful comparison can be made. Moreover the honourable member has not specified the municipalities or period for which the information is required.

(c) Does not arise.

OBSTRUCTION TO TAZIAS IN VILLAGE JAJJON.

341. Chaudhri Muhammad Abdul Rahman Khan : Will the honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that a post and telegraph office has been recently established in village Jajjon, district Hoshiarpur resulting in obstruction to the tazias passing that way;
- (b) whether it is a fact that this year the telegraph wires had to be cut in order to make way for the tazias;
- (c) whether it is a fact that the sub-inspector of police stationed at Mahilpur molests those who take out the tazias and admonishes them to make the tazias so small as to be able to pass along the roads without cutting the wires;
- (d) whether it is a fact that Ali Bux, Dhobi, Wali Muhammad Sayad, Mahdi Rangrez, and Isa Shah Sayad, have been forcibly made to put their thumb-impressions on an undertaking that in future they would make very small tazias;
- (e) whether it is a fact that one Fateh Muhammad is being coerced into making small tazias in future;
- (f) if the answer to (c), (d) and (e) be in the affirmative, what measures the Government propose to take against the high-handedness of the sub-inspector referred to above?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Last year the Telegraph Department moved their office at Jajjon to a place which falls on the route of the tazia procession taken out on the occasion of Muharram;

(b) Yes;

(c) No.

(d) No. The four persons named voluntarily agreed to make tazias of not more than 15 feet in height when carried on men's shoulder ;

(e) No.

(f) Does not arise.

342. Cancelled.

APPLICATIONS FOR PASSPORTS.

343. Sardar Lal Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

(a) the total number of applications for passports during the last financial year ;

(b) the number of those applications which were rejected ;

(c) the reasons in each case why it was rejected ;

(d) the number of Punjabis repatriated during the last financial year at the cost of this or any other Government ;

(e) whether it is a fact that the number of repatriated emigrants is negligible ; if so, the reasons for a high percentage of refusals for passports ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : The issue of passports is a prerogative function of the Governor-General falling outside the Government of India Act, 1935 ; and the subject of repatriation of Indians to India falls within the sphere of the Central Government, who moreover pay the costs of repatriation. This being so, it is suggested that the proper place for questions on these subjects would be the Central Legislature.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Is it a fact that the applications for passports from the inhabitants of the Hoshiarpur district are rejected after remaining pending for four or five months ?

Minister : The last portion of my reply is there.

Sardar Lal Singh : Does not the issue of the passports in the Punjab depend on the recommendation of the Punjab Government ?

Minister : We are merely agents of the Government of India.

Lala Duni Chand : Does not the question of grant of a passport in the Punjab depend on the Punjab Government ?

Minister : The Government of India are the final authority on the subject.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : What is the function of the Punjab Government ?

Minister : We are the agents.

Sardar Lal Singh : Are not the recommendations of the Punjab Government as a rule accepted in the grant of a passport ?

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Do the Punjab Government as agents of the Government of India hold any power of attorney or not ?

MANDI HYDRO-ELECTRIC SCHEME.

344. Sardar Lal Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) the total cost of the Mandi Hydro-Electric Scheme ;
- (b) the sources from which the expenditure mentioned in (a) above was met ;
- (c) the percentage of return on the capital expenditure ;
- (d) the annual recurring expenditure on the establishment of the Mandi Hydro-Electric Scheme by way of salaries ;
- (e) the percentage of salaries mentioned in (d) above, which is received by agriculturists ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) and (c). The Administrative Accounts of the Punjab Public Works Department, Electricity Branch, for the year 1935-36 compiled by the Accountant-General, Punjab, which is the latest compilation on the subject contains the following figures :—

(a) Capital Outlay to end of 1935-36—

| | Rs. |
|---|-------------|
| (i) Main undertaking.. .. | 5,86,68,788 |
| (ii) Local Distribution | 50,48,269 |
| (c) Percentage return on Capital Outlay : | |
| (i) Main Undertaking | 1·08 |
| (ii) Local Distribution | 6·31 |

(b) From loan funds.

(d) The honourable member's attention is invited to pages 471—492 of the Budget Estimate for 1937-38 presented to this Assembly.

(e) The honourable member's attention is invited to page 29 of the Consolidated Statement showing the proportionate representation of the various communities serving in the different departments of the Punjab Government as it stood on the 1st January, 1937. A copy of this statement has been supplied to every honourable member of this Assembly. The percentage of salaries cannot be worked out without obtaining figures of the emoluments of every employee in the Branch and this would involve an expenditure of time and labour out of all proportion to the results to be obtained.

MANDI HYDRO-ELECTRIC SCHEME.

345. Sardar Lal Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) the portion of the electric energy which is being made available to rural population ;
- (b) what steps Government propose to take to supply energy from this source to the rural areas for irrigational and other agricultural purposes ; if so, to which areas ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) No allotment of available energy has been made between urban and rural areas.

(b) Extensions into rural areas are proposed when it seems likely that a reasonable return will be received. Such extensions have already been sanctioned in the Phillaur-Goraya-Phagwara area and in the area north of Shalimar and Baghbanpura. An experimental group of tube-wells has been sanctioned in Gurdaspur district. Other projects, affecting areas near Jullundur, Phillaur and Amritsar are under examination.

Sardar Lal Singh : Were any representations received from the Ferozepore district agriculturists for the extension of this scheme for agricultural purposes ?

Minister : I believe yes and it is under consideration.

DAMAGES TO CROPS IN BALLABGARH AND GURGAON TAHSILS.

347. Chaudhri Sumer Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) the number and the name of the villages in Ballabgarh and Gurgaon tahsils in Gurgaon district in which remission in land revenue has been granted on account of the damage done by hail-storm to the rabi crop this year ;
- (b) the amount of land revenue remitted in the case of each village, the area affected by the hailstorm in each village and the proportion of the land revenue remitted to that of the total land revenue due to be realized ;
- (c) whether he will place on the table of the House a copy of the inspection note made by the Deputy Commissioner and the gazetted staff of the said district in the patwaris' diaries or elsewhere regarding each village inspected by them after the hailstorm, if no such notes were made by these officers, reasons for the same ;
- (d) the date and the designation of each officer who inspected the fields after the hailstorm ;
- (e) whether the loss was estimated by the officers when the crops were standing or after they had been cut ;
- (f) whether these officers marked the area on the Patwari's map that was affected by hailstorm ;
- (g) whether he will place on the table of the House a copy of the instructions that the Deputy Commissioner or Sub-Divisional Officer or Tahsildar posted to the Gurgaon district had given to the patwaris for preparing the record and estimate of the loss suffered by the zamindars by hailstorm ;
- (h) whether any action has been taken in the note by the Sub-Divisional Officer, Palwal, dated 8th April, 1937, if not, reasons for the same ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a), (b) and (d). A statement is laid on the table.

- (c) It is against constitutional practice to supply this information.
- (e) Some of the crops were standing and some had been cut.
- (f) As the patwaris' map is a permanent record, the area affected was not marked on it.

(g) Instructions on the subject are contained in the Land Administration Manual and the Standing Orders and no special instructions are normally required. Copies of the special instructions issued by the Deputy Commissioner in the case of this particular harvest are laid on the table.

(h) Yes, patwaris were directed to prepare fard kharaba after checking the conditions of the crop and remissions have since been given amounting to Rs. 196 in the Gurgaon tahsil and Rs. 8,825 in the Ballabgarh tahsil, in addition to the suspension of land revenue amounting to Rs. 29,845. The local rate in 47 villages amounting to Rs. 4,841-14-0 has also been suspended.

[Minister for Revenue.]

Order.

Remission statements of Ballabgarh tahsil on account of the damage done to crops by hail-storm were put up before me this morning. I checked the statement of village Salakhri. I examined khata Nos. 51-148-A, 54-168, and 54-169. Examination of these khata Nos. shows that in khata No. 51-148 the remission recommended by the Tahsildar is nil. The Sub-Divisional Officer, however, recommended total remission. The matured area of the holding is 2 bighas 5 biswas and damaged area comes to 11 biswas only. I cannot understand as to how total remission of the land revenue of this holding is possible. Again in khata No. 54-168 the area matured is 7 bighas 4 biswas. Out of this 2 bighas 10 biswas of area is damaged and the ratio determined is Re. 0-7-0. Such is the case with khata No. 54-169.

In this connection attention is drawn to paragraph 565 of the Land Administration Manual. The statements prepared seem to me not to have been prepared on any principle and are defective. Further the orders received from the Government recently are also to be complied with. I, therefore, hope that the Sub-Divisional Officer will please get these statements prepared in accordance with the rules read with the Government letter immediately as the statements are already overdue.

*Subject :—*DAMAGE BY HAILSTORM.

I HAVE not so far received statements showing proposed remission on account of damage by hailstorm in the Ballabgarh tahsil. This remission is to be calculated according to the new scale announced by the Revenue Member on the 12th April, 1937. A copy of this letter has already been sent to you. Its interpretation has given rise to some doubts and I have instructed the Tahsildar, Gurgaon, to adopt the following scale :—

- (a) where the crops from nil to Re. 0-4-0 pukhta remission will be Re. 0-16-0.
- (b) where the crop is from Re. 0-4-0 to Re. 0-8-0 pukhta remission will be Re. 0-8-0.
- (c) where the crop is from Re. 0-8-0 to Re. 0-16-0 pukhta remission will be nil.

Kindly have the statements prepared at once according to this scale and let me have them as early as possible.

SULLAGE DRAIN PASSING NEAR DYAL SINGH COLLEGE, LAHORE.

349. Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state :—

- (a) the year since when the big municipal storm channel which emerges from the covered portion between the Dyal Singh College, Lahore, and the Ram Mohan Roy Hostel, Lahore, and pursues its course along the kacha Nisbet Road, the Nisbet Road, and the Meleod Road, etc., is being used as a sullage drain ;
- (b) the depth of the drain and its portion which is silted up ;
- (c) the year during which the drain was cleaned right up to its bottom ;
- (d) whether the Government is aware that this sullage drain remains constantly full of filth and night-soil ;
- (e) the steps, if any, which the Government intend to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Not known, no record being available. Probably 14 or 15 years ago.

(b) The depth of the drain varies from 3 to 4 feet at different places. No portion is silted up : but a portion of the drain has been filled up reducing its original width to facilitate the flow of sullage in the portion of the drain used as a sullage drain.

(c) A gang of beldars is employed permanently. They clean it regularly from above downward.

(d) No. Ordinarily it contains only sullage water.

(e) The underground drainage scheme is shortly to come up for consideration of Government.

QUESTION OF OPENING A CIVIL COURT AT REWARI.

350. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of civil cases filed in the Gurgaon District, and in the Rewari tahsil during the last year,
- (b) whether the Government has ever considered the question of opening a civil court at Rewari, if not, why not ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a)

Number of civil cases filed in the Gurgaon district during the year 1936.

3,359

Number of civil cases filed in the Rewari tahsil during the year 1936.

835

(b) This is a question for the Honourable Judges. It is understood that they have considered it more than once but have always come to the conclusion that there is no need for a court.

HARIJANS AND THEIR EMPLOYMENT IN POLICE DEPARTMENT.

351. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state :—

- (a) whether in reply to a Harijan deputation at Jullundur the Minister for Development stated that such sections of the community were to be taken in the police and the military forces as enjoyed the confidence of the Government ;
- (b) if so, the names of the sections of community who enjoy the confidence of the Government ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) This is certainly not a fair reproduction of what my honourable colleague said. The general sense of his remarks, which were quite informal, was to advise Harijans to take advantage of the facilities which are already available to them to enter the police, and so help to liquidate such prejudices as still exist against them among the public.

(b) Does not arise.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Will the Honourable Premier please state as to what opinion the Honourable Minister for Development gave and in what words ?

Premier : I have already answered that question.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Did he say that Harijans should not be recruited to the Police ?

Premier : No.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Did the report published in the newspapers ever come to the notice of the Government ?

Premier : Newspapers are not infallible.

Sardar Mula Singh : Is the Honourable Premier aware that when the Honourable Sir Chhotu Ram visited Jullundur, he in replying to a deputation of Harijans who waited upon him regarding the repeal of the Land Alienation Act, said that they would be shoe-beaten if they pressed this point.

Premier : No, Sir, that is a gross misstatement.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Is there any list of communities maintained by Government who are in the good books of Government ?

Premier : I am not aware of any such lists.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Is it a fact that the representation of members of the depressed classes is very low in the Police ?

Premier : The same holds good for baniyas.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : What are the reasons for their not being included in the Police ?

Premier : So far as baniyas are concerned, they are not suitable for the kind of work.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : And so far as the Harijans are concerned ?

Premier : The high caste people would not allow them to live in the same lines.

Lala Duni Chand : Is Government prepared to allow entry into police and military services to all scheduled classes ?

Premier : There is no bar.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Do Government endorse the views of high caste Hindus ?

Premier : Government strongly condemns that attitude on the part of the Hindus (Hear, hear).

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : What is the attitude of Government towards Harijans as regards their recruitment to the Police ?

Premier : During the war they enlisted a whole battalion of the depressed classes.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : My question is regarding their recruitment to the Police.

Premier : I have already said that there is no bar to their being recruited to the Police.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Will the Honourable Premier let me know the number of Harijans recruited in the Police ?

Premier : If the honourable member will give me proper notice.

Lala Duni Chand : Are Harijans encouraged to enter Police Service ?

Premier : So far as I am concerned I will certainly welcome their recruitment.

Sardar Mula Singh (Urdu) : Will the Honourable Premier please state why inspite of the fact that there is no bar against Harijans being recruited to police, they are not recruited ?

Premier : I have already answered that question — because of the prejudices of other people and not of Government.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh (Urdu) : Are Government aware of the fact that, not to speak of Harijans, the Superintendent of Police of Hoshiarpur district has recruited a number of constables from outside the district ?

Premier : That does not arise.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh (Urdu) : Will Government try to remove the prejudice against the recruitment of Achhuts ?

Sardar Gopal Singh : Mr. Speaker, I very strongly protest against the use of the word "Achhut".

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Will the Government consider the expediency of categorically contradicting any false reports appearing in papers with respect to the utterances of a member of the Government ?

Premier : I shall be only delighted if the honourable member would strengthen my hands in order to allow me to take action. I shall be delighted to take advantage of his suggestion.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : I may be permitted to repeat my question. Perhaps I have not been able to make myself clear. Will the Government consider whether or not it is desirable on the part of Government to contradict such things which appear in the papers ?

Premier : I shall have to create a special department with a large staff to be able to contradict misrepresentations and misstatements in one section of the Press which I call the gutter press.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it not a fact that the Government contradicts the reports that appear against the Government in the press ?

Premier : Yes, if such reports appear in papers of repute.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : In view of the fact that allegations have been made on the floor of this House with respect to the utterances of an Honourable Minister of the Government, will not the Government consider the desirability of contradicting the allegations that have been so made ?

Premier : If the honourable member will name the paper in which those reports were published, I may be able to give an answer on the floor of the House just now.

Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Premier please state which papers he considers reputable and which disreputable ?

Premier : I am afraid the honourable member is expecting too much of me if he wants me to make any detailed statement on the floor of the House at once.

Lala Duni Chand : What does he think of the Partap and the Milap. What kind of papers are they ?

Premier : I refuse to answer that question.

Sardar Gopal Singh : Is the Honourable Premier aware of the fact that a lengthy cable was sent by the Warn Ashram to His Majesty the King Emperor protesting against the recruitment of the Harijans into the Police and Military Departments ?

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Have any members of the so-called depressed classes enjoyed the confidence of the Government so far as to be taken in the police ? Have any depressed classes been recruited in the police so far ?

Premier : I have already answered that question. The honourable member was not here then. The prejudice is not on the part of the Government, it is on the part of caste Hindus.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Should that stand in the way ? If that stands in the way, the Harijans students cannot even be admitted in schools. Would you countenance that ?

Premier : The Government would not countenance that. The Government is gradually trying to remove the prejudice which exists in schools.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Would you remove the prejudice from police as well ?

Premier : I will make every possible attempt to do so.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : And dismiss any Hindu who objects to the recruitment of Harijans, are you prepared to do that ?

Premier : I am afraid the honourable member is not voicing the opinion of all Hindus here at the moment.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Of the majority certainly.

Premier : I am not prepared to accept that.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : We are at one with Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Will Government issue instructions to district authorities of police that in future Harijans should be recruited ?

Premier : I have already said that there is no bar and I also stated on the floor of this House what were the considerations which have to be kept in view in making recruitment to the police service, but so far as the prejudice is concerned, I think that the honourable members should start in their own homes first to remove the prejudice so that there may be no difficulty for the Government to give effect to their policy.

Sardar Gopal Singh : My question has not yet been answered.

Premier : Will the honourable member please repeat the question ?

Sardar Gopal Singh : My question was whether the Honourable Premier is aware of the fact that a lengthy cable was sent by the Wari Ashram to His Majesty the King Emperor protesting against the entry of the Harijans into the Council and against the recruitment of Harijans into the police and the army ?

Premier : Very likely a communication of that kind was sent.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : I wish to know whether Government would adopt a policy of encouraging the recruitment of Harijans to the police service or would act according to what caste Hindus say.

Premier : The Government's policy is already clear that they would much welcome the removal of those prejudices but as I have already said unless the people themselves and particularly my friends — the high class Hindus — themselves begin this reform, it would not be easy for the Government to give effect to their wishes. If they begin this reform, it will be very easy for the Government to meet their wishes.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Are not all representatives of Hindus in this Assembly in favour of removal of prejudices ?

Premier : Everybody who considers the depressed classes as low classes is a high class Hindu as compared with the depressed class.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Has there been any occasion on which a so-called high class Hindu has objected to the enlistment of a depressed class member ?

Premier : There have been several occasions in which high class Hindus have objected to the people of scheduled castes taking water from wells.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : That is not my question. Will the Honourable Premier be good enough to extend to me the courtesy of answering the question which I put namely whether there has been any instance in the police lines or the Police Department where any high class Hindu employe of the Government has objected to the enlistment of a depressed class member ?

Premier : Yes, Sir.

Sardar Gopal Singh : Is it not a fact that a large number of Ram-dasias and Mazhabis belonging to Ludhiana, Jullundur and Ferozepore districts are serving in the British Army ?

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Is it not a fact that Muhammadans have objected to the depressed classes drawing water from the same well ?
(Voices : No).

Premier : No.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : You are wrong.

Syed Amjad Ali Shah : Mr. Speaker, have we not had enough discussion on this question ?

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Premier please state whether it is not a fact that the scheduled caste people have been given representation in the Assembly as part of Hindus on account of the representation of the so-called high caste Hindus ?

Premier : I am afraid the honourable member would not like me to express an opinion on this question, because I had a share myself in giving the scheduled castes representation in this Assembly.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Is the Honourable Premier aware that the communal award was amended as a result of a settlement between the high caste Hindus and the scheduled castes ?

Premier : I am sure the honourable member would not like me to dwell here on the fact that there were high caste Hindus in this province who very much objected to Mahatma Gandhi's attitude when he wanted to get the award amended.

SUPPLY OF WATER TO HISSAR CATTLE FARM.

352. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state :—

(a) the amount of canal water given to the Hissar Cattle Farm in 1900, 1920 and 1935 ;

[Pandit Shri Ram Sharma.]

- (b) whether there are any areas in the Rohtak division where the canal water does not reach, or where the supply of water is very inadequate ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : It is regretted that the answer to this question is not yet available. It will be communicated to the honourable member when ready.

SPEECH OF THE HONOURABLE MINISTER FOR DEVELOPMENT AT VILLAGE PAI, TAHSIL KAITHAL.

353. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state :—

- (a) whether the Government are aware of the fact that the Minister for Development visited Pai, tahsil Kaithal in May last ;
- (b) whether Government are also aware of the fact that all the district officials attended the gathering in connection with the village uplift movement ;
- (c) whether the Government are also aware of the fact that there in a speech the Honourable Minister said that the zamindars should not hear the nokdar topi wallas, that is, Congressmen, and that the Jats were accustomed to treat their opponents in this way (the Honourable Minister demonstrated a gesture by the Act of beating with his own hand) ;
- (d) what Government propose to do in the matter of regularising the official utterances on the part of the Ministers in future ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Yes.

(b) Many district officials were present at the gathering.

(c) It is impossible to recall exact words, but, to the best of his recollection, while referring to the abusive language frequently indulged in towards Government by some of the less responsible Congress workers the Honourable Minister for Development made the following remarks :—

“ The Punjab Government as now constituted is, in substance, a zamindar Government. Anybody who abuses this Government practically abuses zamindars. If any nokili topiwala (meaning Congress worker) comes to your village and begins to abuse Government do not listen to him at all Tell him to desist from abusive language or go away. If he still persists in his obnoxious conduct, I am sure he will decamp if you further tell him that you know less pleasant ways of sending him about his business.”

Here he may have involuntarily accompanied his words with a physical motion of his hands suggesting a push because that is what he meant.

(d) No action for the purpose of regulating the utterances of Ministers is needed.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Do the Cabinet as a whole agree with the views expressed by the Minister for Development in his speech quoted by the Premier on the floor of the House ?

Premier : Which particular view does the honourable member refer to ?

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : The view expressed in the paragraph quoted by him.

Premier : When the Honourable Minister warned the people against the abuse of the Government the whole Government is at one with him.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Will the Honourable Premier please ask the Minister for Development to demonstrate before the House the physical motion referred to in the answer ?

Mr. Speaker : Order, order.

Lala Duni Chand : Does the Government consider the Congressmen to be a body of responsible men or not ?

Premier : The Congressmen whose attitude and demeanour are like those of my honourable friend, the Leader of the Opposition command my esteem and respect. But there are also black sheep among the Congressmen.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Is the Honourable Premier sure that making of such statements before the public does not lead to provocation in the villages ?

Mr. Speaker : That asks for an expression of opinion and, therefore, cannot be allowed.

Lala Duni Chand : On a point of order. The Honourable Premier has told us that if there is a man in the Congress who is like Dr. Gopi Chand—

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member will please raise the point of order straightaway without making a speech.

Lala Duni Chand : In order to explain my point of order, it is necessary for me to utter a few sentences at least. The Honourable Premier has said that if there is a person like Dr. Gopi Chand he will command the respect and regard of the Premier. Is the Premier justified in giving such a reply ?

Mr. Speaker : It is for the Honourable Premier to decide what answer to give.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Premier please state whether he endorses the whole speech of the Minister for Development ?

Premier : I was not present when the speech was made.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : The Honourable Premier has given a quotation from the speech. He should therefore have a copy of the authorised version of the speech before him. What I want to know is whether the Government endorses all excepting what the Premier has been pleased to exclude ?

Premier : Will the Honourable member please state which particular portion he takes exception to ?

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : I have not the advantage of having the quotations before me.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Does the Honourable Premier endorse all that he has quoted in the answer or only a portion of it ?

Premier : For the benefit of honourable members I shall read it again.

“ Anybody who abuses this Government practically abuses zamindars.”

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Is that correct ?

Premier : In a general sense, yes. By zamindars the Honourable Minister meant the zamindars as constituting the Government. There is no difference of opinion on that point. It does not mean that non-zamindars are not respectable.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Are all zamindars respectable ?

Premier : So far as I am aware zamindars and non-zamindars stand on the same footing. What the Honourable Minister then said was “ tell him to desist from abusive language or go away.”

I do not think anybody can take objection to that part of the speech.

“ If he still persists in his obnoxious conduct I am sure he will decamp if you further tell him that you know less pleasant ways of sending him about his business.”

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Do you endorse that ?

Premier : I personally see little objection to that.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : What method did the Minister for Development suggest for expelling the Congressites if they still persisted ?

Premier : I have already stated it.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh (Urdu) : There are black sheep in every group. How many of them are there in the Unionist Government ?

Mr. Speaker : Order, order. Next question.

COMPLAINTS REGARDING ENCROACHMENTS ON MUNICIPAL LANDS IN SIRSA.

354. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state :—

- (a) whether the Deputy Commissioner, Hissar, has recently received any complaints from the people of Sirsa (Hissar) regarding encroachment on municipal lands, Municipal Committee, Sirsa ; if so, what action has been taken thereon ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that the present and past President and members of the Sirsa Municipal Committee are involved in these encroachments ;
- (c) whether any correspondence has passed between the Deputy Commissioner, Hissar, and the Sirsa Municipal Committee on the subject ; if so, whether he will lay it on the table of the House ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) No.

(b) and (c) Do not arise.

REPRESENTATION OF THE SCHEDULED CASTES IN SMALL TOWN COMMITTEE, TOHANA.

355. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) the total number of voters in Ward No. 5 (e) of Small Town Committee, Tohana, district Hissar ;
- (b) the strength of voters of the scheduled caste in the said ward ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that a member of the scheduled caste sought election in the last elections from that ward ; if so, with what result ;
- (d) what steps, if any, Government proposes to take to secure the proper representation of the scheduled caste in the Small Town Committee, Tohana ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana :

- (a) 237.
- (b) 128 (chamars).
- (c) Yes but the candidate was not elected.
- (d) when a suitable opportunity occurs the matter will receive due consideration.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Will the Honourable Minister consider the question of nominating Harijans ?

Minister : When an opportunity occurs, the matter will receive consideration, as I have already stated.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Has not that opportunity arisen now ?

Minister : It is over, I think. I believe the nominations have been made.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Are any of them Harijans ?

Minister : No Harijan candidate was forthcoming this time.

IMPOSITION OF WATER TAX BY BHIWANI MUNICIPALITY.

356. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state whether it is a fact that a large number of memorials, telegrams and representations have been submitted by the people of Bhiwani protesting against the imposition of water tax by the Bhiwani Municipality ; if so, what action, if any, has been taken so far on these representations, etc. ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : Yes, a large number of representations were received from the inhabitants of Bhiwani protesting against the imposition of water tax by the Bhiwani Municipal Committee. These representations were fully considered and rejected by the last Government.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Is the present Government prepared to reconsider the question ?

Minister : The present Government has no intention of reopening the matter.

THE ANNUAL INCOME OF LAHORE MUNICIPALITY FROM LAND REVENUE.

357. Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state :—

- (a) the amount of the annual land revenue recovered from owners of sites, whether built or unbuilt, situated in the Municipal limits of Lahore :
- (b) the amount of money realised from the entertainment tax within the limits of Lahore Municipality since its introduction ;
- (c) the amount of money realised annually by the imposition of fines received from persons convicted of municipal offences within the municipal limits of Lahore.

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) A sum of Rs. 36,688 was recovered during the year 1936-37 ;

(b) A sum of Rs. 30,877-13-0 was realised upto the end of May 1937 ;

(c) A sum of Rs. 6,771-6-9 was realised in the year 1936.

HOUSE TAX IN LAHORE MUNICIPALITY.

358. Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state whether the Municipal Committee, Lahore, before its supersession contemplated :—

- (a) to extend the limits within which the terminal tax is imposed so as to include new abadis within those limits ;
- (b) to revise the rates of terminal tax so as to raise the total income from it ;
- (c) whether the Committee made some estimates of the additional income from these and some other similar sources; if so, what were those other sources ;
- (d) if the answer to (c) above be in the affirmative, whether the Government is prepared to explore the possibilities of these sources before imposing a house tax ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a)) Yes.

(b) Yes.

(c) The details of the estimates of additional income are not forthcoming from the municipal records. A sub-committee was appointed in 1930 which made recommendations for additional income amounting to Rs. 6,87,400 including the increase from terminal tax. In recent years much has been done to adopt the recommendations of the sub-committee and the income has increased by about Rs. 3,80,000 since 1930. In June 1936 the Municipal Committee unanimously recommended the imposition of house tax and the transfer of the proceeds of the entertainment tax recovered from Lahore from provincial to Lahore municipal funds.

(d) The matter will be considered in all its aspects before a final decision on the house tax is made.

TRAFFIC ON UPPER BARI DOAB CANAL ROADS.

*359. Dr. Sant Ram Seth : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that no restrictions were ever imposed on the traffic over the unreserved canal roads at the Upper Bari Doab Canal since its origin upto 31st March, 1936 ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that there was no gate erected at the Lulliani (Lahore) Canal bridge on the unreserved canal road before 1936 ;
- (c) whether it is fact that nowhere except Lulliani, any gate on the unreserved canal road, Upper Bari Doab Canal was in existence up till the 30th March 1937, between Ghawind and Lulliani ;
- (d) whether Babu Salig Ram and other residents of village Jhaman, district Lahore, submitted an application to the Honourable Minister for Revenue, on the 13th May 1937, in which they protested against the erection of gate at the unreserved road at Lulliani bridge of the Upper Bari Doab Canal ;
- (e) if the answer to (d) above be in the affirmative, whether he is prepared to lay on the table their original application and state whether any inquiry has been made in the matter ; if so, the result of the same ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) No. The terms "reserved" and "unreserved" canal roads have been introduced recently. All canal roads are controlled to traffic whenever found necessary in the interests of works, and occasionally to establish right of the Government to prohibit use of these canal roads to the people.

(b) Yes.

(c) Yes.

(d) Yes.

(e) Yes. The petition is laid on the table. Enquiry has been made ; the bank has been thrown open to public subject to conditions mentioned in (a).

Copy of a petition from Salig Ram and ten others, Jahman, dated the 13th May, 1937, to the Honourable Revenue Minister, Government, Punjab, Lahore.

We the undersigned residents of village Jahman beg to state as follows :—

- (1) Since the origin of the Upper Bari Doab Canal no restrictions were imposed ever on the traffic vehicles over the right bank road (unreserved) but for the last three or four months the Canal authorities have erected a gate at the Lulliani bridge and have blocked the traffic on the unreserved road over this canal. This act of theirs has caused a good deal of inconvenience to public in general and cartsmen, zamindars and the passengers on horse backs in particular. At no other part of the canal except at Lulliani the way is blocked. By blocking the public traffic the canal authorities have done great injustice ; ordinarily a road or foot path used by the public continuously for 20 years without any hinderance cannot be blocked by its owners according to the provision of the specified Relief Act. Then how the Canal authorities of Raiwind division can be justified in blocking the road which has remained open to public for more than 40 years ?

Under these circumstances we would request you to intervene in the case and ask the Canal authorities to remove the gate erected at Lulliani bridge.

CYCLING ON THE CANAL BANK ROADS.

360. Dr. Sant Ram Seth : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the Superintending Engineer, Canal Department, Amritsar Circle, issued a letter on the 6th March, 1937, to the Executive Engineer, Raiwind division, to the effect that no cycling be allowed on the reserved (inspection) canal bank road without permission and that he issued similar letters to the other Executive Engineers, Canal Department, under him as a result of which restrictions were imposed by the Canal authorities on the cycling on the canal roads ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that on the 8th March 1930, Mian Sir Fazli-Hussain, the then Revenue Member, Government, Punjab stated in the Punjab Legislative Council in answer to question No. *2907¹ put by Sardar Hira Singh Narli, M. L. C., that there was no prohibition on the eye over the canal reserved roads ;
- (c) if the answer to (a) and (b) above be in the affirmative, the grounds for imposing fresh restrictions on the cycling ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Yes.

(b) Yes.

(c) All Superintending Engineers are being told to cancel any orders issued regarding the necessity for passes for cyclists.

POINT OF ORDER RE EXTENSION OF HOURS OF SITTING OF THE ASSEMBLY.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta (South Eastern Towns, General, Urban) : Sir, I wish to raise a point of order. The point of order that I wish to raise is an important one and I would request you to give your considered ruling on it. During the last five days we have had two rulings from you on the same point which are conflicting with each other. I would therefore request you to give a ruling as to which of these two rulings should be considered as correct and as binding upon us. The two rulings that I refer to are with regard to the extension of time of this House. On the 2nd of July when a point of order was raised by my honourable friend, Dr. Gokul Chand Narang, whether you can extend the time of the House legally in view of His Excellency's instructions that the debate on any demand cannot last beyond two days, you were pleased to put the question to the House and to extend the time. While on the 6th, you were pleased to give a different ruling when a similar point was raised by my friend Diwan Chaman Lall, that no extension could be given the Premier was asked to resume his seat, although his speech was unfinished. I want to know as to which of these two rulings is to be considered as correct.

Mr. Speaker : I will give a considered ruling after going into the matter.²

ASSEMBLY RULES COMMITTEE.

Mr. Speaker : Honourable members, I would invite your attention to one or two facts. On the 12th April last at Lahore, with the approval of the House, I appointed a committee to draft rules for regulating subject to the provisions of the Government of India Act, its procedure and the conduct of its business. The following members were then approved by the House :—

Mian Abdul Aziz.
 Mir Maqbool Mahmood.
 Khan Sahib Chaudhri Riasat Ali.
 Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan.
 Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri.
 Lala Duni Chand.
 Diwan Chaman Lall.
 Sardar Sampuran Singh.

In addition to these the following were ex-officio members :—

Deputy Speaker,
 Advocate-General, and Myself.

Several meetings of that committee have been held and they have drafted a certain number of rules. But I have noticed that certain rules are perhaps proposed to be made on party lines and when there is a tie, I am expected to give my casting vote. That makes my position extremely awkward. Ultimately when these rules are considered by this House, a tie might take place and I might be expected to vote. Perhaps I might change my mind by that time and may not consider my previous vote to have been given rightly. That is a very awkward position. Therefore I would request the honourable members to allow me not to sit and preside over that committee. I suggest in my place the name of the Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I make one submission? What I feel is this that the Speaker is a non-party man and it is for the Speaker to use his discretion and give his rulings in such matters where parties are divided. If you add to the committee a definite party man in your place, would it not be taken as a favour to a party which would secure a majority for that particular party.

Mr. Speaker : Honourable members may suggest the name of some body else who knows something about the rules and procedure.

12 noon.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I do not think there can be any better fitted man than yourself, you being in this position a non-party man.

Premier : May I point out in reference to what my honourable friend on the opposite side said. Nomination of members to this committee was not on party lines. If it had been on party lines, the honourable member may rest assured, that there would have been a considerably larger number of members from this side on that committee. You must remember that we wanted a fully representative committee and not a committee of majority of our party to frame these rules of procedure. I also assure the honourable members opposite that it would not be wise to do this work without an impartial committee. After all, these rules will come before the House and if we want to deal with these rules on party lines, there is nothing to stop us from amending them here. Therefore, I hope your sound suggestion will be accepted by the members.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I made my remarks on the assumption that the division in the committee was on party lines as was said by you.

Mr. Speaker : Not always. Only in the case of certain rules.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : That is why you want another gentleman and therefore I submit that there can be no better fitted person than yourself.

Diwan Chaman Lal : There is one point which is intimately connected with this problem. May I know whether you have made up your mind definitely not to serve on this committee? If you have not definitely made up your mind, I would like to support my honourable friend, Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava's request that you should continue sitting as the Chairman of this committee, because, I understand, the work left is very little. I think we will be able to finish our labours within the next few days after we start sitting. So, if you have not definitely made up your mind I would request you to continue as the Chairman of this committee.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : As a member of this committee, I would submit before you that there has been not a single occasion when any vote was cast on party lines. As a matter of fact not a single occasion can be pointed out when our party gave any definite instructions. I can assure you that we have been working quite independently and honestly in the best interest of the committee. I assure you that we will not work on party lines at all.

Mr. Speaker : I think the honourable member has misunderstood me. I never meant and never said that either the Opposition party or the Ministerial party give any directions to the members of the committee. In the committee itself, I observed, rightly or wrongly, that sometimes there were two parties, and when there was a tie I was expected to give my casting vote and that made my position awkward. Ultimately when these rules are considered by this House, a tie may take place again and then I will be placed in a still further awkward position. I am thankful to the members of the Opposition, Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava as well as Diwan Chaman Lal for their confidence in me. I am a servant of the House and as such I dare not refuse whatever the House may order me to do. But I would again request that I may be excused and the Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal, or if the honourable members suggest the name of anybody else, who knows something about the rules, may be taken in my place. That is my humble request and I hope my honourable friends will accede to it.

Premier : I understand what you wish to convey to us is whether the voting was on party lines or not on party lines, you were sometimes placed in an awkward position when there was a tie and therefore, you want to be relieved of the duties of the Chairman so far as that committee is concerned. I think there was nothing in the suggestion, which has brought forth a protest from my honourable friend opposite. If there is some one else more suitable than the Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal, so far as the rules and procedure are concerned, we shall be glad to consider his name. The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal is one of those people who have studied the question of procedure and parliamentary practice and he will be very suitable to take your place on this committee.

Mr. Speaker : If I were ill or otherwise unable to preside over the committee, the House shall have to nominate someone else in my place.

Lala Duni Chand : In this case you are indispensable.

Mr. Speaker : I again appeal to the Honourable Leader of the Opposition and Diwan Chaman Lal to relieve me of the duties of the Chairman of the committee.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I only made that suggestion from the constitutional point of view. I never wanted to enter into a protest against what you desire. My point was that you enjoy a favourable position. It is true that you may be put in an awkward position also. Supposing though there is no chance—there was a tie in this House then also you will be put in an awkward position.

Mr. Speaker : I shall perform that duty boldly. (Cheers).

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : There are, I think, precedents and conventions according to which the Chair is expected to cast its vote. We also think that if you are not in a position to preside over the committee you can depute your deputy in your place.

Mr. Speaker : Probably the honourable members are not aware that my health is not quite good and that that also is a matter for consideration. Taking all these things together, you will allow me, I hope, to nominate somebody else in my place.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : You can nominate your nominee yourself.

Mr. Speaker : I have suggested the name of the Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal as he was the Deputy President of the Council and so far as I know, knows the rules and practice better than most of us. In my opinion he is the most suitable person, in my absence, to act as the Chairman of the committee.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : I have not the least objection to it.

Mr. Speaker : So, the Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal will take my place.

Premier : May I make one suggestion, through you? It is necessary that we should get through these rules as quickly as possible. I will request the members of the committee that they should sit from day to day immediately after the Assembly session is over and finish the work as quickly as possible. If any member finds that it is not possible for him to attend regularly, I should be grateful, if he will, in the interest of the House, say so and ask for somebody else to be taken in his place. I noticed that the attendance was meagre during the previous sittings.

Mian Abdul Aziz : The date for the next meeting has already been fixed. (Voices : Not fixed but proposed). Anyhow, in continuation of this session it would be difficult. Let it be some days after the adjournment of the Assembly.

Premier : The session would very likely finish on the 20th, and there will be a 6 days' interval.

Mr. Speaker : I may add for the information of the honourable members of the committee that the committee is expected to sit from day to day till its labours are finished.

Diwan Chaman Lal : Before you proceed to the next subject I want to say one word. There may be some misunderstanding in regard to the statement made by the Honourable Premier about the attendance on this committee. May I inform members, through you, that as far as we are concerned, we have been attending every session of this committee, from the beginning right up to the end ?

Premier : I am not referring to the members on the opposite side. I am referring to other members of the committee.

Mr. Speaker : I endorse the statement made by Diwan Chaman Lal as perfectly correct.

COMMITTEE TO CONSIDER THE DUTIES OF MARSHAL.

Mr. Speaker : I promised the other day that I would appoint a small committee to consider the duties of the marshal and place the report of that committee before the House. In pursuance of that promise I propose to appoint a committee of five gentlemen, namely, (1) Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava, (2) Dr. Saif-ud-Din Kitchlew, (3) the Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal and the Leader of the House. The Deputy Speaker will represent me. They will consider the matter in due course and place their report before the House for its approval and consideration.

DEMANDS FOR GRANTS.

EDUCATION.

Finance Minister (The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal) : I beg to move :

That a sum not exceeding Rs. 1,52,69,100 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1938, in respect of Education (Excluding European and Anglo-Indian).

Mr. Speaker : Demand moved :

That a sum not exceeding Rs. 1,52,69,100 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1938, in respect of Education (Excluding European and Anglo-Indian).

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : Sir, may I make a submission before you in relation to procedure. If you will kindly see amendment No. 1 and amendment No. 11, you will find that they cover almost all the points referred to in other cuts. Therefore if you kindly allow us to discuss item No. 1 and then item No. 11, I think it will facilitate the discussion, and all members will have an opportunity to speak.

Mr. Speaker : Not only nos. 1 and 11 but items nos. 20, 28, 35, 37, 48, 56, 61 and 63 also relate to more or less to the same subject and cover the same ground. Therefore, I have no objection for these items to be discussed together.

Premier : I believe what my honourable friend, Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan, meant was that we should follow the same procedure as was followed in the case of General Administration and Police Grants, i.e., to select one or two cuts and allow the House to go over the whole field.

Mr. Speaker : Provided members can make their speeches relevant.

Premier : Therefore items (1) and (11) which cover the same ground may be taken up together.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : And votes taken together ?

Premier : Yes, that might be so.

System of University Education.

Sardar Hari Singh (Kangra and Northern Hoshiarpur, Sikh, Rural) :
Mr. Speaker, I beg to move—

That the item of Rs. 2,79,000 on account of Grants to University be reduced by
Rs. 100.

At least, Mr. Speaker, we have muddled through a series of controversial issues raised during the budget discussion on the previous demands, with victories and triumphs and jubilations on the other side and with defeats and disappointments on this side of the House and we have come to a stage when, without treachery to our respective political creeds, we may conveniently shed off and forget our political leanings, idiosyncracies and predilections and put our heads together to consider a matter which knows no politics. Education, I submit, knows no politics and no individual or party be the party Unionist or non-Unionist or anti-Unionist. I dare say whichever individual or party has the audacity to introduce political controversy into the sacred temple of education (hear, hear) will be betraying the interests of the coming generations of the Punjab. Now a stage has been reached, a platform has been reached where all sections of the House might unite to devise a system of education, a national system of education, for the effective removal of illiteracy from this land of five rivers. Education has always been an important subject, but it is doubly important at this juncture in our political life, when with the introduction of the new constitution and consequent on the enfranchisement of a vast number of people of the Punjab, it is our duty, it is our inescapable moral obligation, to educate our masters outside, just as the House of Commons did in the year 1831 after the passage of the Reforms Act. Now to come to the real topic, Mr. Speaker, I think it would be rank ingratitude on my part if I do not preface my speech on the cut motion before the House by paying a tribute to the Punjab University, my alma mater, at whose breast I have had the honour, the pride and glory to suck milk for a number of years together—the Punjab University which has for the last 55 years been striving to spread education in this province, striving to raise the cultural, the mental, and the moral level of the Punjabis. I am not here, it is not for me, to cavil at the University, to carp at it, to malign it or to pillory it. But, I would like to draw the attention of the honourable members of this House to the views, the recommendations and the criticism of eminent educational authorities from the Sadler Commission on to Hartog and Anderson Committees, so that with the suggestions made by those eminent authorities on education we might evolve a programme to reform, to re-orientate, to revitalise and to re-invigorate the foundations of the University system of education, so that our solitary University may with a new life and new spirit be able to cope with the new and growing needs of our province—needs, social, economic, educational and political—so that our University might become the befitting embodiment of Punjabi emotions, Punjabi sentiments, character and genius. We are in duty bound to see that the system of education in this province in the interests of our youth, in the interest of the coming generations, is reconstructed with an eye on the morrow and practical needs and requirements of the Punjab, the dynamic Punjab, in view.

What is my ideal of a University? I would like my alma mater, the Punjab University, to bring about a harmonious blending of various cultures of various communities, Hindus, Muslims, Sikhs, Anglo-Indians, and Christians, if you like, the harmonious blending of various cultures of the different communities residing in this province, like the rainbow colours, peaceable and peaceful, each lending its peculiar charm and beauty to the whole. In the second place I would like our University to foster and promote the spirit of nationalism and to emphasise the unity of various creeds and races inhabiting this vast land, to release forces and to create an ideology so that in the years to come we may overcome the centrifugal tendencies which have been from time immemorial the bane of Indian politics and which may once again assert themselves under Federal India of to-morrow. In the third place I would like my alma mater, the Punjab University, to help our youth not only to outgrow the medieval communalism, sectionalism, sectarianism and all 'isms' of that sort, but I would also like the University to teach and train our youth to outstrip that militant, aggressive nationalism which is the bane of world politics to-day, and has well nigh brought us on the brink of a most terrible cataclysm, while the memories of the last conflagration are still fresh in our minds. Further I would like the University to create in our youth an international outlook, an international outlook which is co-operative, anti-war and peace-loving in character. In the fourth place, I would have my University to cater to the social and economic needs of the new Punjab, to work in such a manner as to offer solution to the various problems that may confront the Punjab. In the fifth place, I would have the University to create a treasure house of knowledge and literature in the vernacular of the people of the Punjab (hear, hear).

Lastly I would like the Punjab University to become a true university, a university among the universities of the world (hear, hear).

Now let me have a glance at the history of university education in India, or for that matter in the Punjab. It was in the year 1857, the year of the dreadful mutiny in India, that our first universities were founded, the presidency universities of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay. In pursuance of Sir Charles Wood's despatch these universities were founded on the model of the London university which at that time was an examining university. Later on in the year 1882, the Punjab University was founded on the same model, that is to say it was created as an examining and affiliating university. Although the London University, on whose model these universities were founded in India, was reformed a few years later, our universities continued as they were founded even when the University Act of 1904 was passed, and the Universities under that Act were given the opportunities of becoming teaching universities. The Punjab University did not avail of the opportunity offered to it. Up till the year 1919 it was a teaching institution only in two respects, as regards the Oriental College and the Law College. In the year 1919, no doubt the university appointed some professors, readers and lecturers in certain faculties and began to co-ordinate higher studies, the Honours School and post-graduate studies in the colleges at Lahore. The Sadler Commission which was appointed in the year 1917, and which submitted its report to the Government of India in the year 1919, made a number of far-reaching recommendations for radical reform in the university system of India, but the Punjab University did not pay any heed to those recommendations, dominated as it was by vested interests which had long been identified with the old system. This report of the Sadler Commission popularly known as the Calcutta University Commission, was the beginning, or shall I say, the signal for universal attacks on the university system of education in India. From that time eminent educationists began to criticise the university system of education ruthlessly; trenchant criticism was directed upon our university system from the platforms of educational conferences held under the auspices of Government Education Departments, and from the forum of inter-university conferences held at Simla and Delhi and from various convocation addresses delivered by authorities on educational matters—authorities whose authority we cannot question, till, Mr. Speaker, in the Punjab, there was appointed the University Commission but its recommendations too were shelved. The late Dr. A. C. Woolner in his address at the University Conference in the year 1934 at Delhi said with regard to the subject of reforming universities: "The reform is overdue and there is dissatisfaction with the present system which the universities cannot ignore".

Everybody would agree that the university system requires radical reform. There is no question about it. But we have to see how to reform it. My humble submission is that in the first place in order to reform the university system of education we must begin with the reform of the university itself. We must reform the constitution of the university, the senate and the syndicate and place its constitution on a wider and more democratic basis. A static body with a conception of its functions which were laid down in old Acts can no longer meet the requirements of a dynamic population.

Page 19 of "Education in India in the year 1934-35" contains the following. The Educational Commissioner writes in the report referring to its attitude of universities to reform:—

"This attitude is exemplified by the reluctance of the Punjab University to implement the findings of the recent committee. The Punjab report is quite frank."

And an extract is taken by the Educational Commissioner from the Punjab report. The extract says:—

"What the province really needs is higher and far more efficient system of secondary education but this reform is still being resisted by the University so largely constituted by those interested in sectarian and communal collegiate institutions who fear that their influence and importance will decline if the present system is altered in any respect."

[S. Hari Singh.]

If the university stands in our way, we must reform it. We must change its constitution so that it may not stand in our way and in the way of progress of the Punjab. My second submission is a most important submission and it relates to the medium of instruction. Mr. Speaker, it is a monstrous monstrosity that in India the medium of instruction is a language which is neither the language of the teacher nor of the taught (hear, hear). In no other country in the world, foreign language is made the medium of instruction. It is a dangerous experiment which India has tried at a heavy cost to the student community. If our University has to become an outlet of our culture we must start with making our own tongue the medium of instruction in all stages of education, secondary and university, which alone can be the vehicle for the expression of our deepest thoughts and the stirrings of our soul and of our noblest emotions and sentiments. Sadler Commission's Report, Volume V, Part II, page 29, says in regard to the medium of instruction :—

“ The use of the mother tongue in India as an instrument of mental training has long been neglected in the school system. That neglect is in part due, we believe (though only in part) to the premature introduction of English as the chief medium. There is much evidence in support of Sir Harcourt Butler's view that the boys who are taught through the medium of the vernacular until the highest stages of the high school are reached show markedly greater intelligence than those whose earlier education has been more largely conducted through the medium of English.”

The Saddler Commission recommended at the time that a beginning might be made with making the mother tongue as the medium of instruction in the matriculation. Had that recommendation been put into practice at that time, we might have expected that by easy and natural transition the medium of instruction in our university would have become the vernacular by now. Sceptics, those who might say that vocabulary in our vernaculars is not large and adequate enough for us to adopt vernaculars as the media of instruction in higher stages of education, may be referred to the Osmania University at Hyderabad where the highest research and instruction work is being carried on in Urdu. My third submission is this. I beg to submit that our university like other universities in India is a huge factory for manufacturing graduates. Look at the year 1934-35. The Education Report of that year says: the number of B.A.'s passed out of the University is 1,635. (A voice: Whose report?) Education Report of the Punjab. It is a Government publication. M.A.'s 211, LL.B.'s 327. On reading these figures, one is tempted to exclaim: Whither this army? In order to make the University able to perform its functions as a teaching university, I would have it relieved from the encumbrance of secondary education. I would have a Secondary Education Board created in order to control and prescribe courses for secondary education and to frame syllabus and to conduct examinations and further I might suggest that the courses of secondary education may well extend up to the 11th or 12th year. Only those boys should go up for university education who could be reasonably expected to benefit by that training and instruction. The rest should be shunted off to vocational and technical training. Thus freed, the Punjab University can devote itself to its real university work in a real university atmosphere with the number of students decreased. With the quantity less and with the quality improved, the University will be able to stiffen its standards and raise them. My next submission regarding the University reform is that the University should specialize in research. This province of ours is a province of the peasant, is a province of the soldier and may I say that it is a province of potential industrialists. In order that the University may serve the economic and other needs of the province, it should specialize in agrarian studies, in military studies and in industrial studies. I would also like the University to include some more subjects in its curricula. It should include music, sociology, psychology and particularly educational psychology which is a most important subject, public affairs, international relations, aeronautics, etc., in its curriculum.

My next point is in regard to the advancement of education in our province. My words are addressed both to the Government and the University. In England, and I suppose, in other civilised countries, it is the duty of the State to see that those scholars who can benefit by a certain standard of education are not to be debarred from profiting by that standard of education merely because of their inability to shoulder the financial burden imposed by that education. I would refer the honourable members of this House to Fisher's Education Act of 1918. In England according to Fisher's Education Act of 1918 it is laid down that—

“Children and young persons should not be debarred by inability to pay fees from receiving benefits of any form of education by which they are capable of profiting.”

I would like to read out to the Honourable Minister of Education and the honourable members of this House certain statistics regarding the scholarships awarded by the government and by other institutions. In the year 1934-35, so says the University Bureau Report, the number of students receiving scholarships was 50,638 including 12,232 girls. University, etc., grant stipends to 58,000 students and the report says that these statistics do not include those in receipt of other than treasury and university grants. While on this point I would specially press the claim of depressed class boys. At the present time the depressed class boys no doubt enjoy half-fee concession in the middle departments of secondary schools...

Mr. Speaker : Will the honourable member please speak to the motion ?

Sardar Hari Singh : I am talking of the secondary system of education.

Mr. Speaker : Secondary system is not controlled by the University.

Sardar Hari Singh : I am submitting that the depressed class boys should be given concession in the high classes for which the syllabus is prescribed by the University.

Point No. 8 is specially addressed to the University Governing Body. In all affiliated colleges at Lahore and perhaps in other places, according to my experience, sufficient accommodation is not provided for the students who are studying in their classes. So those students have to put up in boarding houses which are privately managed but are recognised by the university.

I would request the University to make it a condition—a mandatory condition—that no college should allow its students to live in hostels which are not directly under their management. If they are going to admit students from rural areas, they must make arrangements for their boarding and lodging under their own control. In these so-called recognised hostels, the students are exposed to undesirable influences.

My point No. 9 is an important point. I would draw the attention of all educationists, the honourable members of this House, the ministry of education in particular to the children who are in the parlance of educational psychology known as "C" children. "C" children are children who are mentally defective, mentally backward, mentally deficient—so deficient that they cannot follow the education imparted to ordinary normal children. These "C" children are subnormal in their mental faculties. I dare say that the stagnation, leakage and wastage in the primary stages of which the provincial and Indian educational reports complain year after year is to some extent due to the enrolment of these boys in those schools.

Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri : Why ?

Sardar Hari Singh : Why ? Due to the admission of mentally deficient and subnormal children for whom there is no special arrangement. In other countries, e.g., America, England, and other European countries, there are separate special schools for making such subnormal and mentally deficient children useful citizens by imparting them education and instruction through special methods.

In regard to history books. There is no gainsaying the fact that there are certain chapters of our history which on the impressionable young student create undesirable impressions. There are certain portions of our history which might poison the minds of our students. There are no doubt facts but facts will also have to be expunged if they lead to communal bitterness (hear, hear). There is a demand—a most pertinent demand on behalf of the women of the Punjab—that home science should be made compulsory in schools and colleges, that home science should be an integral part of the curricula at the F.A. and B.A. stage. I would specially press this on the attention of the ministry of education. There is an Intermediate Girls College at Amritsar which is an important commercial centre and next to Lahore in importance. I would request that that college may be raised to the degree stage. With these words I wind up my remarks on this cut motion (Cheers).

Mr. Speaker : Demand under consideration, motion moved—

That the item of Rs. 2,79,000 on account of Grants to University be reduced by Rs. 100.

Mrs. J. A. Shah Nawaz : On a point of information, Sir. Do we understand that we are going to take up cut No. 1 now and discuss the others later on or that cuts Nos. 1 and 11 would be taken up together ?

Sardar Hari Singh : I think it would be most convenient if you divide this subject into three parts,—University education, secondary education and primary education.

Minister for Education : I would make a submission. The best procedure would be to take up cuts Nos. 1 and 11 and have a general discussion on the educational policy and not discuss those cuts which raise specific issues, for instance, you have cut No. 2 on which some one wishes to speak of the Rupa College. We would leave them for the present and raise a general discussion.

Mr. Speaker : As items Nos. 1 and 11 have a lot in common, they may be discussed together, but, if necessary, they will be put to the vote of the House separately.

Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana (Mailsi, Muhammadan, Rural) : Sir, the general feeling outside the House is, and it is shared by many of us, that we are not deriving the benefit or getting the proper return for the money that we spend on our education, whether through the University or through our Education Department. The intellect that is acquired by the youth of this province through our educational institutions is often misguided and misdirected to an injurious path from the national point of view. The poison of communalism is found more among our educated population than it exists among the simple public living in villages who are so far deprived of this blessing. (Hear, hear).

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Then close down our schools.

Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana : I am not going to follow the suggestion of my friend, Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang, who prompts me to say as he prompts others, who sit with him on the other side. I have known him too well to be caught in his net.

The two great modern poets of India have expressed their feelings on this subject. I would quote first that great philosopher of the East—Dr. Sir Muhammad Iqbal who says—

خوش تو ہیں ہم بھی جوانوں کی ترقی سے مگر
لب خندان سے نکل جاتی ہے فریاد بھی ساتھ
ہم سمجھتے تھے کہ لائیکٹی فراغت تعلیم
کیا خبر تھی کہ چلا آئیگا اعداد بھی ساتھ
مگر میں پڑ پڑ کے شیریں تو ہوئی جلوہ نما
لیکے آئی ہے مگر تیشہ فرہاد بھی ساتھ

Translated into English it would run like this—

“ We are pleased with the intellectual progress that our youngmen are making, but this feeling of pleasure is often mixed with pain and grief. We were under the impression that the net result of education is national prosperity and peace of mind, but unexpectedly we find that it is accompanied by dissatisfaction and lack of faith in each other. If I were to quote a simile I would cite the story of Parwez, King of Persia, who succeeded in winning the hand of young and beautiful Shirin not knowing that his beautiful spouse was accompanied by the fatal axe of her former lover Farhad.”

