FOREWORD

In a democratic government, a nation speaks more eloquently through its elected representatives and all citizens are meant to participate equally in the development and establishment of the popular will, by which their society is run. The greater and more effective interaction between the people and their elected representatives, the better the chances for the parliamentarians in the discharge of their responsibilities.

The Provincial Assembly of the Punjab being the oldest and the largest House of Legislature in the country has a very bright history with illuminating parliamentary conventions from its very beginning and I feel proud to be a custodian of this august House. It is our duty to converse and promote the treasured parliamentary conventions and to complement with new democratic traditions. The link between the elected and the electors is indispensable and this book is a modest effort in building one such bridge.

I believe that it is the privilege of the people to have ample knowledge about the people they have chosen. "The Biography of Members" is a comprehensive capsule of information of the sitting Members of the Punjab Assembly, which will help the public to acquaint themselves with their elected representatives and have a more meaningful interaction with them.

I would like to place on record my appreciation for the work done by the secretariat; which is an outcome of team work of the officers and the staff of Punjab Assembly under supervision of the Senior Secretary. I am also grateful to the Honourable Members of the Assembly who extended their cooperation in the compilation of this book by providing necessary information about themselves.

PREFACE

It is a great honour for all of us that the Provincial Assembly of the Punjab is identified as popular democratic institution of the country with illuminating traditions. The book in your hand is a living example of these traditions.

This compilation embodies brief sketches of the life of Members of the present Provincial Assembly of the Punjab, highlighting their academic qualification, party affiliation, profession, family background and a gist of their parliamentary career. The profiles contained in this book are based on the particulars provided by the members themselves in a well-designed form.

This Secretariat acknowledges cooperation extended by the Honourable Members of Punjab Assembly that enabled us to make this compendium of information a verity. We have made every effort to ensure accuracy of contents presented in this book; any omission or error is, therefore, not deliberate. Despite all precautions on our part, admittedly there will be room for improvement. We will appreciate feedback and suggestions for improvement.

Some of the information contained in this book is variable in nature and is expected to change with time. Although a revised edition of this book will not be printed, however, its web version will be frequently updated. We will appreciate if the Honourable Members can keep us updated on any change in their data especially in their addresses, telephone and fax numbers.

This publication owes its origin and fulfillment to the patronage and guidance extended by Rana Muhammad Iqbal Khan, Speaker, Provincial Assembly of the Punjab during all stages of its compilation and to accomplish a task of eminent importance. It is hoped that it would serve as ready reference for the public representatives, government functionaries, political analysts, researchers, students and the general public alike.

MIAN MUHAMMAD SHAHBAZ SHARIF (PML-N)

Mian Muhammad Shahbaz Sharif son of (late) Mian Muhammad Sharif belongs to an eminent business family. He is a graduate of Government College, Lahore and has had a distinguished career in practical politics that spans over four decades. His career in public service began as President, Lahore Chamber of Commerce & Industry in 1985; whereafter he joined active politics following his elder brother Mian Muhammad Nawaz Sharif. He was first elected to Punjab Assembly in 1988. This term ended prematurely in 1990 when the Assembly was dissolved. Mian Muhammad Shahbaz Sharif was elected to Pakistan's National Assembly during 1990-93, and then to Punjab Assembly in 1993 when he served as Leader of the Opposition till 1996. He became Member of Punjab Assembly for the third time in 1997 and was also elected as Chief Minister. The tenure of this Assembly was cut short in 1999 following a military coup, when his government, along with PML-N government at the centre were toppled. He was imprisoned and later sent into forced exile. Mian Muhammad Shahbaz Sharif played a leading role in the restoration of democracy in Pakistan and was elected unopposed as Member Punjab Assembly for the fourth term in 2008, also serving as Punjab's Chief Minister for the second time from June 8, 2008 to March 26, 2013. In the general elections of May 2013, his party PML-N swept into power in Punjab with a thumping mandate. He won three Provincial Assembly seats (PP-159, PP-161 & PP-247) and one National Assembly seat (NA-129); however, he opted to retain PP-159. Subsequently, he was elected as Chief Minister Punjab for the record third time. He is a dynamic and visionary political leader best known for his strong and efficient administration. He is respected across the globe for his 'Can Do' attitude. His brother, Mian Muhammad Nawaz Sharif is the Prime Minister of Pakistan and his son, Mr Hamza Shahbaz Sharif is also a member of the National Assembly.

Sardar Ahmad Ali Khan started his political career at the age of twenty five. The young blood introduced new style of politics in Dera Ghazi Khan District, where he had no family support because Dera Ghazi Khan was not his home district. He worked hard in the field of politics in Dera Ghazi Khan, where he had direct competition with two other local tribal chiefs. He contested his first election for the membership of Punjab Assembly in May 2013 but could not succeed. An agriculturist, who later contested and won bye-elections held on August 22, 2013 against the seat vacated by Sirdar Zulfiqar Khan Khosa who opted to remain Senator.