Then Akbar Allahabadi in whose humour and satire we generally find the bitter but true realities of our present society has expressed his view on this subject. He says—

تعلیم کا شور ایسا تہذیب کا غل ایسا
برکت جو نہیں ہوتی سسٹم کی خرابی ہے

[K. B. Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana.]

Translated into English it would run like this—

"Education is the cry of the day, and culture the order of the times. Both of these bear no fruit; the secret of their failure lies in the defect of the system in imparting these."

My own feeling about this subject is that all our efforts to prepare the ground for the crop of nationalism will be a waste of energy as long as the entire field is overshadowed by the tree of communalism, and the pruning scissors of impartiality, justice and toleration used by our sagacious Premier in lopping and cutting the overgrowth of this tree will not yield the desired results unless we check its growth permanently and deprive it of its nourishment, so that it dries up and dies a natural death (hear, hear).

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : By abolishing communal electorates.

Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana : Dr. Sahib has just suggested the abolishing of communal electorates. "How bold is the thief who carries a lamp with him." I will come to that at the end of my speech. I am glad he has given me an opportunity of replying to him on this subject.

Mr. Speaker : Can he give an opportunity, while I am in this Chair? (Laughter).

Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana : When I come to that subject, I hope the Chair will allow me to speak on it and will appreciate what I say. I have been a student of History in my own humble way and have been in close touch with the politics of this province for the last seventeen years and my diagnosis of this disease is this, that the tree of communalism is provided with the soil on which it grows by the inaccurate History text-books that are taught in our schools. (A voice: That is one factor). It is watered by the denominational institutions: it receives oxygen from the irresponsible Press and the sunshine on which it flourishes is provided by the fanatic religious preachers and the selfish communal leaders. (Hear, hear). This is my diagnosis.

It is not in my jurisdiction and province at the present moment to discuss all the elements that nourish this tree. I will only make casual remarks about the fanatic religious preachers and selfish communal leaders and I feel that it is impossible for us to get rid of them unless we get a Mustafa Kamal or a Hitler even at the cost of making my friend from Sialkot a "Political Orphan" (A voice: Including yourself). We cannot do away with the fanatic religious preachers and selfish communal leaders with the limitations and obstacles placed in the way of popular Ministers in this country. About the Press, it is rather a ticklish question. I must say a sentence about the Press.

At this stage the Assembly adjourned for lunch.

The Assembly re-assembled at 2 P.M. Mr. Speaker in the Chair.

Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana : Sir, before we adjourned for lunch, I was discussing the elements that are responsible for the nourishment of the communal spirit that has over-shadowed the entire ideal and sentiment of our national activities and I said that these elements are denominational institutions, the Press, the fanatical religious and communal leaders. I think it will not be irrelevant for me if I were to suggest remedies in my own humble way about all of them. But before I pass on to the undesirable text-books on history that are taught to us in schools I would make a few remarks about the Press and the denominational institutions. Newspapers can do great good to promote the cause of better communal relations in this country, but unfortunately they have not been doing their duty and as a rule sacrificed the interests of the motherland at the altar of their circulations and I feel that even at the present they have succeeded in hood-winking and misleading the All-India National Congress.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Ah !

Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana : Personally I welcome the acceptance of offices by the Congress and no one is more pleased than myself, because that will afford us an opportunity to run a healthy race with them (hear, hear) and the public will be able to decide—.

Sardar Hari Singh : And accept Rs. 500 as salary.

Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana : About us on merits and I can assure my friend that we shall not occupy these benches a minute after we find that this is not our proper place. Why I said that the Press has hood-winked the Congress is this, I may be entirely wrong, but as I have been connected with the Press, my feeling is that the entire Press did not believe that acceptance of office was in the best interest of India but they felt that if the Congress did not accept office, it was bound to resort to unconstitutional activities and if they did not support them they would lose their circulation and if they supported the Congress the Press Act would adversely affect their pocket in other ways.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh (Urdu) : On a point of order, is the honourable member speaking to the point ?

Mr. Speaker : Will the honourable member please speak to the motion ?

Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana : I will leave the Press, as it is, because my friends do not wish me to say anything about it.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : It is the Speaker who does not want you to speak about it.

Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana : The Speaker has interrupted me at the request of some of the members. A word about the denominational institutions and that is this. In my humble opinion, there is no justification for denominational institutions at the present moment. They have outlived their utility, if there was any at all (hear, hear).

Sardar Hari Singh : And so has communal award and communal representation.

Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana : It might have been necessary to have the denominational institutions when people had to be attracted towards education by artificial means, but they are now definitely an unmixed evil. They involve unnecessary wastage of our public funds and also feed communalism and fan the fire of communal hatred.

[K. B. Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana.]

Coming to the subject of history text-books I have already quoted the opinion of Dr. Sir Muhammad Iqbal and Akbar Allahabadi. Before I proceed I wish to quote one or two passages from the speech of Sir Akbar Hyderi which was delivered by him in Hyderabad and which was reproduced in the Eastern Times of the 7th July, 1936. The speech is reported as follows: Analysing the causes of communal antagonism that prevails in many parts of India, Sir Akbar Hyderi said—

“ This was mainly attributable to the way in which history text-books had been written and taught. History should be regarded as an organic and evolutionary process in which the different races or dynasties succeeded each other almost inevitably owing to the operation of social, economic and political causes and where each in its own special way contributed to the cultural development of the country as a whole.

He wished that historians, instead of dwelling on wars and persecutions due to religious bigotry, would lay special emphasis on those events and actions which promoted social harmony and co-operation. He instanced examples like grants made by Tippu Sultan to Hindu temples and his request to Brahmins for prayers for his success or grants that Aurangzeb gave the Benares temples.”

I have also in my possession the opinion that has been expressed by two great English writers Dr. Johnson and William Wordsworth on this subject. Dr. Johnson says,

“ We must consider how very little history is—I mean real, authentic history. That certain kings reigned and certain battles were fought, we can depend upon as true; but all the colouring, all the philosophy of history is conjecture.”

In the life of a nation ideas are not the only thing of value, sentiment also is of great value and the way to foster sentiment in a people and to develop it in the young is to have a very carefully recorded and accurate past. Wordsworth says—

“ I should dread to disfigure the beautiful ideal of memories of illustrious persons with incongruous features and to sully the imaginative purity of our classical works with the gross and trivial recollections.”

Ten years ago I brought this to the notice of our provincial Government. It was on the 10th of March, 1927, that while discussing the grant to the University a similar cut as is before us to-day—

“ There is one thing which I want to bring to the notice of the Honourable Minister for Education and that is the courses that are being taught in the University, especially the courses of Indian history. I am a student of Indian history and I find that the courses that are taught in our present schools are the worst available. There are many untruths in the prescribed books on Indian history and we find all these mis-statements in an exaggerated form in the text-books taught in our schools. Everybody has got friends and enemies and histories are written in different ways.

داستانِ عہدِ گل را بشنو از مرغِ چمن
ز اہمها آشفته تر گفتند این افسانہ را

“ If you wish to hear the story of the spring, hear the song of the spring birds. Crows who are unacquainted with days of blossom have their own tale to tell.”

It was again when I moved my University resolution about the appointment of a committee to suggest reforms in our University in December, 1931, when I said—

“ There is one thing about which I should accuse the present University for not having done its duty. I think and I believe that the text-books on Indian history read by our students are not ideal text-books containing real history. We all know that Indian history as outlined in books available at present contains a greater number of lies than the history of any other country in the world. (My honourable friend, Pandit Nanak Chand asked "for example.") I do not like to give examples because I would be bringing in things which I wish to avoid. I think the communal child in this province has been given birth to and mothered by the present text-books, nursed by the press and eventually fathered by certain communal leaders whose leadership, importance and indeed, whose very existence depends on the bitterness among various communities. I have been a student of Indian history and without discussing the question on the floor of the House I may say that I am convinced that there are several stories that we read in our books on Indian History which are absolutely fake. The impression that is left in the mind of a non-Muslim student after reading the history of Moghul reign according to Shibli is this."

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is reading his speech.

Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana : I am quoting.

Mr. Speaker : I think I am right in saying that the honourable member is reading his speech. It may be a previous speech, yet he is reading his speech which he is not in order to do.

Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana : What I wanted to say was that it was once in 1927 that I brought this question to the notice of the Government and it was again in 1931 that while moving my resolution for the appointment of an enquiry committee about the University affairs, I again brought this to the notice of the Government. I am not going to read anything further. The impression in the mind of a Hindu student after reading the Muslim History will be nothing more than this—

تمہیں نے دیکھ ساری داستان میں یاد ہے (تنا
کہ عالمگیر ہندو کش تھا ظالم تھا ستمگر تھا۔

"In the whole story of their greatness you are only concerned with this that Alamgir murdered Hindus was cruel and author of crimes."

Again, on the 25th November, 1932, I moved a resolution. May I read that resolution, Sir? It was—

"This Council recommends to Government:—

- (i) to appoint a competent officer on special duty to get the courses of study in the schools and colleges of the province scrutinized with a view to expunge such of them from the curricula as in his opinion promote communal hatred; and
- (ii) that steps be taken to get revised the books on Indian history, particularly its Muslim period and get re-written such portions as are found historically incorrect."

I was given a very sympathetic reply by my honourable friend, Sir Feroze Khan Noon, the then Minister for Education and I thought that a special officer would be appointed. After one year, when we were discussing the next budget, on my enquiry, I was disagreeably surprised to find that an officer was appointed and that he submitted his report saying that there was no need for any revision. The strange thing was that I the mover of the resolution was not consulted by that special officer. He never took me into confidence and before having my views the officer submitted his report that there was no need of revision. I do not know whether he consulted anybody else or not.

Now, Sir, my own view on this subject is that even if some of our ancestors and past kings had been fanatics and oppressed religious communities, I would rather like the students to remain ignorant of it. What is the use of knowing a historical fact, which will only make our present and future generations nurse communal hatred among themselves? (Sardar Mula Singh: Is there no time limit?) (Voices: No. no.) Sir, the irony is that even these alleged misdeeds which we are taught to abhor are more often fictions than facts. I may give you several, nay, numerous instances of these monstrous untruths, that have been thrust down our throats by means of those inaccurate history text-books. But, before I come to this, I would like to emphasise that the University and the present cabinet will be doing a distinct service to the cause of nationalism, if they made a provision for the purpose of producing text-books in general and those of History in particular which have a tendency to promote communal goodwill and love instead of communal ill-will and hatred. I find that points of orders about time limit have begun to be raised. (Voices: Ruled out of order).

There are so many historical lies in our history text-books that I find it very difficult to select a few out of them to excite the indignation of the House. I can satisfy any honourable member of this House or any member of the Education Department or the Punjab University, that the facts, mentioned in our history text-books about Ibn-i-Qasim, Razia Sultana and other kings who reigned before Moghuls, are mostly incorrect. I can prove this by means of contemporary history. I have selected three instances to mention. One about Akbar, the other about Jahangir and the third about Aurengzeb. Sir, my own complaint is that even in the history of Akbar justice has not been done to that great monarch. I will give you one fact about which I find no mention in the text-books that are taught in our schools and that is this that Akbar sent non-Muslim Governors to his home provinces in Kabul and Kandhar. In this century it is difficult for any Indian even in these days to become a Governor for more than four months and that too in very special cases. Among the history text-books that are taught to the matriculation students is one by Messrs. Ishwar Das Kahan Chand. In that book on page 189 you will find this passage—

"He began to like the beautiful maid who was witty withal. When the Emperor (the Emperor here means Akbar) came to know of this he married the girl to one Ali Kuli Khan (later on called Sher Afghan, because he killed a tiger) and sent him away as Governor of Burdwan. But Jahangir remembered all this. Within two years of his accession he got Sher Afghan killed and Mihr-un-Nisa transported to Lahore. She did not like the Emperor in the beginning, and he also began to disregard her. But within a few years she became more docile. So they were married. Henceforth she became the ruling beauty of the Harem."

This is the passage that is taught to us in the history text-books prescribed for our schools and against this you have a book written by Mr. Beni Prasad, who is a professor of the Allahabad University. This book was published some years ago and this is the passage found there. On page 176 of his book—History of Jahangir—you find:

"Sher Afghan's widow and daughter, named Ladili Begam were sent to court where Itimad-ud-Din Daulah held high Office. Mehr-un-Nisa was soon after appointed a Lady-in-Waiting to the Sultan Salima Begam. In March 1611, Jahangir, happened to see her at the vernal fancy bazar, fell in love with her and married her towards the close of May.

Such is the real story of the celebrated and momentous marriage. The version that Jahangir fell in love with her during the lifetime of Akbar that the latter refused to gratify his wishes and induced Mirza Ghiyas to marry her to Sher Afghan, that the disappointed lover immediately on his accession to power, basely contrived the death of his more successful rival, that the high-souled Miherunnisa indignantly rejected the overtures of her husband's murderer for years, but that she yielded at last—all this finds absolutely no support in contemporary authorities."

This was written by a Professor of History of the Allahabad University five years ago. But the scandalous passages are still found in the text-books prescribed by this University and written by the Registrar of the University who does not know what he is writing and what he is talking and the pity is that it is written by the Registrar of our University, who should have read the book written by Mr. Beni Prasad—

چون کفر از کعبه بر خیزد کجا ماند مسلمانان

“If in the holy precincts of the Kaba people indulge in idolatry, then woe befall those who profess faith outside.”

It is imperative and is the duty of those concerned to appoint—when any important office of the University is to be filled in future—a recognized historian preferably an Indian even if he is to be imported from outside. Now, Sir, I would come to the much maligned King Aurangzeb.

Minister for Education : I may make a statement which would save the time of the House. If the intention of the honourable member is to impress upon the Government the necessity of an enquiry, I may say that the Government sometime back appointed a committee and the committee has gone into this matter and its report has been submitted to the Government.

Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana : I was going to say that it is criminal neglect on the part of all concerned to allow such passages to remain in our text-books, when five years ago another book was written by a Professor of History of another University. I am accusing the past Government for this neglect. (Interruption). The present Government has been in office only for three months and cannot be expected to do miracles in such a short period. Now I come to Aurangzeb. It is said that it is common belief that he forcibly converted Hindus to Islam. There are hundreds of passages to this effect in our text-books and these writers have not taken the trouble to consult contemporary histories available. But I would only appeal to your common sense. Ambala and Meerut divisions adjoin Delhi. If Aurangzeb indulged in forcible conversion, the effect of that would not have been seen in Muzaffargarh or Campbellpur but should have been felt in the Ambala and Meerut divisions. We find that up to this day the majority of the property in those divisions is held by the Hindus and the majority of the population is also non-Muslim.

I am against forcible conversions. My own feeling is that Aurangzeb was a stern disciplinarian. He removed every undesirable element from his way, whether he was a Hindu or a Muhammadan, his father or his brother and it is absolutely mischievous misrepresentation of facts to say that he was anti-Hindu. If you study his life you will find that his whole life was spent in destroying the great Muslim power in the south. (Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : He destroyed his own kingdom also). He did not. I am sorry my friend does not know. If you read the history you will find that the greatest achievement of Aurangzeb was to destroy the most important Muslim power in the south. Had he not done so the Muslim position in India would have been different from what it is to-day. About a year ago one of my honourable friends, who is not here now, when talking to me said, Aurangzeb was a great enemy of the Sikhs. At that time I had not read about that period of his reign. But now I have got a book in my possession. In that I find that the relations between Aurangzeb and Guru Gobind Singh were at one time very friendly and affectionate. It is on page 258 of the book called Aurangzeb and his time written by Zahir-ud-Din Faruqi, B.A. (Alig.), Bar.-at-Law. I should like the historians of our Education Department and the University if there are any—but I am afraid there are none—to read this book. I should like to quote a few verses from the writings of Guru Gobind Singh Ji which will startle many in this House. Guru Gobind Singh, Sir, was a Persian scholar and wrote poetry in Persian. He wrote a poem known as Zafarnama and addressed it to Aurangzeb. This poem was published by a gentleman of Nabha State, called Hakim Arshi in 1936. The following verses from that Zafarnama will open a new chapter of research for the historians who have so far only talked of the fights between Aurangzeb and the Sikh Guru. Guru Gobind Singh wrote—

[K. B. Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana.

خوشا شاه شاهان زورنگ زيب
 كه چالاك دست است و چابك رقيب
 منم كشته ام كوهيان پرفتن
 كه آن بت پرستند و من بت شکن

“August is the name of Aurangzeb the King of Kings whose hand is quick in despatching his enemies and whose steed speeds fast to vanquish his foes.

I am the same one who has put an end to those who took shelter behind the mountain and nurtured the seed of disorder for their minds were tainted with the worship of idols and mine aflame with the fervour of breaking them.”

(A voice : Why not read further on ?)

چو دست از رده حياقير در گسست
 حقل است بردن به شمشير دست

I may remind the Honourable member that this was not composed by Guru Gobind Singh. It was composed by Sheikh Sa'adi many centuries before Guru Gobind Singh was born.

Sardar Lal Singh : It may have been composed by Sheikh Sa'adi but it is interpolated by Guru Gobind Singh.

Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana : My friends are not aware of it. If you read the whole poem you will find that if he had written this verse of Sa'adi to Aurangzeb it was to impress upon him the necessity of dealing with the “Sant Hai Maqhur” with sword. The whole poem is written in a spirit so as to excite the wrath of Aurangzeb against the Hindus who were idol worshippers and to advise him to change his policy of toleration against them. Shivaji has been made a Hindu hero. What did he do? He only fought for his masters, the Kings of Deccan, against the King of Delhi and fulfilled the duty of defending his Kings and his motherland against the aggressive invasion of the Emperor of Delhi. If we have to record the stories of our past, let us record the glories of our past. The glories of the mighty services rendered to India by the renowned Kings of the ancient India and the mediæval Muslim India. So long as our history books live we cannot think of killing the demons of communal hatred and racial prejudices and we cannot shake off the inferiority complex. From the days of the great push by the Arians of the Central Asia Plateau down to the very era in which we live we have nothing so recorded that may give us the impression that the Indians have ever been or can ever be capable of being national minded. Here are the aggressors from the foreign Central Asian Plateau and taking possession of the fertile plains of Saraswati and Jamna pushing the old inhabitants down towards the south, branding them as slaves, shudras and untouchables. There are Budhists and Jains trampling the Vedas under their feet and killing the ancient Hindus of the Sanatana Dharma and then we see Rajputs fighting against Rajputs. It is the result of my study that the 75 per cent. so-called facts about these incidents are utterly false. I will now quote from a historian who writes—

“ One hundred and forty-six lifeless logs of wood that could neither struggle nor refuse each measuring an ordinary man's size would require much more than 324 sq. ft. to accommodate them in an absolutely jammed up condition.”

This is what we find in our history books regarding the Black Hole—324 square feet in which 320 people were kept prisoners by a Muslim king. I can go on giving examples for two days. I have every hope that our present Government which is a responsible Government and which is more anxious than anybody else to bring about communal harmony in this province, would consider this question more seriously than was the case with their predecessors. I would in the end only say this much that it may not be possible for us to eradicate from the foundation the high walls that separate us from each other on account of different cultures, surely we can lower those walls which have been built up by these historical inaccuracies irresponsible Press, denominational institutions, fanatic preachers and selfish leaders who have been encouraged by the authorities in the past, so that we can see each other more distinctly and say ‘how do you do’ directly instead of talking through a mischievous exchange which is fitted with the television of unreality, division and exaggeration.

In the end I have to reply to my friend Sir Gokul Chand Narang who should have been the last person to put this question to me that one of the causes of our communal discord is communal electorate.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Sir, is it all relevant to the subject under discussion? The motion is of course relevant but the question of communal electorate is not relevant to the question.

Mr. Speaker : I have, more than once, remarked from this Chair that an able speaker can make any irrelevant thing relevant.

Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana : Sir, I stated that there were four elements which were responsible for keeping alive the fire of communalism and I am grateful to my honourable friend Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang for reminding me that there was a fifth one and that was communal electorate.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member need not enter into that controversy.

Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana : Sometime we were discussing the communal formula among the Hindus, Muslims, Sikhs—

Mr. Speaker: The honourable member should not refer to it.

Dr. Sir, Gokul Chand Narang : Personally I do not mind, let him say anything he likes. I will not resent it.

Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana : I think it should not be difficult to detect a blush on the face of those who are responsible for torpedoing the communal formula of the Punjab and wrecking the successful result of the efforts of our leaders at the eleventh hour when almost all the members of the previous Council had agreed to a permanent communal settlement.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar (North-Western Towns, General, Urban) r Sir, I think this is the first time that we have heard some very refreshing phrases from the lips of the members both on this and that side of the House. Some very interesting words have been used : even the word "scandalous" has been applied in describing certain events and some of the fiercest criticisms have been levelled against the apathy of the last Government towards the educational system that prevails in this province. It is really very pleasing to hear that there is one subject at least on which, as the honourable mover of the cut said, we are expected to feel together and speak together about the grievances of the people of the province. I think, I am on perfectly safe ground when I say that the present system of education is so hopelessly defective, is so hopelessly rotten and is so hopelessly out of tune with the real needs of the province that not a minute should be lost in completely overhauling it.

When I say that this system of education is unsatisfactory there must be some reasons for my characterising it as such. Why do I characterise it as unsatisfactory? We call a person unsatisfactory when he does not come up to our expectations. Similarly when we say that this system of education that prevails in this land of the five rivers is defective or unsatisfactory it only means that it does not fulfil our expectation. Why is it that this deity of learning and knowledge which is the giver of choicest blessings should withhold those blessings from these unfortunate people of this land? Why is it that we do not get from this deity what is our due? After all, what is the minimum that we expect from this education? I speak in the language of a plain man. I do not refer to the various reports that my honourable friend the mover of the cut has so ably and lucidly placed before you. I shall not burden the House with quotations from here and there and figures taken from this book and that. I shall try to face the situation as we find it. I shall talk in the language of a plain man who feels that the present system of education has hopelessly broken down and that immediate steps should be taken to relieve the distress in which the people of the province find themselves with respect to this. (Hear. hear.)

What do we expect from this education? This education is expected to give us health, wealth and character. Shall I talk of health? Shall I show you the models of health that this education is producing in this province? Shall I take the greatest product of the Punjab University, a first class first of the M.A. degree Examination and make a present of that noble young man to you with withered cheeks, sunken eyes, broken back, panting for breath, a mere bundle of bones? That is the picture that I draw of the general product of our University. Judged by this test of health, the system of education in our province stands condemned. (Hear, hear). There are, I am sure, many honourable friends in this House who would fain renounce their degrees of Masters of Arts, if only they could get back their rosy cheeks, if they could stand erect and like the peasant in the field, they could bear the hardships and privations of life. But, alas, for those friends the past is gone, they have been sacrificed at the altar of the present system of education. Therefore my first submission is that we must so shape our system of education that it takes account of the physical health of the students. The system of education which does not make military training compulsory for every boy in this province is not the system of education that this province requires. (Cheers).

We hear that the police has to be maintained in order to keep us in check, to protect us against breaking our heads or fracturing of limbs. What else can we expect in this province where people are not able to defend themselves? If I had a say in this matter, I would sacrifice lakhs if only the province can keep its fair name and dignity thereby. We do not want the police to protect us if we only have the physical strength that is our due.

Then coming to the question of wealth, how much of wealth has this system of education enabled us to earn? It is well known to honourable members that the present system of education has not generally enabled the sons of the Punjab to earn even a bare living. There are many honourable members in this House who are aware of the sad plight of the youth, of the flower of this province. I am also one of those unfortunate people who have almost daily to come across young men with applications in their hands for jobs on Rs. 80 and Rs. 40—the flowers of the University, M.A. first class first, with 15 or 16 years of education behind them, with the wealth of their parents wasted at the altar of this deity in the hope that they will be able to earn a living and be a source of sustenance for the poor old parents. There is not a man in this unfortunate land of ours who can earn a living for himself as of right. It is only the lucky few who get some opportunities of making a living for themselves. I am sure it will not be considered an exaggerated statement or an irresponsible remark on my part when I say that this system of education generally speaking does not enable young men to earn a living for themselves.

That is not all. Look at the tragedy of this system of education. If it does not enable young men to earn their living it may result in consequences which are fraught with danger. Remember it is unemployment that constitutes the real danger to the peace of the province which is so much near the heart of the people. I want the Government of the day to take a very serious note of that. It is no use saying, 'There is so much of unemployment, where are the means and the resources to come from?'

Permit me to make a reference to a simple illustration. Take the instance of a home where the total income is only Rs. 100 per mensem. The young sweet boy of the family is laid up with typhoid and the best medical advice is suggested, which would cost about Rs. 75. If the medical aid alone would consume away Rs. 75, would Rs. 25 be sufficient for the parents? I put it to you: will those parents say, "Oh no, we will not give this medical aid to this boy because we cannot afford to forego the luxuries that we must have?" Do you think those parents who love the child so dearly would prefer to have their own luxuries to sacrificing them for the sake of the child?

[L. Bhim Sen Sachar.]

If in this family there are children who are dying of starvation, should the parents say we must have our so many thousands first? This is the sort of family life that is sought to be produced in this province. What shall I say of character and of this education which was intended to give character? What is the general standard of character of these blooming young graduates coming out of the university? I am one of those who will not conceal our shame merely because of the world. I would talk of it in the spirit of a friendly critic so that we may know our defects and improve them. It is in this spirit that I talk of character. What is the character, generally speaking, which this education gives to our young children? If character consists in putting on finest European dress only, if character consists in making scoffing references to your elders, if character consists in belittling everything that is yours, if character demands that every other woman in this world should not be regarded as your sister and daughter, then it is no character. What do we find to-day? Men and women imbued with western spirit considering themselves as men with polished manners! I had to hang my head in shame when an officer of the Indian Educational Service, remarked yesterday in a public debate, that young men with fine dresses and with apparent polished manners go about purusing some of their sisters on the Mall. Is that not a sorry state of things? Is this the sort of education that we want to give to our youth and if our youths are not free from this taint, is it not the fault of our education? Surely it is the fault of education. You say that you produce scientists, mathematicians and other people but what are their achievements? I do not put myself in the balance against my friend who has spoken before me. I may be permitted to say—

نہنگ را ڈہدا و شیر نہ مارا تو کیا مارا
 بڑے موڈی کو مارا نفس امارہ کو گر مارا

Where is that education that provides our young men and women with the stamina to resist the temptations when they come in their way? These young men are addicted to cinema lives, youngmen revelling in novels of the lowest type, youngmen with whom spirit is but a word in the dictionary. If this is the system of education, surely there is need and, I should say, urgent need to put our heads together to devise ways and means of reforming it. Who amongst us is there who can say that this system of education produces even a small measure of faith. We have no faith in the country in which we live. There is no faith even in Him who is the producer of everything in this world. Where are those people who have faith and where is the faith that education produces? If this education were really producing faith and if we were really full of that faith, do you think there will not be young men who would come out in numbers to revolt against the present circumstances which are going about? There is no faith. I do not wish to take the time of the House any further. Shall I say that we are determined to set this thing right? We have been assured by the speaker who preceded me that efforts will be made to set it right. But shall I not say a word about the causes which had been referred to by my learned predecessor? While giving these causes and the reasons which are responsible for this communal bickering and communal hatred in the province, he has narrated certain facts and he has tried to give the reasons and the causes for them. We on this side are people who will not leave any stone unturned for creating circumstances which would rid this province of the standing shame of communalism and communal hatred. I am sure every section of the House here is one with me in this expression of the hope that communalism should be turned out of this province lock, stock and barrel (hear, hear).

But, Sir, the way to turn out communalism is the one on which there will unfortunately again be a difference of opinion. This present system of education is largely responsible, I hold with my learned friend, who has preceded me, for producing and nourishing this cleavage between the two great communities in this province. And why? Who was responsible for this? How was this state of affairs brought about? The learned speaker over there had stated that the past Government was responsible for all this. I am glad he feels the boldness to ascribe the blame to quarters where we have laid it for years. I am glad he has now opened his lips, but shall I say one thing, shall I say that he wanted to relieve himself of the responsibility for bringing about this state of things in the province? Can my friends opposite, can most of those friends who are sitting on those benches, really be relieved of the responsibility for creating that state of affairs in the province? For the last seventeen years, according to the statement of my learned friend over there, he has been in touch with the politics of the province and what have been those politics? The politics of the foreign exploiter on the one side and the politics of the peoples' representatives on the other. That state of things has been brought about by the benign Government of the time and permit me to say, the present Government shall never be able to claim the privilege of eradicating this curse from the province unless it takes courage in both its hands and proposes a radical solution. It is they, my friends opposite, who were defending here the past Government. It is not we who did that.

It was stated: We have been in office only for four months. Give us at least five months more to bear the fruit. I may be pardoned for saying, and repeating my apology to my friend—

بہر زنگے کہ خواہی جاسمہ می پوش
من انداز قدرت را می شناسم

We know the Roman hand and we know the persons who were responsible for running the past administration and we know the exact part which is now being played to eradicate the evil, but they need to propose very radical and distinct programmes before this curse can be taken out of the province. No amount of conferences, permit me to convey it to the Honourable Premier, no amount of conferences, no amount of whitewashing or patch-work will eradicate the evil root and branch. You have to take radical measures. We heard the other day a very refreshing announcement on the part of the Education Minister when he said that he was one of those who would like to close down the denominational institutions. Denominational institutions may be blamed by those who honestly believe that they are responsible for spreading communalism and even by those who have a purpose in blaming them. But when we discuss these denominational institutions, let us not forget the part they have played in spreading education in the province. Even the other day the Honourable Minister for Education refused to extend primary education or a little bit of this education or a little bit of that education on the ground of financial stringency, and if to-day the denominational institutions are to be replaced, is Government in a position to replace all the denominational institutions ?

Minister for Education : I did not say that I feel inclined to close down the denominational institutions. My words were : I look with very grave concern on these institutions because of their atmosphere.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : I am obliged to the Honourable Minister for Education for correcting me, but the point remains that he is one of those who look askance on these denominational institutions. Denominational institutions are bad, they are very bad, according to him and according to many more who think with him, but permit me to ask one pertinent question and it is this : Are they worse than the Government institutions in these days ?

Minister for Education : I am prepared to admit that this atmosphere exists even in Government institutions and I am out to reform them all.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : I am obliged for the definite admission, but I would ask his pardon for not feeling content with his reply, because I hold that the Government institutions to-day are worse than the denominational institutions. There is not a denominational institution in the province which would shut its doors against any student on the ground that he belongs to a particular community, but it is a shame on the Government institutions which would not permit inside their portals Hindus beyond a certain number and Muslims beyond a certain number or Sikhs beyond a certain number. This is what it comes to when you say that in the Medical College only so many Muslims will enter, in the Government College only so many Muslims will be taken, or so many Muslims will go because they are not Hindus or so many Hindus will go because they are not Muslims. And then you come forward and assure this House that you want to remove this communalism from this province.

Minister for Education : Does my honourable friend know that in the denominational institutions there is only a sprinkling of the other communities. Can he say that the doors are not shut ?

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Yes, it is a fact, but it is not the fault of the denominational institutions. I am not one of those who hold a brief for denominational institutions, but I want to tell you that these denominational institutions have served a purpose. If these denominational institutions had not been there, this godless education that is being given would have disturbed the equilibrium worse still, we are Godless enough already. There is nothing of the spirit left in us. Some good part has surely been played by these institutions after all. A mere statement is not enough. When an announcement comes from a particular quarter that this communalism should go and I repeat it to a person telling him look here, the statement has been made that this communalism should go and he inquires the source of that statement and I inform him and he whispers in my ear you should be very cautious, you have to be very careful about the statement of a person who can go to the extent of promoting a Muslim Insurance Co., in the province.

If communalism can go to that extent, if we can go about advertising Muslim Insurance Company consisting entirely of Muslim directorate and one of the honourable members is so intimately and closely in touch with that concern, being one of the promoters of the company,—we have to consider many times before we can think of removing communalism. My submission is that we have to make very radical changes.

Minister for Education : Permit me to make a personal—

Mr. Speaker : I do not think it is parliamentary. If a speaker quotes wrong figures or facts, it is open to any honourable member to correct them immediately or wait till the end of the speech ; but to reply piecemeal to every part of the argument advanced or the speech made by a member is not right.

Minister for Education : I am rising to a personal explanation and the honourable member has given way. Since my honourable friend has referred to the Insurance Company, I may point out that I waited for 25 years to know whether other institutions would allow muslims to take their proper share. If he would have looked into the directorate of the other companies and their staff, he will find that I am justified in doing that and I am not ashamed of it.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : I may be permitted to say that I did not make a pointed reference to the Honourable Minister.

Minister for Education : He distinctly pointed to me. He said that if a suggestion comes from a man who has promoted a Muslim Insurance Company and so on. The suggestion came from me and I am prepared to close that Insurance Company, if you are prepared to make room for some Muslims.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member should not have been personal.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : I am very sorry, if I have exceeded the limit of decency in debate. I apologise if I should not have gone to that extent, but what I was saying was and I did not at all take a personal view and did not bring in the personal element of the gentlemen into consideration. I was only referring to a public activity in saying that we have to be very careful and cautious in taking the words of that gentleman. That is all what I was trying to say and the position that I wanted this House to appreciate is this that this system of education will never be improved, the cherished desire of our Premier will never be realised, it will never even be possible to eradicate communalism from the province, unless we are visionaries, which my friend on the opposite benches (Minister for Finance) would not like us to be, unless we can fly on the wings of imagination, unless we can take ourselves out of the slough of the present and rise above those people who just now rule over us and control our destinies. What I was trying to make out was that we should not shift the blame from ourselves, but as a matter of fact, should be prepared to concede and to take a proper share of the blame. It does not look very well on the part of some of the members on those benches who have had the opportunity of controlling the policy and the destinies of this province in the past now to come forward and say that the state of affairs is due to something else that it is due to the clash and conflict that is essential between the people of the province and those who for the time being happen to hold the reins of the province in their hands. I want to conclude my speech with the remarks that if we want peace and harmony, good will and love to be promoted in this province, if we want that our educational system should be improved, we shall have to act like very bold people. There will have to be taken very radical measures. Communalism shall have to go from everywhere (hear, hear), whether it is in educational institutions whether it is in services or whether it is in the military or police (hear, hear). Unless you come forward with boldness in both your hands and convince the people that you want communalism to be eradicated, things will never be set right.

Mrs. J. A. Shah Nawaz (Outer Lahore, Muhammadan Women Urban): Mr. Speaker, before I begin my speech I hope you will be kind enough to allow me to say one word to my friends on the opposite benches. I would very much like to take this opportunity of congratulating them with all my heart on the wise decision that has been arrived at yesterday by the Working Committee of the Congress, (hear, hear). A very well-known Irish statesman said to me one day in 1935: "Go and tell my Indian friends that as long as we stood outside the constitutional sphere, we could get nothing but as soon as we entered the constitutional sphere what is it that we have not managed to secure"? Now that all the Indians are going to join hands to work the new constitution and try to get the best out of it, I hope that the day will soon come when India will take her rightful place with the other Dominions in the British comity of nations (hear, hear). Mr. Speaker, this morning my learned friend Sardar Hari Singh told us a great deal about the defects of the present University education. Let me remind him of one thing that under the new constitution any university that has to do with more than one province or with Indian States, the control of that University has to be in the hands of the Central Government. He reviewed the position of the Punjab University, the progress it has achieved during the last 30 or 40 years, but he quite forgot to mention this aspect of the question. I would like to request my honourable friend on the opposite benches to take this into consideration and join hands with us in requesting the Government of India to hand over the control of the Punjab University to the Local Government.

Sardar Hari Singh: I think there are only two universities, the University of Benares and the University of Aligarh whose control is vested in the Government of India. The control of all other universities is vested in the provincial governments.

Minister for Education: May I inform the honourable lady member that the control of the University is with the Punjab Government but some difficulty is being experienced as regards further legislation.

Mrs. J. A. Shah Nawaz: Under the present constitution, as I said, any university, that has to do with more than one province or Indian State, the control of that university, in certain respects, is vested in the Central Government. I mean with regard to legislation of course. As far as the Punjab University is concerned, as you are all aware, the Frontier Province is also linked with this province. Therefore, the request that I have to make is this that the members of our Cabinet should approach the Government of India with a request to hand over the full control of the University to us, even if we have to do away with the co-operation of the Frontier Province.

My honourable friend did not tell us anything about the Anderson Committee's report. I was hoping that he would say something about the report of that committee. As he is aware the recommendations of that committee have been before the Punjab Government for some time and we hope that Government will take early steps to act upon the Report of that committee. There are some of us on this side and some I believe on the other side as well, who do not quite agree with the recommendations of that committee, but I am sure that most of the members are anxious that with a few changes here and there the Report should be accepted as soon as possible. As you are aware, the committee has recommended 15 years' course for a degree—5 years for primary, 4 years for secondary, 3 years for higher secondary, that is preparatory to college education and 3 years for the degree. Personally I think that this recommendation is a very sound one. I hope that the Honourable Minister of Education will very soon take steps to act upon this recommendation of the Committee.

My honourable friend, Sardar Hari Singh also told us this morning about the large number of stipends and scholarships that are awarded to boys in English universities for secondary education. I am at one with him in all that he said. As most of the members are aware, a large number of scholarships and stipends are given on behalf of Government, local bodies and by various private institutions and individuals in foreign countries. It is essential that steps should be taken to organise the same system in our country.

Then, he referred to the question of the medium of instruction. That question, as all honourable members here are aware, is a question which is very ticklish. Personally I am one of those persons who believe that the medium of instruction for the whole of India—ought to be Hindustani with two scripts, Persian and Hindi. That I know can only be an ideal for the present and will take a very long time to materialise. At the same time I request the honourable members to bear this in mind that this is an All-India question and not a provincial one only.

Then my honourable friend, who spoke just before me, told us of the rotten system of education under which we have been working for so many years. He said that it is a system which is not suitable for our country. I agree with him, but I would not condemn the present system wholesale, as he has done, because after all he himself is the product of that system and along with him many great leaders like Mahatama Gandhi, Pandit Moti Lal Nehru and Mr. C. R. Das are also products of the present system of university education. But he was quite right when he said that the physique of our students, whether in schools, or in colleges, is not what it should be. It is essential that steps should be taken to provide compulsory medical inspection of schools everywhere in our province. In most of the western countries, the members are aware, medical inspection of schools is compulsory. There it is the duty of the State to see that children should be under the eyes of well qualified medical practitioners from the day they enter schools, and that small defects of eyes, ears and teeth should be taken care of as soon as they begin to appear. A couple of years ago, when the Simla

[Mrs. J. A. Shah Nawaz.]

Municipality sanctioned a sum of money for medical inspection of schools, I happened to be present in one institution when such an inspection was taking place. We were surprised to find that 75 to 80 per cent. of the children were suffering from tiny ailments of the eyes which could be easily cured during childhood; whereas if they were not taken care of many of those children would have had serious trouble later on and some of them would have lost sight altogether. I would request the Honourable Minister of Education to bear this in mind and see to it that medical inspection—and that also compulsory—should be provided for all the schools as soon as finances permit.

My honourable friend also spoke of military training. I agree with him. A couple of years ago it so happened that our leader, Mrs. Sarojini Naidu was speaking in the evening and I was addressing a meeting early the next morning and both of us were surprised to find that we had said the same thing to our audience that for at least a couple of years to come sons of Indian mothers whether they have one or seven must all be sent to the army. I believe that for learning discipline and for the development of physique military training is required for our next generation. In this connection we hope that there would be a rapid Indianisation of the Army so that young boys of almost every race and creed will have ample opportunities of improving their physique and learning the necessary discipline.

My honourable friend opposite also spoke of increasing the wealth of the nation. I quite agree with him that it is the duty of the Government, through schools and colleges, to try to improve the economic condition of the people by importing such instruction which would qualify the individual to earn his or her own living. I do not agree with persons who suggest lowering the standard of living and going back to cottage and cart. Why not have as your ideal the standard that the people are enjoying in the United States of America where every labourer possesses a car? Why not try to raise the standard of living by increasing the purchasing power of the millions in India? If that could be made possible both in India and China, where would the question of over-production be? In 1935 I had the honour of being present in the International Labour Conference. The Director in his yearly Report had pointed out that if means could be found to provide the necessary purchasing power for the millions both in India and China through some system of exchange the question of over-production would be solved. All the grain which was being used as coal in Canada and thrown into the sea in Chilly could then be utilised for the hungry millions of these countries.

I agree with our Honourable Premier that we should try to find new sources of revenue; at the same time trying to cut our coat according to the material available—economy on one side and new avenues of income on the other, so that the purchasing power of the people should increase and our poor labourer should be able to have a higher standard of living than we see at present. Now I come to the third point of my honourable colleague. He talked of having seen some young girls only yesterday who were dressed very beautifully, who had no aim in life—I think that is what he meant—but to be society butterflies. Whatever it was, let me ask him one question as to who is responsible for this.

Begum Rashida Latif: The fault in this matter does not lie with ladies, it lies with men.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : On a point of personal explanation. My sister has attributed to me—

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : On a point of order. Is the use of the word 'sister' on the floor of this House parliamentary ?

Mr. Speaker : The honourable members may address as 'my friend,' 'my learned or honourable friend,' 'learned gentleman' 'learned representative' of such and such constituency, 'my sister,' 'noble lady' and so on. This is not unparliamentary.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar: What I said was not that I had the misfortune of staring at certain girls or seeing them or watching them in their beautiful colour dresses. I did not say anything of the kind. What I said was this, that yesterday in a public debate a high officer in the Educational Service had said that young men dressing themselves up in beautiful dresses have the shame-facedness of pursuing their sisters on the Mall.

Mrs. J. A. Shah Nawaz : What I wanted to say was that as far as that question was concerned, I believe that it is not the system of education which is to blame, but it is the up-bringing in the home, what we call in Hindustani "tarbiat". Mr. Speaker, almost every day one comes across an article in the Press or some reference in a book or one hears of platform speakers talking of the evils of western liberty and freedom and of the western educational system. I remember when I first went to Europe for a couple of months, when I also like some of my honourable colleagues, had the opportunity of seeing the life of the western people only in hotels, in cinemas, or in public places, I also used to think on similar lines. I thank God for the opportunities that were provided for me in connection with the various conferences that I had to attend of going into and seeing the real home life of the western people. I realised then how those nations had become so great. I have gone into homes where the lady of the house had six children ; I have gone into homes of what you would call deputy commissioners here ; I have seen in such homes that in spite of the six children and the huge establishment, the lady of the house, having had all the opportunities of getting the best of the western education, has not has more than one or two help-mates. She had to see to the kitchen, she had to take care of the children and then she had to receive her guests, several of them coming sometimes from distant countries and had to perform many duties, as a mother as a house-wife and as a social worker in different spheres of life. That is the example of western education that I have seen. I have also gone into the homes of ladies who live in large towns with many cinemas and one of the house-wife told me one day that it was nearly two years since she had been to a picture, she could not spare the time as she had her hands full at home. Therefore, I would request my honourable colleagues here that whenever they have to listen to any such speech or they read any such article, they should help us by refuting these charges because they are quite incorrect, just as Miss Mayo's charges with regard to the life in our country are baseless. Ordinary travellers, who go to Europe see the life of the people only in public places, that is why they get a wrong impression of western education.

Before taking up the question of the present system of education. I would like to reply to another point of my honourable friend opposite. I quite agree with him that the correct building up of the character of our nation is greatly needed and it is there that the question of denominational institutions comes in. I agree with the Education Minister, and with our Chief Secretary who spoke this morning that the denominational institutions and some of our history text-books create a great deal of communal feeling in the minds of young people. But, why do we need these denominational institutions? Just because the Government of our country has forgotten that the young children have not only a body and a mind but a soul as well. I can quite understand the difficulty of the Government in providing religious instruction, but what is there to prevent them from supplying moral instruction in schools? "There are many religions but there is one morality" all over the world. I studied in an institution which made it imperative for every girl to attend a twenty minutes moral lesson in the morning and believe me, whatever I learnt in that school is imprinted with indelible ink on my mind. The Ten Commandments are the same in every religion. Why is it not possible to have a morality lesson in every school as the first thing in the morning, be it a primary or a secondary school? These moral lessons should include such things as our duty to God, duty to parents, duty to elders, duty to neighbours and so on, evils of telling lies of stealing and other things. That is an easy thing to provide and I see no reason why such morality lessons should not be imparted especially to children in primary and secondary schools. When this is done I am sure denominational institutions will not be needed.

There is one thing which I think, my honourable friend on the other side pointed out and it is this that even in sport communalism is creeping in. One hears Hindu-Muslim cricket matches; I have myself been a witness to one of them and I shall never forget the inflamed feelings of both sections on that day. I would request through you, Mr. Speaker, every one in this hall to try to see that no such match is ever arranged which brings the worst type of communal poison in our midst.

Napoleon tells us that "public instruction should be the first object of every government". One is glad to find, and I am sure you will agree with me in this, that the ministerial benches have been very wise in choosing this demand as the foremost one that should be discussed on the floor of this House. Let us take the system as it stands at present. In the first place as I said moral instruction should be provided in the primary classes. These are a few constructive proposals which I wish to place before the Education Minister. Taking up the curriculum of the primary education I would request that hand work should also form one of the chief subjects. Reading, writing and arithmetic, hand work as well as moral instruction should be included in the curriculum.

I have been to many rural schools as well as to schools in urban areas. The buildings of most of them are not in good condition and the accommodation is very limited. Many classes have to be held in the open and it is very difficult to do so during the hot summer months. The houses provided for schools and the buildings in which classes are being held, are not very well ventilated and some of the rooms are damp. I would again request that provision for better housing and suitable accommodation should be taken into consideration. Then comes the question of equipment. Many of these primary schools have not the necessary things for the kindergarten training. It is essential that necessary equipment should be provided in the schools.

I now come to the vital question of the capacity for teaching. In almost all the European countries you will find, that kindergarten training is given by the best teachers in classes which we call kuchi pahli or the one before kuchi pahli, but here in our country a teacher, in many cases without training and a person who is not considered good enough to teach second, third or fourth primary classes, takes up the kuchi pahli classes. I cannot understand this mentality at all. It is the foundation that should be in the best hands. You will find in European countries that it is usually the best paid staff in whose hands the beginning of the education is placed, whereas in our country the least paid and the worst staff handles young children. In my old college, the Queen Mary College, next to the Principal the best teacher used to be the one who took up kindergarten classes, and that was one of the reasons why the average Queen Mary College student developed a greater capacity for assimilating knowledge than other girls.

It is said that "the teacher's duty must be to penetrate to whatever is vital to the pupil and develop that by the light and heat of his own intelligence." How many of the teachers of our schools possess this, I leave it to your imagination.

Then we come to the question of physical training. I am glad to find that in many of the schools, both urban as well as rural, physical training has become part of the curriculum and special instructors are being sent to the various schools to give instruction in physical training to the pupils. But there are several schools that still need this facility. I hope the Minister will be pleased to provide instructor for these schools as well.

Napoleon once asked Mme-de-Staël what he could do to make the French people happy. Mme-de-Staël's reply was full of political wisdom. She said 'instruct the mothers of the French people'. There again, I have to point out that unfortunately as far as the education of our girls is concerned, it has been more or less a neglected subject. You will find in the budget that not more than 12 to 14 per cent. of the education grant is being spent on girls' education. Unless mothers are educated I am afraid it will not be possible for us to form a brave nation. In order to have a great nation you must have brave mothers. When I went to England I was surprised to find that in a country which had two millions more women than men, not more than 10 to 15 per cent. of the girls go in for university education, and that in a country where more than 50 per cent. of the girls have to earn their own living. Compare it with our own country, what do we find? There are ten million more men than women in this country and nearly 90 per cent. girls get married and what is the education which we place before our girls? Nothing except the university education. I tried to study this question in the West and I found that the average girl here studies up to the standard of what we call English middle and within that period which would be according to Anderson Committee's Report about nine years she gets a good knowledge of her mother tongue, if need be she learns one of the continental languages, she knows a good deal of history, geography and general knowledge and a little of arithmetic and as soon as she finishes her school course she goes to what are known as finishing schools and home science schools or colleges. In our country, no such institutions exist. Realising this, some of the women pioneers who have been working in connection with the All-Indian Women Conference organised a fund by means of which the Home Science Training College, known as Lady Irwin College was opened in Delhi a couple of years ago. The first batch of students came out of that College about three years ago. I am glad that we women of India realised the great need of our country and were the first to take up this question in hand. We hope that all the provinces will try to find means to open such schools as soon as possible.

What are the subjects that are taught in these home science schools? I would only refer to two or three because I would not like to take up too much of the time of this House as I know that there are other important subjects which have got to be discussed. The first subject I shall refer to is diatetics. What does that word mean? It means that the girl who studies this subject will know what is the type of diet that is required for the inmates of the house, from the youngest to the oldest. The next subject is child psychology. I often used to wonder why it was that the young children brought up by western mothers had such fine manners and were so polite and well trained. I realised the truth only when I studied a book on child psychology. This subject teaches girls how from infancy children should be handled and certain defects in their natures cured during childhood. Then comes the subject of domestic economy, that is, how to run a home on say from an income of Rs. 30 to Rs. 5,000. What is the duty of a house-wife in this respect? She must know how to prepare a good house budget and how to keep a proper banking account. She must also know cleaning, washing and cooking. In this respect I speak from my own personal experience. As long as I did not send one of my girls to a home science college she was like an average girl without any knowledge of such necessary requirements, although she had passed good many examinations. All that an average college student knows is usually literature and the study of Shelly and Keats, but since my daughter went to a home science school she has become a very useful member of the house. She can now cook full meal for a luncheon or a dinner party. This is the sort of education that I want for an average girl in India. A good home science institution for training teachers should be opened by the Punjab Government and the teachers trained in that school should take charge of home science schools that ought to be opened by the Government.

Coming now to the university education, I would like to say that F.Sc. and B.Sc. in home science should be recognised by the Punjab University. These are few practical suggestions which I am placing before the House. This is so far as the girls' education is concerned. Turning to boys education, I submit that we have committed many blunders in the past. The Anderson Committee deals with this question at length and I do hope that the Committee's recommendations will be taken into consideration soon. As soon as finance permits technical institutions and vocational training centres, should be provided for the average young men after they have finished their secondary course. One of our greatest difficulties to-day is the army of intellectuals for whom there is no employment to be found anywhere. Let me remind the Punjab Government of their duty to provide such vocational training centres as soon as possible. Only the other day two men came from my village and they asked me whether I could suggest any institution where they could send their young boys for vocational training. The boys had passed the primary examination and their parents were anxious that the boys should get the necessary instruction and training for some profession to become apprentices and so forth. I could not think of any Government institution where the boys could be sent. Both boys and girls ought to be trained to live in harmony with their environment. We can also help our children at a very early age to choose their vocation in life.

Now, I come to the question of our duty towards our nation to try to inculcate the spirit of social service and self-sacrifice in the minds of young and old. We must create an Indian culture out of the combination of all the communal cultures that are at present in the safe custody of the various communities. (Hear, hear and cheers.) Personally I believe that what the world needs to-day is a new culture, a culture which is not wholly materialistic in outlook, a culture which is a combination of the spiritualism of the East and the materialism of the West. I think that we Indians have a very fine opportunity of providing that new culture for the whole world. We should try to combine the East and the West without losing our national charm and grace in our modes of living, in our modes of thought, in our modes of education and in our modes of culture, in fact, in every walk of life. Let us get the best out of the East and the West.

The spirit of social service should be inculcated through moral instruction and through good text-books in the schools. One finds that the selfless idea of social service is not present in the minds of the average man or woman of our country. I am not talking of sacrifice for the country, I mean social service in every walk of life. I would request the Honourable Minister to see that suitable text-books are provided for the inculcation of the spirit of social service in the minds of our children from their childhood.

I, now, come to the question of free and compulsory education. We know that the finances of our province do not permit us to introduce that immediately but it should be taken in hand as soon as possible. Aristotle tells us "that all who have meditated on the art of governing mankind have been convinced that the fate of the empires depends upon the education of its youth." We hear that "the success of the American Republic was due mainly to the means which they found in trying to take up the question of compulsory and free education at a very early stage". Therefore, Sir, this is a question with which we should be dealing as early as we possibly can. Carlyle says, "That one man should die ignorant who had the capacity for knowledge, this I call a tragedy." (Cheers.)

Sardar Rur Singh (Ferozepore East, Sikh, Rural) (Punjab): Sir, the problem of education is an important one. Many speakers, who have preceded me, have expressed their views on this problem in the form of long lectures. I am not a lecturer, nor do I believe that anything can be achieved by mere lectures, for lectures seldom result in action and my motto is to be always up and doing.

The Education Department should always keep this fact in view that he who works more ought to get a larger share of education. Obviously the bulk of the Government revenue is contributed by the industrious peasants and labourers ; it is therefore, imperative that an efficient system of education should be provided for them.

Allow me to suggest the various avenues through which education can be imparted. The first and foremost source of instruction is the child's parents. Next in importance come the newspapers, books, various societies, etc. Environment itself is a great educating factor. Now, I want to ask, how can you expect the children to be capable and efficient, if your methods of education are hopelessly defective and the parents of those children are miserably illiterate themselves ? There is but one remedy, namely to make education compulsory for all. As the first teachers of a child are its parents, therefore, every woman must be well-educated, and no mother should be deprived of the benefits of education.

My next submission is that the peasants and labourers ought to be given their due share in the matter of education. It is indeed a strange phenomenon that the overworked peasantry and the working classes who pay about 70 or 80 per cent. of the State revenue, are precisely the persons who are in great misery and distress. The state of their education or rather the lack of it, is such that hardly one per cent. of their vast numbers have received some sort of instruction. So I will urge the Government to spend more on the education of this particular section of the community. Everybody looks at the world from a viewpoint enjoined by his conscience. My standpoint is this. The peasant and the labourer constitute, by common consent, the motive power of the world activities. But the fruits of their labour go to those who own and control the means of production, and who possess wealth and power. So long as the hard-working peasantry is not educated, so long as the labourers remain untutored, you cannot achieve anything, howsoever new and brave be the schemes that you put forward. The poverty stricken labouring classes in spite of their working hard day and night, in the scorching heat and biting cold, cannot provide for themselves even the barest necessities of life. They cannot afford to bear the educational expenses of their children. It appears that God has created these poor labourers to serve the rich so that the latter may be able to lead an easy life. The labourers prepare all sorts of delicious foods for the rich, but as regards themselves, they cannot get even the coarsest meals. So far as my diagnosis goes, their illiteracy is responsible for their miseries. My submission is that those who hold the reins of Government, i.e., the ministry, should try to ameliorate the condition of the poor who pay the largest quota of land revenue. I may point out that these poor people are compelled to grease the palms of Government officials. They are much oppressed by them. If they lodge a complaint against them, nobody pays any heed to it. The Government officials always treat them coldly because they are illiterate and impecunious. Nowadays they are under the iron rule of ' might is right.'

It is a thousand pities that those who possess the real 'might' are being victimised because of their illiteracy. My appeal is 'Banish illiteracy from amongst them and they will learn to stand on their own legs.'

I wish to bring another point to the notice of the honourable members. Here on the floor of this House, some honourable members have laid great stress on the necessity of higher education. I am sorry to point out that lakhs of rupees are disbursed on higher education while primary education goes neglected for lack of funds. My respectful submission is that unless we make primary education compulsory, higher education is meaningless. If we just give a serious thought to the matter we will find that so long as one is not able to grasp things intelligently, which is impossible without undergoing primary education, one cannot derive any benefit from higher education. I request Government that instead of opening high or middle schools or establishing libraries at various places, they should set up a net work of primary schools in rural areas for the removal of illiteracy. It is declared from house tops that our standard of living is low and therefore, it should be raised. I ask, how can the standard of living of these poor people be raised, who cannot get two square meals a day and do not possess sufficient means to provide themselves with the barest necessities of life? If Government are sincere in their professions viz. that of raising the standard of living of the poor, they should spread primary education among the masses as extensively as possible.

The real object of education is to improve the health, wealth, brain powers, character, etc., of the people. In my opinion the dissemination of primary education among the illiterate masses is the only means of attaining these objects. It is useless to press for the advancement of higher education. The text books prescribed for higher studies are responsible for spreading misunderstanding among us. They do not contain teachings that can create harmony and concord among us, but on the other hand are rather full of the praises of the British. My submission is that so long as we do not realise the urgent necessity of spreading primary education, we cannot hope to make any progress. With these words I bring my speech to a close.

Shaikh Karamat Ali (Nankana Sahib, Muhammadan, Rural): Sir, after the eloquent and most illuminating speech delivered by my colleague Mrs. Shah Nawaz, I do not see there is anything left, which may be urged in refutation of the points raised by the Opposition. What surprises me most, is that much digression is indulged in on the floor of this House and I have noticed that in our discussions we do not confine ourselves to the subject of our motions at all and enter into certain details which are absolutely irrelevant. My honourable friend opposite, Mr. Bhim Sen Sachar confused the functions of the University with those of the service securing agency of some private firm. The aim of a university is to enable its students to enter some vocational institution or to equip youngmen to find out ways or means to make their living merely on the score of the education received in the University.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar: I did not say that.

Shaikh Karamat Ali : Yes, you did say that on their getting out, students cannot get anything in the market, nor does the University help them. That does not mean that the University undertakes to provide them service ; the function of [the University is to train minds but not to supply jobs. That is not the function of the University. I want to explain that the University is not an institution meant for all and sundry. Education for the sake of education is meant only for those who can afford it, while higher education is meant for those who seek it with a view to enter into certain vocations in life by means of which they can earn their livelihood or to enable themselves to sit in an examination which will serve some purpose.

Communalism was another point which he intimately associated with the education of the University or colleges as I can properly call it. I would like to remind the honourable member that in this unfortunate province it is not the colleges or schools where communalism takes root. It is not the system of education which is the cause of this poison, but it is the tradition of one's home and environments which is responsible. Communalism is imbibed by us from the very lap of our mothers, when we are mere sucklings. It is really unfortunate that our very homes have become the nurseries of communalism. I am referring to the ordinary ways in which Hindu children begin to think and behave differently from those of the Muslim children and vice versa. It is unfortunate that from their very young age, not actually in a conscious manner but by tradition and by habits, they imbibe the spirit of communalism.

After explaining briefly that communalism is not the result of the University or College education, I now proceed to discuss a very pertinent point raised by Sardar Hari Singh, the mover of the cut motion, that the medium of instruction must be one of the vernaculars of the country. I believe that as an ideal, this is one of the most laudable suggestions, but we have got to see to the practical side of this question. We have to see how far it would be practicable for us to adopt one of the vernaculars as the medium of imparting instruction to the young ones at this stage. If I mistake not, as long as the language of a country remains English, as long as we have to carry on the work in all the offices in English and as also all correspondence in firms is carried on in that language, I do not for a moment believe that the medium of instruction can be anything else but English. I do not say that the vernaculars should not be encouraged as an ideal which one must strive for, but the question is how far it is practicable at this stage to introduce them in the colleges and the University, in view of the reason given above.

The second point in this connection which I want to urge and which I consider to be of very great importance is that the vernaculars are very poor so far as scientific phraseology and terms are concerned. The technical expressions which are generally found in the various sciences, it is very hard for one to find equivalent expressions in our own vernaculars. A reference was made by the honourable mover to an effort which is being made in the Hyderabad State by the Usmania University for imparting instruction to its students in the vernacular. That is all very well. It is a very big experiment that is being tried by that State, and we have yet to see its results. Undoubtedly much labour and money have been spent on that undertaking and an experiment is being tried on a gigantic scale but I believe here in this province we do not have that much revenue or resources to enable us to try the same experiment with any appreciable success. We have yet to see how far we can succeed in making Urdu, Hindi or any other vernacular as a useful and practicable medium of instruction. But I can assure this honourable House that even the Hyderabad State has not succeeded in compiling a complete glossary of all these terms and expressions which are needed to convey the exact meaning of the scientific terms. (A voice: Why not make a beginning here too?) I have just explained to my friends in the House that even for a beginning to be made it is highly necessary that we should be in a position to find exact terms in our own vernacular which may be equivalent to what is already found in the scientific books dealing with those subjects, but as long as there is nothing of that sort, I do not see how we can safely venture to make a beginning even.

One other matter, which ought not to be lost sight of in this connection is, that if we want to receive from the western education all the blessings which all these scientific experiments and scientific researches can give and so far have been conferred on the world at large, I do not see how we can possibly detach ourselves from this medium of expression and hold that any such instruction should be imparted in any language other than English. Not only from this point of view I urge that English is highly desirable, but from the point of view of cheapness and economy too. I believe that the English as medium of instruction is more suitable. I may not be misunderstood to mean that I am in any way against encouraging the vernaculars. I certainly do not want that they should be neglected as they are being done now. A very good model in this respect may be quoted. In the Aligarh University Urdu is one of the compulsory subjects in all the classes. Adoption of a similar step in the Punjab will not be out of place. The importance that ought to be given to the vernacular is not being given at present, for I remember that the vernaculars—Hindi, Punjabi and Urdu in colleges at present only take a secondary place—they are only optional but not compulsory, but I personally believe that it will serve a very good purpose if more attention is given to this question and vernacular is made compulsory in the colleges. This experiment is successfully being tried in residential universities like Aligarh and Benares.

Then there was the point raised by an honourable member opposite that our universities only serve as huge factories for manufacturing graduates. I personally believe that the university curriculum stands in immediate need of drastic reforms. The number of subjects prescribed for various examinations is too large and the combination of subjects allows very little choice. This naturally results in taking up unwanted and unnecessary subjects by the students. The student is not only thereby forced to waste time and energy, but his trend of healthy specialisation is also retarded.

The number of subjects prescribed for various examinations should be reduced and a wider range of choice should be allowed in the combination of subjects. Moreover the study of modern and useful subjects such as economics, psychology, politics and physical sciences should be encouraged.

[Sh. Karamat Ali.]

Another point was raised by my friend, Sardar Hari Singh, the mover of this cut motion, that the University at present has not moved an inch further from the place where it started when originally it started as an examining body. I do concede that point. I personally believe that a university which has not so far taken upon itself the task of teaching and also supervision of the students is not serving the real purpose for which universities are established.

We have in this country, I mean, in India, two residential universities—one at Aligarh and the other at Benares. I personally believe that both these universities are trying to inculcate moral education in a very effective manner and also looking after the character of the students and that is because of the supervising character of the universities.

It has been said that the education as imparted in the colleges is very expensive. When my friend remarked that the students' physique is poor and a lot of money is being spent on turning out graduates he meant to say that the education is expensive. On that point I must certainly discredit the view that has been put forward. Why? The fees paid for tuition are a very small proportion of the whole amount that is being spent on the maintenance of the students in the colleges at various centres. That by no means would mean a strong argument that education is very dear. But what of course has been the cause of this trouble is that the students at various centres have actually indulged in very high living. The fopish tendencies of the student class and the high cost of living in centres like Lahore are responsible for the high expense that the parents have to bear. It is in places like Lahore and Delhi that the students become a source of burden to their parents, but with regard to other centres outside Lahore and Delhi this trouble is not found.

The only solution that I would suggest by way of seeing that the burden of the parents is actually lightened is, that by legislation and if possible under our provincial autonomy, universities at various other centres be opened in the province. When I make this recommendation, I am absolutely conscious of the fact that the revenues of the State do not permit of any such extravagant extension to be made or even considered, but in order that the University should become an effective organ imparting education, the principle of multiple universities may be introduced in the province; I would, therefore, request the Honourable Minister for Education to give his attention more to this aspect of the question.

I find that there is another point raised by the honourable mover, which I consider, is of very great importance and that is the question of examinations. I believe that the system of examinations is really very defective and before I actually touch the defects I must point out to the honourable members of this House that the management of this side of the University has shown marked improvement since its consolidation by Mr. S. P. Singha, the Controller of Examinations (who is also a member of this House). But with regard to the real difficulty that these examinations are mere tests of memory, when they should be real tests of knowledge and intelligence, no real solution has so far been suggested. I believe that the examination method is very defective and this basic defect in the examination system has to be looked into in detail for necessary improvements.

If I were to put forward any practical suggestions as to how this can be done, then I would say that the tests in various subjects during the course of examinations should be not merely tests of memory but should be those of intelligence and sound knowledge and that questions of general nature dealing with the separate subjects, should, therefore, be asked.

Then there is a further point which has to be brought to the notice of this honourable House and that is, what is the aim of University education? My friend opposite said that our universities do not turn out good citizens. It is not the fault of the universities if we are not having good citizens turned out by them, citizens having character. The system of education, as far as I understand it is not responsible for this drawback but it is due to several other causes, for instance, environment, traditions, association, breeding and the personal capacity of the student himself, for receiving what he cares to choose from the university and college education. Education, however, undertakes to build one's character and further teaches the social formula of "live and let live."

Mr. Speaker : Under our rules we cannot continue discussion on any demand for grant after 4-30 P.M. This is my answer to Lala Deshbandhu Gupta's question, which he raised this morning asking whether my ruling, given on the 6th instant, was correct. I gave no ruling. The House wanted to hear the Minister and I did not object. However, the rule on the point is so clear and distinct that I have to close the debate at the fixed hour.

The Assembly then adjourned till 11 A.M. on Friday, 9th July, 1937.

PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

1ST SESSION OF THE 1ST PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Friday, 9th July, 1937.

*The Assembly met at the Assembly Chamber, Simla at 11 A.M. of the clock.

STARRED QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

ELECTRIC SUPPLY FOR THE RESIDENTS OF TOP KHANA BAZAR, LAHORE CANTONMENT.

91. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the residents of Top Khana Bazar, Lahore Cantonment, submitted applications to the Cantonment Board for supply of electricity from Uhl River Hydro-Electric Supply mains ;
- (b) whether it is also a fact that other areas in Lahore Cantonment and round about those areas are getting their energy from the above-mentioned source ;
- (c) whether the Government is contemplating to accede to the request mentioned in (a) above : if so, when ; if not, why not ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes.

(b) No. Saddar Bazar, Lahore Cantonment, only is being supplied at present.

(c) Yes ; arrangements for giving supply in Royal Artillery Bazar (Top Khana Bazar) have not so far been made as the necessary permission for giving supply in that area has not yet been accorded by the military authorities.

BHAKRA DAM SCHEME.

92. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state whether the Bhakra Dam Scheme intended to irrigate the lands in Rohtak and Hissar districts is still under consideration and if so, when it is expected to be undertaken ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : The reply to the first part of the question is in the affirmative.

With regard to the second part, it is difficult to say when the scheme could be undertaken as this depends upon satisfactory agreement, with the owners of the land required for the reservoir and with other interested parties. Government will be prepared to consider the undertaking of the scheme if and when a satisfactory agreement has been come to.

SODHI ARJAN SINGH OF JARANWALA MUNICIPALITY.

93. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether Sodhi Arjan Singh's name was removed on 8th February, 1936, from the list of the members of the Jaranwala Municipal Committee ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that no bye-election was ordered to fill the place vacated by him till December, 1936 ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that Sodhi Arjan Singh has now been disqualified to stand as a candidate for the municipal committee for five years ;
- (d) the reasons for taking this step after one year ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes.

(b) There was no bye-election for the vacancy caused by the removal of Sardar Arjan Singh.

(c) Yes.

(d) Under sub-section (2) of section 16 of the Punjab Municipal Act, 1911, every member removed under sub-section (i) thereof, must be disqualified for a period not exceeding five years. The period of disqualification was not fixed at the time owing to an oversight. When this omission was brought to light the period of disqualification was fixed at five years.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Minister be pleased to state whether Sodhi Arjan Singh took active part in the reception of Babu Rajendra Prasad when he went on his Quetta relief visit in 1935 ?

Minister : I have already said that orders for his removal were passed by the last Government.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Is it a fact that he took an active part in the reception and the Deputy Commissioner took exception to it ?

Minister : I have no knowledge or record of any social function.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Is it not a fact that there was a dispute between the President and the Secretary ?

Minister : Not to my knowledge.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Is it a fact that the Deputy Commissioner of that place sided with the Secretary and recommended the removal of this man from Presidentship ?

Minister : There were grave charges against this man. I am not aware whether there was any dispute between him and the Secretary.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Did he make any representation in reply to the charges made against him ?

Minister : As I have already said the matter was gone through by the last Government.

MURDER OF ONE MANU LAL AT PALWAL.

94. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the result of investigation made by police so far in a case of murder, accompanied by robbery of one Manu Lal at Palwal (Gurgaon) ;
- (b) whether Government is aware that the elder brother of the said Manu Lal is receiving threatening anonymous letters ; if so, what action has been taken by the police to protect the life and property of the man ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) The investigation is not yet complete. A special officer has been deputed to conduct it under the personal supervision of the Superintendent of Police.

(b) Yes. Arrangements have been made to keep the persons suspected of writing these letters under suitable supervision, as well as those suspected in the murder case.

 DEHATI SILSILA-I-HISAB, HISSA CHAHARUM.

95. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the attention of the Government has been drawn to questions nos. 15 and 21 of Exercise no. 2 and question no. 8 of Exercise on pages 13, 14 and 256, respectively, of the text book "Dehati Silsila-i-Hisab, Hissa Chaharum" ;
- (b) whether this text book was passed and recommended by the Text Book Committee for use for the fourth primary class throughout the province ;
- (c) if not, why not ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) No. Not until the honourable member drew our attention to these questions.

(b) Yes.

(c) Does not arise.

 MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, PALWAL AND ITS PRESIDENT.

96. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that there exists a party faction in the Municipal Committee, Palwal (Gurgaon) ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that the President of the Municipal Committee, Palwal, made a report to the police against the Vice-President Pandit Hira Lal stating therein that the latter had stolen a sum of Rs. 18-1-9 from the cash box of an octroi moharrir ;
- (c) the result of investigation by the police in the first instance ;

[Pt. Shri Ram Sharma.]

- (d) whether it is a fact that police after investigation in the first instance reported that the complaint was false and was based on party faction ;
- (e) whether it is a fact that the President again approached the authorities with a request for another police investigation in this matter ;
- (f) the result of the investigation made for the second time ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes.

(b) Yes. A case was registered in Police Station, Palwal, on the 12th March, 1937.

(c) and (d). The first investigation officer was of opinion that the case was false, but no final decision was arrived at as the investigation was not complete.

(e) No. Investigation has been continuous.

(f) The final result is that the case is being filed as untraced.

WATER FOR REWARI WATER WORKS.

97. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that water made available from the Rewari water works is unfit for human consumption ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that this water was examined and analysed by an expert ; if so, the result of his analysis ;
- (c) what action, if any, the Government proposes to take in the interest of the health of people of Rewari in this respect ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) The supply of water from the water works head Rewari is chlorinated and so long as the chlorination is properly done, the water is fit for human consumption.

(b) Yes. Nine samples of water from different sources were sent for analysis. Two of the samples show evidence of contamination.

(c) The local body is responsible for excluding water from contaminated sources from the water works supply. A further investigation will now be made to ascertain whether the water is being properly chlorinated and the Committee will be informed that if they wish expert advice for eliminating contamination this will be given them.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Will the Honourable Minister be pleased to state whether the Government is prepared to examine the water again, and how long it will take to do so ?

Minister : We have made the offer. Now it is for the local body concerned to move quickly in the matter.

A STUDY OF THE WORKING OF THE DEBT CONCILIATION BOARD IN JHANG DISTRICT.

*98. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether a booklet named 'A study of the working of the Debt Conciliation Board in Jhang district' published under the authority of the District Hindu Sahayak Sabha, Jhang, and circulated among the members of the Assembly, has come to his notice ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that definite and specific allegations have been made in that booklet against all the three members, one Hindu and two Muslims, of the Debt Conciliation Board ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that many concrete instances, each supported by particulars, have been cited in that booklet as to the ways and methods of Debt Conciliation Board ; if so, what action is intended to be taken in the matter ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) and (b) Yes.

(c) Yes. Government have already made inquiries in connection with several complaints of the same kind as those in the booklet. The result of these inquiries satisfies them that the allegations are not well founded.

Lala Duni Chand : Have the three members of the Debt Conciliation Board taken any steps to vindicate themselves against serious allegations made against them ?

Premier : Yes, they have also submitted a very explicit and luminous reply to these allegations.

Lala Duni Chand : Will the Government direct these members of the Conciliation Board to take steps to vindicate themselves against these allegations in a court of law or otherwise ?

Premier : I have already said that the allegations are not well founded.

Lala Duni Chand : Assuming that they are not well founded, then it amounts to defamation and it is all the more necessary for them to vindicate themselves in a court of law and get those people, who have attacked them, convicted.

Premier : Now the honourable member assumes that they are not well founded and that it is for them to go to a court of law and vindicate themselves.

Lala Duni Chand : I grant that they are absolutely correct. Will the Government take proper steps ?

Premier : In regard to what ?

Lala Duni Chand : In regard to the attacks made upon the members of the Conciliation Board.

Premier : I have already stated that these attacks were unjustified.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : May I request the Honourable Premier to inform the House about the nature of the enquiry, whether it was a public enquiry or an official one ?

Premier : Not a public enquiry.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Were the members of the Hindu Sahayak Sabha given an opportunity of proving the allegations, which were contained in the booklet, to the investigating officer ?

Premier : I am not aware.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : If they were not given an opportunity of proving the allegations, will the Government please give them an opportunity of proving those allegations now ?

Premier : They can go to a court of law.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Will Government consider the desirability of making a report of the investigating officer available to the Hindu Sahayak Sabha with a view to enable them to combat it ?

Premier : The Government, as my honourable friend Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang suggested, may prosecute that gentleman who has published that pamphlet. Then they will have an opportunity of vindicating themselves.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it true that majority of charges are based upon judicial records prepared by those gentlemen themselves ?

Premier : I am afraid, I have nothing to add to what I have already said.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Will Government consider it advisable to give these members an opportunity of meeting it with a view to avoid any unpleasant happening and for having a face to face talk ?

Premier : It is not a question of a face to face talk. As I have already said, I have taken steps towards their prosecution. They will have ample opportunity of proving their allegations in a court of law.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Will it not be possible, in view of the seriousness of the matter, to hold a public enquiry into this affair before entrusting the matter to a court of law ?

Syed Mubarak Ali Shah : Will the Honourable Premier please state whether it is a fact that a sub-committee of the Jhang Bar Association consisting of—

- (1) Pandit Moti Ram Sharma, the leading civil lawyer of the place,
- (2) Diwan Sawan Mal, a prominent civil lawyer of the place,
- (3) Mr. Mehr Chand, another civil lawyer,
- (4) Mr. S. S. Taneja, Bar-at-Law,
- (5) Lala Lal Chand Khanna, and
- (6) Chaudhri Raja Ram, was appointed " within less than two months of the setting up of the Debt Conciliation Board at Jhang " to enquire into and report on the working of the said Board, and publish its report accordingly ?

Is it also a fact that the last three named gentlemen, possessing landed property in Jhang rural areas were also the aspirants for membership of the Board ?

Premier : I believe that a report was received but I cannot remember whether the signatories to that report were all the gentlemen named by my honourable friend.

Syed Mubarak Ali Shah : Is it also a fact that with the establishment of the said Board, a great decrease has taken place in the number of civil suits in the Jhang district ?

Premier : That is certain.

Syed Mubarak Ali Shah : Is it also a fact that owing to less civil work, the income of civil lawyers at Jhang has been very badly affected ?

Premier : I should think so.

Syed Mubarak Ali Shah : Is it a fact that under section 24 of the Punjab Relief of Indebtedness Act, nobody can appear on behalf of a party except with the permission of the Board.

Premier : I believe that the honourable member's assumption is correct.

Syed Mubarak Ali Shah : Is it also a fact that the Jhang District Hindu Sahayak Sabha, which has published the present report, has recently been formed and Pandit Moti Ram Sharma, President of the above sub-committee, is its President and the same Lala Lal Chand Khanna, one of the members of the sub-committee, is its honorary secretary ?

Premier : As no names are mentioned in the report, I am afraid I cannot say whether what the honourable member says is correct.

Syed Mubarak Ali Shah : Is it a fact that the said gentlemen objected to the appointment of Rai Bahadur Girdhari Lal as he did not belong to any rural area ?

Premier : I cannot give an answer off-hand.

Syed Mubarak Ali Shah : Is it also a fact that Rai Bahadur Girdhari Lal fell ill and his son, Lala Brij Lal, officiated in his place for sometime and was subsequently confirmed as a member of the Board ?

Premier : Yes.

Lala Duni Chand : Have the Government given any undertaking to anybody to the effect that these gentlemen will be replaced by others on account of the serious allegations made against them ?

Premier : How does that question arise ?

Lala Duni Chand : The question is directed towards proving the improper conduct on the part of these three gentlemen.

Premier : Government has no intention of changing the personnel of the Board.

Lala Duni Chand : If Government itself is satisfied as regards the seriousness of the allegations—

Mr. Speaker : The Honourable Premier has already said that Government has no intention of changing the personnel of the Board.

Syed Afzaal Ali Hasnie : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state if he is aware that the Chairman and the Secretary of the District

[S. Afzaal Ali Hasnie.]

Hindu Sahayak Sabha, Jhang, are both lawyers by profession and that these gentlemen are again the chairman and secretary respectively of the District Bar Association, Jhang?

Premier : I am afraid I cannot answer that question because no names are mentioned in that leaflet.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : In view of the fact that the conduct of the members of the Board will be a matter directly in issue if the case goes to a court of law, will it not be desirable to remove them from the membership of the Board during the period that the case is pending in the court?

Premier : Certainly not.

PERSONS EXPELLED FROM THE PUNJAB SINCE APRIL, 1937.

Khawaja Ghulam Hussain : On behalf of Diwan Chaman Lal, I put question No. *99.

Khan Muhammad Yusaf Khan : On a point of order. Questions on behalf of absent members cannot be asked unless and until the questions of the members who are present are first disposed of.

Mr. Speaker : That is not the practice of this House.

Khan Muhammad Yusaf Khan : But it is parliamentary practice.

Mr. Speaker : Yes.

*99. (Diwan Chaman Lal) : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the numbers and names of persons, if any, expelled from the Punjab since April 1st, 1937 ;
- (b) will he also kindly state the reasons in each case for such expulsion and the authority under which such action was taken and whether a judicial enquiry was held in each case before action was taken ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) One. It is not in the public interest to give the name.

(b) Maintenance of public safety or peace [section 3, Criminal Law (Amendment) Act, 1935]. No judicial enquiry was necessary.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it true that one Sardar Bhagwan Singh has recently been arrested and externed? If so, will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state the reasons for taking this action?

Premier : I am afraid I cannot see how that arises out of this question.

Lala Duni Chand : I leave it to the Honourable Speaker whether this supplementary question does or does not arise. The question I put was, is the Honourable Premier aware of the fact that Sardar Bhagwan Singh has been recently arrested and externed and if so will he be pleased to state the reasons for that step?

Mr. Speaker : How does that question arise?

Lala Duni Chand : The original question relates to all those persons, who have been arrested, interned and externed since April 1st, 1937.

Premier : No, no. It refers to the persons, if any, expelled from the Punjab since April 1st, 1937, and I have replied that the number is one.

Lala Duni Chand : Sardar Bhagwan Singh has been expelled from the Punjab.

Premier : The honourable member is assuming something which is not true.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it not a fact that Sardar Bhagwan Singh has been expelled or arrested ?

Premier : How does it arise out of this question ?

Lala Duni Chand : I have already submitted to the Honourable Speaker that the question relates to the number of persons who have been expelled since April, 1937. Now this man has been expelled from the Punjab about a week or ten days ago.

Premier : No, Sir.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Is Mr. Massani of Bombay included in the number one given by the Honourable Premier ?

Premier : I do not think it is in the public interest to answer that question ; but the gentleman named is not included.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Does this number also include Mr. Ghate of Madras ?

Premier : I do not propose to answer that question.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : May we know the name of that one person ?

Premier : It is not in the public interest to answer that question.

Lala Duni Chand : Has the Honourable Premier got any idea as to who this Bhagwan Singh is about whom I am putting the question ?

(No answer.)

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Was some notice served on Sardar Bhagwan Singh to the effect that he should go out of the Punjab ?

Premier : Notice was served on him.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Has it been since withdrawn ?

Premier : I understand he has been convicted by a court of law. I saw this in the papers this morning.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Did that notice mention the period before the expiry of which he should have gone out of the Punjab ?

(No answer.)

Lala Duni Chand : Is it true that Bhagwan Singh has been convicted for disobeying the externment order of which the Honourable Premier is not aware ?

Premier : I saw in the papers that he has been convicted. Probably the official information will come to me in due course if that news is correct.

UNAUTHORISED METHODS EMPLOYED TO WRING OUT CONFESSIONS.

100. Diwan Chaman Lall : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether his attention has been drawn to the remarks made on several occasions by the Honourable Chief Justice of the High Court of Judicature at Lahore deploring the unauthorised methods employed by persons in authority in obtaining confessions in criminal cases ; if so, what steps have been taken or are intended to be taken to put an end to such methods ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : It is not clear to what particular cases the honourable member refers, but all judgments containing strictures on the police are carefully studied by Government. The honourable member must, I think, be aware that every effort is made by Government and the superior officers of the police to ensure that abuses of this kind are drastically punished, whenever cases are proved.

WORKERS IN CERTAIN FACTORIES IN THE PUNJAB.

101. Diwan Chaman Lall : Will the Honourable Minister for Development be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of factories in the Punjab town by town and the number of males, females and children employed in each such factory as wage-earners ; and also the number of Factory Inspectors appointed district by district ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that certain factories in Amritsar and Gurdaspur districts have been regularly contravening the provisions of the Factories Act relating to hours of work ;
- (c) whether Government intends to take steps to remedy this state of affairs ; if so, what ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a) A statement is laid on the table.

(b) No.

(c) Does not arise.

UNEMPLOYMENT IN THE PROVINCE.

102. Khawaja Ghulam Hussain : Will the Honourable Minister for Development be pleased to state—

- (a) whether Government have prepared statistics showing the number of unemployed persons in the Punjab, who are educated up to the Matriculation standard or upwards ;
- (b) the efforts, if any, so far made by Government to collect annually the number of unemployed in the Punjab ;
- (c) whether Government now proposes to find out the number of unemployed persons in the province ; if not, why not ;
- (d) whether Government has any scheme under contemplation for the relief of unemployment ; and if so, whether it will lay that scheme in its broad outlines on the table of the House ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a) and (b) An Employment Bureau has been established in the office of the Director of Industries, Punjab, for the dual purpose of—

- (i) recording statistics of unemployment among all classes of graduates and the products of intermediate colleges, secondary schools and industrial and technical schools and institutes, and
- (ii) helping to bring together the employer and the unemployed.

The Bureau started working on 1st August, 1936. The existence of the Bureau has been brought to the notice of the general public by means of press notes published on two occasions, viz., in July, 1936 and January, 1937. The registration of names of the unemployed with the Bureau is voluntary. Response from the unemployed for the registration of their names has not, however, been very encouraging; in all nearly 1,000 educated unemployed and men with technical qualifications have so far got themselves enrolled on the registers of the Bureau.

(c) The Bureau is functioning, and it is open to the unemployed to get themselves registered on its rolls.

(d) Several requests have been received by the Bureau from private and Government employers, and names of qualified unemployed persons on the registers have been forwarded to them for consideration, but usually without success. The Punjab Government have brought the Bureau specially to the notice of all heads of departments in the Punjab, while the owners of registered factories have been addressed individually by the Director of Industries.

The Punjab Government has had and has under its active consideration several measures to provide additional avenues of employment, e.g., by means of—

- (i) extension of the facilities for industrial and technical education,
- (ii) revision of the schemes of studies of industrial schools with a view to make them of greater practical utility. The object of the revised scheme is to enable the pupils to produce articles of daily utility which are at present imported from elsewhere,
- (iii) provision of marketing facilities for manufacturers. Special marketing organizations have been set up for cotton handloom weavers and printers. Marketing facilities will further be provided for the woollen goods produced by cottage workers and small scale factory owners, and
- (iv) provision of industrial intelligence and assistance in other forms to industrialists and prospective manufacturers, e.g., financial aid and help in securing concessions.

The Punjab Government are alive to the necessity of relieving unemployment among the educated classes and have accordingly decided to appoint a committee to go into the problem of unemployment.

PROVINCIALISING OF MUKTSAR-MALOUT ROAD.

*103. Pir Akbar Ali : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the Ferozepore District Board authorities were recently informed by the Government that the question of provincialising the Muktsar-Malout road was under its consideration; if so, whether a final decision has so far been reached in the matter ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : There is a proposal to provincialise the Muktsar-Malout road, but no decision on the subject has yet been arrived at by Government.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : Will the Honourable Minister be pleased to consider the provincialisation of district board roads of other districts ?

Minister : How does it arise out of this question ?

POLICE EXCESSES.

104. Khawaja Ghulam Hussain : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state whether the attention of the Government has been drawn to the judgment of Division Bench consisting of the Honourable the Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Munroe of the Lahore High Court in a murder appeal Shoran versus Crown published in a local newspaper, dated the May 13th, 1937, in which their Lordships have condemned in unequivocal terms the method used by police in wringing confession out of villagers through lambardars and have suggested to the Government to take most serious steps to see that this procedure is stopped immediately ; if so, what action is proposed to be taken in the matter ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : Government have noticed an extract of the judgment published in the "Statesman" of the 13th May, 1937. The matter is being inquired into. I should like to add that it was the police who in this case found out that the confession was not true and their action was commended by the Honourable Judges. The insinuation in the question against the police is, therefore, unjust and baseless.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Is it a fact that condemnation of the police in such cases—not particularly in this case, but in similar cases—has actually been made by the Chief Justice ?

Premier : I do not think it arises out of this question, but I dare say that the High Court have passed strictures in certain cases. I have already said that we would look into those cases.

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh : Is it a fact that in the Doaba Manko case too confessions were painfully extorted ?

Premier : I am afraid I can say nothing off-hand.

WOOD CUTTING ON THE SHIVALAK HILLS.

105. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the proprietors of 72 villages lying along the foot of the Shivalak Hills between Chandigarh and Ruper in the Ambala district are not allowed to cut wood even from their own holdings without obtaining sanction beforehand of the Forest Department ; if so, what action Government propose to remove the disability ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : There are 34 and not 72 villages to which the provisions of the Punjab Land Preservation (Chos) Act, 1900, were extended. Under section 4 of the Act the cutting of trees and the collection or removal of timber for sale as a means of profit, income or livelihood has been prohibited but not when this is done for a bona fide domestic or agricultural purpose provided the formal permission of the Deputy Commissioner is obtained.

Government do not propose to take any action, because the prohibition is in the interest of the inhabitants of the villages concerned and is necessary for the protection of the area from deforestation and damage by chos.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it a fact that the working of this Chos Act is leading to great harassment of the people of these villages ?

Minister : I am not aware of it.

GUJJARS OF HOSHIARPUR DISTRICT.

106. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that Gujjars of Hoshiarpur district have been recently removed from the list of agricultural tribes within the meaning of the Punjab Land Alienation Act; if so, the reason for this action;
- (b) what steps Government propose to take in the matter of restoring them to their former status?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) No.

(b) Does not arise.

LICENSES TO TAXIS ON THE KALKA-SIMLA ROAD.

107. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that this year a much smaller number of taxis have been granted licences on the Kalka-Simla road than was the case last year;
- (b) whether it is a fact that the hire charged for taxis between Kalka and Simla this year is higher than in previous years; if so, the reasons for the same;
- (c) what steps the Government propose to take in the matter?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) No.

(b) The rates are always subject to fluctuations, according to the amount of traffic offering itself in any given week of the season. So far as Government are aware the average rates charged this year are not higher than they were in 1936.

(c) Does not arise.

Syed Amjad Ali Shah : Would it not be advisable to fix rates?

Minister : I do not think this is possible.

QUACK MEDICINES.

108. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state—

- (a) whether the advertisement of quack medicines through newspapers, hand-bills and posters is being extensively carried on and the sale of such medicines has become a regular trade in the province ;
- (b) whether the Government propose to take any steps in the matter ; if so, what ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) Government are aware that there is a regular trade in quack medicines being carried on in the province.

(b) Government have no proposals under consideration to check their sale. Quack medicines are mostly of indigenous origin and in the absence of a public opinion against their sale any action proposed by the Government is likely to be interpreted as interference in the rights of indigenous systems of medicines, as most of the medicines are alleged to be prepared from the formulas derived from those sources. Government would be prepared to consider the restriction of their sale, but in any case legitimate interests of indigenous system of medicine will have to be safeguarded.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Is it a fact that the Honourable Minister is confusing the word indigenous with the word quack ?

Minister : No. The word quack has in this question been used in connection with indigenous medicines.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I know whether patent medicines whose prescription is not known or is not given on the label of the bottle are also counted as quack medicines ?

Minister : No.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Is it a fact that there exist quack medicines (apart from other medicines recognised under any particular system of medicine) and whether they are injurious to the health and well-being of the people of this province.

Minister : Not necessarily.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Did the Honourable Minister himself use any quack medicine and can he say from personal experience that they are not necessarily injurious ?

Minister : I say it from commonsense.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Does common sense say that quack medicines are not injurious ?

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Is it a fact that sanads for vaidas and hakims are available in the market and can be purchased ?

Minister : That does not arise out of this question.

QUACKS.

109. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister for Education please state—

- (a) whether it has been brought to his notice that there are a large number of unqualified persons who pose as allopaths, homeopaths, v aids and hakims and practise medicine as well as surgery in the province ;
- (b) whether Government has ever collected information as regards the number of persons who have been killed or otherwise harmed by them ;
- (c) the number of persons, if any, prosecuted during the year 1936, for false impersonation as qualified v aids, hakims and doctors ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) Yes.

(b) No.

(c) As there is no Registration Act for v aids and hakims, no person can be prosecuted for false impersonation as such. Two persons were, however, prosecuted during the year 1936, for false impersonation as registered medical practitioners.

CONCESSIONS IN WATER-RATES FOR GROWING FODDER CROPS.

110. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state whether concessions in water-rates are being given for growing various fodder crops by canal authorities in the interests of animal husbandry ; if so, the number of such concessions during the last year ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : The concession lies in the low rate for abiana and in the large variety of crops classed as fodder, list attached herewith. The last part of the question does not arise.

It is not however clear from the question what particular information the honourable member wants. If he will give me a definite question, endeavour would be made to give him the wanted information.

List of Fodder Crops.

1. Jowar (Great millet).
2. Kangni (Italian millet).
3. Lucerne or Alf Alfa.
4. Grass.
5. Chari.
6. Moth.
7. Guar.
8. Sawank.
9. Rawans.
10. Madal.
11. Turnips.
12. Senji.
13. Mains.
14. Shaftal.
15. Methra.

[Minister for Revenue.]

16. Sarson and Tars Mira when sown with Senji and cut green for fodder.
17. Fields containing admixture of wheat or Kasni which does not appreciably enhance the value of the fodder crop.
18. Oats grown in declared paddock areas.
19. Maize grown for fodder sown in March and April.
20. Charal, a kind of pea.
21. Berseem.

HILL TORRENTS IN THE AMBALA DISTRICT.

111. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue please state—

(a) whether it is a fact that in Ambala district, Sirsa and other hill streams play havoc with the agricultural land ; if so, whether Government propose to take any steps to stop or minimise the inroads of hill torrents on the neighbouring villages and lands ;

(b) whether the Government is prepared to compensate those persons whose lands have been submerged or otherwise adversely affected by hill torrents in the Ambala district ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) The honourable member's attention is invited to the reply given to question No. *5835,¹ asked by Chaudhri Allah Dad Khan in the October 1936 session of the Punjab Legislative Council. In addition to the sum of Rs. 2,500 mentioned therein, Rs. 1,000 were spent during 1936-37 and Rs. 1,100 have been provided for the same purpose in the budget estimate of the current financial year.

(b) No.

Lala Duni Chand : Is the present Government prepared to take a different attitude with regard to this matter from the attitude taken up by the last Government ?

Minister : I am not clear as to what the honourable member means. If he raises a question of policy, I should like to have notice of the question.

Lala Duni Chand : Do those people who are affected by hill torrents find any place in the scheme of distribution of squares of land ?

Minister : I think I have already given a reply to that question, that is, that such people are ordinarily given lands in the new colonies, each case being considered on its merits.

Lala Duni Chand : I am not aware of any answer given by the Revenue Minister. I should like the Revenue Minister to give an answer on the floor of the House.

Minister : The honourable member can look up the answer himself.

Lala Duni Chand : I appeal to you, Mr. Speaker. Is it for me to find out the answer or for the Honourable Minister to give the answer in the House ?

Mr. Speaker : When reference is made to an answer already given, the honourable member may find out the answer.

CASE AGAINST KHASLAT HUSSAIN, SUB-INSPECTOR OF POLICE, POLICE STATION HATHIN, DISTRICT GURGAON.

112. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that in consequence of complaints of corruption having been made against one Khaslat Husain, Sub-Inspector of Police of Police Station Hathin, district Gurgaon, he was prosecuted for taking bribe at the instance of one Ram Saran in the court of Mian Lal Singh, District Magistrate, Gurgaon ;

(b) whether it is a fact that the case was hushed up ;

(c) the circumstances which led to the dropping of the case ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) A complaint under sections 347 and 384, Indian Penal Code (extortion and wrongful confinement for the purpose of extortion) was filed in the court of the District Magistrate, Gurgaon, on the 14th May, 1936, by one Ram Saran Das Mahajan against the assistant sub-inspector named and two other persons.

(b) and (c) On the 13th January, 1937, the complainant presented an application in court that he did not desire to produce any evidence in support of his complaint. The accused were accordingly discharged by the District Magistrate under section 253, Criminal Procedure Code. There was no question of any hushing up.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it true that pressure was brought to bear upon this man to withdraw the complaint ?

Premier : No.

INTERMEDIATE COLLEGE AT RUPAR, DISTRICT AMBALA.

113. Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that Pandit Ganga Ram Sharma of Rupar, Ambala district, has been approaching the Punjab University since 1929 for permission to establish an Intermediate Arts College at Rupar and has been expressing his willingness to comply with all the conditions the fulfilment of which is necessary before the affiliation is granted ;

(b) whether it is a fact that he had actually started an Intermediate Arts College and it was not affiliated ;

(c) whether it is a fact that he offered to deposit the required amount with the University to meet the deficit expected to be incurred in running the college ;

(d) whether it is also a fact that he is prepared to hand over the management of the college to a legally constituted committee to be approved of by the University ;

- (e) whether it is a fact that within a radius of twenty miles or so, there are ten high schools which can feed the college ;
- (f) whether it is a fact that at present there is no Government or private college in Ambala district ; if so, whether the Government is likely to start one shortly ;
- (g) if the replies to (a) to (e) be in the affirmative and that to (f) in the negative, what steps Government propose to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) Yes. Pandit Ganga Ram Sharma of Rupar, Ambala district, has been approaching the Punjab University since 1929 for permission to establish an Intermediate Arts College at Rupar. In 1931 an enquiry committee was appointed which recommended affiliation on fulfilment of certain conditions. The Syndicate on 15th February, 1931, decided that when the applicant fulfilled the conditions it would be prepared to recommend affiliation to the Senate. He not only failed to fulfill these conditions, but expressed his inability to do so as is evident from the following report of the Syndicate's Committee on his application for affiliation made in 1934 which was accepted by the Syndicate —

“ As directed we have met Pandit Ganga Ram and his friends, and have fully discussed the whole matter with him. On being asked if he was prepared to carry out the old conditions laid down by the Syndicate in 1931, he replied in the negative.

He now seeks affiliation on the basis of the rental income of certain properties situated in Bombay, of which the details are shown by him in the annexed statement.

He has frankly stated that he is not in a position to arrange for any cash donation at present. The properties are heavily encumbered both on account of unpaid purchase money of sites and loans received for buildings thereon. While no proof is forthcoming to verify the alleged annual rental income, no allowance has been made for repairs and vacancies.

On this material, we have no option but to recommend that the application be refused.”

(b) Yes, he, on his own authority, opened the First Year Class without fulfilling the conditions or obtaining affiliation. The Syndicate on 27th November, 1931, had to take unusual measures for the relief of students who had been wrongly attracted to an unauthorised institution, by permitting the students who had joined the 1st year class of the College at Rupar to migrate to other colleges and to condone their deficiency.

(c) and (d). He did not offer to deposit the amount with the University. In view of his previous behaviour the Syndicate was not prepared to consider seriously his other paper proposals, and the University did not favour the idea of a college at a small station like Rupar to be opened by a private individual. Since then two applications for the opening of an Intermediate College at Ambala have been received and are under consideration.

(e) No. There are six high schools only.

(f) (i) Yes. (ii) No.

(g) Financial considerations prevent Government from opening a college in the Ambala district. Moreover applications from private persons for opening an Intermediate College at Ambala are at present pending with the University.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it true that Pandit Ganga Ram Sharma was required to deposit a sum of Rs. 50,000 with the University before affiliation could be granted ?

Minister : I am not aware of that.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it a fact that the University rules do not require the deposit of any specific sum but that the endowed property should be sufficient to meet any deficit that may arise ?

Minister : The honourable member is correct.

Lala Duni Chand : I understand that two applications have been made by certain gentlemen in the Ambala district to start private colleges. Will they be considered favourably ?

Minister : They are at present pending with the University. It is for the University to consider them, and I should think they will be considered favourably.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it a fact that these applications have been made by highly placed men who command financial resources ?

Minister : If the honourable member is giving me information, I am prepared to accept it.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Is it a fact that Pandit Ganga Ram Sharma was prepared to deposit Rs. 30,000 ?

Minister : What was wanted was ready cash.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Did not the Pandit show his willingness to deposit money when the University called on him to do so ?

Minister : I do not think so.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Did not the Pandit accept all the conditions imposed by the University ?

Minister : He failed to comply with those conditions.

Lala Duni Chand : Is it a fact that Pandit Ganga Ram Sharma was prepared to guarantee through a bank to meet any deficit that may arise ?

Minister : The University was not prepared to accept his paper proposals. The property that he offered was heavily encumbered.

Lala Duni Chand : Did he offer his security in the form of bank deposits guaranteeing payment of a certain sum to meet the expenses of the college ?

Minister : He had no ready money.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Is it a fact that in 1980 the University agreed to open a college at Rupar ?

Minister : Yes, on certain conditions.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : How is it, then, that the University did not think it fit to open a college there ?

Minister : The decision rests with the University. They have not finally decided the question.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Is it a fact that the report of Lala Sain Dass and Mr. Shafi Ahmad in this regard was accepted by the University ?

Minister : That does not arise.

PANCHAYATS IN MONTGOMERY DISTRICT.

114. Mian Sultan Mahmud Hotiana : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of panchayats in the Montgomery district, if any ;
- (b) whether Government intends appointing a panchayat officer for that district ; if not, why not ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Five¹.

(b) The matter is under consideration.

CASES UNDER SECTION 498, I. P. C.

115. Mian Sultan Mahmud Hotiana : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of cases filed under section 498, Indian Penal Code, in the courts of the province within the last four years, that is, from 1933 to 1936, and the number of women returned to their husbands after the disposal of such cases ;
- (b) the number of women traced and untraced in the above cases so far ;
- (c) what Government proposes to do in the cases of women so far untraced ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : I regret that the answer to this question is not yet ready.

HAZRAT FARID GANJSHAKAR FAIR AT PAKPATTAN.

116. Mian Sultan Mahmud Hotiana : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) how many first class passes for the entry to khata of Hazrat Farid Ganjshakar Sahib were distributed to the local officers for their guests, in addition to their official badges on the occasion of the last Bahishti fair at Pakpattan, district Montgomery ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that no passes were allowed to the guests of non-officials of the locality ;

- (c) whether Government controls the admission of pilgrims into the shrine area during the period of the said fair ;
- (d) if the answer to (b) and (c) be in the affirmative, what procedure the Government intends to adopt for distribution of passes in future ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Eighty-five first class passes were distributed to the local officers of the district for themselves and their guests ;

(b) Two hundred first class passes were issued to Diwan Ghulam Qutub-ud-din for distribution to non-officials. Seventy-five passes were issued to non-officials by the Sub-Divisional Officer, Pakpattan ;

(c) The holders of the passes are admitted first after which the gates are thrown open to the general public. Adequate police arrangements are made to ensure orderly entry, but no control is exercised over the number of pilgrims and others admitted.

(d) The present system of distribution of passes is working quite satisfactorily.

SHEEP AND GOATS OWNED BY NON-ZAMINDARS.

117. Sardar Lal Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Development be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of sheep, goats and cattle in the province owned and bred by persons having no grazing fields of their own ;
- (b) whether the Government exercises any control on the growth in numbers and movements of such flocks of sheep and droves of cattle ;
- (c) the grazing grounds on which these animals, specially the sheep and goats graze ;
- (d) whether it is not a fact that these roving uncontrolled flocks and herds live mainly by poaching on growing crops of agriculturists at night and are a constant source of worry and loss to them ;
- (e) whether such breeders pay any direct tax computed by the size of their flocks and herds ;
- (f) whether the Government propose to devise some remedy to prevent this enormous loss of agricultural produce due to the uncontrolled breeding of sheep and cattle ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a), (e) and (d). Government have no information.

(b) No.

(e) No. In the Kangra district, however, there is a tax on cattle including sheep and goats, which was imposed in 1915-16 to prevent excessive grazing in the forests of that district.

(f) Does not arise.

JHATKA MEAT.

118. Sardar Lal Singh : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that in the police lines at Lyallpur, Sikh employees are not allowed to use jhatka meat ; if so, why ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that on this matter being brought to his notice the Inspector-General of Police declined to take any action in the matter ;
- (c) what Government proposes to do in the matter ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : The attention of the honourable member is invited to the answer given by the Honourable Sir Donald Boyd on the 9th November, 1936, to question *6079.¹

Sardar Lal Singh : May I ask the Honourable Premier whether the Sikh member of the Cabinet has been consulted in regard to this matter ?

Premier : How does that question arise at this moment ?

Sardar Lal Singh : Will the Honourable Premier answer my question whether—

Mr. Speaker : Consultations among the Cabinet members cannot be divulged on the floor of this House.

Sardar Lal Singh : May I ask whether the Honourable Premier made any attempt to understand this question from any Sikh gentleman? (After a pause.) The Honourable Premier does not answer my question.

Mr. Speaker : It is open to the Ministers not to answer certain questions.

Sardar Lal Singh : May I draw the attention of Mr. Speaker to part (c) of my question No. 118 ? Will the Honourable Premier say something in regard to that part of the question ?

Premier : I have nothing to add to my answer except perhaps a Persian saying. (Voices : What is that saying?)

POLITICAL PRISONERS AND INTERNEES.

119. Sardar Lal Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of political prisoners of Punjabi origin imprisoned in jails in various parts of India, not having been convicted by courts of law ;
- (b) the number of those confined within local limits of towns or villages in the Punjab under the Criminal Law Amendment Act or under any other law and how many of them receive maintenance allowances and at what rates ;

¹Vol. XXIX, pages 366-67.

(c) whether it is not a fact that many of these internees were earning their living in places other than those where they are now confined; if so, the reasons why some of them are not receiving any maintenance allowance in places where they are unable to earn any living;

(d) whether Government has under consideration the question of the release of the prisoners and internees mentioned above?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) The information so far as it relates to other provinces is not available.

(b) The number of persons at present restricted to their towns and villages under the Punjab Criminal Law (Amendment) Act, 1935, is 15. None receives maintenance allowances.

(c) The area of restriction is always such that a restricted person can earn his living within it.

(d) No, but the cases of persons dealt with under the Punjab Criminal Law (Amendment) Act, 1935, are periodically examined by Government to consider the question of their release.

Lala Duni Chand : Is there any change with regard to the policy pursued by this Government as distinguished from the policy of the previous Government?

Mr. Speaker : Questions relating to policy are out of order.

PUNITIVE POLICE POST AT VILLAGE SABRAI IN LAHORE DISTRICT.

120. Dr. Sant Ram Seth : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that mounted additional police force was quartered in village Sabrai, police station Patti, district Lahore, in 1921 for a period of 2 years and Rs. 19,308-13-7 were imposed upon and recovered from the inhabitants as the cost of the police post;

(b) the details item by item of the annual estimated as well as actual cost of the said police post with the date of its arrival in and the date of its withdrawal from the village;

(c) whether it is a fact that after the withdrawal of the said mounted police force from the punitive police post the horses and the other furniture purchased by the Government were taken to the district police headquarters;

(d) whether it is a fact that one Sardar Sundar Singh and other residents of village Sabrai submitted an application to the Honourable Premier on the 30th April, 1937, claiming therein a refund on account of the prices of the horses mentioned above, and, if so, the decision so far arrived at by the Government about their claim?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) and (b). The post remained in existence from the 7th September, 1921 till the 6th September, 1930. The principal figures have been given in the reply to question No. 80¹, put by the honourable member for Lahore city (General Constituency). The honourable member will see from the figures given there that several thousands of rupees out of the calculated cost of this post were waived. This was in November, 1931.

(c) It was the intention of Government that the sale-proceeds (if any) of the horses and saddlery belonging to the post should be refunded to the villagers. Inquiries are being made as to what action was taken in this connection.

(d) Yes. As indicated above, the question is under examination.

Lala Duni Chand : Instances after instances have been given in course of the session that the Government is withholding—

Premier : Is that a supplementary question ?

Lala Duni Chand : Instances after instances have been given in course of the session that the Government is withholding the payment of those sums which do not belong to the Government. Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to give satisfactory reply to this ?

Premier : I doubt very much if that supplementary question arises out of this, but if honourable members opposite like to indulge in digging up old graves, I cannot help them. This matter relates to the year 1921.

Lala Duni Chand : There is no question of digging up a grave. It is a question of refunding moneys to those people to whom those moneys belong.

Premier : The moneys were refunded in cases where the Government thought it necessary to do so.

Diwan Chaman Lal : Is there any difference between digging up old graves and new graves (laughter) ?

Premier : So far as I am concerned there is none, but there are no new graves.

Lala Duni Chand : Should I understand that it is quite honest on the part of the Government to keep those moneys which do not belong to the Government ?

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Since the only graves available are old graves, will not the Government be well advised to undertake the task of digging them again ?

Premier : My honourable friend Dr. Sart Ram Seth says that we are going from place to place digging up graves everywhere.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Has that part of the work been allotted to us ?

PERSONAL EXPLANATION.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar (North-Western Towns, General, Urban): May I just crave your indulgence for the purpose of making a personal explanation? I have been told that a certain statement of mine, in my speech yesterday on the floor of this House has caused annoyance and mental pain to an honourable member of this House. Since, in spite of the fact that the giving of the annoyance or mental pain was in no way present to my mind, the honourable member has, as a matter of fact, felt hurt, it is due from me, as a gentleman to make suitable amends. (Hear, hear.) I, therefore, repeat on the floor of this House what I told the honourable member in private that I never intended to hurt him, that I meant to give him no offence and that he should be so good as to forget the reference. I shall have no objection if the reference complained of is expunged from my speech.

Minister for Education (The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye): I have no hesitation in accepting the explanation of my honourable friend. From what he said yesterday on the floor of this House it was but natural for me to take exception to his remarks. Now that he has very kindly made a request that this portion be expunged, I am perfectly satisfied and I thank my honourable friend.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar: I am obliged to my friend for the kind response that he has made to my request.

DEMANDS FOR GRANTS.

EDUCATION.

Mr. Speaker: The Assembly will now resume discussion on the demand for grant for Education.

Lala Duni Chand: Sir, I want to make a suggestion. Instead of a few members making long speeches, I suggest that a larger number of members should make shorter speeches. The advantage will be that the Education Minister will be able to get more ideas and more suggestions from the different members.

System of University Education.

Shaikh Karamat Ali (Nankana Sahib, Muhammadan, Rural): I was discussing yesterday that the honourable members of the Opposition, who spoke, went so far as to say that the present system of university education is directly responsible for the intellectual, moral and physical inferiority of the young men of the province. I believe that this statement is quite unwarranted. However it was up to them to have shown by statistical remarks or by figures that the university has fallen short of the standard or the ideal they placed before it, but without doing it I believe their criticism is neither just nor charitable.

Proceeding further, if the same statement were to be examined in the light of the criticism of the remarks made by one of the most eminent Englishmen, Cardinal Newman, I believe that their statement is nothing more than a piece of mere exaggeration. He says: that the highest aim of the university ought to be to bring the youth of the country in contact with the best knowledge and experience of age. If that be so, I am in a position to put this question to my honourable friends, is it or is it not a fact that the University of the Punjab is making a genuine and earnest effort to see that really the most talented, highly skilful and most experienced teachers and professors should be brought on the staff of the University as well as of the colleges under its control? If the answer to the above be in the affirmative, then I would submit that the criticism was uncalled for. All that they can say is that the university education is inadequate and not that it is inefficient or that it produces intellectually or morally inferior beings.

I am so pleased to find and really I am grateful to my friend who has made amends to-day on the floor of this House for that uncalled for incident. I am not going to refer to it.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : You have not referred to it at all.

Shaikh Karamat Ali : I am sorry. I had it in my mind that we should be very careful in our discussion. The aim of discussion is not to bring in personalities as much as to bring points which can possibly create good, healthy and sound public opinion.

Proceeding further, I want to discuss the last but the most important point which I believe has been urged on the floor of this House. My honourable friend, Mr. Bhim Sen Sachar on the Opposition side was again pleased to remark yesterday that the Unionist Government might as well plead its inability inasmuch as it has not been able to formulate any programme during the last four months and that it is nothing more than a pretext to urge that the present Government came into existence only a couple of months ago, and that they cannot imagine that we shall be doing anything material.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : On a point of personal explanation. I did not say that it was a mere pretext and that they did not wish to do anything. All that I said was that the present Government or at least many members of the present Government had the fullest opportunity of giving effect to their ideas even before this, if they wanted to, because they as the most favourite party had the ear of the Government for the time being.

Shaikh Karamat Ali : Sir, with all that, it is really very kind of my friend to talk in that strain, but I believe that this has been a general complaint on the part of the Opposition, that they believe that the Unionist Government has so far done nothing beyond mere verbal assurances and that the Government could show a desire to do some work of reform. But I again must plead that every reform, as you know, is not a matter of a miracle, it is not a matter of our conjuring up new apparitions of perfections within so short a time, but it must require some time to be able to introduce anything substantial or solid. It is not only that the Government in charge of the affairs will like to do something which will be useful for the country but that it would require time before the evils of several years, gone into the body fabric of various departments, can be eradicated.

Now it has been urged several times that the Unionist Government have failed to make a change in the working of the various departments even on the introduction of Reforms. May I ask the honourable members how without telling anything substantial and without giving any constructive suggestions they can expect anything from the Government which took charge of the affairs of the province only three months ago? Do they believe that we are capable of working miracles, or do they actually know or believe that the Unionist Government is a Government of magicians or conjurers, that they can by the very touch of their wand transform everything and solve the problems which really require mature consideration, to be raised into something sublime or ideal? No, the answer is an emphatic no. It is certainly a matter of evolution and gradual growth. It means development of certain schemes before they can be brought into practice. I can assure the learned friends on the opposite benches that the Unionist Government will certainly come to that standard of efficiency which is required of any national Government. I would at the same time submit that it is rather absurd and futile to expect from a babe just born that he should not only walk and run but also be able to deliver speeches. If that is in any way possible, then it may be reasonable for anybody to say that the Unionist Government have failed to do something which was required of them. With these few remarks I would submit that I oppose the motion as it has been tabled. There is certainly no reason for the opposition to say that the Unionist Government have failed to come up to the expectations of the country.

Syed Amjad Ali Shah : Would it not be better to have a time limit fixed for speeches? There are many members who would like to take part in the discussion.

Raja Ghazanfar Ali Khan : I would support the suggestion made by the honourable gentleman. The time limit of speeches may kindly be fixed at 15 or 10 minutes each.

Mr. Speaker : Should there be any time limit? (Voices : No.) As the change is not acceptable to the whole House, I am afraid I cannot fix any limit.

Minister for Education : I would like to make one suggestion. Whether the House agrees to limit the duration of speeches or not, I would require an hour to reply and I may be permitted to rise in my seat at 4-30 P. M.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta (South Eastern Towns, General, Urban) : We have been discussing this important question for some hours and so many speakers have spoken from both sides.

Mr. Speaker : There is no time limit, but I would request honourable members to take as much time as may be absolutely necessary.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : There is some difficulty about it, but I shall try to be as brief as I can. Because I have taken no part in the budget debates so far I would naturally require more time. Let me at the very outset make it clear that we on this side of the House are quite alive to the serious imperfections of the constitution and the handicaps which stand in the way of chalking out of a bold programme or deciding on a bold line of action even in the matter of education. We are also aware that the Unionist Government or for the matter of that any other Government in any other province, is yet an infant Government, since it took charge only recently and miracles cannot be expected of it over night. I would not, therefore, be uncharitable to the members of the Government in my criticism of their educational policy which is indicated in the budget which is before the House. But I must say to my friends over there that our chief complaint against this part of the budget is that the Government has not shown any imagination and appreciation of the real problems and the educational needs of the province. This is the main point of my grievance, this is the main charge which I make against the Government and against my honourable friend the Minister for Education. When we read through the pages of the budget, concerning the Education Department what do we find? We find that no new head has been added to the old budget. It only shows that those who are at the helm of affairs have not given any serious thought to the requirements of the province so far as this important subject is concerned. In all the free countries of the world with which we are so very fond of comparing ourselves, we find that they aim at mass education. In their budget there is a provision for adult education, a provision for universal education.

Shaikh Faiz Muhammad : University education ?

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : I am not discussing university education alone, I am discussing the entire educational policy of the Government.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : Is the honourable member in order to discuss on this cut, the entire policy of the Government and not to confine himself to university education ?

Mr. Speaker : It was decided yesterday that amendment No. 1, relating to the system of university education, and the motion about the general policy of Government in matters educational, may be discussed together, but if necessary they will be voted upon separately.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : I would request the honourable members on the other side to give me a patient hearing ; I would try to avoid all repetition.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member will please leave that to the Chair and proceed with his speech.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : I was requesting through you. My first point, or my first disappointment with the budget so far as it concerns the Department of Education is that there is no provision whatsoever for either adult education or even any elaborate scheme or provision for either technical, business or vocational education, although so far as the percentage of literate persons is concerned, our country stands at the lowest.

rung of the ladder and our province perhaps is the most backward even in India. You will find that in India the percentage of educated people is not more than 9·5 of the entire population. Not only that, as a matter of fact, we have to admit this to our shame, that we are not able even to keep pace with the increase of population and the percentage of educated persons is really decreasing with the advance of time. More so, Sir, our province has got the least number of educated persons and the percentage in our case is perhaps not more than 6·5 per cent. So, the percentage of educated persons in our province is perhaps the lowest in our own country and is decidedly and surely below the average percentage for the whole country. If we compare it with certain advanced Indian States, like Baroda, Travancore and Cochin, we will find the figure to be still below. It was high time that the Unionist Government should have taken note of it. In England, a country which has been ruling over this unfortunate country of ours for the last 150 years, although the percentage of literate people is above 90 commissions are appointed to suggest the best methods for spreading universal and adult education. They have not only made provision for adult education, they have been making serious efforts to tackle that problem. But what do we find here, in our province, where the percentage of the literate is as low as 6·5? There is no provision whatsoever for adult education in the budget. If we look to other countries I think my friends over there, will be staggered to see their figures; in Japan the number of elementary schools alone is 25,697 and the number of students attending these schools is 10,714,196. This shows that even in a country like Japan, where the percentage of educated people is about 88, so much care is being taken by the Government for providing elementary education to their people.

The second point to which I want to draw the pointed attention of the Government benches is that they have not at all tackled the question of giving vocational or business education to the people of our province. Here again there is no provision, whatsoever, for that in the budget. But what do we find in Japan? The number of business schools is 1,024 and the number of students availing of these schools is 298,893. In Japan, the Government have not even overlooked the claims of the blind, the dumb and the deaf. Even for their education they have a provision. There exist to-day 48 schools for the blind and 78 schools for the deaf and dumb people; this is how the problem of education is tackled by other countries. If you go to Russia you will hear a still different tale. In Russia in 5 years' time they have almost changed the whole complexion of the country. You will find that in that country over 88 per cent. children of the school-going age are attending schools and there are about 57,000 schools provided for elementary education and adult education. Apart from that there are 22,000 reading rooms provided in rural areas for the people, to enable them to learn something about the world. But what do we see in our province? I would not, as I have said already, accuse the present Government for the sins of their predecessors. But I certainly expect the Government to try to keep pace with the times and make a serious effort to remove the appalling illiteracy. They should realise that there is a colossal want of education in our province. If they fail to appreciate that, which they have done so far, I think they have no future in the province. My own view is that during the last 150 years the greatest tyranny which the British have practised over our country is that they have kept us shrouded in ignorance. They have tried to keep all light away from us, which they should have provided us by giving us education and by carrying the torch of education to all the villages and towns. If the present Government of ours also follow that policy and do not make a serious effort to remove and wipe out the demon of illiteracy from our province, then I say that the Government would seriously fail in their attempt to be called a national Government. I would be personally satisfied if the Government do not do anything else, but in 5 years' life, of which, I think, the Government opposite feel assured, succeed in removing illiteracy. The Congress Governments in other provinces may not have that assurance, and it may be that the life of those Governments, may be very short — but so far as the Unionist Government is concerned, I think they have already taken an assurance from the powers that be, that they will enjoy their full span of life. If even after getting that assurance they do not set themselves to draw up a regular plan and a five years' programme of education for the whole province and guarantee to the public that there will be no illiteracy in the province after 5 years, will it not be deplorable? Is it too much to expect of them to make some such serious effort in this direction? I know that the one big answer which is always given from the benches opposite, will be 'where is the money to come from?' That is one big excuse which is always sought to be given in reply to every criticism which is made from the benches on this side. I know as I have already said that there are difficulties. I know there are serious handicaps. But I do not really think that these handicaps are so formidable, and so serious that we cannot overcome them. There are two ways of achieving our object. The first is, that we should make sure whether the money that we are spending on education is well spent, whether out of this money we cannot spend something more usefully or whether the province cannot be made to benefit to a larger degree from this very money that is being spent on education? I think there is much to be desired. If the Honourable Minister for Education or the brains which have so far been forging repressive laws to keep the country in bondage, are made to work and draw up schemes and find out ways and means for carrying the message of education to every nook and corner of the province, I think, they will at least be able to suggest ways and means for providing education to a much larger number of people.

Then, Sir, I might suggest to the Honourable Finance Minister that there are other sources of income also open to him which can be tapped. I think it is high time that he should look up into the methods of working employed in other countries of the world. Let me ask him whether it is open to the Government or not to start sweep stakes and collect funds for the purpose of education. Go to Ireland. What do we find there? In Ireland you will be pleased to know that a large number of hospitals are run by the income got through the Irish Sweep Stakes.

It is to our regret that a large portion of that income is contributed by our countrymen. I know some people have been raising money for dubious purposes, by organising lotteries with the help of one Indian State or another. I ask, is it not open to us to make the best of it, and start sweepstakes for raising funds for these beneficent purposes ?

Minister for Education : Tainted money.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Tainted money ? I say the object is so sacred, the object which we have in view is so pious that for that purpose we can even beg, borrow or steal. (Hear, hear and applause.) Tainted money ? It is easy for the Honourable Minister who is sitting in his comfortable chair to say so. He has not given thought to and does not care to see the appalling distress of our countrymen due to want of education.

Minister for Education : You still speak of moral education.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : I am really surprised that in these days of enlightenment the Honourable Education Minister has the boldness to make a statement of that nature and call it tainted money, while such lotteries, and big sweep stakes are being patronised by the highest in authority in free countries like Ireland. Is it tainted, because we want to use it for a useful purpose ? It becomes tainted perhaps because ours is a slave country, and because we are given to contribute to other countries and are not to utilise or spend money for the benefit of our own brethren. I will not quarrel with him if this is tainted money. Let me make another suggestion to my honourable friends over there. Is it not open to them, I ask, to contribute 10 or 15 per cent. of the high salaries that they are drawing and thereby raise a fund for adult education ? (Hear, hear and applause.) This is a concrete suggestion. I am pleased that the Honourable Minister puts his moral standard very high, let him accept this suggestion. Here is another practical suggestion, is it not open to him, I ask, to raise funds by making an appeal to his brethren in the province as is done in America and England and in other countries and make the rich people contribute something for the education of the province ? I am really surprised that no such attempt has been made. There is no mention whatsoever in our budget for income from contributions for this laudable object. It is an open secret that a section of the people of this country has been paying very heavily for getting titles from the Government. Let me therefore make another suggestion. Make all the members of the Unionist Party or for the matter of that, all other loyalists of the province, Rai Sahibs or Khan Sahibs or Khan Bahadurs and make all these people pay generously to the education fund of the province. Let there be a provision for contributions. That is all what I say. Let there be an appeal issued by the Premier, for raising funds for the education of the province. See what is done in England and America. You will find that millions and billions of pounds and dollars are contributed every year by the charitably disposed people of those countries to the education fund. Why should it be not done here as well ? The big zamindars who hold squares and squares of productive land in our province, who have got immense wealth and who do not know really how to spend that wealth, could they not be persuaded by the charming personality of our Premier or by the occupants of the benches opposite to make contributions to the educational fund of the province and start some big educational scheme on the basis of such contributions? I say that if they make an effort, a serious effort, an honest effort, in that direction, their labours would not be wasted and they will find ready support from this side of the House in those efforts of theirs.

The second thing that is necessary in order to make education cheaper or to increase the resources at the disposal of the ministers over there, is to tackle the question of the cost of education which has been increasing in our province for the last so many years. What do we find in the Government institutions? I think the Government institutions in our province and perhaps in all the provinces are most to blame in this respect. If we go to the Government College, what do we find? We find that even a student reading in the intermediate class has got to spend about Rs. 100 a month on his maintenance. If that is the standard of expenditure in the Government institutions, is it not high time that we make a serious effort to reduce this bill of education in the Government institutions? The Honourable Minister for Education waxed eloquent the other day when he said that the denominational institutions are a source of communal trouble and communal estrangement. I certainly agree with him that these institutions also like many other factors have got their responsibility in the matter and have played no small part so far as that charge is concerned. But certainly there is another side of the question also and I must say that so far as the question of expenses of the students is concerned you will perhaps find that in the denominational institutions they are far less. I ask the Honourable Minister sitting over there in all seriousness whether it is not possible for him by making a serious effort to change the outlook of these institutions and to reduce the average expenditure of a student say by at least Rs. 10 a month. If you work this up, how much does it come to? I think the number of students, the college going students in the Punjab, is a little over 10,000 or perhaps more. This means that if we can reduce the expenditure by Rs. 10 a month per student, we will be saving to the province a lakh of rupees a month. Would not these parents who are concerned, then come forward to contribute to the education fund something if an effort is made?

Minister for Education: That money is not going to come into my coffers.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta: It can. You have only to inspire the confidence of the people. I do not believe in high taxation. We must make it possible for the people to get education at cheaper price. You will see, if this method is adopted, money will come voluntarily to your coffers. (Hear, hear.) If money can go to the coffers of America and England and other foreign countries in millions and billions, why could it not come to our Government which claims to be a national government or at any rate professes to be a national government? (Hear, hear.) I think there should be no difficulty about it. Only the necessary will is needed, honesty of purpose is needed, determination is needed, imagination is needed and last but not least a real comprehension of the requirements of the province is needed.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : People do not trust them.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : They should behave in a national manner and try to prove to the people that theirs is a national government.

(At this stage the Assembly adjourned for lunch.)

The Assembly re-assembled at 2-30 P.M. Mr. Speaker in the Chair.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Sir, during the short time at my disposal I have tried to make certain concrete and practical suggestions to the other side of the House. I wonder if the suggestions will meet with their careful consideration or even a cursory consideration. But if it is a question of making constructive suggestions alone I think, I can go on making many more suggestions to the Government, but the real question is whether the Government will go through those suggestions and apply their mind to them. I feel that there are many branches of administration where an axe can be applied. I feel in all sincerity, that the Criminal Investigation Department must change its policy now. There are so many Criminal Investigation Department constables even to-day running after national workers.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is not in order.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Sir, I am only suggesting ways and means by which the Government can find money. I think I am perfectly within my right to make a suggestion of that sort. Coming to hospitals—

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member cannot discuss the question of hospitals.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : I am only making a suggestion to Government. I know suggestions of that nature are not well received by those who are not prepared to incur the displeasure of even considering suggestions of that nature. I further feel that money is not the only consideration. It is not the only thing that should cause anxiety to those who have got a policy of education before them. There are also many other factors to be considered. The Hartogg Committee did consider this question and what did they say? They said:—

“ The expansion and improvement of education do not depend merely on money. Money is no doubt essential, but even more essential is a well-directed policy carried out by effective and competent agencies, determined to eliminate waste of all kinds. We were asked to report on the organisation of education. At almost every point that organisation needs reconsideration and strengthening; and the relations of the bodies responsible for the organisation of education need readjustment.”

I make a present of this, Sir, to the Honourable the Minister for Education. If he were to look into the huge waste which can be checked by a properly directed policy I can tell him that there are many things which can be easily done without even further taxing the people of this province. To make one concrete suggestion, I ask him whether he has ever considered that the teachers of our schools in the province are amongst the least worked men. Whether he has ever considered that these teachers, if they are made to work for 8 hours a day they can do at least 30 per cent. more work and to that extent the province can benefit more from their work. Has he ever considered that there are 1,900 teachers in the province only in Government schools who receive Rs. 21 lakhs as pay. There are two thousands such teachers receiving 8½ lakhs as their pay in private schools. In the first place look at the disparity. The staff of the schools run by the Government is very highly paid. But I say, do not cut their pay, keep that high standard if that pleases you. You can keep that standard by all means ; but I ask in the interest of the nation as to why they should not be made to work at least for two or three hours more for helping the cause of adult education. Is it not possible? Is there any country in the world where the teachers are not made to work for adult education in their off hours. Is there any country where night schools are not run and the teachers are not asked to work extra for a few hours to spread adult education. I ask why there is no such indication in our budget --

Minister for Education : It is being tried in Jullundur.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : My friend, the Honourable Minister for Education, assures me that it is being tried in Jullundur. I ask him, how long will that experiment take? Is it not worth while to try it in every district of the province? Why not take courage in both hands and lay down a well planned policy of education for the province? All the teachers can be made to work in their off hours. Again, what is the state of affairs regarding unemployment in the province? Are the Honourable the Education Minister and the Honourable the Finance Minister aware that there were two thousand applicants for 11 vacancies of constables in the Punjab? Only the other day 11 persons were taken as constables out of two thousand applicants, one of whom was also a graduate. I say, is it not possible for the Government to bring about a scheme of national service and make it obligatory on those who want to take Government service to serve free for at least 6 months as teachers and help in spreading adult education? Is it too much to expect that? It is a practical suggestion. If you go to any factory or big firm to-day you will find that there are large number of people kept on the waiting list of the clerical staff, who work for six months or more without any pay. If that is so, is it not possible for these people also who want assured careers and fat salaries, to work free for the uplift of the nation for some time and help in removing the ignorance and illiteracy of the province. I go further and say, what is the state of the lawyers in our province? Is it not a fact that at least 60 per cent. of the lawyers waste away most of their time in the bar room sitting idle as they have no work to do? In the evenings they generally go and play bridge and do things like that. They do not contribute in the least to the national wealth of the country. I say, why should they not be asked, to contribute to the national service, something by way of service in their off hours? If the Government has got the will, if they have got the imagination, they can certainly act on these suggestions. I repeat that if they have got the necessary will and determination, ways and means can be found out to tide over our difficulties.

Then Sir, may I ask the Education Minister whether he has taken the trouble of studying the history of the progress of education in other countries? Has it ever occurred to him that the talkies and movie pictures which are becoming a regular source in this country can be put to some useful purpose? Is he aware that even in England these are being used as instruments of education? In Russia there are as many as 18,800 such pictures which are regularly being displayed in schools, clubs, and other public institutions. Has it ever occurred to the Education Minister that similar advantage may be taken of this scientific invention in this province also? (Mian Abdul Aziz: The pictures there are not like those in India.) Yes, that is what I am saying. It is for the Government which calls itself 'national' to give serious thought to these points. I am sure there is ample literature available on this subject. The Government benches accuse the Opposition for lack of constructive suggestions. But I feel it does not require much thought on the part of the Government. If they only look with open eyes at the progressive countries of the world they will soon find out as to where we lag behind. I can understand if the Unionist Government have not the courage of the Congress in fighting for the constitutional rights of the country either within the Cabinet or outside, I can sympathise with them for that, but so far as the question of the spread of education is concerned, I really cannot understand why they should not be as courageous as anybody else. Why should they not have the same will or desire to spread education throughout the province. Unless like the despotic governments they feel that the educated voter will not be to their advantage hereafter, there is no reason why they should feel shy and not tackle this problem with the seriousness and care that it deserves.

The next question I want to raise is the one of sending students abroad for study. I do not find in the budget any provision for the purpose. I wish that the Education Minister and other Ministers who always want suggestions, take a trip to Japan every year and see how things are going on there and how independent nations fashion their destinies. (Interruption.) I am not making these suggestions in joke. I do so in all seriousness. The Honourable Minister for Agriculture may scoff at it. But if he cares to inquire he will find that even the military authorities in India have laid it down that their officers should spend their holidays in Japan with a view to study things there. Even if the Honourable Minister wants to go at Government expense, I think Government will not mind it. Their party is always ready to oblige them and in this respect even the Opposition will not mind a little more expense if they go there with a view to study and obtain more knowledge to be utilized for the benefit of our province.

Coming next to the question of progress of education in our province, I ask, is our Education Minister aware that there has been retrogression in this province so far as the number of recognised schools and the number of school-going children are concerned? Is he aware of the fact that in the year 1927 there were as many as 18,860 recognised institutions in this province and in 1934 they came down to 11,664, a drop of about 2,000 recognised institutions? There is also an almost proportionate drop in the number of students attending these recognised institutions. Does it do us any credit? I do not hold the present Government responsible for the sins of its predecessors, but I only want to draw the attention of the Honourable Minister to this state of affairs. Not only that. If we go deep down into the matter we find that in the whole province there are only 160,000 students in the fourth primary class. It will also be noticed that out of 8 students who join the school in the first class only one reaches the fourth class. Is that not a matter for serious thought? I am afraid the time at my disposal will not permit me to dilate further on these points. I will take only two or three minutes more. If we are really serious about spreading education in our province, we must reduce the cost of buildings, the cost of extraneous things which really have got nothing to do with education. Secondly we must make education profitable for students. We must overhaul the whole system of education. The present day education is of no good to the students. People are now beginning to realise that education is a losing proposition. Even if their children become graduates of the University they are not sure to earn Rs. 25 a month. If the Government were to tackle the problem of education in the right spirit and with earnestness, the time will not be far off when we will come in line with other countries or at least with the advanced provinces of our country.

I have only one word more to say. So far as the Opposition is concerned it is one with the Government in the matter of spreading useful education to the people. The real problem before us is how to wrest power from the unwilling hands of the British and how to put that power to the benefit of our country. If the Government really mean business, if they are really anxious to be proud of some achievement on the expiry of their term of office, they must apply their minds to these problems and try to collaborate their efforts with those of the Opposition. The Opposition will not be found wanting in help in this respect. It is no use flattering ourselves that we have got a national government and provincial autonomy.

I say there is no autonomy. Let us not deceive ourselves. The temple of autonomy is neither theirs nor ours. It requires much more sacrifice before we can really achieve that end. Our Premier has got the name of Premier but he is really not a Premier of a free country. He has not got those wide powers and wide resources at his disposal. He has not got all that a free nation has. We have got to collaborate our efforts to achieve that object. I say it can only be done if the Government benches are broad minded, are in a reasonable mood and do not behave like their predecessors. They should act on the suggestions of the Opposition; they should show the courtesy which the Opposition deserve and I repeat that if they only make an honest effort, they will not find the Opposition wanting in giving the necessary co-operation to them.

Mr. Speaker : How many times is the honourable member going to repeat the same argument?

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : I have one word to say and that is about the political policy of the Government. (Voices from Government benches : Political policy, Oh!) You will see that I have given notice of a cut motion for stopping the grant to the Baden-Powell organisation in the province. If the members on the Government benches feel alike on the question of national honour I do think that in a matter like this it should need no argument to convince them that the organisation of which Lord Baden Powell is the patron does not deserve any support from a national government or from any self-respecting government when Lord Baden Powell has uttered such insulting remarks about the Indian nation. I, therefore, hope that the Government will stop that grant. With these words, Sir, I resume my seat and I support the cut motion that is before the House.

Tikka Jagjit Singh Bedi (Montgomery East, Sikh, Rural) : Mr. Speaker, let me at the outset express my gratitude to you for affording me an opportunity of expressing my views before the House. I have been trying for the last few days to catch your eye, but unfortunately I have been unsuccessful and it was only to-day that by sheer perseverance and successive efforts, I succeeded in the end (Hear, hear).

Mr. Speaker : I am aware that most of the honourable members wish to speak on almost every motion, According to parliamentary practice the front-benchers have a prior right to catch my eye, if they rise. The back benchers must come last of all unless the leader or whip of every party arranges the order in which the members of his party may be called by the Chair. Take the case of the House of Commons which has got more than 600 members. If every member were to stand up and seek permission of the Chair to speak on every motion, it shall be simply impossible to finish the business of the House. We have got 175 members. If every one of them were to speak on every motion, it shall be impossible to finish the business of the House. I think I should call the front-benchers first and back-benchers after them, or follow the order communicated to me by the whips of various parties.

Khan Bahadur Captain Malik Muzaffar Khan (Urdu) : In my opinion a time limit should be fixed. It will be very convenient for us all.

Mr. Speaker : Under the rules I have no power to do so.

Khan Bahadur Captain Malik Muzaffar Khan (Urdu) : Some members keep on speaking for hours while others do not get a minute to express themselves.

Mr. Speaker : It is no use arguing in that strain.

Tikka Jagjit Singh Bedi : I thank the Chair for explaining the conditions. A few days ago my honourable friend Pandit Shri Ram Sharma in the Opposition most humorously remarked that if the Opposition even proposed to turn out the Shaitan from the province, the ministerial benches would certainly oppose it on the ground that the presence of the Shaitan is very conducive for the welfare and betterment of the province, but I assure him that we agree with him as far as the defects of the education system are concerned (Hear, hear). I am sure most of us on this side will join with him in demanding the reformation of this educational system as it is prevalent these days. Much has been said about the vocational training, the industrial training and compulsory and free education. All of them are very useful things and they should be introduced as soon as possible. I have with very great interest listened to the speech of Sardar Hari Singh. I must say it was a very philosophical and historical sermon and I have, at the same time, heard the speeches of different other speakers and I feel that they were so exhaustive that there is hardly anything new left for me to make mention of. But at the same time I do feel that there are a couple of points which certainly deserve consideration. My first point is that the present system of university education is very expensive. Take the case of a student who comes from a village of a certain district to Lahore. He is usually of the age of fifteen or sixteen years. When he comes to Lahore, he has got nobody to look after him. He feels that one of his preliminary duties to the university is to dress immaculately. He also considers that it is also part of the curriculum of the university to go to pictures and to know something about the actors and actresses on the screen. He forgets that his most important duty towards his country as well as to his parents is to work hard at his books. But the reason for this is that there is no one to look after him and to control him. I would put forward a constructive suggestion and that is this that like the other universities, I mean the English universities, the professors and the tutors should have direct control and should be in direct touch with the student as they have at Cambridge or at Oxford. Every student there is looked after by two experienced professors, one looks after his studies, the other looks after him generally. Not only that, there are proctors going about in the streets in the universities who look after the general behaviour of the students. If a certain student is seen there misbehaving, he is called by the proctors and is punished, but I am sorry to say that there is no such restriction on the students at Lahore or in other universities, as far as I am aware of, in India. (A voice: That system has only recently been introduced.)

Then I will come to my second point. When after spending about Rs. 10,000 or Rs. 15,000 a boy gets his degree, what does he know? He has just a superficial knowledge of English, a little bit of Urdu or Persian or some other language like this, and he knows very little about History and so on. There are very few who are lucky to get into service. The others go and seek other professions in the outside world, and these things are not of much use to them in real life. I would, therefore, suggest that university education, though it may seem queer, should be restricted and before a boy is allowed into the university there should be a certain higher standard of examination which should be fixed, not only that but there should be a board of educationalists as well as of doctors and other business magnates to see whether the boy is really fit for higher education because higher education means a lot of expense not only for the parents but for the State as well. In Germany before the War there were 14,000 students in the universities and after the War suddenly there was a craze for university education and the number rose to 60,000. I have been reading the reports and I find that the university authorities have been disillusioned there and they wish to reduce the number to 6,000 only. In Germany they have such restrictive conditions. They have a board of educationalists as well as of doctors and high business magnates. I would submit that a board like this in the Punjab would certainly serve a useful purpose. The other students after getting their primary education should take up other professions. That means that they will start earning money in their young age and they will be a help to the parents as well as to the State.

Mr. Deshbandhu Gupta suggested to you now that the Education Minister should go to Japan to get some experience of the educational system there. I most strongly support that idea, but I would suggest that it should not be the Education Minister only but some of the members from this House as well (hear, hear).

I am aware that there are a lot of difficulties in the way of improvement for instance, the financial difficulties. I know it takes time to do these things but there should be a will, and I find from the statement of the Education Minister which he made the other day in the House that there is a will, and I am sure he is going to put his ideas into practice.

With these remarks I resume my seat.

Diwan Chaman Lall (East Punjab, Non-Union Labour): I envy my honourable friend, Sir Gokul Chand, whose voice can successfully compete with the voice of a railway engine. I do not desire to take up much of the time of the House in regard to this particular speech of mine. I thank you for giving me an opportunity to say a word or two. I know that there is a large number of members desirous of saying something important on this particular subject and, therefore, I shall take your advice and be as brief as possible. I am, Mr. Speaker, in company with probably every number of this House at a disadvantage, a very serious disadvantage. The usual custom, I take it, in the House of Commons, in the matter of supply, is that the Honourable Minister in charge lays down his policy and thereafter a debate takes place. We on this side of the House are completely in the dark as to what the policy of my honourable friend opposite is. Not one single word, Mr. Speaker, has been uttered up to date excepting in the matter of a question raised on the floor of the House according to which it is possible for the Opposition to understand as to what the policy of my learned friend over there is. If I may be permitted to say so, even the reports of the Education Department are not made available to members of this House. I have to extend my gratefulness to the Director of Public Instruction for the courtesy he has shown me by lending me his own copy of the report. All that we have is a statement of figures in the budget but not one word in relation to policy, unless the very brilliant and able speech, which Begum Shah Nawaz delivered yesterday and for which we on the opposition benches congratulate her is to be taken as the policy of the Government and if it is it must be taken as a vote of censure upon the Government (hear, hear from the Opposition benches), because her speech was nothing more than a recital of the needs that my honourable friends should have fulfilled in the matter of education and which they have failed to do up to date. But, I know, Mr. Speaker, my learned friend over there will tell me and tell this House that in the matter of policy they have been in office only a few months, and therefore, we cannot expect them to show their hand in the matter of policy. Let me remind my honourable friend that when the Russian Revolution broke out in the year 1917, within four days of Lenin taking power in his hands, Lunacharsky produced a detailed statement of policy which remains to this day. (Hear, hear from Opposition benches). He did not wait then for four months to produce a statement of policy in relation to the educational administration of his country. He will forgive me when I say this, because I am now going to congratulate him about one thing which he said and to which I have to draw attention and this was in relation to the policy of his Government in regard to denominational institutions. We on this side of the House congratulate him for that statement, and we hope that before he lays down his office, he will have put into actual practice these sentiments which he expressed on the floor of the House. Why is it necessary that we should have a detailed policy presented to us? It is most essential to get at the child if we want to solve the problem of the educated. The child is the seed of national strength in this province, the child is the proper person to get hold of, if you want to solve your communal problem and if you do not have a policy in relation to the child, you will never be able to solve your cultural and educational problems in this province. What are the problems, Mr. Speaker, in this province? With a population of 23½ million people, we are told by the department that the total percentage of the population which is of school going age is 5·40 per cent. and that there has been an increase of ·02 per cent. according to the reports given to us in the number of children of school going age, but in reality, there has been a retrogression. How serious that retrogression is will be manifest if we look at the actual fact. Let us look at the truth. In the year 1931-32 the total number receiving education was 1,338,000. In the year 1935-36 the total number was 1,270,000 which is a drop of nearly 50,000 in the actual number. We have got a population of less than 6 per cent. literate. Now the demand that has been made in regard to the adult education is of a fruitless nature and we find a retrogression in the matter of adult education—where the numbers have dropped by 1,200 or thereabout and the total number of adults receiving education is, I believe, somewhere about 4,000 odd. When more than 94 per cent. of the population of this province is illiterate I ask my learned friend whether he has thought this problem out. If so, what is his policy in regard to this particular problem? Let us look at the question of finance. In the year 1932 the expenditure was 154 lakhs; in 1937 we get a budget of the same amount, 154 lakhs. We are back again to the year 1932. We are not progressing, we are going backward not only in the matter of numbers but in the matter of finances also and equally in the matter of policy governing the educational institutions in this province. This is a most serious state of affairs. We find from the report that has been presented by the Government that the wastage is enormous. One in every eight children who join school in the first class end up in the 4th class, that is 7 children disappear within the four years of the school going age and in reality in a population of 23½ millions only about 160,000 children ever reach the standard of literacy. This is a deplorable fact, it is a fact which must be faced by this Government, if this Government mean to govern and if they mean business by the people of the Punjab. It is the first thing that they must come forward and face. In England, far from there being a wastage of this kind, quite recently the latest report shows that they have got a million and three quarters new places for children. In England there is not a child of school going age that has not now an opportunity of going to school and obtaining the best kind of education which the schools can give. These schools of England to-day are some of the best type of schools in the world barring those in Russia. What is wanted is not merely a plan; what is wanted is a policy of the type which would ensure education not for the selected classes, not for the privileged classes, not for the few as was done by the British Government during the last hundred years of rule in the Punjab, but a policy which will guarantee education to the masses and afford an opportunity to every child to get education and obtain the best that the world can give him. That policy can only come, if my honourable friend the Minister for Education looks upon his province not with the eyes of a capitalist, not with the eyes again of merely an administrator, not with the eye of a man who is merely a member of the Unionist Party, but if he looks upon the province as a national concern and a national asset and a trust that has been placed under his charge. Only thus will he be able to discharge that trust with the efficiency that is demanded of his department. May I ask my honourable friend whether it is not a fact that within the years 1929—33, I do not know if he knows this fact, but he can quite easily verify it from documents and from books that are available in his office, that within the period 1929—33 in Russia 30 million people were made literate—made literate in a period of four years. If Russia can do this in a period of 4 years, what is there to prevent my learned friend doing the same thing in the Punjab within 5 years. (Rai Bahadur Mr. Mukand Lal Puri: Private property). My learned friend says 'private property.' What 'private property' has got to do with that, I do not know. If my learned friend is thinking about the disadvantages of possessing private property, I am at one with him. What is needed is this. Those who hold private property, those who have got the wherewithal, they must be called upon to pay for the purpose of educating the people of this province. (Hear, hear from the Opposition Benches.) I hope my honourable friend over there, who is lauding the holding of private property, in his own particular way, will be the first to come forward and support this proposition. There are two problems to be faced. One is the question of policy and the other problem to be faced is the question of finance. A little while ago, this morning my honourable friend, the Education Minister, was very morally indignant about the suggestion made by my honourable friend Lala Deshbandhu Gupta, when he suggested the starting of lotteries in order to raise money for the purpose of education. I do not find anything to be morally indignant about a proposition of this nature. When this method has been tried it has succeeded. But I do not want him to waste his moral indignation over a proposition of this nature. I want him to sit down and scientifically consider the problem from the point of view which can yield practical results. Let us see the problem from that particular point of view. The first great need is not the old need of the British Government in India, which for the period of 100 years in the Punjab was able to educate less than 6 per cent. of the population of the Punjab. Why did they do this? Why did they not bring in compulsory education for the masses? The reason was that the needs of the British Government in this province were minima needs. They required just enough clerks, enough lawyers, enough doctors in order to keep the system going. They did not consider the real needs of the people of this province. (Hear, hear from the Opposition benches.)

Through you, Mr. Speaker, I address the honourable members opposite. They allege that they are the trustees and the national trustees of this province of the Punjab. It is for them, therefore, to discard old ideas and so work their policy that it will result in mass education, for the people of this province. But mass education is a problem which is to be considered most carefully. What we are witnessing to-day is an education which gives a vener. It does not provide necessary culture on the one side and vocational training on the other. What is needed for the Punjab, which is an agricultural province, is this, that every school must be attached either to a factory or to a farm. I understand that the Education Department have made an experiment and that they are running a series of farms—a few hundred farms may be attached to various schools. Some of them, I think, are profitable farms. I suggest that one of the main necessities of life in the province—if you want to get rid of unemployment and ignorance in this province—is that every school must be attached to a farm in order that children may be taught the actual things that interest them in after life, through which they may be able to gain a decent living. This divorcing of education from technology, this divorcing of education from the actual needs, practical needs of every day life, is one of the banes of the capitalistic system, because the system cares not for human beings, it only cares for itself. It is, therefore, necessary that my learned friend should take a lesson from other countries, which can teach him in regard to the question of universalising polytechnical education, if I may use that expression. What is necessary is to bring education into line with life and life again into line with the economic situation that confronts people when they grow up and want to enter into different walks of life. Therefore, my honourable friend has got, first of all, to consider this problem—namely, the matter of policy.

The second point that I referred to was the question of finance. My learned friend is quite welcome to the suggestion that I am going to make. Often Government ask us—give us concrete constructive proposals. Let me see now how the Government will take the suggestion that I am going to place before them on behalf of the Opposition. It is possible to create 20,000 new school units in this province. The expenditure has been worked out by experts at the rate of Rs. 1,500 per unit per year; 20,000 units for a population of 1,000 children brought in from various villages round about into one particular centre and that centre creates as a unit. The expenditure for running that particular unit, both for boys and girls, on decent modern lines in our province, will be about Rs. 1,500 a month. My learned friend need not turn round and ask me if we create 20,000 units and each unit to control a thousand children or even grown ups, where is this money to come from at the rate of Rs. 1,500 per unit? First remember that 20,000 units at a thousand per unit will give education to 20 million people in this province, with the result that within a period of 4 to 5 years there will not be a single individual who is left unable to read and write. Where will the money come from? My honourable friends, who are in charge of revenue and agriculture, are not there on those benches at the present moment. May I ask my honourable friend opposite whether it is difficult for him to place this proposition before his colleagues that for each particular unit an area of not more than 20 to 30 acres be allotted free of land revenue and free of all charges, communally run by the village, producing a particular income? Let us take the income as to how it will arise. An area of 20 acres under cotton, irrigated, would give my honourable friend probably 240 maunds of cotton—240 maunds of cotton at 12 maunds an acre in a good soil. My honourable friend, Professor W. Roberts, is listening very carefully. He is an expert in this matter. He will contradict me if I am wrong, that in his estate he gets 12 maunds on good land. My honourable friend nods in agreement with me. Twenty acres would yield 240 maunds. Even at the lowest price of Rs. 7 per maund, (Interruption). The lowest price I said and my honourable friends who are zamindars know perfectly well. (Voices : No. no, Rs. 4 per maund). Mr. Speaker, how necessary it is that our friends over there should get educated and how necessary it is that they should be able to know their own facts and figures ! (Laughter and cheers.) I assert this that year before last the price of cotton went up to Rs. 10 per maund and last year it sold at Rs. 7 per maund. It sold at a better price this year. I am, therefore, taking the lowest price of Rs. 7 per maund. (A voice : Some times at Rs. 4.) My learned friend says 'sometimes Rs. 4.' Sometimes Rs. 26 also. I am taking Rs. 7 as the minimum price. Rupees 7 a maund, Mr. Speaker, will give you the actual expenses required for one unit for a thousand persons to be educated. My learned friend cannot say that he has not got the land, he cannot say that the Government have no farms available or land available, and that, therefore, it is impossible for them to nationalise this particular unit of land for the purpose of education. He need not wait for a lottery. Let my honourable friend Lala Deshbandhu Gupta start his lottery if he so chooses. Let my honourable friend not waste a single minute in anxiety, in moral indignation over the question of lotteries. He has got a feasible proposition. If he does not follow that particular proposition, I am prepared to make an offer to him. Let him go out into the villages and towns of the Punjab. I speak of personal experience of the villages and towns in the Punjab and I can guarantee it to him that if he goes out with a begger's bowl in his hand, he will collect enough money, voluntarily from the people, for the purpose of educating the people of this province. ("Hear, hear" from the Opposition benches.) My learned friends opposite have been put there to govern. They have not been put there to sit in those particular seats and look dignified. Their object is to govern. Let them not sit with silence written on their faces. (Minister for Education : Not to govern but to serve.) My honourable friend says, 'not to govern but to serve.' I am very grateful but I will remind him that real service must be free of charge. ("Hear, hear" from the Opposition benches.) Therefore, I did not use the word 'service.' I said, 'govern.' I want my honourable friends to govern. Let them govern, but let them not sit there and wait for us to give ideas regarding how they should govern. They have the ideas and they have only to utilise them, in the words of my honourable friend, in the service of people of the Punjab. (Cheers from the Opposition benches.)

Professor W. Roberts (European) : Sir, I wish to say a few words on the question of language. This matter has been referred to by the honourable member who first opened this debate, Sardar Hari Singh, and has been referred to by members on his side more than once. It seems to me that this is going to be one of the biggest difficulties before the Punjab can be well knit together to be a nation. If I ask one of my Sikh friends as to what he considers should be the language of the Punjab, he will probably say Punjabi. If I ask one of my honourable friends on the front benches, he will probably tell me Hindi and here on this side my honourable friends may say Urdu, and we have two if not three scripts. Now I maintain that to load the youth of the province with so many vernacular languages and so many scripts is a great handicap for them in future and a very great handicap for this province. I claim to speak on this matter with a certain amount of sympathy. My own first language was not English. I am a Welshman, belonging to a small nation of only 30 lakhs of people and I did not know any English at all till I was 7 years old. The same question of giving Welsh language an opportunity of being taught in schools in Wales was a live question in my own country and I have every sympathy with members of this House who claim a right to speak in their own language. I felt a glow in my heart the other day when my honourable friend, Pir Akbar Ali, mentioned that it was his birth right to be allowed to speak in his own language and if I were a Punjabi I would most certainly fight for this right (hear, hear). Now having secured the right, however, we must think of the future, not only of yourselves, of your children, but your grand children and great grandchildren. You must see that this province is not handicapped excessively by having too many vernaculars and too many scripts. I, therefore, beg to offer the advice that you should aim at one common script and that script, I suggest, should be the Roman. (Hear, hear.) My honourable friend, Mrs. Shah Nawaz, suggested two scripts. I do not think any country can afford to have two different scripts.

Mrs. J. A. Shah Nawaz : On a point of personal explanation. I said that I was one of those persons who believed that the solution of the difficulty of one language for the whole of India lay in having Hindustani as the language, not to have two scripts. I said it is an all-India question and we were not in a position to discuss it on the floor of this House.

Professor W. Roberts : I myself took the liberty of discussing it and I am glad that everybody is listening to me patiently. I am giving the best advice as I see it and as I consider the great future that lies before this province that they can do away with the fetters that are holding it down now. (Hear, hear.) I think myself, therefore, that for a vernacular language you should adopt Roman script. It may take a hundred years more for the Punjab to get a common language.

Then on the question of English language, here again this province produces men who are not compelled to earn their living within its own borders. I have myself fairly big interest in Baluchistan, Sind and other places and wherever I go I find Punjabis. They are spread all over the northern India. This province is, therefore, in a sense imperialist in the sense that it is not content to remain in the Punjab only. It is imperialist as far as India is concerned and I myself am an unrepentent imperialist although born in a small nation and although we had to fight for our language. Yet I speak for you as an un-repentent imperialist. Now this question of English language, if you want to cut yourself off from other provinces and from having a great influence on the other provinces of India, if you want to cut off yourselves from trade, and trade of the world and from taking your rightful place in India, then let us ignore the English language and carry on. But gentlemen, I speak to you from a profound conviction that the more prominence you give to English as your second language, the quicker and the more certain will be your progress towards self-government and towards the proper influence which you should wield in the counsels of India. (Applause.)

Sardar Mula Singh (Hoshiarpur West, General Reserved, Rural) (Punjab): Sir, I would first of all like to thank you for permitting me to make a speech. I am the first member representing the depressed classes, who is now attempting to lay before you certain very deplorable facts. Many speeches have been made regarding the Punjab University, and many have been delivered in favour of or against the educational policy of the government. But in my opinion so far no attention has been paid to the depressed classes or harijans and not a word has been said in their favour.

I would like to submit that the literates amongst the harijans can be counted on one's fingers. Everyone has come here to feather his own nest and no one cares for others. They make boastful speeches every day and I say that the old proverb "جدي لآئو اُسدي بهتيس" is fully applicable here, i.e., the front benchers only catch the eye of the Speaker and the back benchers are denied the right of making speeches.

Mr. Speaker : Order, order.

Sardar Mula Singh : The depressed classes are so backward educationally that hardly one per cent. literates are found amongst them. Those who have received some education and have passed their high school examination, find themselves in pecuniary difficulties in so far as the question of admission to colleges is concerned. I mean to say that they cannot seek admission to a college for want of money. Generally Rs. 150 or Rs. 200 are required for this purpose. In fact the University pays very little attention to the education of harijans. It was recently announced that the harijan students would be charged half rate of fees. But nothing has been done to enforce this decision and the result is that the harijans cannot seek admission to colleges. When this is the state of affairs, how can it be expected that harijans would go up for higher education? It is an admitted fact that when they cannot receive higher education, they cannot look for advancement in life. Every one is anxious to promote the cause of his own community and his own party. In spite of the fact that there are eight representatives of the depressed classes in this Assembly, nobody cares for them and I have no hope that they will be able to do anything for them even in future (Cheers from the Opposition benches).

The Government have prepared no programme for bettering the condition of the harijans. Many of my friends have remarked that Sardar Gopal Singh would be appointed a parliamentary secretary. Even if he is appointed as such, I do not think that my community as a whole would be a bit the gainer. I make bold to say that even if anyone of them is appointed a Minister, I do not think that my community would stand to gain in any way. Look at the miserable condition of the depressed classes and harijans. They cannot keep their body and soul together. They have no bread, no clothes and no education. If by chance anyone of them manages to receive education and passes his intermediate examination, he fails to get service under Government. Even the educated harijans are passing their days without work. They have no means of livelihood. Their parents have spent whatever they possessed and now they have nothing more to spend. I humbly request the Government that something should be done to provide work for harijans. Some solid programme should be prepared for their uplift. I say that whenever Government start a new industrial school even then the students of the other communities come to occupy all the seats in that institution, and the poor harijans get no share.

The Premier : Others usurp your rights.

Sardar Mula Singh : I would suggest that if the Government have really a mind to ameliorate their condition they should earmark an adequate sum of money with a view to impart education to the harijans (Cheers). If the Government want to do justice to them they should at least reserve some stipends for them and should give them representation in every branch of administration (Cheers). No B.A., B.T., M.A., B.T., or LL.B. is to be found amongst them. If two or three of them have passed the examinations, it carries no importance. If in a population of 35 or 40 lakhs five or ten educated people are to be found, that is a most negligible number.

In my opinion it is the duty of the Government to pay special heed to harijans. They should start schools for them. They should remit their fees and should give them books free of charge. Even in the matter of board and lodging they should be charged nothing (cheers). The Government should make an attempt to raise their standard of life and give to qualified harijans proper representation in services. (Cheers).

Mir Maqbool Mahmood (Amritsar, Muhammadan, Rural) : Mr. Speaker, as has been rightly remarked in the speeches of some members on both sides of the House on essentials of educational reform there are no two opinions in this House. The position of the Government has more than once been declared on this issue, firstly in the declaration which the Honourable the Premier made on the 1st of April and later in the brilliant and eloquent speeches which the Honourable the Education Minister made at Amritsar and elsewhere. The position of the Government is clear. They regard the necessity of overhauling the educational system in the province. Everyone, I am sure, on this point will stand with equal force and emphasise that we want to introduce compulsory free education in the province as soon as possible, and if possible within five years. The policy of the Government is to encourage technical education and to develop and strengthen the avenues of secondary education. The need of reform of university education is also recognised. But with regard to all these matters, as my honourable friend Diwan Chaman Lall, pointed out there is the question of finance. In dealing with a problem of such magnitude and importance we cannot treat the question in a tinkering spirit of a caravan that has come to stay on these benches for a few days, leaving the province in a state of insolvency. This problem, however, has to be tackled in a statesmanlike spirit, and that being the position you cannot launch such an important scheme unless you consider all the pros and cons of a clear cut policy apart from the question of finance which is involved.

The first step to be taken would be to organise a committee to suggest retrenchment and new sources of revenue. That, Sir, this Government has done. And the moment the report of the committee is available I hope—and I would particularly impress on the honourable Minister for Education—that as soon as funds are available, they should take up these two items. The first charge on their future constructive programme should be in the matter of the instruction of the people of the Punjab; and secondly the relief to the poorer classes, and especially the peasants. It has been suggested that these reforms should be initiated forthwith and that within the three months that this Government has been in office, they should have launched like Lenin and should have given effect to the utopian ideas. With regard to that I would confine myself to three specific replies. Firstly, I would invite my honourable friends opposite, through you, to the very pertinent remark made by Mr. Asaf Ali on behalf of the Congress. I am happy to find that the resolution about acceptance of office has played an important part in changing that outlook which we have been advocating in this province. This is what it says—

But here first of all we must warn the people not to expect the creation of a new heaven and a new earth over-night. Even when a sovereign State like Russia puts its hands to a dynamic programme the development of means takes time.

While making this submission I would make it clear that we on this side of the House would do all we can to spread education, but not to bring leninism or stalinism in this province. We want education, we want progress and not demolition of the whole structure and tradition of this province. We would avoid murders and not instigate or abet them.

Diwan Chaman Lal : Who said murder ?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal : Stalin ordered murders.

Diwan Chaman Lal : You are also committing murders. Every Government commits political murders.

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : I was submitting that so far as the introduction of compulsory free education in the province is concerned, there are no two opinions, but I would also appeal to the Honourable Minister that we have a right to expect of him that the rate of progress in the matter of extension of primary education should be accelerated. We have a right to expect the national Government to show to the province that we have extended education at a far greater pace than it was possible in the past. (An honourable member : Where is the indication?). My honourable friend asks, where is the indication? It is indicated in the budget by a provision of a lakh of rupees more than in the previous years, and had it not been for the hailstorms, more money could have been provided for the purpose. When the labours of the sources of revenue committee and the retrenchment committee result in substantial revenues to the province I would appeal with all the emphasis at my command that this money should be utilised for the two purposes I have already indicated, namely spread of education and relief to the poor peasantry of the province.

Now, my honourable friend, Deshbandhu Gupta, levelled a charge against the Unionist Government that it has not so used its power in encouraging elementary education by forcing teachers to work eight hours a day or even more, by giving half salaries to a certain class of people. I submit that this question should be considered from more than one point of view. If my friend suggests eight hours work a day I would remind him of the appeal made by the Honourable Leader of the Opposition that in factories the period of work should be limited to 40 hours a week. He also suggested that the people who are unemployed should be asked to serve in schools without salary for certain months. We on this side will not advocate regular Government begar. While I am one with the opposition in asking for the expansion of education, I will not be a party to bring about a state of Government begar into schools of the province.

When my honourable friend, Sardar Hari Singh, pointed out that there were two universities under the Federal Government, namely the Benares University and the Aligarh University whereas we could not boast of more than one university, I am in full sympathy with him. But unfortunately for us the constitutional pandits of Gorton Castle and Whitehall have said that under item 33 of the Federal List, corporations, whether trading or not which have objects of serving more than one unit comes under federal subject, and because the University is a corporation, therefore it comes under that interpretation. I do not accept that definition, but such matters cannot be settled by mere speeches. I hope that both sides of the House will lend all their support to the Government to see that if this defect can be removed under the rule-making power, well and good, otherwise they should introduce necessary legislation to give effect to the demand of the province and that we shall not accept any diminution or defraction in the quantum of provincial autonomy given to us.

Now I shall confine myself to a few suggestions which have not so far been definitely tackled. I would take first the question of university education. I claim that with the best will available, with the best legislation and material it is impossible for any university to discharge its purpose when it has got to manage with such a congestion of students as we have in the Punjab. In 1917 we had as many as 6,500 students in our University and now we have 20,000 students. It has been calculated that on an average we have one teacher for every 35 or 40 students. The congestion in the Punjab University must be removed. Without doing that we cannot ensure for our students that attention which is necessary for any educational development. To achieve this I have got three specific suggestions to make. Firstly, we should have another university. I hope the Honourable Minister with his legal and broad-minded national outlook ably assisted by a sympathetic Director of Public Instruction, will look into this question, not in a parochial way but in a broad and statesmanlike way. I would submit that as soon as possible the question of mofusil universities, for which Amritsar provides a promising centre should be examined. (Hear, hear). The second suggestion is—(An honourable member: Communal universities.) I am sure that when the time comes my honourable friend will find that we stand for broadening national education, but on the basis of equality to all communities and not ignoring the rights of the backward communities such as the depressed classes and others. (Hear, hear). My second suggestion is that we should seriously consider methods by which in the secondary schools and primary schools there should be deflection of those people who want education merely for the purpose of service. Time has come when in our secondary schools we should create clear cut division, one for those who want to go to university and the other for those who want to enter service. In this connection I should like to invite the attention of the Education Minister to Madras and Calcutta where they have not only started local and mofusil universities but also started the system of deflection, particularly, in Calcutta, in the secondary stages of education. The third suggestion is, and this suggestion I find was made by Hakim Ahmad Shujaa, the Assistant Secretary of our Assembly before the University Commission, that most people go in for education to find clerical employment. It is the experience of those connected with these clerks that if they take to commercial education there would be a better demand for them and they would prove more useful. That being the position Government should lay down a policy just as the Civil Service Commissioners have done, that for clerical posts it will not take matriculates or graduates, but people who have passed clerical examinations.

My next subject is university reform. Time has come when we should overhaul our system and our conception of university education. I do not advocate as one of my honourable friends did, that our Punjab University should become a unitary teaching university. That question was considered by the Anderson Committee and for very cogent reasons they had to reject it. What the Punjab needs is a sort of a combination of unitary and multiple system of university. We have to evolve a scheme under which we may have constituent colleges to which the university should allocate some of their special chairs, professors and lecturers, so that we may evolve an Oxford or a Cambridge, a system of collegiate education by which students of various colleges can have specialised tuition. I wish at this stage to make one specific suggestion with regard to vernacular. It has been suggested by certain speakers here and on the other side, and I am sorry to find that my honourable friend, Shaikh Karamat Ali, from this side went so far as to say that Indian vernaculars would not convey all those ideas which are necessary to be conveyed in higher education through languages other than vernacular. I am one of those who yield to none in appreciating international culture and I say it is the right, no less than duty, of every country and educational system to conserve the best of its own culture and to assimilate all the best it can get of other countries. It does not mean we should give away what we have in our own vernacular and I go so far as to declare that real education is essentially a language work and language is synonymous with thought. You deprive us forthwith of the best thoughts in our cultural conception, in our behaviour, history and heritage. If you give secondary place, in the medium of instruction, to our own vernacular, I say with all the emphasis at my command to the Honourable Minister for Education that he should boldly tackle the question of applying vernacular as the medium of instruction in the schools and colleges of the Punjab. (Hear, hear). I would simultaneously support the idea of my honourable friend Mr. Roberts that English should be taken as a second language which would help us to keep in touch with the world outside.

I come next to the question of university education. It has been more than once suggested by my honourable friends that the present system of university education is encouraging unemployment in the province. My difficulty is not so much of unemployment because unemployed people can be employed, but unfortunately the system of education which we are getting is creating unemployable young men and that is the problem and the danger of the Punjab. People who would not apply their hands to manual labour have not the calibre to take higher educational work. That being the position, I request the educational authorities to look to that problem. In this connection I wish particularly to invite the attention of the Honourable Minister for Education to the question of female education and I would particularly impress this question on the Honourable Premier. It has been rightly said that the Indian culture is the hope of everybody and in every part of the world where I have had the privilege to go and in books written about India, due importance is given to the sacred tradition and culture of Indian home. I am ashamed to say, and I say with regret, that unfortunately the dualism and the difference between the educational system of boys and girls is such that we are to-day having a very serious worry in the average Indian home. There are very few Indian homes where the husband and wife are living like two companions but in a majority of cases they are having constant struggle for tolerance and patience. The ideal Indian home is going and it is the duty of the reformer, non-official as well as official, to look to this matter for which a double effort is needed. On the one side we have to see that girls' education is extended simultaneously with boys' education. On the other side we have to see that we do not, by enforcing the same habit of cramming, force them into a place where they come as very bad creations of human nature, with crooked figures, with lost eye-sight and with a figure which will not inspire in them an aesthetic respect which is the weakness of human nature. I think it is the right and duty of every government and official and non-official social worker to see on one side that we give health and education to our boys and say on the other side that we retain the cultural side as well as the aesthetic side of our girls.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : What about co-education ?

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : I fear that the opinion of the country is not in favour of co-education. I am sorry to have to say that, though our girls on the whole can always be trusted in any company of men, we have not as yet developed in our boys the sense of respect for girls. I include my community as well in this respect. The question of co-education will be dealt with when that stage is reached when girls will be respected by the boys. In this connection I would particularly impress on the Honourable Minister for Education the need for a girls' Degree College at Amritsar at once. Poor girls who at a great sacrifice passed the F. A. standard, have now come out of that college and now find no place where they can prosecute further studies with a view to attaining the Degree standard. They are sitting at home without any opportunity of getting more education. Finally I wish to invite the attention of the Honourable Minister for Education to the need of immediate reform in the governance of the university. This question has more than once been tackled and I wish only to emphasise two or three points which will not take long. My first submission is that there should be immediately a differentiation and demarcation of the vocational, academic and non-academic side of the University. We should not leave academic side in the hands of a particular class of people who are not educationists. The time has come when this particular type of party voting should be taken away from the university and academic side should be placed in academic hands. I am ashamed and I am very much hurt to find a statement made in a responsible Report of the Anderson Committee that in the selection of examiners the different duties of university examiners are to be distributed not by merit but by arrangement. I submit in a university whose main function is examination at the moment and where the main function is being discharged on that basis, surely it is a matter which should not be allowed to go on very long and it does not require amendment of legislation to bring reform therein.

Mr. Speaker : Will the honourable member please wind up now ?

Mir Maqbool Mahmood : My third submission would be that all classes should have their share in the representation of the university. I am sorry to find my honourable friend Lala Bhim Sen Sachar, who is not here, saying that it would not be fair to introduce communal element at the time of admission in colleges and schools. I may tell him that communal element means protecting the backward people. How are you going to give protection to them? Even in Europe special facilities are given to backward students. Even a percentage of grants from municipal and other bodies is given to backward classes and minorities. One word more and I have done. It is with regard to admissions in institutions. I do not advocate that that stage has come when they should be abolished much as some of us would like to see them abolished. One thing that I would advocate and press on the Honourable Minister for Education is that it is here in the colleges that we evolve a spirit of citizenship which has to last hereafter. It should be made a condition at the time of sanctioning a grant to an institution that it should take a certain percentage of students of other communities so that by the rubbing of shoulders the Hindu, Muhammadan and Sikh students may evolve a new idea of citizenship which we want for the future of the Punjab. I am sorry to find to-day that in the Islamia College, D. A.-V. College, and Sanatan Dharam College—which are all situated at Lahore—there is a negligible number of students of other communities. These colleges may be doing excellent work but it would be greater still if it is arranged that the best Muhammadan sportsman and speakers join the D. A.-V. College and some intelligent and brilliant Hindu students come to Islamia College so that Muslim students of that college may learn to live like brothers with the Hindu students and vice versa. Before I wind up, I wish to point out that in view of the short time at my disposal, I have not referred to the many good points which have been started by the education authorities, by the university and the government in the past. There is only one point that I wish to take up and I then finish. That was referred to by my honourable friend Diwan Chaman Lall when he was advocating the creation of 20 thousand units with 20 acres of land allotted to each particular unit which is to control one thousand children. The scheme is perfect and it is very well in the beginning. But, as has been suggested by my respected friend, it is more like the suppositions of Sheikh Chibi than my honourable friend Diwan Chaman Lall. (Laughter). If he would analyse he would find that his scheme would involve four lakhs of acres when we work at twenty acres per unit. My honourable friend said that all these farms should be irrigated and be under cotton. Then he would possibly need agricultural experts to run those farms. Then there would be the question of seeds and raising money. Then there would be the question of land revenue and payment of interest on the capital required. All these things will have to be looked into. It would have been in the fitness.

[Mir Maqbool Mahmood.]

of things that we should have asked Government that they should consider the possibility of having a special elementary test. I would be prepared to give my support to it and I hope my friends would also support a proposition of that nature.

Shrimati Raghbir Kaur (Amritsar, Sikh, Women) (Punjabi): Sir, numerous eminent members have given expression to their views on the subject of education. I also wish to say something in this connection. Generally speaking the world is at present divided into two sections. The first section includes the capitalists whose children are provided with all sorts of luxuries and who can afford to have higher education imparted to them. Under the second category come the poor peasants and labourers whose children are neither adequately fed nor clad. I wonder how these famished children can receive their education? It is with great difficulty that poor peasants and labourers, who are groaning under the heavy burden of debts and Government dues, can keep their body and soul together. They have no money to educate their children. I request that in order to impart education to the children of the poor, the Government should take steps to introduce the system of free education.

As regards female education, my submission is that women should be educated up to the middle standard. But at the same time I may point out that the courses of study should not contain praises of aliens nor should they give lessons in the art of flattering the foreigners. The object of education should be to inculcate amongst the masses lofty ideals of bringing prosperity to the country. We should teach our children to be brave and patriotic. We should not sing lullabies of slavery to them, or teach them songs praising an alien nation which has reduced our country to poverty. I request the Honourable Minister for Education to pay special attention to female education.

I may be permitted just to describe the sad plight of the poor. The children of the poverty stricken masses go about begging from door to door. Their women have to break stones in order to earn a living. I have personally seen eight years old girls employed for breaking stones. May I inform the honourable members why these innocent girls of tender age are put to hard labour? They are required to contribute to the finances which are insufficient to support the family in spite of the earnings of men. I submit that if these girls are educated they can earn their livelihood in several decent ways. Well-to-do people being in possession of immense wealth can afford to send their children to foreign countries to receive degrees of Bachelor or Master of Arts. I again appeal to the Honourable Minister's sense of justice to give his special attention to the education of the children of the poor, because it is my firm belief that it is only the children of the poor who after receiving education, can work for the emancipation of their motherland. The children of the rich, even though highly educated, sing only the praises of the aliens who have rendered us penniless.

My honourable sister has remarked that woman in England do great things. But my experience is quite the reverse. I have never seen them doing anything except moving about with dogs by their side or wearing fashionable dresses. (Laughter). I would ask my honourable sister to think awhile of those sisters of ours who break stones and whose hands ache with boils formed as a result of stone breaking. I shall narrate a case which I personally witnessed. A woman in rags approached me and said that she had four children and earned only two annas after a full day's hard labour. Her body was reduced to a skeleton. Just consider whether it is possible for these women to receive education. They have to work hard to make both ends meet and very little time is left at their disposal after work. There is no denying the fact that women belonging to rich families can receive higher education because they have ample leisure at their disposal. But the women belonging to the labour class have to do a lot of work. They cook meals, look after their children and above all work hard for a livelihood. I submit that female education is the primary need of the hour and it is Government and Government alone that can solve this problem. I hope the Honourable Minister will do his best in this connection. With these words I close my speech.

Begum Rashida Latif (Inner Lahore, Muslim Women) (Urdu): Sir, I have thrice got up to make a speech but—

Mr. Speaker: May I request the honourable lady member to speak to the motion?

Begum Rashida Latif (Urdu): I simply wanted to draw your attention to the fact that the rights of women are being trampled under foot outside the Assembly Chamber and here too they are not allowed to speak and are left in the back ground.

Mr. Speaker: Order, order.

Begum Rashida Latif (Urdu): Sir, the total demand for Education as given on page 307 of the Budget Estimates amounts to Rs. 1,54,52,200. If you glance through the budget you will find that hardly 15 per cent. of this huge expenditure has been earmarked for female education. The total income of the province as given in the Budget Estimates for the financial year 1937-38 amounts to about Rs. 11 crores, and it is considered and understood and said that, since the whole of this income has been realised from men, and since it represents their earnings and is the result of their labour, it will, therefore, be spent on men alone. It is absolutely wrong and if anybody thinks so he is completely wide of the mark and is doing the gravest injustice to himself and women-kind in general.

The administration of the house-hold kingdom rests on the shoulders of both men and women. Woman works inside and man works outside the house. The duties of both are not identical. To think that man has more important duties to perform is not correct. As a matter of fact the responsibility of women are far greater than those of men. Man performs his duties at stated hours of the day but the woman is engaged throughout the day, attending to one thing at one time and to another thing at another time. Her household duties are too numerous to afford her time for rest or amusement. Man is at perfect liberty to go any where he likes but it is very difficult for a woman to leave her house. The cultivator works the whole day long in his fields and in the evening when he comes back he amuses himself by indulging in gossip with his friends and in the night he sleeps the sleep of the just. Professional men living in cities or office hands, after finishing their day's work come back to their houses, where they are provided with refreshments by their women folk and they go out for a walk in public gardens or amuse themselves by going to cinemas. On the other hand a woman, whether she belongs to a city or a village spends the greater part of the night in looking after her children and ministering to their creature comforts. Under these circumstances can anybody with any sense of justice say that this whole amount of 11 crores represents the earnings of men alone and that women have not contributed their share towards making up the sum.

Only a few days ago, Diwan Chaman Lal took the Government to task for reserving only 20 lakhs for beneficent objects. He characterised this sum as much too small as compared with the magnitude of the work to be done and pointedly drew the attention of the House to the inadequacy of this sum. What am I to say now? I would rather not say anything, but I cannot help giving expression to my innermost feelings. Just look at the expenditure side of the budget. You will hardly find anything allotted for bettering the lot of the women of this country. As compared with the share of men the share of women is as a drop to the ocean, or a particle of sand to a desert or a mole hill to a mountain.

I am well aware of the fact that the expenditure on female education is increasing every year and that this year too the grant for female education has been increased. As I have already remarked only Rs. 21,000 are being spent on female education and the total amount spent under this head including the construction and repair of school buildings hardly exceeds one lakh. If this is the way in which and the rate at which you propose to undertake the stupendous task of imparting education to females, I am afraid, that it will take you several centuries to complete your task. The foundation of home rule should be laid on female education and improvement of the lot of the fair sex. An administration based on such foundation will be as firm as a rock. It will not be like the hollow tree which is uprooted by a strong wind.

No country can progress unless the women of that country are educated and it does not seem justifiable that such huge sums should be earmarked for the instruction of males and such a paltry sum should be expended on female education. Our country is nearing the verge of ruin because half of its population has been subjected to tyrannical laws. Men have relegated to the back ground the divine injunctions and have adopted customary law as the law of the land, in order to deprive women of their rights. It is for this reason that women do not enjoy the divine right of inheritance and are leading miserable lives. I will spare no pains to bring to the notice of this House, the oppressive and tyrannical treatment to which women in general and the Punjab women in particular are being subjected. Ever since I came to Simla, I have been receiving, daily, letters from women belonging to all parts of the country, and each letter carries a tale of woe, and I, as their representative, am simply overwhelmed with grief at the sad plight of my sisters. The agonies of grief that I am suffering on their account may well be described in the following verse:—

مرا درد بیست اندر دل اگر گویم زبان سوزد
دیگر دم در کشم ترسم که مغز استخوان سوزد

It is a pity that a female child is considered inauspicious from its very birth and the birth of a daughter is considered to be the greatest calamity that can befall the parents. That is why little care is taken in the matter of their upbringing and a good many of them are deliberately killed. Even the mother of a female child, fearing that her daughter may be destined to be united to a hard hearted brute of a man, does not lavish the love and the care upon the child that is its due.

Mr. Speaker : I request the honourable lady member, to speak to the motion.

Begum Rashida Latif : May I respectfully point out that other members of the Assembly too are generally irrelevant. Sometime they are here and the next moment they switch themselves on to England. I am still talking of things that are happening in India.

The number of female births in the province is equivalent to the number of males but in the census of 1931 it was found that the number of males exceeded the number of females by 2,631,581. This bears an eloquent testimony to the harsh treatment meted out to females.

Now I will submit a few proposals in connection with the demand under consideration and I would request you kindly to earmark a larger sum of money in the budget for female education.

You do not require highly educated teachers for the villages. You have to raise the standard of living in villages and this object can only be achieved by giving the village girls education in domestic sciences. You must give to village girls such instruction as would make them good housewives and wise mothers.

I can say on the strength of my personal experience as a teacher extending over a period of 20 years that the so-called primary education for girls is quite insufficient. They should be educated up to the middle standard, at least. In the middle classes girls are taught useful sciences and especially hygiene; and all these sciences tend to improve their mental and moral standard. In addition to these, girl students are taught home nursing and first aid, which enables them to look after patients. Besides these, they are taught domestic sciences, e.g., sewing, cooking, washing and ironing of clothes. In short they are taught everything that is necessary for running a household efficiently. After passing her middle school examination, a girl becomes competent to take charge of household affairs. I would, therefore, propose that in each town of each tehsil of a district two vernacular middle schools should be opened.

I have been intimately connected with the Education Department all my life, and it grieves me to find that while in some districts there are high schools for girls, there are not even primary schools for girls in many districts of the province.

I addressed a letter to Mrs. Thomas, Deputy Directress and in reply she says that the establishment of vernacular middle schools in each tahsil of the province is essential. I will read out an extract from her letter :—

Extra Assistant Inspectresses.

At present there are 18. As soon as possible there should be one to each district. Until this has become a fact inspectresses cannot give the existing schools sufficient help and supervision neither can they encourage the opening of new schools. Two more intermediate colleges are needed. One more in the Western Circle and one in Eastern Circle.

[Begum Rashida Latif.]

Local Body Budgets.

A definite and adequate percentage of local body income for education should be set apart for girls schools. At present girls schools tend to get what can be spared from boys schools.

The extract which I have read out just now clearly portrays the minimum needs of the Education Department, so far as female education is concerned. It also shows that they are sparing no pains to impart female education on the largest possible scale. Besides that the inspectresses of schools are of the opinion that these high schools for girls, which are located in hired buildings—

Shrimati Raghbir Kaur : May I enquire if you have confidence in the present Government ?

Begum Rashida Latif : Yes, I have every confidence in the present Government.

I was saying that these girls schools, which are located in hired buildings are not spacious. The Government is paying adequate rent for these buildings, but for want of accommodation the number of girl students admitted to such schools is very meagre. I would, therefore, suggest that Government should take immediate steps for the construction of high school buildings of their own, with commodious boarding houses attached to the same, so that a large number of students may be admitted to the schools and the boarding houses.

Now, I will read out a letter from the Principal, Lahore College for Women, which proves that girls from all parts of the province apply for admission to the college, but for want of accommodation they cannot be admitted and are thus unable to receive higher education. Under these circumstances it is the duty of Government to see that a spacious building with a boarding house attached to the same is built at their earliest convenience. Here is the letter I have received from the Principal, Lahore College for Women.

1. No. of students studying in the college 210.
2. No. of students who applied and were not admitted for want of accommodation 115
30 Boarders.

The figure for boarders refused accommodation would be much larger than it is, if it were not that I very strongly discourage applications for admission to the boarding house. It is well-known now that it is almost as difficult to get into the boarding house here as it is to get an Oxford Scholarship. Another great difficulty in college is our lack of an adequate assembly room. We cannot get nearly all our students into the library in any comfort, and that makes it impossible for me or for any visiting lecturer to address the whole college at once.

Better accommodation for boarders who have no privacy and no room to keep their own possession is also urgently needed and I should very much like to have more accommodation for staff.

I have received and am daily receiving letters from all parts of the province, but the women of Lahore are particularly pressing me to ventilate their grievances in the Assembly. Their first request is that a sufficient number of high schools may be opened in Lahore. Besides that a zenana library with a big hall attached to the same may be built for the use of women, where they could meet to exchange views or hold meetings.

Some time ago the Lahore Municipal Committee in a fit of generosity reserved three plots of park-land in the gardens round the city of Lahore. These plots are hedged round with evergreens and are open to the gaze of passers by as well as of the house-holders nearby. Besides that it is highly undesirable that women should hold open air meetings or deliver lectures in the streets. The plots of land reserved for women in Lahore are not fit for the use of purdah women.

I wish I could describe the condition of women living inside the city of Lahore. An outsider, who comes to Lahore for the first time is vastly impressed by the palatial buildings on the Mall, e.g., the High Court, the Government House, the Punjab University and the Government College, but he cannot realise the miserable plight of women inside the city living in dark, narrow airless houses. The Punjabi saying—aptly describes the condition of Lahore.

باهر میان ہفت ہزاری اندر بیوی کرمان دی ماری

Sir, the voice of protest I have raised to-day in the Assembly is not the voice of one weak woman. It is the voice of hundreds of thousands of women rolled into one.

Mr. Speaker : Will the honourable member please wind up her speech ?

Begum Rashida Latif : Sir, I have not yet touched the fringe of the subject, which I want to discuss and you want me to stop. The women of the province had previously no representative in the Assembly. Now that we have been fortunate enough to be given representation in the Assembly we propose to fight for our rights and we will compel you to accede to our demands.

I do not propose to plead the cause of Lahore at greater length because I am a resident of Lahore myself. I am speaking of Lahore as the capital of the province, with its palatial buildings and spacious suburbs, whose population is equal to the population of a tahsil or even of a district. The educational arrangements for girls are not adequate even in Lahore, not to speak of its suburbs. Take the case of Baghbanpura. It is a suburb of Lahore with a population of many thousands, and yet there are no adequate arrangements for imparting education to females. It is undoubtedly true that the rich possess facilities, educational or otherwise everywhere, and they can make suitable educational arrangements for their daughters, but you cannot expect poor people to send their near and dear ones for receiving instruction at Lahore. It is, therefore, imperative that a high school for girls should be opened at Baghbanpura. High schools for girls should also be opened in all districts where at present there are no high schools and the girls receiving education there should not be charged any tuition fees.

I would go a step further and suggest that special scholarships should be given to girls receiving education in village schools at the following rates—

| | | | | |
|------------------------------|----|----|----|--------|
| Second Primary Class | .. | .. | .. | As. 8. |
| Third to Fifth Primary Class | .. | .. | .. | Re. 1. |
| Middle Classes | .. | .. | .. | Rs. 2. |

[Begum Rashida Latif.]

I am fully conscious of the fact that if this proposal is carried into effect, it will mean a heavy burden on the educational budget, but when compared with the charges of other departments it is, but a drop in the ocean. When the Government is spending lakhs of rupees on their move to Simla and money is being spent like water (voices of hear, hear from Congress benches), one should ponder over the fact that one owes a duty to the poorer classes also. The new expenditure suggested by me ought to be included in the budget. It is absolutely essential for the well-being of society.

Just consider for a while the condition of the zamindar. He works the whole day long in his fields, exposing his naked back to the fierce rays of the sun. His children go about bare-footed in the scorching heat of the sun. His wife goes about shoeless and if by good fortune she manages to get hold of a pair of shoes, she does not put them on, lest they should wear off, and is so careful about them that when walking about she folds them in her doputta and puts them on her head. She works from morning till late in the night and after working so hard and for such long hours, all she gets for her meals is stale maize or millet bread with lassi. Besides this the zamindar is heavily in debt. Under these circumstances, how can you expect the zamindars to send their children and especially their daughters to school and provide them with books, etc. ? I, therefore, appeal to all the zamindar members of the Assembly, who call themselves ruralities and are never tired of talking about their sympathy for the zamindars, to support my proposition.

This is the first year of Home Rule and this is the first budget of an autonomous government. There is nothing to prevent you from spending money on female education. You are not obliged to obtain the sanction of any higher authority for this expenditure. There is no law or enactment which stands in your way. You can spend any amount on female education.

If you pay adequate attention to the spread of female education in the province the country is sure to progress on healthy lines and in a few years' time a great change would come over the whole province. And your work will go down in history with such captions as : "Progress in the Punjab and its reasons," "An end to the ignorance of Punjabi women", "A new vista of life opened for women of the Punjab", "The members of the Assembly just after taking over the reins of government in their hands diagonosed the ills from which the country is suffering. They have come to realise that all the calamities, all the evils and all this backwardness of the people are the result of ignorance. That is why they have prescribed education as the panacea for all evils, and this prescription has succeeded so much so that the whole country is now well and happy."

Sir, my simple-minded sisters are under the impression that we as their representatives are in a position to compel the Government to accede to the demands of women. But the facts are just otherwise. We are not even allowed to give expression to our thoughts. Everything is in the hands of men. They frame and pass the budget themselves. All the members of the Assembly call themselves protagonists of female education, but all this is mere lip sympathy, unless they give a practical proof of it. Let me point out that this money does not come out of the pockets of any one class or community. This is the property of the whole province and we, women, are equally entitled to it with men.

The time at my disposal is very short. I am, therefore, obliged to leave everything to the good sense of the House. I cannot, however, refrain from saying this that our demands must be accepted lest we should be compelled to resort to

تنگ آمد بیچنگ آمد

(laughter). Before closing my speech I should again like to point out that my feeble voice is not the voice of one woman. If you disregard my voice now, you will find that when the next session of the Assembly is held at Lahore, thousands of women will besiege the Assembly hall clamouring for their rights.

My last submission, before I resume my seat, is this. Just give a moment's thought to those poor women who are undergoing imprisonment in the jails of the province. Woman is said to belong to the fair sex, but even the fair sex possesses a very gentle heart. She does not harm anybody deliberately. She resorts to force when her miseries become intolerable and it is then that she commits a crime. I would, therefore, request that one of the lady members of this House may be permitted to visit female jails, so that we may be able to see for ourselves as to how our unfortunate sisters are faring in jail.

I would again appeal to the House through you, Sir, that even-handed justice should be meted out to women and their rights and privileges must be protected :

وند ست نام فرخ نوشیر وان بعدل

گرچه بسے گذشت کہ نوشیر وان نماند

Minister for Education (Honourable Mian Abdul Haye): I do not know if honourable members are prepared to sit after half past five to-day. If the time at my disposal is very short I shall have to skip over many a point.

In the first place I have to offer my thanks and congratulations to all honourable members who have spoken to-day and yesterday without exception (hear, hear), even including my honourable friend Lala Bhimsen Sachar who made a very good gesture this morning. Without giving details I may be permitted to answer a question of my honourable friend, Diwan Chaman Lall. He asked me what my policy was. I make bold to say that my policy is to place myself at the disposal of the people of the Punjab, unreservedly (hear, hear) for such service that I can render. My educational policy will be the policy which will be dictated by the people of the Punjab and it shall not be thrust from my side against their wish. This is in a nutshell my policy. I am entirely in your hands. I had this in my mind, when within a week of the assumption of office I suggested publicly that Government intend to nationalise the system of education, to nationalise the educational institutions, to change the mentality of the teacher. I am not going to dilate on that point because honourable members from all sides of this House have given their blessings to this suggestion of mine. But I want to make one thing particularly clear, and that is that we are not against denominational institutions as such, that we recognise the good work that they have done in the past, but we cannot afford to go on as we have been going on and all that I indicate is that I am in search of a system of education. I am in search of institutions, I am in search of teachers, who will teach the students to love and not to hate (hear, hear). If we succeed in eradicating communalism, leave alone nationalism, we shall have achieved a miracle. If this is done, more than half of the task of the Punjab Government is done, the millenium will be in sight. But if this is not achieved nothing can be achieved. Without this I shall be only tinkering with your so-called problems.

Another suggestion was made by the honourable members, Diwan Chaman Lall and Lala Deshbandhu Gupta. We want more money, we want more funds. It was suggested that Government should beg, borrow or steal. If I beg I have to beg of you. I am willing to borrow and I feel inclined to borrow from the richest organisation, i.e., the Indian National Congress. But I cannot afford to steal in spite of the fact that we have been called robbers in this House. When the question of begging comes, I make a definite proposal. Are we prepared to establish a national fund for educational purpose here to-day? (Voices: Yes). I offer to contribute 10 per cent. of my salary for all time to come (loud applause). I am prepared to go with a begger's bowl in my hands if need be.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : But you have to get the sanction of the Honourable the Finance Minister.

Minister for Education : If you will help us in the matter of the establishment of national fund for education, some of our difficulties will be solved.

Coming now to another matter, my honourable friend, Sardar Hari Singh, made a reference to the reformation of the university. He said that the university must be democratised. May I remind my honourable friend that Government moved in this matter several years ago and a committee was appointed which was presided over by Sir George Anderson. On that Committee sat Alama Yusuf Ali, Mr. Seshadiri and Dr. Woolner. I did not allow the grass to grow under my feet. Within half an hour of the assumption of office, I asked for a copy of Anderson report. I did so because I knew that the matter was allowed to hang fire and on account of the extraordinary delay, an idea had gained ground in certain quarters that the Anderson Committee's report was dead and had been buried. It is not dead; we are at present considering it and before long we will formulate our opinion. We have already taken action on some of the recommendations made by the Committee. But there are certain matters that require legislation. In this connection certain difficulties have been pointed out by the honourable Mir Maqbool Mahmood. I would not discuss the legal points, but I would inform this honourable House that steps are being taken to remove the obstacles that lie in our way (hear, hear). We want to retain the power to legislate for our University. We are not willing to abdicate in favour of any other legislature. While speaking on the subject of the reform of the university, I may be permitted to say that the most important thing to which we stand committed is the encouragement of girls' education (hear, hear). Before we assumed office, the amount spent on girls' education was less than 15 per cent. of the total expenditure on education. A new policy has now been adopted. Eighty per cent. of the new expenditure has been allotted for girls' education. Out of money which will be available in future considerable portion will be spent on girls' education. Here I may indicate what we have already done and what we propose to do in the immediate future. I believe with Napoleon that "one good mother is worth hundred school teachers." We have at present one degree college at Lahore and it was represented to us that the building of that college was not suitable. Immediate steps are being taken to give them a good building. As soon as I get away from the work of this Assembly. I will proceed to Lahore and decide this question. We have got at present two intermediate colleges: one at Lyallpur and the other at Amritsar. Steps are being taken to raise the intermediate college at Amritsar to a degree college (hear, hear). We are opening a new high school for girls at Gujrat. We are opening two anglo-vernacular middle schools for girls and two vernacular middle schools for girls in the rural areas (Voices: In which district?) That has not yet been decided. I may be permitted to say that we are seriously contemplating in the immediate future the opening of a new type of normal school for women teachers entirely for the benefit of rural areas (hear, hear) with special reference to domestic science. We are expecting a grant from a certain quarter. As soon as the grant is made available we will go ahead. We are encouraging the wives of the teachers to get themselves trained (hear, hear). Difficulties are experienced in the matter of rural schools. Women teachers mainly come from the urban area and they are unwilling to go to the villages. We have decided to encourage the training of the wives of teachers. Already a unit of 19 has received training and joined their husbands (hear, hear). We are increasing our present inspectorate for girls schools from 3 to 4 and the ultimate object is to raise it to 5 so that there will be one inspectress for each division.

As regards the point raised by one of my honourable friends regarding general literacy, I may be permitted to point out that in the matter of general literacy, the position of the Government is in the first instance to consolidate the progress that we have made and to eliminate wastage. We are also in search of a system and in this connection I may be permitted to make an announcement on behalf of Government. This is with respect to adult education and general literacy.

5 P.M.

We have an experiment in being, the aim of which is to tackle general literacy, for all, from a different angle. The method is sponsored by Dr. Lanback, an American missionary expert, who has been very successful in other parts of the world, i.e., Phillipines, etc. I have given my full support to the experiment which is working under a committee of co-ordination at Moga. The scheme is being tentatively tried in a few places such as Moga, Ghakhar, Lala Musa, Hoshiarpur and Kharar. Material is being collected, charts prepared, vocabularies of the people drawn up. By October we hope to know if the scheme of work is likely to suit the Punjab, and if it is, we can proceed slowly to test it on a still wider scale. It will not be costly. Details of the methods are unnecessary here but I am convinced that the psychology of it is sound and will appeal. It is quite unlike the old adult school which we had tried and which has not succeeded ; and it holds out a hope of really tackling illiteracy more successfully than in the past. ”

[Minister for Education.]

As regards technical and vocational education, I would not waste the time of this House by enumerating that we have already got various colleges and other institutions such as medical, veterinary, engineering, law, agricultural and industrial institutions. For agriculture we have also schools which have not more than 200 farms and gardens attached to them and there we teach rural science only. Before we can go further in the direction of vocational training we have to consider the re-organisation of the system and the prospects of employment for such of the trained youths. A report of two experts who visited the Punjab, Wood and Abbott, is now with the Government of India and should be of valuable assistance and guidance for our future planning. (Hear, hear.)

My honourable friend, Lala Deshbandhu Gupta, made reference to cinemas. (Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : I referred to pictures). May I inform him that since 1929 the text book committee has been supplying free cinemas to lakhs of school children in the Punjab. The films are of the best type available from the west. This step has not been taken by any other province in India.

Next I come to the question of education of depressed classes. Our policy in this respect is to help the backward and depressed classes and communities. I may be permitted to state what we are doing at present in this direction. One honourable member when he spoke took exception to a certain percentage being reserved for certain communities. I deem it my duty to announce to this House that the policy of Government would be to help the backward communities and depressed classes by all available methods. (Cheers.) As regards the depressed classes the Principal, Central Training College, is required to keep up a proper number of admissions of students for the backward classes. In normal schools we have ordered that at least 5 per cent. of seats should be reserved for depressed classes and they are also awarded stipends. (Hear, hear.) Honourable members are aware that separate schools have been opened in some places for depressed classes, but the policy of the present Government is not to open separate schools for them, but to make them sit side by side with boys of other communities in all institutions. (Hear, hear.) In this connection I may hold out a warning to the institutions in the Punjab that if the Punjab Government comes to know that a certain school does not encourage depressed classes and has got any prejudice against their admission Government will not encourage that institution. (Hear, hear.) The depressed classes are our brethren and they are in no way inferior to us. We should not therefore allow the state of affairs to come into existence in this province which prevail somewhere in southern India. The Punjab Government feels very strongly on this point and is determined to do all it can for the uplift of the depressed classes.

The policy of Government as regards the encouragement given to depressed classes was initiated as far back as 1929. I may here refer to the Resolution of the Punjab Government No. 20181-G., dated 19th November, 1929. The Punjab Government appointed a special officer, Rai Bahadur Ramchandra, who enquired into this matter and made recommendations, which have been given effect to by Government. The depressed classes at present enjoy all the facilities which are available for the zamindars. They enjoy total remission of fees at the primary stage, they are allowed one half fee concession, at the middle stage both in vernacular and anglo-vernacular middle classes and Government is now considering the question of allowing them similar concession for the high classes. Further they are given a number of scholarships, four-yearly scholarships of Rs. 10 per mensem at the college stage and free tuition, and thirty high school scholarships of Rs. 6 per mensem. In the middle stage all local bodies are invited to provide close scholarships as in the case of zamindars and the Government have offered to contribute their share in this respect.

Besides these general and close scholarships, the depressed class students are allowed certain scholarships from the Silver Jubilee Fund. There are two high school scholarships for girls at Rs. 8 per mensem, five high school scholarships for boys at Rs. 6 per mensem and two scholarships at the college stage for boys at Rs. 20 per mensem plus free tuition and two stipends of Rs. 20 per mensem for students in the Central Training College. (Hear, hear).

Now I may be permitted to reply to the speech of my honourable friend Khan Bahadur Mian Ahmad Yar Khan Daulatana. He raised a very important point (and this is his pet subject).^{*} He has been working in this direction for several years. His point relates to the revision of history text books with a view to eliminate those portions which widen the gulf between various communities. The Government appointed a committee consisting of three senior officers of the Education Department. The report of that committee is now in the hands of the Punjab Government. It was only yesterday that we got it.

Mian Abdul Aziz : Who were those three senior officers ?

Minister for Education : They were Mr. Rangi Ram, Chaudhri Muhammad Hussain and Sardar Bhagat Singh. Unfortunately Chaudhri Muhammad Hussain died and Mr. Rangi Ram retired. We however replaced them by other gentlemen including one Mr. Shauq, Inspector of Vernacular Education. They have very carefully gone through the text books and I indicate to the honourable members the thoroughness and the independence with which they have gone through these books and suggested that certain portions be expunged. I know the case of one text book. The author of that book is a very senior officer of the Education Department. Even in that case they have recommended that certain portions be expunged (Hear, hear). The Government will now carefully consider that report and pass orders without further delay. I am of the opinion that not only in the matter of history text books but in the matter of other books also, it may be necessary to revise them.

I may be permitted to make a brief reference to the speech of my honourable friend Lala Bhim Sen Sachar. He spoke of the unsatisfactory condition of the physique of our students. I only want to say that he has exaggerated matters. The things are not so bad as he considers them to be. Even to-day honourable members should realise that in the matter of athletics, we are leading the whole world (Hear, hear) (Voices : Oh !) Yes. The present drill instructors are being replaced by more efficient physical instructors and very useful work is being done at Lahore under Mr. Hogg. (Voices : What about military training ?) I hope that military training is not proposed to be given to enable our people to fight more efficiently in these communal riots. As soon as the first condition is fulfilled, the Punjab Government will also see to that.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Which first condition ?

Premier : Communal harmony.

Minister for Education : Eradicating communal bitterness. I was deeply grieved to hear my honourable friend Lala Bhim Sen Sachar when he referred to another matter. I would not have touched on that point on the floor of this House. My honourable friend Mr. Deshbandhu Gupta has raised that issue. He has invited the attention of the Government to the speech made by Lord Baden Powell. I am at one with Mr. Gupta in protesting against it (Hear, hear from Opposition benches) but what Lord Baden Powell said was that the Indian youth was lacking in character. I would only speak of it in whisper. I was surprised to find Lala Bhim Sen Sachar saying the same thing on the floor of this House. I do not agree with him (Hear, hear from Government benches). He said that we have no character. He brought out this thing very prominently. (Voices : He was quoting a Government official.) He said from this system of education that we do not get wealth, we do not get health, and we do not get character.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : He referred to the character of students in the college. That is absolutely different from attacking a national character.

Premier : This is also attacking national character.

Minister for Education : I disagree with Lord Baden Powell and I deem it my duty to disagree with my honourable friend Lala Bhim Sen Sachar.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Stop grants to both.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Stop the grant to Baden Powell Scout Organisation.

Minister for Education : Very useful work is being done by the Boy Scout Organisation but so far as the honour of the nation is concerned I have moved in the right direction. I have entered my emphatic protest. It was not my intention to speak of this and parade my services, but since this point has been raised on the floor of this House, I deemed it my duty to say something on the subject. (Hear, hear.)

A word about the free primary compulsory education. One of the honourable members laid some stress upon the fact that we must have less costly buildings. If the honourable member has been reading the newspapers, I may remind him that I stated this in a public meeting in April shortly before assuming office.

Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Have you translated it into action ?

Minister for Education : Certainly. As regards the assurance that I am true to my word and am prepared to translate my words into action,

I may tell the honourable member without giving out any secret that in the matter of one institution I sent back the plan and the estimate to the department concerned requesting it to revise it and make it less costly (hear, hear) and to my utter regret the papers have come back with the reply that the cost stated was the minimum.

I am not going to accept that position and I am going to summon the officers concerned to discuss it with me (A voice : Probably that is according to the Government standards). We are against those standards. We realise that ours is a poor country and that we must have less ambitious schemes so far as the buildings are concerned. I would not talk of shady trees and I would not talk of chhappars at present, but I would certainly assure this honourable House that the policy of Government will be not to spend more money on buildings and to have money for better purposes. (A voice : I would call a private contractor and find out how much the building would cost.)

Premier : Why have pucca buildings for primary schools? Why not have the classes under chhappars? (Cheers)

Minister for Education : In the matter of compulsion, I may point out to the honourable members that in the first instance it is open to a local body to ask for introduction of compulsion. The difficulty is that the local body concerned after introducing compulsion is not willing to enforce compulsion. (A voice : Change legislation.) That is exactly what the Government proposes to do (hear, hear). We will not leave it to the members of a local body to sleep over the matter. We realise their difficulties. If they have the requisite courage they would overcome those difficulties, but the fact remains that in deference to the wishes of their electorate they are not prepared to encourage prosecutions and where prosecutions are made little or no punishment is awarded, with the result that money is wasted.

The honourable members would realise that from the first infant class as we go to the second class there is a leakage of 50 per cent., and as we go higher up it is 75 per cent. and in the Kangra district it is perhaps cent per cent. The intention of the Government is to extend the period of primary education which I regret to say was reduced in 1918 just at the time when the Compulsory Act was passed. I am going to rectify that mistake and to extend it to at least five years (cheers). I am prepared to consider a further extension if there is public opinion in support of it (cheers). But in the matter of compulsion the intention of the Government is to amend the present Act and to give the Government the power to enforce compulsion. I will take the blame on my shoulders from the shoulders of the members of the local bodies. (Voices : We are prepared to take it ourselves.) What I propose to do is to have one complete Act giving all conceivable powers to the Punjab Government. Of course, I am not going to enforce the whole of it the very first day but power shall be vested in the Government to enforce such portions of that Act from time to time and in such areas or towns as they deem fit to include. I am going to include in the new Act the power to enforce compulsion even in the case of girls.

Honourable members are aware that in the old Legislative Council a lady member (Shrimati Lekhwati Jain) introduced a Bill of that nature which was however thrown out. I am not satisfied that the time has come when we should enforce compulsion in the matter of girls' education. If the public opinion reacts in that direction, I shall not be slow to move but for the present I want powers to be given to the Punjab Government; so that there may be no necessity for amending that Act for another generation.

Mian Abdul Aziz : On a point of order, Sir : I have tabled a resolution which has been admitted requesting the Government to overhaul the whole system of education. Will the Honourable Minister for Education kindly take steps and consider the request in that resolution, a copy of which can be had from the office ?

Minister for Education : I shall see to it.

Premier : If the honourable member writes to the Honourable Minister, due consideration will be given.

Mian Abdul Aziz : Very well, Sir, I will write to him.

Minister for Education : I am grateful to the Honourable Premier.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the item of Rs. 2,79,000 on account of Grants to the University be reduced by Rs. 100.

The motion was lost.

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That a sum not exceeding Rs. 1,52,69,100 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1938, in respect of Education (excluding European and Anglo-Indian).

The motion was carried.

The Assembly then adjourned till 11 A. M. on Monday, 12th July 1937.

PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

1st SESSION OF THE 1st PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

STARRED QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

ADDITIONAL POLICE POST AT VILLAGE SURSINGH, TAHSIL KASUR.

361. Dr. Sant Ram Seth : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that an additional police post was quartered at village Sursingh, tahsil Kasur, district Lahore, between 1914 and 1930 which remained there for 7 years and 3 months ;
- (b) if the answer to (a) above be in the affirmative, whether he is prepared to lay on the table a statement showing (i) the detailed accounts of estimated as well as actual costs of the punitive police post for each year ; (ii) the arrears of costs of the punitive police post due from the village residents on the 31st March, 1937 ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that Sardar Thakar Singh, Chanchal Singh and the other residents of the aforesaid village submitted an application to the Honourable Premier, Government Punjab, on the 8th April, 1937, claiming a refund of a certain sum said to have been realized from them in excess of the actual costs of the punitive police post by Government ;
- (d) if the answer to (c) above be in the affirmative, whether he is prepared to lay on the table their original application and also state the decision, if any, Government have arrived at in the matter ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Additional police were located in this village on three different occasions between the years mentioned—

- (i) From the 15th December, 1915 to the 14th December, 1917 (two years).
- (ii) From the 15th September, 1924 to the 14th September, 1928 (four years).
- (iii) From the 1st November, 1929 to the 1st January, 1931 (The post was originally sanctioned for two years, but the term was afterwards reduced).

[Premier.]

(b) Regarding the first post (1915—17) the honourable member is asked to refer to the reply given to question No. *70¹. The average cost of the second post (1924—28) was Rs. 29,026-5-8. That of the last post (1929—31) was originally calculated at Rs. 8,095, but this figure was reduced to Rs. 7,619 as explained in the reply given to question *5571², put by Chaudhri Afzal Haq in the last budget session in the old Council. As was explained at that time the cost of this post, even after excluding charges on account of superintendence, armament, interest, etc., which can never be precisely estimated, was slightly in excess of the figures originally calculated. On the other hand, it was found in 1934, when recoveries were proceeding, that the post of 1924—28 had proved considerably less expensive than had been expected. The Deputy Commissioner accordingly recommended that a certain part of the sum due should be waived. In accordance with this recommendation a sum of Rs. 476 was first remitted, and subsequently the outstanding balance amounting to Rs. 7,444-4-6.

(c) Yes.

(d) A copy of the application is laid on the table. As has been explained above, there are no longer any outstandings in regard to the Sursingh posts.

Sardar Hari Singh : Is the Honourable Premier aware that on account of his voice being very inaudible, it has not been possible to follow his reply ?

Premier : I am very sorry, but he will be able to see the answer when it is printed.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : May I know whether the arrears of the cost of the punitive police due from March, 1937 have been realized or not ? I am referring to question (b) (ii).

Premier : It has already been answered.

Application of Chanchal Singh, Thakar Singh, etc., village Sursingh, dated the 8th April, 1937, to the Hon'ble Chief Minister, Government, Punjab, Lahore.

We the undersigned residents of village Sur Singh, tahsil Kasur, district Lahore, beg to state as follows :—

- (1) Between 1914 and 1930 additional police post was quartered in our village three times. The first punitive police post which was located in our village between 1914 and 1917 consisted of mounted police force and we had to pay Rs. 14,685-9-2 as cost of this police force. Cost of this police force also included the purchasing prices of the horses which on its withdrawal were taken to the police headquarters, Lahore, along with other furniture of the police post, though Government had no right over them as these were purchased at the costs of the village residents.
- (2) Again in 1924 punitive police post was quartered in our village for second time which remained here for four years. The village residents had to pay Rs. 28,425 as its costs.

¹Page 412 ante.

²Vol. XXVIII, pages 757-58.

(3) For the third time punitive police post was located in our village in October or November, 1929, which remained up to the 31st December, 1930. For the costs of this police force Rs. 7,319 were due from us but in 1933 we were asked to pay Rs. 2,600 which were recovered in December, 1933 and January, 1934. We were informed by the responsible Government Officers that under orders of Mr. Asquith, the then Deputy Commissioner, Lahore, enquiry was made as the result of which it had been found that more money than the actual costs of the police force which remained stationed in our punitive police post, during the previous years had been realized from us which has been deducted from the tax due for the years 1929 and 1930.

(4) Now again we have come to know that we are going to be taxed for the full cost of the punitive police post for the year 1929 and 1930 and the concession granted by Mr. Asquith, Deputy Commissioner, is being forfeited by the Government.

Under these circumstances we would request you to make enquiry in our case and do justice to us as had been done to the residents of villages Makhi Khurd and Makhi Kalan, in 1926 and Asal Rattoki and Cheeman (Kasur) in 1936 in similar cases. In these villages punitive police posts were quartered but instead of recovering calculated costs of the punitive police post, the Government decided to realise from them the actual costs of the police force as a result of which they were saved from paying several hundred rupees in excess.

(5) We beg to attach herewith a statement showing the actual costs of the police force that remained present in our village from 1914 to 1930. Its perusal will show that instead of demanding any sum from the village residents Government have realized Rs. 3,417 from them in excess of the actual cost even after deducting the punitive police post tax arrears of 1929 and 1930.

We would request you to make enquiry in our case and order the Lahore district revenue authorities to suspend the recovery of the punitive police post tax arrears during the pendency of the case.

NOTES.—1. The pay of the sub-inspector, head constable and constable have been counted at the rate of Rs. 80, 30 and 17, per month.

2. During this period only one head constable remained present in the punitive police post though sometimes the number of constables was reduced to 6 or 7 but in this charge sheet the expenditure of 10 constables has been shown. (The maximum average number).

3. Contingency charges in 1925, 1926 and 1927 have been shown less than 1924 as no furniture was purchased during these years in plenty.

COMPLAINT AGAINST FORCED LABOUR.

*362. Dr. Sant Ram Seth : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

(a) whether Imam Din and several other Muslim water-carriers of village Lulliani, district Lahore, submitted an application on the 20th May, 1937, to the Deputy Commissioner, Lahore, complaining against the forced labour system practised by the local police ;

(b) if the answer to (a) above be in the affirmative, whether he is prepared to lay on the table their original application and also state whether any inquiry was made by the Government in the matter ; if so, (1) who conducted the inquiry, (2) how many of the complainants appeared before the investigating officer, and (3) what was the result of the inquiry ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Yes.

(b) A copy is laid on the table. Inquiries were made on the spot by a Deputy Superintendent of Police from all the persons whose thumb-impressions appeared on the application. They stated that they had no complaints and that their thumb-impressions had been obtained by fraud.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Are there any standing instructions in regard to this matter?

Premier : Yes.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Are there any penalties prescribed for forced labour, if it is levied?

Premier : I cannot give you any reply off-hand, but I believe there are penalties for disobeying instructions and orders of the Government.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Is the Honourable Premier satisfied that the statement referred to by him was not obtained by undue influence?

Premier : I have to rely on my gazetted officers.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Is the Honourable Member's previous experience such as to justify him in believing that they may have been obtained by undue influence?

Premier : I do not think so, so far at any rate as gazetted officers are concerned.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Premier be pleased to state whether he is prepared to make an inquiry through a magistrate instead of a gazetted officer of police, because the complaint was against the police?

Premier : I am afraid I cannot possibly accept the honourable gentleman's suggestion because I must rely on my gazetted officers.

Application of Imam Din, son of Shadi, Din, son of Nawab, and others, dated the 20th May, 1937, to the Deputy Commissioner, Lahore.

We the undersigned Muslim water-carriers of village Lulliani, District Lahore, beg to state as follows:—

(1) We are very much tired of the forced labour system at the hands of the local Police. Every water-carrier is called upon to supply water to the Police staff free of costs turn by turn. One who does not agree to supply water himself at his turn, he is obliged to pay Rs. 2 as compensation to his colleague who takes the responsibility to work in his place at the Thana. This system has been in existence for the last 6 years. We are put to great inconvenience and uneasiness by the Police staff. Rs. 2 have been recently paid by Imam Din (2 weeks ago).

(2) Hence we would request you to make inquiry in this case and thereby put an end to this evil system of forced labour. We would also request you to get the amount refunded paid on this account within the last 12 months.

FACILITIES FOR VISITORS TO KASUR JAIL.

*363. Dr. Sant Ram Seth: Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that Sardar Sajjan Singh, Margindpuri, Sardar Naranjan Singh, Municipal Commissioner, Sursingh, and other respectable persons of tahsil Kasur and Chunián submitted an application on the 1st June, 1927, to the Honourable Premier complaining against the restrictions imposed upon persons who go to interview their relations in Kasur Jail ;

[Dr. Sant Ram Seth.]

- (b) if the answer to (a) be in the affirmative, whether he is prepared to lay on the table their original application and state whether any inquiry was made by the Government in the matter ; if so, the result of the same ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Yes.

(b) A copy of the application is laid on the table. It has lately been arranged, as a matter of administrative convenience, that persons attending the jail in order to interview prisoners should wait in the shelter of a tree near the married warders' quarters, rather than on the roadside. Estimates for a proper waiting shed are being prepared, to be constructed when funds allow.

Application of Sajjan Singh and others, dated the 1st June, 1937, to the Honourable Premier, Government Punjab, Simla.

We the undersigned who have come to hold interviews with our relatives under-trial prisoners or convicts in Kasur Jail beg to state as follows :—

- (1) Since 1st February 1930, i.e., when the new Jail of Kasur was built the relatives and friends of the jail convicts or under-trial prisoners who come to see them were allowed to sit under the shades of the trees on the roadside, leading to the jail gate. No doubt they were kept at a distance of 20 yards from the jail gate.
- (2) For the last two months a new system has been introduced and the jail authorities have passed orders to the effect that no one who comes to see his relatives in the jail, be allowed to sit under the shade of the trees. There are no other trees in the jail vicinity except those on the road hence the public is put to great inconvenience and uneasiness. Now the jail authorities have gone so far that they do not allow the public to sit under the shade of the trees which are at a distance of 300/400 yards. There is no other arrangement for the protection of the public from the scorching heat of the sun near the jail. The orders of the jail authorities regarding the prohibition of sitting under the shades of the trees on the road is illegal and unjustified. Either it must be withdrawn or a shed be erected within the jail premises.

CROWN LAND SITUATED ON NALA DHUNDI.

364. Khan Bahadur Sardar Muhammad Hassan Khan, Gurchani : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that tracts of land situated on Nala Dhundi in tahsil Rajanpur, district Dera Ghazi Khan, are to be distributed on lease by Government ; if so, on what conditions ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that Government intend to prefer the inhabitants of other districts in giving these lands on lease to those of this (Dera Ghazi Khan) district ;
- (c) whether it is also a fact that hundreds of abadkars of other districts in the Punjab have reached Rajanpur and have applied for the land in Nala Dhundi being given to them on lease ; if so, the reasons for this ;
- (d) whether Government intends to consider the claim of the inhabitants of Dera Ghazi Khan district at the time of distribution of the land in question in preference to others ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Yes, the matter is under consideration.

(b) No, provided good tenants are available locally.

(c) Government have no information, but a large number of applications have been received from other districts in the Panjab and there is no bar to them.

(d) Certainly.

CATTLE TAX IN DHUNDI.

365. Khan Bahadur Sardar Muhammad Hassan Khan Gurchani : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state, whether it is a fact that a tax known as "Tirni" has been imposed by Government on cattle and other animals of the inhabitants of Dhundi, tahsil Rajanpur, district Dera Ghazi Khan, for the last two or three years; if so, the reasons which have led the Government to impose this tax?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : Yes. Grazing fees are being charged in the Dhundi estate. The levy of such fees was approved by Government in 1921 and these are being charged in the interest of the estate.

RECRUITMENT OF POLICE FORCE IN DERA GHAZI KHAN DISTRICT.

366. Khan Bahadur Sardar Muhammad Hassan Khan Gurchani : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that police officers posted to Dera Ghazi Khan district are generally deputed to bring recruits from other districts for the inferior rank of the police force in that district, and are paid travelling allowance, etc.;

(b) whether it is also a fact that Rs. 4 are paid as local allowance to the police constables recruited from other districts for the police force in Dera Ghazi Khan;

(c) whether it is a fact that suitable candidates are available in large numbers in Dera Ghazi Khan district for employment as police constables in the said district, if so, the reasons why this unnecessary expenditure is incurred by Government?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) No. During the summer of 1934 a head constable was twice deputed to obtain recruits from outside districts, and his travelling allowance was paid by Government. There has been no occasion since to send out a recruiting officer, as a sufficient number of recruits from outside districts have presented themselves in Dera Ghazi Khan.

(b) Yes.

(c) No. It is by no means easy to obtain men of the right stamp from among the local people.

EDUCATIONAL AND OTHER FACILITIES FOR GURCHANI AND KAIBRANI ILAQAS.

367. Khan Bahadur Sardar Muhammad Hassan Khan Gurchani : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state whether it is a fact that facilities for receiving education have recently been provided to Leghari and Buzdar tribes in the Dera Ghazi Khan district; if so, whether and when it is intended to make the same facilities available to people residing in other parts such as Gurchani, and Kaisrani tribes in the said district?

[K. B. Md. Hassan Khan.]

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye: I regret that the answer to the question is not ready.

REPRESENTATION OF MUSLIMS ON LAHORE IMPROVEMENT TRUST.

368. Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar: Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state the representation allowed to Muslims on the Lahore Improvement Trust, and the reasons for fixing that representation for them?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana: Two Muslim members were appointed to the Lahore Improvement Trust, excluding the Chairman who is a Government servant and Bai Bahadur Diwan Amar Nath Nanda, a retired Superintending Engineer, Public Health Circle, who was included in the personnel of the Trust for his technical knowledge, there was one member each from the Hindu, Sikh and European communities on the Trust. In fixing this representation due regard has been paid to the share to which each community is entitled. Owing to the supersession of the Municipal Committee three seats on the Trust, including the two held by Muslims, are now vacant and will be filled shortly.

MEETINGS HELD BY LAHORE IMPROVEMENT TRUST.

369. Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar: Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of meetings held by the Lahore Improvement Trust in 1985, 1986 and in 1987, respectively;
- (b) the number of meetings which were called, but which were not held, and the reasons why such meetings could not be held?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana: (a)—

| Year. | Number of meetings held. | REMARKS. |
|--------------|--------------------------|--|
| 1985 | None | The Trust was created from the 2nd January 1986. |
| 1986 | 10 | |
| 1987 | 9 | |

- (b) Only one meeting in 1987 could not be held for want of quorum.

TALBANA.

370. Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that in revenue cases talbana is levied per capita according to the number of respondents and no maximum amount is fixed as in civil cases ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that in revenue cases, especially those relating to partition the applicants have sometimes to pay hundreds of rupees as talbana fees ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that zamindars are experiencing great difficulty on account of unlimited talbana charges ;
- (d) whether the Government proposes to take any action in the matter ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) No.

(b) No. If in partition cases the number of share-holders is very large the revenue officers have instructions to follow the procedure laid down in sections 20 (3) and 22 of the Land Revenue Act for the service of summons in order to save unnecessary expense to the parties.

(c) Government have no information.

(d) A copy of this question and the reply will be sent to the Financial Commissioners for such action as may be necessary.

PETITION-WRITERS OF GURDASPUR.

371. Maulvi Mazhar Ali Azhar : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the petition-writers of Gurdaspur petitioned to the authorities last year for not charging them any rent for sitting in the court compound for writing petitions ; if so, what action has been taken on that petition ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that the license fee of petition-writers was enhanced some time ago and they are now made to pay a much increased amount ;
- (c) whether the Government has considered the advisability of granting the request of the petition-writers ; if so, with what result ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) First part.—Yes.

Second part.—It was rejected.

(b) On the presumption that by “license-fee” the honourable member means “ground-rent” the reply is No.

(c) First part.—No.

Second part.—Does not arise.

ADDRESS TO PANDIT JAWAHAR LAL NEHRU BY MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, BHIWANI.

372. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the Sub-Inspector of Police, Bhiwani, and other officials stationed there brought pressure to bear on Municipal Committee, Bhiwani, to dissuade that local body from presenting the proposed address to Pandit Jawahar Lal Nehru, President, Indian National Congress, on his visit to that place in January last; if so, what action is proposed to be taken in the matter?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : I have already stated in reply to question No. *187¹ that the allegations against the Sub-Inspector of Police are incorrect. As regards other officials, if the honourable member would specify them by name or their designation, I will endeavour to obtain the information.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state the source of enquiry?

Premier : Through local officers.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Police officers?

Premier : No, district authorities.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether the sub-inspector of police, Bhiwani, sent for the members of the Municipal Committee and brought pressure to bear on them to dissuade them from presenting an address to Pandit Jawahar Lal Nehru?

Premier : How does that arise?

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : What I mean to ask is this: was undue pressure brought to bear on them or not?

Premier : I have nothing to add to my answer.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Did the official during the enquiry from the members of the Municipal Committee ask whether undue pressure was brought to bear on them or not? (After a pause.) Is there no answer to my question?

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I ask the Honourable Premier whether it is a fact that the members of the Municipal Committee were called at the police Thana by the police or not?

Premier : With regard to what?

Diwan Chaman Lall : With regard to the pressure being put upon them not to present an address to Pandit Jawahar Lal Nehru?

Premier : I have definitely said "No."

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I ask whether it is a fact that the members of the Municipal Committee were consulted by the official who made the enquiry or not?

Premier : They must have been consulted, otherwise it would have been difficult to conduct the enquiry.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I ask the Honourable Premier for a fact whether they were consulted or not consulted and what was the actual state of affairs ?

Premier : I am afraid I cannot give a reply off-hand.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state why this differential treatment has been accorded to my question which was of the same nature as that of the honourable Diwan Chaman Lall ? Does it make a difference whether a member speaks in English or Urdu ?

Premier : It may be the method in which a question is put.

Pandit Sri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Is it a fact that on the day when the question of presenting an address to Pandit Jawahar Lal Nehru was discussed, the President as well as the Vice-President were absent, and that the Junior Vice-President disallowed this question ? If so, was he empowered to do so ?

(No answer.)

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether the inquiry was conducted openly ?

EMPLOYMENT OF CHAUKIDARS BY BHIWANI PEOPLE.

373. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the police authorities are pressing the people of Bhiwani city to employ chaukidars to keep watch in the bazars at their own cost ; if so, why ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : This question is identical with No. *188¹ to which a reply was given in the House on the 29th June.

ADDITIONAL POLICE POST AT VILLAGE VEHGAL, TAHSIL KASUR.

374. Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that an additional police post was sanctioned to be quartered at village Vehgal, tahsil Kasur, district Lahore, for the period of 3 years and Rs. 6,005-8-0 per annum were imposed upon the inhabitants and recovered from them as costs of the aforesaid police post, —vide Punjab Government notification No. 3075, dated the 28th April, 1922 ;
- (b) If so, the sanctioned strength of the police force for each year, the strength of the police force which was sent to this police post and remained there during each year, the details of the estimated costs of the police force for each year, and the details of the actual costs of the police force for each year ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that this police force was located at Lulliani for some period and that its cost was charged from the residents of Vehgal ;

[Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava.]

- (d) if so, the period for which it was located there ;
- (e) whether a refund has been claimed for the amount charged in excess from the residents ;
- (f) if so, whether and when Government proposes to pay back this money ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) and (b)

It is correct that an additional police post was located at Vehgal for a period of three years from the 9th May, 1922. The essential figures regarding the strength and cost of the post have been given in reply to the honourable member's unstarred question 80¹. As has been explained in the replies to other questions, it is never possible to state the "actual cost" of a body of additional police with complete accuracy, as the bill must include certain items which are not capable of being calculated with precision.

(c) and (d) It was decided to fix the headquarters of this body of additional police at Lulliani, about three miles away from Vehgal, rather than in the village itself. This arrangement continued throughout the period of the post's existence, except for about two months at the end of 1924.

(e) and (f). An application for a refund by one Mall Singh and certain other persons claiming to be residents of Vehgal was received in May 1936. Considering the fact that the recoveries were completed more than ten years ago, Government are not prepared to re-open the matter or to make further inquiries.

PUNITIVE POLICE POST AT VILLAGE VEHGAL, TAHSIL KASUR.

375. Dr. Sant Ram Seth : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether any additional police force was quartered at village Vehgal, tahsil Kasur, district Lahore, in 1922, for a period of 3 years ;
- (b) if the answer to (a) be in the affirmative, whether he will lay on the table a statement showing (i) the sanctioned strength of the police force for this punitive police post for each year, (ii) the strength of the police force which actually remained stationed in the village post, (iii) item by item the details of the estimated as well as the actual costs of the police force for each year, (iv) the name of the house-owner who provided house for quartering the police force in the village, the monthly rent settled with him and the total rent paid to him each year, (v) the amount realized each year as the costs of punitive police post from the inhabitants ;
- (c) whether police force of this police post was shifted to police station Lulliani in 1922 ; if so, for what period it remained quartered there and what were the actual costs of the police force for this period ;
- (d) whether Sardar Mall Singh and other inhabitants of the aforesaid village submitted an application to the Honourable

Premier, Government Punjab on the 5th May, 1937, claiming therein a refund of Rs. 16,808-8-0 said to have been realized in excess of the actual costs of the punitive police force ; if so, with what result ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : This has been answered in the reply to the preceding question.

MEETINGS OF THE CABINET OF PUNJAB MINISTERS.

376. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether it is a fact that meetings of the Cabinet of Punjab Ministers are generally presided over by His Excellency the Governor ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : The attention of the honourable member is drawn to the answer given to question No. *337.¹

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether he has ever presided over any meeting of the Cabinet ?

INTERVIEWS WITH THE POLITICAL PRISONERS.

377. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the Punjab Jails Department maintains a list of persons who are not allowed to interview political prisoners or under-trials in the jails ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that the said list includes the names of certain honourable members of this House ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that Master Kabul Singh, M.L.A., was recently refused permission to interview certain under-trials in Hoshiarpur sub-jail on the ground that his name was included in the black list ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Jail Superintendents have special instructions as to the admission into their jails of persons suspected of holding subversive views, but there is no absolute ban on the admission of any persons or set of persons, in all circumstances.

(b) Does not arise.

(c) Master Kabul Singh was recently refused permission to interview certain prisoners in the Hoshiarpur subsidiary jail, but not on the ground that his name was included in any list.

Sardar Hari Singh : What is the criterion of interviews with political prisoners on political grounds ?

Premier : I am afraid I am not prepared to answer that question.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Is it a fact that my name also is included in that black list ?

Premier : Not to my knowledge.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Is it a fact that my name is also included in the black list at Rohtak ?

Sardar Hari Singh : Is the Honourable Premier aware that in other countries under the Parliamentary system of Government all the members of legislature have a right to visit jails ?

Premier : If the honourable member can quote some authority, I can probably express my opinion on that point.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh (Urdu) : Is the Government aware of the fact that all the members of the United Provinces Assembly have been appointed jail visitors in their respective constituencies ?

Premier : I am not aware of the practice in the United Provinces.

Sardar Hari Singh : Is the Honourable Premier aware that dangerous men in other provinces of India are to be incharge of law and order ?

Premier : What does the honourable member mean by " dangerous men " ?

Sardar Sohan Singh Josh (Urdu) : Is it a fact that the Superintendent of Jails himself told Master Kabul Singh that his name was in the black list ?

Premier : I am not aware of any such fact.

Master Kabul Singh (Urdu) : Will the Honourable Premier kindly enquire into the matter ?

Premier : I have definitely stated that that was not the reason.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Is it a fact that members of the United Provinces Assembly have been appointed jail visitors in their respective constituencies ? If so, is the Punjab Government also prepared to do likewise here ?

Mr. Speaker : That is a request for action.

LANGUAGE OF THE ASSEMBLY.

378. Sardar Hari Singh : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

(a) whether in pursuance of his remarks in reply to the point raised by Lala Duni Chand on the question of language of the Assembly during the first session of this House¹ any steps have been taken to approach the Parliament through the Government of India with a view to getting the Act amended ;

(b) if answer to (a) above be in the negative, reasons for the same ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : The attention of the honourable member is invited to the reply given to question No. *2291.²

SHEIKH RAHMAT ILLAHI AND MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, RUPAR.

379. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that Pandit Ganga Ram Sharma and Lala Nauhriya Mal, Municipal Commissioners, Municipal Committee, Rupar, were appointed to inquire into the allegations made by Baboo Maqsum Ali Khan against Sheikh Rahmat Illahi and that on a report being made against the said Sheikh Rahmat Illahi by both of these Municipal Commissioners the local Government compelled him to resign from the Municipal Committee, Rupar ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that the said Sheikh Rahmat Illahi (who is still the Vice-President of the Municipal Committee, Rupar) on the complaint of Pandit Ganga Ram Sharma some years back, i.e., 1930-31, was called for in the court of 1st class Magistrate, Rupar and that on an inquiry into the allegations, that he had not paid octroi duty to the Municipal Committee, Rupar, was fined Rs. 30 by the magistrate, and that the conviction was upheld by the Honourable Chief Justice of the High Court of Judicature at Lahore ;
- (c) if so, the steps Government proposes to take in this matter ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes. Sheikh Rahmat Illahi was actually asked to resign as a result of the convictions mentioned in part (b) of the question.

(b) Yes.

(c) The previous Government dealt with this matter in 1933 and the present Government do not propose to reopen it.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Is it a fact that Sheikh Rahmat Illahi has again been returned unopposed ?

Minister : I am not aware of it.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Will the Government be prepared to publish the name of Sheikh Rahmat Illahi in the Gazette ?

Minister : It is to be decided when the matter comes up.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Does this re-election remove all other previous disqualifications of the member concerned.

DEPARTMENTAL EXAMINATION IN IRRIGATION DEPARTMENT.

380. Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether there are any rules framed by the Irrigation Department which provide that it is optional for the assistant clerks in the Irrigation Department to sit for departmental examination for higher grades ;
- (b) if so, whether it is a fact that those who appear in the examination and fail are forced to pass the examination; if so, the reasons for the same ;

[Pandit Shri Ram Sharma.]

- (c) whether it is a fact that the Executive Engineer, Rohtak division, has recently remarked in the case of a few unsuccessful clerks that their services might be dispensed with, in case they do not pass that examination; if so, on what grounds these remarks have been made?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia: (a) Yes, but no assistant clerk can rise to the next grade of accounts clerk unless he passes it.

(b) No.

(c) No. The Superintending Engineer issued such an order in the case of one clerk under a misapprehension. Instructions have now been issued by the Chief Engineer to cancel the order.

PROVINCIAL SERVICES AND THE DISTRICT OF MIANWALI.

331. Khan Bahadur Captain Malik Muzaffar Khan: Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of gazetted posts held by the residents of the Mianwali district in the Provincial Civil Service (Executive Branch), Provincial Civil Service Medical Branch, and in the Provincial service;
- (b) whether the numbers represent the proper proportion of the district community-wise in those cadres of the provincial services;
- (c) if the reply to (b) is in the negative, what steps the Government intend to take in the future?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan: (a) This information is procurable from the History of Services of Gazetted Officers, a copy of which is available in the Assembly Library.

(b) and (c) In accepting candidates for appointment to the various provincial services, Government take the following factors into consideration:—

- (i) their merits;
- (ii) the religion they profess; and
- (iii) whether they are agriculturists or non-agriculturists.

They cannot undertake to consider any other factor.

REPRESENTATION IN SERVICES AND THE RESIDENTS OF MIANWALI DISTRICT.

332. Khan Bahadur Captain Malik Muzaffar Khan: Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the residents of Mianwali district have been allowed meagre representation in the services under the control of the Education and Medical Departments; if so, what action is proposed to be taken in the matter?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye: The honourable member is referred to the departmental lists which are placed in the Assembly Library. The Government policy was stated by the Honourable Finance Member in the Council Debate of 19th July, 1927. This is still the policy of Government and Government continue to carry out the requirements of the formula contained in the said statement of policy. I may add that recruitment to these services is not made on a district basis.

REMOVAL OF ILLITERACY FROM MIANWALI DISTRICT.

383. Khan Bahadur Captain Malik Muzaffar Khan: Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state what steps, if any, are intended to be taken to remove illiteracy from educationally backward district of Mianwali?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haya: The Government is already thinking of intensifying the campaign for the removal of illiteracy among the masses and in any measures that are taken the Mianwali district along with the rest of the Punjab is bound to be benefited. Even at present the Mianwali district is being treated liberally in the matter of ordinary and special grants for education.

ELECTRIC SCHEMES.

384. Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh: Will the Honourable Minister for Finance please explain the nature of, and give detailed information about, the two major electric schemes of considerable magnitude mentioned by him in his Budget speech?

The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal: The two schemes are—

- (a) A main line extension to Delhi, for the purpose of giving Delhi a bulk supply and giving energy to various other places on the way; and
- (b) The doubling of the line between Lahore and Lyallpur, and the supply of energy to various places on the way including Daska, Sialkot, Wazirabad, Gujranwala, Sangla Hill, and Chak Jhumra and possibly Chiniot, either by branch lines or direct.

Details are not yet available.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh: Is it a fact that the doubling of the line to Lyallpur and other places was considered by the Finance Sub-committee of the old Legislative Council and was rejected?

Minister: The consideration of these two schemes is at such a preliminary stage yet that no definite or useful information can be given to the House regarding them at this stage.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh: Is it not a fact that Finance Sub-Committee of the old Legislative Council rejected these two schemes on the ground that rural extension scheme should be taken up first?

Minister: The reconsideration of these schemes or the second scheme to which the honourable member refers does not in any way exclude the consideration of the rural schemes.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : What I mean is that the money should be spent on the rural extension scheme instead of this scheme.

Minister : That is only a suggestion of the honourable member and it will be kept in view.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : That is not my suggestion, but it was the considered opinion of the Finance Sub-committee of the old Legislative Council.

Syed Amjad Ali Shah : If the Electric Supply Company of Delhi is taking the electric supply from the Mandi scheme, would that not take more or less all the energy which is surplus now ?

Minister : I do not think that is correct, as I said the consideration of the scheme for the supply of bulk energy to Delhi is very much at a preliminary stage at present.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I know whether the Honourable Minister is prepared to agree that before action is taken by the Government this House will be consulted in regard to this particular matter ?

Mr. Speaker : That is a request for action.

Diwan Chaman Lall : All that I want to ask the Honourable Minister in regard to this matter is, whether the Government has made up its mind that it will consult the House before it takes this particular action.

Minister : That will depend upon the Government's decision as to what the schemes are likely to involve. If they involve very heavy expenditure, possibly capital expenditure, Government will have to come up before the House.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I ask the Honourable Minister, since the question is not clear—the question is not a question of expenditure but of policy—

Mr. Speaker : No question about policy should be asked.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I ask the Honourable Minister whether the Government have decided that they will consult this House before they allow energy to be diverted to Delhi ?

(No answer.)

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : Has the Honourable Minister seen in the papers that the Delhi Municipality is bringing out an electric scheme for Delhi and rural areas ?

Minister : I have not seen this.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : I will show it to him, and will send him a cutting from the paper.

Minister : I shall be delighted.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : In view of that, does not the Government consider that there is no use their supplying hydro-electric energy to Delhi, if they are having electricity of their own ?

Minister : The honourable member says "in view of that." That I take refers to something that he has seen somewhere in the papers.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Is the honourable Minister aware that a committee was appointed by the Government of India to go into this matter and that that committee has recently submitted its report ?

Mr. Speaker : That is a central subject.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Has it no reference to the Mandi scheme ?

Mr. Speaker : That is a central subject and if the report of that committee has been communicated to this Government, then it is a different thing.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I enquire whether the attention of the Government of the Punjab has been drawn to this particular fact ?

Minister : I may assure the honourable member that if the Government of India on that report comes to the conclusion that they do not want the energy, that will conclude the issue.

Diwan Chaman Lall : If they come to the conclusion that they do require it, what then ?

Minister : When we know all these facts including this fact that the Government of India is of that opinion, then we shall take the matter into consideration. We are at present at a preliminary stage. If the Government then comes to a decision that this is a sound proposition to extend the supply to Delhi, we shall do so.

RURAL EXTENSION OF HYDRO-ELECTRIC SCHEME.

385. Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) the number and the names of the rural extension schemes in respect of the Hydro-Electric, prepared by Mr. Thick since his appointment ;
- (b) the number of schemes out of these which have been completed and are working ;
- (c) the different stages which the rural extension schemes not yet completed have so far reached ;
- (d) the action Government proposes to take to expedite the completion of schemes mentioned in (c) ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) There are no less than fourteen such schemes ; their names and details are given in a list laid on the table—

- (b) Five are working fully and one partially.
- (c) Reference may be made to the list laid on the table.
- (d) Each scheme is dealt with on its merits, and Government do not propose to take any special measures to exceed the normal rate of construction.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : Is it a fact that the Honourable Minister in this very House has been saying that he is considering to help the rural extension schemes ?

Minister : My honourable friend is interested in Alawalpur extension and I think that is under consideration.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : Not at all. As far as I am concerned, I am concerned with all rural schemes and not particularly the one mentioned by the Honourable Minister.

Minister : I will do my best to encourage those schemes.

List of the rural extension schemes which have not yet been completed.

The following are some of the projects, which have been prepared by Mr. Thiek since his appointment as Projects Engineer in the Electricity Branch, and which are already used to supply rural loads or can be so used in case demands for supply should rise from villages passed en route by the 11 K. V. lines concerned :—

| Project. | REMARKS. |
|---|---|
| 1 | 2 |
| (1) Phillou r-G o r a y a-Phagwara Project. | Included provision for serving the villages of Goraya and Boparai. Arrangements are in hand for supplying power in the villages of Ata and Dalewal by means of subsidiary Minor Projects. Other villages have not yet asked for supply. |
| (2) Qadian .. | Designed to cater for Qadian and the surrounding rural area. Now also supplies the villages of Fateh Nangal, Zafarwal, Deriwala and Khunda all of which have been added under subsidiary Minor Projects. The Qadian Project also now supplies power to the scheme mentioned in (8) below. |
| (3) Jhuggian-cum-Bhat-tianwala. | Rural Scheme. Not financially justified and therefore abandoned. |
| (4) Shahdara-Sharakpur | Rural-cum-urban scheme. See remarks against (3) above. |
| (5) Kasur-Khem Karan | See remarks against (4) above. |
| (6) Dharamsala .. | Urban-cum-rural scheme. The 11 K. V. line from Kangra passes Chetroo village where power may be demanded for industrial purposes. |
| (7) Mohlan-Mananwala.. | This rural scheme was abandoned by Government because the sub-soil water was found to be unsuitable for agricultural purposes and, lacking the prospective pumping load, the scheme could not be justified. |
| (8) The Revised Gurdaspur Experimental Lift Irrigation Project. | This consists of three tube-wells. The wells are served from the Dhariwal-Qadian 11 K. V. line referred to in (2) above. |
| (9) The Jullundur Suburban (West) Kartarpur-cum Kapur th a l a Project. | This includes a provision for giving supply in Maksudpur village. Rural loads appeared subsequently at Chak Hussaina and Saora Nussi and have been supplied by means of subsidiary Minor Projects. |
| (9A) The Jullundur Suburban West (First Extension) Project. | This has just been approved. It is an extension of item 9 and provides for supplying energy to 9 suburban basties situated to the south-west of Jullundur city. Some agricultural pumping loads are also expected to materialize. |

| Project. | REMARKS. |
| 1 | 2 |
| (10) The Jullundur Sub-urban (East Project.) | The scheme is under construction and is now partially complete; supply to the North-Western Railway Station at Jullundur Cantonment was started recently. Provision has been made for supplying the villages of Dakoha and Dirrang. The scheme can be extended further eastwards if a demand for supply arises in any of the villages on this side of Jullundur. |
| (11) The Phillaur West Rural Project. | This is receiving Government's consideration at present. The scheme embraces supply to Rurka Kalan, Nurmahal, Bilga, Bundala, Jandiala, Pasla, Pharwala, Dalewal and Muthiada Kalan. It can be widely extended to serve other villages if demands require it. |
| (12) The Jullundur North Rural Project. | This scheme embraces supply to Jhandu Singha, Adampur, Alawalpur, Dhogri and Khurdpur. No decision will be arrived at until September or October when a conference will be held under the auspices of the Financial Commissioner, Development, to consider the possible effect on the water-table of further pumping. This project is subsidiary to those mentioned in items (9) and (9A). |
| (13) The Jullundur South Rural-cum-Nakodar Project. | This is also a subsidiary to the projects mentioned in items (9) and (9-A). It is at present under preparation. The estimates have been completed and the report is now being drafted in the Chief Engineer's office. It provides for supply being given to Nakodar town and to 12 villages situated along the Jullundur-Nakodar road. |
| (14) The Lahore East Rural Project. | This is a rural project for which the estimates are now under preparation. It provides for the supply of electricity in Jalko, Attari, Manbials and 25 villages and hamlets situated eastwards of Lahore. |

SIKH RELIGIOUS HOLIDAYS IN CO-OPERATIVE BANKS.

386. Sardar Sahib Sardar Gurbachan Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Development be pleased to state :—

- (a) whether it is a fact that in the co-operative banks religious holidays of Muhammadans and Hindus are observed, while the Sikhs are not allowed their religious holidays ;
- (b) if the answer to above be in the affirmative, the action Government proposes to take to move the co-operative societies to redress the grievances of the Sikhs ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a) and (b) Government has no control over these banks in a matter of this kind as they are independent institutions.

DISTRICT BOARD ROAD LEADING FROM GUJRAT TO SIALKOT.

387. Dr. Shaikh Muhammad Alam : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state :—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the District Board road leading from Gujrat to Sialkot, particularly its first three miles from Gujrat side, is in a thoroughly dilapidated condition ;

[Dr. Sh. Muhammad Alam.]

- (b) whether it is a fact that several accidents have recently occurred on the road ;
- (c) the number of years for which this road has not been repaired ;
- (d) the amount sanctioned for annual repairs of this road by the District Board of Gujrat ;
- (e) the action Government proposes to take in moving the District Board concerned to put the road in order ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) The road in the first two miles is not in a dilapidated condition now. It has been repaired recently, some of the bridges replaced and culverts provided. Mile three is worn out and is to be renewed shortly.

(b) No. Not to the knowledge of Government.

(c) None.

(d) The District Board, Gujrat, spent the following amounts on repairs to the road during the last five years :—

| | Rs. | | | |
|---------|-----|----|----|--------|
| 1982-83 | .. | .. | .. | 6,151 |
| 1983-84 | .. | .. | .. | 8,956 |
| 1984-85 | .. | .. | .. | 8,913 |
| 1985-86 | .. | .. | .. | 15,012 |
| 1986-87 | .. | .. | .. | 12,962 |

and hope to spend a sum of Rs. 22,800 during the current year.

(e) No action is necessary on the part of the Government.

SUGARCANE AND PADDY CROPS.

388. Chaudhri Ali Akbar : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state :—

- (a) the water rate charged on sugarcane and paddy crops during the years 1921 and 1922 in the province ;
- (b) the present water rate on the crops mentioned above in the province ;
- (c) their market price during the years 1921 and 1922 in the province ;
- (d) the present market price of gur and paddy in the province ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Sugarcane Rs. 7/8/0 to 12.

Paddy Rs. 4 to 7/8/0.

The rates differ in various zones.

(b) Sugarcane Rs. 6/8/0 to 11.

Paddy Rs. 4/4/0/ to 6/8/0.

(c) and (d) It is not possible to give a correct mean price for the province—the figures below compare prices in Lahore —

Gur, 1921 Rs. 6/13/0, 1922, Rs. 6/8/0, June, 1987, Rs. 4/7/0.

Paddy 1921 Rs. 4/12/0, 1922, Rs. 3/8/0, June 1987, Rs. 2/8/0.

Chaudhri Ali Akbar (Urdu): May I enquire whether the statement of the Honourable Revenue Minister will help to effect reduction in abiana?

Minister: It is a question of opinion.

MAINTENANCE CHARGES OF UPPER BARI DOAB CANAL.

389. Chaudhri Ali Akbar: Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) the total estimate of expenditure on maintenance of the Upper Bari Doab Canal for ten years from 1910 to 1920 and for ten years from 1926 to 1936, separately;
- (b) the amount of money out of the estimates for these two periods that was spent on the establishment, on the maintenance of the canal and on new works connected with the said canal, separately?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia: (a) and (b).

| Year. | Total estimate of expenditure on maintenance of Upper Bari Doab Canal. | Amount spent on establishment out of the sum shown in column 2. | Amount spent on maintenance of the canal out of the sum shown in column 2. | Amount spent on new works (i.e., extensions and improvements) out of the sum shown in column 2. |

DISPENSARY AT CHINTPURNI, DISTRICT KANGRA.

*390. Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state —

- (a) whether he is aware of the fact that the dispensary at Chintpurni in the Kangra district has been closed ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that there is no other dispensary in that area within a radius of ten miles ;
- (c) whether he is aware of the fact that thrice in the year big melas are held there ;
- (d) whether he is aware of the fact that there is an ancient temple and a large number of pilgrims visit Chintpurni throughout the year ; if so, the reasons for closing the above-mentioned dispensary ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) The dispensary at Chintpurni in the Hoshiarpur district (and not in the Kangra district as mentioned by the honourable member) was closed with effect from the 1st April, 1937. It has, however, been decided by the District Board, Hoshiarpur, to have a seasonal dispensary there for six months every year.

(b) Yes.

(c) Yes ; the seasonal dispensary has been provided to cover the period of the big melas referred to by the honourable member.

(d) Yes. Owing to financial stringency the District Board, Hoshiarpur, which was maintaining the dispensary, decided to close it.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh (Urdu) : I had asked information about the Hoshiarpur district but here it has been misprinted as Kangra district.

Sardar Hari Singh : How long has the dispensary been in existence ?

Minister : I will not be able to tell the honourable member.

Chaudhri Kartar Singh (Urdu) : Will the Government try to set up a permanent dispensary there ?

Minister : That is for the district boards to consider and we are prepared to encourage them.

Sardar Hari Singh : Will he urge on the district board ?

Minister : The matter has already come to the notice of the district board and they have granted 50 per cent. of the relief.

SHORT NOTICE QUESTION AND ANSWER.

LAHORE SETTLEMENT.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state —

- (a) whether it is a fact that in the periodical settlement operations of the Lahore district which are now in progress, the settlement officer has proposed an all-round increase of 25 per cent. in land revenue ;
- (b) whether the above proposal has been made by the said settlement officer with the approval of Government ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Government have received no such proposal.

(b) Does not arise.

UNSTARRED QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

POLLING STATIONS FOR PANSERA AND DOSANI VILLAGES.

126. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state —

- (a) whether it is a fact that Pansera and Dasari are two villages in the Jagadhri tahsil ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that these two villages are situated about two or three miles from Abdullahpur which was a polling station in Rural General Constituency on the 18th and 20th January for election to the Punjab Legislative Assembly ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that the voters of the above two villages had to go to Buria at a distance of about seven miles to record their votes on 23rd January, 1937 ; if so, the reasons for the same ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Yes, but the name of the second village is Dosani ;

(b) Yes ;

(c) Buria is only four or five miles from Abdullahpur. Administrative reasons such as those of geography and the number of voters in the area made it desirable for the whole of the general voters of the Pansara zail (except two villages), in which the two villages named are situated, to poll at Buria.

HARSH TREATMENT BY POLICE IN VILLAGE RURKA KALAN.

127. Shrimati Raghbir Kaur : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state whether it is a fact that in the course of an investigation recently held by police certain peasants of village Rurka, Chak No. 98, district Lyallpur, both men and women were subjected to a great deal of harsh treatment by the police and mass beating was also resorted to ; if so, what action has been taken against the police officer responsible for the beating ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : Government have received a report regarding the investigation to which the question appears to refer, and are satisfied that there is no truth whatever in the suggestion that the police acted improperly. I may add that the village in question, Chak No. 98.G. B.—Rurka, has an unenviable reputation for lawlessness.

TRANSFER OF COLONY GRANTS IN THE NILI BAR FROM AGRICULTURISTS TO NON-AGRICULTURISTS.

128. Khan Sahib Mian Nur Ahmad Khan : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state —

- (a) whether it is a fact that the colony grants awarded from time to time to members of notified agricultural tribes of the districts of Mutlan, Montgomery and others in the Nili Bar colony have been transferred by sale to non-agriculturists ;

[K. S. Mian Nur Ahmad Khan.]

- (b) if the answer to (a) above be in the affirmative, the number of such transfers in the Nili Bar colony during the last five years ;
- (c) what action the Government propose to take to prevent the recurrence of such cases in future ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Yes, in a few cases permission has been granted to tenants, commonly known as compensatory grantees, who were granted land in lieu of land acquired from them for the Sutlej Valley Project. These tenants are not required to reside in the colony and permission has been granted only to tenants who were either unsatisfactory colonists or in arrears with Government dues.

(b) The exact number is not known, but the area involved is not more than 500 acres.

(c) No action is called for.

REPRESENTATION OF MUSLIMS IN CERTAIN LOCAL BODIES IN AMBALA DIVISION.

129. Khawaja Ghulam Samad : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the system of joint electorates obtains in certain local bodies in the Ambala division in which the Muslims are in minority and that the system results in meagre representation of the Muslims in these local bodies ; if so, what action is proposed to be taken to redress the grievances of these Muslims in this respect ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : Government are not aware that any injustice to Muhammadans has resulted from the system of joint electorates in local bodies in the Ambala division. If the honourable member will specify the local bodies to which he refers enquiries will be made.

MUSLIM STORE-KEEPER OF SIMLA MUNICIPALITY.

130. Khawaja Ghulam Samad : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state whether it is a fact that a Muslim store-keeper, who put in 30 years' service with Simla municipal committee and in whose accounts no shortage was found on inquiry, is under suspension for the last two years ; if so, the reasons for the same ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : Enquiry against the store-keeper who is under suspension since December, 1935, is not yet complete and it is premature to say that no shortage was found. The municipal committee has been asked to see that no further delay is incurred.

COMMUNAL REPRESENTATION IN SERVICES, SIMLA MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE.

131. Khawaja Ghulam Samad : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to lay on the table the report, if ready, of the sub-committee appointed some time ago to fix the share of each community, on the basis of population, in the service of the municipal committee, Simla ? If no such report has yet been made, when is it expected to be ready?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : The sub-committee has not yet submitted its report. The report will be ready in the course of the next few months.

COMMUNAL REPRESENTATION IN MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, SIMLA.

132. Khawaja Ghulam Samad : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing the number of posts in the Simla municipal committee (clerical and technical) held by the Muslims in 1931 and 1937, explaining the cause of reduction of the Muslims in municipal service ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : A statement showing the required information is enclosed. There has been no reduction in the number of Muslims.

[Minister for Public Works.]

DISMISSAL OF THREE DRIVERS OF MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, SIMLA.

133. Khawaja Ghulam Samad : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state whether it is a fact that the municipal committee, Simla, has recently dismissed three drivers of the Gumma pumping station without framing any charge against them and without making any regular inquiry ; if so, the reasons for the same ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : No. The three drivers were not dismissed but were discharged and given one month's wages in lieu of notice under section 45 (1) of the Punjab Municipal Act.

 APPOINTMENT OF EXECUTIVE OFFICERS AND IMPROVEMENT IN THE CONDITION OF MUNICIPAL COMMITTEES.

134. Khawaja Ghulam Samad : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state whether there has been any improvement in the financial and in the general condition of the municipal committees with Executive Officers since the appointment of such officers to these committees ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : At many places where Executive Officers have been appointed there has been an all-round improvement in the financial and general conditions of the municipalities. The extent of improvement is shown in the Government Reviews contained in the annual Municipal Administration Reports.

 HONORARY MAGISTRATES, ETC., IN AMABALA DIVISION.

135. Khawaja Ghulam Samad : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of honorary magistrates, benches of honorary magistrates, and honorary sub-judges in the Ambala division ;
- (b) the places to which these officers belong and where these benches are located ;
- (c) the names of these officers and their educational qualifications ;
- (d) the number of cases that came up before them for disposal during the last five years and the number among them which were disposed of by them and the number of cases left pending by them at the end of each year with a classification of such cases (both criminal and civil) with the decision in each case ;
- (e) the number of appeals and revisions filed against the orders of such officers with the result in each case ;
- (f) the amount of expenditure incurred by each such bench with respect to the salary of the staff, supply of stationery, forms, and the income derived by such benches in the shape of fine ;
- (g) the number of decrees executed, the amount of decrees for realization and the amount realized in execution of decrees with percentage of such realization ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a), (b) and (c). The honourable member will find this information on pages 6—9 of last January's issue of the Half-yearly Civil List (Part II). The educational qualifications of the honorary magistrates and judges are not given, but I may mention that before appointing any person as an honorary magistrate or subordinate judge, and before renewing the powers of any of the existing ones, Government invariably satisfy themselves that the gentleman concerned is at least able to read and write the vernacular fluently.

(d) — (g). This information could not be collected without an expenditure of time and labour out of all proportion to the results to be obtained.

VEGETABLE GHEE.

136. Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state—

(a) whether the Government are aware that hydrogenated vegetable oils are manufactured and imported into the province and are sold under the name of vegetable or banaspati ghee.

(b) whether the Government are aware that these oils are mostly used to adulterate genuine ghee and are seldom marketed as hydrogenated oils, especially by the retailers ;

(c) whether in food value, particularly in vitamin contents, they have been unanimously pronounced as inferior to genuine ghee ;

(d) if the answers to (a) and (b) above be in the affirmative, what steps Government propose to stop this fraud on the public ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) Yes ;

(b) Government have no definite information although the presumption may be true in certain instances ;

(c) Yes ;

(d) A reference is invited to sections 13—15 of the Punjab Pure Food Act, 1929, and rules 24—29 of the Punjab Pure Food Rules, 1930, which provide for stopping fraud in connection with articles of food.

REDUCTION IN THE GRADES OF SALARY OF THE TEACHERS IN THE EMPLOY OF THE DISTRICT BOARD, JULLUNDUR.

137. Sardar Uttam Singh Dugal : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

(a) whether it is a fact that grades of salary of the teachers in the employ of the District Board, Jullundur, have been reduced ; if so, reasons for the same ;

(b) whether the grades of salaries of all services under the said district board have been reduced ;

(c) whether there are any services in the said district board in whose case cut has been restored ;

(d) if the answers to (a) and (b) above be in the affirmative, reasons for this anomaly ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) The grades of salary of all kinds of teachers working in District Board, Jullundur, have been reduced, as the board was spending 50 per cent. of its net income on education at the expense of other departments.

(b) No.

(c) Yes, other than education.

(d) The Commissioner, Jullundur division, while passing the district board budget for 1936-37 advised the district board to reduce its expenditure on education as it was spending more than 50 per cent. of its net income on education.

GRADES OF PAY OF DISTRICT BOARD TEACHERS IN JULLUNDUR.

138. Sardar Uttam Singh Dugal : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

(a) whether the grades of pay of all district board teachers in Jullundur district have been revised ; if so, the percentage of reduction, if any, made in various grades ;

(b) whether it is a fact that a part of the pay after revision has been termed as personal pay ; if so, the reasons for the same ; and whether it is in accordance with the rules ;

(c) whether the district board intends to abolish that personal pay at any time in future ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) The grades of pay of all district board teachers have been revised after reducing their present salaries by a percentage ranging from 5 per cent. to 25 per cent. approximately according to their salaries.

(b) Yes. In order to put the present incumbents in the new revised fixed grades some personal pay has been added to their salaries to equalize the percentage of cut applied on them.

(c) The district board intends to abolish the personal pay only when the teacher concerned is promoted to the next higher grade.

RETRENCHMENT OF POSTS OF TEACHERS IN JULLUNDUR DISTRICT BOARD SCHOOLS.

139. Sardar Uttam Singh Dugal : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

(a) whether any posts of teachers were retrenched in the Jullundur District Board schools in November, 1936 ;

(b) whether any notices were served on the teachers before retrenching their posts ; if so, will he please lay their copies on the table ;

(c) if the answer to (b) above be in the affirmative, the rules under which these posts were abolished and notices served ;

- (d) whether the Government is prepared to lay on the table a statement showing the number of posts of English teachers in each school under Jullundur District Board before 1st November, 1936, and their number after retrenchment?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Posts of senior English teachers were retrenched in November, 1936, but at the same time they were offered posts in lower grades.

(b) Notices were issued to the retrenched teachers before retrenchment. A copy of such a notice is laid on the table.

(c) Notices were issued under rule 436 of the Civil Service Regulations.

(d) The required statement is laid on the table. The number of English teachers was not reduced.

Notice.

The post of Mehr Ali, Headmaster, District Board High School, Nakodar, in the grade of Rs. 150—10—200 having been retrenched with effect from the 1st November, 1936, he is hereby informed that he should let the undersigned know within three days from the date of the receipt of this notice if he is prepared to work as Headmaster, District Board High School, Nakodar, in the grade of 110—6—140 with a maximum of Rs. 140 from 1st November, 1936, without any cuts for which provision exists in the budget. In case he be not willing to remain in district board service of this district on the pay now proposed to be given to him, i.e., Rs. 140 per mensem, he should take this as three months notice. Under the rules of Civil Service Regulations termination of his services from the date of receipt of this notice three months pay under the rule is admissible to him (Shaikh Mehr Ali). If no reply is received within three days from the date of receipt of this notice, it will be considered that he (Shaikh Mehr Ali) is willing to remain in district board service on Rs. 140 per mensem in the grade of Rs. 110—6—140.

TAQAVI LOANS ADVANCED IN HISSAR DISTRICT TO SINK WELLS

140. Chaudhri Sahib Dad Khan : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that some years ago taqavi loans were advanced to the zamindars in the Hissar district for sinking wells for irrigation purposes ;

[Ch. Sahib Dad Kan.]

- (b) if the answer to (a) above be in the affirmative, whether it is a fact that the wells were sunk under the supervision of the Department of Agriculture at a cost exceeding the taqavi loans granted as mentioned above ;
- (c) whether it is a fact that these wells have generally proved useless and in many cases have turned land into kallar ;
- (d) if so, whether Government propose to remit these loans ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Yes.

(b) No well was sunk under the supervision of the Department of Agriculture.

(c) It is a fact that the water of several wells constructed with the help of taqavi has been found to be brackish. Government have no information about land being turned into kallar by well-water.

(d) On receipt of recommendations from the local officers, each case will be considered on the merits under the rules.

MUSTAJRI CASES IN HISSAR DISTRICT.

141. Chaudhri Sahib Dad Khan : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) the number of cases in which lands of agriculturists were given on mustajri in execution of money decrees by the Collector, Hissar, from 5th June, 1936, to 31st March, 1937 ;
- (b) in each case what was the total area owned by the agriculturist judgment-debtor and how much of it was left for his maintenance ;
- (c) whether the fact that the area left for the maintenance of the judgment-debtors was not sufficient for their wants was brought to the notice of authorities concerned ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) 56.

(b) Copies of the documents which would give the required information in any particular case are obtainable on payment of the usual fees.

(c) The district authorities duly consider such points and take action, but if the person affected is not satisfied with the order he has the right of appeal to higher authorities.

SUGAR FACTORIES IN EARLY THIRTIES.

142. Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Will the Honourable Minister for Development be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that the Punjab Government (Industries Department) published a pamphlet in the early thirties, suggesting therein the setting up of sugar factories on small scale according to the open-pan system ;
- (b) the number of persons who, taking the cue from the said publication, set up small plants in the Punjab ;
- (c) the total approximate amount of capital invested in such plants ;

- (d) whether it is also a fact that most of these industrialists were encouraged in their ventures with cheap loans by the Industries Department ;
- (e) whether he is aware that practically all these persons suffered heavy losses because the open-pan system recommended by the department in their pamphlet turned out to be uneconomic and unworkable ;
- (f) the steps Government propose to take to offer relief to these industrialists in respect of the loans advanced to them by Government ?

The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram : (a) No.

(b) and (c) Do not arise.

(d) No. No cheap loans were advanced for the development of the open-pan sugar industry. Loans of varying amounts from Rs. 1,000 to Rs. 5,000 were given to twelve industrialists between 1932 and 1934 on the same conditions as were applicable to loans given for the development of other industries.

(e) The answer to the first part of the question is in the affirmative and to the second part in the negative.

(f) Does not arise.

PRESIDENT AND THE VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, PANIPAT.

143. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- (a) whether he has received any representation from the citizens of Panipat complaining against the election of a dismissed employee of the municipal committee as its president and a discharged municipal secretary as its senior vice-president ;
- (b) if so, whether he will lay the same on the table of the House and also state the action, if any, taken on it ;
- (c) whether his attention has been drawn to the findings of Mr. S. K. Kirplani, late Deputy Commissioner, Karnal, against Haji Abdul Qayum, the present president-elect of the committee, wherein he has definitely laid down that the said Haji was guilty of gross misconduct possibly amounting to criminal misappropriation suppressing papers and altering the cash book ;
- (d) whether he is also aware of the fact that the said Haji had been more than once made to pay as the proprietor of the firm Abbasi Brothers heavy penalties by the municipal committee during the last two years for deliberately evading the payment of terminal tax on goods imported by his firm ;
- (e) whether it is a fact that the said Haji was a member of the municipal committee at the time referred to in (d) above ;
- (f) if the answers to (e) and (d) above be in the affirmative, what action he proposes to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes.

(b) A copy of the representation is laid on the table. As the matter was under consideration of local officers no action was taken on the representation.

(c) Yes.

(d) Yes.

(e) Yes.

(f) The case is being dealt with by the Commissioner who in exercise of his powers under section 20 of the Municipal Act has refused to approve of the election of Haji Abdul Qayum as President and has appointed the Tahsildar as President.

Representation from the citizens of Panipat, dated the 28th May, 1937, to the hon'ble, the Minister Local Self-Government Punjab, Simla.

SUBJECT:—The President of the newly constituted municipal committee, Panipat.

We, the citizens of Panipat beg to lay before you the following facts for your information and immediate action:—

(2) The new municipal committee of Panipat has been constituted under peculiar circumstances. This year the nomination of new candidates coincided with the recent firing incident. All nomination papers could not be filed in time on account of the assurance given by the Deputy Commissioner, Karnal, that election would be postponed and therefore there was no hurry. But no postponement has been ordered by the Punjab Government with the result that those candidates who expected to contest election and who did not apply in time have been debarred. Therefore 11 out of 12 members have been returned unopposed and contest has taken place only in one ward, though keen contest was expected in every ward under normal circumstances. Needless to add that there was no chance of many of them being returned in case of contest.

(3) All the newly elected Municipal Commissioners have been gazetted along with the two nominated members and every one of them excepting one has taken oath of allegiance on the 25th May, 1937. The ceremony of taking oath was followed by the election of President during which a huge crowd of citizens thronged the Municipal Hall, the secrecy of balloting was grossly violated and two members were unduly influenced to mark their ballot papers in certain manner. As a result of election Mr. Abdul Qayum, an unofficial member, has been elected by majority of votes as the president of the committee in place of the official president, the Tahsildar, Panipat, who had been invariably holding this office since 1894, though his election was strongly opposed on technical and other grounds. Mr. Amir Ahmad Ansari has been elected as senior vice-president.

The most outstanding event of the first meeting of the members has been the presentation of an address by 13 (an inauspicious number indeed) citizens of Panipat to the new committee. The address, while charging the outgoing committee of mal-administration in all respects and expecting the new committee to keep only the good of the city at heart, congratulated the new Municipal Commissioners upon their unique and grand success in being returned unopposed to the committee due to some praiseworthy understanding arrived at amongst the contesting candidates and the electorate; which is absolutely unfounded. The circumstances that led to their being returned unopposed have already been referred to in the foregoing paragraph. It is understood that the address has been engineered and prepared by Messrs. Abdul Qayum and Amir Ahmad Ansari and has been signed mostly by their henchmen. The signatories do not at all represent any important section of the public opinion of Panipat even in the slightest degree and are only 13 out of the total population of 33,000, and those too of no importance at all.

(4) Before passing any verdict over the new non-official president and vice-president, some introduction to their various past activities will undoubtedly be of great use.

(5) Mr. Abdul Qayum was the accountant of the committee in 1926 and officiated as secretary towards the end of 1926 and the beginning of 1927. He was charged of misdemeanour, gross misconduct leading to criminal misappropriation, suppressing of papers in Municipal files and of altering Municipal records and even its cash-book and resolution as a result of which he was dismissed from his post on 14th August, 1927, through resolution No. 258. Thereupon he appealed to the Deputy Commissioner, Karnal, but his dismissal was upheld, he being found guilty of the charges levelled against him. A copy of the judgment is enclosed herewith. From time to time he has also been found guilty of smuggling goods such as a bale of cloth, motor chassis and motor accessories which he imported into the city free of terminal tax under some pretext or other. Every time his mischief was detected and he and other persons whose goods he smuggled had to pay heavy penalty to the committee for their guilt. He had been trying to cheat the committee for his own gain, for instance he tried to obtain permission for constructing a balcony in front of his shops by telling a lie that it existed before. Besides all these weaknesses he is under a heavy debt to Shaikh Mahmud Hasan, B.A., LL.B., Pandit Mannu Lal, Messrs. Chetan Lal Kharku Mal and others to the extent of over Rs. 30,000.

(6) Mr. Amir Ahmad Ansari was the former secretary of the committee from 1927 to 1936. During his term of office he was accused of misappropriation, misuse of earnest money, employing of Municipal gang for private purposes and using Municipal chairs free of any rent as a result of which he was suspended and dismissed. On appeal to the Commissioner he was re-instated according to an understanding arrived at between him and the committee. Ultimately he was found guilty of misbehaviour towards members and his services had to be dispensed with by the committee on 31st August, 1936.

(7) It may also be pointed out here that mal-administration of the out-going committee was to a great deal attributable to both of them, one of whom was also a member in the last committee while the other acted as Municipal Secretary. They are also responsible to a considerable extent for the recent disturbance of peace at Panipat.

(8) As a great gulf exists between the Hindus and Muhammadans of Panipat owing to recent troubles and as both the communities are further divided among themselves; therefore, in order to instil confidence in the new Municipal Commissioners, it was and is most urgent and proper that the Municipal head should be an impartial officer rather than a non-official member and particularly a man who neither has a fine record to his credit nor commands confidence of any appreciable section of the public. It may be added that election petitions are pending against Messrs. Abdul Qayum and Amir Ahmad Ansari who, consequently, might be removed even from the membership of the committee.

(9) In view of the present vitiated atmosphere of Panipat the new committee should never have replaced official president with a non-official one and even if it determined to do that, it should have consulted the authorities beforehand. Therefore it is requested that the election of Mr. Abdul Qayum as president be not notified because the Municipal affairs will not at all be safe in his hands as his past record clearly shows.

Thanking you in anticipation.

ELECTIONS FOR THE PANIPAT MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE.

144. Lala Deshbandhu Gupta: Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state :—

- (a) whether he is aware of the fact that the last date for nominations for the last municipal elections of Panipat was 31st March, 1937, on which date as well as a few days preceding it the city was practically closed owing to the firing and riots connected with the Holi festival;
- (b) whether it is a fact that the Deputy Commissioner, Karnal, was approached by a number of respectable citizens of Panipat (both Hindus and Muslims) to request that the municipal elections may be postponed, in view of the abnormal state of affairs prevalent at the time, and that he had publicly assured them that the elections would be postponed and that there was no necessity for filing any nomination papers;
- (c) whether it is also a fact that due to this as many as eleven members were declared elected unopposed out of the total number of twelve and that not less than six Muslim sitting members were also thus deprived of their right to stand as candidates;

[L. Deshbandhu Gupta.]

- (d) whether it is a fact that several election petitions have also been filed against the elections of some members so returned ;
- (e) if the answers to above be in the affirmative, what action the Government propose to take in the matter ?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) Yes.

(b) On the evening of the 30th March, 1937, the Deputy Commissioner, Karnal, told the prospective candidates that he would move Government to cancel election proceedings which had already been held, in order to prevent the accentuation of the excitement, following the trouble at Panipat. No announcement was made that the elections would be postponed or that there was no necessity for filing any nomination papers.

(c) Eleven candidates were returned unopposed.

(d) Yes.

(e) It is not proposed to take any action in the matter.

KHUSH HAI SIYATI ON WADH WATTAR CULTIVATION.

145. Khan Sahib Mian Nur Ahmad Khan : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state :—

- (a) whether it is a fact that in the Nili Bar Colony, Khush Haisiyati tax is being levied a second time in proprietary estates on the second cultivation of the same land on wadh wattar ;
- (b) whether it is a fact that rabi crops like wheat and gram sown in wadh Wattar cultivation require several well waterings in order to mature ; if so, the reasons why Khush Haisiyati is levied second time on crops sown on wadh wattar ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : It is regretted the answer to this question is not yet complete. It will be communicated to the honourable member when ready.

✓ ENGLISH TEACHERS IN THE SERVICE OF DISTRICT BOARD, JULLUNDUR.

146. Chaudhri Kartar Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works please lay on the table the following statements with respect to the English teachers in the employ of the District Board, Jullundur, showing :—

ENGLISH TEACHERS IN THE EMPLOY OF DISTRICT BOARD, JULLUNDUR.

147. Chaudhri Kartar Singh: Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to lay on the table a copy of the notice served on English teachers of District Board, Jullundur, terminating their services with effect from 1st November, 1936, and re-appointing them from the same date to their posts but on reduced salaries; and state

- (b) the percentage of the scale of reduction; and whether it was uniform;
- (c) the rule or rules under which the said District Board was entitled to retrench and re-employ the same teachers on the same date;
- (d) whether the teachers concerned were really employed afresh on 1st November, 1936; if so, whether he is prepared to lay on the table the copies of applications from the teachers for the posts and the appointment letters issued to them;
- (e) whether the service of all these teachers commences from 1st November, 1936, and how their old service books have been disposed of;
- (f) what other servants of the District Board were similarly treated as the English teachers;
- (g) whether it is a fact that the present salaries of the English teachers consist of two parts, namely, permanent pay and personal allowance;
- (h) steps, if any, the Government proposes to take in the matter?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana: (a) A copy of the notice is laid on the table.

(b) The percentage of the scale of reduction ranged from 5 per cent. to 30 per cent. It was not uniform because the incumbents of posts in higher grades were offered posts in lower grades on the retrenchment of their posts in the higher grades.

(c) Article 436 of the Civil Service Regulations.

(d) The teachers were not employed afresh on the 1st November, 1936.

(e) The service of all these teachers does not commence from the 1st November, 1936, but will be treated as continuous.

(f) Nil.

(g) Yes. The present salaries of the English teachers consist of two parts, namely, permanent pay and personal pay (not personal allowance).

(h) The matter is under consideration of Government and further enquiries are being made.

Notice.

The post of _____ in the grade of Rs. _____ having been retrenched with effect from 1st November, 1936, vide District Board resolution No. 12 (Financial), dated the 12th August, 1936, he is hereby informed that he should let the undersigned know within three days from the date of receipt of this notice.

If he is prepared to work as _____ in the grade of Rs. _____
 with a _____ maximum minimum pay of Rs. _____ from 1st November, 1936, without any cuts, for which provision exists in the budget. In case he be not willing to remain in District Board service of this district on the pay now proposed to be given to him, i.e., Rs. _____
 per mensem, he should take this as three months' notice under the rules of Civil Service Regulations terminating his services from the date of receipt of this notice. Three months' pay under the rules is admissible to him (_____). If no reply is received within 3 days from the date of receipt of this notice, it will be considered that he (_____) is willing to remain in District Board service on Rs. _____ per mensem in the grade of Rs. _____.

(Sd.) H. RONSON,

The 21st October, 1936.

Chairman, District Board, Jullundur.

REPRESENTATION ALLOWED TO SCHEDULED CASTES IN THE POLICE DEPARTMENT.

148. Bhagat Hans Raj: Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- whether it is open to the members of the scheduled castes to get themselves enlisted in the Police Department; if not, why not;
- if the answer to part (a) above be in the affirmative, the reasons why the representation of these classes is nil in this Department;
- what steps Government intend to take to secure a fair representation for the scheduled castes in the Police Department?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan: (a) Yes.

(b) It is not correct that these castes are entirely unrepresented in the police.

(c) The honourable member will probably have heard or read the statement made in the old Council in 1927 by the then Finance Member, Sir Geoffrey deMontmorency, explaining the general principles followed in recruiting the various services. It will be found printed at pages 873—877 of Punjab Legislative Council Debates (Volume X-B).

REPRESENTATION OF SCHEDULED CASTES IN DISTRICT BOARDS.

149. Bhagat Hans Raj: Will the Honourable Minister for Public Works be pleased to state—

- the names of the district boards in the Punjab in which representation of the scheduled castes has been allowed by way of nomination during the last year and also the number of persons belonging to these castes so nominated;
- whether it is a fact that in most of the district boards no representation has been allowed to the scheduled castes; if so, the reasons for the same;
- what action Government intend to take to secure fair representation for the scheduled castes in all the district boards in the province?

The Honourable Nawabzada Major Malik Khizar Hayat Khan Tiwana : (a) One member of the scheduled castes was appointed as a member of the District Board, Jullundur, last year.

(b) and (c) No special representation for scheduled castes has been provided, but Government has instructed Commissioners and Deputy Commissioners to recommend members of the scheduled castes for appointment to local bodies when the opportunity arises. No further action is contemplated.

SCARCITY OF DRINKING WATER IN CERTAIN VILLAGES IN HISSAR DISTRICT.

150. Sardar Narotam Singh : Will the Honourable Minister for Education be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that there is scarcity of drinking water supply in about one hundred and fifty villages in Bhiwani, Sirsa, Fatehabad tahsils of the Hissar district and that for that reason, the residents of these villages are suffering innumerable hardships ;
- (b) whether it is also a fact that a scheme is under the consideration of the Government to remove this long-standing grievance of the residents of some of these villages ; if so, when it may be expected to mature ?

The Honourable Mian Abdul Haye : (a) Yes.

(b) Yes. It will be taken in hand as soon as funds are available.

MOTION FOR ADJOURNMENT.

PREMIER'S REMARKS RELATING TO THE SPEECH OF MINISTER FOR DEVELOPMENT.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Sir, I wish to ask for leave to make a motion for the adjournment of the business of the House to discuss a definite matter of urgent public importance, namely, the utterance on the floor of the Assembly by the Honourable Premier on the 8th July, 1937, in answer to supplementary questions to starred question No. 353¹ saying that "so far as this portion of the speech was concerned the whole Government was at one with the Honourable Minister (of Development)." The portion of the speech that advocated violence and interfered with the legitimate freedom of speech as quoted by the Honourable Premier is as follows :—

"The Punjab Government as now constituted is in substance a zamindar Government. Anybody who abuses this Government practically abuses the zamindars. If any 'nokili topiwala' comes to your village and begins to abuse Government do not listen to him at all. Tell him to desist from abusive language or go away. If he still persists in his obnoxious conduct, I am sure he will decamp, if you further tell him that you know less pleasant ways of sending him about his business."

Here he may have involuntarily accompanied his words with a physical motion of his hands suggesting a push because that is what he meant.

Mr. Speaker : May I ask the honourable member one or two small things ? The policy enunciated by the Premier is there. Does the honourable member disapprove or approve it ?

PREMIER'S REMARKS RELATING TO THE SPEECH OF MINISTER FOR DEVELOPMENT. 1821

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Sir, in my opinion not only the policy enunciated therein but also the reply, viz., 'if any nokili topiwala comes to your village and begins to abuse Government do not listen to him at all and if he persists kick him out' is dangerous. In my opinion this is no less than preaching violence and interference with the legitimate right of freedom of speech. This sort of propaganda in the villages will certainly cause prejudice in the minds of masses against the Congress. Hence I consider the policy of Government, their attitude towards this matter, and the language used in expressing the ideas as highly objectionable.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member has included in his answer several things which I did not ask. I simply wanted to know whether the honourable member approves or disapproves of the policy enunciated by the Premier.

Premier : There must be some misunderstanding about the policy. The question is what policy. It might definitely give a misleading impression to the House.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : I disapprove of the policy of the Government.

Premier : My submission is that in the interest of fairplay and honesty, I must request the honourable member and other members of this House that they should not try to put into my mouth what I did not say. This is the second attempt when an adjournment motion on something which I did not say has been brought. The trouble is that what the honourable member says in his motion will go into the Press and the whole world will think that the Premier is endorsing something which I never did. Let me read out to you the answers in reply to the supplementary questions and I am sure, Sir, that if you are satisfied that the honourable member is trying to put into my mouth what I did not say, you will request the honourable member not only to withdraw the adjournment motion but also to see that in future such adjournment motions are not to be brought before this House. This is what I said—

"When the Honourable Minister warned the people against the use of abusive language for the Government, the whole Government is at one with him."

Is there anything wrong with that? I stand by that answer and stick to that answer. The whole Government is with the Honourable Minister when he warned the people against the use of abusive language against Government. I will now proceed to quote from the supplementary questions and answers—

"Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Will the honourable Premier please ask the Minister for Development to demonstrate before the House the physical motion referred to in the answer."

The Speaker ruled it out of order—

Lala Duni Chand : Does the Government consider the Congressmen to be a body of responsible men or not?

[Premier.]

What I said was—

The Congressmen whose attitude and demeanour are like those of my honourable friend the Leader of the Opposition command my esteem and respect. But there are also black sheep among the Congressmen.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : Is the Honourable Premier sure that the making of such statements before the public does not lead to provocation in the villages ?

Mr. Speaker disallowed that question.

The next supplementary question was—

* * * * *

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Premier please state whether he endorses the whole speech of the Honourable Minister for Development ?

My answer was that I was not present when the speech was made.

Those are the actual facts and if you will now read the adjournment motion in the light of these supplementary questions and answers, you will, I think, agree with me that things are being put into my mouth which I never said in this House.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : I want to know whether so far as the speech of the Honourable Minister for Development is concerned—

Mr. Speaker : I cannot allow any questions at this stage. The point is, which part of the answer of the Honourable Premier is objectionable ?

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : The answer reads—

“ If any nokili topiwala comes to your village and begins to abuse Government do not listen to him at all. Tell him to desist from abusive language or go away. If he still persists in his obnoxious conduct I am sure he will decamp if you further tell him that you know less pleasant ways of sending him about his business,” and the Honourable Premier approves of this.

Mr. Speaker : That is a quotation from the speech of the Honourable Minister for Development.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : I want to say that the Government fully approves of that part of the speech which was quoted by the Honourable Premier. The Honourable Premier replied in a supplementary question—

“ When the Honourable Minister warned the people against the abuse of the Government, the whole Government is at one with him.”

Premier : I adhere to that expression of view.

Diwan Chaman Lall : Does the Honourable Premier's reply mean when he says that he is at one with the Honourable Minister in the matter of abusive language against the Government, that he is also at one with the Minister in the further statement made by the latter ?

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : It is that statement regarding the push suggested by the Honourable Minister that has created a good deal of misunderstanding in the Press.

Mr. Speaker : We are not concerned with that. The words of the reply are—

“ Premier : When the Honourable Minister warned the people against the abuse of the Government the whole Government is at one with him.”

The honourable member can go only to that extent and not further. How can he bring in the question of the incitement or instigation to give a push and so on?

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma : It means that the Premier supports the suggestion of giving a push—

Mr. Speaker : The Honourable Premier has not endorsed that part of the speech.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : From the answer which you have just now read it is clear that the Honourable Premier endorses that part of the speech which concerns the use of abusive language against Government. It is also said in the reply—

“If he still persists in his obnoxious conduct, I am sure he will decamp if you further tell him that you know less pleasant ways of sending him about his business.”

If both these things are read together we shall be justified in believing that the Government did approve of the speech relating to the method which was suggested by the Honourable Minister.

Mr. Speaker : The most relevant portion has not been touched either by Pandit Shri Ram Sharma or Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava. I shall read it for the information of the House.

“Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Does the Honourable Premier endorse all that he has quoted in the answer or only a portion of it?”

Premier : For the benefit of honourable members I shall read it again: ‘Anybody who abuses this Government practically abuses zamindars.’—

“Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Is that correct?”

Premier : In a general sense, yes. By zamindars the Honourable Minister meant the zamindars as constituting the Government. There is no difference of opinion on that point. It does not mean that non-zamindars are not respectable.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Are all zamindars respectable?

Premier : So far as I am aware, zamindars and non-zamindars stand on the same footing. What the Honourable Minister said was, “tell him to desist from abusive language or go away.” I do not think anybody can take objection to that part of the speech.

“If he still persists in his obnoxious conduct I am sure he will decamp if you further tell him that you know less pleasant ways of sending him about his business.”

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : Do you endorse that?

Premier : I personally see little objection to that.”

(Voices : That is the point).

Premier : I still adhere to it.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Sir, the position is quite clear.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable members do not agree with the policy enunciated by the Honourable Premier.

Premier : May I suggest that that is not the policy of the Government. That is my personal view and I adhere to that. If they want to move an adjournment motion against me, I am prepared to face it.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I ask how it is possible for the Honourable Premier, as Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan, to dissociate himself from his views as Premier? If he makes that statement, he must take responsibility as a member of the Government. He cannot be in the dual capacity of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde.

Premier : As a matter of fact the Honourable Mr. Speaker did not read further. If he had very kindly read the supplementary statement further, he would have found further on a very clear answer.

Mr. Speaker : The only portion left is—

Premier : You have left out the portion which is most important from the point of view of the House and this is as follows—

“Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Will the Honourable Premier please state whether he endorses the whole speech of the Honourable Minister for Development?”

and I definitely said—

“ I was not present when the speech was made ;”

and, therefore, I did not express my view with regard to the whole speech.

Mr. Speaker : Subsequently, when further portion was put to him, he said that there was no objection.

Premier : What, “ there was no objection ? ” I said that I do not think anybody can take objection to this part of the speech—

“ If he still persists in his obnoxious conduct I am sure he will decamp if you further tell him that you know less pleasant ways of sending him about his business.”

That is done every day. If you do not desist, you will be sorry for it. Where does the question of force come in ?

Mr. Speaker : If the honourable member will refer to the top of page 3 he will see that the quotation is—

“ If he still persists in his obnoxious conduct I am sure he will decamp if you further tell him that you know less pleasant ways of sending him about his business.”

and then there is Lala Bhim Sen Sachar's question—

“ Do you endorse that ? ” and there is the Honourable Premier's reply, “ I personally see little objection to that.”

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : Sir, as far as I am concerned—

Premier : If they persist in abusive language, you should tell them that there are other ways of correcting them.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : Accompanied by a motion of the hand. I heard those words uttered at the time.

Mr. Speaker : On receipt of the adjournment motion this morning, I asked the Secretary to get a copy of the relevant portions of the proceedings. It may be that they are yet uncorrected. (Voices : They have been duly corrected).

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : I may be permitted to put in a word at this stage. In view of the questions put and the reply on behalf of the Government, it becomes very imperative to determine on the floor of this House whether Government should encourage people to take law in their own hands.

Premier : Not a bit.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : That is what the Honourable Minister for Development said. That is the point which is before the House but we would be willing to concede that the Honourable Premier will not corroborate this statement if put in this naked form that people should take law in their own hands.

Premier : I never did that.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : But the reply unfortunately was worded in such a way that one part could not be separated from the other. The reply could not be anything else in his anxiety to protect the absolutely unjustified utterance of the Minister of Development. Therefore, my submission is that that point is a very important point ; whether the Government can encourage the people taking law in their own hands.

Minister for Development : I never said that.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : I think that the Honourable Premier supports the view that he can forcibly push out the man from the village if he still persists in his obnoxious conduct.

Premier : No. Where did I endorse any such thing on behalf of the Government ? That is what I want to know.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : You did not disapprove of it.

Premier : There again I am being mis-interpreted.

Sardar Lal Singh : There is such a long discussion going on but we have not been supplied with the proceedings out of which this discussion has arisen.

Mr. Speaker : May I invite the attention of the honourable members to Rule 19 of the Interim Rules ? The rule says—

19. A motion expressing want of confidence in, or disapproving the policy in a particular respect of a Minister or the Ministry as a whole, may be made with the consent of the Speaker and subject to the following restrictions, namely—
 - (a) leave to make the motion must be asked for after questions and before the list of business for the day is entered upon ;
 - (b) the member asking for leave must before the commencement of the sitting of the day leave with the Secretary a written notice of the motion which he proposes to make.
- (2) If the Speaker is of opinion that the motion is in order he shall read the motion to the Assembly and shall request those members who are in favour of leave being granted to rise in their places and if not less than fifty members rise accordingly, the Speaker shall intimate that leave is granted and that the motion will be taken on such day, not being more than ten days from the day on which the leave is asked, as he may appoint. If less than fifty members rise the Speaker shall inform the member that he has not the leave of the Assembly.

The question is whether the adjournment motion, which the honourable member admits is meant to express disapproval of the policy enunciated by the Premier on the floor of this House, can be moved. The rule provides a substantive motion and not an adjournment motion. An adjournment motion is not a substantive motion. Therefore, if the honourable member gives notice of a regular motion, according to Rule 19, I shall put it to the House and the motion will be allowed or disallowed according to the sense of the House.

Diwan Chaman Lall : I may be permitted to say a word with regard to Rule 19. The objection that is being raised is not an objection to policy on the part of Government but to a particular conduct on the part of Government.

Mr. Speaker : Even then the Assembly cannot discuss the conduct of a member of this House by an adjournment motion.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I also draw your attention to the fact (it is for you to give the ruling, I cannot dictate the ruling) that in the matter of moving an adjournment motion or motion of no-confidence, it is obviously the discretion of the honourable member who moves it. The only restrictions regarding the adjournment motion are, firstly, that it must be a matter of public importance and secondly, it must be of a recent nature. Those are the two restrictions placed upon it. I do submit before you that the matter 12 noon. which is said to be raised by means of an adjournment motion by my honourable friend is a matter of public importance. It may involve a certain measure of policy as all matters involve a certain measure of policy, but essentially it is a matter of the greatest public importance and of recent origin and, therefore, amply covered by the requirements of an adjournment motion. It is not necessary that my honourable friend should be confined to moving an express motion of no confidence in the Ministry.

Mr. Speaker : It is not necessary that a motion of no-confidence should be made. Either of two motions can be made, i.e., an adjournment motion or a substantive motion. The honourable member has given notice of an adjournment motion. But my point is that an adjournment motion against a member of this House cannot be made, because it is not a substantive motion. The conduct of the Premier or of any other member of this House cannot be discussed on the floor of this House except on a substantive motion. In the case of a substantive motion 50 members have to rise. While in the case of an adjournment motion 30 only need rise. That is the only difference. If the honourable member wishes this motion to be treated as a motion disapproving the policy or conduct of the Premier I am quite ready to put it to the House.

Pandit Shri Ram Sharma (Urdu) : So far as the policy is concerned, I shall say that I do not agree with the policy that is hidden in these words. I object to the words which relate to interference with the freedom of speech.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : The object is that there is a certain utterance of the Premier—

Mr. Speaker : Is it approved or disapproved ?

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : The discussion is going to be on that utterance. His conduct is not going to be discussed nor is his policy going to be under discussion.

Mr. Speaker : Suppose after the motion is discussed it is put to the vote of the House. What do the honourable members wish ? Do they want to approve or disapprove ; or criticise or praise the conduct of the Premier ? Prima facie the object is to criticise his conduct and policy.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : If my memory does not fail me, I remember you had been pleased to observe once in the last session that a motion for adjournment does not necessarily show want of confidence.

Mr. Speaker : I am of the same opinion now.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : So the idea is not to propose a vote of no-confidence or even to discuss the policy of the Ministry as a whole.

Chaudhri Jalal-ud-din Amber : Sir, has the ruling been given ? Are we going to discuss this ad infinitum ?

PREMIER'S REMARKS RELATING TO THE SPEECH OF MINISTER FOR 1927
DEVELOPMENT.

Lala Bhim Sen Sachar : I was submitting that by virtue of the position which the Premier occupies and because of a very genuine fear of his being misunderstood, it is necessary that the matter should be discussed on the floor of this House, so that the Honourable Premier will have an opportunity of making a statement on behalf of the other members also, in order to remove any possible misunderstanding that may have cropped up.

Mr. Speaker : That misunderstanding can be easily removed by a short notice question.

Premier : Had the members on this side of the House been as touchy as the honourable members on the other side, there might be a stronger reason for an adjournment motion. In reply to the statement that there are black sheep in every group, a member on the other side asked : " How many of them are there in the Unionist Government ? " But the members on this side are not so unduly sensitive as to feel upset over small things.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : The Honourable Premier was pleased to say that the reply which he gave represented his personal views and not the views of the whole Cabinet.

Mr. Speaker : The Honourable Premier discussed that aspect of the question in his private capacity.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : My submission is that the question of policy would not arise. It is a question of discussion of the reply given by him.

Mr. Speaker : As the prima facie object is to discuss the Premier's policy and conduct, the honourable member may move a substantive motion. (A voice : What is your ruling ?) The motion as it stands is an adjournment motion and not a substantive motion, to discuss the conduct of the Premier and is, therefore, out of order. (Loud cheers.)

DEMANDS FOR GRANTS.

AGRICULTURE.

Finance Minister (The Honourable Mr. Manohar Lal) : I beg to move—

That a sum not exceeding Rs. 34,17,500 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1938, in respect of Agriculture.

Mr. Speaker : Motion moved—

That a sum not exceeding Rs. 34,17,500 be granted to the Governor to defray the charges that will come in course of payment for the year ending 31st March, 1938, in respect of Agriculture.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Sir, in the case of the Education grant, we discussed two cut motions together in order to discuss the general policy. I suggest that in this case also we should take up two or three items together so that we may be able to discuss the general policy of the Agriculture Department.

Mr. Speaker : There is no cut motion under which any member can discuss the policy of Government in any of its departments.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Item No. 15 which stands in the name of Pandit Shri Ram Sharma relates to the reduction of the whole demand. We must first discuss the policy and then we can take up such items, as retrenchment, etc.

Mr. Speaker : The point is whether I can allow the whole demand to be taken up before its items are disposed of. In discussing the items it is open to honourable members to make the policy underlying the whole demand relevant to the discussion and discuss that policy ; but when there is no such motion on any item, what can I do ?

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : By mutual agreement.

Mr. Speaker : I was not a party to that agreement ; but I do not think that the mutual agreement meant that the whole demand should be taken up before items were disposed of.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : I do not know whether the other gentlemen are going to press their motions.

Mr. Speaker : It is not a question of agreement ; it is a question of procedure and practice.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : That was not the case in other motions.

Mr. Speaker : Will he please refer to the other days' proceedings ? The whole demand was not allowed to be discussed before its items were finished.

Agricultural Assistants and Mukadams.

Khan Bahadur Nawab Chaudhri Fazal Ali (Gujrat East, Muhammadan, Rural) (Urdu): I beg to move—

That the item of Rs. 2,88,640 on account of Agricultural Assistants be reduced by Re. 1.

I have not stood up to make any adverse remarks against the department. On the other hand I propose to offer my meed of praise to the department for its excellent work. I thank the department most heartily for the work it has done.

There are two departments, with which the zamindars are concerned, viz., the department of irrigation and agriculture. The department of agriculture takes precedence over the irrigation department. If the working of these two departments is defective, then not only the zamindars but all the consumers are affected thereby.

As regards the department of agriculture I want to say that last year as many as 15 agricultural assistants and the same number of muqadams were appointed. In my humble opinion this equality in the number of agricultural assistants and muqadams is anything but proper. However, if these muqadams are to be treated as the munshis of agricultural assistants, the matter is quite different. In my opinion the duty of a muqadam should be to give practical demonstrations of new methods of agriculture and initiate the zamindars into the mysteries of the same. On the other hand the duty of an agricultural assistant should be to supervise the work of muqadams on the spot and give practical hints to the zamindars. The province has benefited to a very large extent for the reason that the department of agriculture has been supplying the zamindars with good qualities of seed. Before the inauguration of this system we did not even know the advantages of good qualities of seed. The different kinds of seeds supplied by the department have resulted in an appreciable increase in the produce of the land.

There are three ways in which good qualities of seed are obtainable. Firstly, good qualities of seed may be imported from foreign countries. Secondly, good qualities of seed may be produced in Government seed farms, and thirdly, good qualities of seed may be purchased from local zamindars.

The first two methods are very expensive. If seeds are imported from outside the province, then besides the price of seed, cost of carriage of the same has to be incurred. Again the seed farms are hardly able to balance their income and expenditure and that in spite of the fact that the salaries of the agricultural assistants in charge of the farms are not paid from the funds of the farms.

If the number of muqadams is increased, they would be able to persuade the zamindars to produce good seeds of all kinds, e.g., those of wheat, cotton, sugarcane, etc., etc. This would obviate the necessity for importing seeds from foreign countries. Also the cost of carriage would be saved and the zamindars would be able to get seeds in time, and without trouble. Another method which is likely to prove beneficial to the zamindars in general is this. If a zamindar has in his possession good quality of seed, which he has to use at home it can be exchanged with the same quantity of seed of an inferior quality in the possession of other zamindars. In this way seed will be made available for poor zamindars gratis. For example if I have two hundred maunds of wheat which can be made use of as seed, I can keep only one hundred maunds for my use and the rest can be exchanged with poor zamindars who have not got good seed. This work can be only carried on by muqadams.

I submit that cotton seed is generally bought, i.e., in the first place the department buys it, then it is made over to the zamindars. Thus the zamindars have to undergo a lot of trouble because many kinds of cotton are ginned in the factories. Generally the seed of good cotton is mixed up with the seed of desi cotton. In view of this difficulty the department has invested a large sum of money in setting up a ginning factory where cotton seed is separated from cotton. Cotton is first imported into a mandi from outside and then the cotton seed is sent out. This process entails unnecessary expenditure. For example, if one maund of cotton is brought to a mandi; the cost of carriage for the same has to be paid in the first instance. After the cotton has been ginned, carriage fee for 26 seers will have to be paid. I submit that if the number of muqadams is increased this unnecessary expenditure would be eliminated and carriage fee for only 13 seers will have to be paid and cotton will reach the mandi.

An Honourable Member : On a point of order. Is the honourable member speaking to the motion ?

Khan Bahadur Nawab Chaudhri Fazal Ali : I submit that if the honourable member is not conversant with the working of this department, he has no business to take exception to my remarks. Had he known anything about the working of this department he would never have raised this objection.

An Honourable Member : The honourable member is speaking about seed and not about reducing the number of agricultural assistants.

Mr. Speaker : I think the honourable member is not out of order. He is arguing that the number of agricultural assistants should be reduced and that of muqadams increased.

Khan Bahadur Nawab Chaudhri Fazal Ali : Sir, I was giving reasons as to why in spite of the presence of agricultural assistants no progress has been made by the zamindars. My submission is that no progress is possible unless muqadams are present on the spot.

Some days ago an honourable member stated on the floor of this House that the average yield of cotton per acre is 12 maunds. When the zamindars challenged this statement, he said, "How very necessary it is to educate these people!" I do not want to blame him for making this statement, because he is not an expert. Two things are absolutely necessary for carrying on the work of zamindari, first, theoretical knowledge of zamindari; and secondly, practical knowledge of zamindari.

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I interrupt my honourable friend? He is misquoting me. Mr. Speaker, what I said was not that zamindars needed education, but that some of my honourable friends who interrupted me the other day, needed education and secondly I assert that the yield of an acre is 12 maunds of wheat which can be ascertained from my honourable friend opposite.

Khan Bahadur Nawab Chaudhri Fazal Ali : My friend has not yet heard me fully. I was saying that whatever he said the other day was quite right. Professor Roberts stated that the yield of his land was 12 maunds per acre. The proverb کچا رام رام کچا تین تین is fully applicable in his case. He has spent the whole of his life in agricultural pursuits. If one were to take into consideration the quality of land he has in his possession, and the way in which he manages his estate, and the amount of water he gets for irrigating his lands, one is surprised to find that his land yields only 12 maunds per acre. He ought to be able to produce much more than that. If an acre of land were to yield 12 maunds of cotton, we shall need no remissions and we will never ask you to reduce the land revenue by even a single penny, not to speak of a reduction of annas two or annas four.

Mr. Speaker : I would request the honourable member to speak to the motion.

Khan Bahadur Nawab Chaudhri Fazal Ali : I was submitting that the number of muqadams is very small. The agricultural assistants have no time to demonstrate practical methods of agriculture to the zamindars. Moreover oral instruction is not of much use. It is essential that the zamindars should be instructed in the right methods of practical agriculture. If this is done, I am sure that they will make the much needed progress in agriculture. The agricultural assistants have had no opportunity of instructing the zamindars in practical methods of agriculture and on account of lack of funds the department too has not been able to provide the necessary number of agricultural assistants for the benefit of the zamindars. Many zamindars have agricultural implements of the latest type in their possession, but they do not know how to make use of them and so they are lying idle. If the muqadams were to live among the zamindars and instruct them in the use of those implements, I am sure that the zamindars would derive a good deal of benefit from their proper use.

The agricultural assistant is merely a touring officer. He goes on tour for a short time and returns to his headquarters. In my opinion this is not the correct procedure. His tour is practically of no use. He simply visits a place and wends his way back to his headquarters. He should stay for some time in one village. He should send for the villagers in the village chawk or at some other convenient place and instruct them in agriculture and in the use of modern implements of agriculture. Then it should be the duty of the muqadams to see that they act upon the instructions given by the agricultural assistant. The major portions of agricultural operations consist of wheat, toria and sugarcane cultivation. What I am driving at is this that they should be told of what quality a particular patch of land is. They should be told what particular crop should be sown in it. If they come to know of this fact they can sow the crops which suit particular soils. In addition to this they can sow other crops, as for example, potatoes, groundnut, etc., etc. Lack of knowledge or our ill-fate prevents us from sowing these crops. But in my opinion the responsibility for all this falls on the shoulders of agricultural assistants, for they do not instruct the zamindars in scientific methods of agriculture and practically keep them in the dark as regards these methods. I submit that in the present circumstances instead of appointing agricultural assistants more muqadams should be appointed. Their duty should be to read some magazines on agriculture and they in their turn should instruct the zamindars regarding the particular methods of agriculture which should be adopted by them, and the seeds they should sow. Moreover they should instruct them in practical work. Then and then only good crops would be produced. One should not lose sight of the fact that agriculture is necessarily a difficult profession to follow.

I submit that lessons in agriculture should not only be imparted through official agricultural charts, but the good work should be carried on through agricultural magazines as well. At this time I have in my hand a copy of "the Masheer-i-Bagbani." In this it is stated that we can produce 147 maunds of 'gur' from Coimbatore No. 313.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is irrelevant.

Khan Bahadur Nawab Chaudhri Fazal Ali : I was saying that production of the soil cannot be increased by giving oral instructions to the zamindars.

Mr. Speaker : I cannot allow that to be discussed.

Khan Bahadur Nawab Chaudhri Fazal Ali : They should only be instructed in up-to-date methods of agriculture, but they should also receive the benefit of practical demonstrations.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member will please proceed with his speech.

Khan Bahadur Nawab Chaudhri Fazal Ali : I am submitting quite a new thing. If ten farms are established in a certain village one muqadam can attend to the work of each farm in one day. I think he can very easily go about ten farms in ten days and can instruct the owners thereof in practical work of agriculture. The method now adopted by the department is a wrong one, and the method suggested by me is such that the zamindars can easily be instructed in practical agriculture. Many people say that they have heard of mountains, seas and islands, but as long as we do not see them with our own eyes, we cannot say definitely whether they really exist or not. Hearsay does not mean anything to me. As long as improved methods of agriculture are not adopted no progress is possible and it is the business of the muqadams to make the zamindars conversant with up-to-date methods of agriculture. If by following improved methods of agriculture my lands or those of A or B yield fifteen or twenty maunds of agricultural produce instead of seven or eight, and when this comes to the notice of other zamindars, they will be tempted to follow the same methods. Thus the work which could not be performed by inspectors would be brought to a successful end. I submit that in the first place muqadams are necessary. The inspectors can make their usual rounds afterwards. One muqadam can look after 10 farms and in the same way 50 farms can be looked after by five muqadams in one district. All these farms should be placed under the supervision of an inspector, who should spend six months in visiting those farms and for the rest of six months he can attend to some other work. In this way a good deal of progress can be made in agriculture. The agricultural assistant, while on tour can give instructions to the muqadams under him and can compare the work of one muqadam with that of another. In my opinion five muqadams and one inspector or an agricultural assistant should be appointed in each district of the province.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is repeating himself.

Khan Bahadur Nawab Chaudhri Fazal Ali : As I have already stated, the agricultural assistants should have plenty of spare time at their disposal during which they could talk with zamindars on agricultural subjects. Once a meeting of the zamindars was held under the presidentship of His Excellency the Governor of the Punjab, in which it was decided that such meeting of zamindars should be held annually and that in these meetings questions relating to agriculture, veterinary science and other allied subjects may be discussed. This would enable them to acquire sufficient knowledge of agriculture, veterinary science and other allied subjects and thus much of the time of the Assembly would be saved. So I submit, Sir, that before the provision of agricultural assistants, at least five or six men should be appointed as muqadams in each agricultural division. One advantage of this would be that you could compare the work of one muqadam with that of another—a process certainly conducive to greater progress. An assistant gets Rs. 100 per mensem by way of his salary and travelling allowance. So he can easily be replaced by no less than 5 muqadams.

A common grievance of the zamindars, which has just been mentioned is the inadequate supply of water for irrigation purposes. There is no doubt that we have not yet acquired the art of properly irrigating our fields. Sometimes we over-water a field and thus waste a large portion of the water supply.

A muqadam, if there is one, would distribute water in accordance with some plan and thus the zamindars would derive greater benefit from a comparatively small supply of water.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is not speaking to the motion.

Khan Bahadur Nawab Chaudhri Fazal Ali : Anyhow my submission is this. There is no doubt about the fact that the agricultural assistants are indispensable. My point is that they can be useful only if there are several muqadams to assist them ; otherwise their appointment will not serve any useful purpose. If funds permit, the department may appoint more agricultural assistants, but it is necessary that the number of muqadams working under them should also be considerably increased.

Mr. Speaker : Demand under consideration, motion moved, is—

That the item of Rs. 2,88,640 on account of Agricultural Assistants be reduced by Re. 1.

Minister for Development (The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram): Sir, I have great regard for the advice of a practical farmer like Khan Bahadur Nawab Chaudhri Fazal Ali and I can assure him that the suggestions he has made will be very carefully considered. What I have understood from his speech is that the number of agricultural assistants should be reduced because they have not got sufficient number of muqadams under them and it is a waste of public money to have an agricultural assistant who has to supervise the work of just one muqadam under him. While he was careful to admit that agricultural assistants did very useful work and that they were very much needed in order to suggest improvements in methods of agriculture and in order to see that farmers give effect to the instructions given to them by the department, he at the same time suggested that if a larger number of muqadams were to be employed they would form a cheaper agency and would be able to come into greater and closer contact with zamindars. They would also be able, he said, to spend more time with the zamindars and would thus be in a much better position than agricultural assistants to see that the instructions which have been given to zamindars have been actually given effect to. So far as the question of greater contact between the zamindars and muqadams or other agricultural officers is concerned, I am perfectly at one with my honourable friend. But I must make it clear that the number of agricultural assistants who are already in service is really not adequate for the functions which they have to discharge. The number in 1932, was 88 ; in pursuance of the recommendation of the Retrenchment Committee it was reduced to 59, and it was only last year that 15 more agricultural assistants were engaged. The five year programme in 1926 laid it down that there should be at least one extra assistant director for every district and one agricultural assistant for every tahsil. The number of tahsils in the province is 112. The number of agricultural assistants had risen only to 88 in 1931. This number on account of financial stringency had to be reduced to 59 and we have been able to add only 15 more to this number last year. Therefore if the five year programme drawn up in 1926 is a reasonable proposition, as I think it is we must raise the number of agricultural assistants to 112 instead of reducing it. But I agree that these agricultural assistants should have a larger number of muqadams working under them, and I assure the House that I will give my very carefu consideration, in consultation with the Director of Agriculture, to this particular suggestion. and I feel almost sure that as time passes these agricultural assistants will come to have a larger number of muqadams working under them, so that the fullest possible advantage may accrue to farmers, and Government may be able to get 16 annas worth of work out of every agricultural assistant and every muqadam.

[Minister for Development.]

The motion was by leave withdrawn.

Fruit culture and Fruit Industry.

Sardar Sahib Sardar Ujjal Singh (Western Towns, Sikh, Urban) :
Sir I beg to move—

That the item of Rs. 19,97,800 on account of District Work be reduced by Rs. 100.

Sir, the object of my cut motion is to urge the Government to encourage fruit farming and fruit industry. Sir, fruit farming is perhaps the most important sideline to which a zamindar can turn his attention and energy. Fruit farming will considerably add to his income and fruit industry, if properly encouraged and developed, will to some extent, solve the problem of unemployment. It is a great pity that in this province of the Punjab, where the soil, climatic conditions and irrigation facilities are so favourable, we continue to import a very large quantity of preserved fruit and fruit juices, jams and marmalade. If I may be permitted to draw the attention of the Government to the progress made in other countries in fruit culture, I may say that in most other countries fruit industries and fruit farming within the last few years have been encouraged with state help to a very great extent. In California nearly 25 per cent. of the total cultivated area is under garden and in Italy fruits account for nearly one-third of her total exports. In Egypt where fruit industry has been only lately encouraged over 15 lakhs of rupees are provided annually in the budget for horticulture. Sir, in those countries encouragement is given to fruit farming in various ways. In Egypt I understand fruit plants are supplied free to fruit growers and in Italy land revenue is remitted for a number of years in the case of fruit growers adopting approved methods of fruit growing.

I shall be failing in my duty if I were not to appreciate the efforts made by the Agricultural Department of this province during the last few years in encouraging fruit industry and fruit farming. During the last few years by the indefatigable efforts of the fruits specialist, fruit farming has been encouraged in several districts of the province. The chief difficulties that stand in the way of development of fruit industry are the supply of good seedling, and the supply of water. In the last few years with the efforts of the Agricultural Department many fruit farms have come into existence and in various districts fruit associations have been set up. Two years ago a very laudable effort was made by the setting up of a Fruit Development Board ; and that Development Board is making tremendous efforts not only to encourage fruit growing but also marketing of fruit products. The Fruit Development Board is still in its infancy and has not been able so far to achieve any very great results but it has got a great future before it. With all the efforts of the department during the last few years in the Punjab we have not got more than 70,000 acres under fruit gardens, i.e., 25 per cent. of the total cultivated area, when we remember that the total cultivated area of the Punjab is about 30 million acres. Sir, for the encouragement of fruit farming I would make a few respectful submissions to my honourable friend the Minister of Agriculture. As I have already stated there are two main difficulties of the fruit grower: the first is that he is not able to get seedlings of the improved variety of fruits. Unless nurseries are established by Government in various districts it will not be possible for the fruit grower to get good supply of seedling. I admit that last year perhaps with the help of a grant for rural reconstruction, the Government has been able to set up nine nurseries in various districts apart from the nursery which the Department have got at Lyallpur. But, Sir, the demand for these seedlings is very great. From my own personal experience I can say that by placing an order for 3 thousand plants I was able to get a supply of only 100 plants from Government nursery. I know that by the establishment of these nine centres in various districts the department will be able to give a better supply of seedlings in future. But, Sir, there is a very great demand for the seedlings and unless the improved varieties of various fruit plants are encouraged, there is danger that fruit gardens might deteriorate. Then, Sir, the second difficulty which a fruit grower feels is the inadequacy of the supply of canal water. In this respect I have got a great grievance against the canal authorities. During the last few years in spite of the best efforts of the fruit growers, the canal authorities have paid no attention to their requests. In fact the attitude of the Irrigation Department has been anything but sympathetic. In fact I am told that in the case of some gardens the canal supply has been withdrawn and I have yet to know whether the canal authorities have been good enough to give adequate supply of water for the various fruit gardens that have been set up during the last few years. Sir, when we remember that only 70 thousand acres in the whole of the Punjab are under fruit gardens and that out of that 70 thousand acres there is a small area which is in the canal colony, I do not understand the difficulty of the canal authorities in giving sufficient supply of water. I have been able to gather some information and that is this that in the canal colonies 1·2 acres is under gardens for 100 acres of irrigated areas. When we remember that the canal authorities remodel outlets of the zamindars periodically, there is no reason why that additional supply, which is made available by continuous remodelling of outlets, should not be made available for fruit gardens. If the irrigation authorities are slightly sympathetic towards the zamindars and are slightly sympathetic towards the fruit industry I am sure they would be able to supply canal water to the fruit grower.

Sir, the other difficulty which confronts the fruit grower is that no kharaba is allowed when fruit trees are damaged by any natural calamity. I must say even at the risk of repetition that Government has been very generous in giving kharaba on ordinary crops during the last hailstorm but unfortunately the Government has not seen its way in giving kharaba for fruit trees that have been damaged. I hope that the Honourable the Revenue Minister, who is not present in the House just at this moment, will be good enough to look into this question.

Secondly, I come to fruit trees. Fruit trees bear fruit only once a year whereas land revenue and water rates are charged twice a year. That is another genuine grievance of the fruit growers of the province. If the Government wants to encourage fruit industry it must show extra consideration for the fruit growers. But what do we find? The benefit from fruit trees is derived only once a year while water rates and land revenue are charged twice a year. This should not be. It is stated that fruit trees cover the whole area and for the whole year. What of that? Sugarcane also covers the whole area and for the whole year; and water rates and land revenue are charged only once a year for this crop. There is no reason why in the case of fruit trees land revenue and water rates should not be charged once a year.

The third grievance is that these rates are charged at garden rates from the very commencement when the fruit trees are planted although the trees bear fruit after a period of four years and in some cases five or six years. I hope that this question, also, will receive the sympathetic consideration of Government.

I do not wish to take up the time of the House any longer. I do hope that the Honourable Minister for Development and the Honourable Minister for Revenue who are well-known for their sympathies for the zamindars (Opposition: hear, hear) will do something in the interests of fruit growers, not only in the interests of fruit growers but in the interests of the fruit industry of the province which will bring prosperity to the zamindars and the province in general.

Mr. Speaker: Demand under consideration, motion moved:—

That the item of Rs. 19,97,800 on account of District Work be reduced by Rs. 100.

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath (East Punjab, Landholders) : I have nothing to say against the fruit industry as such. But with regard to fruit culture I should like to sound a note of warning. Let not the trumpet of fruit culture be blown too loudly. There is a dark side of the picture and I wish to place it before the House. I am a very old fruit grower of about 70 years' standing but my recent experience in the matter of fruit culture has been very disappointing. It is this that has led me to draw the attention of the House to certain points to which I hope the Honourable Minister for Development will devote his attention. I endorse every word of the honourable member who has preceded me. Certainly it is very unfortunate that no khara is allowed to fruit growers and that water rates are charged from the very commencement of the plantation of young trees irrespective of whether they are going to bear fruit or not. I think the rules relating to water rates in this respect should be amended. I also support the honourable member in the suggestion that abiana should not be levied twice a year, but once a year because the yield is only once a year.

There are certain matters in connection with fruit culture which need investigation. I notice that in the tracts where there is canal irrigation the climate is undergoing change. We are having more severe winters than we used to have before. We now meet oftener with frost on the ground. The minimum temperature in winter goes down to 32 F. oftener than before. Above all April and May have begun to be abnormally cold. This is having a very bad effect on the blossoms of fruit bearing trees. I am a grower of mango trees and also other fruit trees and my experience has been that the abnormal cold of April and May withers the blossoms and therefore no fruits are borne so far as mangoes are concerned. To that abnormal cold is added unseasonal rains which wash away any flowers that may still remain on the trees. I believe that there are a number of members in this House who are interested in mango plantation and I am sure they will bear with me when I state this experience of mine. There are some fruit trees flowers of which do not wither on account of the cold of April and May such as gauva, jaman, pears, peaches and so forth. I suggest that an elaborate enquiry should be held into the meteorological conditions prevailing in the Punjab during the past 80 years. Is it true that winter has become more severe, is it true that frosts occur oftener than before, is it true that this abnormal cold weather in April and May has been very frequent during the last few years? An elaborate enquiry into these matters should be held. Some means should be devised for counteracting the effect of frosts and abnormal cold weather if these are going to become perennial in the months of April or May. We hear of electric heaters in America and California where large areas are under orchards. But electric heaters in the Punjab are out of the question. Other heaters can be devised. I have tried some of them, but I have not succeeded so far.

At this stage the Assembly adjourned for lunch.

The Assembly re-assembled at 2 P.M. Mr. Speaker in the chair.

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath : I was saying before we adjourned that electric heaters were impossible. No suitable heater has yet been devised by the Punjab Agricultural Department. I had a heater made, in consultation with the Deputy Director of Agriculture of Jullundur, but I could not make use of it because I could only utilize it if I had to resist the abnormal cold of April and May. Heaters are of no use when there is heavy rainfall. So, naturally, the experiment was not tried last year. However, I am not sure, if heaters will be useful for combating that abnormal cold which we get in April and May.

The second point to which I wish to draw the attention of the Honourable Minister of Development is that before any landowner undertakes fruit culture, he should be given full assistance in the matter of chemical examination of the soil on which he proposes to plant his trees. About thirty years ago it was generally said that oranges did not thrive on nehri land. My honourable friend the member for Lahore, who belongs to the Qazilbash family, and is not present here, knows that oranges did not flourish in the tract in which his estate is situated. When the experiment was made in the Lyallpur colony we had a copious crop of ordinary oranges and of malta oranges. Orange trees can flourish on nehri land and my opinion is that probably the chemical composition of the soil, about which it is said that orange trees cannot flourish over it, would show that the land is unsuitable for orange plantation. We know the history of the introduction of malta oranges in the Punjab. They were introduced by a Deputy Commissioner of Gujranwala who brought either seedlings or seeds of malta oranges from the Island of Malta and planted them in the Mahan Singh garden. They flourished very well and they are now flourishing very well in the whole colony area of Lyallpur. I think probably there is a greater portion of saltpetre in the soil of the tract in which the malta orange trees do not flourish. I would say that whenever a land-owner invokes the assistance of the research department for examination of the soil, that assistance should be readily given—it is not readily given at present. I have been crying for the last eight months through the Honourable Leader of the House—in whose proximity I am sitting and have been sitting in fact for the last ten years—but I have not yet been able to get that assistance. It seems that the mills of the Research Department grind very slowly and perhaps too slowly. I think it depends upon the class of soil on which the tree is planted as to how the tree will flourish and if the land-owner is intelligent enough to go into that question, he should be given ready help.

Premier : Help but not gratis.

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath : Whichever way you are prepared to give, I will take it.

The third point is that a list of those fruit trees the blossom of which is not prejudicially affected by the abnormal cold of April and May, should be made out. I can say without fear of contradiction that April and May are not so hot in Lahore as they used to be forty years ago or fifty years ago. I can go as far back as sixty years. Therefore, there are certain fruit trees for which the climate of Lahore, Amritsar and perhaps Gujranwala, Jullundur and Hoshiarpur has now become unsuitable. There should be a clear dictum from the Agricultural Department, as to what are the fruit trees for which the climate of these places has become unsuitable.

Premier : Sunspots are perhaps the cause of this change.

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath : I do not know. When I began my speech, I said that I was not going to blow the trumpet of fruit culture. I fully endorse what my friend Sardar Sahib Sardar Ujjal Singh has said about water rates. I do not know whether the Honourable Minister will be able to give him the concession that he wants, or whether kharaba will be allowed for gardens or whether double rates will be charged or only single rates will be charged. However, that is one aspect of the difficulty. Another thing is that if you plant fruit trees, you have to wait for eight or nine years before you can see the result. In the meantime you are deprived of the ordinary crops. You may sow senji, maina, or jawi, but that will only enable you to pay a part of the water rate that is imposed. We may discover after eight years that the experiment has not been successful. Therefore, I would suggest that for the purposes of supplementing the income of an ordinary zamindar who cannot afford to try these experiments and who does not own large areas, other paying crops may be tried. I would, for instance, suggest chillies, coriander (dhania), sounf (Aniseed), kabli chanas, petha and so on. My honourable friend the member for Lahore who represents Baghbanpura and who is acquainted with the history and tradition of his family is not present but I can quote from memory that the pethas of Baghbanpura were well spoken of in the Lahore market.

Premier : But they have considerably deteriorated now (laughter).

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Not deteriorated, but they do not get the help which is due to them.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Is it due to this that they sit on this side of the House ?

Premier : We are talking of pethas.

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath : My honourable friend knows the agricultural condition in the neighbourhood of Lahore and he will bear me out that these are crops which can be tried without undergoing the risk which the plantation of fruit trees involves. However, I would not discourage fruit trees although I myself have had a very bitter and sad experience of the fruit plantation during the last five years. I would not discourage my friends from undertaking fruit culture and trying fruit plantations. I only sound a note of warning that this enterprise should be undertaken after due care and after enquiry about the condition of soil, proper consideration of the climate and of changes that have overtaken Lahore, Amritsar and other districts. I also suggest that a list be obtained of the fruit trees which can be grown easily about the blossoms being withered by the abnormal cold which it seems to me has become perennial in these four or five districts that have been receiving canal irrigation for a number of years. (hear, hear).

Pir Mohy-ud-Din Lal Badshah (Attock South, Muhammadan, Rural) (Urdu) : Sir, I strongly support the proposal put forward by my honourable friend Sardar Ujjal Singh and I entirely agree with the view that unless the zamindars improve horticulture they will no longer be able to bear the heavy burden of land revenue. But, unfortunately the path of fruit cultivators is beset with such difficulties as have reduced the benefits which they would otherwise derive from it, to only a negligible fraction. Nevertheless it is gardening alone which can offer the agriculturists a scope for participating in modern industry. But under the present circumstances the fruit growers are faced with serious difficulties, for example, the scarcity of water hinders not only the growth of gardens but also the ripening of common crops. The second difficulty is that there is a deplorable dearth of young plants in the government nurseries. On the one hand supply falls far short of the demand and on the other it is highly expensive, and as such, only big landholders, can afford to avail of it. Consequently they get all the plants reserved beforehand, and when an ordinary agriculturist goes to buy some plants he is told, to his great disappointment, that the plants, he wants have already been reserved for some one else. That is why grape plants have not been available for the last several years. People of the Punjab generally purchase the plants which are imported from Agra, but these plants do not turn out to be satisfactory and when those who are fond of gardening come to know that the plants imported from Agra have failed in some cases they jump to the conclusion that all plants supplied from Agra are unsatisfactory and, therefore, they cease to buy them in future. The result is that the cultivators instead of being encouraged to improve gardening, feel disheartened. Unless government removes these difficulties by improving their nurseries, gardens will neither improve nor yield anything to the cultivators. Another difficulty is that no sooner a garden is planted than land revenue and water rates are imposed thereon, and are charged twice a year, as is the case with other crops, notwithstanding the fact that the cultivator has derived no benefit from it as yet because fruit trees only begin to yield fruit after some years. Some one may suggest that the cultivators can obtain some income by growing grass or some other crops in the meantime, but experience does not bear it out. If some other crop is grown in a garden neither the garden flourishes nor the crop thrives. As regards the grass that may be grown in a garden, I would say that it does not even suffice for the bullocks that are employed for cultivating the garden. Moreover, Sir, it goes without saying that common fruit is also imported from abroad into our country in addition to the one closed in tins. It is worthy of note that this imported fruit sells cheaper in Indian markets than the Indian fruit itself. How can Indian fruit industry develop in these circumstances? It is high time that facilities should be provided to fruit growers, so that the fruit industry may be rendered more profitable. In this connection it is very essential to revise the land revenue policy in order to afford some relief to the fruit growers. Unless some such concessions are given, fruit industry will never prosper in this country. Besides, the system of water supply for gardens is highly defective. If a cultivator plants a garden in one acre of land he cannot get sufficient water for that even. Young plants die for want of water. A zamindar cannot, under these circumstances, keep a nursery for his own needs. It behoves the government, therefore, to take special note of it and establish a nursery along with every agricultural farm in each district, in order to supply plants at cheaper rates. When plants imported from Agra and Nagpur can sell cheap there is no reason why those grown in this very province, should sell dear. Sir, I would like to draw the attention of the government to the fact that growing of defective plants imported from abroad costs the cultivator the same amount of labour as would be required for growing good ones, produced in our own province. The best way of avoiding this waste of energy on defective plants, is to provide good plants to the cultivators from the nurseries maintained by the State. Moreover, water supply may be increased for gardens and the assessment of land revenue may be revised where new gardens are being planted. I suggest that generally speaking the water supply of gardens may be increased and the land revenue rates of such lands may be revised where new gardens are being planted, so that the burden of land revenue on zamindars may to some extent be lightened.

Khan Bahadur Nawab Muzaffar Khan (Attock North, Muhamadan, Rural) : Sir, it has come to me as a surprise that my old friend Sardar Ujjal Singh, coming from Montgomery district as he does, should say that Government has not encouraged fruit growing. I take exception to that. I think, Sir, those who know the condition of fruit growing in this country are aware what great progress has been made in fruit industry and as a boy or child you too will remember the kinds of fruits that were grown in this country and the enormous prices one had to pay for them. I think within the last fifty years or so, the Punjab has made exceptionally good progress in fruit growing and particularly those who come from Montgomery district and even those who have not gone to Montgomery district and who have crossed that district in a railway train would bear testimony to this fact. On both sides of the railway line for miles and miles as you go along, you see nothing but oranges and grapes. It is a great step Government has taken so far and for which we ought to be grateful. Fruit is now available even to the poorest of the country.

As regards the other point, my friend Sardar Ujjal Singh said that in Italy they do not charge any land revenue. May I remind him that so far back as 1848 in my own district, which then formed part of Hazara district, Sir James Abbott, who was then the Settlement Officer of that district, remitted all revenue during the term of one settlement on lands on which fruit was grown. This greatly encouraged fruit growing and Hazara became known as garden district. So I think Government has done enough for fruit growing, though I must agree with my friend that there is still a good deal of room for improvement.

Not so far as the Agricultural Department is concerned but as far as the Irrigation Department is concerned, I think I too have a genuine grievance. I think they have a rule that no additional water is to be given for a fruit garden unless the land exceeds a certain limit, I think probably 50 acres. You, Mr. Speaker, and other big landholders who have 50 acres to spare may take advantage of that additional water, but what about the poor landholder who has only two or three squares of land and can spare only a few kanals for fruit growing? And I appeal to the Honourable Revenue Minister, who is not present here at the moment, to reduce the limit, so that a poor zamindar who wants to grow fruit on ten acres of land or five acres of land or even on two kanals of land, should be given water at the concession rates.

As regards other suggestions made by my honourable friends, the Raja Sahib, Sardar Ujjal Singh and Pir Sahib, I am in perfect agreement with them.

Mian Abdul Aziz (Outer Lahore, Muhammadan, Urban) : Sir, the honourable ex-Revenue Member expressed his great surprise at the remarks of my honourable friend Sardar Ujjal Singh. I am much more surprised at his making remarks against Sardar Ujjal Singh, as the honourable member has been a Revenue Member for a long period and is an experienced officer of the Government. Through you, I put it to him : " Is it or is it not a fact that excepting in the Montgomery district and a few other districts like Lahore nothing or very little has been done ? "

Khan Bahadur Nawab Muzaffar Khan : Or Lyallpur District, or Gujranwala district or.....

Mian Abdul Aziz : What difference does it make even if we take three or four districts out of the thirty districts? Is that sufficient in regard to the encouragement given by the Government? Lahore is the capital of the province and I ask how much progress has been made and what encouragement has been given in that district in this direction? Why to talk of other districts? I ask about Lahore city and its suburbs which are directly under the eyes and nose of the Government. I submit that it is not what it ought to be, it requires a good deal of encouragement from the Government. Barring one or two districts of Montgomery, etc., and those estates where grape fruit and other fruits have been grown nothing has been done. There even whatever has been done is due to the labour and experience of the European farmers. The question is, what encouragement has been given to an ordinary poor zamindar? I appeal to you and the Honourable Minister for Agriculture, who is himself very keen about these things. I want him to kindly pay a greater attention towards this in future, and see that more facilities are given to the zamindars (hear, hear). In order to get good fruit we are trying to import plants not only from other parts of India but also from Europe and several other parts of the world. I am sure, if the Government offers any encouragement, the people can have their own nurseries for apples, pears, etc., in various places which are suited climatically for the growth of these things. You know that Kulu started in the beginning on a very small scale. Colonel Rennie and Bannans and other Europeans started there with trees imported from England and other countries, but eventually now some of the Indian farmers are also following their footsteps in that locality. But I regret that no encouragement has been received from Government in this direction. That locality is a very good one and much can be expected of it. In some parts of the North-West Frontier, there are some fruit trees, which can easily be planted in the Punjab. But the first step must be taken by the Government by way of encouraging the people of the province to have some good nurseries at proper places. Government should offer inducement not only to certain persons, but to the public at large. Unless there are proper nurseries and proper training, these people cannot make proper grafts, etc. This is a question which requires the most careful consideration by the Government. I know persons who are running nurseries but some are cheats. Many of these private producers are not genuine nurserymen. If the Government takes some interest, but keen interest in this matter, all these difficulties can be removed. People ought to be able to have good graftings, these grafts should be looked after occasionally by experts and the people should be assured of good results. I do not want to repeat the arguments advanced by my honourable friend here who has closely studied the subject. But instead of being encouraged, as soon as one wants to plant a garden he is to face certain disadvantages and discouragement, e.g., the rates of revenue and canals are raised. This shows that you cannot expect any encouragement from the Government. When you grow a garden, you do not expect any yield for the first three or four years at least. But inspite of that you have to pay higher rates for water. Again there is the question of several kinds of fruit which can be obtained and kept fresh in refrigerators. There is no encouragement in this direction as well. To relate a personal experience, some 7 or 8 years back, I asked my son to plant machinery at Lahore for cold storage purposes and he did actually install it at a very large expense of about Rs. 10,000. I wanted some help from the Government not by way of charity, I was prepared to repay the debt and I wanted to consult them, but no help was given to me, although once or twice an inspector from Lyallpur College visited the place. Nothing was ever heard of it after that. This is the sort of encouragement that was given to me. I have that machinery lying idle up to this time without any advise or help from Government on which I spent a good deal. I do not want to say anything about myself; what I want is that the Government should give encouragement to such people as are deserving of their help. These are a few of the things that I wanted to submit and I am prepared to discuss these things with the Honourable Minister when he gets back to Lahore. I cannot say all these things here on the floor of this House, these things can only be talked privately and at leisure. These talks may require not an hour or two but a day or two. He can have his experts with him and we can then discuss and point out the drawbacks and how to improve matters.

Lieutenant Sodhi Harnam Singh : You would not get so much time.

Mian Abdul Aziz : Even one day would suffice. He can depute some inspectors and I can discuss these things with them. I may not be an expert, myself but I know something of this matter and I am sure I can draw the attention of the Honourable Minister to several things which I have come across in my experience. In Lahore there has been no considerable progress in the matter of fruit growing, while in the adjoining district of Amritsar you can see that some enterprising people have tried and grown a good deal of fruit trees, perhaps because canal water is easily available there. Many of us must have tried the pears, apricots and peaches and other fruits which have been produced there and even bananas that have been grown there. They are far superior to those which we used to see previously. If Amritsar can produce these fruits, there is no reason why Lahore should not be able to do the same (hear, hear). These facilities should be given to all districts (A voice : And to Muzaffargarh district). My honourable friend would like to have these facilities provided to the Muzaffargarh district. I want all these facilities to be provided in every district.

So, I submit that it requires very particular attention on the part of the Government to help such classes of people, who are prepared to do something. But as a matter of fact the difficulty is that we have not got sufficient water. I will tell you that the difficulty which arises sometimes, which I have noticed, is that canal water is stopped on such occasions when the fields require watering. It is called bandi and it is done at almost an inopportune occasion. If zamindars request the Chief Engineer or other engineers to open the canal water, nobody is going to listen to them. These are the things about which particular instructions should be issued by the Government.

I would further submit one point which is very important and which has been touched very briefly by one of my honourable friends and that is the enhancement of revenue. This should particularly be kept in view, there should be no enhancement unless there is a good income from gardening. At that time Government can take any steps. Facilities should be given to certain particular areas that unless and until there is a good yield of fruits from those areas, no revenue should be enhanced, but on the contrary I would ask the Government to reduce it to a certain extent so that it may be an encouragement for others.

In Lahore you find big shops of fruits. One always is pleased to find the way in which they are arranged. Perhaps it is considered that those are the produce of Lahore although there is not even 5 per cent. produce of Lahore. It comes from Madras, Calcutta or from other places. I am sure that if we try we shall be able to do something. We can show, not only in Lahore but other districts who will also follow, if you make improvement in Lahore—those people who visit Lahore they can see all these things with their own eyes.

I do not want to take any more time of the House. I only wanted to draw the attention of the House to one or two points, which I have done. I am sure that I will be prepared to help the Honourable Minister in this direction, if he would give an opportunity either directly or through some of his subordinates.

Professor W. Roberts (European): Sir, I want to say a few words mainly on the irrigation aspect of this question. At present the area under fruit cultivation in the Punjab is about 70 thousand acres of land or less than 1/4 of one per cent. of the total cultivated area of the whole province. The first thing I would suggest is that Government contemplate a definite programme of raising it to at least 1 per cent. of the total cultivated area and that progress should be made in a definite period of time. The department connected with fruit growing can thus arrange its programme and progress will be more steady in consequence.

The second point is with regard to irrigation. At the present moment the Irrigation Department is not giving extra water to gardens. Now every practical fruit grower knows that it is necessary to give more water for fruit gardens. The difficulty, I understand, is that they cannot distribute water from canals for small areas. Although I have not got the exact figures, yet I gather that the Irrigation Department say that they cannot give extra water for less than 50 acres of land under fruit gardens. Now what is the position? If they give extra 50 per cent. of water for those who grow 50 acres, it means that those people are getting their water for 2/3rds of the present price as they will pay the same abiana as they are paying now, that is, in a sense, the water has come down in value by 1/3rd. I would suggest that the Irrigation Department be compelled, if it is possible, to take a lower figure of 25 acres for extra supply. That is one thing. Secondly, those who would not get extra water for small areas, should be encouraged to grow fruits and should be given their water at 1/2 of the present abiana. Further they should not pay land revenue for the first 4 years, which are non-productive years in new gardens. That is one suggestion that would definitely increase fruit production among smaller zamindars. Government should thus make a direct contribution to fruit growing through the various departments concerned. When the Irrigation Department see that in small areas excluded from the extra water concessions they only collect half of the abiana there will be more effort by them to secure efficient distribution of extra water so as to avoid loss of revenue.

Syed Amjad Ali Shah (Ferozepore East, Muhammadan, Rural): Mr. Speaker, we have heard speeches from the honourable members on various aspects of the question. We have heard Mian Abdul Aziz saying that practically nothing has been done by the Government to promote fruit gardening and fruit industry. On the other hand we have heard Khan Bahadur Nawab Muzaffar Khan saying to the contrary that the Punjab Government has done a lot in the way of encouraging fruit farming.

Sir, I agree with neither of my honourable friends. There is no doubt that something has been done, but not quite enough. I give a few figures of plants, which were supplied by the Government. In 1934-35, 8,144 plants and 2,877 cuttings were supplied. (Mian Abdul Aziz: What a big figure in the whole province!) As my honourable friend has just said the figure is very insignificant, considering the number of gardens in the Punjab, number of farmers who like to promote fruit gardening and the number of acres which are at our disposal for fruit gardening.

I would now refer to the point raised by my honourable friend, Sardar Sahib Sardar Ujjal Singh, about kharaba. What I think he meant was that when gardens fail to yield fruits owing to some natural calamity, only in those cases there should be remission of kharaba. I think he has excluded fruits like mangoes, which yield fruit one year more than the other year.

Sir, I do not think any of my honourable friends has touched the point of promoting facilities for the movement of fruits. Sir, considering that fruits are grown in the Punjab according to the acreage, as visualised by my honourable friend Professor W. Roberts, how are we going to get these fruits to the markets of the Punjab and of India? As far as I understand, there are fruit gardens in the Punjab where large quantity of fruit is grown and there is hardly any means to get those fruits out to markets. That means that pacca roads must be built so that they may be helpful to take these fruits from fruit gardens to the market. Sir, in this connection, I would invite the attention of the Government to the freightage which is charged on fruits at present by the railways. As far as I understand the railway is charging half the rate of the ordinary passenger freight. This is even too much. I would request the Ministry if they would be kind enough to represent this to the Government of India.

In the same connection I would invite the attention of the Honourable Minister for Public Works that before he decides to give away the hydro-electric energy to the Delhi Electric Supply Company, he should consider the feasibility of having or introducing or examining the question of trolley bus system in the Punjab. We have enough energy which can be got at very low rates and the trolley bus would run at a far cheaper rate than the railways or the ordinary motor bus. The second item is, as my honourable friend Sardar Ujjal Singh said, marketing. I would invite the attention of this honourable House to the market of the capital of our province. I do not know of any filthier place than the market which we have in Lahore. If anyone has visited the Mewa Mandi in Lahore, he will find that it is the most unhygienic place in Lahore. I would invite the attention of the Honourable Minister that something should be done to set up a market more or less on the same lines as any other place in the civilised world has. (Hear, hear).

Before I pass on to the industrial side of fruit growing I would refer the honourable member to the Frontier Government's Fruit Farm at Tara Jubba. It is not only an incentive to fruit growers but the farm itself is paying very well. Will it not be appropriate that the Government in this province have a farm like that rather than an apology for it as we now have in Lyallpur?

[Syed Amjad Ali Shah.]

My honourable friends have touched the question of refrigeration. This is a most important aspect of fruit-growing. Fruit cannot last long unfortunately in the climate of ours and I am sorry to say that my venerable friend Raja Sahib is getting a bit alarmed over the cooler atmosphere which is prevailing in the Punjab since the days of his boyhood. I would welcome this cooler temperature of the Punjab as I do not think it is really injurious for fruit-growing except perhaps for mangoes. As this honourable House is aware last year a company under the name Cold Storage Co. of India has started and this company has had a contract with the Defence Department of the Government and they will be opening at least 16 stations in the north of India. I would request the Honourable Minister to examine and try to get facilities from this company for the fruit growers or fruit sellers of the Punjab, so that their rates may not be prohibitive.

I would also draw your attention to another particular aspect of this industry and that is fruit canning. There are certain fruits grown in the Punjab which are wasted or are used very little, for instance the gal-gal. I do not think it is much used except for achar. (An honourable member : Chakotra). Yes, chakotra also. A lot can be made out of these citrus fruits, for instance citric acid. I am told citric acid is a bye-product of lime juice. In Italy when they make lime juice from lime they draw out citrus from the skin of the fruit. In this connection I would like to refer to the figures of the import of fresh fruit and vegetables into India. In 1933-34 the value of such fruit was Rs. 28,25,884 ; in 1934-35, Rs. 32,28,075 ; and in 1935-36, Rs. 31,12,173. The value of dry fruits and vegetables imported into India in 1933-34 was Rs. 71,87,799 ; in 1934-35, Rs. 97,70,652 and in 1935-36 it rose to Rs. 1,02,28,868. The value of canned and bottled fruit imported was, respectively, Rs. 9,96,491, Rs. 10,90,844 and Rs. 11,23,025. These figures show that fruits in all farms whether fresh, dried or canned is being imported. The canning industry, I am afraid, cannot flourish in our country unless and until the Government of our province represents certain difficulties to the Government of India. That is necessary because unfortunately many things fall under the Government of India and are not directly in our power. I would refer to the customs duty on tins. As far as I understand there is no company in India which manufactures empty cans and all these have to be imported into India. There are two varieties of these, one reformed tins and the other flat tins. The flat tins when imported are sent away in the same condition and are reformed by the people who have the necessary factories and the reforming plant but a reforming plant is very expensive and, therefore, almost all the canners in India are importing reformed tins. These reformed tins have to come in rather bulky packages on which the freight is considerable. I should not be wrong in saying that each empty tin costs round about between 2 annas and 3 annas and if you add it to the cost of the production, the value will rise very high. Since we have not got tin producing factory in India the freight on these tins may be lowered by the railways. The customs duty on ordinary cans is 30 per cent. ad valorem which is extremely high and I do not see why the Government should not give preferential treatment to this particular kind of import as is done in the case of machinery.

There is only 10 per cent. ad valorem duty on machinery because it is used in the promotion of manufacturing of articles in India. I do not see any reason why cans should not also come under the same category and the duty reduced from 30 per cent. to 10 per cent.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang: Why not have it manufactured here?

Syed Amjad Ali Shah: We have not got the raw tin.

The second is glass ware. For fruit juice it is necessary that bottles should be used. I have seen some indigenous fruit preserving shops—not factories—which preserve fruit juice and sell them. These are packed in all sorts of bottles, and when they are put in the market in comparison with the product of other countries, such as kiora, Idris and other juices, no body who has money to spend, would like to buy this Indian product, on account of its outward appearance although its contents may be as good as of any other country. Therefore I would submit that the duty on bottles should also be reduced.

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang: You can manufacture bottles here.

Syed Amjad Ali Shah: But unfortunately so far they have not been manufactured. I was saying that so far as I know very few bottles are produced in India and we have to fall back on the imported bottles. To support my argument I will give you figures of the number of bottles which have been imported in India. (Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang: This is the value of bottles). Yes, value I mean. In the year 1934-35, the figure was Rs. 19,14,403 and in 1935-36 it was Rs. 22,10,922. That shows that bottles now are more in use than they were before. I would not hesitate in saying that these are used in the packing of the produce of this country. Customs duty on bottles is 25 per cent. which is extremely high considering that these bottles are used for packing the produce of the country. I hope the honourable the Finance Minister would represent this fact to the Government of India.

Sir, the last point which has been touched by one or two of my honourable friends particularly Mian Abdul Aziz is 'bandi.' In Gujrat 'bandi' is done in the month of May and June every year which is the hottest time in the Punjab and this is very detrimental to the fruit grower. This closure 'wara bandi' is for 15 days, and by the time the turn of a particular farmer comes it is nearly a month. I hope that the Minister in charge would kindly look into it.

In the end I would request the honourable Minister kindly to give serious thought to all those suggestions which have been made by various members of this honourable House. Sir, I would only like to bring to his attention that in the United States of America the land under fruit gardening is 1½ million acres as compared with 70,000 acres in the Punjab. (Hear, hear.)

Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang (West Lahore Division, General, Rural): Sir, I had no intention of speaking on this motion, but some of the remarks which have been made by my immediate predecessor have prompted me to say a few words.

Sir, I was not present at the time when the honourable the Finance Minister made his reply to the discussion on the budget but from what I read in the papers it appears that he said that so far as the development of the country was concerned, tariffs were not of much importance and that capital was not shy and such other things. I was greatly surprised that such a proposition should have been laid by a great economist as our honourable Finance Minister. I have been of the opinion ever since I began taking interest in these matters that the industrial and economic development of a country has a great deal to do with tariffs and that every country which is in a primitive stage so far as industrial and economic development is concerned, like our own country, depends a very great deal upon what tariffs are. England, which is now a very prosperous country can afford to be a free trader but a country like our own, where industry has just begun to attract attention, cannot afford to be a free trader. Nor can I endorse the opinion which was then expressed that capital is not shy in this country and particularly in this province. In an agricultural province where the people pay more attention to the land than to the conversion of raw products into finished goods, capital must necessarily be shy and it would be obvious from a casual observation of the state of industry in the Punjab and in other provinces of India that capital is particularly shy in this province. I, therefore, think that Government owes a great duty to the people of this province so far as subsidising of industry is concerned and also so far as the moving of the Central Government with respect to necessary modifications in the tariffs is concerned. I do not agree with my friend who has just left that the duty on bottles should be reduced or the duty on certain other things should be reduced. Duty need not be reduced on things which we are capable of producing in the country (hear, hear). In fact I would go in the other direction and would put as much pressure as this House can put on the Ministers to make them see that duty on goods which can be produced in this country and in this province should be raised as high as possible so that foreign imports should be shut out completely if that could be done (hear, hear). England, as is well-known, shut out Indian products several centuries ago by putting cent. per cent., 200 per cent. and 800 per cent. (Diwan Chaman Lall: 1,200 per cent.) and, as my honourable friend Diwan Chaman Lall says on his own responsibility 1,200 per cent. on Indian products, and the result was what we see. England is a country which does not produce an ounce of cotton and yet it is the most important piece goods producer and has flooded the world markets with piecegoods. It takes away cotton from India and Egypt and some other parts of the world and sends back muslin and other kinds of piece goods making enormous profits: I would not go into percentages. Taking next bottles and bringing the discussion directly within the range of the motion, I do not think it would serve India or this province very much if the duty on bottles is reduced. What is required is that efforts should be made to produce all kinds of bottles in this country and province. I know from my personal knowledge that there are people in this province who are in the glass trade and who are producing certain glass articles, who are prepared and are even anxious to produce bottles not only for jams and marmalades and such other things but also to supply the excise department of the Punjab Government. Yet, unfortunately they have not been able to raise capital or to secure land as my friend here suggests. That is another difficulty in the way. There is no reason why sufficient subsidy should not be given to those people in charge of these works to enable them to produce as many bottles and as many varieties of them as may be required in this province, in fact, in all parts of this country. There was just this little difference on this point which prompted me to speak on this motion. There is no reason why Government should not make free grant of lands to people or make grants on easy payment system to those people who want to plant orchards and are prepared to set up works for fruit preservation? The difficulty in this province is that those people who possess land do not possess expert knowledge nor do they possess extra capital and those who possess capital cannot easily get lands for cultivation of orchards or for works. It is necessary for Government to serve as a mediator and bring the people who possess land and those who possess capital together, or to create facilities for the capitalist to acquire land in order to enable them to develop the fruit industry. The reduction of tariffs on these things will not help us, but the increase of tariffs on finished goods which are imported into our country will help our province. Of course I am not an economist, nor do I claim to be one. I speak like a man in the street who feels that if the duty on imported goods is raised there will be less of them in this country and there would be encouragement to those who can produce those goods in our own country. Let the duty on finished goods be raised, but in the matter of raw materials, machinery, etc., which are necessary for the development of industry in this country the duty should be lowered. If that is done and if proper subsidies whether returnable or not and assistance whether in the form of loans or in the form of guarantees of a certain minimum return on the capital invested such as the State Aid to Industries Act provides for is given, people will come forward to take up this industry in hand and the time will soon come when we shall be able to supply all our needs and even be able to supply the needs of other provinces.

3 P.M.

Mr. E. Few : I should like to correct a misstatement of the honourable member that England is a free trade country.

The Honourable Dr. Sir Gokul Chand Narang : There was no misstatement ; some people claim it to be a free trader. If that is not, it strengthens my argument still more. If England in spite of centuries of development cannot afford to be an absolute free trader, how can an infant country like ours afford to be a free trader ?

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmed Gurmani (Muzaffargarh North, Muhammadan, Rural), (Urdu) : Sir, it is no doubt unusual and strange that members from our side alone have taken part in this debate and there has been a complete silence from the Opposition benches. It seems my honourable friends of the Opposition have no interest in the subject, which so closely concerns the zamindars and the cultivators of the Punjab ; though they always profess to be the champions of the cause of peasants and cultivators. It is, therefore, expedient that we should take it on ourselves to perform the duty of the Opposition in criticising the working of the Department of Agriculture with a view to increase its efficiency and usefulness. Sir, according to the saying, that " Charity begins at home " I shall first of all draw the attention of the Honourable Minister for Development to my own district. His predecessor had been giving us hopes to establish an Agricultural Farm and a nursery in Muzaffargarh for the last three or four years and when I moved a cut motion during the last budget session he gave me a definite promise to establish a farm and a nursery without delay, but his promise remains unfulfilled up to the present day. I would emphatically request the Honourable Minister to fulfil his predecessor's promise without any further delay. Muzaffargarh, as you are aware, Sir, has great possibilities for the development of fruit culture. The climate and soil are most suitable for fruit growing. Muzaffargarh is renowned for its mangoes and dates. The pomegranates of Alipur Tehsil are exported as far as Calcutta. Experience has shown that the soil is also suitable for citrus fruits. But on account of their poverty the zamindars are unable to obtain full advantage of the gifts of nature without the aid of the Government. With the help of the Government this proverbially poor district can be transformed into a garden of the Punjab. Sir, you will agree with me that fruit gardening requires a certain amount of capital outlay and it is beyond the capacity of a poor peasant proprietor to find money for this investment and wait for five to ten years for a return. The poor zamindar can hardly make both ends meet. Wherefrom is he to get the money for this purpose? Sir, the Punjab, as every one knows, is a land of peasant proprietors.

An honourable Member: What about the big land-holders?

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani: Sir, I am quite willing to answer my honourable Congressite friend's retort. Let me tell him that there are few big landlords in this province as compared with other provinces. The term "big zamindars" is used in the Punjab for those land owners who pay Rs. 500 or more as land revenue. Now let us see whether we can really call them big zamindars. The land revenue is assessed at the rate of one quarter of the total net assets of a land owner. So a man who pays Rs. 500 as land revenue has a net income of Rs. 2,000 per annum. After deducting the land revenue it leaves him Rs. 1,500 per annum while a person whose income from other sources than agriculture such as business, trade, industry, moneylending, etc., is Rs. 2,000 or less per annum is exempt from income-tax. This will show that most of the so-called zamindars would have been enjoying exemption from income-tax if they had not been land owners.

In my own district 86 per cent. owners own less than 10 acres of land and only 5 per cent. of landlords own one square or more. This will show that an overwhelming majority of proprietors own very small holdings and are unable to take up gardening without the help of the Government. I do not agree with the view expressed by my honourable friend Nawab Muzaffar Khan that only the bigger land holders should have the monopoly of planting gardens. The peasant proprietors whose holdings are already uneconomical, require more encouragement in this connection so that their income may be supplemented. In fact they are the backbone of the country and the prosperity of the country depends on their well-being. The Government should provide better facilities for increasing their incomes. Sir, I would suggest that the Government should establish big nurseries in various fruit growing centres of the province and should supply the plants to the zamindars on 'takavi' basis. The Government should not charge any profit on the price of these plants from the zamindars. The price of the plants should be recovered by instalments starting after five or six years according to the period of their bearing fruit. The Government should allot a sufficient sum in the budget for this purpose every year. In this way the peasant proprietors will be encouraged to grow fruit gardens and there will be a rapid increase in the area under gardens. The Government will also be benefited in the long run by this scheme as gardens will be assessed to a higher rate of land revenue. This will be, in my opinion, a very good method for increasing both the income of the peasant proprietors and the revenue of the province. There is another difficulty which stands in the way of a poor zamindar to take up gardening. The land under fruit gardening is assessed at a higher rate of land revenue. This higher rate is levied from the date of planting fruit trees while the trees bear fruit after 5 to 10 years of their plantation. The poor land owner has to pay a higher rate of land revenue on his land under fruit trees, from which he does not get any yield for 5 to 10 years. In order to encourage fruit culture in the province, the Land Revenue Rules should be amended and garden rate should not be levied until the trees start bearing fruit. Sir, as regards the encouragement, which the Government has provided for fruit culture in the province, I have no hesitation in saying that it has been very meagre. The present Government should be more alive to the needs of the people than their predecessors and I hope they will pay more attention to the nation building activities in future. My honourable friend Nawab Muzaffar Khan has said that Government has done wonders to encourage fruit gardening in the province and as an example he told us that while travelling by train from Lahore to Montgomery one finds a long stretch of land extending over many miles under fruit gardens, which has come into existence in recent years. I only wish my honourable friend had taken the trouble to find out whose garden it was. Let me inform the House, Sir, that this has been planted by one Mr. Mitchel, who was given land by the Punjab Government at concession rates for this purpose. My idea of encouraging the zamindars to take up fruit gardening is quite different from that of my honourable friend. I do not think that the Government can claim that they have helped the people of the Punjab by giving concessions to foreigners for putting up large gardens in the province, as this will in no way help the people of the Punjab. Another honourable friend of mine Syed Amjad Ali told us that the Government distributed about 5 thousand seedlings and cuttings in the Punjab last year. What a great achievement on the part of the Punjab Government! If we divide this number among the 29 districts of the Punjab, each district gets a share of less than 200 plants. I am afraid I cannot congratulate the Government and its Department of Agriculture for this achievement. We can term it as a holy gift (سہیبا) from the Government to the people of the Punjab, but one can hardly reckon it as an encouragement. I hope the Government will do something more substantial in future to help the zamindars. Sir, I agree with my honourable friend Syed Amjad Ali that we should develop fruit gardening on industrial lines and the Government should also consider the possibilities of affording marketing facilities for the product. I also agree with him that facilities may be provided for fruit preservation. The Government should provide facilities at various fruit growing centres for the canning and bottling of fruits and fruit juices. The Government should either put up their own factories for this purpose or encourage private enterprisers to take up this industry. Syed Amjad Ali further suggested that the Government should reduce the duty on tins and bottles which are imported for this purpose in order to encourage the fruit preservation industry. I do not, however, agree with this view. This will keep us in perpetual dependence on foreign countries for our requirements. It is a great pity rather a shame that we should not be able to produce even such petty things in our own country. I would, on the other hand, suggest that the Government should give protection to tin and glass industries in this countries and provide facilities for the manufacture of these things, in our own country. I cannot understand why my young friend considers that the association of Indian fruit with a foreign tin or bottle is indispensable. He probably seems to be too much under the influence of western civilization. As Dr. Sir Muhammad Iqbal has said—

نغمہ ہندی ہے تو کیا ہے تو حجازی ہے میری

My honourable friend will also have the satisfaction of saying—

میوہ ہندی ہے تو کیا ہے تو فرنگی ہے میرا

when he will eat his Indian fruit out of a foreign tin (laughter and cheers.)

Syed Amjad Ali Shah : May I ask the honourable member what he would suggest till such time as these fruit articles are not produced in the country ?

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani : Sir, let me tell my honourable friend that these articles are already manufactured in this country. There is a glass factory at Ambala, where bottles are manufactured. Tins and cans are also manufactured in this province at various places. If we can change our mentality and encourage country made articles I am sure, these factories will be able to cater for our needs and we shall not have to go to foreign market for them. Sir, I support the motion under consideration and earnestly request the Honourable Minister for Development to encourage fruit gardening in the province and to provide facilities to the people in this connection. But before I resume my seat I would once again request him to establish an Agricultural Farm and a nursery in my district. (Loud Cheers.)

Rao Bahadur Captain Rao Balbir Singh (North West Gurgaon, General, Rural) (Urdu) : Sir, much has been said on the floor of this House in connection with the small and big zamindars. My submission is that we should pay more attention to the sad plight of the poor peasants and zamindars. We should provide them with all sorts of modern facilities, so that they may derive benefit from them and consequently increase their income. I whole-heartedly endorse the proposal put forward by my honourable friend Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmed Gurmani. Since he has sponsored the cause of Muzaffargarh district, I also wish to ventilate the grievances of the district of Gurgaon. Although I wish that facilities were provided to the zamindars of the province as a whole with a view to encourage fruit gardening, yet I want to draw the special attention of the Honourable Minister to the miserable condition of Gurgaon district. I respectfully submit, Sir, that since government has set up a net work of canals in other parts of the province and Thal and other kindred beneficial projects are under their consideration, it is but fair that they should endeavour to introduce beneficent irrigation schemes in the Gurgaon district also, so that the zamindars of that district may also derive benefit from them. I propose that experiments in fruit culture may be undertaken in Gurgaon district and the government may depute an expert to visit and examine the lands of the poor, and report as to what kind of fruit trees can thrive there. After this, according to the proposal made by my honourable friend Mian Mushtaq Ahmed Gurmani, seedlings and plants may be distributed among the zamindars on taqavi basis.

I want to bring another fact to the notice of the government. The district of Gurgaon being adjacent to Delhi is unfortunately located at the farthest end of the Punjab. This is why it is being unjustly treated.

Khan Bahadur Mian Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani : Does the honourable member wish that his district should also abound in fruits ?

Rao Bahadur Captain Rao Balbir Singh : If fruits are grown even now, we can hope to become as corpulent as the honourable member is. (Laughter). Sir, my respectful submission is that government should at least pay the same attention to the Gurgaon district, as is being paid to other districts of the province.

Khawaja Ghulam Samad (Southern Towns, Muhammadan, Urban), (Urdu): Sir, some of my learned friends have delivered learned speeches about horticulture and every one of them has confined his remarks only to his own district. But I would not be so selfish as to advocate the cause of my district alone, although I must speak of the Ambala Division. The rights of this unfortunate division have been all along neglected, notwithstanding the fact that as many as three ministers hail from this division. The Honourable the Finance Minister belongs to Sirsa in the Hissar district and likewise the Honourable Sir Chhotu Ram comes from the Rohtak district. Although the Honourable Mian Abdul Haye is a resident of Ludhiana he has some connection with Ambala because he got some votes from the towns of Ambala district. It is, therefore, the duty of these Honourable Ministers to remove the hardship experienced by the people on account of the scarcity of water in this division. During his tour in the Hissar district, in a public meeting held on 7th May, 1937, I invited the attention of the Honourable Sir Chhotu Ram to the scarcity of water, and he very kindly promised to redress this grievance of the people. But this promise has not as yet been fulfilled. When the Honourable the Finance Minister budgeted Rs. 60 lakhs for the Haveli Project, Sir Chhotu Ram in fulfilment of his promise ought to have persuaded him to provide some money for Ambala City, where it is very difficult for the citizens to get even one can of water, as also in other districts where drinking water is not at all available. (Opposition benches Hear, hear).

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member should speak to the motion.

Khawaja Ghulam Samad : Sir, with due deference I submit that it is a relevant point. If the Honourable the Minister of Agriculture had tried to get some provision made for the Bhakra Dam Scheme, which is a long-felt necessity of the people of the Ambala division he would have shown some interest in the welfare of the people.

Mr. Speaker : The honourable member is again going beyond the motion.

Khawaja Ghulam Samad: Sir, I will prove that this point has a strong bearing on the motion under consideration. Promises alone will not avail now. Although the world lives on hope, how long can mere hope sustain us? The people of the Ambala division are undergoing all sorts of hardships on account of the scarcity of water and in fact they are starving to death. Their poverty and indebtedness are the outcome of the scarcity of water. How can gardens flourish if water is scanty? In order to grow fruits and procure water for them the residents of Ambala have to spend a good deal of money on sinking wells. The water generally appears at a depth of 160 to 180 feet. You can well imagine the heavy expenditure that must be incurred in sinking wells so deep. Add to this the charges of obtaining plants from some nursery. No one can achieve success in fruit culture if he tries to do so with parsimony. There are very few canals in this division and people have to depend for planting gardens on well water alone. The soil of this ilaqa is very conducive to horticulture, and if canal water is provided there is every likelihood of making this industry a success. The soil is very fertile, and of all the districts of the Punjab the soil of this district is most suitable for horticulture. If the Government pay a little heed towards this industry they as well as the zamindars can derive much benefit by planting gardens there. In order to illustrate the difficulties of fruit cultivators I would like to mention my experiences. I had a well sunk for me and fortunately the water appeared at a depth of 80 feet instead of 100 or 120 or 160 feet as is usually the case. Nevertheless, the well being a big one, it cost me about Rs. 2,500. Now I intend to plant a garden in an area of 46 bighas of land. For this purpose I sent for the catalogues of plants from well-known nurseries all over the country. Judging from the figures given in those catalogues the experts tell me that it will cost me from 2 thousands to 2½ thousands rupees to obtain plants and grow them. Now a garden which is planted with an initial expenditure of five thousand rupees can only begin to yield fruit after five years but the land revenue is charged forthwith. It is not fair because I will have to pay the interest on the capital invested therein. My honourable friend Sayad Amjad Ali while speaking on the land revenue system said that mango trees yielded less fruit one year and yielded more the next year, so in view of this the land revenue charged on them should be reduced. But I ask, why should this concession be granted in respect of mango trees alone? On the strength of my personal experience I can say that frost damages the mango crop in the Hissar district to a great extent, with the result that gardens have withered away. The same story is repeated every year. In view of the remarks I have made I would urge upon the government the desirability of not only reducing the land revenue in respect of mango crop but to remit it altogether. In view of the heavy expenditure involved in planting a garden no land revenue should be charged for the first five years, because in certain cases the poor cultivators have to pay interest in addition to the already heavy capital invested thereon. How can the zamindars afford to pay land revenue from the very outset? It is a pity that land revenue is imposed from the very first day but the garden begins to yield fruit after three years. There are several zamindar members here and they can very well realise how the first fruit is plucked and thrown away. On the basis of my personal experience I admit that canal water is supplied for gardens in the Hissar district but even the supply of this depends on the sweet will of the Cattle Farm authorities. They must have their fill first and only then they let others use the remaining water. But the quantity of water thus supplied to fruit cultivators is not adequate and consequently the garden withers away. There has been little rain for the last seven years in the district of Hissar. This absence of rains has made matters worse. Crops generally fail and the gardens do not yield fruit. Add to this the calamity of frost, in winter, which makes the fruit trees die of drought. Now the gardens do not yield as much fruit as they used to do in the past. There is no doubt that previously the gardens in Hissar used to yield much more fruit but now there is very little yield and consequently I would urge upon the government the advisability of granting some remission to the fruit cultivators at the time of assessment. Many of my friends have put various proposals before the Honourable Minister for Agriculture for his consideration. If these are given effect to by him the credit will surely go to him. If it is impossible to accept these proposals in their entirety let them be accepted in part at least so that this partial acceptance may create confidence in the minds of the people and they may learn to rely upon the generosity of the government for the rest of the work. With these few words I close my remarks and once more commend the woe-ful tale of the Ambala division to the notice of this House, and urge the necessity of taking suitable steps for removing the hardships caused on account of the scarcity of water supply in Ambala, so that agriculture may flourish there, gardens may bear fruit and the government may also profit by the resultant prosperity of the ilaqa.

Rai Bahadur Sardar Basakha Singh (Amritsar Central, Sikh, Rural) (Punjabi): Sir, every member has sung a different song. Some of the honourable members have drawn attention to the conditions of Muzaffargarh and some have confined their remarks to Mian Channu while others have drawn the attention of the House to the sorry plight of the residents of Ambala district. Besides, all of them have put forward proposals which necessitate expenditure but I mean to propose a scheme which will add to the income of the State and also offer great relief to the poorer and smaller agriculturists. The Kangra Valley promises to favourably compete with Switzerland provided you try to improve upon it. I can say with confidence that Kangra Valley can produce grapes of far better quality as compared with those produced in Switzerland. To me, at least it is a matter of great shame that grapes from far off countries like Japan and Austria should find a favourable market here in India. If you improve the Kangra Valley, I can say with authority that you can produce better grapes here than those of France, with the result that the income of the province will be considerably enhanced and the people will also become more prosperous. The residents of Kangra are too poor to invest any capital for improving the means of water supply for their lands. If the government were to provide water to them, the rest of the province will immensely gain thereby. The soil of that ilaqa is very fertile and is extremely conducive to fruit culture. Fruit trees can flourish there in such abundance that it would be impossible for any other locality to compete with it. There is ample scope for you to develop fruit culture in this district. The people of that ilaqa are poverty-stricken and the development of this industry will immensely benefit them. In view of this I would strongly urge upon the Honourable Minister of Development to take special note of it.

Minister for Development (The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram): Sir, the Government are fully aware of the importance of fruit culture and fruit industry to our province. It is a well-known fact that the peasantry of this province is very poor, and all of us are extremely anxious that something should be done to add to the income of the poor peasantry of our province. This question of fruit culture and fruit industry will add not only to the income of the poor peasantry of the province, but will also help large capitalists and landholders. It has been complained that Government has not been taking sufficient interest in the promotion of fruit industry and fruit culture. It is true that the subject has not drawn in the past, the attention which it deserves, but now that the people are waking up to the importance of this subject, I am sure Government will take more interest than it has been taking in the past (hear, hear).

Mian Abdul Aziz: Why should the Government sleep until awakened by the public?

Khan Bahadur Nawab Muzaffar Khan: The Government did not sleep.

Minister for Development: Unless the people are wakeful, Government can never be expected to be wakeful. It is an axiomatic truth. If you want the Government to be wakeful, the public should itself be wakeful. I make no apology for saying this, because I know that it is a patent truth. If the public gets slack, the Government is bound to get slack. If the Opposition gets slack, the Ministerial benches are bound to get slack. In fact I am really very sorry to notice that to-day, the Opposition has been very slack indeed (laughter), and such criticism as has been offered has been offered by those who occupy ministerial benches. From this attitude of the Opposition, I think that either my department offers no ground for criticism by the Opposition or they do not take interest in the improvement of agriculture—

Seth Ram Narain Virmani: We do not expect anything from you

Minister for Development:—in the growth of fruit culture or fruit industry. The silence of the Opposition is a very eloquent commentary on its mentality.

It has been suggested that the area under fruit cultivation in the province is very small. I admit that it is very small. For a large province like the Punjab to have only 70,000 acres under fruit cultivation is a matter about which nobody can feel proud. It has been stated by one of the members who spoke in the beginning that Italy has as much as one-third of its cultivable area under fruit cultivation, and that a small country like Egypt spends as much as 15 lakhs of rupees annually on fruit culture. When a comparison is made between what is being done in Italy and Egypt and what is being done in the Punjab, it is perfectly obvious that we have been neglecting this important subject of fruit culture and fruit industry. But while I admit that in the past the subject has not drawn sufficient attention either on the part of the Government or on the part of the public, I assure the House that so far as it lies in my power, I will take active interest to promote fruit culture and fruit industry (hear, hear). Certain difficulties have been pointed out as throwing obstacles in the growth of fruit industry and fruit culture. I will just make a very brief reference to some of these. One of the vague complaints of those who are interested in fruit growing is that the number of nurseries in the province is very small, and that the demand for seedlings cannot be met so long as the number of nurseries remains what it is. I admit that this criticism is fully deserved. Last year there was, I believe, a demand for nearly 70,000 seedlings and the department was able to supply only about 25,000. But we expect that during the current year, we shall be able to supply about $\frac{1}{2}$ lakh of seedlings. The question of nurseries for fruit plants is being attended to and in all suitable centres we are trying to establish fresh nurseries for the supply of seedlings.

A reference was also made to the alleged attitude of lack of sympathy adopted by the Land Revenue Department and the Irrigation Department towards a particular demand of fruit growers. I am afraid I cannot say very much about that particular subject. That subject does not fall under my portfolio and not only the Honourable Minister for Revenue, but also the Honourable Minister for Finance is deeply interested in that subject. Whether the Honourable Revenue Minister will be in a position to meet the demand which has been put forward in the name of fruit growers, I am not at present in a position to say. All that I can promise to the House is that I will bring this point of the fruit growing community to the notice of my honourable colleagues. There was another reference made to the subject of charging land revenue in respect of garden lands in spite of the fact that fruit trees do not bear any fruit until after six or seven years of their having been planted, and the demand is that so long as trees are too young to bear any fruit, no land revenue should be charged.

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath : Also no water rate.

Minister for Development : Let me first deal with the question of charging land revenue during the period during which trees do not bear any fruit. Of course, it will mean some loss of revenue, but, apart from that, it seems to me to involve a question of principle, and as that question of principle may not only affect fruit growers, but may also affect a much larger population of the Punjab, I think it would be wrong on my part to hold out any assurance that land revenue will not be charged during that period. As I have already submitted, I will bring both these complaints in respect of water rate and land revenue to the notice of my honourable colleague, Sir Sundar Singh and if necessary, the question will also be brought up for discussion in a full meeting of the Cabinet.

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath disclosed some very interesting information to this House. He said that while he was all in favour of promoting fruit culture and fruit industry, he would sound a note of warning to the effect that it is not always safe for every individual to go in for fruit cultivation, because there may be types of land which may be entirely unsuitable for the cultivation of fruit trees. Under these circumstances it would be only right that individuals who want to go in for fruit cultivation should approach the Department of Agriculture in order to satisfy themselves beforehand that the land on which they are going to plant fruit gardens is suitable for the growth of fruit trees. I think he is perfectly right there. I am sure that departmental officers would be only too glad to offer such advice as they are in a position to give. The Raja Sahib has complained that he made a reference to one of the officers in order to find out the productivity of certain soil in which he himself was interested, but unfortunately although 8 long months have passed no satisfactory reply has been received by him so far. I do not know whether the particular officer, to whom that reference was made, belongs to my department or some other department. I will ascertain from the Raja Sahib whether that officer is in the Agricultural Department. If he is, I will take early opportunity to remind that officer of his duty, and I am sure he will attend to it very quickly and an answer will be conveyed to the Raja Sahib as speedily as possible.

Diwan Bahadur Raja Narendra Nath : I may bring it to the notice of the Honourable Minister that if an enquiry made by me remained unattended to, what will happen to an enquiry made by the back benchers !

Minister for Development : I feel it just as much as the Raja Sahib does, in fact, even more. I know that if requests from big people are not attended to quickly, requests from smaller people are not likely to receive early attention at all. If people like Raja Sahib feel aggrieved in the matter of their requests remaining unheeded for a long time, I can easily imagine that requests from smaller people will remain, perhaps, entirely unheeded. (A voice : For how long ?) For ever. But I can assure the House and the Raja Sahib that so far as my departments are concerned, as soon as any complaint is conveyed to me, I will take immediate action and will see that no ground for further complaint remains.

Another reference was made to the effects which the abnormal cold in April and May has on certain trees. That is a matter about which, being a layman, I cannot offer any advice. But I am sure there must be some officers in my own department who will be in a position to advise the Raja Sahib as to whether the season has undergone any such radical change as has been suggested by the Raja Sahib. Certainly his long age and varied experience are entitled to the greatest respect at our hands, and if he is seriously of the opinion that there are abnormal temperatures in the months of April and May which affect certain types of fruit growing trees, I will bring this matter to the notice of the Department of Agriculture. The officers of the department may be able to advise private fruit growers in a manner which will save them from any loss which they may suffer in the absence of right advice.

One more complaint, which again relates to the Irrigation Department, was made by Khan Bahadur Nawab Muzaffar Khan. He said that the Irrigation Department allowed some sort of a concession in the matter of water rates only if the area under fruit trees exceeded a certain limit, and this limit, he suggested, was about 50 acres. If that is true, it is a matter which should really be looked into. If the limit is fixed at 50 acres, it means clearly that smaller growers can never get the benefit of that concession. If that concession is to be made, there is no reason why it should not be made to all alike. As a matter of fact, if any favour is to be shown that favour should be shown to smaller land-holders rather than to bigger land-holders. However, it is again a matter which can be decided only by my honourable colleague who presides over the destiny of the Revenue Department. All that I can do is to bring the matter to his notice, and if it is necessary, to the notice of the Cabinet as a whole.

My honourable friend Professor W. Roberts made a suggestion that the present area under fruit cultivation being almost infinitesimal a definite figure should be accepted by Government which should be worked up to during a specified period. He suggested that at present this area is less than $\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. of the cultivable area, and that it should be raised at least to 1 per cent. of the total area under cultivation, and that a definite limit of time should be fixed during which this increase is to be effected. It will, probably, be hazardous for me to suggest any definite time limit during which this figure should be worked up to. But I may assure him that I will do all that I can to raise the present area under fruit cultivation to as high a figure as possible during my time. It may be possible to raise this area to 1 per cent. of the total area under cultivation, perhaps, within the next five years. But I will not make a promise, because after all it takes a pretty long time for various processes of garden-planting to be put through before a garden comes into existence. At any rate, so far as the Department of Agriculture is concerned, I will see that every legitimate help is rendered to private fruit growers who desire to raise their area under fruit cultivation.

Dr. Narang strayed into a field which really does not affect me or my departments. He spoke of certain remarks which had been made by my honourable friend, the Minister for Finance, that capital was not shy in this province, and that tariffs were not so important for the growth of industries as many people imagined. I do not know what exactly were the words used by my honourable friend, the Minister for Finance. (An honourable member: Is it relevant to the subject?) It was not at all relevant to the subject, but he said all that. But even if it had been relevant to the subject, it is not my duty to reply to that part of his speech. He spoke of subsidising industry. He was instrumental in passing a law under which State aid to industries can be given, and as I have stepped into his shoes I can assure him that that Act will be worked in a liberal, just and even generous spirit.

Minister for Finance: I hope also in a cautious spirit.

Minister for Development: Generosity does not necessarily mean going beyond the bounds of caution and while I will not ask my honourable friend, the Member for Finance, to risk any funds in concerns which are not likely to succeed, I think it would be only right to render legitimate help on all occasions when we see that there are fairly reasonable chances of success.

Dr. Narang also made a reference to the need of the Punjab Government moving the Government of India in order that the Government of India may manouvre the tariffs in such a manner that the Punjab industries may prosper and flourish. So far as the object underlying the suggestion is concerned, so far as the principle underlying it is concerned, it has my deep sympathy, and I will do all that I can in my own humble way to induce the central government to handle the tariffs in such a way that the industries of the Punjab may prosper. Whether I shall achieve any success in that direction is more than I can say, but I can assure the Dr. Sahib that I will take up the threads where he left them, and if he himself did not move in his time I can still assure the House that I will move in the matter when a suitable opportunity offers itself. (Hear, hear).

Diwan Chaman Lall : May I ask if tariffs are a provincial subject and if tariffs are not a provincial subject, how the Honourable Minister intends to move in the matter ?

Minister for Development : Although it is a central subject, I think provincial governments can certainly take the initiative to bring certain things to the notice of the central government with a view to urge suitable changes in the tariffs in the interest of their industries.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : There does not seem to be joint responsibility in the Cabinet.

Minister for Development : Who said that ?

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : The Honourable Finance Minister said something else the other day ; he said he was not prepared to do that.

Minister for Development : Dr. Narang repeated his old complaint against the Land Alienation Act. I will not be long over that subject because people are feeling a little nervous over it. But I can say one thing, so far as the working of that Act in respect of industries is concerned, industrialists will have no cause of complaint if they make an application either to the deputy commissioner under section 8 of that Act or to the Director of Industries in order to acquire land for industrial concerns. But if the honourable member means to say that the Land Alienation Act itself should be repealed or modified, that is a matter which I am sure this House is not willing to agree to. After all, there are very large areas of land which are owned by people who have an unfettered discretion to dispose them of as they like. As much as 17 per cent. of the total agricultural land in the province belongs to people who are absolutely free to dispose of their land as they like. Let those who are interested in industries approach these people for land in favour of these industrialists.

Lala Duni Chand : Not even for the benefit of the agriculturists ?

Minister for Development : I am not speaking of the Land Alienation Act as a whole. I am simply speaking of that Act in so far as it is supposed to hamper the growth of industries.

Seth Ram Narain Virmani : But the Government does not allow them to part with the land.

Minister for Development : There are absolutely no obstacles in the way of people who do not belong to agricultural tribes parting with their land in the manner they like.

Seth Ram Narain Virmani : I have applied for land for industrial purposes and I have been refused.

Minister for Development : I am speaking at present about non-agriculturists. They have an unfettered right to dispose of their land. With regard to the other question, I have already stated that if application is made to the deputy commissioner he will under the rules and under the instructions of the Financial Commissioners be perfectly willing to oblige industrialists so far as their claims relate in good faith to the promotion of industries.

Seth Ram Narain Virmani : He is not obliging ; I have got my case.

Minister for Development : If my friend has any complaints to make let him address those complaints to the proper quarters. Nobody knows the circumstances under which my friend applied, the area of land he applied for or the considerations which led the deputy commissioner to refuse his application. In the absence of a full knowledge of facts I am not prepared to admit that the deputy commissioner refused to exercise his discretion wrongly.

Mr. Gurmani drew my attention to a certain promise which is alleged to have been made by my predecessor for the opening of two nurseries in the district of Muzaffargarh. Whether that promise was made by my predecessor or not, I may assure my friend that he will have two nurseries as soon as possible. I propose to visit that part of the country before the next winter is out and after I have been there I assure him that I will have steps taken to establish two nurseries in the Muzaffargarh district.

Khawaja Ghulam Samad came out with a long catalogue of complaints on behalf of the Ambala division. I have been giving expression to these complaints myself, and I need hardly say that these complaints have my heart-felt sympathies, and that anything I am in a position to do I will do.

Lala Duni Chand : Including the complaints of non-agriculturists ?

Minister for Development : Certainly. I never said that non-agriculturists were not entitled to my sympathy or to my help.

Lala Duni Chand : You are laying down a proposition that 17 per cent. of the land in the hands of the non-agriculturists should be sold first.

Minister for Development : What I really said was that the complaint that industry was handicapped on account of land not being available at all was not well-founded.

Lala Duni Chand : It is handicapped because the Act is being worked to the detriment of agriculturists.

Minister for Development : If you want the land of statutory agriculturists for the investment of your money, then I am afraid—

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Supposing there is no land available.

Minister for Development : Deputy Commissioners have discretion in such cases, and I am sure they will exercise that discretion in a proper manner. If, however, there are any complaints on this score, let those complaints be made to proper quarters.

Mr. Speaker : I will request the Honourable Minister to proceed with his speech and the other honourable members not to interrupt him.

Minister for Development : If the other honourable members agree to your suggestion, I also agree.

Mr. Speaker : The Honourable Minister need not pay any attention to them unless they ask questions through the chair.

Minister for Development : A reference was made to the difficulty of the supply of cans being inadequate. At least one of the speakers said that cans had to pay a very high duty and that therefore the Government of India should be approached with a request to lower the tariff which stands in the way of the import of cans. That, again, is a central subject with which I have nothing to do, and, as remarked by Dr. Sir Gokul Chand, it will not perhaps be a wise policy to touch tariffs where they have been imposed in the interest of India itself. There are so many people with a good deal of capital in this House, why do they not come out with their capital and start can making industry? Let them make cans, tins, and bottles. Let them start new factories, and, if there are any factories already in existence, let them enlarge those factories with the capital which some of my honourable friends have in abundance. I hope my friend who moved the cut will be satisfied with what I have said and will withdraw his motion.

Dr. Gopi Chand Bhargava : Sir, before you put the closure motion to vote I have to make a suggestion and that is, when we started discussion on the budget, it was decided that we will take up four items to discuss the policy in all the four departments. To-day is the last item which is going to be put before the House. Therefore I would submit that to remove the doubt from the mind of the Honourable Minister for Development that his department has not received attention from the Opposition, may I suggest, that any other item be taken up for discussing the policy of the Government as far as agriculture is concerned?

Sardar Sahib Sardar Ujjal Singh : Sir, in view of the assurance given by the Honourable Minister for Development I beg leave to withdraw my cut motion.

Chaudhri Krishna Gopal Dutt : Sir, I want to bring to your notice that the honourable mover urged for the abolition of land revenue by way of encouragement of fruit culture and fruit industry, a point which has not been conceded by the Minister for Development. How can the honourable member withdraw his cut motion?

(Leave to withdraw not being given).

Mr. Speaker : The question is—

That the item of Rs. 19,97,800 on account of District Work be reduced by Rs. 100.

The motion was lost.

Agricultural Farms.

Khan Bahadur Nawab Chaudhri Fazl Ali Khan (Gujrat East, Muhammadan, Rural) (Urdu): Sir, I beg to move—

That the item of Rs. 1,79,300 on account of Total Agricultural Stations be reduced by Re. 1.

I shall not make along speech on my motion which relates to the advisability of setting up agricultural stations. In the beginning the Department of Agriculture started agricultural farms with the sole purpose of demonstrating to the zamindars the new methods of cultivation which can enhance the productivity of land. Afterwards the farms were divided into two categories, i.e., the seed farms and the demonstration farms. The purpose of establishing demonstration farms was that the zamindars after seeing the work done at the government farms, should apply the same methods to their own lands and thereby enhance their produce. The seed farms still exist. I am constrained to point out that at present they are not proving to be of any use to the zamindars. They were set up with a view to providing the zamindars with seeds which are now available in abundance. The government has always been running these farms at a loss. They are at present cultivated by tenants with the result that the seeds produced are of inferior quality. In my opinion these seed farms are serving no useful purpose. They are rather a source of loss to government and are proving a dead weight on the revenues of the province. I may also add that if the crops of the zamindars are better in quality as compared with those of government farms, they will begin to regard them as useless. On the contrary, if the crops of the seed farms are good, they will say, "Well, these farms belong to the government. We do not know how much manure or what sort of chemicals are being used to increase the productivity of land." The demonstration farms are bound to show the way to progress. The government farm at Gurdaspur is one of the best farms. The farms at Rawalpindi and Lyallpur are also excellent ones, and much useful work is being done there. My submission is that such farms should be established in every district at a suitable place, so that the zamindars may not be obliged to undertake long journeys to visit these farms. They are an urgent necessity. If the zamindars apply the results of the experiments carried out at these farms, to their own lands, their produce will certainly increase and they will be inclined to grow different profitable crops. But there is one difficulty in the way of the seed farms. For instance in the district of Gujrat the water in the canal ceases to run for fifteen days in a month, and during the remaining period, when canals are re-opened, the zamindars take their turns to utilize water for their crops. It is obvious, Sir, that if during the hot weather the government farms remain unirrigated for a month, the crops will suffer; the fruit trees will wither away and the manure and fodder will be destroyed. I wish to draw the special attention of the Department of Agriculture to the fact that if the closures of canals are continued the agricultural farms will no longer prove to be useful. With these words I move this motion and suggest that the seed farms should be closed forthwith and the establishment of private farms should be encouraged instead. I have already explained the matter in detail during the previous discussions. I am of opinion that demonstration farms will prove to be highly beneficial to the zamindars provided the problem of water is solved satisfactorily.

Mr. Speaker : Demand under consideration, motion moved—

That the item of Rs. 1,79,300 on account of Total Agricultural Stations be reduced by Re. 1.

Minister for Development (The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram): The honourable mover of this cut has stated that there are two or three kinds of farms one of which is the seed farm. He has also suggested that seed farms are unnecessary and in order to secure support for his view he points to the fact that seed farms are given on cultivation to tenants. I submit that it will not be fair to draw from this fact the conclusion that seed farms are not necessary or are not serving any useful purpose. The only reason why these seed farms were given out for cultivation to tenants was financial stringency. Direct cultivation is always more costly than cultivation through tenants for reasons which are well-known to those who take any interest in agriculture. But I desire to point out that these farms are now being resumed and direct cultivation is again being resorted to. (An honourable member : All the farms or only a few ?) All the farms will be taken over gradually. The process of taking them back has already commenced. What I wish to impress upon the House is that seed, pure and improved seed, is the one thing, the value of which has been fully and thoroughly demonstrated and it is the one thing to which the zamindar attaches the greatest possible value. Therefore, we should do nothing to impair the sources of a supply of pure seed. It is true that seed can also be grown in private farms, in the fields of private zamindars. But there is no guarantee that the seed grown on private farms will be pure. But so far as supply from Government farms is concerned its purity can be guaranteed. Therefore, I trust the honourable mover will withdraw his cut motion. It would be wrong that the only thing which has won the thorough good-will of the zamindar should be taken away from the Department of Agriculture.

With regard to the other farms the honourable member has admitted that they are doing very useful work and that the results which are obtained from them are of great value to the province as a whole and to the zamindars in particular. I need not, therefore, say anything in regard to them. In conclusion I desire to request the honourable member to withdraw his motion.

(At the request of the honourable member the motion was by leave withdrawn.)

Boring operations.

Sufi Abdul Hamid Khan (Ambala-cum-Simla, Muhammadan, Rural) (Urdu): I beg to move—

That the item of Rs. 1,65,700 on account of Total Boring Operations be reduced by Re. 1.

I wish to invite your attention to a matter which is intimately connected with the amelioration of the condition of the poorer and middle class zamindars. Whereas I have not the slightest hesitation in saying that government has adopted some schemes for the welfare of the cultivators, I cannot help remarking that if the government had really the good of the people at heart, it would have kept a more strict watch over the activities of its officials in so far as the working of these schemes is concerned. It appears that the interests of the services are given preference over the welfare of the peasants. I want to go into the details of this subject by citing examples from the working of the Boring Department. The government had established this department for the purpose of removing the scarcity of water so that the people may be able to obtain water by sinking tube-wells. But, as the government servants are in the unfortunate habit of considering themselves rulers rather than servants of the public, the zamindars have not derived the desired benefit from those schemes which were intended for their welfare alone. The government officials show but little earnestness in the performance of their duties and, more often than not, wilfully neglect them. It was hoped, as it is hoped even now, that with the introduction of provincial autonomy such defects would be removed under the supervision of responsible ministers, and that the angle of vision of the government servants towards the public would change making them act more efficiently. But we are still waiting for the realization of this hope. I will now turn to the subject of discussion. I find that the people at large have not benefited by the Boring Department for several reasons, the chief reason being that it costs more to have a tube-well sunk by the government department. In the first instance, one has to pay at the rate of Re. 0-12-0 per foot and one has to provide labour also. As compared with this, it is cheaper to have boring done by private concerns. They do it on contract basis which includes both the rate charged by Government and the wages of the labourers. The second drawback is that the pipe which the department provides can be obtained at cheaper rates in the open market, and, the difference in price ranges from 25 per cent. to 80 per cent. What is more, the pipes are manufactured in the same foundry and material used in both cases is the same. But as the government purchases these pipes at higher rates they enforce the same rates on the agriculturists. When the same material is bought cheaper in the market, the government department declares that it will not be responsible for the efficient working of the pipe. As a matter of fact, it is responsible in neither of the two cases. But this statement is made with a view to discourage the people from purchasing things in the open market, with the result that they begin to look down upon the material obtainable in the market as defective and useless. These tactics make the people turn to government and they buy the same kind of pipes at higher rates from the Boring Department. Originally the rate of boring was Re. 0-12-0 per foot but these rates were later on revised and now the department undertakes to do all the work of boring for a total sum of Rs. 50 irrespective of the depth of boring. Last year this expenditure was totally remitted to the great advantage of the people and the boring work made rapid strides. But the old rate of 12 annas per foot has again been enforced from May, 1937. The zamindars have not derived so much advantage from this concession as to justify the stoppage of it from May, 1937. I am at a loss to gauge the reasons for this action on the part of government. I would humbly but strongly urge the government to re-introduce this concession and request the Honourable Minister of Development to take special note of these proposals with a view to carry them into effect. I would further request him to favourably consider and take immediate steps to redress the grievances of the zamindars. I would also request him to strictly watch the working of the schemes which are conducive to the welfare of the agriculturists so that they may derive the fullest advantage from them. With these words, Sir, I move my cut motion and submit it for the favourable consideration of the House.

Mr. Speaker : Demand under consideration, motion moved—

That the item of Rs. 1,65,700 on account of Total Boring Operations be reduced by Re. 1.

Minister for Development (The Honourable Chaudhri Sir Chhotu Ram) : Sir, I am very sorry that I was not able to hear all that has been said by the honourable mover of the cut because the shrieks and whistles of the railway engine — which is under the control of the Central Government — interfered with my capacity to hear him !

Lala Duni Chand : I may inform the honourable member that one thing very important was said by the honourable mover of the cut motion. He said that people who purchased pipes through the government were charged 25 per cent. more than the price which they had to pay if they bought from private persons.

Minister for Development : That is a very old complaint and is presumably the result of misunderstanding. I really do not believe in the comparison so far as charges by private persons and by government officers are concerned. Private individuals sometimes charge less but just as there are quacks among medical practitioners, there are quacks among borers.

Lala Duni Chand : Articles of the same make sold at two prices.

Minister for Development : Does my friend mean the price ?

Lala Duni Chand : Pipes of the same make and same manufacture are sold at two prices. This is what he says.

Minister for Development : If that is the complaint of my friend, and if he is able to quote any specific instances, I will certainly go into it very carefully and will see that there is no occasion for the recurrence of this complaint. He also stated that the charges made for boring by government officers had varied from time to time. There was a time when a charge of twelve annas per foot was made. There was another time when these charges were reduced by 50 per cent. Then there came a time when these charges were entirely abolished. My friend suggests that the old charges have now been re-imposed. I am not quite sure whether this information is well founded but if, on enquiry, I find that this complaint is well-founded, I will look into the question over again, and ascertain from the Agricultural Department what were the circumstances which led to the re-imposition of these fees. After I have had a statement from the department, I will certainly consider the question carefully and not only carefully but sympathetically. I hope, under the circumstances, my friend has no intention of pressing this motion to a vote.

The motion was by leave withdrawn.

Premier : I understand that during my absence the Honourable Leader of the Opposition suggested that we should take up one single item and discuss the whole grant. I am willing to accommodate the honourable members opposite and I suggest that item No. 15 proposed by Pandit Shri Ram Sharma would provide an opportunity of going over the whole field of the Agricultural Department.

Lala Duni Chand : Will the Honourable Premier kindly look at motion No. 16 ?

Premier : Item No. 15 has been brought forward to discuss the question that no useful purpose worth the name has been served by the Agricultural Department.

Mr. Speaker : Will the members, who have given notices of cut motions Nos. 5 to 14, withdraw their motions ?

Premier : So far as members on my side are concerned, they will not move those motions.

(Other members also agreed not to move their motions).

Mr. Speaker : Item No. 15, which stands in the name of Pandit Shri Ram Sharma, will be taken up to-morrow morning.

The Assembly then adjourned till 11 A. M., on Tuesday, 13th July, 1937.

PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

1st SESSION OF THE 1st PUNJAB LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

STARRED QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

PUNITIVE POLICE POST AT VILLAGE NARLI, DISTRICT LAHORE.

391. Dr. Sant Ram Seth : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether any additional police post was quartered at village Narli, police station Khalra, district Lahore, in 1925, which remained there for two years ;
- (b) if the answer to (a) be in the affirmative, whether he is prepared to lay on the table a statement showing (i) the details of the estimated as well as actual costs, item by item for each year, (ii) the amount realized from the inhabitants and the arrears of costs of the punitive police post due from them by the end of 31st March, 1937 ;
- (c) whether Sardar Attar Singh and other inhabitants of the aforesaid village submitted an application to the Honourable Premier, Punjab Government, claiming therein a refund of Rs. 1,216-12-0 said to have been realized in excess of the actual costs of the punitive police post borne by the Government ; if so, the decision, if any, arrived at by the Government regarding the refund claimed ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Yes.

(b) The main figures have been given in the reply to question 30,¹ put by the honourable member for Lahore City (General Constituency). As has been explained in replies to other questions it is never possible to reckon the " actual cost " of a body of additional police with exactitude, as certain items in the bill cannot be precisely determined.

(c) Yes. The unrecovered balance of Rs. 45-4-0 has already been waived. It is not proposed to take any further action in regard to this old case.

Dr. Sant Ram Seth : Did you purchase any furniture ?

Premier : I am afraid I cannot give an answer off-hand.

TAQAVI TO VILLAGE GHAWINDI JAWAHAR SINGH, TAHSIL LAHORE.

*392. Dr. Sant Ram Seth : Will the Honourable Minister for Revenue be pleased to state—

- (a) whether tagavi was given to the zamindars of village Ghawindi Jawahar Singh, tahsil Lahore, in 1925 ;
- (b) if the answer to (a) be in the affirmative, whether he is prepared to lay on the table the names of the persons to whom tagavi was given and the amount given to each ;
- (c) whether Asa Singh, son of Jawala Singh, and other residents of the aforesaid village submitted an application to the Deputy Commissioner, Lahore, in March, 1937, complaining therein that although they paid up the tagavi dues on 18th September, 1927, they were still being demanded from them ;
- (d) if the answer to (c) be in the affirmative, whether he is prepared to lay on the table their original application and state whether any inquiry was made by the Government ; if so, the result of the same ?

The Honourable Dr. Sir Sundar Singh Majithia : (a) Yes.

(b) A list is laid on the table.

(c) Yes.

(d) I regret the original application cannot be laid on the table seeing that it forms part of a Government record. I may state, however, that an enquiry was made into the matter even before this particular application was received, and it was found that there are party factions in this village and it is sometimes difficult to ascertain facts. Every effort is being made to make recovery from the actual defaulters and not to enforce double payments in any case ; but in view of the factions prevailing in the village the local revenue officers are quite rightly insisting on proof of payment either to the lambardar or in the tahsil before admitting that any individual demand is not due.

ADDITIONAL POLICE POST QUARTERED AT VILLAGE DHARDEO IN AMRITSAR DISTRICT.

393. Dr. Sant Ram Seth : Will the Honourable the Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether Sardar Mangal Singh and other residents of village Dhardeo, police station Beas, district Amritsar submitted an application to the Honourable Premier on the 26th May, 1937, complaining therein that Rs. 2,960 had been realized from them in excess of the actual costs of the additional police post quartered there in February, 1936 ;
- (b) if the answer to (a) be in the affirmative, whether he is prepared to lay on the table their original application and state whether any inquiry was made into the matter, if so, the result of the same ;
- (c) the number of cognizable cases registered at Beas police station, from the villages of Chananki zail, between 22nd February, 1936, and 21st February, 1937, and out of these the number of those which were investigated by the head constable or the officer in charge of Dhardeo punitive police post ;
- (d) whether it is a fact that out of 11 police constables sanctioned for Dhardeo punitive police post 2 were never sent to the village during the 1st year of the stay of the punitive police post there, and the services of one head constable were lent to Beas police station in the first year of the stay of the punitive police post after he had remained there only for three months, and that his pay was realized from the inhabitants of Dhardeo ; if so, reasons for the same ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) Yes.

(b) A copy of the petition is laid on the table. Enquiries have been made. These show that the allegation that the post was not kept up to strength is incorrect. The honourable member is referred to my reply to his earlier question *124¹.

(c) Thirty-nine cognizable cases relating to the Chananki zail were registered at the Beas police station between the 22nd February, 1936 and the 21st February, 1937. All of these except two were investigated by the officer in charge of the additional police post.

(d) The number of constables sanctioned for the post was 11, including 2 for the contingency reserve. This reserve is intended to provide for vacancies owing to sickness, leave, etc., and not to supplement the net strength of the post. Both the head constables sanctioned for the post remained attached to it throughout the year, and none of them was sent to the Beas police station.

Petition from Mangal Singh and others, village Dhardeo, dated the 26th May, 1937, to the Honourable Premier, Punjab Government, Simla.

We the undersigned inhabitants of village Dhardeo, District Amritsar beg to state as follows :—

- (1) A punitive police post was quartered at our village in February, 1936. The village inhabitants have been taxed Rs. 6,000 for the costs of the aforesaid police post based on mere estimate, for the 1st year and the same amount has been realized.

[Premier.]

We were told in the beginning that our police post is to consist of one assistant sub-inspector, two head constables and 11 constables but we can say with authority and get our statement verified from the police Roznamcha of the punitive police post that only for the first three months of the year two head constables remained present in our post. After three months one of them was sent to Beas police station where he remained busy in the investigation of the cases of the whole area under the jurisdiction of Beas police station. Similarly not for one single day the full strength of the constable has been found present in the police post. The daily average strength of the police constables in the police post never exceeded 8.

- (2) The police staff of our post has also remained busy in investigating the cases which occurred in the whole of Chananki zail. They go on patrols at night to the villages of Chananki zail. Nearly one-third of their time was sent in investigating the cases, which were committed in the aforesaid zail, outside the village boundary of Dhardeo. When the police staff of our police post had been busy in controlling the whole area of zail Chananki why should we be taxed alone? This act of the police staff is in violation of section 15, Act 5 of 1861.
- (3) From the statement of costs which is attached herewith you will find that the costs realized for the 1st year are far in excess of the actual costs of the police force which remained in our village. According to the provisions of law, i.e. section 15 (3) Act 5 of 1861 the village inhabitants are only responsible for the costs of the police force which actually remains present in the police post. The services of the reserve force were never required during the 1st year's stay of the police post in our village, therefore the charges made on this account should also be refunded. Under these circumstances we would request you to make enquiry in our case and refund the amount realized in excess of the actual costs of the police post. It seems that the amount already recovered was the estimated costs of the police post. To avoid the repetition of this mistake again we would request you to direct the Amritsar district authorities to recover the costs of 2nd year's costs after making a thorough enquiry about the actual costs of the police force which may remain in the village punitive police post during the 2nd year and if the costs due be realized in two instalments it will be much better and convenient.

RECRUITMENT OF FOOT CONSTABLES IN LUDHIANA.

396. Chaudhri Muhammad Hassan : Will the Honourable Premier be pleased to state—

- (a) whether it is a fact that foot constables from Campbellpur, Sialkot, Amritsar and Sargodha districts have been recruited by the present Superintendent of Police, Ludhiana ;
- (b) the names of all of these foot constables who are residents of Sargodha, Sialkot, Amritsar and Campbellpur districts ;
- (c) whether any of them is related directly or indirectly to the Superintendent of Police ;
- (d) the names of those who have been sent to the Phillaur Training School ;
- (e) the reasons for giving them preference over others having same qualifications ;
- (f) the educational qualifications of all those recruited from outside Districts ;
- (g) the family services, if any, of those mentioned in (d) to the Police Department ;
- (h) the names of the relatives of those foot constables at present serving in the Police Department ;
- (i) whether in Ludhiana district a sufficient number of Sikhs and Hindus was not available ;
- (j) the number of foot constables that are posted to police stations ;
- (k) the names of the police stations where these men are posted ;
- (l) the number of certificates of commendation and cash rewards received by them ;
- (m) the circumstances under which these commendation certificates and cash rewards were awarded and on what occasions services were rendered by them ?

The Honourable Major Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan : (a) and (b) The recruits enrolled by the present Superintendent of Police, Ludhiana, include two from Campbellpur, three from Amritsar and two from Sialkot ; none from the Shahpur district. It is not the practice to give names.

(c) One is a distant connection of a brother of the Superintendent of Police.

(d) One of the men referred to has been sent to the School.

(e) There was no question of special preference. The officer was selected on his merits, in conformity with the rules.

(f) In all, 39 constables have been recruited by the present Superintendent of Police from outside districts. Their educational qualifications are as follows :—
